54. The spirit of Elijah is already coming, leading the lost sheep to the peace of the pasture. When you are strong in spirit, you will not fear the wolf that threatens you with its bloodthirsty jaws, you will know how to descend into the abysses to rescue the lost, without fear of staying there. You will be able to cross mud lakes without getting stained and you will also know how to cross stormy seas on a seemingly fragile boat, without fear of capsizing. Your faith and virtue will give you that strength. Don't you think you are capable of great actions in the future? Do you not think that the new generations will give my Doctrine a better interpretation and fulfillment? Understand that if it were not so, I would not be talking to you, advising and teaching.

55. See the men, the peoples, the nations, how they give their lives for an ideal; they are consumed at the stake of their struggles, dreaming of the glories of the world, possessions, power; they die for the passing glory of the Earth; and you who begin to ignite in your spirit a divine ideal that has as its goal the conquest of a glory that will be eternal, will you not, no longer offer your life, even part of it, to fulfill your duties as brothers?

56. An invisible battle is being unleashed on you, which only the prepared can see: All the evil that springs from men, in thoughts, in words and in deeds; all the sin of centuries, all the human and spiritual beings who have been troubled; all the confusions, injustices, religious fanaticism and idolatry of men, foolish ambitions and falsehood, have united in a force that sweeps everything, invades and penetrates, to turn it against me. This is the power that opposes Christ. Their hosts are great, their weapons are strong, but they are not strong before Me, but before men. To them, I will give the battle with the sword of my justice and I will be in the fight with my armies, of which I want you to be part. While this battle stirs the men who go after pleasures, you, to whom I have entrusted the faculty of feeling what vibrates in the Hereafter, watch and pray for your brothers, because in this way you will be watching over yourselves.

57. Christ, the warrior prince, has already raised his sword; it is necessary that it, like a sickle, uproot evil and with its flashes make light in the Universe. Woe to the world and to you if your lip is silent! You are the spiritual seed of Jacob and I promised him that in you the nations of the earth would be saved and blessed. I want to unite you as one family, so that you will be strong.

Love one another!

58. .What a beautiful example of harmony the cosmos offers you! Luminous stars that vibrate in space full of life, around which other stars revolve. I am the luminous and divine star that gives life and warmth to the spirits, but how few go along their trajectory and how numerous are those who turn out of their orbit. You can tell me that the material stars do not enjoy free will and that, on the other hand, for men, it is this freedom that has made them get out of the way. That is why I tell you: How meritorious the struggle will be for every spirit, since having the gift of free will, he knows how to submit it to the Law of harmony with his Creator!

59. The struggle that I announce to you will not be prolonged, peace will soon come, because the light of my justice will illuminate all my children.

60. I, in union with the people I am forming and whom I brought out of darkness and ignorance, will fulfill the prophecies given in the past times and before my trials and wonders the world will tremble and theologians and interpreters of prophecies will burn their books and prepare to study this revelation. Men with a degree, men of science, men with a scepter and a crown, will stop to listen to my Doctrine and many will say: Christ, the Savior, has returned!

61. Disciples, be careful in your preparation, because I have not yet told you what I have to tell you and 1950 is already approaching.

62. Pray with true cleanliness and that your thoughts join those of the angels to deliver your offering before my divinity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 85

1. Blessed are those who practice spiritual prayer, for they feel my presence, but verily I say to you that I receive all prayers, no matter how you raise them to Me. I answer every call and every supplication without judging the form, attending only to the need with which you seek me.
2. Why should I not listen to those who pray imperfectly, knowing that everyone will come to practice true prayer? Now I am listening to you through the various ways in which you make your requests to me, because the essential thing is that you seek me. And in truth I tell you that there is no prayer that is not heard by Me, I only receive the intention of my children.
3. I come to teach you the truth, through a perfect doctrine. Try to practice it and when you pray, you will have the feeling of contemplating my light and listening to my sweet advice.
4. You are still far from having achieved perfection, but go after it without stopping, dream of the height of your mission and make the truth your ideal.
5. People: Your mission is to open a gap towards the light, leading towards it the multitudes that are approaching today and the generations to come.
6. Let it be your conscience that guides you along this path, so that you will never allow your heart to be taken as a throne by vanity, because you would work uselessly.
7. Do not turn your eyes away from the luminous goal to which you are heading; no matter the stumbles, obstacles or thorns of the path, these vicissitudes will make you desire more ardently the joy of reaching the Kingdom of peace. You ask me: “Master, is it essential to hurry the cup of bitterness in this life in order to desire and deserve the delights that your charity promises us in the spiritual life”? No, my children, when this Humanity, in its constant spiritual evolution, comes to understand the true value of human possessions, when it understands that the joys and goods of the Earth are only a pale reflection of what happiness is in the spiritual life, it will have no need to suffer on this planet to achieve spiritual delights and joys, because men will learn to live their joys and their triumphs in the world, without clinging to the perishable, and will strive to conquer with spiritual merits the higher life that inexorably awaits them, the true life.
8. Humanity, in this Era you must gather the flow of faith and hope that you had thrown from your heart, so that with it you ascend the mountain, as if you had a beacon lit inside that would illuminate your path.

Love one another!

9. The one who lives this way, the one who walks this path, will be a child of the people of God, no matter the place on Earth where he lives, the blood he carries or the language he speaks. That will be my disciple because he will be bearing witness to my truth.
10. You should no longer believe that the people of God are the Israelite people I made that race disperse throughout the world, because in truth, Israel is not a race, it is a spiritual people to which you are all called to belong.
11. If my people Israel were of this world, do you think that I would have allowed their expulsion from Judea, leaving their tribes to be lost among the nations? Do you think that if that were the truth, I would have allowed the temple of Solomon to be destroyed and desecrated and the city of Jerusalem to be razed and burned to the ground until there was not one stone left of it on stone?
12. Meditate on all this, so that you may understand that the spiritual Kingdom cannot have its foundations in this world. That is why I told you through Jesus: "My kingdom is not of this world."
13. The children of God's people, the true children of Israel, are those who love the truth, those who fulfill the Law, those who love God in their brothers.
14. Analyze my word, search it if you want, peel the ears and look at the seed.
15. Do you think that because of my first words from this chair, when I told you that there were many who prayed imperfectly, your brothers may be offended by it?
16. Verily I say to you that it is necessary for all of you to know the truth, and that truth is that man's worship of God has had a long evolution and has undergone incessant transformations. Within the cult there is prayer and it has also undergone transformations. Throughout your evolution I have always made you feel my presence, my mercy and my light.
17. When you fell down before the idol to ask for your daily bread, the idol gave you nothing because he lacked life, but I listened to you and gave you the bread. Later you came to have knowledge of the existence of the true God, and that faith was strengthened with the word that Christ bequeathed to humanity; however, despite believing in the existence of God as Spirit, your traditional inclination to materialize the divine to feel it close and to be able to see it, led you to forge with your hands the image of God, representing it in the corporeal form of crucified Jesus. There, before that form made by human hands, you prostrated yourselves to ask and you rested your eyes on the bleeding image, in order to be able to move your heart and feel that you were worshipping me.

Love one another!

18. Now you have before you a time of spirituality that you can call "The time of perfect prayer", because I have come to teach you to communicate with Me from spirit to Spirit. I want you to understand that in order for your spirit to have its own language, the language unknown to humans today, but which God and spirits know and understand well, it is necessary that you abandon all worship or material offering. In this Age you can achieve it, because you know how to listen to me with humility and not as when you first arrived, when believing yourselves Christians, you judged this word blasphemous.

19. Today you understand and accept my lessons, convinced that so far you are learning to be truly Christians, since you are recognizing the way to apply that teaching to your life, and also you are living a new time that comes to bring you a flash of the same light, a message of spirituality.

20. At that time I taught you the greatest virtue that is charity, I inspired your heart and sensitized your feelings. Now I have come to reveal to you all the gifts with which your spirit is endowed, so that you may develop them and apply them to doing charity among your fellow men.

21. The knowledge of the spiritual life will allow you to carry out works similar to those that your Master did. Remember that I have told you that by developing your faculties you will do real wonders.

22. All that you have heard will be written down for analysis in the times to come. I will bequeath you a book containing the essence of all my teachings. This book will be formed with the pages that under my dictation have been written by my chosen ones whom I call "golden feathers".

23. That pen is that of conscience and truth, the one that I put on the right hand of Moses to write the books of the first times, the same one that I deposited in the hands of Mark, Luke, Matthew and John, to write the life and the word of the Divine Master, a book that you called the New Testament.

24. To you, new disciples who have listened to my word at this time, I say: You will not have to fight for this testament or book to be joined to the previous ones, because it was I who united in this book, the revelations and teachings of the three times, extracting from them the essence to form a single Doctrine, a single light, a single Law and a single message.

25. I see that those who want to save themselves from the announced tribulations are beginning to prepare for a future that is near. I say to anyone who wants to be saved: Imitate Me, and if you really want to be my image, take up your cross and follow me.

Love one another!

26. If you do not know what the cross is, I will tell you: it is the virtue of humility, of obedience, of charity, the one who embraces his cross, is the one who knows that his Father taught him this and that with it he is within his destiny.

27. Lift up your spirit, improve your life, and you will be able to preach my teaching with works. Do not think only about your salvation, it is better that you think about the salvation that you can bring to your brothers. Watch and pray, and cast your nets into the sea that is this humanity and truly I tell you, your fishing will be profitable.

28. Do not worry too much if my phrases do not remain in your memory, because whoever feels charity for his fellow men will be the owner of an inexhaustible language: that of love, which will be understandable to all his brothers.

29. Sometimes when I speak like this to these multitudes, there is no lack of a heart that silently tells me: Father, if these gifts that you have entrusted to us are true jewels of your Kingdom, why have you put them in sinful hands, knowing that we can stain them? To whom I reply that the divine gifts that I have given to man will not change their essence; light will always be light; truth will never cease to be; that which is eternal, cannot die. I know, beloved people, that you understand me and that is why I speak to you like this.

30. A precipice is open before humanity and from it I have come to rescue you at this time; for them it has been necessary to make me feel very close to your heart.

31. I read all your thoughts and I know that one of you is thinking: If you are really God, what are you doing here among sinners, You who must always be among angels and righteous?

32. O heart insensitive to divine love, if you knew that there is more joy in my Spirit when I hear the phrases of repentance of a sinner, than the prayer of the righteous.

33. Know me now that I have come to you. Understand me when I say to you: Blessed are you who come in search of my word because it will close the wounds of your heart and quench your thirst for justice, truth and knowledge. You come to the well of inexhaustible waters of love and wisdom, drink and take the water for your journey, so that with it you may quench the thirst of your brothers.

34. These times are stormy, do not let sin contaminate the water that you have taken from this source. Pray and you will be saved.

35. Tomorrow you will penetrate into the regions and villages and there you will find many thirsty, then you will understand that it was my charity that led you to take my heavenly message to them.

Love one another!

36. My path is not visible like the paths of the Earth, it is traced with my love in your heart; if you know how to penetrate your sanctuary, you will find there the light that will guide you eternally.

37. If up to now men have represented the divine with material objects, tomorrow they will seek my presence in the infinite, in their spirit.

38. Humanity is subject to preparation and purification, there is not a day when an event does not arise that is not proof of it. It is necessary that all darkness be removed from the life of men, so that they may contemplate the light of the Holy Spirit.

39. From the top of the mountain I am inviting you to climb it so that you may reach my bosom. This people who have listened for a long time to the voice of the Lord, who comes down from on high, comes walking hesitantly and stumbling, but with their faith set on the goal. Some were surprised by the time of death when they were just about to undertake the ascent, others when they had managed to climb some steps on the slope. I say to those who still listen to me from the Earth, that they increase their zeal, that they redouble their effort so that this moment of judgment surprises them the closest to its summit.

40. Think that your example will be like a path along which future generations will march with a firm and hasty step in pursuit of perfection.

41. Verily I say to you that in the times to come, men from Earth will be walking spiritually very close to the top of the mountain.

42. There is nothing in my Creation like corporeal death to show each spirit the height it reached during life, nor anything like my word to ascend towards the perfect. That is why my Law and my Doctrine insist from time to time on penetrating hearts, and why pain and vicissitudes are advising men to flee from the paths that, instead of elevating it, lead the spirit towards the abyss.

43. Welcome to Me those who without fear of the judgments of humanity come after my word. Blessed are the first, for they open the way with tears and with blood to those who are to come and get up later.

44. The voice of the divine bell has made its echo reach every heart and every spirit, but I also tell you that there are few who have known where this voice comes from.

45. When the Father saw that the children do not understand the call of his spirit, he sought a more human way of manifesting himself and did so through man himself. When doubt has assailed the hearts about whether or not the Teacher will be the one who presents himself in this form, then I have filled the people's path with wonders to encourage their faith and testify that I am among you, because the tests that I give you, only I can give them.

Love one another!

46. In this way I will make sure that many of those who could not listen to Jesus at that time now have the opportunity to recreate their spirit by listening to the Spirit of Truth.

47. I have told you that not everyone will listen to me in this form, because it is not the most perfect, but the day is approaching when my voice will be heard by all men through my spiritual communication; it will be the time that the prophets foretold when every eye will see me and every ear will hear me.

48. If your prayer, which is the voice of a sinner, manages to reach Me, why should not the pure and omnipotent voice of your Father reach to the bottom of the human heart?

49. Do not forget that I am a shepherd who has to look for the wayward sheep even in the deepest abysses. O beloved people! follow me always with the same courage and with the same faith with which you are following me today, so that your example may give courage to the multitudes who will come to you to increase the Lord's people.

50. That courage and that faith, Israel needed in the First Time to withstand the hard crossing of the desert. The men who felt in their hearts the call that Jehovah was making to them, lost their fear of Pharaoh, and taking their family, set out on the march towards material and spiritual liberation.

51. Meditate on the history of that people, have I not told you that their life is a book of divine revelations and of human lessons and examples?

52. In the midst of these multitudes that are now gathering to listen to my new lessons, there are spirits of those who followed me through the desert; they have been sent by Me to teach you to be strong and faithful to your Father in the vicissitudes of the day.

53. You also write your history, which I want to be indelible by the good examples that you leave to future generations.

54. Interpret my teaching well, so that you may know how to put it into practice correctly. I do not want those who are understanding my Doctrine to get puffed up and feel superior to the one who is clumsy to analyze. I do not want those who have misinterpreted my word to rise up believing that they have understood it. It is not a human teacher who speaks to you, nor a judge of the Earth who is judging you, nor a doctor of this world who has healed you.

55. Understand that my word does not come to fill your mind with vain philosophies, it is the essence of life. I am not the rich man who has been offering you temporary riches. I am the one God who comes promising you the Kingdom of true life. I am the humble God who, without ostentation, approaches his children, to lift them up with his caress and with his miraculous word, along the path of restitution.

56. While in the world some pursue false greatness, others say that man is an insignificant creature before God, and there are those who compare themselves to the worm of the earth. Indeed, your matter in the midst of Creation may seem small to you, but to Me it is not, because of the wisdom and the power with which I created it; but how can you judge the dimensions of your being, by the size of your body? Do you not feel the presence of the Spirit in him? He is greater than your body, his existence is eternal, his path infinite, from his development you fail to see his end, as well as his beginning. I don't want you little ones. I formed you to achieve greatness. Do you know when I look small at man? When he has lost himself in sin, because then he has lost his nobility and his dignity.

57. It has been a long time since you have been with me, that you are unaware of what you really are, because you have allowed many attributes, potencies and gifts that your Creator deposited in you to sleep in your being. You sleep for the spirit and the conscience, and precisely in those spiritual attributes lies the true greatness of man. You imitate the beings who are of this world because in it they are born and in it they die.

58. I have let you walk on all the paths, so that you could taste the different fruits, and finally I have called you and I tell you: No one is new on the path of life, I have surprised no one with my revelations.

59. You have already eaten the spiritual bread as offered by the different religions; you have already known what science is; you have already heard the human theories; now listen to Me: if after listening to my last word, my Doctrine does not satisfy you, go and seek the truth on another path. Here the light, the love, the elevation of my teaching must convince you, because I do not want slaves of the spirit.

60. In this age, it is Christ in Spirit who gives you his lesson, it is not Elijah; he as a precursor prepared my arrival at this time, he is the one who helps you to understand the word that I give you.

61. You ask me how you could do my will and I tell you: First achieving your inner harmony and then harmonizing with all my Work. I say this to you because if you judged yourself sincerely, you would discover that the heart does not agree with the mind, that your body does not harmonize with its spirit and that even the spirit itself is not always unified with consciousness. And if you are divided in yourself, you will have to be divided from others and at odds with the natural laws and with the divine laws. That seed of disunity is the one that has multiplied on Earth and that is why humanity is living in chaos. But my charity helps you to purify yourselves and says to you: When will you all recognize yourselves in Me?

Love one another!

62. Study all that I am teaching you so that you will not feel the need to look for my truth in books, because it will be better for you to trust your conscience, than in books of men. My light is always in the conscience, but to understand its commands you must live as a man of good will.

63. How happy your spirit will feel in the Hereafter if his conscience tells him that on Earth he sowed the seed of love! All the past will become present before your eyes and every glimpse of what your deeds were, will give you infinite joy.

64. The precepts of my Law, which your memory has not always been able to retain, will also pass through your spirit full of clarity and light. Do merits that allow you to penetrate into the unknown, with your eyes open to the truth.

65. There are many mysteries that man has tried in vain to clarify; neither human intuition nor science have managed to satisfy many questions that men ask themselves, and there is knowledge that is reserved only to the spirit, when it has penetrated into the spiritual valley. Those surprises that await him, those wonders, those revelations, will be part of his reward, but truly I tell you, if a spirit arrives in the spiritual world with a blindfold over his eyes, he will contemplate nothing and will continue looking in front of him only mysteries, there where everything should be clarity.

66. This heavenly Doctrine that I bring to you reveals many beauties and prepares you so that when you present yourselves in spirit before the justice of the Eternal, you will be able to face the wonderful reality that will surround you from that moment.

67. Be true disciples in this Work and you will not stumble and you will have absolute knowledge of the truth in the supreme moments of your life.

68. Can you imagine the confusion of those who detach themselves from matter without knowing where to go? Can you imagine the pain and despair of those who arrive in the spiritual world carrying a burden of sins, blood and errors? Will you be able to open the door of mystery and become ecstatic contemplating the grandiosity of my works? Those who arrive in this way only know my justice, which is their conscience, which is like the fire that burns, consumes and purifies.

69. Take advantage of my lessons, understand that I come to converse with you, disciples who listen to my word through the human lips of my spokespersons, while I listen to your voice that speaks to me from the depths of your heart.

70. When will you also know how to hear my spiritual voice in the depths of your being? When there is a perfect conversation between the Father and his children: the true communion of spirit to Spirit.

Love one another!

71. See how the divine teaching does not stand still, from time to time I come to give you new lessons that explain and expand the previous ones. When you hear me at this time, do not do what the Pharisees, who were scandalized by the works of love of Jesus in healing the possessed, and proclaimed that this man, who called himself the Son of God, was a false prophet who had been preaching teachings contrary to the Law of Moses. Do not say that this doctrine is contrary to what Christ left you at that time.

72. If you want to make an accurate judgment about this teaching, first cleanse your heart of prejudices, of low passions, of fanaticism, and then yes take one of my maxims, any of them, analyze it, and you will see the light it contains and how much it helps you to reach Me.

73. I touch those chosen for my manifestations through their conscience, so that they may not for an instant forget the responsibility of the office I have entrusted to them. The splendor of my manifestation depends on its preparation, and the impression that man receives in his heart also depends on it.

74. Yesterday, when I was crucified, the mobs shouted at me: "If in truth you are the Son of God, come down from the cross and we will believe in You." Now they will say to you who pass on my word, "If indeed your mouth speaks of the word of God, give us the proofs that we ask for."

75. Forgive those who put you to the test, as well as those who doubt your mission or mock you. I will lift this heavy cross from your shoulders, which you will hand over to me with all meekness, and from the bottom of your heart you will say to the Father: Forgive them because they do not know what they are doing.

76. My charity will tell you: spirits who come united to a human body and who have fought and lived a lot, rest here next to the Master. For some, life has been a burden, for others a yoke. How few there are who know that life is a sublime lesson!

77. Do not despair, enter into my word and peace and tranquility will succeed your storms. You call me "The Doctor of doctors" and in truth I come to pour my balm on your pains, but not only that I come to bring you, but also to tell you that I have chosen you to help me in the divine mission of comforting and healing every sick person you meet on your way.

78. Do you think you are powerless to do these works? Take the example of my apostles of the Second Time, I also found them sad and sick, but their sorrow was in their spirit, they were sick with nostalgia, because for a long time they and their people had been waiting for the arrival of the promised Messiah, who would bring his reign of love and whose bread would satisfy so much hunger for justice.

Love one another!

79. When for the first time they saw the Rabbi and heard his voice, they felt that they were no longer of the world, but of the One who called him with his divine word and filling themselves with a supernatural force, they followed him to the end.

80. To you who have sat at my table at this time, I say: do not delay any longer in fulfilling the mission of telling the world about this heavenly banquet. Worry from now on about the gifts of the spirit, which will be the only thing you will take away from this world. I am not telling you to neglect your material duties, but I am telling you not to be anxious to get what you need for your sustenance and conservation. I told you at another time that birds do not sow or reap and yet they do not lack food and shelter, It is not possible that you, who carry a particle of God in your being and who also eagerly seek what your needs demand, will be denied what you work with your effort, with your science and sometimes with your pain.

81. It is only necessary that you have faith in life, but in that higher life that your Heavenly Father comes to offer you in this word.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 86

1. Do you really love me people? Do you really think you are in my presence? Show me then your attrition for the true purpose of amendment. I want to live in your heart so that later you can communicate with me from spirit to Spirit.
2. When the vicissitudes of life accumulate in your path, you take them as an obstacle to your spiritual progress and so you tell me, without understanding that a path without trials would be a path where you would not have the opportunity to make merits to achieve the restitution of your mistakes.
3. If the sun's rays have burned you, come to rest under the shade of this divine tree, so that you may restore your strength and take heart. Here I will reveal to you the power of love that redeems, purifies and gives peace; love brings you closer to each other and brings you closer to the Creator, to merge into universal harmony.
4. Think of the happiness that your spirit will experience, when inside he hears the voice of his Father wherever he is; thus proving to you that I am ready to show my greatness to everyone who, with the humility born of love, approaches to ask me or to ask me. He will live in Me and I will live in him.
5. Sometimes you think if it will be possible for the Spirit of God to dwell in you, to which I tell you that it is enough for you to observe how your body does not lack for an instant the air it breathes in order to live it; thus, in the same way my Spirit infiltrates your being so that you possess the light and the strength of the Father, which are eternal life.
6. Here you have me communicating and speaking through your mouth; this is one more proof that I am among you and a lesson also for those who doubt that it is my Spirit who manifests himself in this way.
7. In the Second Time, I said to the Pharisees who were scandalized that I cured the sick on a Sabbath day, "The Lord owns the time and not His time; therefore, he can make of the time what he pleases." Thus I say in this age to those who do not believe in my communication through human understanding: I am the owner of man and he is not the owner of the Lord; therefore, I do with him what is my will.
8. Sometimes it is necessary for you to lose what you possess in order for you to recognize its value, I tell you this, because as long as I am giving you my manifestation through human mouths, many will doubt, but when this voice has already ceased and hearts begin to hunger for this divine essence, they will recognize that in truth these lessons were not from men but the light of your Father illuminated you.

Love one another!

9. From now on I warn you to be warned, because because of these teachings, many will commit impostures by calling themselves my spokespersons, when I will have already ceased to communicate with you through the human understanding.

10. At the time of my communication, no one has been silent and will not be silent about my voice; but if after that time someone says that he receives the divine ray of my light, knowing that he disobeys the Father and deceives his brother, he will not know where my justice touches him or at what moment human justice surprises him.

11. I want obedience from you, I want you to form a strong people for their faith and their spirituality, because just as I made the generations born of Jacob multiply, despite the great hardships that afflicted that people, so I will make you who carry that seed in the spirit, endure through your struggles, so that your people may multiply again like the stars of the firmament and like the sands of the sea.

12. I have made it known to you that you are spiritually portions of that people of Israel, so that you may have a broader knowledge of your destiny; but I have also recommended that you do not proclaim these prophecies until humanity discovers them for itself, because while there is still on earth the Israelite people, the Jew by the flesh, will deny you and claim that name from you, this not being a powerful reason for a contest. They know nothing about you, but you do know a lot about them. I have revealed to you that this wandering people on earth and without peace in the spirit, walk step by step and without knowing it towards the crucified one, whom they will recognize as their Lord and before whom they will implore forgiveness for so much ingratitude and so much hardness before his love.

13. My body was detached from the tree, but for these who have denied me through the centuries, I remain trapped, waiting for the moment of their awakening and their repentance, to give them everything that I brought for them and that they did not want to receive.

14. It is time for justice, time to pay off debts. I have not come to seek the righteous in the world, because such a search would be useless; I come to seek those who have lost their way, illuminating their path so that they may return to the path of good.

15. I speak at length to your spirit, and the people say to me: "Lord, it is not only our spirit that needs you; look, our life is a heavy cross". And I say to you, blessed are you who live in this piece of land, where destruction, war, famine and death have not come. You do not know how to appreciate my charity and instead of thanking me daily for my benefits, you think yourselves needy and always present yourselves crying in front of Me.

16. Understand your mission on Earth and marvel at having witnessed that in the bosom of this people the source of spirituality arose.

Love one another!

17. I, Christ, am the Word of the Father and the light of your conscience, because the light of God that was poured out in love in Jesus, is in your hearts.

18. Come under the wings of the divine lark, where there is the warmth that gives eternal life to those who feel dying of cold. Truly I tell you, there is a chill in the hearts of men, because love has fled from them. It is like those homes where the sacred flame of affection has been extinguished, whether between spouses, between father and children or between brothers. Their bodies are together, but their spirits are distant. How great is their emptiness, how much their loneliness and how cold inside those homes!

19. If I sometimes tell you that I see you coming to Me, shivering with cold, it is because I see that you have only collected indifference to your pain from the world, because you have only known about selfishness and ingratitude.

20. How lonely the sufferer feels on earth; how abandoned the sick, how humanity is angry at the one who falls and how bitter is the bread left to the poor! Feel how the heat of the effluvium that I am sending you penetrates, to the innermost recesses of your heart. Take him to men, to the sad and the sick. The poor will raise their thoughts to the Creator of life to say to him: Lord, we are no longer alone in this valley; there are those who weep for us; those who seek us, comfort us and hold out their hand to us.

21. I still say to you at this time, "Ask, and it will be given to you," but I also add now, "Learn to give because they will ask you."

22. In the innermost depths of each creature there is a fiber of love, which when touched vibrates. It is necessary to reach her on the path of tenderness and charity, so that she may awaken and make the heart feel something of what God feels for each of his children: Love.

23. Who will be the teachers who know how to find in every man the path that leads to that fiber, which humanity hides so much today?

24. Learn from me. disciples, see how my simple and humble word has touched your being. It is that its essence encloses the divine love that is warmth and life for the heart and for the spirit.

25. Today that the Master is with you, look in Him to the Father of all beings. Do not call me Jesus of Nazareth, nor Rabbi of Galilee, nor King of the Jews, because I do not come from any people or point of the Earth, I do not come as a man, I come in Spirit and my nature is divine.

26. How much has been said and written about my existence on Earth, but how rarely have men gone beyond the material; humanity has only known how to prostrate itself with fennels to adore the places and objects that mark my passage through the world, instead of seeking the divine essence of my words or my works. But a new time, like a luminous dawn, has arisen before humanity, in which your spirit will see with the clarity of noon, what was previously for him a mystery shrouded in impenetrable darkness.

27. On this day, men quiet their minds for a few moments and lift their spirits to Me, remembering the blessed night on which the Savior came into the world. Some feel the peace of my Spirit, because there is peace in their heart, others experience sadness, remembering their childhood and loved ones who have disappeared from this world; there are those who penetrate into meditation and prayer, as well as there are those who profane the healthy joy of the spirit with worldly pleasures and feasts.

28. But I ask the poor, the needy of the Tiera: Why do you weep? Do you not remember that the humble shepherds of Bethlehem were the first to contemplate the face of their Lord in the face of that child?

29. Dry your tears, lift up your faces and contemplate the light of my presence in this blessed word, which was also heard by the humble when it was first heard at this time. Celebrate with joy this night and remember the one in which I came to you to leave you my light for all eternity.

30. I bless your home and your bread saying to you: I will be at your table and next to Me will be Mary, your sweet spiritual Mother.

31. Make sure that your spirit is clothed in the white robe of virtue, even if you cover your matter modestly. What is truly valuable in man and has been relegated by him to a very low place, will resurface in this era that will be called by men "The Time of the Spirit".

32. Behold how at the voice of the Shepherd the lost sheep are being gathered together to dwell in the pasture of peace.

33. The tribes of that people who heard the commands of Jehovah in the First Time, apparently have disappeared from the face of the Earth, Who will be able to recognize or discover among those spirits, now scattered all over the World and reincarnated in men and women of different races, those who were linked to him by blood ties in previous reincarnations? Only my provident, perspicacious and just gaze knows how to discover what is forbidden to men today.

34. Here you have me speaking through the understanding of men who do not even know their destiny, much less that of others. I know that many scoff at these words attributing them to the imagination or fantasy of my spokespersons for whom I have been speaking, but I tell you the truth, this materialized humanity will know how to do justice to this humble word, pronounced by human lips.

Love one another!

35. The first furrows have already been opened, the seed has fallen into her bosom. Today there are a few who know that I have been with you; but tomorrow, the world will know, and when it analyzes what happened around my arrival, my stay and my departure at this time, it will confess that I did not come secretly, nor in silence, and that from the East to the West, I gave tests and signs to the world, testifying to my new manifestation and thus fulfilling a promise given to humanity since ancient times.

36. On this day of grace, your heart is full of pleasure, because my presence is once again among you. When you begin to listen to my divine lecture, you feel stained and unworthy to hear my word, but when the lesson is over, you feel clean. It is that my word, which is a river of grace, washes and purifies everyone who enters its waters.

37. You are the people who, by listening to me again and again, will reach regeneration and then spirituality. This and no other is the time when you will achieve that purification, because without it you could not be worthy bearers of my Law or emissaries of this word.

38. Recognize that it is not enough to say, "I am one of those marked by the Lord," but it is necessary to know how to put into practice the gifts entrusted to you, testifying with your works the truth of my Doctrine.

39. Among this people there are those who recognize that my presence among you has been a heavenly grace, one more proof of divine love for those who sin and suffer. From the depths of the hearts of those who feel this grace in this way, the psalms sprout in a spiritual form that rise to infinity to thank me for having come to you.

40. The people of God are scattered among different peoples and nations; I came to look for them to gather them, but I found them given over to the pleasures of the world, deaf to my voice, insensitive to my presence, without remembering my promise to return. Part of that people I found in this corner of the Earth, and seeing that their spirits were waiting for me, that their heart was forged in pain and was able to feel my presence, I sent Elijah to prepare them to be my new disciples.

41. When this people grows in number and is great and strong for its spirituality, it will penetrate to the New Jerusalem, the white spiritual city, invisible to material eyes, whose doors of love will be open to give access to the great caravans that come in search of it.

42. The whiteness of that mansion will be due to the spiritual harmony of those who comply with my Law and everyone who penetrates that way into the bosom of that brotherhood, will become a child of the people of God.

43. Not all those who have received gifts at this time are here listening to me; see how many empty places there are at the table, because many of my children, after having received a benefit, left fleeing from responsibilities and positions. Ah, if only they knew here on Earth the promises that each spirit made to me before coming into the world!

44. Before pain makes them fall again and misery turns them into outcasts again, look for them, tell them that my love is still waiting for them, but it is necessary that they return to the Father before they squander the last that remains of their inheritance, so that they do not have to suffer.

45. Come. come, the Master tells you, true peace is in my way; I am health and life.

46. Love and glorify the Father who descends to surprise you in your earthly life and who knows how to penetrate your heart.

47. After you have heard my word as father and Teacher, you will have this day also that of the judge. I will hold you accountable for all that I have given you for the fulfillment of your mission.

48. You have the light that guides you, the virtues and the gifts, I have watched over you and I have put you on the path by which you can reach Me; now, after a time in which I have tried you, I ask you: What is your tribute and recognition? Have you understood what you mean to me? Then get ready, listen to the voice of your conscience and answer my questions.

49. Do you want me to carry on my shoulders the cross of the imperfections of the world and to take up your duties to fulfill what belongs only to you to do? I am bequeathing the Third Testament to you and you have not yet understood the first two. If you had been prepared at this time, it would not have been necessary for my word to materialize, because I would speak spiritually and you would respond to me with your love.

50. When my voice as Judge makes itself felt in you, you seek refuge and comfort in your Mother, then the sweet and loving voice of Mary intercedes and sustains you in the trial. She, for whom your works, prayers and supplications do not go unnoticed, advises you and asks the Father for a new opportunity for the son to return to the right path, regenerate and be saved. His goodness, like a mantle of love, covers you.

51. Elijah also appears before Me, as a beacon whose light guides humanity. His voice, full of justice, moves hearts and makes them penetrate into repentance. He promises me to watch over the purity of the fountain, which is my Work, so that all those who approach it may quench their thirst for justice and love there. The staff that I have left for man to lean on. he is Elijah, the tireless Shepherd, who leads and guides you to Me and will bring you to my bosom, when you have been perfected.

Love one another!

52. Each time I give you, each reincarnation, is one more step that the spirit reaches, acquiring more and more light.

53. Look with how much love I have filled you with gifts and with how much wisdom I have ordered and inspired you to achieve a high and dignified existence on Earth, so that after your work is completed, you will gather the seed and the Father will take it to his granaries.

54. Can you, beloved people, despise my teaching and turn back, after I have spoken to you at this time and made my will known to you? Do not become familiar with my word, and not because I forgive you, do you sin again or stop watching and praying.

55. I am cutting the weed by the roots, if you want to have tranquility in the midst of this universal purification, for yourselves and for those around you, work for peace, loving your brothers.

56. The epidemics and the unleashed elements will continue to purify humanity, and everyone will have great proofs and testimonies of my new manifestation at this time. Those who, full of zeal and love, take their first steps, will achieve great wonders and will be the first, and those who are first today and become lethargic, will be the last.

57. Do not blame time for your misfortune or your pain, think that if humanity has not been guided by my Law and has not worked out its peace, it is natural that it will reap the bitter fruit that it has cultivated.

58. I give you new strength because I look at you tired. Everyone who penetrates under the shadow of this tree of life will be strengthened.

59. The Father helps you because he wants to find disciples among you, not weak children who grow up as infants over time. Prepare yourselves and regenerate yourselves so that you may deserve my charity. At this time my righteousness will exterminate the new Sodom and Gomorrah, so that their sin will not defile other nations. Truly I tell you that I have made my voice known to all men through their conscience, so that you can understand that if the world is in darkness, it is not because I have denied it my light.

60. When your eyes behold the destruction of the nations and you know their disaster, your heart will be filled with sorrow and sorrow; but those who today have doubted my word, when they see my prophecies fulfilled, they will also weep because they have been unbelievers. You will see how the last ones will come to give you an example of faith, trust and obedience.

61. Prepare yourselves for this year that will be of trials and wonders throughout the world, wonders of which I will pour out many among you.

Love one another!

62. Take the good teaching into your homes by the example of your preparation, of your virtue and of your peace, so that when the multitudes of foreigners enter your nation, they may behold a people prepared in heart and spirit; think that if it were not so, you would have to regret that they caught you sleeping.

63. Do not be afraid to knock on your brother's door when you are trying to save him from danger, to comfort him in an affliction or to guide him in a difficult trance. Imitate Jesus, the pilgrim who knocks for the first, second and third time at the doors of hearts. I have given you light in your eyes and I have promised to put words of truth on your lips when you have to speak. Strive to preserve peace and light, both in yourselves and in your home, so that you do not give access to the evil influences that come from the spirits in darkness that surround humanity. Always follow the path of my Law so that you may contemplate your enlightened path and be able to overcome the difficulties and illnesses that you encounter in your path, like pebbles that make you stop on your journey.

64. Lift up your life, lift up your spirit, do not wait for the last one to come and, understanding the magnitude of my Doctrine and my revelations, tell you: What have you done in so many years of divine teaching? And then you have to shut up. Verily I say to you, even though you doubt it, you have been chosen by Me in the three times. Among you are those whom I can truly call firstborn.

65. Today, when I see you sad, I ask you: Why don't I see joy in your heart? Are you tired of trials and tribulations? Have you been fatigued by the restlessness that the war between the nations produces in you? Have you also tired of watching and praying? People: You are not sentenced to die, I have told you that you will live, I have given you gifts and I have entrusted you with the time to fulfill your mission. You have seen that the book in which your conscience records all your actions is not clean, and this makes you sad because you judge yourselves ungrateful. You review in your memory the days and the months that have passed and you remember one by one my benefits. You are afraid of the future, you are afraid of losing faith in yourselves, you are afraid of continuing to disobey me and not being able to fulfill, but I come to fill your path with light to revive your faith and your hope, so that you may take a decisive step on the path of spiritual progress. Unite your hearts into one, beloved people.

66. I will make the flags of the nations, shattered by battle, all unite to form a banner of peace. I speak to you in this way, because I am the God of peace, the Father who wants joy in the hearts of his children.

67. I want to see you as my disciples, to whom I can reveal my wisdom, making you know the future, but I contemplate you thoughtfully on this day, because you have verified the truth of my word and the fulfillment of my prophecies poured out through these spokespersons. Today you have listened to my divine teaching and you have shuddered because you know that each of my lessons is a prophecy and a law. To all this I say that you should rather find yourselves full of joy, because there is no religion or sect that can say like you, that they have the divine word, alive and direct or that can say that the Lord communicates with them. However, you who are the only ones who can assure that Christ communicates and manifests himself to this people, are presenting your heart burdened by the pain and regret of not fulfilling my commands, which prevents you from raising your voice to testify my presence among humanity. And it is that your consciousness makes you feel my judgment, that judgment that encompasses the entire Universe and reaches every creature at this time.

Love one another!

68. With my word of love, I show you the value that your spirit has for Me. Nothing exists in the material creation that is greater than your spirit, neither the star king with its light, nor the Earth with all its wonders, nor any other creature is greater than the spirit that I have given you, because he is a divine particle, he is a flame that has sprung from the Divine Spirit. After God, only spirits possess spiritual intelligence, consciousness, free will. Above the instinct and the inclinations of the flesh, there rises a light that is your spirit and above that light, a guide, a book and a judge that is conscience.

69. All creatures pay tribute to me, but not by faith or love, but by law; but your spirit does pay tribute to me out of love. When he prostrates himself and worships me, it is by faith and by the light of his conscience. Time, distances, elements, stars, beings, plants, all faithfully fulfill the destiny traced by Me. But if I were to ask you what you have made of my spiritual and material laws, men who govern the peoples of the earth and men who lead humanity along the path of the spirit, you would present to me mostly the blood of your victims and many darkness.

70. Leaders: What have you made of the nations? I only contemplate pain and misery. Wealthy: How can you taste your bread and enjoy your wealth, knowing that many are hungry? You will become slaves to your power. Your bread will be bitter and you will have no peace. That is your work, that is the seed that you have sown.

71. For this world to return to reason, it is necessary that the pain be very great. I send you my light so that you may recognize one another and feel respect for the life of your brother. Put down your murderous weapons and return to the Father of your spirit, whom you have not visited for a long time in his sanctuary.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. I am pleased to surprise you in the most unexpected way to test the faith of your heart. I am pleased to test your strength so that you may set an example for your brothers. There is in your spirit the seed of Jacob, whom I called Israel, which means strong. That patriarch was subjected by Me to great trials so that he would give great examples. I sent him an angel to fight with him, and the strong arm of the man was not overcome. From that moment I named him Israel, and by that name he was known to posterity. But if I were to ask you, "What have you done with that spiritual seed that Jacob transmitted to you," would you understand my question and know how to answer me? My angels have appeared in your path to fight against your imperfections and you have not been able to receive them. You have been surprised by the beings in darkness and you have been weak before them.

2. I ask you again, Where is Jacob's sword, his zeal, and his strength?

3. I have granted you the presence of the beings of light in your earthly life, so that they may protect you, help you and inspire you. They, who are more evolved than you, descend to fulfill a destiny of love, a mission to sow charity and balm among their brothers. Beings in darkness or spirits in a state of confusion involuntarily fulfill the mission of testing men in their faith, in their virtue, in their firmness in the good, and when at last they are overcome by the strength and perseverance in the good of the one whom they have tempted, they receive the light and are reborn to life and love.

4. To you, disciples, I have given sensitivity so that you can perceive the presence of your brothers. He who does not possess the gift of clairvoyance, has that of revelation or possesses the faculty in his brain to receive the spiritual world, or at least has the gift of foreboding; but you have lacked greater love to develop your gifts. That is why I advise you to live alert, so that you may listen to the voice of the shepherd and the guardians who take care of you, the lament of the sheep or the footsteps of the wolf that lurks among the undergrowth.

5. Do not sleep in this time of stalking and dangers, of abysses and temptations. Understand that anyone who possesses a gift or the mission of giving spiritual light, will have to be besieged and persecuted continuously. I do not come to awaken prejudices or superstitions in my people, I come to strengthen your faith in the existence of the spiritual, to open your eyes to the eternal, and then you can look beyond what is matter and so that you know that not everything that exists in the spiritual valley is enveloped in light, because also in the invisible there are darkness that must be dispelled, and imperfections that must be transformed into high spirituality.

Love one another!

6. The lesson that I have given you so that in your life you will be able to attract the light transforming the darkness into clarity, teaches you to pray, to watch with faith and perseverance in the good.
7. A man committed to a life of sin is capable of dragging behind him a legion of beings in darkness, which will make him leave a trail of evil influences in his wake.
8. The world has become so confused in its sciences that today it cannot by itself return to the beginning of its path of evolution, because it would not know how to distinguish truth from lies, because it lacks faith, love, and ignores the purpose of its existence; that is why I have come back to the world. Blessed are those who hear me, for they will understand me, follow me, and be saved. I will give you strength to restore everything that you have desecrated or destroyed.
9. People, persevere in my Doctrine and truly I tell you that three generations after yours, the spirit of your descendants will have achieved a great spirituality. Seek true elevation and then all humanity will do it, because your world is not condemned to be eternally a valley of tears, a land of sin, a hell of lust and war. The day of the Lord is already with you, my sword of righteousness will touch perversity. What will happen if I destroy the evil seed, vice and pride, and instead offer protection to the seed of peace, of concord, of regeneration and of true faith in Me? The world will have to be transformed; man will be transformed once his spiritual worship and his life are better.
10. The time will come when men will arise who truly love my Law, who will know how to unite the spiritual law with that of the world, that is, eternal power with temporal power; but it will not be to enslave the spirits as in times past, but to show them the way to the light, which is the true freedom of the spirit. Then morality will return to the bosom of the home, there will be truth in your institutions and spirituality in your customs. It will be the time when conscience will make its voice heard and when my children will communicate from spirit to Spirit with my Divinity, when the races will merge and all this will determine the disappearance of many differences and contentions, because, until now, despite your world being so small, you have not known how to live as one family, you have not been able to render me a single cult. The ancient Babel condemned you to this division of peoples and races, but the construction of my spiritual temple in the heart of humanity will free you from this restitution and will lead you to truly love one another.
11. Do not think that at the last minute I chose this nation for my new manifestation, everything had been foreseen from eternity. This soil, this race, your spirits, had been prepared by Me, just as the time of my presence had also been marked by my will.

Love one another!

12. I decided to begin my manifestations among the most humble, among those who kept their understanding and spirit virgin. Then I let everyone come to Me, because there are no distinctions or preferences at my table. My word, poured out on this people, has been simple and humble in its form, within your reach, and its meaning, full of clarity, has been profound for your spirit, because I, although I am the Arcanum, I always manifest and express myself with simplicity and clarity. I am not a secret to anyone; the secret and the mystery are children of your ignorance.

13. Is it also at this time that Thomas arises with doubt in his heart? What else do you expect to see and hear in order to believe? Do you want Christ to become man again in order to live among you? Give me back the body that you took from me by sacrificing it on the cross and I promise to return to you as a man. Can you do it? No. Instead, I have found you dead to the light and to the faith and I have raised you spiritually. You had lost your body in the bowels of the earth and I have given you a new one. Only I can do these wonders, but truly I tell you that the life that you took from Jesus on Calvary spread over all humanity like a dew of eternal life.

14. That is why I tell you that you are my temple, that sanctuary that exists in your spirit and that is where I seek your adoration, where I want my voice to find its echo, where I want my altar to be raised and where I can dwell forever.

15. All my Doctrine and my Law are but a preparation for you to penetrate into the spiritual life. How many of those who have listened to me at this time, are already dwelling in the Hereafter, full of joy in their spirit, because they did not suffer stumbles in their transit to that infinite world; while many men, skeptical in their materialism, smile ironically when they are told about the spiritual life; but the hour of death will come, the one in which there is no heart that does not fear, nor spirit that does not tremble before the imminent presence of eternity.

16. Watch and pray always so that that life that vibrates over you and pulsates in the depths of your being, finds you prepared.

17. No one but Me can sustain your spirit, for I am the divine manna of life.

18. Humanity: wake up from the deep sleep in which you find yourselves and look straight into the truth. How many human dreams are fading in these times under the influence of my justice, but then the dawn of a new time will shine for men in which I will reveal to them new lights that will lead them to the knowledge of the supreme truth.

19. New generations and new spirits will come to Earth to fulfill a high mission and by finding on their way the grace and the example that their predecessors left them, they will achieve that a clean seed will sprout from their heart that will be a blessing for my disciples of the time of spirituality and light.

Love one another!

20. The nations have been touched by my righteousness, yours will also be touched; but truly I tell you, if my disciples persevere in faith and in goodness, they will not perish, because their prayers and works of love will make them achieve forgiveness for humanity.

21. The world has not known or wanted to feel me when it is at peace, then it will have to feel me through pain, because it is in trials that man raises his plea to the Creator, when he remembers his Father and knows how to estimate his benefits and recognize his wonders.

22. Understand that if my justice touches you, at the same time my love guards you.

23. It was necessary that a spiritual chaos surprised humanity, so that in that struggle you could see the gifts with which I have inherited your spirit emerge and you could analyze and understand my divine lessons.

24. To you who have listened to my voice at this time, I charge you to be as guardians, to watch, so that the purity of this divine inspiration is not going to be desecrated by someone who wanted to come to deform it. Do not go to form rites or idolatries around these revelations, because you would not be offering the spiritual worship that I expect from you.

25. Love Me in your fellow human beings and pray with the spirit, I ask nothing more than that, and if you comply with these teachings, you will be offering me perfect worship through your works.

26. No one who calls himself a disciple of this spiritual teaching claims to the Father to be poor in his material life, to lack many of the comforts that others have in abundance, or to suffer scarcity or deprivation. These lamentations are born of matter, which, as you know, has only one existence. Your spirit has no right to speak like this to his Father, or to be dissatisfied, or to blaspheme against his own destiny, because every spirit in his long journey on Earth, has crossed the entire scale of human experiences, pleasures and satisfactions.

27. It has been a while since the dematerialization of spirits has begun, for which you are helped by that pain and that poverty that your heart resists to endure and suffer, Every spiritual and material good has an importance that you must recognize, so that you do not take away from one or the other its value.

28. The good spiritualist will be the one who, in the poverty of material goods, feels himself lord and feels rich and happy, knowing that his Father loves him, that he has brothers to love and that the riches of the world are relative next to the riches of the spirit. He will also be a good spiritualist who, being the owner of material riches, knows how to use them for good ends, taking them as means that God has given him to carry out an important mission on Earth.

Love one another!

29. It is not essential to be poor, outcast or miserable, to be counted among those who follow me, any more than it is essential to be one of those who cry, to be loved by Me. Truly I tell you, I have wanted you to always be strong, healthy and masters of what I have created for you.

30. When will you know how to be the possessors of your inheritance, knowing how to appreciate every grace and giving each one its rightful place in life?

31. See how far men walk from the path of truth; however, in my omnipotence there are all the means to make them return to it. I will do this work in one day, but not on a day like the one marked by the sun with the passage of its light on Earth, but on a spiritual day, which will be illuminated by the light of my divine Spirit, in which I, the good Shepherd, will continue to guard your steps throughout the day. Do you not believe that in my Father's Spirit there is pain when you go astray from the path that I showed you with blood as a proof of my infinite love? Return, return to the road, dear sheep, for by it you will come to the fold of peace.

32. Come to Me multitudes, but come united, that there may no longer be divisions or schisms among my people, because you have to give the world an example of fraternity and concord.

33. "I have more to give to you than you have to ask of me," I have told you many times, and I ask you. Do you think that those spirits who were the first to come to inhabit it could imagine the set of wonders that Nature enclosed that was to surround them in human existence? Those beings were eager to know, to create, to know, to possess free will, but they never imagined that this life contained so much splendor.

34. Now that you have lived in this dwelling, which you turned from paradise into a valley of tears, you wish to return to the spiritual life and you ask me that in that Hereafter, your spirit will not lack light and peace; not knowing that I will not only give you that, but that it will open the veil of many mysteries and I will show you the source of life, from where you will look, understand and spiritually love the Work of your Father. Then you will understand that the material creation, with all its perfections, is only a reflection or a symbol of the spiritual, great and eternal life.

35. Today you ask me only for a little peace and a flash of light, and after you have left your body in the bosom of the earth, when you look at yourselves surrounded by the splendor of spiritual life, you will remember that in the world I told you: "The Father has more to give to his children than they have to ask him". But do not forget that you have to travel the ladder that leads the spirit to the plane of perfection and that it will be your effort and your love that will lead you to the summit where your merits will make you worthy of the reward that I promise you.

Love one another!

36. My light vibrates in the understanding of the speaker and becomes a human word. Reluctant is the neck of these understandings by whom I communicate with men, their heart hard and their lips clumsy; however, when my light touches them, when my ray reaches their mind, the phrases they pour are heavenly delicacy for those hungry for love and truth, they are balm and consolation for those who arrive embargoed by grief and are a book of divine lights for those who love wisdom.

37. Eat and drink, I say to your spirit; at this time bread and wine are on the table, bread is my word and wine is its essence.

38. Eat and drink, for you will cease to hear this word at the end of the year 1950. Take advantage of these years in which you will still have my manifestation, because when the time comes you will not listen to me in this way again and you will cry bitterly trying to move me to grant you one more teaching time; but I tell you in advance, if the word of a king does not return back, imagine what the word of a God will be like.

39. My will will be done, because sooner the king star would cease to shine or the Heavens and the Earth would pass away, than my will would cease to be fulfilled.

40. Much you will have to do after I lift up my word. Everything that you have not practiced now and have not been able to fulfill, you will do in those days.

41. Your needy brothers will look for you and you will not hide. Your heart will be a wellspring of charity and piety towards those in need, and you will know how to seek me in the highest of your thoughts where you will receive divine inspirations.

42. You will not be exempt from trials, but they will serve to temper your spirit and to show your conformity and spiritual elevation to men of little faith.

43. Blessed are those who meekly and submissively obey my will, for in them will be the gifts of peace, wisdom and spirituality.

44. Today I look for those who have not understood the meaning of life, those who do not know what the truth is, the weak, those who falter in every undertaking, in every purpose, in every step, and I tell them. Come and listen to this word and you will feel strengthened like you have never been before. Faith will give you an invincible strength and the knowledge of my Doctrine will give you a light that will never be extinguished.

45. None of those who wake up in this way will sink back into lethargy or park him in the day. The one who looks at this light will be able to say that my voice was always calling him, and that my presence was manifested to him at every weight on the path of life, so he will never again and in no trance say that he has lacked the light.

Love one another!

46. Blessed are those who, without fear of the world, seek to bring this light to their brothers and sisters, thus spreading the truth and sowing peace. They will know the way that leads to the Kingdom of Heaven.

47. The free will, of which you have often made use to follow a wrong path, is being touched by my justice, but the time will come when you will fully enjoy this gift and it will serve you to do only works worthy of your Father.

48. Multitudes: have faith in Me and there will be no storm to disperse you, because virtue protects those who raise their thoughts to the heights.

49. In the Hereafter I have a dwelling place, living in it will be like studying a book of inexhaustible wonders for the spirit. As long as you are guests on earth, live the best you can, always abiding by the precepts of my Law. Be clean and idealistic of the perfect, of the beautiful, of the good, be useful to your fellow human beings and in this way you will have treasured the flows that, when we detach from matter, will accompany your spirit in its transit towards eternity.

50. Know your gifts, discover your strengths, understand your mission, and then come without haste along the way, to where my Father's love awaits you to give you your reward.

51. Now that the crowds are coming after my word as in the Second Time, there are some spirits among them who have heard my word in both stages; in its form, in its text, it may seem different to them if they compare it with the one I gave by the mouth of Jesus, but verily I tell you that its meaning is the same and that it will never change. My word comes to show you the path that I have come to offer you in all times, a path in which I want your spirit to shine with the light that radiates from your Master.

52. The routine path of your life will suddenly be hit by strong gales, but then the light of a star will shine in infinity whose flashes will give the peace, light and calm that the incarnate spirit needs to meditate on the eternal.

53. Feel my presence, I am close, very close to the heart of this humanity, I am talking to him to wake up from his deep sleep and insistently illuminate the path. of every creature, so that he may rise up in search of my charity.

54. So clear and vibrant will be my manifestations and my trials of this time among men, that they will exclaim, "It is the Lord." As at that time, when I passed through the world as a man, people marveling at my great deeds exclaimed, "He is the Son of God."

55. The dumb will speak again, the blind will see, the paralyzed will walk, and the dead will rise again. These prodigies will be in the spiritual for some and also in the material for others. I will surprise the men of science, and when they ask those who have received so many wonders how they have achieved it, they will tell them by every answer that it has been through prayer and faith.

56. The rumors of all these wonders and the palpable testimonies of their truth, will arise from all points of the Earth, both in the great cities and in the humble villages. Then the hardened heart of humanity, insensitive to spiritual manifestations, will begin to feel my presence, until it reaches the moment when the cry of faith and joy arises from its heart to understand that Christ has returned to men and that he is present in every heart.

57. I have come to communicate by your understanding to bequeath to you the book of my messages and my divine revelations, which you must send at the right moment to humanity, because in this heavenly missive that through you I send to the world, men will be able to find the explanation of many mysteries that they have not reached to understand.

58. Do not rise up as emissaries of my Doctrine if you have not analyzed it and if you cannot testify with your works the love towards your brothers, because you will not raise good fruit. It would be like those disciples who pray for the peace of the nations, when they do not know how to make peace in their homes.

59. Delicate is the mission of these multitudes who have heard the voice of the Lord in the Third Time, because they must carry this message in their hearts, with the purity with which I have given it to them, because their light must be before humanity, like that Eastern star that guided the magi and the shepherds before the presence of their Lord.

60. Quench your thirst in the crystal clear waters of this inexhaustible source, its freshness will help you to bear your cross with patience and conformity.

61. I am the life that manifests itself to you at all times, spirit, but just as you carry it in your being, think that also death that stops the steps of men on earth, marches next to every human creature.

62. The Master tells you this so that you will not let the hours, the days and the years go by, without doing something that can gather your spirit tomorrow, when the time comes to deliver his harvest.

63. Great faith, strength and presence of mind are needed by men in this time of justice, so as not to succumb in great trials; that is what with my Doctrine I come to extend on Earth, to feed the hope of humanity. This is the time of justice, in which, if you knew how to observe, you would see the light arise in the midst of pain and sin.

Love one another!

64. Material forces and spiritual forces are agitating around humanity, all of them talking about justice, the same making the rude and uneducated man shudder, that surprising the man of science.

65. The legions of spirits that wander wandering around the world, knocking in different ways at the doors of the heart of humanity, are often voices that want to tell you to wake up, to open your eyes to reality, to repent of your mistakes and to regenerate, so that later, when you leave your matter in the bosom of the earth, you will not have to mourn like them their loneliness, their ignorance and their materialism. Behold the light emerging from the same darkness because the leaf of the tree does not move without my will; thus those manifestations that increase day by day, will come to overwhelm men in such a way that at last they will overcome the skepticism of humanity.

66. Christ, who brought materialized spirits out of troubled minds and demonstrated his divine power by being obeyed by them, has always been in the Father and from there he orders and does His will in each of these beings, using the light of some and sometimes even the confusion of others, to carry out his wise designs in the destiny of his beloved children.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. How pleasing to me is the song of birds and the perfume of flowers; more truly I tell you, my Spirit is most flattered by your prayer, when it comes to Me wrapped in pure thoughts and with firm intentions of amendment.
2. You doubt whether you will ever have the innocence of a bird or the beauty of a flower, because you judge yourselves only by your poor clothing, or by some physical defect in your clothing, but you do not look to the spirit, to that being endowed with beauty and heavenly grace. The spirit is light, intelligence, love, wisdom, harmony, eternity, and all these are lacking in birds and flowers. Seek the beauty of the spirit, it will be in you like a mirror that faithfully reflects the face of the Creator. Do not worry so much about your external beauty, although I tell you not to neglect anything about your being.
3. the cleansing of the body is not against spirituality, but do not forget that the spirit is before the body. Remember that some time ago I told you: "Clean the glass outside and inside.
4. If anyone should think that my word is too simple to come from God, I tell him to take into account that it is the simple and the rude who have come to hear me and I must speak to them in a way that they understand me; but if you want deeper ideas and concepts, I tell all those who have judged my manifestation poor, to prepare and communicate from spirit to Spirit with my Divinity, which is what I am waiting for from men, and then such a deep inspiration will come to their minds, that they will have to tell me not to speak to them in those terms that only God can understand. Again I tell you as in the Second Half,. "I have given you earthly lessons and you do not believe, how would you believe if I told you the heavenly ones?"
5. When the heart contains good faith and the mind is free from prejudices or confused ideas, life is appreciated better and the truth is contemplated more clearly. On the other hand, when skepticism or vanity is carried in the heart and errors in the mind, everything seems confused and even the light itself seems to be darkness.
6. Seek the truth, it is life; but seek it with love, with humility, with perseverance and with faith.
7. Do not think that I will be offended if someone does not believe in my presence within this manifestation, because my truth is not affected at all. How many people have doubted that there is a divine being who created all the wonders of the Universe, and that is not why the sun has stopped giving them its light!

Love one another!

8. How many uncertain paths and how many superfluous riches you had to leave to follow this path, but how soon you felt peace and strength as compensation for your renunciations. It is that you could not be one of my emissaries if you had not changed your life before.
9. It is the lamps of faith that illuminate the world and I want you to be the bearers of that light. Ah, if only you knew that with faith and good works you could get everything!
10. Stock up on spiritual weapons, because the bad times are approaching, look at how evil has borne fruit in the world. Over so many disorders and confusions, the light of my Spirit is shining intensely and penetrating all the peoples of the Earth. Nothing will be able to obscure my light; observe how at every step it is touching the spirit of man, showing him the truth as a sure way.
11. It is necessary that you know that this life has been given to you so that your spirit can take a step forward in the scale of perfection and advancement, but it is not enough that the spirit knows these teachings, if when trying to reveal them to the flesh he is not heard.
12. At this time, hearts are arid lands in which the spirit has not been able to germinate its seed, and that is why, knowing long ago that humanity had to reach this degree of materialism, I made you the promise to return, a promise that I am fulfilling among men.
13. I have come as the divine sower to seek your spirit lost among the shadows of sin, to deposit the seed of love in him again and tell him to sow and cultivate it in the heart entrusted to him.
14. See how horrified you are at the news you receive from the nations at war, which has moved you to pray. And I tell you, it is good for you to pray, but in addition to this, you must make peace penetrate your heart, so that love and charity can flow from it when you want to share those gifts with someone.
15. Today you have the mission of making peace among men, of bringing them to reconciliation, of inspiring them to love one another, because at the bottom of that sublime mission there is an ancient debt that you have contracted with your Lord and with your brothers of the different peoples of the Earth. Who knows what he sowed in times past? Who knows his works in previous lives?
16. The intuition that your spirit has poured into your matter has not been enough to make you sense and thereby accept your restitution; I had to humanize myself by making you listen to my voice through man to make you look clearly at everything that you have stubbornly seen as a mystery and that is as natural as it is for the body, to be born, grow and die.

Love one another!

17. If your science is revealing to you the profound mysteries of human life, why should not a higher science, such as my divine wisdom, come to enlighten you with the knowledge of spiritual and eternal life?
18. I have started by letting you know who you have been and who you are, and then giving you an idea of who you will be.
19. "Grow and multiply," I said to man when I made him appear on the earth; similar words I said to your spirit when I made him arise into the light of life.
20. Knowing this already, who can know how far the spirit can go in its elevation? Who among you can imagine how far those who have come closest to Me have reached in their perfection?
21. The spirit is like a seed that I have deposited in every man, love it, let it grow, take care of it, it will germinate in you and multiply in virtues and perfections that will be for your happiness and for the glory of the one who gave you existence.
22. I receive your tribute of love and I bless you. Those who come to ask me for a solution to their problems on Earth are also approaching, those who, burdened by material needs, have lost the peace of the spirit. They all arrive carrying in their hearts a burden of sorrows, but when they feel my presence, they forget their afflictions because they realize that the best balm is found in the divine word. I receive from each one his offering, which in some is of faith and in others of love.
23. Here you have me as a Father and as a Teacher, I come in the spirit, but not because your human eyes do not see me, doubt my presence.
24. From the perfect I descend by the scale of spiritual evolution that was shown to Jacob in a revelation, so that in every dwelling my voice may be heard..
25. In order that humanity might have the certainty that I am speaking to it spiritually and that it is my heavenly voice that pours out its teachings in your spirit, I have communicated through the understanding of the ignorant and simple man to announce to you in this way my communication from spirit to Spirit.
26. This message is for all humanity, but now I entrust it to this people, so that he, as the emissary of his Master, may make it reach the nations, peoples and regions. It is the light that will make men not walk blindly in times of struggle.
27. Let the world not wait for a new Messiah; if I promised to return to you, I also gave you to understand that my coming would be spiritual, but humanity has never known how to prepare to receive me.

Love one another!

28. At that time men doubted that God could hide himself in Jesus, whom they considered a man equal to others and as poor as, the one who more. However, later, and before the powerful works of Christ, humanity was convinced that in that man who was born, grew up and died in the world, there was the Word of God. And yet, at this time, many men would only accept my coming if I were humanized as in the Second Time. The proofs that I come in spirit to communicate with humanity will not be accepted by all, despite the testimonies, because materialism will be like a blindfold of darkness in the eyes of some.

29. How many would like to see Christ suffer in the world again and receive the miracle from Him, in order to believe in his presence or in his existence; but truly I tell you that on this earth there will never again be a manger that sees me born as a man, or another Golgotha that sees me expire. Now all those who rise to true life will feel me being born in their hearts, just as all those who persist in sin will also feel me dying in their hearts.

30. Transfer from the material to the spiritual and from the human to the divine what Jesus did at that time, and you will have his passion present in your life.

31. Some of those who have been waiting for me fervently, at the instant of arriving at them have not felt my presence, because they had a preconceived idea of the form of my arrival, and that idea did not agree with reality. When I presented myself to this people, he was waiting for me with a feeling that was the intuition of his spirit, but he had never forged a certain way of my coming; so it was that, when Elijah, the forerunner, communicating by the understanding of the one who was chosen among the first called of this time, announced my word to them and inspired those witnesses of the first manifestations to prepare, they were filled with joy and faith, because they felt that the Lord was coming to men and that the way of presenting himself was in accordance with what the prophets of the first times predicted and with what the Master later promised.

32. Beloved disciples, who have heard this voice many times in the time of my communication by the human understanding, rejoice with the teaching that I bring to you, because tomorrow you will have to explain it to your brothers.

33. If I sometimes repeat the same lesson to you, see that I always give it to you in a different way, so that you may understand it better.

34. Indeed, you are all children of the light, since you were born of Me, but while some of you have persevered in the good, taking care that their light is not tarnished, others have been lost by the uncertain paths that lead the spirit to darkness. The low passions, selfishness, pride, materialism, ignorance and all vice, are the darkness that clouds the reason, that choke the feelings and distance men from the path that the voice of his Conscience points out to him.

Love one another!

35. How many and how many spirits have been absent from my paths and have seen their inner light go out, but the time will come when they themselves will rise up in search of the clarity of my light, tired of wandering in the darkness.

36. From my Spirit there spring flashes in infinite number, flashes that will be deposited in each of my children, in the likeness of the manna that fed the people in the desert.

37. Everything that you see happening at this time, both spiritually and materially, had already been announced.

38. There were men in the past times who predicted everything that humanity is living in these moments; those men were my prophets, children of light, who warned the peoples to direct their steps along the paths of good. Those prophets foretold the darkness of desolation and destruction, because of humanity's indifference to the calls of their Lord.

39. Now you can ask yourselves, those of you who feel unworthy of my grace: How is it that there have been men to whom God has shown his light and made His voice heard by communicating His messages to them, and instead He has hidden himself from the gaze of most of his children? To which I answer you, that those men who have succeeded in communicating with my Spirit, have not enjoyed any privileges, they have only tried to preserve the light of their spirit with purity, in order to allow the thought and inspiration of God to be reflected in their mind.

40. Did I not tell you by the mouth of one of those enlightened ones, that there would come a time when every eye would see me? Now I tell you, that time will be the one in which men prepare their spirit to feel my presence, where is the privilege of a few if they are gifts proper to every spirit?

41. Just as you have seen that your human science has succeeded in transforming the lives of men, you will also see how in a short time my Doctrine will transform your existence.

42. Reason, justice and love will come to occupy their rightful place in the hearts of those who have pretended to live without virtue, this being the essence and the reason for the existence of both the spirit and the body.

43. But when men live in the truth, you will see a new cult full of simplicity and spirituality emerge from the heart of humanity. Religious fanaticism, prejudices and idolatry, will fall undone before the light of truth that will radiate every conscience.

44. Men will be great in virtue and humble before my will and before my Law, and those who have believed themselves gods on Earth, because they have only sought earthly power, despising the jewels of the spirit, will have to go through great trials.

Love one another!

45. Work with me, for I will give everyone a share in my Work, and in this way you will come to see what I have announced to you fulfilled.
46. Give me a dwelling place in your spirit, understand that I come looking for the imperishable temple that you must raise me there. I want to live in your heart and make my presence felt in each of your good works and I wish that inside that sanctuary, the inextinguishable lamp of your faith burns.
47. Disciples of the Third Time: unite yourselves all in my word so that the moment of rising up to spread my Doctrine may find you ready.
48. Your responsibility to Me and to your fellow human beings is immense. Make the truth shine, live for it and if necessary, die for it.
49. Keep in mind that the love of your Father became flesh in Jesus and that that life was consecrated to preach and sustain the truth. Take the example of your Master, but if you feel weak to follow in my footsteps, let me penetrate and live in your heart and I assure you that my presence will strengthen you in the struggle.
50. Why are you afraid of not being useful? Turn your eyes to the past and see that in the Second Time, when there were men in Judea who were considered wise and others who boasted of being clean of heart, neither one nor the other did I choose to form my apostolate. There were twelve poor, rude, simple and humble men who heard my call when I said to them, "Come and follow me."
51. Now I tell you that I have not come to serve the wise or the righteous, but the humble, the hungry for peace, love and light. So, go on the roads of the earth without fear that men will crown you with thorns with their ingratitude, with their ridicule and their hardness, trusting that the time will come when they will understand the message that you brought them.
52. Forgive the offenses that humanity has done to you, saying as I said on the cross: "Forgive them, my Father, for they do not know what they are doing", and think that men carry such a heavy cross and such a painful crown, that none of you can imagine.
53. Carry in your word, as well as in your gaze and in your heart, the dawn that announces to those who suffer, the dawn of a time of justice.
54. Yesterday your heart was a tomb where you kept my name as something lifeless, today that tomb has become an altar where the torch of faith shines. Why is that altar not tomorrow to become a spiritual ladder by which you ascend, causing all those you rescue to reach Me?
55. The time of your preaching is approaching and if you enter it prepared as is my will, you will marvel at hearing you talk about events that you have never seen, thought, or heard.

Love one another!

56. All this will be when your steps begin to assert themselves on the path of true life, and for a moment you will feel yourself in the Kingdom of God.

57. I see that hope encourages some of my disciples, in whom they firmly believe that the power of my love and the force of truth will have to convert this humanity.

58. Others, on the other hand, are skeptical, because they do not conceive of that world that I am announcing to you, with men and peoples who love one another and with a humanity that knows how to offer its Lord a spiritual cult, free of all mystification.

59. If you believe in Me, you must trust that my strength is simply greater than that of the sin of men and that therefore when sin yields to the light of truth and justice, man and his life will have to change.

60. Can you imagine life in this world when men do the will of God?

61. Think, think about all this, so that in your heart the longing for that time to come will take shape, although those who live it will not be you, but the children of future generations.

62. I say to you again, do not be afraid of the struggle and tell your brothers quite naturally that the Lord has come among you.

63. Tell them that the one who died on the cross was Jesus, the body where Christ hid himself, the living temple where the Word of God dwelt; but that Christ, the divine love, lives and comes in spirit to his children, to teach them the way that will lead them to his spiritual Kingdom.

64. If they ask you where I was when the time for my return arrived, tell them that I was in every spirit, waiting for the heart of humanity to desire me and for its voice to call me.

65. You will speak, yes, people; you will speak so that the deaf may hear and you will tell everyone that there is I have not come as a man, therefore the sweet Mary did not come to earth at this time. To serve me as a mother. If you are asked about her, say that her spirit dwells in the Sanctuary of the Eternal, from where he sends on all his children, the effluvium of his infinite tenderness.

66. I am reading inside your heart and while some tell me that it is not possible for Me to come to you, considering that your sins make you unworthy of such grace, others think that it is precisely these errors that are the cause of my presence among you. It pleases me that you deliberate and that you do not let my word go unnoticed, because your advancement will depend on your meditation and your study.

Love one another!

67. Do you see how I have read in your heart? therefore I tell you, the lashes of your eyes are farther from you than my presence is from you. therefore, whoever is ashamed of his sins, let him acknowledge that I am forgiveness and let him be purified by my word.

68. Estimate the value of each of my lessons, listen to me carefully, wake up. Bear in mind that I have indicated the year 1950 to be that of my departure, but do you want me to make it stop before that day because of your lack of love and interest in it? That year is already approaching and what are you going to present to me? Are you going to ignore me again and crucify me? Watch and pray and when that hour comes you will know how to be strong.

69. If I raised my word before the moment fixed by Me, you would be right to become orphans, but when I raise it in 1950, you will not be able to justify any disagreement, since at the time of my communication you received everything.

70. Woe to those who, having heard my word, forget it, because they will weep looking for their Lord and in their path they will only find the false Christs, who will speak to them in appearance in the same way in which I manifested Myself, but with a word without essence and without truth that will lead them into confusion. Do you not consider it painful that a false light caused you to lose the path that my word so lovingly traced for you? That's why I talk to you a lot, so that. be filled with my word and that you may know its essence.

71. You are all sinners and I have received you as disciples. It has been my teaching to everyone and I have listened to everyone. The cry of humanity comes to Me. With the same love I receive and attend to the needs of the rich miser, the potentate, the monarch, the president, the fratricide or the wretch, the humble than the hungry for justice; I have heard their prayer from everyone, without ever stopping to judge their religion or their creed, since this also enters into the free will of which every spirit was endowed.

72. That is why I send my light to everyone, because everyone who loves his religion or encourages a spiritual ideal, goes after 1st truth and eternity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 89

1. You have carried your cross on your back, the vicissitudes of life have been like a burden on your spirit, but the spiritual cross that is in your destiny, you have not yet taken it to follow me.
2. The hour has arrived in which men will rise up to begin to live their spiritual passion and to embrace their cross.
3. That phrase that I taught you by sealing it with my blood on Calvary: "Love one another", will finally blossom in the heart of humanity.
4. My love for you could not allow you to get lost and that is why in Jesus I gave you a word with the essence of eternity that at any time would give you his help so that you achieve salvation. The Divine Word became man to save you, do you know if your spirit incarnated at this time to save his brothers?
5. Jesus was the Word of God on this earth; everything in Him spoke, not only his word, but also his works, his looks, his thoughts. The Master tells you these teachings because you can imitate those examples, you do not lack gifts, it is enough that you love and that your heart is filled with goodwill so that those faculties asleep in your being, awaken and manifest themselves.
6. Take up your cross and follow me with humility, trust that while you are busy imparting comfort, giving peace to a heart or light to a spirit, I will be aware of everything related to your material life and I will neglect nothing.
7. Believe that when I am speaking to your spirit I am also directing my gaze to your heart to discover in it your cares, your needs, your desires.
8. The new dawn is illuminating men, its light will ignite faith in the heart of humanity.
9. Well beloved disciples: do not become familiar with my word, so that every time you hear it, your heart will feel that this divine seed has fallen into the depths of its feelings.
10. Spirits who seek the light, come to Me and hear this word. Sad hearts, let my voice restore hope to you, you bent over by the fatiguing journey, look for strength in Me and rise up again.
11. O spirits who hear me, do not let the vicissitudes of earthly life imprint their imprint on you and let alone overwhelm you. Seek the light that encloses each trial and may it serve to strengthen and temper you.
12. When the spirit fails to overcome matter, it bends and dominates it, hence the spirits weaken and believe that they die along with the flesh.

Love one another!

13. Spirits is what I seek now, as at that time I sought hearts to love one another.
14. Today I come to teach you a love that is beyond the human, a love that will link all the worlds.
15. My word reveals to you that your destiny is not limited to life on Earth, but that you will have to continue your mission in the spiritual
16. I am forming a people that will rise up like an army, carrying to the front like torches that illuminate the way, the one hundred and forty-four thousand marked by my light.
17. Soldiers of peace will form that people, prophets and seers will announce what is to come; doctors without human science will heal the sick with the balm of charity and love; counselors, inspired by my light, will speak of divine teachings, and their passage through the world will be of restoration, regeneration and spirituality.
18. This people will not be formed only by men, it will also be integrated by the great legions of spirits of light, whose invisible weapons will lend aid to those who fight on Earth.
19. Do you want to be part of this town? Hear my voice, pray, overcome the weaknesses of the matter and begin to practice my maxims among your brothers.
20. How should they impart strength to those who sit down tired? How can the sick heal their brothers and sisters who have lost their health? Be strengthened and nourished in Me so that with joy you may carry your cross
21. Beloved people: I spread my mantle of love over all hearts.
22. I am radiating my light from infinity and preparing you so that tomorrow you will come to understand my word, because your faith is not yet true; how many times have you asked yourselves if the irradiation of Jesus will be true in this world and in this time; you awaken within yourself to a struggle in which while the spirit tells you that my communication is true, the reluctant body, with its heart and its brain so small, doubts, hesitates and many times denies my presence in this form.
23. Do not be afraid because I bless you the same if you believe and if you love me, than if you doubt Me and turn away from the way. I have no preferences nor do I make distinctions with anyone, I only come to give the light to humanity so that the truth may be in everyone.
24. This message, which I have sent to you at the opening of the Third Time, will give you clarity and certainty about what my divine love contains and what you can expect from my perfect justice.

Love one another!

25. I am the sower of light and I know perfectly the most propitious time to sow and reap. It is not until after the winds have shaken the trees and dried up the earth that it is time to sow, and this is precisely the time when the winds are whipping the world and stripping the trees bare. This is the time of pain in which you begin to drink your cup of bitterness. The struggle of matter and spirit is approaching, the battle of good against evil, of light against darkness, of truth against lies.

26. It has been written for a long time that, when humanity was at its greatest height of perversity, when the world was lost in sin, your God would come to give you His light..

27. While in this time men triumph by killing, I will overcome by giving them life. My divine task is to save the spirits, you have not yet come to understand what "Savior of the World" means.

28. Life beats in your heart, without you feeling me in it and yet it is still strange that my Spirit radiates light on your understanding. How strange is it to you that the Savior should come in search of the lost spirits? Have you ever been surprised when a shepherd goes in search of the sheep that has been lost to him?

29. Before you had been created, I knew that I would come to save you through love, I knew that my divine love would incarnate in Jesus to whom men would give a cross for a throne.

30. I came in Jesus to teach you the strength of love, which has no limits, which I poured out every moment in words, in balm, in blood, in forgiveness; the love that Lazarus raised up and Magdalene forgave. Even so, you think that it is impossible that I have returned to the world, because in it you put me to death and I returned to the bosom of the Father, without understanding that you should no longer feel and imagine me as a man and if only as love.

31. It is true that Divine Love spoke at that time through completely pure lips like those of Jesus, and that now it manifests itself through sinful lips like those of these men through whom I am sending you my word to transmit my teaching. I must also tell you that the essence is the same in both cases, and that my love manifests itself in a more perfect way at this time by taking you as my own interpreters, thereby giving you proof that your stains cannot make me despise you.

32. While some exclaim that these men through whom I communicate are profane, I tell you: they are larks who announce with their song the arrival of a new day.

33. There have been many lessons in which I have explained to you my spiritual irradiation on men and your doubt still persists. You would like me to give you material proofs, such as those that I showed you in the Second Time, those that men of little faith asked of me in order to be able to believe.

Love one another!

34. If the sun radiates light of life over all Nature, over all creatures, and if the stars also radiate light over the Earth, why should not the Divine Spirit radiate light over the spirit of man?

35. I come to tell you now: Humanity, stop, let the light of justice that comes from love spread throughout the world, let my truth persuade you that without true love you will not achieve salvation.

36. You know why I have come again, welcome then my Doctrine, which comes to remind you of the way. Until the world has reached its true spirituality, I will no longer be approaching men, using all material and human means to communicate with them. I look forward to your inspiration and elevation, as well as your arrival in eternity.

37. You can reach the elevation from here, in this world that seems so hostile to you and that in reality is a propitious and fruitful field for those who know how to make use of virtue and love.

38. There are many suffering spirits, many weeping mothers and many grieving hearts. The world is filled with blood, sickness and mourning. Help humanity, elevate your feelings, multiply in charity. Reach out your hand to help your fellow human beings as if they were your children, listen to them as if they were your brothers, then you will be giving love to the world, and in the depths of your heart you will come to feel the reflection of your Father's love as a caress that comes upon you to encourage you to continue in the struggle.

39. Step by step, instant by instant, the time destined for Me to come and dwell in my sanctuary, which until now has remained closed in the heart of man, is approaching.

40. Whoever thinks that in order to get closer to Me he must dedicate his life only to giving, without expecting to receive, to sacrifice himself without any immediate compensation, is in error; because being as you are imperfect and sinners, the one who seeks you to ask you will be the one who comes to favor you, because by using you he gives you the opportunity to approach your Father along the path of charity.

41. Go therefore, disciples, on the way of the world, so that you may tell your brothers that at this time, if at all, they are waiting for my arrival. they will not see me as a man; if they are waiting on Earth for the coming of the Master to present him to the blind, the paralyzed, the incurable and the possessed as in that Second Time, they will not see me arrive humanized, because my presence among men is completely spiritual, but they can introduce me to their sick, tell me their cares and bitterness, because I am close and present among all my children.

42. This light, this word, by means of which I have been teaching you my Doctrine at this time, will show you the spiritual and simple way with which you can heal each other, console and help each other in the walk of life, it will be then when the sick reach their healing by the love of one another.

Love one another!

43. Yes, humanity, you have kindled the fire of passions, and then you have cried out to Heaven to ask him not to punish you, without understanding because of your blindness, that the Father does not punish; it is you who have not been able to find the way to extinguish the fire of your hatreds and your wars. with the transparent water of regeneration and virtue, because you have not carried that virtue in you, and you have to start by putting out the fire with your tears and even with blood.

44. I am the one who would like to prevent you from crying, that you would not feel pain. I am the one who wants you to rise up and triumph over yourselves.

45. Make humility one of your best allies to achieve elevation, because the gates of Heaven, which is the kingdom of consciousness, are completely closed to the proud. He has never passed through them, nor will the proud one manage to pass, but when he becomes humble, I will be the first to exalt him and it will be my charity that will open the door of eternity to him.

46. Speaking to you in this way through understandings incapable of inspiring themselves, is the best proof of my presence and the truth of my irradiation. Why then are you asking me for evidence with impure intent? See, I have just told you that only the humble will enter my Kingdom. Be humble and you will be able to understand the love and charity that is in my word.

47. Do not demand of me, for then I will ask you by what authority you do it, when I have seen you deny charity to the one who has asked it of you.

48. Let my word flourish in your heart, you do not yet know how many of you will have to become my sowers; put aside the fear you feel before the judgments of humanity, because those who felt that fear will not serve me to sow this seed in the hearts of their brothers. Fear is only a weakness of matter, but trust and faith are attributes of the spirit.

49. Think that you have been very cold before the love of Christ, your Teacher and Lord, and I ask you: What has been the cause of that coldness?

50. I told you in the Second Time: foxes have caves, birds their nests and the Son of God has nowhere to lay his head, and now that I am knocking on the doors of your heart you do not want to open to me, but I will make all of you my disciples, because my love will never be overcome.

51. This planet that was prepared by the Father as an image of spiritual life, so that in the midst of its wonders human beings could live honoring and glorifying their Creator, was later converted by men into a valley of tears and blood. Since then, this world remained a valley of atonement for those beings who had to go through a crucible of trials and purification. Yet how many men see glory, eternity, even on this earth!

Love one another!

52. Here human vanity has erected its palaces and its thrones; here man has crowned himself king and in his blindness believing himself God, has made himself worshiped. I have never contradicted his wishes nor have I ever deprived him of the gift of free will, I have wanted him to discover the light of truth for himself and to know the essence of life.

53. My power has never created a world, a dwelling place or a place of atonement for the punishment of children who sin; if the Earth is a crucible of pain and bitterness, this has been the work of men.

54. I tell you again that in the beginning, I kept this world with its peace, its wonders and its revelations, a resemblance to the spiritual Kingdom.

55. Do you know what I meant when I told you about restitution? To restore its purity to the spirit and to this world, so that it may be for my children what I destined for you from eternity: a world of fraternity among men in which a cult of harmony with everything created and a spiritual cult before their lord would be practiced.

56. What if I'm your judge? Yes, humanity, my judgment is with you inexorable and severe, but born of the love of the one who is the author of life. I could have destroyed all those who had profaned, sinned, or disobeyed My laws, but what merit would it have to overcome you with death? Why don't truth and love have strength?

57. I do not want dead, nor do I want to hear eternally lamentations of those who mourn an atonement.

58. I want you to be perfect so that you may enjoy true life with your Father.

59. In those who are present I receive those who are absent; tomorrow, when I have lifted up this word, it will be carried by the lips of my witnesses, to those who did not listen to it. Love one another, disciples: let your heart be like a saving ark for your brothers

60. The good news of this time will reach every heart and every corner of the earth. The message that I gave you through Jesus in the Second Time has already been of the knowledge of humanity. On that blessed seed will come the fruitful irrigation of Spiritualism to illuminate and clarify the message of past times.

61. Do not seek only those who live happily, those who know little about sin or pain; go to the leper before the murderer, before the blasphemer and before the one who in his vice has come to confusion. Do not stop at the misery that that being outwardly shows, think at once that in that man there dwells a spirit, that in that being, there dwells a son of the Lord, a brother of yours by eternal and divine bonds. Keep my word always alive so that you do not let the pain pass by you without you feeling it and mitigating it.

Love one another!

62. To the one who feels the pain of his fellow man, to the one who lives the prayers of his brother, it will be granted that with his prayer and his words, the purification that weighs on those for whom he intercedes or suffers will be lifted.

63. If those in need knock on your doors, may they not find you unprepared, because then your spirit will not be able to bear witness to the one who sent him to Earth to fulfill such a delicate mission.

64. A new humanity has to forge your spirit, for this it has to fight against the evil that envelops the world. Take care of childhood, strengthen youth in the good, because the new generations will be that your noble works continue.

65. Do you think that my gaze does not discover the abysses into which those who begin to live fall and the dangers that lie in wait for those who do not have weapons to defend themselves?

66. People, do not become more familiar with perversity, fight it without showing off your purity, nor be scandalized at the faults of your brothers. Be discreet, wise and timely in your speech and in your deeds, and the world will hear you and pay attention to your teachings. Do I need to tell you again that before you give up this doctrine, you have to live it?

67. Analyze my word, disciples, so that you may find the essence in it. I am becoming the first depositories of this revelation, which you will make known to the world tomorrow.

68. In appearance, this revelation does not contain any greatness, but you will see in the future the transcendence that it will have among humanity.

69. Among this people, there are disciples of all kinds; some glimpse the magnitude of this Work and sense the commotion that its appearance will cause in the world, others are content to believe that this is a good way, and there are also those who fail to discover the greatness of this Doctrine and doubt its triumph and its establishment in the hearts of men. I tell you that it is a jewel that I have entrusted to you, whose divine flashes you have not wanted to see because you have not analyzed my teaching.

70. I have told you that where the light shines the most, it is in the darkness, and so you will see in this time of materialism and sin, shine in all its intensity the truth that I have brought to you.

71. Do not forget that even at that time the word of Christ was doubted, because men stopped to judge his origin and the attire of Jesus, and that, when they found that he was the son of a Nazarene carpenter and a humble woman, who later was to rise up in union with a group of poor Galilean fishermen to preach a doctrine that seemed strange to them, they could not believe that this wayfarer who went from village to village showing the humility of his clothes, was the King that the Lord had promised to the people of Israel.

72. I make these clarifications to you, because men are given to seek the external brightness that dazzles the senses, to believe in the greatness of what should only be looked at and felt with the spirit.

73. I had to shed my blood, give my life and rise again so that men would open their eyes, what cup do you want my Spirit to drink now so that you will believe me? Humanity: What wouldn't I do to see you safe?

74. I still have a few moments left to speak to you, I know that those who have not yet realized my manifestation now will later come to understanding, to embrace with unwavering faith their mission.

75. I come clothed with patience; I am a Teacher for those who come looking for my teaching; I am a doctor for those who only seek health in Me; I am an indulgent judge for those who, after having sinned a lot, come humble before my Presence, with their necks bent to request my forgiveness. Tomorrow, when they have seen their desire satisfied, they themselves will seek me as a Teacher, but it will be so that I speak through their lips to teach the ignorant, they will come before the Divine Doctor, but it will be to request balm and consolation for the sufferings of their fellow men and they will also appear before my justice to intercede for the one who has offended them.

76. I have told you that in order to become teachers, you must first be children and disciples.

77. Watch and pray, lest you fall into temptation.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. I am the wayfarer who is knocking at the doors of your heart. I call and you don't know who I am, I open and you don't recognize me, like a traveler who arrives in a village and has no one to know him; like a foreigner who enters a strange land and is not understood in his language. That's how I feel among you. How long will you feel my presence? oh, humanity! How long will you recognize me as Joseph was recognized in those days by his brothers in Egypt?

2. Joseph, Jacob's son, had been sold by his own brothers to some merchants on their way to Egypt. Joseph was still a little boy and had already given proof of a great gift of prophecy. Envy seized his brothers, who got rid of him, believing that they would never see him again. But the Lord, who was watching over his servant, protected him and made him great before the Pharaoh of Egypt. Many years later, when the world was struck by drought and famine, Egypt, guided by the advice and inspirations of Joseph, stored up enough provisions to withstand the test. It was then that the sons of Jacob came to Egypt in search of food. Great was their astonishment when they recognized their brother Joseph, who had become a minister and adviser to Pharaoh. When they saw him, they fell from fennel to his feet repenting of their fault, and recognized that their brother's prophecies had been fulfilled. The one they left for dead was there before them full of power, virtue and wisdom. The prophet to whom they had sold, was demonstrating to them the truth of the prophecy that the Lord had put on their lips since childhood. The brother to whom they had vexed, by selling it, was forgiving them. Do you understand, people? Now you know why I have said to you this day, When will you recognize me as his brothers recognized Joseph?

3. I also prophesied to you at that time; I was also sold and left for dead; but remember that I told you that I would return; so why, now that I am knocking at your doors, did you not receive me? will it be necessary for drought and famine to appear on earth as on that occasion, so that at last you will seek me?

4. How much I have spoken to you and have spoken to you since the beginning of time to rescue you from evil and lead you towards perfection, but there is still time for you to reach the top of the mountain where I hope to keep you as jewels that have sprung from my love and that return to Me!

5. All men know that I am the Father of all created things and that the destiny of beings is in Me; however, I have not received their attention or respect from them. They also believe, they are also lords and they think they have power over the fate of their fellow men, why bow to Me?

Love one another!

6. In this way man has tried my patience and defied my justice; I have given him time to find the truth, but he has wanted nothing from Me. I came as a Father and was not loved; then I came as a Teacher and was not understood; but since it is necessary to save humanity, now I come as a Judge. I know that man will deny justice, because even as a Judge he will not understand me, and he will say that God has taken revenge.

7. I would like everyone to understand that God cannot encourage feelings of revenge, because his love is perfect; neither can He send pain, it is you who attract Him with your sin. My divine justice is above your pain and even your death. The pain, the stumbles, the failures, are the tests that man creates for himself; and the fruits of his sowing. that's what he's picking up. It is enough for Me in each of these trances, to send my light to your spirit so that it reaches its salvation.

8. Many people say that they do not understand the Doctrine of Christ, that they do not know what they should turn away from and where their steps should lead, and I ask them: Do those teachings seem too high to you? Listen to me now and you will understand them.

9. I knew that I had to come back to explain all those lessons to you, that's why I told you that the Spirit of Truth would come to explain all the mysteries to you, to make you understand what you had not understood. This is the time when the Spirit of Truth floats over all flesh and over all spirit, it is enough that you concentrate in the depths of your consciousness so that you hear my voice, but I wanted to give you as the first fruits of this time my communication through the human understanding, so that this message may be the seed that gives you firmness and faith on the path of your evolution.

10. At this time I come to give you love, peace and spiritual teaching, and your heart, poor and in need of all this, is purified to receive the divine gift.

11. What powerful men and men of great knowledge have rejected, the humble receive, and what has been despised in sumptuous palaces, reaches needy houses and is received with joy.

12. You, who have come tired of waiting for me and suffering so much, come to Me; I have prepared everything and everything is ready for this moment. I have embalmed the wind so that you may inhale my life-giving breath, because I want to draw near to you with infinite love.

13. The sons of kings, when they hear that my knock comes at their door, they tell me: "Come back tomorrow because there is no room for you now". While men with a simple heart tell me: "Come to us, Master, come and honor our house with your presence, do not look at our stains; you, who knew how to visit the house of Magdalena the sinner, grant us the joy of contemplating you."

Love one another!

14. When this impatient but humble call comes to Me, I. I approach and penetrate into those hearts, prepared in that hour, as if it were a sanctuary.

15. Among you I find those anointed with the tears of sorrow, those who have suffered persecution, those who have suffered humiliations.

16. I come because you have called me in the silence of your struggles and your disappointment, but you must appreciate that I have arrived solicitously to your call, as a shepherd comes in haste to hear the bleating of a sheep that is lost or in danger.

17. You called me with great faith, you sought me tirelessly and truly I tell you that your faith could not disappoint you.

18. Realize, that I pour out my blessings as if it were a waterfall of love on all those who knew how to believe and hope; hear my voice that comes to you, as if it were a loving song that makes you forget the sorrows and that forgives you everything that, being so bitter, has been going through your heart along the way.

19. You are learning to feel my spiritual presence in your heart, and this knowledge has been like a haven for some, like an oasis for others. I come to look for everyone, but first I went to manifest myself among those who, when they heard me, did not deny me, those who knew how to endure the ridicule of their brothers for being with me.

20. Be patient in trials, and thereby you will bear witness to my Work; but I will also know how to bear witness to my faithful disciples, so that mankind may understand that they are in the truth.

21. Not only you will be witnesses of my Work, not only the men and women of my people will testify to my arrival; but everyone will speak of my coming and bear witness to my truth, as it happened in that Second Time, in which, in the supreme hour of the crucifixion, even the sun went down, the earth shook and all Jerusalem was desolate and sad.

22. Beloved disciples, do not weep for Me anymore, your tears will turn into joy, because you will come to cry with infinite joy when you see the triumph of my Doctrine on Earth and no one will be able to take away that joy from you. For now, keep taking your place in this spiritual banquet and eat the sweet bread of life.

23. Enjoy this feast that vibrates in your spirit, so that the moment you come to be in communion with me, you will forget your tribulations; your wounds will heal and you will rest from your toils. Your heart, when those moments are arrived, will shine like a house when it is celebrating and not even the most regal palaces on Earth will have at that hour, the splendor that will shine in your spirit.

Love one another!

24. Blessed are the meek in heart, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.
25. Blessed are those who suffer intensely when the Shepherd is reviled; but do not fear for Me, fear for you, whom if pain can overwhelm and temptation overcome.
26. You take pleasure in listening to me and ask me: Master, why have you chosen us, if we are so small and so weak? And I answer you, Your Lord is never wrong.
27. Recognize that, before you came to listen to me for the first time, when you did not yet know anything about my coming, your heart already warned you that the Master was sending his light to the world, like a beacon that guides the shipwrecked in the midst of the storm.
28. I have called you to do my chores and send you to the roads, preaching this good news, but first I hope that you will learn to forgive your enemies, all those who have put crowns of thorns on you, all those who have given you gall and vinegar to drink, so that you can say that you are already strong to go out to spread the seed of spirituality.
29. When that is the case, you must get up to sow, and although you will find sorrows and bitterness in your path of spiritual missionaries, you will also have great joys that will reward you. When you go out to sow my seed of love, pray and have confidence; you will cry sometimes, but instead it will be much that you will come to enjoy fulfilling my Law.
30. You will find tears and joys in your journey, until you reach the end of your restitution and reach the Promised Land, where everything is peace, harmony and perfect bliss.
31. Sometimes your chalice will be full of honey, sometimes of bitterness, but I tell you again that whoever prays, watches and trusts in Me, will not succumb to weakness, because he will carry his heart full of faith and will never be able to deny me, because his lips will be firm to proclaim my truth on earth.
32. The way is painful and long, but my love will quench the thirst of your heart. Remember that I have always come to men, when I have looked at them about to perish from hunger or thirst.
33. He is speaking to you at this moment, the One who has always come to save you. Christ, the divine promise humanized in Jesus in the Second Time, The Divine Word made human word, the Spirit of Love, of Light, of Wisdom, limited in a ray that through consciousness touches the spirit and the mind of man to teach him to transmit my thought.
34. Some say to me in their hearts: Lord, how could you come down to our hearts like this? Ah, my children! Have you ever seen a mother descend to the sordid suburb where some child of hers moans and implores her, lost in the mire or in misery?

Love one another!

35. Only those mothers could tell you how they felt that the heartbeat of the lost son was calling them, imploring his presence and his tenderness, trusting that they would achieve his forgiveness.

36. And I who am the One in whom all loves are summed up, in whom is the love of all fathers and all mothers. Could I remain insensitive to the call of your spirit? Would I stop going to the place, whatever it was, where one of my children was lost and called me? How little do you know about Me, even though I have manifested my love to you in so many and so infinite ways!

37. Do you not remember how many times I manifested my love, not only in those who believed in Me, but also in him who betrayed me and in those who persecuted and judged me? Now you can ask me what was the cause that moved me to allow all those ridicule and I answer you: It was necessary that I leave them complete freedom of thought and deeds, so that there would be propitious occasions to manifest myself and that everyone would feel the mercy and love with which I came to teach the world.

38. I did not move the heart of Judas to betray me, he served as an instrument to an evil thought when his heart was filled with darkness; and before the infidelity of that disciple, I manifested my forgiveness to him.

39. It would not have been necessary for one of mine to betray me to give you that sign of humility, the Master would have shown it on any occasion that men had presented him. It was up to that disciple to be the instrument by which the Master showed his divine humility to the world, and although you have thought that the weakness of that man was what caused the death of Jesus, I tell you that you are in error, because I came to give everything to you, and if it had not been in that way, be sure that it would have been in another. Therefore you have no right to curse or judge the one who is your brother, who in an instant of obfuscation lacked the love and fidelity he owed to his Master. If you blame him for my death, why don't you bless him, knowing that my blood was shed for the salvation of all men? It would be better for you to pray to ask that none of you fall into temptation, because the hypocrisy of the scribes and Pharisees still exists in this world.

40. It is up to you to be praying and watching to always be instruments of the light and never serve darkness; I will always have the opportunity to manifest to this unbelieving and materialistic humanity the truth of what I have come to reveal to it.

41. Just like yesterday, I now leave man the freedom of his free will, so that he can make use of the gift of his will and know how to come to Me by himself.

Love one another!

42. I have made you free, not for evil, free as the waters flow, as the plants grow, as the birds sing.

43. I did not incite men at that time to call me or seek me, nor did I resist when they rejected me; I let them do their will, and then do mine above all that was created. With this I want to tell you that I will let you reach Me by making use of your will, because when it comes to forcing in another way that wonderful force that moves humanity, perfection is not reached; therefore make your will be mine and you will reach the end of the path, which is my Father's heart.

44. I will call you as I have always been doing, never getting tired, and my voice will repeat day after day "Come to Me". But so that you may hear my call, cleanse your hearts, so that the evil forces, contrary to virtue, purity and goodness, may not find affinity in you and although they come to tempt you, they may not make you fall.

45. My Kingdom has its doors open, floods of light escape through them, their clarity reaching this world in search of hearts, understandings and spirits, to settle on them.

46. I warn you of everything because I have already told you that there will be a struggle and that my Doctrine will be fought in many ways. There will be many who will fight to make it disappear from the Earth, but for my Doctrine to disappear first the last of the spirits, that is, the last of the men on this world, will have to disappear.

47. Do not be afraid if you are called blasphemers when you say that the one who spoke to you in the spirit was Christ himself; also in the Second Time when Jesus claimed to be the Son of God, men were scandalized. I will forgive their unbelief and let them name me as they please.

48. Many will deny that I have spoken to you by the mouth of sinful men, but then I will say to them, Do not look at the glass, appreciate the contents, and then I will pour out the whiteness of my teaching on the hearts of my deniers. They will recognize me, because I have a sign to call my sheep, and they know the voice of their Shepherd.

49. They will come to prove you, wanting to prove that you are in error; if I don't give them my name they will say that it's not Me, and if I answer their malicious questions, they will deny me even harder.

50. Then I will tell you: whoever wants to penetrate the Kingdom of light, will have to seek it with his heart. But he who wants to live denying me, it will be to his own spirit to whom he has denied divine knowledge, making everything that is clear and luminous revelation, secret and mystery for him.

51. I give you my peace, not the one that the world promises, because that is not true, but the one that I make you feel. take my peace because the path you tread is strewn with thorns, I know it; humanity sails in an ocean of bitterness. Sin has been unleashed and you do not have the strength to fight against all these calamities, that is why I have come, to give you strength and make you get out of this chaos. When you have lost your way and you feel uneasy, you ask yourself in the midst of your confusion if that will be my way and I answer you, that I am always pointing you the right way.

52. Some unbelieving heart asks me on this day: "Are you, Master, the one who speaks to us?" And I answer him: It is I, in Spirit and in truth, who humbly present myself within the reach of your understanding, so that you may recognize me and allow yourselves to be illuminated by this light so that it may cleanse you and prepare your heart, revive it and point out to it the spiritual life that awaits it.

53. Now at this time the book of my teaching, I want it to remain open before your heart and that you be tireless reviewing its lessons. I come to instruct you, because it is the hour appointed by my love, in which I will make you masters of the wisdom that belongs to you.

54. From Me you sprouted clean and through the ages you have stained your spirit, and after purifications and labors, you come to Me and I give you back the courage and the grace that you had lost. I am marking you with a seal of light, so that you will be recognized by your brothers. I have called you disciples and I want you to imitate those of the Second Time. Are you not satisfied that I have chosen you? You say to me in silence, "Thy will be done." I can't leave you in my place yet, you're not ready to teach yet. What could a spokesman deliver, even if he had the gift of the word, if my ray were not illuminating him? They are still clumsy and are only prepared to receive my inspiration and transmit it, but their heart is not yet a source of charity and love because they are small. Blessed are those who, hearing my word, have felt faith and without having granted them great trials, present their gratitude to me.

55. No one came by chance. I have brought you; if you have conversed with me, it is your duty to recognize and love me. Men and women who until today have lived in luxurious mansions: Do you want to follow me? Do you not know that you are designated as my chosen ones and that I want you to serve in my Work? If you have loved the world very much, today you will love the spiritual life, you will serve your brothers and sisters and in this you will find your joy; but if because of this spiritual fulfillment your relatives and friends do not know you, do not feel pain, be strong and imitate me.

56. When I dwelt among you in the Second Time, I found my children proud of their science and their power; I wanted to make my word reach their heart and I found in them indifference to the gifts of the spirit, but that's not why I turned away from their way; to help them convert their hard heart, I prepared tests that would enlighten it.

Love one another!

57. On one occasion a man of those who had heard my word arrived without giving him credit; he was full of anguish, with despair reflected on his face, because he could not find the means to restore his dying wife to health. He approached Me, overcome by pain, after having uselessly resorted to his science, without finding a remedy for the evil that was ending the life of his companion and said: ""Are you the one who heals? And I answered him, What do you desire, good man? Then he spoke imploring the relief of his wife. I said to him, Is my knowledge useless and is not worth the power that it gives me? And going after her, I came to the dying woman's bed and touched her forehead. The husband looked incredulous, while she regained her health. The woman got up and was healed and full of recognition, she cried with joy and kneeling down she said to me: "Master, You are the divine Doctor, our God." "Why are you doing these wonders, don't they recognize you and follow you? "Wait, woman," I replied, "it is necessary that I leave among you, in order to be understood, but those who will now know my truth are chosen."

58. And so it will be in the Third Half. Many who have felt my manifestations and wonders have not believed, but the times and the events that will come will pass, they will speak and testify to all these wonders, and yet they will ask for new proofs. Others have followed me from the first moment and are with me, these are the ones who live more for their spirit than for their matter and have not waited for Me to stop talking to know who has taught them.

59. If you, my disciples, stand up with a little faith, working for humanity, you will do wonders, because I will take you to give proofs according to my will, to those who request it.

60. When the time comes, there will be no books in the hands of my chosen ones, because their faith and their good works will lead them to fulfill their destiny.

61. Everyone who wants to follow me, do not be afraid of the judgment of his brothers. Many fearful people tell me: How can I follow you? If my parents, my relatives, my friends, know that I hear this word, they will not know me, they will throw me out of their bosom. The Master speaks to those hearts and tells them: Not all those who are with me are at peace with their own; by following me they have lived an ordeal. And I ask those who have given them torment: What evil have these creatures done to you? Why did you make them cry?

62. There will come a time of greater justice and rigor, by then I want you to have sown goodness and works of truth in your fellow men, so that you may reap their fruits. Do not expect the world to pay for your works of charity, let Me reward your love for humanity with my blessing.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 91

1. You who come in search of spiritual nourishment, come closer, and if you are tired, stop under the shade of this tree to be comforted. If you are sad, listen to the trill of the nightingale singing among the foliage of the tree and, listening to it, you will feel a sweet comfort in your heart.
2. If unbelief takes hold of any of you, I will not reproach him, nor will I judge the ideology or creed that. present me to the bottom of your heart.
3. My voice reaches your spirit to tell you to move forward, walking with faith through the vast desert of life, always encouraged by the divine promise to reach the true Promised Land that is the Spiritual Kingdom.
4. Hear and engrave my word in your heart, so that its memory may be indelible. I assure you that when the hour marked by Me arrives so that my voice ceases to be heard in this way, it will be the last lesson I give you through the spokesman, for which you must keep it as the most precious treasure of the spirit. When that hour sounds, solemn for the Master and for the disciples, your prepared spirit will remain still, absorbed in meditation and prayer, because it will be in those moments when he understands the way in which he will later receive spiritual inspirations.
5. I want that before this communication ceases in the form in which I have manifested myself to you at this time, you understand its deep meaning and its outer form, so that tomorrow you will know how to explain it to those who did not listen to me. Your testimony will be taken as true, if you confirm it with your works of love for your brothers.
6. Prepare yourselves, so that when explaining my manifestations, you will say that it was not necessary for my Spirit to descend in all its fullness on the understanding of the speaker because it is infinite, a ray of my light suffices to inspire his mind. Nor will you forget to say that my spokespersons had the gift of spiritual detachment at the moments of my communication, a gift that allowed them to become instruments and interpreters of my word.
7. This has been, explained in brief and simple words, the way in which my spokespersons have delivered my spiritual message to humanity at this time.
8. But so that you will not fall into fanaticism, clinging to the belief that only through the spokespersons have I spoken to the men of this time, I want you to know that every human creature, who possesses the mission of guiding multitudes, peoples or nations, is a means by which I use to speak to humanity.

Love one another!

9. My love is above the differences of religions, of doctrines, of languages and civilizations, it is enough for me to find a place where I am going to address a message to your brothers, so that my charity may use it as a means to make my truth known through you.

10. When from the lips of an orator you hear words that contain deep meaning or that make the hidden fibers of his listeners tremble, there you will have proof that there was preparation and willingness on the part of the one I spoke; but above all, you will have proof that he was inspired by Me. On the contrary, when you hear them speak words that contain falsehood, no matter how bright or flowery they may be in their form, be sure that there was no spiritual preparation there, nor did my inspiration vibrate.

11. I am finishing delivering to you this message that in due time will bring the spiritual awakening to the nations, teaching men to distinguish the spiritual from the simply human, and to separate the limpid, the elevated, the pure and luminous, from everything that only contains imperfection, impurity or lies.

12. At all times, my love as a Teacher has been attentive to the lesson that men need and I have always come to them to speak to them according to their elevation of spirit and their mental evolution.

13. I have come to you because I have seen that the human word and the doctrines that you have created, do not quench the burning thirst of your spirit; be of light, be of truth, of eternity and love. For this reason I have presented myself to you, making use of humble, ignorant and rude men of understanding, making them penetrate the ecstasy of mind and spirit, so that the message of the Third Time would come out of their mouths. They, in order to be worthy to receive and transmit my divine thoughts, had to fight against the materiality and temptations of the world. Thus, renouncing their own personality and punishing their vanity, they have made a total surrender of their being in the moments of lending their understanding to divine inspiration, allowing a word full of wisdom, tenderness, justice, balm and peace to spring from their lips.

14. There will always be those who fail to understand how it is that, without descending my Spirit to these brains and only illuminating them with a ray of my light, they can express so much knowledge in the word and pour out so much essence on the spirit of the multitudes, to which I tell you that neither the King Star, as you call the Sun, needs to reach the Earth to illuminate it, the light that from a distance sends to your planet suffices to bathe it with clarity, warmth and life.

15. Thus the Spirit of the Father, like a Sun of infinite power, illuminates and quickens everything through the light that he sends on all creatures, both spiritual and material.

Love one another!

16. Understand then that where my light is, there my Spirit is present.
17. Keep these explanations, because tomorrow it will be you who will have to use these examples, to make your brothers understand the way of my communication through the understanding of man.
18. In that way you will easily understand how my Spirit, without descending in fullness on one of these brains, makes its presence felt through the spiritual vibration that I send on my spokespersons.
19. It is my charity that comes to you at this time, transforming itself into a human word by touching the mind of the speaker.
20. Open the doors of the temple that you carry in the depths of your being and look at the invisible; enjoy contemplating how the spiritual, which you felt so distant, I have put it within your reach.
21. O people, made up of multitudes of disciples of this spiritual Doctrine, how much you recreate yourselves in the pages of the book, of my wisdom, without ever reaching the end!
22. It is precisely wisdom that is the gift and the greatest inheritance of the spirit, which constitutes his eternal glory and happiness.
23. Just as for your human mind I formed a world of inexhaustible teachings, for your spirit I made a Heaven of eternal and infinite wisdom.
24. A new day of the path that you will have to travel is before your eyes, and I leave you my lessons in abundance, so that you may penetrate with a firm step on this path that will lead you to eternity.
25. I well know that not all men will recognize at the same time the truth of this message, because while some will believe that they are in time to receive me, others will question my message when they know the way it was received. They will say that to be true, it is too wonderful that the Divine Spirit could have communicated through the human understanding, to which you will ask them if it does not seem to them that it was also wonderful that the Word of God became man in Jesus, a fact that they have always had as a supreme truth.
26. You will see that when they meditate, they will understand that by making me a man in the Second Time, I gave you the greatest proof of my love for you, and that by communicating now through the human understanding, it has been to direct you to spirit-to-Spirit communication, which will be the perfect way for children to relate to their heavenly Father.
27. The Word speaks to you, the same one who spoke in Jesus in the Second Tense, because the Word of God is eternal and omnipotent. The same thing he spoke to you through the lips of

Love one another!

Jesus, who did it through the mouth of prophets and apostles, as he also speaks to you now through these spokesmen, and as he will do directly with your spirit when you have penetrated into the time of elevation.

28. Christ, the Word of God, was the one who spoke through the mouth of Jesus, the clean and pure man.

29. Jesus, the man, was born, lived and died, but, as far as Christ is concerned, He was not born, nor did He grow up in the world, nor did He die; because He is the Voice of Love, the Spirit of love, the divine word, the expression of the wisdom of the Creator, who has always been in the Father.

30. When Christ spoke in Jesus, his voice was heard everywhere, because it was the eternal Word who spoke, the voice of your Father. All this you must analyze and meditate on, so that whenever you think of Christ, or simply mention his name, you do so thinking of your heavenly Father, but never as if it were another being other than my Spirit.

31. My word revealed at this time, like a sword, will destroy all the falsehood with which men have tried to hide my truth, but it will also be a saving boat for all the shipwrecked who anxiously seek the light of spirituality.

32. Disciples: Christ is the supreme manifestation of Divine Love, that light that is life in the regions of the spirit; the light that rends the darkness and discovers the truth before every spiritual gaze, the one that destroys the mysteries, opens the door and shows the way to wisdom, eternity and the perfection of the spirits.

33. In the Second Time, Christ, the same one who is speaking to you at this moment, became man and dwelt on earth; but now you have Him in spirit, thus fulfilling a promise made by Him to humanity, that of coming in a new time to bring you the supreme consolation and the light of truth, clarifying and explaining everything that had been revealed to men.

34. In the divine, look to a single Spirit who has shown himself to you through different phases, but always manifesting his justice, power and perfection.

35. Never try to enclose within the limits of your human intelligence, the lights that are reserved only to the spirit, because then you would see before you a God dwarfed and stripped of perfection.

36. It is well for you to conceive of me as the Supreme Love, as the Absolute, as the Creator, as the Omnipotent; but understand that you must seek spiritual inspiration to find deeper expressions when speaking of your Lord. Truly I tell you that my power, my wisdom and my love, surpass all that the human mind can imagine, because all this is beyond what you know and what you will have to know.

37. I have been preparing the future of your spirits, that is why the chaff is being burned in the fire of divine justice, there being for you only two paths: one, that of spirituality, the other, that of purification.

38. At this time, the one who is not willing to renew himself will have to know the greatest bitterness and be lifted up from the Earth, thereby losing the precious opportunity to atone for his faults and be reconciled with the law, with truth and life.

39. On the other hand, those who pass from this material life to the spiritual mansion, with the peace and satisfaction that the fulfilled duty gives, will feel illuminated by my light, and if they are of those who have to reincarnate again, I will prepare them before returning to human life, so that they rise to it clean, more spiritualized and with greater wisdom.

40. You will no longer be light to forget your promises to remain on the path of good, you will carry present the memory of that spiritual pact that you have made with me, without deviating from the good path despite the trials and temptations that you encounter on your way.

41. Whoever wants to follow me, take up his cross and come after my footprint. I am waiting for men of good will who long for peace, salvation and the well-being of their fellow men. I will take under my mantle of love those who seek me with that noble ideal and I will send them along all the roads of the world to turn my thoughts into words and my words into deeds, expressing in that way my Doctrine through them. Some will have a simple word, in others the word will flourish and they will carry on their lips a waterfall of spiritual water to quench men's thirst for truth.

42. You will not be afraid to speak when you find yourselves in the ranks of my emissaries and apostles, nor will you give shelter to the thought that this message will not be understood by humanity.

43. I come to enlighten your spirit, to free you from materialism, to teach you the way to true happiness, that is the good news that you will take along all the paths.

44. Prepare yourselves to fight, all of you of good will, so that you may arrive in a timely manner before your brothers. Of that opportunity I give you the example, arriving at the precise moment when you need Me. Would it be right that the Redeemer, seeing humanity sinking, should arrive after time?

45. Listen to me, people, and penetrate to the bottom of this word, recognizing that you have benefited little, because you have believed little and doubt has penetrated your heart many times. However, the time will come when men of Little faith will see the fruit that I have sown ripen, and initiates in spirituality will arise throughout the world.

46. Then you will hear my voice saying to them: "Beloved disciples, let's sow love for the world, I will bring my seed to hearts through your works; sow with examples and soon you will see my Doctrine bear fruit".

47. Just as John, the forerunner of my coming in the Second Time, said to the multitudes: "'Jerusalem, Jerusalem, prepare to know your King,' you, my new forerunners, will say to the world: 'Prepare to receive in your spirit the presence of the Divine Spirit, who is coming to make you feel the glory of his Kingdom.' Sometimes you say: Who would be a theologian to penetrate to the bottom of the wisdom that the Lord reveals to us! Who would be a scientist to understand the wonders that life holds! To which I answer you, that if you learned those sciences, you would not understand my revelation.

48. I have arranged your understanding in such a way that within its humility it can understand me, because in this way, uncluttered and free from all influence alien to my Doctrine, it can more easily penetrate into my teachings. I will entrust you with a book, in which your spirit will learn to read and come to know spiritual wisdom. It is in vain that you seek that wisdom in the books of the Earth, because the seed contained in the books of humans, would no longer germinate in you. Your mission is different from that of those who come to Earth to search the mysteries of Nature; you are that people whose destiny is to bring the light of the spirit into the world.

49. Haven't you heard of the Seven Seals? So that you can understand, imagine a book made up of seven chapters, a book that contains the knowledge of life and spiritual wisdom, which has been opened before humanity. Six of those seven seals have been untied, so you are before the Sixth Seal receiving from him his light and his revelations.

50. Blessed is the one who penetrates with love, humility and respect to the understanding of this symbol of my wisdom, because in his understanding clarity will be made. It is the Book of the Seven Seals as a sanctuary, where your spirit will find the ladder that leads to the mansion of peace and perfection. It is the book of my wisdom given to men in seven stages.

51. The language in which this book is written is divine, because it was the Spirit of your Eternal Father who wrote it for his children. My Word has translated it to you into human language, so that man could know it and live it from its first pages.

52. I am starting you in the study of this revelation, tomorrow, when the spokesman is silent, your spirit will begin to prepare to receive directly from the Father the continuation of his divine lessons.

Love one another!

53. It is my will that when the Seventh Seal is untied, spirit-to-Spirit communication will be practiced by humanity, so that it is in communion with its Lord.
54. Meditate on these lessons, disciples, and you will sense the greatness of this revelation.
55. Welcome to the people who come to receive their Lord. You are welcome because you have been able to understand that you are in the time of the fulfillment of the prophecies and the promises that I once made to humanity.
56. My new manifestation has surprised the world without peace; today the nations are destroyed without wanting to understand that you are all brothers.
57. The fervent Christians of those times, when they knew that their Lord would return to the world in a time of wars and hatreds, could not understand how after going from mouth to mouth and from heart to heart that sublime Doctrine, men could not be encouraged to love one another.
58. Ah, if only they had known that the peoples who were Christians were going to rise up against each other to destroy each other; and that the hearts of men were to become an immense tomb where all the virtues that my Doctrine taught them would be buried! Humanity is like a spirit surrounded by darkness, rottenness and loneliness, like the dead man inside his tomb; but my voice comes to awaken that dead man in his tomb to truth, to love, to light. My voice, echoing in his spirit, is saying to him: do not sleep, this is the third day, on which you must rise, the Third Time destined to the spirit for his restitution and elevation, with which he will leave all debt paid and his mission on Earth concluded.
59. I have seen that your religions do not have the necessary strength to. they do not contain so much evil, nor enough light to illuminate your reason, and that is that they have strayed from the essence of my Doctrine, which is primarily for the spirit.
60. For many men, Jesus is the character of a beautiful and ancient legend, whose examples cannot be imitated and put into practice in these times of materialism, to which I tell you, that the word and works of Jesus have not passed and will never pass, because they do not belong to an era or a nation, since the essence of his Work in the world was love and humility, and his teachings, which humanity needs for its spiritual advancement.
61. When those who are dead to love are raised to true life, you will see my name and my word rise again in the world and you will hear many lips say, "Christ has risen from the dead!"but then, I will tell you that I have always been present and that I have never died, being the spiritual estrangement of humanity what did not allow it to feel me.

Love one another!

62. Disciples: Today I find fatigue in your body and restlessness in your spirit; it is that your brothers hurt you because you have embraced this cross, but you seek my word and in it you find peace and consolation.

63. In the First time, the people prayed in the desert so that the manna would be sent to them, today you raise your spirits to listen to the voice of the Lord, which is sustenance and eternal life.

64. Many times you have wished that this word would be heard in the whole world, to which the Master tells you: Only a short portion will hear me through the human understanding, but then everyone will receive this message. My light is poured out in every spirit and in every flesh, or what is the same, the earth is prepared for the seed to penetrate into it and bear fruit.

65. Only those who remain inveterate in sin will not feel my presence, but I will make the world understand that I came for everyone and that I showed myself to everyone.

66. The light of a new day has appeared on the horizon and a book has opened before your eyes. My spiritual Doctrine will struggle to dispel the shadows, and in the end its truth will prevail.

67. You will not be preachers of the gifts that I have entrusted to you, nor of the grace that you have had in listening to me, your works will have to be the ones that speak testifying to the lessons of love that you have received.

68. Men will put you to the test, but then you will entrust yourselves to my will full of faith and I will lead you forward.

69. They will bring the incurably ill before you to be healed, they will bring you before the dying man to bring him back to life, and they will present to you the one who has lost his reason or the possessed, so that you may give light to his spirit and freedom to his understanding.

70. Do not be afraid of trials, put faith in them, be humble before your brothers and I will do the rest. I will show men that I have truly given you authority, they who will be amazed and many will convert, but those who think of harming you will feel defeated by your charity.

71. The time for struggle and true spirituality has come. From the temples, churches and synagogues, those will come out who, given over to external cults, wake up from their sleep and seek the Lord's lands, where work, sowing and struggle are.

72. Get rid of excessive love for your body and have charity of your spirit, helping it to purify itself and rise; when you have achieved this, you will see how strong you will be in spirit and body.

Love one another!

73. Think that if the spirit is sick, how can there be peace in the heart? and if there are regrets in the spirit, can you enjoy peace?

74. Prepare yourselves, for verily I say to you that many are already waiting for the Holy Spirit, the scriptures and Prophecies are searched and studied by men, and in them they find that the events of this time are indications that the signs that I gave for my coming are being fulfilled. However, most of humanity is still asleep; if all the peoples were waiting for me and I had interpreted the prophecies correctly, they would have already risen up after the star that would reveal the spirit-to-Spirit communication to them.

75. You who listen to my word, have been judges of these through whom I communicate, but to the one who has been more severe and unjust, I have called him and I have given him the same gift so that when he also found himself in front of judges and unbelievers, he would realize the delicate and serious mission that weighs on a spokesman.

76. Go ahead, disciples, do not wait for the last ones to come to teach you what faith, obedience and zeal are in my Work, because you are obliged to wait for them with the doors open, the house prepared and the table served.

77. I receive all those who come after my word, as well as those who prepare themselves from an early hour, keeping their spirit away from what is superfluous, as well as those who come to hear me just out of habit, who do you think will take better advantage of my teaching? Who do you think will be the strong ones when the hour of my departure comes, the one when I will stop communicating with you by this means? It is natural that they are the ones who are truly preparing to receive my lessons. Then, listen to me with the spirit, clearing your mind and touching your heart, so you will feel how my word penetrates to the depths of your being and fills you with noble feelings.

78. There are those who, finding themselves distant from this word, are closer to my presence than many who occupy a place near this manifestation, and the fact is that the Teacher's chair descends to the spirit and not to matter. O spirits contaminated by the passions of the world, if you knew that at the moments when you are listening to this word, I am offering you in it a boat for you to save yourselves and a net for you to rescue your brothers who are in danger!

79. I am already among you as I had announced to you, I have already arrived and there will not be a day when I do not show you my presence and my justice, in multiple ways.

80. The time when men have taken free will to employ it in pleasures, low passions, hatreds and revenge, is coming to an end. My justice is closing the paths of sin and opening, instead, the path of reconciliation and regeneration, so that they may find the path of peace that they have sought in vain by other means.

Love one another!

81. You call each other brothers, but only rarely have you known how to be so! That is why I have told you on this day, that you prepare to receive my word because in it you will hear my tender and loving voice that will make you feel true brothers and sisters in God.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. it is a day of celebration for you when you listen to my word. Those of you who have faith rejoice, and those of you who have doubts torment yourselves, because you would like to see me as a man in order to have absolute certainty of my presence.
2. Do not be afraid, the Master tells you, because even without seeing or touching me, you will come to believe. My word, while persuading, sensitizes all the spiritual fibers of your being and you will come to feel the spiritual manifestations with you, when peace knocks on your doors or love approaches your heart, when death is around or temptation lurks. the best inheritance that I will leave you will be this Doctrine because he who knows how to interpret it and practice it as it requires, will achieve the supreme peace of his spirit; but whoever alters it in interpretation or in practice, will weep with great bitterness; but these will not be able to blame Me because their conscience will tell them that this pain is the proof that they have been outside the Law.
3. Also on Earth, your parents inherit you with teachings and advice, and those who obey and respect them invariably reap good fruits on their life's path. But those who ignore and forget his words, giving more value to the material goods they receive as part of their inheritance than to the lessons of love they received, are exposed to the fall and to vicissitudes. Ask yourselves: Is it fair that those children who have been missing, when they feel the rigors and sufferings that are a consequence of their disobedience, say that it is their Father who has punished them? No, my children, it is your works that always bring you a reward or a punishment.
4. Beloved disciples. i am giving you my lesson of love. In the midst of this humility in which my manifestations take place, there is my sanctuary, that spiritual temple where no rites are celebrated, nor are you dazzled by the false splendor of the liturgies; where you only hear a voice that is sometimes sweet and comforting, sometimes deeply wise and sometimes severe and just.
5. That is the reason why you never tire of listening to it and always feel subjugated by it, because although my lessons have an external similarity between one and the other, you have come to discover that they are different in their meaning and lead you progressively to the spiritual knowledge of my truth.
6. You come from various parts of the earth to listen to me and I give you the name of representatives. If you are a father or a mother of a family, I receive you as representatives of the household, if you are a child, I receive you as representatives of the family; those of you who come from a region, I take you as representatives of this, and if you arrive from a distant country, I appoint you representative of your nation. For Me, you are all my children, my beloved disciples whom I teach without any distinction.

7. To those who doubt my word I tell you to wait, to keep the doubt in your heart and close your lips, instead, to open your ears, your understanding and heart because it is a time of surprises and wonders that only those who are prepared will be able to witness and confirm.

8. The final battle is already being fought and it is necessary that you have weapons to fight and a shield to defend yourself; but since this judgment is not as the world has expected, it has not realized that it is already within it. Everyone who has awakened, if he has charity from his brothers, let him give the warning voice and testify the good news among humanity. I see among this people many who, being able to speak to bear witness, are silent; on the other hand, others who, without having understood my teaching, are tireless talking about it without knowing its meaning and transcendence, and for this reason they often fall into prevarication. To these I tell them to study first and prepare themselves so that there is no cause for anyone to be confused or misjudge my Work.

9. I also warn you that he will not be able to call himself my disciple, the one who will take my word as a sword to wound his brother, or as a scepter to humiliate him. As well as the one who exalts himself when speaking of this Doctrine and loses his calm, because he will not raise any seed of faith.

10. A prepared disciple will be the one who, when you find yourself attacked in your faith, in the most sacred of your beliefs, know how to remain serene, because you will be like a lighthouse in the midst of a storm.

11. Listen to Me tirelessly, so that your faith may increase and you may satisfy the longing for the elevation of your spirit.

12. The lesson that I gave you in the Second Time, a lesson that many have not understood and others have forgotten, in this time I will make it understood by all and that it will also be fulfilled through my new teachings.

13. You, who have received these revelations, are the ones indicated to announce to humanity my new manifestation through the human understanding. Who do you want me to give this testimony, if not you? If you expect the princes or ministers of religions to bring this good news to humanity, you are in error; for truly I tell you, even if they looked at me, they would not open their lips to say to humanity: Behold Christ, go to Him! No. disciples, they will not be the ones who announce me or who open new paths to the men of this time. Instead, my word prepares you without ceasing, so that you may speak faithfully of what you have seen and heard from Me, and above all so that you may confirm it with your worship and your works of love towards your brothers.

14. Let my word fill you with strength, so that you will not be weak in trials, remember that the path of virtue is sometimes strewn with thorns and temptations.

15. Understand how delicate this Work is, beloved disciples, and all that you have to analyze and watch so as not to fall into errors or sow division among your brothers.

16. Keep my word and you will be strong, because I come to build temples that withstand the strongest gales.

17. Let no one tell me that he feels fatigued to undertake this journey, because it will not be the spirit who speaks like that, but the material. I tell you that it is enough for you to detach yourself a little from the material world in which you live so that you feel free from tiresome burdens. The high spirit does not experience tiredness, it is the body that becomes tired in the material struggle. This spiritual mission, carried out with love, does not overwhelm or tire, but rather lightens the sorrows of your life and strengthens the body and the spirit.

18. I must tell you, disciples, that he who feels love for his fellow men does not experience tiredness. Do you think that if I did not love you as I love you, I would have accepted the judgment and sacrifice to which you subjected me at that time? But my love for humanity gave strength to Jesus and in him I carried out my redemptive work. Understand that according to your love for your fellow human beings, so will be the strength with which you will be able to bear their offenses and the fatigue that your mission will make you experience.

19. Pray, strengthen yourselves in the good, so that you erase your imperfections and feel more worthy of my love every day.

20. In this blessed hour, my divine ray has touched the minds of my spokespersons in the different precincts consecrated to this communication, and that light has been transformed into a word of life for the spirit of my people. This manifestation is similar to the one in which the manna descended on the hungry people and fed them in the days of scarcity in the desert. Let no one be afraid to find himself alone, for you have seen that I have given you proofs of my presence at all times.

21. Do you not feel how my charity is gradually turning you away from everything that is superfluous and harmful? It is that it pleases me that you purify yourselves at the spring of pure waters that my teachings offer you, so that clean, you may be worthy of my revelations.

22. Hear, disciples: The time announced, in which my Spirit would be poured out on every spirit and on every flesh, in which humanity would have spiritual visions and symbolic and prophetic dreams, is this. Observe how spiritual gifts make themselves felt among men of different peoples. But among all there is one, ignored and humble, in whom the spiritual manifestations have become clear, precise and just. In him I have come to make my voice heard as a Teacher, revealing to him the purpose of these gifts, pointing out the right path for the fulfillment of his mission.

23. This is my people, on whom my revelations will descend, the successor of that ancient people who were called Israel in the earliest times and who are now resurfacing in the world, carrying in their spirit the mission of making my truth known to humanity.

24. This people hears my voice at this time and feeds on Me, like a branch of the eternal vine. Each of his children must give to the world the fruits of the tree from which they came to life. My word, as the irrigation of the purest waters, will fertilize and prepare you so that you will never receive the irrigation of polluted waters, because then the flavor and the sap of the spiritual fruit of this people would no longer be that of the divine tree.

25. In these times of materialism, my lessons of love have been forgotten due to the darkness that envelops humanity; but I tell you to seek them in your spirit, from where they cannot be erased, because there all your gifts remain latent like an inextinguishable lamp that illuminates the path that you must follow until you reach the reward that I have promised you.

26. I have come to gather my people together to pour out my wisdom on them. Only I can discover those who are to serve me. In three eras I have sought disciples to teach them my lesson and prepare them as my emissaries; in each of those eras I have manifested myself in a different way and my presence has surprised men, because they have not known how to prepare to listen to me, even knowing that the time has come for these events to be verified. And when I have been in front of them, they have not recognized me, despite the fact that my word has offered them the same essence, because the purpose of my teachings has been the same in all times. I tell you that whatever way I manifest myself to you, you will be able to recognize me, since I always show you my love. The ways I have used to make myself present to humanity have not been a disguise to hide me from their eyes, but a means of limiting myself to be understood, to test their faith and give them confidence in Me.

27. You, who are not sure of this communication, be silent until the conviction comes to you.

28. Many of your doubts have been born from the fact that you look at imperfect beings in these spokespersons and that makes you think if it will be possible for the Divine Spirit to speak to you through this means. But I ask you. Where are the pure in heart and the righteous to manifest me in them? I do not find them on earth, not among the elderly, not among maidens, not even in children, even less among philosophers or men of science, not even in the ministers of the various religions. So, I have searched among the humble for those who, in addition to having a virgin mind, have sufficient spiritual evolution and they have served me with true love.

29. If I make you hear my word through human lips without letting you look, it is to give you the opportunity to make merits and repeat that phrase that I gave you in the Second Time when I told you: "Blessed are those who have believed without seeing".

30. When these times of my communication have passed, you will understand that I sought you as the most worthy means, because you are my children, to express through your understanding my love and my desire to raise you up to Me.

31. Do not doubt the value that you represent to ME. My love has tested you from the moment I sent you to the paradise of my Creation. There I have given you everything you need for your recreation and subsistence, but also for your spiritual elevation. In this pleasant garden you can know and love your Creator, discovering in your own spirit the gifts and attributes of who has given you existence.

32. The man on Earth is a prince to whom my love and my justice gave that title and the order he received from the beginning was to lord the Earth.

33. On the divine gift of his free will I placed a beacon of light that will illuminate the path of his life: consciousness.

34. Freedom to act and the light of conscience to distinguish good from evil are two of the greatest gifts with which my Father's love inherited your spirit. They are in man before he is born and after he dies. Conscience guides him and does not turn away from him in despair, neither in the loss of reason nor in agony, because it is intimately united to the spirit.

35. If you understand all this that I teach you, will you still think that it is not worthy for my Spirit to communicate with humanity through my own children? How little do you know your Father, and how little do you know yourselves!

36. This is a time of surprises, of signs and wonders and you must be alert so that my revelations will not go unnoticed by you. Observe, feel, meditate. Not only does the divine word speak to you, the entire Creation also speaks to you endlessly in its language and points out to you the path of your duties.

37. I find you at this time able to understand the book of spiritual wisdom, and achieve great progress if you know how to concentrate on the bottom of your being, allowing your spirit to turn on the light of your faith and with it illuminate the path of your evolution.

38. If I have ever told you to listen and be silent to my teaching, it is because yesterday humanity put to death my prophets and even Jesus, your Teacher; but it did not take long for men to verify that all those revelations and prophecies that they bequeathed to them, were fulfilled. Would you, already with that experience, dare to deny my prophetic word again, thereby giving spiritual death to my new interpreters?

39. Seek in the testimony of my prophets of the earliest times, the announcement of this communication through the human understanding and I tell you the truth, you will find it there. If until now men have not discovered this prophecy, it is because reading, they have not been able to understand or interpret the divine word.

40. I welcome all those who wish to hear my teaching, as well as those who hide doubt and even mockery, as well as those who would give their lives affirming that this communication is a truth. But I have not asked my disciples for that sacrifice, only that of their perseverance, the fact of loving and persevering in the good, you call it sacrifice.

41. The day of my departure is approaching and you must prepare. Think that I will not leave you material goods, my inheritance is wisdom, love and strength. I leave you the book of my word, which contains all the teachings you need to guide you correctly in your life.

42. Faith will accompany you wherever you go; if yesterday you forgot me in your hours of joy, now, when joy and peace are in your heart, you will remember me by thanking me; also. in the hours of pain you will know how to look for me in solitude, in the intimacy of your being to entrust to me all your complaints looking for the strength you need.

43. You will always respect the faith or beliefs of your brothers, considering that the heart of man is my temple. When you want to penetrate into its interior, you will do it with love, praying before uncorking the veil of that sanctuary.

44. Do not imitate those who without fear and without respect cross the thresholds of that sacred enclosure that is the spirit, extinguish his lamp, destroy the offerings and destroy the altar because you will become rapists and desecrators of my temple.

45. In many hearts you will find altars of fanaticism on which an idol is raised; it does not matter to you, you will know that the offering is good, that it is sincere and that it comes from an innocent heart that turns to Me. This is how I teach you respect and charity, the only key with which you will be able to open your hearts.

46. Remember that now and in all times, I have revealed to you the way in which you should worship your Father; of this, many of you have knowledge, but when you observe how the various religions and sects have complicated worship, you think of the struggle that will have to come between humanity when the ideal for spirituality arises in the world, striving for simplicity and purity.

Love one another!

47. It is true that fanaticism for traditions, false religiosity and idolatry, have taken deep root in the hearts of peoples, but do not grieve thinking about the struggle that awaits you, because your faith will suffer. Remember that I have told you that I am inviting you wholeheartedly to the elevation and approach to ME, and that in that struggle that awaits my disciples from all over the world, they will be protected and strengthened by my love; no one will feel abandoned to their own strength and their faith will lead them to triumph.

48. Understand why I manifest myself to you with insistent eagerness. I don't want you to sleep or be filled with fear of imaginary dangers. Seek spiritual elevation in this world and have no other idea than that you are going in search of brothers and not enemies; brothers to whom you will take my message of fraternity and spirituality. O disciples who are timid and weak in your faith, I tell you that you need to understand my teaching and affirm yourselves in it so that you may feel strong and not experience fear for the coming struggle.

49. To help you in your mission, I am preparing your spirit and your matter so that they know how to cross with courage, serenity and faith, through the confusions that you encounter on your way.

50. Do not be afraid of the ignorance of your relatives and friends, do not be cowed if they despise you for this cause, temper your heart from now on in my Doctrine, which is the best anvil.

51. Be humble before these trials, know how to be worthy and fight with humility so that you know how to forgive every offense, if you want my seed sown in you to bear fruit of armor and germinine in the hostile and arid lands of the human heart. If you want to take me in Jesus as a model, think that I, as a man, was unknown, persecuted, denied and mocked from my birth until the end of my journey that was the cross. Even in the hour of my agony, many rejoiced in my pain and celebrated my death.

52. But don't let that memory make you afraid, don't let it seem difficult for you to practice my teaching; it also seemed difficult to my disciples at that time and yet they fulfilled their mission. They saw their Master triumph over the world, overcome death, carry out his redemptive work in his wake; and that is why after his departure, they knew how to follow in his footsteps, they made charity their law, and love for their brothers, their true life.

53. They are a beautiful example for you, disciples of the Third Time, to whom I say: come to Me, you who are sick in body and spirit, for I will not reject you because of your infirmity. Hear my word and let it be like the balm that heals your wounds.

54. How many of you are surprised to see me with tears of tenderness in your eyes when you hear my word, when just a few moments ago you were given over to the vanities of the world!

Love one another!

55. It has been a while since I have been giving you this lesson and I have not yet found the little ones converted into disciples, but I will continue to give you my word until I make you good teachers. I have taken pleasure in choosing the clumsy for the knowledge of this world, because their understanding has the simplicity and clarity that it is necessary to possess to understand spiritual wisdom. I have chosen the poor, because they, in their humility, feeling clothed with my grace, have been able to appreciate the value of the gifts that I have granted them; but to the rich, who only aspire to earthly power, how small these divine attributes seem to them and how few have come to Me in demand of grace and gifts for their spirit. But I am always ready to pour out my arcanum on each of my children at the moment of their preparation.

56. To those poor whom I have adorned, I teach them not to reserve this treasure only for themselves, but to share it with their brothers.

57. The spirit who knows that he carries within himself the gifts that his Lord gave him, enjoys and fights to preserve them, has knowledge of his evolution and strives to make shine that jewel that has been entrusted to him.

58. Think then that the one who strays from my path, after having been inherited, is not as ungrateful to his Lord as to my friends, because every scale he has reached has cost him an effort, a suffering or a restitution.

59. Do you not know that he who walks outside the law, strips himself of his virtues and his gifts? That is why I have come at this time to help you restore to your spirit all that he had lost, and for which he felt weak and needy. You will all receive light; there will not be a single one who does not feel the awakening of his spirit and the longing to rise above the human. Plants that had been parasitic, will become blooming and fruitful. Because I love you, I will always give you a chance to save; but you must think that every time you waste, it will make your return to the path more painful.

60. Today I have come to turn you away from the reigning evil so that you can listen in peace to my word and at the same time meditate and analyze it. Keep in mind that the thirst of the spirit is only quenched by the pure water of love and charity.

61. If you have had servants in the world and you have known about them, you will have to renounce all this to become useful, caring and humble servants of your brothers. You have served the world for a long time and now you must serve your God in obedience to my commands. The world has given you joys and it is time for you to prepare your spirit to penetrate the spiritual valley where you will have full satisfactions if you have known how to live fulfilling my Iey of love.

Love one another!

62. Take advantage of your stay on Earth, to love and give sweetness in exchange for bitterness. Observe these creatures for whom I give you my word, and you will see how, despite the hardships they have in their lives, they know how to pour sweet words in the moments of my communication. Can you imagine the essence of the teachings of Jesus at that time and the joy of the multitudes who listened to Him? It was the voice of the Kingdom of Heaven, before which the spirit of the disciples bowed down. Every time the lips of the Divine Master were opened, his words fell like balm on sick hearts and healed many wounds, and was the path that Jesus traveled a flowery way? No, disciples, your calvary began in the manger in Bethlehem. That is why that word, which was the voice of the one who came to suffer to save you, raised firm intentions of amendment in many hearts, thus transforming the existence of many beings who had lived in darkness and who later felt illuminated by the fire of love of his word.

63. Those who died to the life of grace rose again full of hope and faith, and men with selfish, hard and cruel hearts wept with repentance and felt moved to pour out their charity, loving those whom they had looked at with indifference and even with contempt. Many of these miracles of conversion, only I saw them happen, because for many of my disciples they went unnoticed. And now at this time, this miracle is realized again by receiving the essence of this word. I discover among the multitudes who hear me, the men who were sunk in vice, who rebuild their lives and rise up practicing the virtue that they did not know before; I look at the families who unite to follow my footprint and the marriages that have strengthened their ties in the ideal of spirituality that my Doctrine has inspired them.

64. I also see among my farmers that yesterday they were outcasts on Earth and slaves of sin, that today they have been freed and to whom a burden of suffering arrived, that now they have peace in their hearts and know how to share it with their brothers.

65. It is that my word through the human understanding has the strength, essence and persuasion that the one I poured out in Jesus had, despite the lesson that I am giving you today through lips that sin and profane. How will my communion with your spirit be, when you have reached greater purity? O disciples, strive, develop the gifts of humility and charity and in this way you will give occasion to your spirit to be purified and elevated. Be with me so that you may live forever.

66. I watched many of you wander, carrying death in your hearts, without finding a hand that pointed out to you the path of virtue and peace; until the echo of my word came to you and his voice that called you, made you wake up to a new life and experience the joy of returning to Me.

Love one another!

67. Your spirit had remained blind, dumb and deaf to all spiritual practice, but deep down it longed to come to possess this knowledge, and hoped. This inner struggle was not understood by your mind and therefore you could not find justification for the lack of peace and joy in which you lived.

68. It was then that my presence shone like a beacon in the darkness of your spirit and you instantly recognized me, saying to me: Lord, You are the one whom I was waiting for so much. And since then I took you as my preschoolers, teaching you to spell the first syllables of this Book that day after day has been revealing the content of its pages.

69. I chose you because of the humility of your heart, so that, submissive to Me, you would carry my Doctrine everywhere and in this time of evil and misery you would sow my seed of love in the hearts of your brothers, which is a field conducive to conversion and virtue.

70. I have come to resurrect all the spirits who had died to grace and to teach you what you could not find in the sciences or in philosophy: spirituality.

71. Religions sleep a dream of centuries of routine and stagnation, while the truth has remained hidden. But those who know the commandments of the Lord and the word of the Divine Master, will have to recognize in this voice that speaks to you now, the voice of the Spirit of Truth, ordained for these times.

72. Humanity asks for supernatural proofs to believe in my existence and in the immortality of the spirit and in truth I tell you that it will give it those proofs in this time of great realizations and fulfillment.

73. the new generations will not hear my word in this way, because I have reserved spirit-to-Spirit communication for them.

74. I expect from you the fulfillment of our mandates, I will speak to you through the spokespersons until the year 1950, the date on which this stage will end. But I do not want you to weaken in that day of righteousness, because you will be divided and fall into errors. Be prepared so that you will hear the voice of conscience and be responsible for all your charges.

75. Watch over the health of your body, seek its preservation and strength. My Doctrine advises you to have charity of your spirit and of your body, because both complement each other and are needed for the delicate spiritual fulfillment that is entrusted to them.

76. My path is narrow, but it is safe. Do no more vain penances or barren sacrifices. Take from Nature what is necessary for your material life and rise up to Me, in search of spiritual sustenance.

Love one another!

77. Beloved people. bring peace so that, just as you have been comforted in this time of pain, you may be able to comfort those who weaken in life, under the weight of great trials.

78. You who have been healed and who have received gifts and graces from the Father, tomorrow you will be called by men, those who are rich in spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 93

1. Welcome seas, hungry and thirsty hearts of light. Be with me and you will never die because I am life.
2. Yesterday you felt like you were dying because you had lost hope and faith; there was no light in your heart to guide you along the path of true life, no voice to tell you with charity: "Come, this is the path of peace", until you heard my word, always full of love and comfort, and its light restored your calm.
3. Your blindness has been illuminated by the light of your conscience and it always dictates to you prayer, charity and encouragement. Thus you have come before my presence and my word has been like a luminous beacon and savior that illuminated your path. Since that moment, you have understood that this light can only come from Me and you have said to me: "Lord, it is You, whom I was waiting for so much, today I know that I loved and needed you, Master".
4. Yes, disciples, here I am helping you to take the first steps on the path of redemption, until I leave you prepared as true disciples of my teaching and my revelations, to send you later to regions and nations to propagate this faith.
5. The struggle will be in the midst of sin, calamities and sorrows, and you will have no resources other than those of your spirituality and no weapons other than the truth. I have chosen you poor, clumsy and humble, as a land without cultivation, but propitious, to be fertilized and receive the spiritual seed.
6. I have not come in search of philosophers, theologians or scientists, but of the humble people who have always waited for me and come to my call, to restore to their spirit the forgotten or misused inheritance.,
7. Humanity has not managed to penetrate to the bottom of the revelations of the first two times, but in this, the third, my word will make you understand, interpret and practice my previous teachings joining them to the present ones.
8. At this time, I was not born into the world as a man; I have come to you in the light of my Spirit made human word, and in this I give you my essence, to raise faith in your heart.
9. I am resurrecting and awakening you, making your eyes blinded by the darkness of this world, contemplate the eternal truth.
10. I come to reveal to you what the man of science cannot teach you, because it is not known; he has slept in his earthly greatness and has not risen to Me in search of my wisdom.

Love one another!

11. The hearts of the pastors who in different sects and religions had to teach the spiritual science that is greatness and wealth for the spirit have been closed.
12. I have seen that the law and doctrines that I bequeathed to humanity in past times are hidden and have been replaced by rites, external cults and traditions.
13. But you, who intimately recognize that the essence of this word is the same one that Israel received on Mount Sinai and that which the multitudes heard from the lips of Jesus in the Second Time, will be those who, with your worship and your works, teach that the divine Law should not be forgotten by fulfilling foolish traditions that do not benefit the spirit.
14. Learn from Me, disciples, do not remain in darkness anymore, prepare yourselves in spirit and matter so that soon you will come out into the light and my Message will be known. Prepare for me to make my will known to you through your inspiration.
15. I want the light of my Spirit to shine in your mind and the words that come from your lips to come from the spirit. Do not try to talk about this Work if you are not prepared to feel your words. Spirit, heart and mind, will have to unite in your being, if you want to serve as a means for my word to pass through you.
16. The new generations will no longer listen to me in the way that you are witnessing now, because the term indicated by Me in which I will stop manifesting like this, is approaching, is 1950. Until the last day of that last year I will give you my word, I will speak to you tirelessly, I will encourage you and my most sweet voice, of essence and of light, will come like a torrent over my people.
17. Those who listen to me to the end must be strong and will remain as an example of obedient disciples. They will not weaken in tests, will not park and will not split.
18. What would become of this people if, when some struggled for spirituality, others became lethargic in ancient and backward practices and useless traditions? You will fight together so that you do not weaken in the journey and you will ensure that you listen clearly to the voice of conscience.
19. Live alert so that you are not weak creatures, but strong spirits. Guide your steps along the path of charity, love and justice; do not deprive yourselves of what I have arranged for your healthy bodily recreation; I also tell you that you do not torment your spirit by denying it what belongs to it, so that both, body and spirit, form a single will and the conscience that is my divine light watches over them.

Love one another!

20. I do not want the world to envelop you in its materialism and take away the grace that I have entrusted to you, because you would return to your life of misery and pain, from which I have rescued you.

21. Do not forget that I have come to save you, helping you to overcome your weakness to break the chains that oppress you and come to experience the satisfaction of having been freed from weaknesses, diseases and miseries.

22. Everyone who rises up after my footprint will find in Me the strength and a Cyrene that will accompany him until the end of the day. Whoever hungers and thirsts for light and salvation will find in my Work the bread and water of eternal life.

23. Strengthen your spirit for difficult trances, to such an extent that if you come to fall into prison for following in my footsteps, remembering the sufferings of your Master, you will feel comforted, knowing that I will be with you in that trance. If you contemplate that a loved one has fallen on the bed of pain and is about to expire, turn your thoughts to Me and meekly let my will be done; then you will see a miracle performed, as a reward for your conformity and your faith before my designs. Those of you who are left alone on the path of life, remember Jesus, far from his Mother and his disciples, walking meekly towards Calvary, followed by a mob, but only in his heart,

24. When you bring that memory to your mind, you will experience a sweet feeling of comfort, thinking that I promised to accompany you in your sorrows and to set aside your cup of bitterness

25. Sorrow will purify you, and then, when the time of your afflictions has passed, you will consider yourselves blessed to have had occasion to imitate your Master, and you will feel that you are the possessors of a spiritual inheritance.

26. Study my doctrine carefully and you will see how a lesson of mine confirms the previous one, in the same way that my word of this time confirms what I told you in the past time.

27. Few people know the signs that a new era has begun and that I am spiritually manifesting myself to humanity. For the most part, they devote their lives and efforts to material progress and in that deaf and sometimes bloody struggle to achieve their object, they walk like blind people, they lose their way, they do not know what they are pursuing, they have not managed to see the clarity of the new dawn, they do not perceive the signs and they are very far from having reached the knowledge of my revelations.

28. This humanity has believed more in the doctrines and the words of men, than in the revelations that through the ages I have granted it. Perchance do you hope that the Father in his justice will send you greater signs than you contemplate at every step, in order to feel and believe that this is the predicted time for your manifestation as a Spirit of Truth? O men of little faith! Now you will understand, disciples, why I sometimes tell you that my voice cries out in the wilderness, because there is no one who truly hears and listens to it.

29. Wake up, people, so that you may feel shaken before this voice of justice, so that you may feel moved to announce to your brothers and sisters that the Law, the light, the judgment and with it the salvation of humanity, have arrived in the world.

30. Do not look at your fulfillment as impossible within this struggle. From now on I anticipate to tell you that it will not be only you who will redeem this humanity, nor those who will transform the lives of the peoples; those works I will do, because they are superhuman. I just want you to fulfill the mission that corresponds to you and let the new generations take my seed beyond where you have managed to take.

31. Can you imagine the joy of the one who returns to the spiritual life having fulfilled on Earth the destiny that his Father has mapped out for him? His satisfaction and his peace are infinitely greater than all the satisfactions that the spirit can gather in human life.

32. And I am offering you this opportunity so that you may be the ones who rejoice when you return to your kingdom and not those who suffer and cry in the midst of their confusion or their repentance.

33. I come in haste to hear your cries for help, when you fight like shipwrecked against the raging waves of that sea of passions in which humanity of this time sails. Your prayer reaches Me, and my charity extends in the likeness of a mantle of peace, as in another time when accompanied by my disciples I was sailing on the Sea of Galilee, and the rough waves threatened to sink the boat; they, fearful, asked me with anguish to save them, because they felt they were perishing and I showed them that he who is with me and trusts in Me, never perishes.

34. The boat at this time is my Work, the sea is life, the tempest are passions, vicissitudes, trials.

35. Blessed is the one who is inside this boat when the storms break out, for he will be saved!

36. Cross that sea and go with absolute faith after the shore, knowing that perfect peace is in it. Who can get lost on this journey if he navigates guided by the compass of his conscience?

37. If anyone feels fatigued, call me; if anyone else feels that his faith is faltering, pray and I will be by his side instantly to give him help; but no one tries to go back to the starting point or resign himself to perish engulfed by the waves of the storm.

Love one another!

38. Perfect your prayer, for you must know the spiritual power that it imparts. It is the ladder by which you will ascend to Me in a true communion of spirits.

39. How dark is the path of the one who extinguishes his faith or loses confidence in Me! You who are watching, pray for the sleeping world.

40. Does it seem strange to you that I am trying so hard to help you? It is that you have no true knowledge of what my love for you is, or of what you mean to Me, because you have formed a very, very poor concept of your Father, since while some of you feel like gods on earth, others on the contrary feel unworthy of my love. I tell you that if material nature has been wonder and wonder to men, the spiritual life is greater and more wonderful; and for your glory and joy, know that you belong to both natures. Thus my word comes to teach you how much you need to know about Me and about you for your elevation.

41. On this day it is my will to reveal to you that by the year 1950 the 144,000 spirits designated and destined by Me to bring my seed of love to the world will be gathered. Some will be incarnate and others in the spiritual valley. All will remain awake under the light of my inspiration and each one will be a torch that will illuminate the path of great multitudes and lead them to the spiritual Realm

42. At the time when Israel was crossing the desert in search of the Promised Land, it was the tribe of Levi that taught the people worship and reminded them and helped them understand the divine Law. Having established the tribes in the land that they had conquered with their faith and perseverance, it was still the tribe of Levi that kept watch over the Law. But the times have passed, the spirit of man has evolved and the divine seed that was entrusted to Israel reached many peoples and is now disseminated throughout humanity.

43. That people has risen full of light on earth, to receive in their spirit the new revelations that they will bring to the nations. See how now it is no longer only the tribe of Levi that is responsible for watching over the divine Law, but a multitude of spirits to which all those who awoken with the desire to become part of the People of God will join.

44. Here they are, moved by my word, many of those who at that time fell full of fear when they heard the almighty voice of the Lord on Sinai; of those who had left captivity, tears and humiliation to rise up in search of the land of blessing and peace. Their eyes have been opened to a new light that makes them look clearly at the path traveled by their spirit until this time.

45. This people will also struggle to free themselves from the new Pharaoh represented by the world that feeds their idolatry, their miseries and temptations. He will also cross a desert in which he will feel alone and isolated from others, fought by many of his brothers who will try to prevent his passage; but once he reaches the necessary spirituality, he will hear in the depths of his being the divine voice speaking to him of the Law of justice and love; but it will not be to the heart where that light descends but directly to the spirit.

46. When the people are practicing this Doctrine, each of their works will serve for the building of the spiritual temple within man.

47. All of you who long to be part of that people, penetrate within yourselves, saturate yourselves with faith so that you may be strong in the struggle and become worthy to be called "Israel", as in the First Time I named Jacob strong for good. for love, for forgiveness; strong in zeal and virtue, strong against sin, pain, slander or misery.

48. After giving you this lesson, my gaze will follow in your footsteps to contemplate the way you practice our teachings to judge of your works of true love.

49. I will give you the opportunity to work bringing closer the orphan, the widow, the one who has fallen in the struggle, the one overcome by vice, the hungry for light, the thirsty for truth. Do not attribute to chance the cases that you will find at every step; think that it is your Teacher who knocks on the doors of your heart. Verily, I say that you are at the time when your spirit justifies his existence on Earth through charity.

50. My voice will reach your spirit every moment to ask you what you are doing, what you are investing your life in and if you are fulfilling your mission.

51. Understand that you have a great work to carry out, it is the work accumulated in a long time of abandonment. Do not think that I am the one who overwhelms you with heavy burdens, I want you to pay off your debt and fulfill your mission on Earth, a mission that is not, it is reduced to fulfilling your duties to your family; in addition to these, you have to love each other without distinction and serve each other, without stopping for differences of creeds, languages or classes.

52. My Doctrine will destroy the seed of selfishness, thus giving your spirit an endless field in which you can fulfill your mission of loving.

53. Day after day I will give signs to humanity to wake up: I will speak to some in their prayer, or I will prepare others with intuition so that they perceive my voice. To those who live far from spirituality, I will give revealing, prophetic dreams; and to those who materialize, I will speak through the elements of Nature, since they only believe in what they see or in what they can prove with their science.

54. But if, in spite of these voices, they remain asleep or deaf, I will make them feel my power and my justice to which they have challenged so much.

Love one another!

55. I speak to you of righteousness, for the time has come when my sickle will come to reap the harvest at that time. I will gather the fruits that good has given, the golden wheat that love has been. Everything else will be exterminated. The fruits of sin and the bad weed of selfishness, hatred and pride, will fall dejected under the inexorable edge of the sickle of my justice.

56. I come in time to reap, remember that at that time I told you that the harvest should not be harvested ahead of time, but the wheat and tares should be allowed to grow together, reach maturity and reap later.

57. Isn't this what I'm doing now? See how my works today confirm my teaching of the Second Time.

58. I am speaking to you through the mind of a spokesman, whose understanding I have enlightened and I have put words of wisdom on his lips, so that the people may receive this message as sustenance for their spirit.

59. I see you marveling at this manifestation, so I hasten to tell you that, although this is admirable, it is not yet the last lesson I have to give you, nor is it the highest expression of my communication with men. Turn this manifestation only as a page of the book of spiritual wisdom that is the promise of the new revelations that I will have to give you. The book is in front of your consciousness, it is my Wisdom, and from that book torrents of light are released that bathe your being.

60. You will not be able to rise up to fight with true strength, as long as you are not convinced of the depth and transcendence of this Work; that is why in each of my manifestations I overflow my complacencies on you so that there is conviction in my people that they are moving along a safe path.

61. Take with love this book in which your mission is written, but do not go to sleep in this time of light, what reward could you receive tomorrow if you have no merits? Do not forget that all your struggle is aimed at the conquest of light, peace and spiritual perfection. No one is unaware that to reach that perfection, the straight path was pointed out to you, the one that consciousness traced for you, since you emerged into life; and so that you would not deviate from the path when incarnating on Earth, I left my imprint on it.

62. Look for that imprint at any moment past or present and you will soon find it.

63. I have always come to look for you because your spirit, once incarnated, has entered various paths, in which most of the time it has been lost. O weak creatures who have fallen for your sake and then blamed me, saying that the way of the children of God is full of temptations! I tell you that where you thought you saw many paths, you should have taken only one: the one that leads to ME; that where you looked at temptations, they were only fruits that had to be taken with knowledge and respect. Can you imagine that your Father created something to tempt you to sin?

64. Tomorrow, when humanity will free itself from its burden of ignorance and materialism, it will find that what it considered as a stumbling block, was only a stepping stone for its spirit to ascend and have experience; and what it thought was an abyss, was nothing but a test to strengthen it; then it will discover that what man has considered as the reason for his falls and his mistakes, are the means to help him in his improvement. Before these teachings, all the superstitions that it has created around evil will disappear from the human heart.

65. How much strength and how much beauty you will discover when you open your eyes to the light of this life! Everything that his ignorance caused him to misinterpret, making him fall into mistakes and blaming it on the one who created all beings, will disappear from the mind of man.

66. As long as humanity does not understand the true spiritual law or feeling attracted to that path, they fall into religious fanaticism, they will have to find their life full of stumbles, uncertainty and shadows.

67. When will you enter into the study of my Doctrine, which is like a divine sun that illuminates the spirit and is never hidden? According to you, this is impossible, but I tell you that soon this light will illuminate all beings.

68. The voice of the one whom you called "Rabbi of Galilee" is the same one that you are listening to at this moment; and if at that time I told you "Man does not live by bread alone, but by every word of God", now I approach to tell you that man should not only be sustained by science or human knowledge, but by divine essence, because in him dwells the spirit that feeds only on love, wisdom and peace. Be nourished and comforted, O my disciples, so that you may carry the true one. life in you!

69. Times of struggle and bitterness are approaching, and it is necessary that you be prepared to bear witness to my Doctrine, with your faith and firmness in the fulfillment of my teachings.

70. Sometimes my unbelieving disciples would like me to show them the body that I carried in the Second Time, the pierced and bleeding hands, to believe that I am among my people again; and in their hearts they tell me: How are we going to testify about You, if we have not seen you? But I ask you, do you know my words from that time when I announced to you that I would return? When did I announce to you that I would be coming as a man? You need to see to believe, because you have materialized; but there are those who, without knowing the prophecies, feel my presence and understand the truth; those are the ones who keep the mind and heart clean.

71. The spirit is endowed with a gaze superior to the human one, so that it is he who discovers the truth and looks into it the face of his Father. How do you want to discover the divine with your senses, if your spirit has not sensed it before? These words are not a reproach to your low faith, nor do I reject you because you doubt; on the contrary, it is precisely these extinguished lamps that I have been looking for to light them with the fire of love of my Spirit.

72. There are those who tremble with joy when they hear this word, they are the ones who feel my presence. Tomorrow, when I have stopped communicating in this way, those who, when they heard me, could not understand me or doubted, when they became spiritualized, will regret remembering that they were present before my manifestation and did not believe. I will bathe them with my light and they will listen inwardly to my voice that tells them: Do not be afraid, look for me in the depths of your heart and there you will find many of my words saved for the moment when you need them.

73. Come to Me, peoples and nations of the world. Come men of all races, my Law awaits you in the Kingdom of peace, so that you may form one people: the People of God.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. My word has manifested itself among you full of love; it has poured out like a balm of consolation, when you came before Me crying and with paternal advice I had to correct you. When the day approaches when I will make this word cease from the lips of my spokesmen, you will feel that it comes from a judge, although it will always be the same in its love and tenderness, but it will have so much light that you will discover even the most hidden errors and the most hidden stains that you carry.
2. You will never say of Me that I did not point out to you your imperfections, or that I taught you misleading lessons in my Doctrine. Tomorrow, when you discover your mistakes and estimate the greatness of this revelation, you will know how to do justice to your Father.
3. You still do not feel this truth, first it was the darkness that put a blindfold of darkness on your eyes, then the light of my word came, but you have been dazzled by it; it is necessary that you grope for a few moments so that you get used to this light and you can look at everything around you. In the meantime, be careful with your analyses, with your words and with your practices, because you could not yet take firm steps on the way, nor speak with the truth as you should.
4. The Truth is one and it is eternal, however, look at men proclaiming different truths. How much my teachings have been trampled on the earth!
5. Since Christ came to speak to you about the truth, how many have tried to speak about it, but I ask: Have they also imitated me in love, in gentleness and in charity? Only I know who my true disciples and apostles have been throughout the ages.
6. If tomorrow, when men judge this communication, they come to doubt its truth because it was given through sinful understandings, I will make them understand that it is not sin that rejects me, on the contrary, he has brought me closer to the one who has strayed from the path.
7. Another proof of my power, which men will recognize, will consist in the fact that I alone have been able to make the mouths of sinners speak with purity, that blasphemous lips speak of divine lessons, and that rude minds transmit teachings and revelations full of wisdom
8. Who will be the ones who in this time will rise up as true apostles of my word? Which of you will make your brothers behold the beauty of my teaching?
9. Your works are necessary; the living witness of this people who have heard my word is indispensable.

Love one another!

10. The Doctrine that I have taught you is like an immense torch around which the peoples will have to gather, the men who hunger for truth and thirst for justice and also the wandering spirits, the researchers who are unveiled in search of the light.
11. Prepare yourselves for the time when caravans of your brothers will rise up in search of the oasis of peace, but do it with humility; treasure in the spirit the virtues that I have brought you in my word. Do not look for a way to impress your brothers with vanities or superfluous teachings, they will come fleeing precisely from that.
12. Not only those who heard my word through the human understanding will be called children of this people, everyone who embraces his cross, everyone who loves this Law and propagates this seed, will be called a farmer of my countryside, an apostle of my Work and a son of this people, even if he has not heard me through this manifestation.
13. Again I tell you not to look for external ways to make my Work known, because it would present many vulnerable points where you would be fought by sects and religions.
14. If you seek moral improvement, cleanliness in your life, spirituality in your worship, there will be no weapons, ideas, or doctrines that can defeat you. Build in the spirit and everything will be preserved and will survive Vicissitudes and battles, because the spirit is indestructible. If you build on material foundations, you will have done what he foolishly did when he raises a building on sand, which at the slightest movement will have to come by land.
15. Make a deposit of your heart so that in it you may keep my teachings as the most precious treasure that your spirit has reached until this time.
16. I come to make myself present to you in this time of spiritual struggle, because you were sent into the world to speak about this Law. You have already been liberated, you have already moved away from the superfluous, now advance on the path as the true beloved peasants of Jesus.
17. I have sent you into the world at this time so that you may speak of Me and so that your spirit may overflow its experience in others.
18. If I have revealed to you that you are Israel, it is so that you may know that you have been following my way on earth for a long time and also so that you may meditate on your responsibility. Don't you think it's fair that I sometimes complain about your lack of faith, zeal or charity?
19. One God has spoken to you from the beginning of time; one God I want you to recognize and love, and I want you to offer me only one worship.

Love one another!

20. It is men who have forged many gods, each one feels it, worships it and imagines it differently. I am separating this people from all religious influence so that here, in their solitude, in their retreat, you will listen and reprove me, so that in the end he will render me a cult worthy of his Creator. I did the same at that time when Israel had been captive for centuries under the yoke and scourge of the pharaohs of Egypt. It was my will to turn Moses as an envoy and to uproot from slavery the people destined to receive the Law and the light that would illuminate humanity. Compare the events of that time with those of today and you will understand the intention with which the Master has spoken to you about these facts.

21. Your spirit tells me that also in this age humanity has known of material slavery, of hardships and scourges, and that it has gone through the slavery of its spirit.

22. That is why I come to you again to say: Love each other as I taught you in the Second Time, so that your path may be bearable. Bring spirituality, order, obedience, faith and charity, and you will feel strong in the struggle and you will be the example before all the peoples of the Earth.

23. Many will ask you which is the path you are following and where you are going, and when they look at your humble step but full of security and firmness, they will follow you with a heart full of trust and faith.

24. Today your spirit comes in search of sustenance, the heart wants peace, the mind thirsts for light and the Master tells you: in the first times of your evolution you had everything, even without having made merits to achieve it; instead, now you will have to achieve everything with your works within the Law that teaches you to love one another.

25. It cost you nothing in those times to have health, strength, peace, abundance, for that you lost everything easily; now I tell you, when you have recovered with efforts, with struggles and sacrifices the development of those gifts that you did not know how to estimate in all its value, you will not lose it again, because then you will take advantage of what you have and you will never forget what it cost you to achieve it. Do you have an idea of how much this humanity will have to evolve to wake up from its long sleep and wake up with the ideal of recovery and evolution? But you will go before her, teaching her the way of her spiritual evolution. Now that you are listening to this word and that you are already forming a people, I tell you to have clarity in your spirit and persevere in your preparation so that you can manifest my Work with all clarity. I want you to perform with purity the part that I have entrusted to you. Calm down, because not everything you are going to do, my charity will help you.

26. From many points of the Earth, men, groups and multitudes will arise speaking to humanity of the new time, speaking of spirituality and working for the liberation and fraternity of men. That is why I tell you that the rest, I will do.

Love one another!

27. There are works that only I will be able to carry out, one of them is to save this humanity from the abysses that it has created itself; but there is infinite joy in the Father, when he is accompanied in his divine tasks and duties by his beloved children, that is why I make the call to the great multitudes, I expose the end of my manifestation and then I choose the hearts of goodwill to prepare them as soldiers and emissaries of my divine cause.

28. I would already like to see this people scattered in armies along roads, peoples and nations, carrying the good news and the testimony of my word, as well as the light of my promises. If you truly unite, you will see great inspirations spring from your mind, which will be the key that will open the doors closed today to your call.

29. At this time I have come to tell you: Has the influence of the world on you reached such an extent that you have erased all traces of my previous teachings? This is the reason why I have come. Who of the inhabitants of the Earth, could make you understand all the wealth of experience and light that your spirit brings even though it does not manifest it, because the influences of the world prevent it? No one, only I can save you and reveal to you the mysteries of the spirit.

30. Among humanity there are beings who once crossed the desert in pursuit of a divine promise, who heard the voice of the Lord on a mountain; I also discover others who lived in the time of Jesus, saw his works and heard his word, who followed me into the desert and ate of the loaves and fish that I gave to the crowd to eat when they ascended the mountain to hear that voice, and those who walked among the mobs shouting on the day of my crucifixion. Right here, among the multitudes who come to hear the same celestial concert that is now new to them, I discover those spirits.

31. Those who weep, those who tremble when they hear me and recognize the voice that speaks to them, are those whose spirit still retains the echo of my words.

32. Do you see how many of those who arrive before this manifestation remain forever on the path consecrated to these practices, without there being human power that prevents them from coming to hear my word? They are those who once contracted debts of love with their God and who did not have the opportunity to give themselves to Him, but who promised themselves to wait for me to follow me and serve me to the end.

33. Today I come to remind you of the events that you have already experienced.

34. At that time, when my disciples heard that I would soon depart from among them, they asked me, "Lord, when will we see you again?" I told them in what time I would return and what signs I would give of my return.

Love one another!

35. Now I say to the new disciples: this is the time announced, the signs have been fulfilled without missing one.

36. You know that this communication through the understanding of man is also going to come to an end and like those, you ask: "Lord, when your word has stopped being heard, won't we have the joy of feeling your manifestation in some way again? To which I answer you: After this time, he will come from your spirituality, that of direct communication with your Lord, in which you will feel me eternally present. When you reach that degree of elevation, you will never again say that the Father is coming, or that He has left, because you will have already understood, that I am always with you. Then you will remember that I told you through Jesus, "The Kingdom of God is in you."

37. Take the good news to the nations; spread this message everywhere, see that many of those who are waiting for me believe that I will appear as a man on earth, and I never told you that, instead, I gave you to understand that my coming would be spiritual, that it would come on the cloud.

38. I have already told you that I will touch religions and sects to awaken them from their lethargy, they will recognize the light of this time and will nourish the ideal of spirituality; but it is necessary that you play the part that I am entrusting to you, because this seed is only waiting to fall on earth to germinate and bear fruits of wisdom and spiritual progress among humanity.

39. The example of this humble people who lead their steps without ministers to guide them and who worship me without ceremonies or symbols, will be a call that awakens those who sleep their night of centuries, and will be a stimulus for the regeneration and purification of many of my children.

40. Do not try to ignore your responsibility in this Work; do not forget that I have sent you to Earth as forerunners and prophets of the Third Time.

41. Verily I say, if at this hour I presented myself with the same body with which you looked at me at that time, you would contemplate my wounds fresh, and on my face still imprinted the imprint of sacrifice, but this would be a constant reproach to humanity and I prefer to hide our wounds to show you only my light. Why do so many wish to contemplate me humanized in the form of Jesus? Do you not understand that I am more than form? It is true that at that time, as well as in this one, I have allowed myself to be contemplated in the form of Jesus; but this grace has not been for everyone, it is not necessary for everyone to look at me like that. Again I tell you.- "Blessed are those who have believed without seeing."

Love one another!

42. When men have come out of the materialism of their religious practices and instead of looking for me in images that are human work, they will become spiritualized, they will conceive of me as so great and omnipotent that they will not accept seeing me limited and will not desire, even spiritually, to see me in the figure of Jesus.

43. How delicate the mission of the seer is at this time, it will not be enough for him to have the gift of the spiritual gaze if he does not have elevation. Who will be able to guide him if it is not his conscience, and who will be able to free him from confusion, if it is not prayer and vigil?

44. Seven great prophets Israel had in the First Time, they spoke and wrote about the future of humanity, about the trials that would come to the peoples and also announced the divine revelations that the Lord would make to men. They were not great for having spoken a lot, but for having risen in search of my light.

45. The Father of the new prophets now wants the same thing, that they offer humanity only one viewpoint, but full of truth, which is what I have said to my farmers: offer me as a harvest of your sowing, even if they are three grains, but that they be fruitful and not a bushel, in which straw and chaff abound. Do not forget that it is your works that are preparing your passage to eternity.

46. Now that my Divine Spirit is communicating with you, I am sending you a ray of light that touches the mind of the speaker and he transmits to you my light made word.

47. Behold the Word among you, the same one who spoke to you in the Second Tense. It is the same doctrine and the same essence, but today I do not come clothed in a human body. Yesterday my feet touched the dust of the world, today only my light is manifested to your spirit. Prepare your hearts, so that you may feel me and be sustained by my word, since in truth you know that man does not live by bread alone. I will give you my body and my blood, which I represented at that time with bread and wine, now in a spiritual way it will be my word that replaces the bread that is my body, and the essence of my word will be the wine that you will drink as my blood.

48. The spirit of the people trembles with joy at my presence. The Master is also recreated with the presence of the new disciples. Order the Master to speak to his apostles of the Second Time.

49. Beloved John: you who have rested your temples on my heart, would like all those who listen to me to become worthy to lean on Me to feel my peace, to be close to the source of life. Your struggle is not over, your spirit tirelessly prays and sends its light among the humanity of the Third Time, to which you prophesied many wonders. In this age you are seeing, beloved

Love one another!

John, the fulfillment of the manifestations that you saw in your visions and ecstasies, and of which you did not know their meaning, nor when they were to be fulfilled. Watch over the world.'

50. "Judas Iscariot, my apostle: today humility is in your spirit, because the atonement was bitter, very bitter; but today your influence is being benignly poured out on humanity. Invisibly you present yourselves as a counselor of men. I have given you my peace, disciple, why don't you feel it fully in your spirit? You have wept a lot, even though I have never denied you my comfort and my forgiveness; it is that you are waiting for the last of my children to be saved so that you can tell me: Lord, come down from your cross, I am already at peace, I am already worthy to receive your forgiveness".

51. "While you see that humanity sinks deeper and deeper into sin every day and with it blasphemes, betrays and crucifies me, your spirit suffers torments that the world could not imagine and every sin that offends me, you feel it as if it were you who is offending me."

52. "Son, disciple, take from my table the bread and wine that you left that night, which was the last that as a man I spent with you, I say to you: eat and drink, today I give you what you did not receive at that dinner and that everyone else received. I put aside your neediness and your misery and because of the humility that you have today, as the fruit of a great repentance, take my peace and find in it my body and my blood also."

53. Behold, people, my new lessons of love, do with your brothers what you see me doing with you. What are you going to do at this time with my Work? In front of Me I contemplate a new Calvary and a cross. My sorrowful way has not ended, my passion did not end on Golgotha, my steps are still leaving their bloody footprint.

54. My people, humanity: come on my way and I will turn your sacrifice into eternal life, your pain into joy and when you reach the top of the mountain, you will see my love waiting for you. The world is also waiting for me, it is hungry and thirsty for my love, but I will come to everyone, because this has been my promise; when the nations are at peace and sin has been exterminated and men love each other as brothers, I will show you the sword with which I overcame you: love.

55. How humble is this manifestation for those who see it with the eyes of matter! moreover, how heartfelt and great for the one who contemplates it with the heart and with the spirit!

56. Just as you are around me now, so I was in the Second Half that last night. The sun was at sunset, when Jesus talked with his apostles in that room for the last time. They were the words of a Father in agony to his much-loved children. There was sadness in Jesus and also in the disciples who were still unaware of what a few hours later awaited the One who had come to teach them and had loved them so much. Their Lord was about to depart, but they did not yet know how. Peter wept, clasping the chalice to his heart. John moistened the Master's chest with his tears. Matthew and Bartholomew were ecstatic at my teaching. Philip and Thomas hid their bitterness while they dined. James the Younger and the Older, Thaddeus, Andrew and Simon, were mute with pain, however much they spoke to me from the heart. Judas Iscariot also had pain in his heart, anguish and remorse, but he could no longer turn back because darkness had possessed him.

57. The martyrdom of the cross was approaching, from which Jesus would leave his Mother, like a lark that would give warmth to those little ones, while the light of the Holy Spirit descended to illuminate those men. Soon they would feel strong after the moments of weakness, to spread throughout the world preaching the good news and announcing the Kingdom of Heaven to the Gentile and idolatrous peoples.

58. When Jesus finished saying his last words and recommendations, those disciples were bathed in tears, but one of them was no longer there, his spirit could not receive so much love or contemplate so much light and he turned away because that word burned his heart.

59. People of this time, new disciples. I discovered in my apostolate of the Second Time the betrayal of a disciple, in order to give you a great lesson in it. Do not become judges of the one whom I have judged and forgiven with love, rather take Him as an open book and as a symbol. How many of you who are judging him now will carry a Judas in your heart?

60. In these moments in which I speak to you and remember those events, the king star is also hiding, it is the same sun that illuminated that humanity. But now, while I am thus speaking to you, the cry of the peoples and the noise of your wars is going up to the height of heaven.

61. How much misery I behold in your world and how much sadness there is in my Spirit!

62. Blessed are those who with pain in their hearts remember the day when Jesus was on the scaffold, from which he left followed by the mobs to Calvary.

63. Today my Spirit feels among you in a new prison, but it is of love, that of your heart, in which you wanted to imprison me because you teach me to love. I also see the new cross where you are going to raise me, but it is not the one where you made me die; today it is that of your spirituality, which seeks my open arms and longs for the torrent of my divine blood that is life. You do not accuse me now, on the contrary you are my defenders, because you already know of innocence.

64. I cannot say the same about everyone, because men have accumulated so many imperfections and so many sins in the world, which are also for Me like a new cross of pain that they have prepared for me, for this time.

Love one another!

65. You were all rescued by my example and you will not be able to die; however, it is necessary that I come to rescue you from the darkness that surrounds you and that does not let you know the true life.

66. How many mixed feelings stir your heart when you hear my word, beloved people! This painful accent with which I speak to you of those hours of bitterness, touches more those who have cried a lot because this life is a street of bitterness and it is a calvary.

67. At that time three judges judged me: Annas, Pilate and Herod, and the people fulfilled the sentence in Me,. Now I tell you that my judges are many and a greater number who will make me feel the pain at this time; but when the men of my Law and my Doctrine abhor the most, when I am persecuted and denied the most, the voice of men of faith will arise, because what will not happen in the Second Time, now I will not be alone.

68. The blind man to whom Jesus restored his sight will shout loudly that he has seen the light; the dead will rise and bear witness to my truth. The sensitive heart of the woman will be faithful to me and the men of strong spirit will be the new Pyrenees.

69. Mary will be absent, nor will she be alien to any of my steps, and her Heavenly Spirit will follow me everywhere, because Christ and Mary, before they came to earth, were one with the Father.

70. Humanity, humanity, today I could not say as at that time: "Father, forgive them because they do not know what they are doing", because there is not one who has not drunk the blood of the Lamb, that which is light, truth and life.

71. One moment was enough for Dimas to save himself, and that was the last of his life; he spoke to me from his cross, and despite seeing that Jesus, who said he was the Son of God, was in agony, he felt that he was the Messiah, the Savior and he gave himself to Him with all the repentance of his heart and with all the humility of his spirit, that's why I promised him Paradise for that very day.

72. I tell you that everyone who unconsciously sins, but at the end of his life speaks to me with his heart full of humility and faith, I will make him feel the tenderness of my charity, which will lift him from the miseries of the earth, to make him know the delights of a noble and elevated life.

73. I left you Mary at the foot of the cross, on the mountain that collected my blood and the tears of the Mother. There she remained waiting for her children, because it will be she who will take the cross away from her men and point out to them the path of glory.

Love one another!

74. "I am thirsty," I said to that crowd that did not understand my words and that was enjoying my agony. What can I tell you now, when I see that it is not a mob, but the whole world that hurts my Spirit without realizing my pain?

75. My thirst is infinite, incomprehensible, and only your love will be able to quench it; why instead of love do you offer me an exterior worship? Don't you know that by asking for water, you are offering me gall and vinegar?

76. In spite of my chalice being so bitter at this time, my cross so bloody and my loneliness so great, you will not hear me exclaim: My God, my God, why have you abandoned me? Because that proof that Jesus gave you by showing you that his pain was human and real, today I will not give it to you because I come in Spirit.

77. Christ is the Teacher and He gave you lessons until the last moment. When that moment came and he saw his work completed, he humbly offered it to his Father, saying, "Everything is finished."

78. If Jesus, who was the Way, the Truth and the Life, ended his mission with that seven-word prayer, saying at the end to his Father: "Into your hands I commend my Spirit", think about whether you who are the little ones and the disciples of that Master, will be able to leave this life without offering it to the Father as a tribute of obedience and humility, and you will be able to close your eyes to this world without asking the Lord for his protection, since you will have to open them in other regions.

79. Jesus' whole life was an offering of love to the Father. The hours of his agony on the cross were a prayer of love, intercession and forgiveness.

80. That is the path I came to point out to you, humanity. Live imitating your Master and I promise to take you to my bosom, which is the origin of all happiness.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 95

1. What can you ask of Him who created you that He will not grant, provided that what you ask is for the good of your body or of your spirit? But you must learn to be conformed to my will. You are in a time of restitution in which you should not be dissatisfied with your trials.
2. Love, that your love will help you to restore. Destroy with your charity all selfishness.
3. The earth you tread on is temporary, your journey here is short, then you will penetrate into eternal life. However, I want you to know from this valley of tears the path traced in the precepts of my Law.
4. Do not weaken in faith, nor in hope; always keep in mind that the end of this day will come; do not forget that in Me you had your beginning and that you will also have the end in Me, and that end is eternity because there is no death of the spirit.
5. Have eternity as an ideal and do not lose heart in vicissitudes. Do you know if this is your last incarnation on earth? Who could tell you that in this body that you have today you are paying off all your debts contracted with my justice? That is why I say to you: take advantage of the time, but do not go in a hurry. If with faith and conformity you accept your sufferings and with patience you hurry the chalice, truly I tell you, your merits will not be sterile.
6. Let the spirit always walk forward so that you will never stop perfecting yourselves.
7. I am the one who puts the tests in your step to stop your spirit, when it departs from the path of my Law to live subject only to its free will. Examine the depths of the trials, I permit you, so that you may see that each one of them is like a chisel that is polishing your heart. That is one of the reasons why pain brings you closer to Me.
8. But man has always sought pleasures, he has gone after power and greatness in order to lord it on earth and be king of his own brothers. If I have created you all with the same love, why have there always been those who pretend to be superior? Why have there been those who lead humanity under humiliation and the whip? Why is there one who repudiates the humble and his heart is not moved by bringing pain to his fellow men? For these are spirits who have not yet recognized me as the Father who loves all his creatures and as the sole owner of all existences. That is why there are men who usurp and ignore the sacred rights of man. They serve me as an instrument for my justice and, believing themselves to be lords and kings, they are only servants. Forgive.
9. This is the Third Time in which I have come to teach you the lesson that should unite humanity spiritually; because it is my will that languages, races, and different ideologies no longer be an obstacle to their unification. The essence with which I formed a spirit is the same that everyone possesses, and the substances that make up the blood that runs through the veins of men are the same in everyone. Therefore everyone is equal and worthy of Me and for everyone I have come again.

10. I have come because I have seen your spirit poor in virtues and I have come to enrich it. But do not ask me for the riches of the earth, because I inherited them from the beginning, ask me and seek the purification of the spirit that you do not yet possess. See that my Law is not yet fulfilled.

11. Centuries and eras have passed and humanity does not have a true awakening to the life of light and truth, so every time you leave a wrapper you return to the spiritual valley naked and needy, hungry and thirsty. There does not yet arise from the human heart a faith and a will so great that it makes them willing to follow me on the path marked by your Father with traces of blood and love.

12. And there you have the pain in all its strength, overwhelming humanity, having recognized that it is out of the way, inviting it to seek the Father, as the prodigal son did in my divine parable. What does it mean that you arrive at my door naked or ragged, crying and ashamed, if what I want is that you look for me, that you knock on my door, that you remember Me? My loving arms would then open, full of forgiveness and charity, to embrace you, to give you back the lost and wasted inheritance, to sit at my table to savor the delicacy and the fruit of eternal life.

13. Let my love penetrate into your heart and let him comfort you and heal you, let him save you again; let him set you free, breaking the chains that bind you to passions, to misery and ignorance. I want it to be the Kingdom of Heaven that comes to the hearts of men and that it is not your passions that establish his kingdom in this world.

14. Disciples: understand that I sent you into the world so that you would love your brothers, pouring out your charity, praying for them, living for them; but do not expect them to return love for love, but rather strengthen yourselves to resist the hardness of the human heart, ingratitude, selfishness. Prepare for slander and betrayal, but do not be frightened by it and forgive them beforehand with all your heart.

15. When you feel lonely, when you need love, when there is no friendly voice on earth to comfort you or someone to share his bread with you, look for me; look for the One who loves even if he is not loved, the One who truly forgives, heals and comforts all sinners.

16. Not everyone will be ungrateful and insensitive in your path, sometimes you will be stimulated by the understanding, charity and kindness of your brothers.

Love one another!

17. I want you to be conformed in your humility and in your poverty you will find my blessings. While the world walks in need of my peace, stumbling and falling in the midst of its science and its false splendor, you poor possess the treasure of peace. Why don't you spread this peace over humanity with your prayers, deeds and words as a cloak of love and charity?

18. You all possess the gifts of the spirit, which are beginning their development in this Third Time by the evolution that the spirits have reached. Intuition, clairvoyance, revelation, prophecy, inspiration, are manifesting clearly among humanity and this is the announcement of a new time, it is the light of the book of the Seven Seals, opened at this time in its sixth chapter. But you who know why these manifestations are and the time in which you live, channel your gifts along the path of love; always be prepared to offer your charity and you will be in harmony with my Law and you will serve as an example to your brothers. Then you will be my disciples and as such you will be recognized.

19. If you know how to take my Work with true charity and love, she will be in your life like a saving boat, she will welcome you like a mother when you go lost crying on the roads of life.

20. You ask me that my word not cease to be heard, you ask me that the time of this manifestation between you be prolonged, but I tell you: my laws are immutable, my will irrevocable. There is nothing man can do to change my resolve. Neither tears, nor promises will make Me prolong this time. It is said and written that in the year 1950 my word will cease to be heard. Who will be with me then? You do not know what I am preparing three years before my departure, but you must be alert.

21. In the Kingdom of the Father there is a being full of grace, of sweet tenderness and warmth. It is Mary, your Mother, She is always with you, learn to receive her worthily in your heart. Feel her loving caress, understand that for Her you will always be her children. Mary will help you to reach Me, you who are sick in body and spirit, I will not reject you because of your poverty. Hear my word, for it will be like balm to your wounds.

22. How many of you are surprised to find yourselves listening to me at this moment with tears of love, of joy, of repentance in your eyes, when, just a few hours ago, you were still given over to the passions of the world!

23. I give you my lessons so that you can study them with interest and tomorrow you can practice them with love.

24. It has been a while since I have been giving you my teaching and I do not find among so many kindergartners the disciples who will be the teachers tomorrow, but I will continue to give my lesson until awakening in your spirit the desire for evolution.

Love one another!

25. I have come to choose the clumsy for the Earth sciences, because they are not so for the teachings of the spirit. I have chosen the poor, because with an atom of my grace that I give him, he feels exalted and honored, not so the rich man who, no matter how much I grant him, is never satisfied. But the poor man, who has been adorned with the knowledge of the gifts he possesses, I teach him not to reserve his treasure for himself, but to share it with his brothers. The spirit that enjoys knowing that it carries these gifts, is because it has realized the value that they have.

26. Those who struggle to stay firm on the path, it is because they remember everything they have had to suffer to achieve what they have today. Understand that whoever turns away from the path is not as ungrateful to his Lord as he is to himself.

27. Do you not know that he who walks contrary to my Law deprives himself of his virtues and his gifts?

28. Precisely at this time I have been returning to humanity all its heritage that I had squandered; not a single one will remain without the light of my Divine Spirit; before 1950, which as I have announced will be the year of my departure, no one will feel needy, weak, or ignorant.

29. The parasitic plants will bloom and bear fruit because I am power and for Me it will always be time to save your spirit, but for you every time that passes and every step that you descend, will have to make your return to the path more painful.

30. Today I have come to separate you from the great perversions, so that on a path of peace you could listen to me, meditate and analyze the lesson that I am giving you.

31. Learn that the thirst of the spirit is quenched only by pure and crystalline water, so that you will never take turbid and polluted waters.

32. If you have always had someone to serve you in the world and you have known honors, on this path, you will have no servants, no vainglory; you will be my servants serving your brothers.

33. I let you reach the summit you longed for and when you were there, you heard the voice of the Lord saying to you: You have already paid your tribute to Caesar for a long time, now give me what is mine; you have already enjoyed the satisfactions of the world very much and it is time for you to prepare your journey to eternity, because no one knows whether or not he will return to this world.

34. I tell you. blessed are you for having extolled the name of Mary, who full of love has prepared you to receive my lesson and you show me your joy and effort to move forward. My desire is to contemplate you safely, and there is pain in my Spirit because there are few who follow me and many who have not heard my word, and their spirit still remains indifferent and deaf to my inspirations.

35. I give life and nourishment to all beings and watch over their well-being, while you have not yet understood that your destiny is to love and serve. That is why I have spoken to you in many ways and my lessons will be repeated until convinced of your mistakes you obey the laws that have been given since the beginning of time.

36. I give you one more opportunity to do works of mercy, to multiply your harvest and store it in my barn where your merits are not lost but increase. Present to me those who have turned from bad to good seed, the sad ones who have comforted those who have brought out of the darkness of vice to put them in a safe place. That's what I'm asking of you. Do not forget your other spiritual duties to those who are still materialized; remember that I have told you that, do not worry about tomorrow, everything is planned and granted by Me, you should only trust in your work that will always be blessed by the Father. I do not want you only spiritual, I have given you two laws to which you must attend, the one governs the spirit and inspires you with high feelings and thoughts; the other keeps you in harmony with material Nature and both identify you with me in its perfect harmony.

37. Unite yourselves in one thought and trust in Me; I have loved you since before I sent you into the world and wherever you have met, I have protected you. I have been tireless in my eagerness to prepare you. Who will be the ones who will take up my Work and see the principle of restitution in this world? Truly I say to you, it will be your children's children who will speak about what you have seen and heard from Me; but if you achieve a great preparation and reach great sights that point to the future for humanity, how blessed you will be, because you will be able to manifest how great are the gifts that the love of God grants you.

38. When all my children know that I have become manifested once again, when my word is analyzed and my commands are fulfilled, the light of the Sixth Seal will be illuminating every creature and you will all be awake. At that time the confusion and evil will cease, the wars will end, and the life of man will be wrapped in my love and in my grace. In the hearts will beat only love, mercy and forgiveness. intuition will be a gift from everyone and consciousness will speak with all clarity and your voice will be heard and obeyed

39. Trust in Me, so that you can do spiritual works, because if you do not have faith, you will not be able to heal and you will feel small and needy having my power, but I also tell you when you go to help your brothers, do not humble them, do not erect thrones or seek vassals, be humble, love them and work with selflessness among the portion that corresponds to you.

Love one another!

whatever you did to your brothers, you will have done to yourselves. Think how you will be judged if you do works contrary to my Law, saying that you are my disciples.

40. I receive your harvest in this world, in which you have fought and suffered for my sake. A heart tells me my sowing is small; but I am going to increase it because I am moved by your love and your divine patience.

41. Your tranquility depends on your spiritual elevation, I have more to give you, than you who suffer. When you give yourselves to spiritual work, do it with all the strength of your being, and when you go into the world to work the bread of the body, work with love so that you comply with the laws that govern you.

42. If you have been good children and then good parents, do not be afraid to be before Me. If you have been disobedient and cannot correct the son who has been lacking and you carry for this reason a deep wound in your heart, remember that I have received a thousand and a thousand times the ingratitude and ignorance of my children, and then imitate me. I alone judge the works of all beings. "The parents will answer me about their children and these, about their parents. I have inspired you with virtue to be the foundations of a healthy and strong world so that when I ask you about the beings I sent to the bosom of your home, you will present them as fragrant roses and fresh lilies in the garden that you have cultivated.

43. My word comes to give peace to those who need it, but not everyone has been able to receive it; many are not moved by my struggle or feel my pain, due to their lack of love.

44. I long to see in you the firmness of your faith, because there will come a time of persecution when you will be questioned and judged; if you are ready, I will speak for you and I will manifest myself in your works of love towards your brothers.

45. Be merciful and you will obtain mercy from your brothers. Obey my inspirations and reject dangers and temptations. Those around me today are not righteous, but they are on the way to salvation and to achieve salvation.

46. Whatever you ask of me with humility and a good purpose, I will grant it to you. Whatever you request for the sake of your evolution in the name of Mary, it will be granted to you. Pray for all, for you are before Me one son whom I love and whom I have come to save.

47. You have come, to dwell in the Tierra of my will, that is why I have come to communicate with you. I wanted to choose hard hearts to give you Proofs of the Power of my word in obtaining its regeneration. The chisel of my love has defeated them, my kindness has subdued them.

Love one another!

48. The spirits have heard my voice through their conscience and have made man recognize his faults; the hearts have confessed from spirit to Spirit with the father and have discovered before Him many faults hidden within themselves.

49. How many in the silence of their heart, listening to me, say to me: Father, your gaze is penetrating inside of me, what can I hide from you? Many cry when they know the pain they have caused to their brothers, whom they made to return to the Afterlife before the deadline set for it.

50. My Spirit rejoices to see you coming in multitudes, people, and I say to you: come, come, for it is not too late for you to come to my lands and become farmers, nor for you to form a purpose of amendment. When you have felt the warmth of the prison and recovered your strength, do not be ungrateful to the Shepherd who rescued you, because you do not know at what price you would get Him to come back to look for you.

51. What do you look for in the uncertain paths, if you come from them, why go in search of new crossroads, when you still remember your pain in the deceitful paths of the world? Go to the paths, all, return to them, the Master tells you, but do it when you feel strong and that your progress is to shake hands with the fallen or to look for the lost. It is necessary that you have a complete knowledge of the place from which you have come so that you understand the beauties of the path on which you are.

52. If you lack the knowledge of these teachings, because you have not given enough attention to my lessons or because of insufficient meditation, your step on the path of good will be false and a slight stumble will cause you to deviate.

53. Watch and pray, listen and meditate, and you will have the strength to put my divine lessons into practice.

54. You are learning to ask, to know how to love and also to suffer. This is a world of sorrows, where you have to learn to respect my will. The love that you profess to your Father will help you to endure the trials with patience and conformity.

55. I have willed that from this world you should know the path that leads to my Kingdom, through the practice of the precepts of my Law. Finish fulfilling your mission on Earth, do not miss this opportunity. Who can assure you that the Father will grant you a new reincarnation, in which you will be able to repair your mistakes and make up for lost time? On my word I have told you. "Be diligent, but do not go in haste." Fulfill the spiritual and the human. Merge all your powers and senses into a single will.

56. Pain hurried with patience is not sterile, because it increases faith, elevates and purifies, it will never be an obstacle but an incentive, on the path of evolution and restitution.

Love one another!

57. Be humble in spirit and then you will have true charity for your brothers, then you will be strong to resist the temptations of the world. Why do some dream of the delights of the earth, others go after the rivers, and others become great to humiliate the little ones? Because they are weak to persevere in good and succumb to temptation.

59. I come to fill you with courage so that you can break the chains that bind you and be free to follow me. Temptation has made its reign on earth and has enslaved men, but power will be given to them to overcome sin, vice, and the flesh. Those of you who are following me, practice charity in all forms. so you will have loved but do not expect gratitude from humanity. You will not receive love for love, the world will not know how to comfort you and sometimes it will betray you, but do not be afraid; when you are in need of consolation, of love, of peace, of balm, look for the One who with his word and his blood gave you proof of his love, and in these trances, what can you ask of me, that I cannot grant you?

60. Of the absolute and perfect peace that your spirit will come to enjoy in the Hereafter, I come to give you a part, but this world is in need of that peace, it lacks faith,. He is walking in darkness, and falling into deep abysses, he really does not know where he is going, because there is no hand to guide him.

61. For this I am preparing men who will deliver my word through their lips, so that it may bring light to understandings and peace to the peoples of the Earth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 96

1. Sustain yourselves with my word, which is the bread of the Spirit. But in order for this bread to truly reach your heart, it is necessary that you divest yourselves, even for a few moments, of what binds you to this world. No one ignores the way to rise to Me and yet many times I see you crying believing yourself unworthy, not knowing that this crying purifies you prepares you to reach Me.
2. In my word you will find eternal life for your spirit; analyzed and you will find in it divine essence, love and strength that I am pouring out on the Universe.
3. Children and disciples: look how close I am to you; and if you know this, why are there times when you call me in despair believing that I do not hear you? It is because of your misunderstanding that I have to repeat my lessons to you.
4. I want you from now on to achieve the spirituality necessary to feel my presence, and when you no longer listen to me through this channel and find these enclosures where you now gather, apparently empty and desolate, silent prayer is enough, the elevation of your spirit, so that you feel my presence and be filled with my Spirit.
5. Blessed are those who learn to rise to Me, because from the infinite they will receive the inspiration that will guide them along the path traced by my teachings. With what joy the lips of the inspired will open to give their brothers a testimony of my presence.
6. When my word has ceased to vibrate through human understanding, the voice of the unleashed elements will speak to men testifying to the event that this divine manifestation signified.
7. Also when my ray was about to descend to the human understanding, Nature was moved and the unleashed elements shook men, awakened peoples and amazed scientists.
8. Do not forget my warnings, so that in the days of your preparation you will not be intimidated by the trials to which humanity will be subjected. Your mission is to pray, meditate and practice charity, the only merits by which this people will be saved from the storms and by their works of love other peoples will receive consolation.
9. My word, being lulling to your spirit, does not slow you down, on the contrary it awakens you to a higher life. Come closer to Me along the path of thought, do not let the flesh lead you to feed on material satisfactions or delights and you will have taken a firm step towards spirituality.

Love one another!

10. I have spoken much in the wilderness of your heart, without my voice finding an echo in the spirit of my people. Now that I speak to you through these spokesmen, pay attention to the word that their lips pour out, if you believe me and want to achieve peace.

11. Let no one be surprised that I seek him when he goes astray or that he follows in his footsteps along the paths of the world, because you belong to me, you are the work of my Father's inspiration. Have you not imagined how beautiful it will be when children seek and love their Father in the same way that He loves them? How different your life will be then and how close you will feel me to your heart.

12. My word has always been sweet, unchanging in the forgiveness and charity that I have manifested to you. I know that you will have to rise up with a firm purpose of regeneration, and that you will return to me what I entrusted to you, with the purity with which you received it. That is why I make you hear my Word and I give you countless signs of my love for you.

13. At the time of justice in which you live, there comes with it the pain that marks the beginning of your purification.

14. Remember that I have prophesied to you a war of religions and that I have announced to you a struggle of doctrines, in truth I tell you that the battle has already begun, who will see its end? No one knows, but I tell you that man will not triumph, in that struggle the Truth will triumph. I want you to prepare yourselves as good soldiers so that you can defend this Cause.

15. Today you come to seek nourishment for your spirit and you try to make matter submit and renounce vain satisfactions. You come as good and attentive disciples, for which you quiet your senses and let the spirit rise to Me in a tender and respectful prayer. I receive you, I comfort you and I quicken you.

16. Here are many of those who were once doctors of law or scientists; now they bring their minds awake to spiritual knowledge, convinced that in limited human knowledge they will not find the Supreme Truth.

17. Here are those who were once powerful and rich of the Earth, who have now come to taste of poverty and humility, I bless you for your conformity and for your longing for perfection. There you have a proof of my loving justice in making you come again to Earth to show you one more page of the book of eternal wisdom.

18. Humanity lives in a chaos from which it cannot get rid of by itself; it needs help and I am always ready to give it to it; I only expect from it a word, a brief prayer or a moment of repentance to illuminate its path and turn this world of darkness into a valley of peace, in which man feels possessed of the life that I have granted him.

Love one another!

19. Your mission is not just to save your spirit; it is necessary that you help to channel those who have been lost. At every step I remind you of this mission. How long are you going to spiritualize yourselves? How long will you do my will? If you take advantage of this time and carry my word in your heart without mixing strange ideas with your practices, if you rise up to Me with clarity, you will clearly receive the spiritual inspiration that will nourish you and you will make those around you reach grace and peace in their hearts.

20. The year 1950 is very near and I tell you the truth that the life of my disciples will change. After that date you will see the elements of Nature unleashed and men rise up in wars of ideas, sciences and doctrines. When that happens, the confusion and pain will be so great that you will wish that my word would be heard again through the human understanding, but I have already told you that this manifestation will not be repeated. We prepare you for the trials to come and give courage to your brothers.

21. Be alert, because at that time false Christs, false Elias and prophets will appear, and the unwary will be in danger because they will not know how to distinguish truth from falsehood; it will be then that you will speak without reservations and ratify my words, and you will make yourselves recognized as children of the people taught by Me in this Third Time,

22. Men and women will come to this nation from all parts of the earth in search of testimonies about my new advent, and my Work, represented by my disciples, will receive them as a loving mother.

23. Learn from Me as much as you can, so that tomorrow you may become teachers of your brothers; your charity and self-denial will be the best memory you make of Me and the best testimony you give of my word. Strengthen your spirit in my teachings and you will find that when there is faith, there can be no tiredness, fear or cowardice. practice and work will be your support.

24. In the Second Time I chose twelve disciples, and they, without asking who invited them to follow him, felt the call in their spirit and left everything to follow in my footsteps. So I have chosen you, to prepare you and through you to make the call to others more.

25. Take care that your works may dignify you and that you may feel qualified to guide your brothers and sisters. Do not forget that a blind man cannot guide a blind man. If humanity needs light, give it to it and take it by the hand like a younger brother. Be healed also, so that later you will heal your fellow men. Be strong in your struggle and impart strength to the weak.

26. I give you the necessary time so that you can carry out the work that I entrust to you. Men and women, work for the elevation of humanity. Every thought, every deed of yours will be written and I will make every seed of love fruitful. You will let Me judge your works and you will not publish the charity you do if you want to receive a reward. Do not seek honors, nor vassalage or any payment; be humble, charitable and disinterested and I will exalt you.

27. When it is my will to make you possessors of earthly goods, I grant them to you so that you may share them with your brothers in need, with those who do not have an inheritance or support; with the weak and the sick. Many of those who have nothing on earth, can instead partake of their spiritual goods.

28. If you who have received my word do not speak of this truth, the clumsy and rude will speak. Bear in mind, that this Doctrine has been entrusted to you, so that you may spiritually save many beings who have succumbed under the weight of discouragement and bitterness that the war or the battle that each man previously wages has left in them.

29. Pray in truth, beloved people, do not concretely extol my Divinity with beautiful phrases; love your brothers and watch over the peace of the nations.

30. This people, whom I have taught since the beginning of time, will not be able to get rid of their spiritual mission, they must be a guide, a Prophet and a messenger among men. To him I have inspired the Perfect Worship towards Me, and today he will have the opportunity to finish building the temple that was entrusted to him from the beginning.

31. I have separated him from all harmful influences so that he can receive my divine inspiration in all its purity. Only the teaching of the Master and the sweet voice of Mary will have to be heard in the sanctuary that my people are building in the depths of their spirit.

32. Throughout the ages I have granted spiritual revelations to my children. In each era I have manifested myself in different ways and also in each of those eras I have found humanity in a different spiritual degree; today I have surprised it given over to a material, egoistic and scientific existence, and its spirit has materialized ignoring the value of spiritual gifts.

33. The man of this time is fighting within himself the greatest spiritual battle that humanity has had, because his scientific advancement and his mental development are in conflict with the evolution that his spirit has reached. He refuses to hear the voice of his conscience and tries to drown out his impulses for liberation, not realizing that he is living in a time of restitution and justice.

34. Open your eyes, beloved people, and understand that you, whom I have destined to be the light of this world, must not be carried away by the passions that subjugate others or confused among the mobs that walk blindly through life.

Love one another!

35. You tell me that it is difficult to achieve spirituality in a time like this, within a life like the present one; but I tell you that it is not impossible and the effort you make to free yourself from evil, to dedicate yourselves to a judicious and elevated life, is very meritorious.

36. In this battle, those who turn away from their hearts the fear of judgment and criticism of others will triumph; and those who forget themselves will rise up to serve their fellow men.

37. I, the Master, the Father, have descended through this light to your spirit and for that reason you have called this revelation Spiritualism. Well, when they ask you what Spiritualism means, say that it is the Doctrine revealed by the Divine Master in the Third Time: The Doctrine of Spirituality.

38. But if they ask you what spirituality is, say that it is elevation of thought, cleanliness in deeds and in words, high and generous life.

39. You, as disciples of this teaching, often ask yourselves if you are making an effort to come to call yourselves worthily Spiritualists. To help you in this work, I have given you my light, because you will be in charge of building the spiritual temple to my Divinity. With your union, you will form the temple: Some by their firmness, they will be foundations; those who reach greater elevation, they will be the walls, others with their charity they will be stairs; and still others, with their gift of word, they will resemble the bells that with their voices call the crowds. There will be those who, by their inspiration, will symbolize high towers and domes of the enclosure; and those who, by their love for humanity, will be like doors always open to the needy, to the thirsty, to the sick, to the misunderstood.

40. That temple will be completed when the harmony between my disciples is true, Its base will be on Earth and its domes will touch the Sky. When it is established, you will find it throughout the universe. Have confidence in that work and work without stopping.

41. Let no one depart from the mission entrusted to him, so that his sanctuary will not lack solidity; you must all strive to achieve the same knowledge so that this temple may be built with your spirituality.

42. Watch and pray. Love you in truth so that pride does not take hold of your heart, because this is the seed that destroys humility and charity. Take care that what happens to the builders of Babel does not happen to you, to whom their pride has lost them. Remember that the bad seed was the cause of the division between those men. The tower was left unfinished, and the confusion of the people was so great that they divided into villages that until now still live far apart.

43. Only one light has descended on you: that of my Spirit, which is like a luminous beacon and a principle for your unification and harmony.

Love one another!

44. Take the experience of the first peoples as a light for your practice, meditate on their trials and take their example. Build and work, today in matter and tomorrow in spirit and so continue forever until you have all penetrated through the doors of love into the temple of Truth.

45. Let no one want to deviate one step from the path traced by my Law, because a lost moment, a stumble, a mistake, you will bitterly regret it.

46. The Master is waiting for his disciples of the Third Time to follow in his footsteps, just like those who bore witness to Me in the past time. I tell you who are listening to me.- do not expect to be in spirit to start your mission. If I have come to speak to you now that you have left the Earth, it is a sign that you have a destiny to fulfill in this abode. In this fulfillment you will have your greatest struggle with yourselves; but if you use your gifts, you will have overcome your weaknesses and everything else will be easy for you

47. When this people has been united and prepared, Elijah will announce to humanity the resurgence of the Lord's people. Now think how great your struggle must be to make your life a teaching and a doctrine for humanity. That is why I tell you to examine your works, so that you may have knowledge of what you do; but if there are acts or thoughts that you cannot distinguish whether they are inside or outside the Law, raise your spirit to Me, in a true spiritual confession and my voice, reflected in the light of your thought and in the peace of your heart, will point out the truth to you.

48. It does not seem impossible this kind of communication, which is the same one that I have inspired you since the beginning of the existence of humanity. Today, which is the time when materialism prevails as never before, I come to inspire you with the perfect prayer, precisely when the world divided into sects and religions, tries in vain to support its spirit with rites and traditions, forgetting about true prayer; that which springs from the depths of your being, to rise to Me on the path of love.

49. Everything in this time speaks of justice to man and yet his hard heart is not moved. The elements, the plagues, the strange diseases, the daily events in different places on Earth, are signs that speak of Divine Justice. But no one prays and very few study the words left by my prophets.

50. From the earliest times all that you see accomplished today was foretold and even at this time I prophesied through the first spokesmen, events that very soon had their fulfillment.

51. Who of those who now hear my word will turn their backs on me? Only I know that.

52. those who at that time went in search of Jesus in the hope of receiving worldly riches and temporal goods, felt disappointed to see that the King that their fathers had announced to them that he would come to save his people, was without crown, without scepter and without throne; with his hands empty and his feet bare. They could not recognize in Jesus the promised Messiah. Now consider all the paths that these spirits will have had to travel to recover the peace and the benefits that they wasted. They are among you today.

53. Know that your spirit was not born at the same time as your body, but has lived in different epochs and today, when he feels my presence, he comes to Me eagerly and asks me to allow him to hear my word until the end of my communication; he has the impression that at one time he did not want to listen to me and even denied me, and now he wants to repair his lack.

54. You have verified that no fault is hidden from Me, that every error has to be corrected and every debt has to be settled, but you also understand that this justice comes from divine love that wants you perfect because you are his children.

55. I do not destroy any of my children no matter how much they offend me, I keep them and give them the opportunity to correct their lack and return to the path they have left. But even though I have absolved them, they find the fruit of their deeds and these are the ones who judge them and point out to them the right path.

56. the great nations of this time want war, ask for blood and cry out for revenge those who are offended, without knowing that they are all rushing headlong into the same abyss; they do not want to understand that the power they so eagerly pursue, will soon become a chalice whose contents will be pain, despair and death; and when they are in that abyss the thirsty for greatness, the hungry for revenge, when they are in the greatest of their tribulation, they will be able to hear my voice that tells them My peace be with you! At that moment the light will be made in all the spirits and their consciousness will speak with a clear voice and will be heard by all. The battle of the spirit against materialism will begin within man, and in my Doctrine he will find the necessary light to overcome.

57. You have been disappointed because I do not bring wealth or material riches to flatter you and make you follow me for it; but there are those among you who have to leave their high sphere to descend to the humility of these multitude, it is that they listen to me. And it is that these have recognized me and are preparing to give up their vain life to devote themselves to meditating on my teaching to practice it later.

58. If the first inhabitants of this world, who lived in virtue, appeared among you, they would bear witness to the peace, innocence and bliss that enveloped humanity. Of those times. Also that pain did not exist and that the Earth had a mother's breast and face; that among the creatures that inhabited it there was only the seed of friendship and fraternity. Verily, this planet was decked out in the likeness of the heavenly abode

59. If, in my opinion, I sent the spirits to dwell in this temporal destiny, I still wanted to surround their existence with wonders as a proof of my love so that the son would not forget his Father and in every work of his 1st he would see and also love him. But of that world, of that freshness, of that purity with which I gave the Earth to man, nothing has remained; that sanctuary was desecrated, originating with this, pain in innumerable forms. See what you have done of that kingdom which the Lord gave you, so that in it you might be as princes heirs of his wisdom and of his love, possessors of a world which with all your knowledge you do not yet know.

60. Do not hold anyone responsible for having lost the grace and peace that surrounded this life in the beginning. Do not blame your first Parents Because at every age and in every generation you have been tested and have almost always fallen. In spite of this, my love and my piety have always been present in your life.

61. Someone says in his heart: Lord, if our ancestors were the ones who were missing, why should we be the ones who suffer those consequences? And I say to you, What do you know about the faults of the former? Who says to you that you are not one of those who formed the first generations? For now, wake up, watch and pray, understand that it will not be your love but pain that purifies humanity and restores its dignity. Already on the prepared earth I will pour out the seed of my Doctrine, this one that I am revealing to a humble people who have known how to recognize me by the essence of my word, and who will be the one indicated to give the good news to humanity at the opportune moment.

62. I want the memory of my word to be indelible in you, to live, endure and be always present in your memory and to bear witness to it to your brothers and sisters with your works of love.

63. You have been prepared by Me in the time of justice, so that you have a proof of my love and you will not complain later saying that you knew nothing about what was coming. My righteousness will be felt by every spirit, not one of them will escape that Law. And my eternal love will overcome all error and obstinacy in evil. The darkness will be dispelled and only the light will be in every creature.

64. Study this lesson carefully and you will end up understanding that no one is irretrievably lost, that no one will be far from Me and that all your tribulations come to my Spirit and your works are put on trial. But I tell you, after you have looked closely at me as a Judge, you will know me as a Father and will truly love me.

65. In the Second Time I traced the way for you with my blood, now you have the divine essence of my word and by it you will be saved and you will reach Me.

Love one another!

66. At that time, the hard of heart did not believe in Me, despite feeling my works, what will become of the hard of heart of this time, now that my manifestations are more subtle?

67. cleanse the vessel of your heart inside and out, so that only the essence of life and truth may flow from your lips, and pour out its contents on your brothers without limitations. Do not be greedy and imitate Me, because being the owner of everything, everything belongs to you. give. Be my intermediaries with your brothers and work tirelessly in the work of universal restoration.

68. Is it any wonder that your Lord is so interested in you that you are still imperfect? It is that you belong to me; I love you and that is why I have come in search of you.

69. You ask me why your flesh hurts and there are sorrows in your heart, when I have told you that I love you, to which I replied that if in the Second Time, being innocent I suffered for you to make you worthy to be with me, now you do not know if you are suffering to help with your merits other spirits who have not been able to free themselves from sin. Imitate me in your trials without thinking about the prize or award that you can achieve, look that you still do not have enough merits to make others achieve forgiveness for you; that is why I am giving you new opportunities to rise up so that you may come to possess what has been promised to you since the beginning of time: the peace of the spirit.

70. Why do you fear the world and hide yourselves to work, if my Work is pure and inspires only love and teaches charity? You should feel blessed because I have chosen you to give you this spiritual mission. Do not wait for the time of greatest calamities to verify my prophecies, nor do you go to give yourselves to the fulfillment of your mission just for fear of being punished, because if you did, you would not have been apostles out of love and faith.

71. Truly I tell you, those who loved me and knew how to obey my commands are found in Me; this means that they became worthy to inhabit the Mansion of Peace.

72. Inwardly you tell me that the taste of my word is known to you, that in essence it is the same Law that I have given you throughout the ages and in truth I tell you that this word that you hear through my spokesmen, comes from the same Source from which the one that I made you hear through the lips of Jesus sprang.

73. You listen attentively to the lesson begun in earlier times.

74. The Word is the book that was opened at the beginning of your spiritual evolution and that will never be closed.

Love one another!

75. Follow me in the struggle, understand my Work and be persevering to the end, trusting that my charity accompanies you everywhere. I want to see you united and prepared because I am going to turn everyone who has been strengthened to become an emissary of my teaching.

76. Every word spoken by the lips of these spokesmen will be fulfilled and every prophecy of my chosen ones who have watched and prayed will be written and fulfilled in due time, as proof of the gifts that I have granted to this people and as a testimony of the truth of my communication with man.

77. Open the book of the past, there is your history; read in it illuminated by the light of consciousness and you will deeply feel the truth of the New Time.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 97

1. My love as a Teacher and the maternal balm of Mary descend on your wounds. The Mother is always with Me to join her tender teaching to the lesson I give you and her protective mantle extends it over this humanity that walks away from the path that with my example I left traced on the cross.
2. With what love I return to you after having been crucified and unknown in the Second Time. I come as a Father, as a brother, as a Teacher, as a friend.
3. Now it is you who are crying, because at my words of forgiveness your spirit trembles, but that crying purifies you and leads you to the path that tomorrow as my disciples you will have to travel.
4. Verily I tell you, there are few who, having listened to me at this time, have not felt that their heart is moved. That is why, while some give themselves to my service full of submission and selflessness, others remain listening to me waiting for Me to point out their mission to them. Some bless my name even in the most difficult trials; others only seek me when they need me, but I treat all of them as beloved disciples. There are those who, understanding the importance of that message, take advantage of every last one of my teachings, these will be the strong ones when my Word ceases to be heard in this form; there are also those for whom my communication has not had greater importance, becoming comfortable with listening to me and for that reason they let the meaning of my teaching go unnoticed. These will be of those who tomorrow sigh for my pleasures of this time, and from among them will arise those who try to revive my manifestations, forgetting that the time I have set aside for my revelations has always been limited.
5. I tell you, even the divine lessons have a term. Did not Moses depart after he had revealed to his people my Iey? Do you not remember that I, in Jesus, rose up from among men when I concluded my mission as Teacher and Redeemer, after telling you "Everything is finished"? So at this time, when my revelation has been transmitted and the prepared brains have let my message manifest and those whom I have called "Golden Feathers" have written down my word and my spiritual world has delivered its message, I will also tell you: "Everything is finished." Then this voice will be silenced and a new stage will appear before the disciples: spirit-to-Spirit communication.
6. No one is ignorant of the day appointed by my will for this to be, therefore know that that moment is approaching, eat and drink the bread and wine of true life so that tomorrow you will not hunger or thirst on the way.

Love one another!

7. It is a time of light for this people to whom I am calling from various places on Earth. Among the multitudes I discover those who will follow me; some have debts to me, others have been promised their inheritance. They are spirits whom I have sent to dwell on Earth, causing them to incarnate in the matter of male or female, and at these moments I find them in the age of children, adults and the elderly.
8. I come after the spirits with whom I have to form my People, to gather them and give them new lessons that will make them take a step forward on the path of their evolution.
9. Each time I have presented myself to my people in a different way to test their spiritual sensitivity. So in this time communicating through the human understanding I am testing him in his faith and in his spirituality, when I tell him: "I am here in Spirit before you as I promised you."
10. Also in the Second Time I tested the faith of those men, when I told them through Jesus- "I come from the Father, but whoever knows the Son knows the Father". Many centuries ago, on the summit of Sinai, I had said to the people, "I am the Lord your God."
11. In every era you have been waiting for me and yet when you have had me in front of you you have not recognized me due to your lack of vigil and spirituality. I tell you that whatever form my presence takes, it will always contain truth and divine essence.
12. I have told you that I have used various ways to manifest myself to the world, but these have not been a disguise to hide my Spirit from you, but to humanize me, to delight me, and thus make me listen and feel from men. Now I tell you that before you express your judgment, listen to this voice until the moment of your conviction or your enlightenment comes, when light is made in the spirit.
13. I know that you are judging the spokesmen by whom I give you my word and that you judge them impure, sinful and imperfect; but I tell you that I did not come to seek men or women who were pure, on the contrary, sinners to elevate them through nú communication. Do you believe that there are those who are pure in heart, those who are clean in body and in spirit, through whom He would have manifested me? I tell you that even in childhood I would not have found them.
14. If I have come to communicate with men through the understanding of some of them, it is because man constitutes the maximum work of all that I have deposited on earth, if you consider that I endowed him with spirit. What better interpreter than he could my Spirit find to speak to humanity? There you have the reason why in all times man has been my best conduit to express my divine thoughts to you.

Love one another!

15. Thus, with infinite love and care, I have been cultivating the human spirit to elevate it to the regions of the eternal and the perfect.

16. In the midst of the Paradise of my Creation, man was placed so that he could enjoy the work of his Father, be filled with wisdom and, being spiritually great, be part of my divine concert. I made the beloved son a prince on earth, giving him power over beings inferior to him. His whole being has been illuminated by the light of my Spirit, the light that you call consciousness.

17. In his long path of evolution man has seen wonders, but he is barely at the beginning, because he still has a lot to know. Know that when I speak to you of wonders, I am not only referring to those that you will have to find along the paths of science, but also to spiritual revelations.

18. This time that you are living is one of surprises and of lights for your spirit, a time in which all the powers and senses of the spirit will awaken in the most hidden of your being. Listen, meditate, ascend from kindergartners to disciples learning in the Book that reveals my Word to you. Study Nature and look out into the Universe that also speaks to you with the voice of a Teacher, since in everything I am present. observe with love or at least with interest, and you will find that everything points the way to the truth. Never as now have you been prepared to understand that everything speaks of Me and that in everything there is my imprint as an indelible seal of the Author of Life.

19. Material science has revealed many mysteries to you, however, you never expect that it is your science that will reveal to you what you have to know. The science of the men of these times, also had its prophets of whom humanity mocked and judged astray from the mind, but later when you saw the fulfillment of what they predicted, you marveled.

20. If in this way the word of the prophets of science was fulfilled, those who predicted the passing fruit of human science, how will the fulfillment of the prophecies of the seers of God be, announcing to you the establishment of a Kingdom of peace, immortal in the heart of humanity?

21. Now the seers announce a new world, they are prophets sent by Me, to whom you must listen and if you had been prepared analyzing my words and promises of the past times, nothing that I have manifested to you in the current time would have surprised you, but I have found you fatigued, sick and busy in your human life, so before revealing great lessons of wisdom, I had first to heal, console and inspire amendment and regeneration, to make you penetrate the path of peace, the only way you could think about the spiritual life .

Love one another!

22. I only have a few years left to be with you through this communication and you must take advantage of my teachings. The times do not pass over my Spirit, but if they pass over man, therefore, these years that seem so long to you now, but that before your spirit are brief, take advantage of them. I promise to pour torrents of wisdom on your mind, which will be the only thing that will leave you after my departure. I will leave you no gold, no names, no titles, only my teachings.

23. This seed is already beginning to bear fruit among you, because if yesterday you materialized your worship towards Me, now instead, you are trying to spiritualize yourselves to get closer to the Truth.

24. Your spirit has had to go through a crucible of pain in order to take a step on the path of spirituality and become teachers of humility and patience, strength and faith. From your spirit I expect understanding and respect for others.

25. You will not judge your brothers by the way in which they elevate their worship; truly I tell you, only I know how to discover in hearts the flowers of faith and love, whose perfume I receive as the best offering of the spirit. Nor will you ignore those who do not recognize in Mary the divine tenderness who became a woman so that in her virgin womb the Word might take human form. She has also come to teach you in these times, because in the heart of the Mother there are no secrets for the children either. Verily I tell you, her Mother's Voice will be heard by all mankind of this time. In Me you can find all the loves, because in the same way I make you feel my presence and my strength as a Father, that I make your being reach a maternal breath or I give your spirit the joy of listening to me as a Teacher.

26. Let this seed germinate in you, so that from the depths of your being all the affections that the spirit must and can manifest may sprout, both towards his heavenly Father and towards his Hennans, loving one another.

27. Can you imagine the joy that will be in the Spiritual Kingdom when all those who have lived to sin, quarrel and profane are finally loved? You cannot imagine the joy of your Father or the joy that will be in the Spiritual World. My Spirit created you to accompany me, because I was alone. But I destined you to love one another and with your love you filled me with happiness.

28. I am your Father and I hunger and thirst for your love, because you have turned away from the path that conscience points out. I formed you to love each other, but you still do not look at that light in fullness. Your earthly ambitions are lost to you and although sometimes you turn your thoughts to Me and feel grateful for my benefits, you have not understood that the best tribute that your gratitude can offer me is that of that love between brothers, of which my Doctrine speaks so much to you.

Love one another!

29. Beloved disciples: When you listen to me like this, it seems difficult or impossible for you to please me, but that doubt is not of your spirit but of the flesh, because it is fragile, but the spirit was created for great and worthy works of god. he gave her life.

30. I bring you this teaching to raise you to true life, however, keep in mind that the salvation of humanity will not be realized in an instant, because just as it needed time to descend spiritually, it will also need time to rise. That gift that only I can give you, I will give it to you so that you can carry out your regeneration, your purification and restore what you have destroyed in yourself and in your fellow human beings.

31. Although only a small part of humanity has heard my word at this time, let no one think that they were chosen as righteous, because I found them sinners, like the whole human race; but in my judgments I was so appointed.

32. Tomorrow, when the essence of this word has reached all hearts, you will know that my will was distributed over all my children, and you will find that in each of my thoughts and in each of my lessons, there was a caress for those to whom my message reaches.

33. Your wounds have healed; my balm has been in your heart. Now listen to me, because soon you will go to look for those who also bear pain in the spirit and in the flesh: Who can better understand their sorrows but those who have lived them?

34. life, being a teacher, turns the children into instructors, so that they, with light, knowledge and experience, can be counselors and guides of their brothers.

35. My Doctrine, together with the lessons of life, cause the spirit to be illuminated with the luminous beacon of conscience, illuminating the steps of man. As long as that light does not manage to be reflected to the outside through good works, high thoughts and words with spiritual essence, man will have to feel weak, fearful, selfish and distrustful; but when that light begins to dominate the darkness of your mind, to manifest its essence, then peace will come to the heart, faith and confidence will appear in life, strengthening the spirit so that it can calmly go through the difficult hours, the trials that every destiny contains.

36. My word is the way, it is the divine law that guides you towards perfection, it is the light that elevates the spirit but that has been tarnished when the flesh, due to its hardness, has imposed itself ignoring the inner call of its conscience. Then, woe to the spirit that has yielded under the impulse of matter and has allowed itself to be dominated by the influence of the world around it, changing its guiding position for that of a defenseless being who is carried back and forth by human passions and weaknesses in the likeness of dry leaves when they are carried by the wind without fixed direction! The most freedom-loving man is afraid to submit to the Divine Will, afraid that his spirit will come to subjugate him by depriving him of many human satisfactions that he knows harm him and abandons the path that leads him to true life.

37. The flesh is afraid of the struggle with the spirit and is looking for a way to tempt him with the pleasures of the world in order to prevent his freedom or at least to retard it. See how man carries within himself his own tempter, it is for this reason that I have told you that when he comes to overcome himself, he will have won the battle.

38. A lot of what I am telling you in this communication is being received intuitively by countless men, because it is already the time when life with its lessons has made light in many spirits, directing them to meditation and to learn to hear the voice of conscience. They walk towards the truth, understanding that this is the path that leads to peace, true freedom and the supreme joy that living in harmony with the One Who created you gives.

39. Study my lessons thoroughly, disciples, for just as you have seen everything that the prophets of the First Century announced fulfilled, so you will see everything that I have announced to you through the mouth of these spokesmen come true. At every step and every day, one of my words is fulfilled without you realizing it.

40. It is necessary that my word leave your nation so that it may be believed and obeyed as it happened with Jesus, who had to leave the village of Nazareth, where he spent his childhood, to be believed in other lands.

41. In 1950 I will cease to give you my word through these spokesmen, but it will be kept in the hearts where it encourages the faith, which will take it to other nations.

42. I will use men of good will and hearts jealous of the purity of my Doctrine, to make this message of love and forgiveness reach humanity. Those who rise up as emissaries will bear sweetness in their word and in their deeds, but they will never bear bitterness. Their eyes will know how to weep for the pain of others and their temples will become white suffering for their brothers; they will live and die loving, forgiving and blessing, and they will reach the end of their journey without bitterness, without fatigue or disappointment.

43. The disciple of the Third Time will keep in mind in his life that the fruit of spiritual sowing is not gathered on earth. Why then are many who call themselves my disciples discouraged by the ingratitude, or the indifference of humanity?

44. I have brought infinite sweetness in my word for you to carry through life, since my Word in your spirit is strength, encouragement, joy of loving and serving. The good disciple will have nothing to fear and will know how to calmly cross rough roads and painful trials, his gaze always vigilant through prayer, he will know how to discover the traps that his enemies tend to him.

Love one another!

45. These words I will leave written, and they will reach my disciples of the future, and they, when studying them, will find them fresh, alive, and their spirit will tremble with joy to feel that it is their Teacher who speaks to them at that moment.

46. Do you think that everything I have told you is only for those who have listened to me? No, beloved people, with my word I am speaking for those present and for those absent; for today, tomorrow and always; for those who died, for those who live and for those who are to be born.

47. You say that my Word and my Work are very great, infinite, and you strive to limit them through your works. Ah, if you knew how to prepare yourselves, overcoming your materiality, elevating your spirit through good analysis and a righteous life, what wonders and wonders you would contemplate!

48. It seems laughable to you that sometimes through the mouth of the spokesman I give you lessons addressed to all humanity, because you consider your world immense and the number of human beings incalculable, who ignore my communication, to which I tell you, now when I speak to humanity, I do not only do it for those present, but also for those who are waiting for the moment to come to inhabit the Earth, but you should know that your world, in front of Me, is like an atom, and the number of men who inhabit it. insignificant in comparison with all the spiritual creatures that make up my Kingdom.

49. Does it seem to you sometimes too poor the medium was chosen to communicate to me? It is not the first time that as a Father I make use of the human mind for you to listen to my word, my commands and revelations. This is a means of which I have used at all times to speak to man, and you should note that the divine word has always come through humble, simple and sometimes rude channels.

50. Study and work, disciples. See that I have persistently knocked on the door of your heart until you have opened it to me. I speak to you sometimes in a figurative sense. but I always do it with the same simplicity with which you speak; it is that my word now comes to explain what at that time was said in parables and therefore its true meaning has not been understood. Why walk on dark paths, when I have shown you a bright path with my word?

51. To those who listen to me I say to open their eyes to the light of this Doctrine so that they may admire its greatness.

52. When I began this communication through the understanding of the first spokespersons and I spoke to the first disciples about the advancement that those who came after them would have, telling them that my word would be perfected on the lips of the new spokespersons, those multitudes sighed and envied the last ones who talk about coming to the Master's table to taste the already seasoned fruit. Verily I tell you that that ripe fruit that I foretold, is this that you are savoring, because you must know that my word is reaching its culmination within this form of communication with you. Only a few years are left until the year 1950 arrives and in it the Master says goodbye to you.

53. Tomorrow, to those who did not hear me through this teaching, within your time, I will send my message. Some will receive it through the testimony of those who listened to me; others will receive it through writings, and others, through the gifts of intuition and inspiration. Thus the prophecy will be fulfilled that my Spirit would at this time be poured out in every spirit and in all flesh.

54. It is up to you to clear the path by removing obstacles and stumbling blocks, thus leaving a trace of charity and love for those who later come along this path in search of spirituality.

55. The spiritual awakening of humanity is already near; do not despair as the years pass, without noticing a favorable change in the morals of men. Watch, learn, work and know how to wait. Do you take my word for it? do not forget that I have told you that "Every eye will see me, every understanding will understand me, and every mouth will speak my word."

56. That time is approaching, but it is necessary that the people who listened to me be cleansed of sin and be strong in their faith so that they may bear witness to Me, as I have been able to give it to you by communicating it to me through your understanding.

57. My words will be written down in the Golden book, so that after 1950 no one will say that my communication is needed. In my lessons, which are for all time, I leave you wisdom, orders, prophecies, sustenance and balm.

58. You will learn to read in the book of my teachings, so that when you read for your brothers, those words will be saturated with divine essence and those who listen, live and feel as you lived and felt when you heard Me through the speaker.

59. Disciples: remove your sorrows from your heart while. You hear my lesson. Feel the divine anointing and keep my strength in your being. I want you healthy, never sick, tearful or weak.

60. Many times you think that I punish you when pain hurts you, but I only teach you, it is you who attract pain. It has been a long time since you have been called to carry out such a great mission and you have ignored my voice. But now I make you know that that peace that you have long sought without finding it, will be given to you by your fulfillment in my laws. Look how those who have fulfilled are safe, free from vicissitudes.

61. I have told you that you have not come to Earth only once, but that your spirit has taken shape as many times as it has been necessary for its development and perfection; now I must add that it also depends on you whether the time to reach the goal is shortened or prolonged, according to your desire.

62. My light is vibrating in all the dwellings where my children dwell. This is how the Earth is wrapped in that clarity. I tell you again that the prophecy is being fulfilled that "every eye will see me, every brain will understand and every mouth will pronounce my word when the spirit prepares". This I have announced to you, and the day has come when my words will be fulfilled.

63. How many disciples and how many children of the Second Time felt the desire to witness the fulfillment of my promises, to live and feel what is being verified today. That longing to know made them prepare and achieve greater elevation, however, it was not given to them then to contemplate some prophecies realized because another Era was reserved for them.

64. I was to come when the world was at its highest height of materialism, to manifest myself in Spirit and speak to you through men, women and children and teach you the perfect communication with my Divinity.

65. I want to make you sowers of the truth and may it be manifested in your words and in your deeds. Each one will be entrusted with some positions so that you all have a part in the spiritual mission that my Work will have to carry out.

66. I have promised this nation that there will be no war in it if my disciples practice my teaching. They, contemplating in other nations the ravages caused by division and hatred, ask me that no blood be spilled on this soil. I only ask you to pray and watch so that you become worthy of the fulfillment of that promise. I do not want to see you cry; if injustice reigns and you suffer the tyranny and rigor of those who govern you, do not blame me; I have given you the power to do great works that transform your dwelling into a valley of peace.

67. It is prophesied that many peoples will disappear, this family that is humanity will be hit by great whirlwinds, and in that test those who have watched over and prepared their spirit with love will stand with living faith in Me.

68. Take advantage of this time because the hour of justice is approaching and the year of 1950 is at the door, for that day many of you will be in spirit and others in matter, but you will all be judged.

69. That will be the beginning for all men on different paths to walk towards spirituality. Men of science will recognize me and become counselors of humanity; the book of my wisdom will be opened for them in which they will receive very great revelations. It will be then that the spirit will open to the human mind the path of true knowledge, and conscience will regulate the acts of men.

Love one another!

70. The Earth will be clean and those who survive will follow me with the same eagerness of my disciples of the Second Time, but it will be you in whom I leave the first seeds of spirituality.

71. As a Universal Shepherd, I tirelessly seek my sheep. On Earth, those who achieve greater spiritual elevation will march before humanity, for love and humanity. The true sage is the one who knows my laws and does my will. Thus, with infinite patience, I will form my disciples in the Last Time. I love you and for the same reason, I wish to see you all great in spirit.

72. Do not forget my words, but if in your memory you fail to keep all that I have told you, the books will remain that will contain my teachings, my revelations of this time and the deeds of my disciples.

73. Feel and obey the inspiration that I send you, because everyone who rises up with Limpidity to Me will receive my consolation, will have joy in his heart and my Word will blossom on his lips.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. I am going to give you the fruit of the vine so that I feed you in my love; forget pains and hardships and feel that while I give you my word you dwell with me in the mansion of peace. Feel my presence, people, take advantage of this time and if in it you want to repair your faults, come and learn from Me that I am giving you the opportunity to elevate yourselves spiritually.
2. Men of mature age and the elderly: do not regret the time that you let pass without having heard me, today you are. with me. If you love me, you will be able in a short time to know my teaching and take advantage of it,. You are already on the way and you can start the journey and your guide will be the voice of your conscience. I will go before you and there will be no trial, no matter how hard, that will separate you from Me. If you love me, you will not turn back, because your faith will shine like a new dawn and you will see the path along which you must travel bathed in light.
3. Are you willing to follow me even if you have to suffer? If you were questioned by your brothers, would you answer by saying that you are my disciples and that you follow me by faith? Will you have the courage to give these proofs? Meditate and think that if you are my disciples, you will have to perfect yourselves to give true witness to my Doctrine.
4. I will send my message to all the nations. Everything is arranged for my designs to be realized and the greatest proof that I will give to men of my power and my love will be to transform their egoism into sincere love of one another.
5. Through love they will carry out great works. without distinction of races or lineages I will call you all to give you a mission in this Work.
6. To those who are eager for knowledge and spirituality, I say: Hear my word and know its essence. Read in the great book of life and study, for there is one. lesson dedicated to each.
7. But beware of reading books in which my word or the prophecies have been adulterated and also in those where twisted interpretations of divine revelations are given. Do not allow a false light to penetrate into your it is you; if you want to know the truth, prepare yourself and your Intuition, as well as the sensitivity of your spirit guided by consciousness, will reveal the truth to you.
8. This book that I am writing for you in the Third Time, take it and interpret its lessons well and you will see that its light destroys shadows and that every mystery is clarified. You will then feel my presence and perceive my voice in the depths of your spirit speaking to you and instructing you.

Love one another!

9. Think that you will not be able to hide any work or thought that I do not know. But if you are tempted many times by the world that attracts you and chains you, sometimes even lacking the strength to reject evil, then turn to Me, so that in my lessons you may learn to use that power that I have given you over the world and over the flesh and when you have overcome and regained peace of heart you may resume your work.

10. If you need examples, rise up and seek in Me what you need and I will give you strength to reach the end that I have pointed out to you. With what joy will I look to the son who imitates me and glorifies me with his deeds! Work unceasingly for humanity and after you have done all the good that you are capable of, forget about rewards and do not expect any payment in the world. Think that only I know and know how to value your works to give you the right compensation. Thus with great struggle and true merits you will be able to conquer the place that I have Prepared for your spirit.

11. Men and women from distant lands will come to you and become my disciples, but when they feel full of my light they will return to their peoples, to their nations, to take my Doctrine to their families. This is how in the Second Time, attracted by the fame of the Wonders of Jesus, many foreigners came to Me and hearing my word and witnessing my works were convinced of my Truth and returned to their lands testifying that I was the Messiah.

12. In this age most men come to Me because pain has made them seek the remedy that only in my power can they find. They come complaining of poverty without knowing everything they have in their spirit, their only poverty consists in not having realized what they are carrying and in ignorance about the gifts they treasure few are those who have come asking me for light for their spirit, mostly they are looking for me to ask me for little things proper to human life, those that I always give in addition, after I have poured my charity on their spirit.

13. One by one you are receiving the knowledge that reveals to you a light that while in you you did not look. That light is your consciousness; whoever manages to discover it and look at himself in that inner mirror, becomes humble and feels to the point the bond that unites him to his Creator.

14. There are those who think they know themselves because, knowing the many gifts that man possesses in his spirit, they stand up to the ignorant, they are puffed up by their own greatness, they lord it over themselves and finally end up getting lost in the darkness of their pride. They do not know that the spirit has the arcanum of God in its consciousness and that to penetrate it it must be done with respect.

15. Right here, among my laborers, how many there are who, without having understood my Doctrine, knowing themselves to be gifted, have believed themselves to be superior beings, worthy of admiration and tributes, to which I ask you if you can accept that a high spirit becomes puffed up with his gifts, being that humility and charity are the main attributes that he must carry.

16. Practice in the silence and in the humility of your life each of my lessons and you will see that light appear in your spirit that you do not yet know, because the veil of matter and the frivolity that surrounds you have not allowed it to fulfill the mission that corresponds to it within human life.

17. Study my teachings and do not get confused so that you will not fall into new fanaticisms trying to find the truth.

18. I am the way that invites those who have forgotten to walk; the light of my word is poured out on it, so that tomorrow you can teach it and bear witness to it. Time will pass and many will come in search of the humble houses where I manifested Myself, so that you can explain to them the way in which I showed Myself to my new disciples and the wonders that I did among you. Only the memory of my word will remain in your mind and in your heart the echo of my divine counsels, the writings for posterity will also remain. I am already preparing those who have not listened to my word to find the paths that will lead them to my disciples and witnesses. How many will cry for not having heard me! But I also tell you, How many of those who have heard me will weep because they have not prepared themselves! and seeing that my word is no longer manifested, they will direct their gaze to the place where the spokesman took his seat to interpret the divine word and will only contemplate the void.

19. The years pass fleetingly and soon you will stop listening to me, that's why I tell you: let me heal, caress and comfort you. Let Me teach you, I came to prepare you, but if you remain weak in faith and in the will, then you will always feel sick, and who will heal you and teach you as I did?

20. Through my word I am getting closer and closer to you and at the same time I am bringing you closer to perfect communication with my Spirit. Meditate on my self-manifestations of the past times and you will find that I have always looked for a way to communicate with your spirit, making my messages reach him as a testimony of your Father's divine love for you.

21. A new form of spiritual communication you are witnessing at this time, although very similar to the one I used in past eras. You are now in a wonderful time of light in which man can hear the voice of my Spirit through the many spiritual gifts and faculties he possesses.

22. Verily I tell you that in ecstasy, as well as through prayer or even material sleep, you can receive revelations and messages from the Spiritual Realm, if you know how to prepare and prepare for it. But you have lacked preparation and faith to know how to take advantage of these gifts and I have had to prepare seers and prophets who will tell you about tomorrow, who will alert you and warn you to watch and pray.

23. Do you think that this man for whom I communicate is the one who gives you the word? Find its essence and you will see that it is your Teacher who speaks to you. Do you believe that the spirit of God penetrates into the speaker as he speaks? Also. I have told you that one ray of my light is enough for me to enlighten and inspire these minds, putting on their lips an inexhaustible torrent of words of deep meaning, as a proof of my presence and my truth for the unbeliever. Listen to Me carefully during this time and you will be strengthened for the times and the trials to come.

24. Prepare your heart, gather your spirit, and leave your mind to hear and keep my word.

25. See how the book of spiritual teaching opens its pages to reveal a new teaching. Practice the simple lessons at first so that tomorrow you can put the big lessons into practice. You must understand that in order to be teachers, you must first be children and disciples.

26. Today you are studying the first words and through them you are understanding this Doctrine, because when you pray you converse spiritually with me when you tell me: "Master, we are following in your footsteps and we ask you to accompany us on our journey, to preserve us from dangers, since at every step we are stalked by the temptations of the world". And I say to you, disciples: be strong, use your strength to dominate the flesh.

27. I want to form with you a strong and virtuous family, full of obedience in which I will pour out my grace and pleasure.

28. The hour of your testimony about my communication will come and humanity, unbelieving by nature, will ask me for proof to believe, but then I will tell her. Behold, these are my disciples whom I have made to enter into a new life; they are the proof of the power of my teaching, my words have forged their spirit and today they are prepared to take my Doctrine to the peoples of the earth. Do you want to be one of those whom I can take as a witness of my truth? so get ready, beloved farmers. I trust in you. I will use your love, to do wonders in those for whom you ask me and by a flash of faith that you present to me I will do admirable works.

29. You have rushed the chalice of pain in this time, but it has not been for your evil, that pain has been like beneficial rain fertilizing my seed in your heart and discovering before you some hidden fibers in the depths of your being.

30. I have told you that you are living at this time a hard atonement, because you have a debt to contrain and to your brothers that you are going to pay off. And that is why you are silent and accept your chalice with love, refusing only to ask me for strength so that my will may be done.

Love one another!

31. In the world you will not find the understanding that you will need in your struggle and in your vicissitudes, because true love and charity are not yet in the hearts, but you, strengthened in Me, will pass on thorns with a smile on your lips and with peace in your heart.

32. Why does the Master tell you so much about pain? Because this time that you are living is one of justice and all human creatures carry a heavy cross. Behold, the nations scourged by war, there is no heart in them that has escaped pain because not even the tender children in the cradle of their fragility, have escaped the divine justice that helps men to atone for their sins and to wash away their stains.

33. In all times I have sown and cultivated my seed in the heart of humanity. My sowing will not be in vain in this Third Time. For the seed will blossom in the hearts.

34. For a small number of hearts that prepare, I will pour out my grace in abundance to form the foundations of a new world. I want to raise your spirit so that you understand what is your similarity with my Divinity.

35. I, the owner of the worlds and of all the dwellings to whom everything created obeys, tells you at this moment, that you men have not lived in harmony with my laws, so you have parked spiritually; however, my Spirit awaits with infinite patience your return to the true path and your perfection. Do not let it be only Me who fights for your salvation, nor let the spiritual world work without you collaborating with it. Do not do works of only apparent merit, strive so that your acts contain truth and love.

36. If you have received love from the moment of your formation, lavish love. If my example is written in you, imitate me.

37. In this age the Word of God, who is eternal, speaks to you to bring you to the light. I know the spirit that is hidden in each one of you, and that is why I am the only one who can reveal to you that in other times you have already witnessed my communication with humanity.

38. Shouldn't you be pre-schoolers in my teaching anymore? Is it true that your Father is right when he calls you his witnesses and disciples and prepares you to carry this message to humanity?

39. Look how everything happens, except my word. Look at the human generations that inhabit the earth today and disappear tomorrow. Observe the peoples that are now rising up full of a splendor that seems to be eternal and soon you will be witnesses of their decline and ruin. Everything human happens and ceases to be. Only my immutable and eternal Law remains shining in every consciousness.

Love one another!

40. You call this time the Age of light, but not because it is until now that my light has illuminated the spirit or the understanding of men, it has always shone in every spirit. I am the divine star that is never hidden, but if now you see that the spiritual light vibrates as never in the summits, it is because because of their evolution, they can already perceive more clearly than in past times, the Presence of spiritual life.

41. If men had always lived in harmony with my laws, they would never have been surprised by my new revelations. Observe how whenever I have come with a new lesson, it has been discussed, combated or denied.

42. But the hour of awakening is approaching and then groups of men will arise everywhere who will speak of a new inspiration; they will be scrutinized and judged by their peers, who will come to say that a plague of strange and unknown sects has broken out in the world. It will be then that you will raise your prayers for everyone and at the same time give thanks for the fulfillment of my word, because by the Doctrine that I have revealed to you you will be one of those who understand the cause of all those manifestations; but you will also be one of those who assume greater responsibility to humanity.

43. Think, beloved disciples, how much you have to prepare so that your emissaries, carrying the light of my revelations, can reach all those places where men have arisen surprising their brothers with their spiritual gifts.

44. The struggle will be great for you, because you will not only devote yourselves to prayer, meditation and good wishes, but also to works of charity.

45. It will not be enough for you to say: I have faith, that is not enough. Faith is indispensable; but other gifts that you have must be perfected, so that you may carry my word not only on your lips, but in your deeds. In order for my Doctrine to shine through the acts of your life, you have to devote part of your time to the study and development of your spiritual gifts, that will be the way that you bear with patience the tests that you find on your way, applying in each of them my teachings. When you achieve this, you will have the fruit of your effort and your desire for spiritual improvement, and that prize will be the courage you have for the struggle, the mastery over yourselves and the love for your brothers.

46. Do not sleep anymore, disciples, understand that humanity is going to awaken spiritually and should not find you short of preparation. Nor do I want you to get up without first having acquired what is necessary to be a true soldier of mine. Take advantage of these moments of peace in which you come to receive my teaching and always walk under the protection of what you have learned in it. Seek to penetrate more and more into the revealed teachings, but do not try to delve into what has not yet been told to you.

Love one another!

47. When the spirit of Them inspired the mind of Roque Rojas, the first witnesses of those manifestations did not imagine the grace that the following generations would receive when they heard my word, nor did they know that a new spiritual era was opening for humanity. It was your Teacher who, throughout his teaching, was revealing to the multitudes the magnitude of this Work; it was He who made them understand that a new time full of lights and splendors was beginning.

48. The spirit of humanity, driven by passions towards chaos, thinks that only a divine miracle can save men from whose hearts peace has fled, since they lost hope and the faith in love, in justice and in human reason.

49. That void that humanity presents to me in its spirit, is the one that I come to fill with the light of this new Doctrine in appearance, but in reality eternal; this Doctrine that makes light in the spirits and in the hearts, because it reveals the entire content of that commandment that I taught my apostles to love one another. I come now to explain to you the meaning of that maxim, the meaning of which has not been understood by your understanding. And it is that the word of Christ, for many men has been a dead word in this time; but they do not know that she is in the consciousness of all humanity and that in due time she will emerge full of splendor from the depths of the same hearts, which were formerly for her like a tomb.

50. Do you think that you are fulfilling my precept of loving one another, selfishly enclosing your love in your family? Do religions believe that they are complying with that maxim, recognizing only their faithful and ignoring those who belong to another sect? Will the great peoples of the world who proclaim civilization and advancement be able to say that spiritually they have achieved progress and have fulfilled that teaching of Jesus, when all their eagerness is to prepare for fratricidal war?

51. O humanity, who have never known how to estimate the value of my word, nor have you wanted to sit at the Lord's table, because it seemed too humble to you! However, my table is still waiting for you with the bread and wine of life for your spirit.

52. No one will be able to say that I have come to ask you for my death, you see that you have not yet repented of your sins, and already my hand, the same one that you drilled on the cross, is knocking at your door again. Understand, disciples, that it is my love that calls your spirit.

53. My love will have to overcome you, I have no other weapon. If you think that I also use pain to bend and overcome you, you are mistaken; the pain is created by you and with it you do yourself justice. I am the one who comes to save you from pain and death.

54. Disciples, I leave you one more of my lessons. But those who know how to prepare will be the ones who feel my presence the most deeply, although my grace is poured out on everyone in the same way. To those who have not felt spirituality when hearing my word, I invite you to prepare, so that you may enjoy the divine essence and be able to take advantage of this message before my communication ends between you. Think that if that hour should come without your heart having been truly delighted and nourished, your faith will not be great in the struggle, nor will your love be able to be ardent in testifying my truth.

55. Truly I tell you, I do not want the pain in your heart, nor would I want to have to listen to your phrases of repentance. My desire is that, when I give you my word for the last time, through this channel you may be able to tell me: Master, here we are, your will be done in us.

56. No one lacks my light; in addition to my lesson, I speak to you through your dreams which you call revelations, because you know that in them I reveal deep teachings to you that by no other means could you know. But understand, disciples, that every knowledge that comes to you from Me is a revelation. Do not take into account the channel or the form that I use to give you my messages.

57. I have justly called you children of the light, but you are most determined to go blind, not because there is darkness on the way, but because you want to bring your eyes closed to the truth. Are you waiting for others who have not even heard this word to wake up before those who have heard my voice? It would be sad if they came to get my new disciples out of mistakes.

58. I am making their gifts known to the prophets of the Third Time so that they may be the ones who announce this good news to humanity; but they must know that they need to achieve spirituality, so that these gifts may be manifested in them.

59. Hear my lesson, disciples, carry it in your heart and once in your home study it and analyze it, so that the next day, when you resume your struggle for life, you will put my teachings into practice.

60. There is not a moment of your existence that does not offer a propitious opportunity to fulfill my Law. Do not wait only for great occasions to be able to apply my lessons of love.

61. Think that if your concentration, when hearing this word, were not as high as it requires and that if your mind lacks the attention it should pay to my Doctrine, your heart will not be able to gather the seed that it must sow tomorrow, and whose fruits you will reap in eternity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Welcome are disciples to the heavenly table. Savor the delicate delicacy that I bring you on my word. Like the thief who enters an alcove, so I have come to your heart and found that you are hungry for spiritual knowledge.
2. No one should be surprised by my presence; already through Jesus I pointed out to you the events that would announce my manifestation as a Spirit of Truth; I also told you that my arrival would be in spirit so that no one was waiting for material manifestations, which are never to come. Look, the Jewish people are still waiting for the Messiah, without him arriving in the way they expect, because the true one has already been with them and they did not recognize him. Do you, humanity, want to ignore my new manifestation In order to continue waiting for me according to your belief and not according to what I promised you?
3. Wake up from your sleep and become children of the light because I come to give you a divine seed that will give you peace and life, and I want you to start sowing it.
4. Do not wait any longer to believe in my call, look that the judgment will be felt through the great battle that you have announced. I want you to be the prepared soldiers in this struggle, ready to deposit faith in weak hearts with your works of love.
5. People: Put away all fear of the judgments of your brothers, for it will not be they who will give you peace, nor who will lead you to the Promised Land. Do not be afraid of men, follow me firmly along this path; because in the hour of judgment for humanity, you will regret from the depths of your being, not having been faithful, not having strengthened you in my teaching, nor having learned to solve the great trials in harmony with my Law. Of those who persevere and of the faithful, victory will be.
6. My saving boat has appeared in the middle of the stormy night, come to her, all those who are afraid of perishing in Sin, the shipwrecked, those who have lost their way.
7. The obfuscation of the mind, the lack of faith, the ignorance of the truth, are darkness for the spirit and that is why humanity is lost today. How many men have multiplied who walk without knowing or caring where they are going!
8. I knew that such a time was coming for men, full of pain, confusion, uncertainty and distrust. I promised to come to save you from that darkness and here I am: I am the Spirit of Truth. Why do you love me again as a man? Do you not remember that I died as a man, and I said that I was waiting for you in my Kingdom? By this he meant to you that the spirit is eternal, immortal.

Love one another!

9. It was the Divine Spirit who spoke through the mouth of Jesus and who wrote with his blood the price of your ransom. What was your sentence? I gave you proofs of my immortality and wrapped you in my mantle of forgiveness to let you know that that blood shed on Calvary, was the most sublime lesson of the fulfillment to achieve peace in eternity; that's why I tell you that your happiness, you have to work it.

10. I have called you Israelites, because your spirit comes from that seed that I gave to the founders of the people called "of God".

11. Israel was the name that I gave to Jacob and his seed. Why was that name later taken to designate a race, if he only talks about spiritual missions? I inspired patriarchs and prophets to call that people "the People of God", do you know why? Because he, among all the other peoples of the Earth, brought into the world a spiritual mission. While some carried science in their hands, others the arts and others the human laws, this one came with the spiritual law, the doctrine of the heart, the light of eternity. While some peoples gave philosophers and scientists to the world, it gave prophets who transmitted divine messages to men, patriarchs who taught with their lives the way to God, apostles who lived and died testifying the Truth; and above all the Divine Teacher, who came to become a man in the bosom of the people of Israel, bringing to men the most sublime heavenly message.

12. That is why that people was called "the People of God" although I tell you that all peoples are mine, and I love them all in the same way, but each one brings to Earth his mission.

13. That spiritual seed is the one that I am causing to appear in the world at this time; it will arise disseminated among humanity, not as a race or forming tribes, but in all races, because Israel is in the spirit and the spirit is over everything human.

14. My people will appear again with the mission of making light in the spirit: their spiritual gifts will influence human life, as in all times. My prophets, messengers and disciples have brought light and peace to men.

15. You who are listening to me are the ones who know these lessons for sure, but do not settle for knowing it, you must get up to continue fulfilling your eternal destiny of illuminating the spiritual path of your brothers. Fulfill your mission, and the light that should always be in the people of God will shine in you once again.

16. Look how your spirit has sensed the time in which it is and has come in haste after the fulfillment of my promises. Your heart knew nothing of my return, because in these times, humanity pays little or no importance to my prophecies but the spirit kept that word very deep inside.

Love one another!

17. Your heart was asleep, but since you heard my first word or my first lesson, he woke up and when he understood the truth, he instantly recognized that beings have come to Earth to fulfill a divine mandate and not to do everyone his will. The one who has had this awakening is the one who is following me step by step, forming a sanctuary inside.

18. My word of love overflows over all the chosen people, delight in it, disciples; if I sometimes correct you and even judge you, analyze those teachings so that each one takes what corresponds to him. Do not rejoice when I claim some fault that you did not have, even if you know those who have been committing it, because at that moment your conscience will remind you of that teaching in which I told you: "Do not look at the speck in your brother's eye, without first looking at the beam that you carry.

19. Think that you have all come to form my apostolate, which I will send tomorrow to testify to my word, and from now on you must begin to love each other. Don't you think that my communication through our understanding has a great meaning? or do you think that this is one of the many new sects that arise today announcing the salvation of the world and then disappear without leaving traces of my peace?

20. Observe how this seed, despite the fact that you have cultivated it badly, does not die, look at how it has been overcoming darkness, and crossroads, obstacles and trials and continues day by day germinating and developing. Why doesn't this seed die? Because truth is immortal, it is eternal, that is why you will see that when this Doctrine at times seems to disappear, it will be precisely when new and fruitful sprouts will arise to help men to take a step further forward on the path of spirituality.

21. Do not think that this has only happened in this Third Time, no, also in the Second Time, after the Master and his disciples had watered with their blood the seed that they sowed in the hearts of men, there were moments when the teaching of Christ seemed to have disappeared from the world. How many at that time, considering the sacrifice of Jesus useless. and those who followed him began to waver in their faith, doubting that truth that had previously been their beacon and their Law. It was enough for me then to send new servants into the world, so that they would put aside all the falsehoods that men had added to My Doctrine, deforming it, and the seed germinated again and gave flowers and fruits.

22. If I teach you these lessons, it is so that you will not be one of those who hide my truth, distort my Doctrine or profane my Law, but that you will be the ones who live to cultivate with all the love of his spirit this seed that I have entrusted to you and that is the same one that in all times I have wanted to flourish in the heart of humanity: the love of one another.

Love one another!

23. The Teacher who was with you in the world, you can call "The Rabbi of Galilee", because he became a man on that earth, but this Teacher who comes to you invisibly today, being the same, you cannot say that he is from Galilee because I come in Spirit.

24. My new lessons are the confirmation of those that I gave you in the Second Time, but they are even higher, nirad that at that time I spoke to the heart of man, but now, I speak to the spirit.

25. I am not here to ignore any of my words. q as I told you in the past, on the contrary, I come to give you the due fulfillment and the just explanation. Just as I said at that time to the Pharisees, who believed that Jesus was coming to destroy the Law: Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the prophets, on the contrary I have come to fulfill it. How was I to ignore that Law and the prophecies, if they were the foundation of the fear that in three times was to be built in the heart of this humanity and the announcement of my coming to the world?

26. As long as men persist in their blindness and ignorance, they will cause God, who is first and foremost a Father, to have to humanize himself, limit himself and belittle himself before his children, in order to be understood. How long are you going to let me show myself in front of you with the greatness in which you should look at me?

27. You have to be great to be able to conceive me great and that is why I come, one time after another, to give you spiritual greatness, so that you can have the infinite joy of knowing your Father, of feeling his love, of hearing the divine concert that vibrates over you.

28. This is the Third Time, beloved disciples, and therefore you have one more lesson to add to the previous ones. You have much to study, but do not be afraid, because the teaching of this time will make you better understand that of times past. So it happened with those who, following the law of Moses, studied the prophets and understood the background of the teachings until Jesus came.

29. Instead of the psalms that you raised in the First Time to your Father, today you come to converse spiritually, through spiritual prayer.

30. How slowly humanity is moving towards the perfection of its worship of God.

31. Whenever I come to you with a new lesson, it seems to you too advanced for your evolution, but understand that I entrust you with an era so that throughout it you can understand and assimilate it into your life.

32. Each time death harvests the existence of your envelope, it is like a truce for the spirit, which, when reincarnated, arises with new forces and greater light, to continue studying that divine lesson that had not concluded. Thus ripens through the ages the wheat that is your spirit.

Love one another!

I have revealed much to you about the spiritual life, but I tell you that it is not necessary for now that you know everything, but only what is essential for your arrival at the eternal abode. There he will tell you everything that is destined for your knowledge.

33. in order to reveal new teachings to you at this time, I opened the era of light and of the spirit, communicating through the understandings of rude and ignorant, but simple men; tomorrow, when you have understood and practiced my first lessons, you will have the spirit-to-Spirit communication that is the highest ideal to which you can aspire; but for that form of communication to spread among men, time will pass, and for it to be perfected, you do not know how many eras will pass.

34. At all times I have sought the way to speak to you, to make myself heard and understood, but you have not always been willing or prepared to hear the divine voice. Faced with your materialism, I have had to humanize myself to be felt, to make my communication reach you through the human spokesman, as you have seen that I have done in this time; but I have announced to you that in 1950 this form of communication will end.

35. People: do not forget that on this day your Father has told you, that he has always looked for a way to communicate with you; in order for you to recognize that tomorrow, when you no longer receive my word through the pedestal, you will have entered a new stage in which you will begin to glimpse the true communication between your spirit and the Divine Spirit.

36. At this time, the spirits who feel the presence of the Holy Spirit rejoice, in that light that illuminates the understandings and fills hearts with joy. Those who have not prepared their sensibilities to receive me are those who thirst and lack peace. It is then that I say to those who receive divine inspiration, to call their brothers and awaken them with the good news of my spiritual arrival.

37. This life is a continuous test for man, from the moment he is born until he ceases to exist.

38. Human life is for the spirit the crucible where it is purified and the anvil where it is forged. It is essential that man have faith in his spirit, faith in his Creator and love for his destiny, in order to be able to patiently carry his cross to the top of his Calvary.

39. Without faith in eternal life, man falls into despair, in the midst of trials, without high ideals, he sinks into materialism, and without the strength to endure disappointment, he loses himself in despondency or vice.

40. Humanity knows all this from its own experience, because it has been necessary for it to know the painful side of life and darkness, so that it can distinguish the light when it reaches its pupils, that is why I have told you on this day, that there is joy in the spirits who have opened their eyes to contemplate the divine light of wisdom and love.

Love one another!

41. Truly I tell you, many will flee from my Doctrine for fear of spiritualizing them, but it will not be reason or the spirit that speaks in them, but the low passions of matter
42. A spirit, when he lives attached to the truth, flees from materialism as one who moves away from an infected environment. The high spirit finds his happiness only in the moral, where there is peace, where love dwells.
43. My light that is vibrating in all men, is an implacable but sweet voice, that speaks incessantly to all hearts.
44. Do not be afraid for those who apparently persist in not listening to me, because at a certain moment, they may be the most fervent, the most firm in their conversion and in their faith. Don't you remember Paul's conversion?
45. There is no hurry in my steps, I know that in the midst of eternity my children will sometime look for me with a longing for salvation; haste should only exist in men, because the more they delay their regeneration, the more they prolong their atonement.
46. The light of this Third Time has filled your heart with the most lively joy, hope in the peace of the world is reborn in you. Every day you are more engaged in the works of your Lord, in an increasing longing to work in this Work of spirituality. Verily I say to you, all the time that you occupy in my Work, I will reward you; but do not abandon your duties on earth to practice the spiritual, until you are sure that I have commanded you, then you will have to leave not only your work, but even yours, to go on the roads of different regions to bring the good news to your brothers.
47. Among this people, there will arise those who will give themselves to my service, they are preparing not to falter tomorrow in the trials. Not all the people will know how to prepare for the fight, because you already see that many, hearing my living word, have not been moved, nor is their heart willing to obey.
48. If you could look at the spiritual world that watches over you, how it suffers before the hardness and disobedience of the people's hearts; if you could hear its spiritual soil! Why do you not reciprocate that infallible comfort that these beings give you? Have you not found in it your sweet and compassionate brother, your faithful and disinterested friend?
49. Think that very soon you will be in spirit and that what you have sown on this earth will be what you will reap. The passage from this life to the next does not cease to be a severe and strict judgment for the spirit. No one escapes that judgment, even if he considers himself the most worthy of my servants.

Love one another!

50. My will is that from the moment you enter that infinite abode, you will stop experiencing the anxieties of the Earth and begin to feel the sweetness and joy of having climbed one step further on the path.

51. Do not leave anything pending in the world, love humanity as your own family; pray for men, no matter how distant they may be from you, as you pray when one of your own is missing, absent and suffering; love the child and in doing so, think of all those who hurry in that hour the cup of bitterness; leave with your life, a trail of light along your passage through the vast sea that you are crossing. Do not sleep while my light vibrates in your consciences, look that those who watch are the ones who receive my inspiration to then deliver my message to their brothers. Stay away from everything superfluous and bad, so that at all times you may be worthy to possess my grace.

52. Know how to receive into your bosom the spirit who comes to Earth to incarnate in the child, as well as know how to accompany with your prayer the one who breaks away from his body and says goodbye to you; lead him with your prayer, to the threshold of the Beyond. Love and serve your fellow human beings at all times and in whatever trance they go through.

53. Live always alert, so that you can forgive from the heart those who offended you; meditate in advance, that whoever causes offense to his brother, it is because he lacks light, and I tell you that forgiveness is the only thing that can make light in those hearts. Resentment or revenge, increase the darkness and attract pain.

54. Be prudent and strong in trials, so that you may leave that seed in the hearts of your children and be remembered with affection and gratitude as you remember the patriarchs of the Early times, those who left you their inheritance of faith, of strength; like Abraham, whom a whole people recognized and loved as a father.

55. Today are the counsels that I have given you, but they are heavenly counsels, because I take pleasure in speaking to you as a Father, feeling in my Spirit your love as children.

56. People: At that time John, also called the Baptist, baptized with water those who believed in his prophecy. That act was a symbol of the purification from original sin. He told the multitudes who came as far as the Jordan to listen to the words of the procurator. behold, I baptize you with water, but the One is coming who will baptize you with the fire of the Holy Spirit.

57. From that divine fire all the spirits were born, they sprouted clean and pure, but if on their way they have become stained with the sin that disobedience brought with it, the fire of my Spirit comes again to pour out on them to destroy their sin, erase their stains and return them to their original purity.

Love one another!

58. If that spiritual baptism, instead of being understood as the purification that man attains through an act of true repentance before his Creator, you turn it into a rite and confine yourself with the symbolism of an act, verily, I tell you, your spirit will attain nothing.

59. Those who do this still live in the time of the Baptist and it is as if they had not believed in his prophecies or in his words that spoke of spiritual baptism, of the divine fire with which God purifies and eternalizes his children in the light.

60. John called men in their adult age, to pour out on them those waters symbol of purification. They came to him when they were already aware of their actions and could already have the firm will to persevere on the path of goodness, righteousness and justice. See how humanity has preferred to practice the symbolic act of purification by means of water, instead of true regeneration through repentance and the firm purpose of amendment that are born of love for God. The ceremony does not imply any effort, on the other hand, purifying the heart and striving to remain in purity, it does mean for man effort, vigil and even sacrifice, that is why men have preferred to cover their sins with appearance, concretizing themselves to the fulfillment of ceremonies, acts and rites that in no way affect their moral or spiritual condition, if conscience does not intervene in them.

61. Disciples: That is the reason why I do not want there to be rites among you, so that by fulfilling them, you will not forget what truly reaches the spirit.

62. Original sin does not come from the union of man and woman: I, the Creator, established that union by telling both of you to "Grow and multiply" That was the first law. The sin has been in the abuse they have made of the gift of free will.

63. Prepare yourselves to continue receiving into your bosom the children that I entrust to you. Have full knowledge of your mission and your responsibility, you will find that light in my Doctrine.

64. Know that the spirit, when he incarnates, brings with him all his gifts, that his destiny is already written and that therefore, he has nothing to receive in the world. He brings a message or a restitution. Sometimes he comes to gather a seed and sometimes to settle a debt; but he always comes to receive in this life, a lesson of love that his Father gives him.

65. Those of you who are leading your children through this life, make them, past the age of innocence, penetrate the path of my Law, awaken their feelings, reveal to them their gifts and always lead them to the good, and in truth I tell you, whoever you brought to Me in this way, will be bathed in the light that springs from that divine fire, which is my love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. When I come to you as a judge, you listen again to that voice of Jehovah that made your body and spirit tremble at the First Time. Then, men covered their ears pretending not to listen to the omnipotent voice of their Father; today I say to this people: do not cover your ears, do not close your heart to me, look at how my infinite grace extends throughout the universe. Fear not, I only want the offering of your love.
2. He who has failed has offended me, have you failed? If so, recognize that I have also come down as a Father and as a Teacher, to forgive you and teach you again the way of salvation.
3. My judgment is one of love, not revenge. If I come to touch men with my justice, it is because I want to save them; if I come to take away their scepter from kings, it is because I want them humble; if I come to reclaim those who lead humanity, it is because I have seen that it is not love, peace or justice that they have sown in the hearts of their peoples. I only see that the fields have been sown with death, desolation, unrest and misery,
4. The dead, from their silence, cry out for justice, and those who are hungry for body and spirit, are full of hatred in their heart, to overflow it when the moment comes.
5. Humanity: I seek your reconciliation. You do not live in my Law; your harmony with your God and with everything created is broken. You do not love each other among brothers, and that is the secret of happiness that Jesus revealed to you. And if you have lost the harmony between one and the other, do you think you can preserve it with the elements of Creation?
6. The hand of man has unleashed justice on himself; a whirlwind is stirring in his brain, in his heart. a storm rages and all this manifests itself also in Nature, its elements are unleashed, the seasons become inclement, pests appear and multiply. It is that your sins grow producing diseases and foolish and reckless science does not recognize the order of what is arranged by the Creator.
7. If I only told you, you would not believe it, it is necessary that you feel the result of your works so that you will be disappointed; precisely you are now at that moment of your life, in which you are going to see the result of everything that you have been sowing.
8. You, who have heard this word, ask me in your heart why I do not stop this disaster that men with their science have been preparing, to which I answer you: it is necessary for man to hurry the chalice he has filled; it has been a long time that the nations with their differences of races and their ambitions, have been preparing the fight to destroy themselves, it is only my charity that has stopped him, but that proof of divine mercy humanity has not wanted to see or understand.

Love one another!

9. I am only going to leave him for a moment and that moment of justice will be enough for him to remember the love of his Creator, because no one can exist without my Law or without my Peace.

10. People, who have had my presence as a judge, decide if my justice resembles yours, ask yourselves if I am worthy to be feared or to be loved.

11. Behold how the blessed seed of this Doctrine has spread, in fulfillment of my word. From the big cities he has come down to the humble regions crossing roads and bridging distances. It will not die, it may cease to exist in a heart that dies to faith, but by then, it will already be sown in other hearts. My word will leave this earth to go to other regions looking for hearts where to germinate, no one will be able to prevent the spreading of this Doctrine.

12. Even now the wheat is mixed with the human seed, with all its imperfections, because you have not realized the essence of my Doctrine; but when you open the eyes of the spirit and your senses awaken to the truth, you will contemplate the divine purity of this revelation and then embrace it with all the love and zeal of your heart. you will carry it clean and pure, to make it known to humanity, divided and far from the path of my Law.

13. If you think that my word only speaks to those present, you are mistaken, my word is for everyone who receives it, whether today, tomorrow or in a long time, the same will be that he receives it through a spokesman, by a witness or through a writing.

14. To the present and to the future, your Father says: If you want to be sowers of truth, cultivators of the spiritual, companions of peace, recognize the perfection of my seed and cleanse your Heart. I will be raising one by one in the fight pointing out roads and cleaning counties.

15. Apparently it will be material needs that will take you to other places, but the truth will be that it was your mission that raised you up to show you the extension of uncultivated or half-cultivated lands, so that in them you may deposit the blessed seed that my Spirit has given you in this Third Time.

16. Pray for all the farmers, brothers. all of you, unite yourselves in a prayer of equality and fraternity; watch over the congregations, whether they are large or small, near or distant.

17. Let the sap of the tree of life flow through your being, so that your fruits may also be of life.

18. My teaching is profound, disciples, but I have put at your disposal the means for you to come to understand it. Receive the beings from the Beyond that I have sent you with a message of light to help you move from the spiritual to the divine. Listen to them, advising you to remove all materiality from your heart, so that you can transport yourselves to the divine. Who better to talk to you about spirituality than them? When they mention the spiritual mansion, they speak to you with knowledge, because from there they come to you.

Love one another!

19. These beings passed through the crucible of purification; their struggle, their repentance for past faults, their experience and spiritual elevation, have been the merits that I have found in them to send them to manifest among my people.

20. They are clean and can speak of cleanliness to the world; they love me and they love you, therefore, they have the right to speak of love, they are saturated with health and for that reason they can impart health to the sick.

21. I have sent them as an example for humanity; imitate them, making yourselves worthy to speak of love, of regeneration, of peace, of spirituality. If you do so, truly I tell you, there will be no hypocrite Pharisees among my people, of those who took great care of material appearance and hid rot and mire in the heart.

22. Those who receive the vibration of these beings in their minds and those who listen to their messages, must let them manifest themselves in fullness so that their memory is imperishable in the heart of the multitude and their seed is immortal in the heart of humanity, look that their communication with this people will end in 1950.

23. The inspiration of that upper world will continue to guide and inspire. to the disciples of the Lord, although I warn you that of time. in time, your communication will become more subtle and higher as your spirituality becomes greater.

24. This path is to go through it without stopping, although I must also tell you that it must be crossed step by step, and not in a dizzying race.

25. Do not sink into routine, understand when the time has come to take one more step on the path. Do not get ahead of yourself in giving it, but do not delay in doing it either.

26. The way not to stop is to stick to my word, turning away from every external act with which you would like to replace the true fulfillment of my teaching.

27. You also have me as a Teacher, as a Father, as a Doctor. Open your hearts, O multitudes, who come with your burden of sorrows. Close your eyes for a moment to the mundane and you will feel the presence of the spiritual. The fatigued walker will perceive the shadow of an invisible tree that covers and comforts him. The heart in need of affection will feel that it has penetrated into the divine home where the voice of the Father is heard, as if it were a concert. The sick person will have the feeling that a sweet and merciful hand has passed over his wound filling it with balm and soothing his pain.

Love one another!

28. Learn to draw near to Me, learn to ask Me, to receive and to wait; then you will see how the wonders become evident in your life.

29. This is a time when man will put his part of spirituality and faith so that the new miracles will be performed. The world would like to see again the works that Jesus did before men, to which I say to you, that you should not insist on continuing to live an era that has already passed. You have entered a new time, and in it I will give you lessons that have not yet been revealed to you and I will repeat my works, but now in a more spiritual way.,

30. You must be watching, disciples, because I will not only speak to you through this channel, I will also seek to communicate with your spirit in the moments when your body sleeps, I will teach you to penetrate with preparation into that rest and for your spirit to detach itself so that it rises to the regions of light, from where it will take the prophecy to illuminate its path, transmitting its message to the understanding.

31. The disciple who knows how to receive his Master the instant he seeks him has no stumbling block on the path, nor does he consider himself weak or alone in the struggle.

32. Come to understand what is the spirituality that I want from you, so that you will not be confused in a fanatical mysticism, which instead of making it easier for your spirit to understand the divine lessons, puts new darkness before them.

33. Prepare yourselves, disciples, let your spirit begin to contemplate the life that awaits it, that world that holds in its arcana infinite greatness for the children of my Divinity.

34. Do not delay the hour when your spirit will have that joy.

35. My people grows, multiplies, not only on Earth but also in the spiritual valley. Among those spiritual multitudes are those who had blood ties with you, whether they were your parents, brothers or children.

36. Do not be surprised if I tell you that my people are so numerous, that the Earth could not shelter them and that they must be much larger still. When I have already gathered him and not a single one of my children is missing, the infinite will be given his abode, that valley of light and grace that never ends.

37. Here on Earth I only come to prepare you, to instruct you with my Doctrine, so that you may know how to approach that life. This humanity is only a portion of the people of God, it is necessary that everyone knows these explanations so that they can direct their life towards the ideal of perfection. This divine message, which is my word poured out from the lips of the human mouthpiece, I want it to reach all humanity. My word is the bell that is calling the world, its essence will move the peoples, making them wake up to meditate on spirituality, on the destiny of the spirit after this life.

38. As long as religions remain immersed in their sleep and do not break their routine, there will be no awakening in the spirit, no knowledge of spiritual ideals; and therefore, there will be no peace among men, nor will charity appear; the light that resolves serious human conflicts will not be able to shine.

39. To you who listen to me, I have called you "my people", because I have entrusted my Doctrine to you, in order that you may invite men, not precisely to join you, because you still suffer from imperfections, but to truly penetrate the way of my Law, which is perfect.

40. There are many men far from you, scattered among the peoples of the Earth, hidden among the great multitudes, who are children of my people because they live in my Law and their ideal is to achieve spirituality by love for their fellow men, inspired by the Father. On the other hand, among these multitudes who come day after day to listen to my word, there are those who, despite having listened to me for years and years, I still cannot consider them as my people, because instead of love they practice ill will; instead of charity they demonstrate selfishness; instead of carrying an ideal of spiritual perfection, selfishness predominates in them and they follow everything that flatters their vanity.

41. I said to my disciples at that time, "I am coming to make you heirs of my Kingdom," but do not believe that because they were with their Master, they became worthy of that grace; remember that there was one who, having sat down many times to eat with his Lord and having lived with Him and listened to his word many times, was not worthy to receive that Heavenly Testament that the Master entrusted to his disciples the last time he was at the table with them.

42. The Kingdom of the Father is the inheritance of all the children, it is essential to achieve this grace through great merits of the spirit. I want you not to look at it as impossible, to reach the grace that brings you closer to Me.

43. Do not be sad when you hear in my word that you will reach the Promised Land with great efforts and hard work. Rejoice, because the one who directs his life towards that idea, does not suffer from disappointments or is disappointed. It will not happen with him as it happens to many who are going after the glory of the world, and who after a lot of struggle, do not get it, or those who reach it soon have the pain of seeing it vanish into nothingness.

44. Disciples my Doctrine teaches you that without taking a step away from your human duties and the noble ideals of this life, you always carry before you the desire to walk towards God making yourself worthy to achieve the reward that He has promised you.

Love one another!

45. The body is so united to the spirit that the spirit, when he knows that his body is suffering, feels as if evil were in him. Take my balm spirits, and anoint your body, over put it to pain, impart faith and hope.

46. You come with sadness to mourn your sorrows next to Me, and the Master is saying: that even when he has a lot of pain to heal among his children, he extends his charity and touches you, so that you feel the miracle of his caress and rise up healthy bearing witness, so that others may come to Him.

47. Those who know how to overcome the tribulations of life, never let them disturb their spirit; here they are, receiving my presence with great joy in their hearts as disciples; while he who has allowed himself to be overcome by trials, comes sad, defeated; instead of raising a spiritual hymn to Me, he shows me only his pain and his tears. I receive this painful offering, but I want you to turn it into an offering of faith, trust and peace.

48. Are you asking me if there is nothing I can do for you? Ah, my little ones, before you ask me, I have placed in your hands what you need! but busy in the struggle and walking without the light of faith, you do not know how to feel my presence, or see what I leave in your spirit, or contemplate the light of the new day that only awaits your awakening so that you can see it shine in fullness.

49. Ask those who have seen the miracle performed in their life, ask those who come with the joy reflected on their face, they with their testimony will open a book for you, where you will read a story that will be an example and an encouragement for your faith.

50. How can you think that I love the one who suffers the most less? How can you take your pain as a sign that I don't love you? If you knew that it was precisely for your sake that I have come, have I not told you that the righteous are safe and that the healthy do not need a doctor? If you feel sick and in your examination in the light of your conscience you judge yourselves sinners, be sure that it is you whom I have come to seek.

51. If you believe that God has ever wept, it will certainly not have been for those who are enjoying His glory, but for those who are lost or crying.

52. This is the perfect way, because in my word is the light that leads to perfection.

53. My Spirit penetrates into his true temple which is your heart. From there you have called me and asked me to come and give you my word and here you have me.

54. You believe in Me and you pronounce my name with faith. Whoever keeps my teachings and puts them into practice, he will be saved.

Love one another!

55. Your spirit will not be able to die in the darkness of confusion, because the blood shed from the cross on Calvary encouraged your spirit to set out on the path of its evolution, following in the footsteps of its Master. I bought you at the price of my blood, at the price of love. You have been prepared ever since to rise from the dead.

56. By listening to me in this way, you intimately confess yourselves sinners before Me, and when you feel that your spirit calms down because you have heard the claim of conscience, you penetrate into a communion of love with my Divinity.

57. This love that approaches you is the door of the Kingdom of Heaven that opens before your spirit as an eternal invitation.

58. Who of my children has become weak in his faith and is lost on the way, that I do not approach him to give him life? Who of those who suffer in silence has not been heard by Me? Who who has been orphaned on earth has not felt in his life the presence and consolation of Mary who comforts him? Who, when he is dying, has not heard in his conscience the same voice that said to Lazarus, "Get up and walk"? I am Christ, the consolation and the light of the world. I follow you in your faith or in your doubt, because I know that even the one who denies me the most will at last be with me, overwhelmed by the weight of his works.

59. Come to Me, all you who are burdened with sorrows, and with my word, I will give you purity. When you stop listening to me you will still feel my sweet company.

60. Receive my light so that it may illuminate the path of your existence and at the hour of death you will be freed from confusion; and in an instant, when you pass the thresholds of the Beyond, you will know who you are, who you have been and who you will be.

HEAR MY PARABLE:

61. "There was a king surrounded by his subjects celebrating a victory over a rebellious people, who became a vassal.

62. The King and his people were singing victory. The King thus spoke to his people: "The strength of my arm has overcome and has made my kingdom grow, but I will love those who are defeated as I love you, I will give them lands in my domains to cultivate the vine and just as I love them, I want you to love them."

63. Time passed, and from among that people conquered by the love and justice of that King arose a man rebellious to his Lord, whom he tried to kill in his sleep, only wounding him.

64. Faced with his crime, that man fled full of fear to hide in the darkest jungles, while the King mourned the ingratitude and lack of his subject because his heart loved him very much.

Love one another!

65. The man, in his flight, fell prisoner of a people enemy of the king, and when he was accused of being a subject of the one whom they did not recognize, he was afraid, loudly told them that he was a fugitive, because he had just killed the King, but he was not believed and sentenced to die at the stake after tormenting him. When the bleeding man was about to be thrown into the fire, the King managed to pass by with his subjects, who were looking for the rebel, and seeing what was happening there, that gentleman raised his arm, telling the executioners. What are you doing, rebellious people? And at the majestic imperious voice of the King, the rebels fell prostrate before Him.

66. The subject irigrato, who continued to be tied up by the fire waiting only for the fulfillment of his sentence, was absorbed and surprised to see that the king had not died and that he was approaching step by step towards him to untie him. She took him away from the fire and healed his wounds; then she brought wine to his hands, dressed him in a white and new garment and after placing a kiss on his forehead, she told him. "My subject, why have you left my side? Why did you hurt me? Do not answer me in words, I just want you to know that I love you, and I tell you right now: Come and follow me. That people who witnessed these scenes of charity, marveling and converted, exclaimed: "Hosanna, hosanna, declaring himself an obedient subject of that king. That people only received benefits from their Lord and the subject who one day rebelled, surprised by so much love of his king, made the purpose of paying those tests of affection without limit, loving and venerating forever his Lord, surrendered to his works so perfect.

67. Behold, people, my word is very clear. Men fight against me and lose their friendship for me.

68. What harm have I done to men? What harm does my Doctrine and my Law cause them?

69. know that as many times as you offend me, you will be forgiven the same, but then you will be obliged to forgive your enemies as many times they offend you.

70. I love you, and if you take one step away from Me, I will take the same step to bring me closer to you. If you close the doors of your temple to me, I will knock on them until you open to enter it.

71. If you believe that you are already redeemed because I was on the cross, also understand that you will have to make yourselves worthy of that ransom and follow that example.

72. Before Me are those who have sinned and today are blessed, those who blasphemed and today receive sweetness on their lips; the adulteresses who had no peace in their conscience, have been forgiven so that they do not sin again, because I am the resurrection and the life.

73. If you are the disciples and heirs of the Word, never blaspheme, see that I have given you a sweet language to express every idea, every inspiration and every feeling.

75. Be the good people, be like a clean mirror so that everyone may believe that I am with you.

1. If the sheep do not call the shepherd, he seeks them out to lead them to the pasture.
2. Disciples: I come to prepare you so that after my departure you will rise from region to region giving the good news that the Master was among men. By that time, the brains of my spokespersons will have closed to this communication, my divine ray and my spiritual children will no longer manifest themselves in this form. Everything will change after 1950, but if those who were pedestals and faculties persevere in their preparation and elevation, they will be the ones who first reach spirit-to-Spirit communication to teach it to the multitudes.
3. The lips of my disciples will be prepared to give comfort to those in need and their home will be ready to receive those who come in search of peace.
4. Of my farmers, not all will leave to make my known, some will remain waiting for their brothers, while others will go to look for them in villages, counties and nations.
5. The spiritual beings who have guarded you will be close to you and will give you inspiration, strength and faith on your way.
6. For now listen to Me, learn from Me, practice and pray for this world that perishes and bleeds. If you expect that only the Father will be revealed in the world, you are in error, you have to bear much of the weight of this cross.
7. May your sorrows not make you forget those who live in continuous despair and anguish. Great are your afflictions and difficulties in daily life, but you cannot compare them with those that burden some of your brothers.
8. It is good that I find some hearts deaf to my call for now, far away from Me, occupied in their ambitions and hatreds; but why are there moments when I also find you deaf to my inspirations and you show yourselves negligent in the spiritual path that I have traced for you? Do not pretend that it is the hardness of your matter and the accumulation of your needs and concerns that keep you away from Me.
9. I am everywhere, at every step you can find the opportunity to put our teachings into practice, because there will always be time and opportunity for the spirit to fulfill his mission, even in material works.
10. Meditate five minutes each day on your works, judge yourself and form the purpose of improving yourself more and more.
11. Prayer is a bulwark, a fortress and a shield of the spirit, always take refuge in it and you will not be weak.

Love one another!

12. I have come to speak to you with a simple and understandable verb to all, I have not come to surprise you with flowery language or incomprehensible philosophies, or to speak to you in strange languages. The greatness of my word is in its simplicity, seek it and analyze it.

13. Confess yourselves spiritually with me, knowing that I discover what you keep most deeply; let true repentance be born in your heart and strive to reach Me more and more cleanly.

14. Learn all this and on your way you will be recognized as my disciples. There will be those who, when contemplating your healing gift, want to buy your secret, some in good faith, others for profit; but to them you will say that the secret to healing the pain of the brother is charity, and that gift everyone possesses.

15. You have gifts with which you will be able to surprise the world. Through the gift of clairvoyance, you will be prophesying, anticipating the predictions of science itself.

16. Through my farmers, even the most humble ones, I am doing wonders. It is the time when the clumsy and the rude thank me because I have put my charity in them to make them my servants, because in a man of rude understanding there can be hidden a high spirit that only I discover.

17. I have seen many sighing and sobbing on the edge of the precipice, because their spirit has been reluctant and indomitable; and their spirit, which struggles to destroy the errors of the flesh, has risen in prayer to tell me: "Lord, if you do not come to my aid, I perish" And the Master has approached to subdue with a word or with a test that rebellious matter, and to give the spirit power to overcome human passions and weaknesses.

18. These are the ones who, being poor in spirit and humble on Earth, today have clothed themselves with strength and their lips have been unleashed speaking of profound teachings and with love they are healing diseases that for others had been impossible to cure.

19. Would you know how to answer my questions about my previous lesson, disciples?

20. The book remains open there, on the same page that I showed you last time, but it is necessary to move on, without stopping; therefore, I make my word to be kept in your conscience so that it comes to you when you need it.

21. I am the book of life, I will make each one of you a little book of knowledge, for this I am writing my teachings in your heart. Tomorrow, this teaching will reach all peoples and homes, but from now on you can say that you had the privilege of listening to me through this communication.

Love one another!

22. I called those who thought they were disinherited, those who seemed to be left over among humanity, those who suffered humiliations, even from their own, and I deposited in their hands this book of love.

23. You have seen the dawn of a new era begin and therefore you cannot say that you have already seen everything, because I am carefully preparing you, for tomorrow, when you see this teaching shine, do not be confused or blinded by its light. From disciples you will become soldiers defenders of the truth, for which I am revealing to you what are the weapons with which you will have to fight; but if you have forgotten it, it is not for nothing that I remind you that the weapons with which you will be invincible are: prayer, charity, forgiveness, sincerity, gentleness, zeal for the just and the good and love.

24. You came to dwell on Earth, and when your disappointments and hardships made you ask the Arcanum what your destiny really is, you immediately had a divine answer, when you were called to listen to my word, which at the same time is caress and balm, it is also Law.

25. Listening to me speak as a Father. As a Teacher and as God, you will orient your life knowing that the end for which you were created and sent into the world is to reach Me.

26. Who but Me would have revealed to you your destiny and revealed to you your gifts?

27. John, my disciple, saw in his ecstasy this time, the development of your gifts; but he only saw them, it was necessary that the Divine Lamb came among you to untie the Sixth Seal of that book of eternal wisdom and perfect justice so that you could understand it.

28. The path that is ours to you today is illuminated with the light of truth, so that you may come to Me. On this path you will find many trials, you will have many reasons to study my Law, to know your destiny and to devote yourselves to its fulfillment.

29. Every day brings its trials and I look at how you receive them and the fruit that you present to me. Many of these trials are small and with them you could start a life of amendment and improvement; but without analyzing them you discard them, and if you do this, how can you prepare for greater trials? The judgment that I make of your works is not rigorous, it is the judgment of a loving Father who loves you, who advises you to always go forward in the exercise of my Law, always showing your peace and spiritual strength; but I seek and love all my children, I do not ignore the one who commits a crime, but I forgive him and offer him an opportunity to make amends and return to the way. Among those who follow me, there are those who have not been able to get rid of their sins, but others who, fervently when they think they have conquered the triumph, when touched in their self-love or in their pride, forget me in praise and give rise to their evil inclinations to manifest themselves. Who can hide from Me, who knows your thoughts and the origin of your being?

Love one another!

30. As long as man cannot penetrate his brother's heart to defend his cause, I take it, just or unjust, I defend you and I love you.

31. Hear my words, so that you will not stumble, nor bring a cup of bitterness to your lips. Why don't you want to understand your destiny of love, your great mission? Why do you not imitate my works, feeling that you are capable of doing what I ask of you, if you are the bearer of my Being and therefore endowed with great attributes?

32. I do not want you to feel hurt when you receive my word, but rather, I want to revive you with it. If I have ever said to you, "Your will is mine," think that when you submit to my laws, you are doing my will. I approve of your good purposes and determinations, and you have felt my peace and my blessing descend to your heart, when you fulfill your duty to love.

33. Be busy doing good, pray fervently and love your fellow men, let your spirit grow and feel strong and great in the fulfillment of its mission.

34. It has pleased me that you are poor at this time, but I will not leave you without your daily bread. If I withhold anything from you, instead I give you the bread of the spirit, the bread of eternal life and I appoint you benefactors of humanity.

35. The testing times announced by Me, through Damiana Oviedo, have arrived. Nations are bickering in their wars and famine and plague are looming over humanity. The elements of nature are unleashed. I said through the first spokesman: "The times will change and when you see that human science gives great signs of progress, you must do penance and learn from Me, to bring a message of peace to humanity."

36. You are all enlightened and even in the most remote corner of the Earth where there is a disciple of mine, my Spirit will be there pouring light and strength, solving problems and smoothing obstacles. You who have been appointed by Me at this time, intercede for those who have not come to know this revelation that I am making to you.

37. Rest in this moment, in which I bless you and give you my peace! Because you have to fulfill your restitution, for that I have granted you the grace to reincarnate. My love gives you this opportunity, so that you can reach Me, how should I want you to arrive in my presence, with pain in your spirit? But you who listen to me, know that my word will not depart from your conscience; but how many there are to whom, having called them, they do not want to come! They are the ones who go after pleasure as the supreme ideal of their life. and they have by law nothing but the dictates of their free will. Not because they don't want to follow me, I abandon them, on the contrary, they are the ones I look for the most, because I know that they will be the ones who have to lift their eyes to Me, when the pain is very great in their heart.

Love one another!

38. In those moments of repentance I receive and forgive everyone; but while some manage to regenerate for their whole life, others, when they have regained peace or health, when they feel strong again, forget my proof of love and move away even more. They have not been able to take advantage of the opportunity that life has given them to return to the true path. Then I call you to the Afterlife, so that your spirit can meditate on itself, outside the influence of matter and everything that bound it to the world.

39. How many beings I call day after day! and they will purify themselves in the light of my divine justice before returning and those who cleanse themselves in this way will not be stained with the mud again, because they will come with the firm purpose of doing meritorious works, pleasant and worthy works before the Lord.

40. How many of you will have to return to Earth in search of the mission you left unfulfilled or in search of an opportunity to repair the mistakes made!

41. Think that many of you have had enough time to listen to Me and learn from Me, but that, finding yourselves in the last stages of your life, you will not have time to sow what you have accumulated with so much love in your spirit. Do not be afraid, I am life and I will make you live so that you sow in the hearts, that seed that you so long to cultivate.

42. Among the crowd that listens to me, there is no shortage, he who, believing that he knows a lot about the lessons of God, inwardly doubts this word and denies it; but what he will not be able to deny is that his heart has trembled and has beaten in an unknown way. He will try to forget certain words that I addressed to him and he will not be able to, and he will even lose a few hours of sleep listening to the echo of this humble and simple word. It is that his conscience will tell him that behind that word there was a light that discovered what was hidden in his heart and spoke to him about what only he knew.

43. Here is one more page of the Book of Life, written by my charity; I have come to speak to your spirit because in all times I have communicated with humanity. The way in which I now manifest myself is not new or strange; only to the one who has materialized it may seem strange or impossible, but for the one who expected me, it is the most natural and just thing to hear the voice of his Father in himself. Only the virgins who knew how to watch with their lamps lit heard the voice of the bridegroom when he arrived at midnight.

44. There have been beings whom I have had to call for the first, second. and the third time, some who, in addition to listening to me, had to search everything to ignite their faith, and there have been those who blasphemed my Work, but later, when I did the miracle on their way, they came repentant and afraid to confess that the speaker was the Word of God, the Divine Teacher. That is my best teaching, you have patience with your brothers, when teaching them doubt, never return blasphemy for blasphemy.

Love one another!

45. Blessed are those who try to hide from my eyes the pain that humanity causes them with its mockery and its hardness of heart. Blessed are those who do not complain and instead thank me, because despite their trials, my grace follows them everywhere.

46. What can you hide from my gaze that she will not discover? I will reward you, you will always see the iris of peace appear after the storms. Continue to treasure my Doctrine, put it into practice so that charity may be established in your heart.

47. Among you are those who yesterday took pleasure in evil, those who indulged in hatred and perversity, and instead felt horror at love, charity and humility. Now they are recreated with their transformation, with their regeneration. Your spirit is already taking power over your matter. Now you take pleasure in doing good, you experience pleasure in doing charity, and you feel satisfaction in being meek and humble; you begin to feel horror and aversion. There is not one who, having listened to me, has not modified his life in something. Who is he who, having received the balm of the Doctor of doctors on his body and spirit, has not felt true health pass through his being? How many miracles has my word alone done! I have given you everything to help you out of your lethargy, because at this time I have not come to immolate myself as a man, but to inspire you to do merits to deserve your salvation. There is an arcane about you that is an inheritance for your spirit, when will you possess everything that I have destined for you?

48. Today no one can know how much he has achieved.

49. How needy you feel at times! Some cry and without knowing why, the disease persists in them; others, being parents, wonder why if they have watched over their family and have cultivated it with love, they receive only fruits of misunderstanding and ingratitude. And the women who have gone after affection and support on Earth, also wonder why in life they have not been able to calm that feeling of tenderness. The brothers, carrying the same blood, feel distant, they do not love each other, nor do they understand each other. You ask yourselves the cause of all this, and you fail to understand why the good fails in your eyes. I tell you: when the good of some comes to find an echo in others and their hearts feel rejoiced by it; when the virtues or spiritual values have been duly esteemed, then hunger, thirst for justice, love and understanding, will depart from the heart of humanity.

50. I also tell you, that here on Earth, you do not know spiritually who you are, nor do you know who the spirit of your wife or husband, of your or children is. Only in this way have you been able to bear the weight of the many expiations (atonements or reparations) that form your cross. Carry this cross with love, do not try to know for now who or who you can be, take comfort in knowing that you are all brothers and sons of one Father, and that among brothers, there should be no enemies. Love one another and you will advance on the path of evolution.

Love one another!

51. Eden, long since closed its doors to humanity, disappeared and its fragrance rose to infinity. the Earth then became a valley of tears and spiritual restitution began, the field of struggle where the spirit is purified; but a paradise better than the one you lost is the one you will find, he awaits you with his doors open. Pray that you receive my strength and you can continue advancing on your path of spiritual evolution, but do it with the spirit, do not do it with learned prayers no matter how beautiful they are, if you do not feel them. Then love and forgive your brothers. You will see how much sweetness descends from the consciousness to the heart when you practice my teachings.

52. It has been a long time since I have been preparing you, because they will come to point out to you as disrupters of order and spiritual peace in the world, because they will slander you. My teaching comes to prepare those who tomorrow will be the patient, humble and meek teachers, those who with love answer all the questions of their brothers.

53. Each of my lessons is a volume where you can learn everything that your spirit needs to teach your brothers later. My teaching is preparing for you a new world, a new life from this Earth; but when I speak to you of this truth and you think of the war that the nations sustain, where there is only pain, anguish and misery, you judge this word impossible to realize, but, in truth I tell you, in addition to being a doctrine what I teach you, is also a prophecy.

54. If your science and sin caused you to lose the paradise of peace, purity and fraternity, spirituality will return to you that grace, which I will be better, esteemed than the high degree of evolution that you possess today than when you were in a state of innocence.

55. Humble and simple is my lesson, so that the children can understand it. Despite being communicating through sinful matters, my word is leaving as an imprint of love in the heart of the people. This form of communication is one more proof of humility that I have given to my children. At every step I teach you this virtue, because it is one of those that the spirit must practice. To some I have given a humble origin in the world so that they may imitate the Master in their lives, to others, they have been given a rich home, so that they may also imitate Jesus, who, being King, knew how to leave his throne to come to serve the poor, the sick and sinners.

56. So great is the merit of the one who knows how to descend from his position to serve his fellow men, whatever they may be, as of the one who rises from his humble and ignored life to the height of the righteous, by the way of love.

57. Ah, if only a humble heart could arise from among you that could serve as an example to others! because how many of those who wear an expression of humility on their face, are sowing the pride they carry hidden in their vain heart. I wanted that mask of hypocrisy to fall from this people, so that humanity may recognize you by your humility, as a disciple of the Holy Spirit.

58. The life of your Master is an example for all humanity; but since the woman needed teaching about her mission as a mother, Mary was sent to her, representing the Divine Tenderness, who emerged as a woman among humanity to also give you her divine example of humility.

59. Every time you hear me extol virtue, you feel that sin and human imperfection appear before your eyes in all their fullness; then, you bow your neck with sorrow and there are those who tell me. "Lord, do you come with your purity and your holiness to humble us for our sins, you who are the one who is advising us humility?" I answer that heart that has not been able to understand my word, that it is only an atom of my light and of my holiness that I come to show before your eyes, so that you will not feel humiliated before Me, nor powerless to imitate me in virtue.

60. Do not confuse humility with the poverty of clothing; neither do you believe that it is humble who carries in himself an idea of inferiority, that is the cause that forces him to serve others and bow down before them. I tell you, true humility is in the one who, knowing how to value who someone is, and knowing that he has some knowledge, knows how to descend to others and likes to share with them what he has.

61. Humility is the light of the spirit and, on the contrary, the lack of it, is darkness in him; vanity is the fruit of ignorance. He who is great by knowledge and is worth by virtue, carries true modesty and spiritual humility.

62. What a pleasant emotion you feel when you see that a remarkable man among men, makes you a manifestation of affection, understanding, humility. That same feeling, you can take it to those who are or feel inferior to, you. Know how to descend, know how to reach out without feeling its superiority, know how to be understanding. I tell you, in these cases, not only the one who receives the proof of affection, help or comfort enjoys, but also the one who gives it, because he knows that above him, there is One who has given him proofs of love and humility and that this is his God and Lord.

63. Experience in your heart the joy of feeling loved by your Father, who has never come to humble you with his greatness, but to manifest it to you within his perfect humility, to make you great by leading you to live the true life in his Kingdom, which has no beginning and no end.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Your prayer has reached to the heavens and as proof of this, you feel my peace at this moment. If on any occasion you come to feel that a sweet peace invades your heart, you will be able to say with certainty that your Creator has passed by you. If your heart beats hastily and an indefinable joy invades you, it is because your spirit has listened to the voice of its Lord.
2. Take up your cross, thinking that my presence is with you, to encourage you on your path of evolution.
3. Everyone can and should be one of those enlightened by the Lord, there is not a heart that does not carry within it the divine germ of love and virtue. Those who embrace my Doctrine to become my disciples, are those, who with true testimonies of love and charity present their Teacher in front of the crowd, as perfect love and infinite wisdom, that will be the way in which you should spread the good news on Earth through pure deeds, words and thoughts.
4. I want you at this time to achieve such sensitivity in the spiritual, that it is enough for a thought of mine to be reflected in your mind, so that you obey with true meekness.
5. Those times when the people demanded from their God an absolute materialization in order to believe in his word, in his existence or in his justice, have passed; those times when the people only shuddered at the terrible voice of their prophets or at the divine justice manifested through the elements unleashed, by plagues, epidemics and wars, you must leave them in the past, do not want them to last until your days. Your spirit has evolved and must struggle with matter to make it sensitive to the vibrations, inspirations and messages that come to you from the spiritual world.
6. In each age I have helped your spirit to penetrate deeper and deeper into the knowledge of the truth; make the hour approach when the last veil disappears and you can contemplate the splendor of your Father.
7. The one who, without telling anyone that he is my disciple, sows his way with kindness, will have to be questioned at every pass by his brothers, who asked him which is the shortest path to reach the Father.
8. Whoever claims to be my soldier, my servant or my disciple, will only arouse distrust, ridicule, contempt and judgments.
9. Jesus, after having done great and mighty works before his disciples, once asked Peter: And you, who do you think I am? To which the disciple, amazed and full of faith, replied, You are the Son of the living God. So I want you to go through the world, with that meekness that Jesus taught you and there will be no shortage of those who, seeing your works, will be convinced that you are my disciples and that you are teaching your brothers my Doctrine. See that I am the good way, my word has testified to you about it. There is much that I have spoken to you and you cannot say that not a single one of my words has taught you anything outside my Law.

10. I found you like withered and withered plants under the rays of an inclement sun and I made you feel the caress of my word, which was in you like a heavenly dew. You have gone along a path full of thistles and you no longer wanted to walk in fear of hurting yourself, but after listening to my word, you lost the fear of living, distrust and mistrust fled from your heart and you resumed the journey full of hope and faith in your destiny, because every moment that passed, the word of the Father made resound in your spirit, which is a delicacy of eternal life, for everyone who knows how to take it.

11. People: At the same time that I am preparing you to penetrate the spiritual life, legions of men in the world are preparing to uproot from the hearts of their Hennans every seed of spiritual origin. I am giving you the necessary time to forge your faith and let the divine knowledge of what I have revealed to you develop in your heart. If you truly prepare yourselves, you will have nothing to fear from the world, neither his words, nor his books, nor his promises or his threats will succeed in dislodging from your heart the essence of my teaching and the promise of the Promised Land that I have offered, you will never exchange it for the most tempting promises in the world.

12. When that trial is upon you and your enemies are stalking your steps, you will remember that Christ is the one who speaks to you at those moments and reminds you when Jesus was tempted in the desert and how with his strength he subdued the world and the flesh. So I want you to be strong before any adversary, without forgetting that the most powerful of your enemies you carry in yourself, and that only the strength and the strength that comes to you from Me, will give you victory.

13. Your struggle will not be without a prize, it will be infinitely greater than what you could expect from Earth. Of that award, I will only anticipate a little here in this world that it will be the satisfaction of seeing the enemies of truth, converted to it.

14. Meditate deeply on my lessons, beloved disciples, and from these meditations will be born the strength that will help you not to faint in the struggle.

15. Cleanse your mind from all uncleanness if you want to understand my word. The Master comes to your mind to awaken it from that dream in which it lives and show it the shining light of the new dawn.

16. In my love for you, I make the divine human to put it within your reach; I transform my divine essence into a human word and I make that by this gift you listen to the teaching of your

Love one another!

Heavenly Father who comes to strengthen your body with his love and cleanse your spirit of its stains.

17. The Father of all beings speaks to you in this instant; the love that created you is felt in everyone who hears this word.

18. Before coming to listen to you through these spokespersons, a voice hidden within you was announcing my presence on your way; those who knew how to hear that voice in their hearts, when they later received the good news that a brother was bringing them saying: "Come, the Divine Master is speaking and waiting for you" confirmed that the presentiment they had, had not deceived them, that the warning of their heart was reality; and truly I tell you, these are the ones who have stayed with me, those who believed in my manifestation because they were already waiting for me.

19. When I stop speaking to you in the way you are looking at today, I will return to communicating with you directly from spirit to Spirit and then you will no longer doubt or ask. Is it really the Lord? Then you will have the certainty and the absolute faith that your spirit begins to communicate with its Creator.

20. Do not lose heart in your struggle to get closer to Me, judging your elevation weak. You are entering an era of spirituality and it will not be precisely you who will achieve perfection in your spiritual communication; others will come after and after those, others who will hear my voice, receive divine inspiration and know how to interpret my messages, in a way that for now you cannot imagine. Who can tell you that it will not be you yourselves who live in those times? But in these prophecies only I can penetrate and know who are those who will return and who will stay in the spiritual, so as not to return to Earth anymore.

21. Some of my disciples will lay the first stone; others will have to lay the last, in the most beautiful construction that man has raised to his Lord.

22. This work will be the fruit of spiritual harmony among all humanity. Today you feel very far from being able to produce that fruit, because you recognize that discord reigns among men; however, do not despair, the sickle is already approaching that will reap the tares that have divided humanity, so that after the test has passed, you will see justice, reason and fraternity shine again.

23. Today I open the divine book of my love before you, do the same with your heart, beloved disciples; but do not be afraid, because before I give you my lesson, I am going to stop to hear your concerns and to heal you of your ailments. My wish is that when you come to Me, there will be deep peace in your spirit. I know who of you will have to fight a lot and for this it is essential that you receive great strength from now on. The strength is given to you by my word that is saturated with life and health. This word comes from the Divine Word who descends at this time into our spirit to realize the perfect communion between the Father and his children.

24. For some, my teaching will be unforgettable, because in their life it will be the star that will guide their steps, they will have arrived in time to follow me and testify to my revelations; others will move away from the path without apparently knowing who they listened to, or what was the truth that enclosed that word; then they will have to walk a little more, so that when they reach the fulfillment of their words, they will feel the inspiration that reminds them of what they heard one day and to which their heart, at that moment, did not attach importance. For now, everyone, listen to me, it doesn't matter if they walk away or deny me later. I am sowing in the spirit, there where only I can enter, because there is only one key and that I possess. When the time is right, the light will spring from the depths of our heart, which today I leave stored in the most recondite of your being.

25. Destroy the darkness of your life, ignorance, vice, everything that sickens your body; make light in your existence, and pour out the love of your spirit on the path of your brothers.

26. Men have called this century a time of enlightenment, and I tell you not to rely only on the light that emanates from science, but also on your spiritual gifts. Do not forget that not only man lives, but also from every word that comes from God.

27. Keep my word in your heart and when you use it, let it not be to fill you with vanity before those who are ignorant of this Doctrine. Do not want me to appear as the new enlightened ones, because none of your brothers lacks light. If you are not humble in giving up my inheritance, you will not be able to give any light.

28. I am bequeathing to humanity a new book, a new Testament: my word of the Third Time, the divine voice that spoke to man when the Sixth Seal was untied.

29. It will not be necessary for your names or your works to go down in history. My word will be in this book, as a vibrant and clear voice that speaks eternally to the human heart, and my people will leave posterity the mark of their passage along this path of spirituality.

30. Leave to those who come the memory of your good deeds as an example, hurry from today to erase all your stains, so that it will not be seen by your brothers.

31. The scriptures of the First Time collected the history of the people of Israel, preserving the name of their children, their successes and mistakes, their works of faith and their weaknesses, their splendor and their falls, so that this book spoke to each new generation of the evolution of that people in sacred worship. That book, the same kept the names of the patriarchs lovers of virtue and justice, models of strength in faith, that of the prophets, seers of the future, through whose mouths the Lord always spoke, when I saw his people on the verge of danger. He also collected the names of the wicked, of the traitors, of the disobedient, because every case, every example, is a lesson and sometimes a symbol.

32. When I came in Jesus to dwell among men, only when it was necessary did I take the essence of those scriptures, the meaning of those works to give my lessons; the material and the superfluous I never extolled. Do you not remember that I mentioned the righteous Abel, that I will ponder the patience of Job, and I mentioned the wisdom and splendor of Solomon? Is it true that on many occasions I remembered Abraham and spoke of the prophets, and that referring to Moses I told you that I was not coming to erase the Law that he received, but to fulfill it?

33. If Christ was the Lamb of God who blots out the sins of the world, even in this I would have to extol only the good and erase the bad.

34. My life transformed the lives of men; my death opened the eyes blinded by the darkness of materialism to the light of truth and the worship of God took a great step towards perfection, because the love of the Master made men have a new conception of divine justice. As if a new God had appeared before that people, so my doctrine and my works made the world see the truth that they had not been able to contemplate before.

35. God, the unchangeable one, could not have changed in his essence towards his children; it was man; the one who, by rising towards his Creator by the scale of love and spirituality that Christ discovered, found the true essence of the Father. My apostles, too, when they were teaching the multitudes in courts, synagogues, or squares, and had to refer to past times, they sought only the examples that left true spiritual essence, omitting everything that was superfluous.

36. Now that I have come to you, with an extensive spiritual lesson, I have not let you all feel the need to search those books, since at every step, in every chair, I have been teaching you and remembering what it was, the examples that you should not forget, the lessons that eternal life has; but I say again, even now I have only talked to you about the spiritual. Do not think that I forbid you to read that book from the first times, because you are the Trinitarian people, no, know that I said: "Search the scriptures", and I add now: "Before reading, pray, so that when you search, you will find true light and not be confused as many have been confused, giving a false interpretation to what happened". Read, search, but you will find the analysis in my word of the third Time.

37. Why at this time should you bequeath to those to come your imperfections, your false cult of spirituality, your disobediences and your familiarity with sin? Do you think that your works make you worthy of history collecting your names?

Love one another!

38. When the time has come, I will enlighten you so that my people, witnesses of my manifestation and of my word, may form with my chairs the book that will reach all men, and that in it they may only find the divine essence of the Master, his eternal truth, his love and his revelation and never discover the materiality of the spokesman.

39. Those who have known how to be my disciples in this Work will know how to separate the chaff so that the wheat remains clean, because in order for my seed to germinate, it will have to be clean.

40. Today I am present before your spiritual mirda so that you may look at me through your virtues, with them I send you my divine warmth so that you may feel me in your heart. I want to separate you from everything superfluous, from everything bad; I come to entrust you with a garden where you can cultivate all the virtues. It is necessary to oppose sin, look how evil has flourished.

41. I see that your heart trembles with joy to hear me speak like this, because you feel the hope that regeneration will come to men. Listening to me, you feel the impulse to run in search of the lost, the sinner, the vicious, to speak to him with my truth.

42. At that time, when my disciples dispersed throughout the world to preach my teachings, they did not concretely repeat my words, but taught them also with their works, and when they said that they bore witness to the One who had died on a cross for the love of men, they said it in word and deed, dying sacrificed like their Teacher. I tell you that he who dies holding a truth, has to be believed. However, I am not here to ask you for sacrifice. I don't want you to die to prove my truth; I want you to live testifying with your life, my word that teaches you to love one another.

43. A new joy awaits you: that of serving your brothers, helping them to rebuild their lives, turning away from evil ways.

44. Do you see how your preparation is indispensable, in order to know how to wield the weapons of truth and make it victorious in the struggle?

45. There are many who, after hearing my divine word, have gone to bear witness to it; but when they have not confirmed with deeds what their lips have said, they have been denied and mocked; on the contrary, when that testimony has been accompanied by good deeds, it has kindled faith in some and left others meditating.

46. All my teaching aims to prepare you for that struggle of which I speak to you, strengthening your faith and enlightening your spirit so that your testimony may be great.

Love one another!

47. At every step I tell you, that humanity intuitively awaits the arrival of something unknown. This feeling is given to you by the light of the spirit, which burns like a lamp waiting for the fulfillment of my promise.

48. Don't you want to be the ones who bring the good news to those hearts? Yes? So listen and understand the Master's lesson, obey and love the Father and you will be worthy to serve your brothers.

49. If you seek the immortality of the spirit, do not fear the arrival of death that puts an end to human life, be prepared, it is under my mandate and that is why it is always timely and just, although many times the summons believe otherwise.

50. The serious thing is not that man dies, but that his spirit, when leaving matter, lacks light and cannot contemplate the truth. I do not want the death of the sinner, but his conversion, but when death becomes necessary, either to liberate a spirit or to stop the fall of a man to the abyss, my divine justice cuts the thread of that human existence.

51. When the crowd, scandalized by the lack of the adulterous woman, was only waiting for my judgment to put her to death, believing that this was the only way to exterminate the sin of that woman, I showed them that forgiveness and the word of love are life for the heart and are death for sin. The merit is in getting the sin to die and the creature to continue living, therefore it was not necessary for that woman to disappear, if not her sin.

52. If it were not so, in my aversion to sin I would have exterminated you and look that not only I do not take your life but I give you one body after another, so that you may come to learn this blessed lesson on Earth; a lesson that, because it was not understood by humanity, made the Word of God become man, to teach you with his birth, his works and his what is the true destiny of men in this world. That is the lesson that you have not lived, that you have not put into practice. What does she teach you? Humility, obedience to the divine will, renunciation of yourselves, for the love of others; consecration to an ideal of spiritual elevation. The one who comes to fulfill this mission on Earth will not have to return to it, if he has already left his good seed; in this he will imitate Christ who, after writing with his life a perfect example for humanity, did not return to the world as a man.

53. Learn to leave that body in the bosom of the earth, when the time comes, if you want to continue living for those you love and if you want them to feel you; if you do not want to sink into silence and emptiness and instead yearn to continue vibrating in your brothers understanding that this is what is truly called living. Know from now on that, just as your spirit renounced his spiritual abode to dwell on Earth, so he will have to renounce the vanities of the world, when he has returned to the spiritual valley.

Love one another!

54. If men had learned to meekly leave their body and all that they possessed on earth, their death would be placid; but as long as there is materiality and rebellion, pain will be the one that separates the spirit from the flesh, with anguish of both.

55. Study my lesson, disciples, and you will understand why I told you through Jesus, "My Kingdom is not of this world."

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 103

1. Observe what happens when you leave what belongs to you on Earth to come to hear my word, or to go to alleviate some pain; when you return to your work or your home it seems to you as if someone had been there supplying you in your absence. And so it is indeed, disciples, because it is I who watches over what you leave in the moments of occupying yourself in the performance of your spiritual mission.
2. Take this as proof that when you leave this world to consecrate your existence to my service, I will remain watching over those you leave, whom I will cover with my mantle of peace filling with my presence the void that you left in them.
3. Understand that if I have been teaching you for a long time how to live in the world as children of God, now I am preparing you to penetrate into the spiritual life that awaits you after this one. Go through this existence fulfilling the mission that you have brought to it so that you can understand the meaning of the spiritual life you have penetrated into it.
4. Let there be no pretense from humanity that you are horrified by its sin; if you love me, you will not cease to love me in your fellow men. Now that dangers and threats are looming over men, it is when you must prove to me that you love them, that you feel their pain and that you are willing to fight for the salvation of all. Have you not seen how I have always come to your aid precisely at the moments of the greatest love for humanity?
5. Watch and pray, people, your mission is defined, therefore no one comes back to Me telling Me that he could do nothing that ignored the end for which he was sent. Your works must be of charity, of unification and of peace.
6. My new disciples, those who have listened to me at this time, have assumed the responsibility of extending my Doctrine, making their works the best testimony of the truth contained in this teaching.
7. Thus, by living according to this word, you will have fulfilled the mission for which you were sent into this world and your testimony will be taken as true.
8. In all times I have manifested myself in the people destined to spread knowledge and faith in my Divinity throughout the world. People of chosen spirits and not of a certain race, because it is the same that I find them incarnated in one nation, that in another, speaking one or the other language.
9. Why should he grace the body of man with finery that belongs only to the spirit? Why should the Lord be pleased with only one of the races that make up humanity?

Love one another!

10. At this time the spirit of the true Israel vibrates everywhere, they are the spirits who feel my presence, who await my coming, who trust in my righteousness.

11. When these words reach other places, many will mock; but I tell you, it would be better for them not to mock them, because the time will come when they will wake up from their lethargy and know that they are also children of the people of God.

12. These multitudes who listen to me today can fall into confusion if they do not study my word and if they do not shed their materialism. The same thing can happen to the Israelite people-from the earliest times, who heard the voice of the Lord, received the law and had prophets, so that they came to believe themselves the only beloved people of God. Serious error from which the great trials, howling, exile and captivity came to take him out.

13. It is necessary for you to know that my love could not distinguish you by races or creeds, and that if I speak of "My people" it is because from the earliest times I find myself preparing spirits whom I send to Earth to illuminate the path of humanity with their light.

14. They have been the eternal walkers who have lived in different nations and have gone through many trials. In this time they have found that human laws are unjust; that there is no truth in the affections and that there is no peace in the spirit of humanity.

15. All of you have come to a new incarnation and the pain you feel is so great that you ask me to put an end to your existence, but I ask you. Do you not know that you cannot cease to exist and that if you suffer on Earth today, when your spirit passes into the spiritual valley, it will continue to live under the same test until it settles its debts or learns its lesson? You are hurrying a very bitter chalice, because you are at the end of one stage and at the beginning of another. It is the time of harvest in which you are reaping the harvest of what you have sown through the last day. It is necessary that it be so so that when the lands are clean, I return to deposit in my sowers the seed of love, which, well cultivated, will give you the fruits of peace and redemption.

16. You were sick and weak to keep walking, you felt that you had no support, you were looking for a light that would guide you to safe harbor, and that was the moment when I arrived among you who were lost in the middle of the night, not knowing where you were going. I had heard your cry, and I sent Elijah to you, that he might be of his help, and announce to you my coming.

17. My presence shook you with joy and you are instantly comforted, O disciples, do not forget my lesson of this day. Today you have learned that everything you have reaped is the fruit of your deeds and that after purification you will feel free and clean of imperfections. You contemplate many signs that tell you of the great trials that are yet to come on your planet, and despite listening to me you do not want to understand me yet and you have not prayed. Recognize that it is a time of penance and effort for you who know what is to come. You are on the threshold of a new era. And everything invites you to work. Behold the fertile lands, the virgin countryside, the pure and life-giving sun and the crystal clear waters. Everything is conducive for you to live, breathe and fulfill your spiritual mission. I speak to you in a figurative sense and thus I present the future to you so that you may study my words and understand my longing for a Father.

18. I do not want you to misinterpret my teaching and shut yourselves up in cloisters to pray abandoning humanity, work for it, take it out. from her ignorance and her materialism and ignite faith in her.

19. Live in grace, love justice, be merciful, do not encourage evil, on the contrary, stop it by exhorting your brothers to good and thus you will have prepared the way for the spirit so that he does not stumble. Do all this without it seeming to you that it has been a sacrifice for you.

20. The trials that you have to pass, because no one is exempt from them, bear them with patience, so you will be teaching your brothers perseverance in my Law.

21. Unite yourselves, do not be unknown to each other because you practice my Doctrine differently, if you have distanced yourselves for this cause, seek your brothers and love one another, as I love you.

22. Just as I prayed in the Garden of Olives, so that the spirit of humanity would not be lost, so pray for your brothers and sisters. I see what humanity still has to mourn to be purified, but my mercy sustains and strengthens it so that it does not fail on the way.

23. Disciples, in whom I have deposited the book of my word, strengthen yourselves from now on, so that you will not turn back when you knock on a door and they will not open it for you. Do not forget that I have told you to call in my name for the first, second and third time; and that when you find that your call has not succeeded in sweetening the attitude of your brothers, leave the cause to me and continue on your way, without carrying bitterness in your heart and less wishing that, the pain would be present in those who did not want to hear you. Put on kindness, because you do not know on what day or at what hour you will have to knock on the same door again or that they will come looking for you. Only love and patience will be able to move the hearts of rock and therefore you must always be prepared.

24. I tell you again that you should not act like judges in the acts of your brothers. When my disciples, my emissaries and envoys are ignored, I will make my voice heard in the conscience of those who rejected my calls. That voice will be that of the Judge, but you already know that my Father's love is always in the divine Judge; not so in you humans who many times, when you become judges of your brothers, you cease to show yourself as their peers. You must remove all evil feelings from your heart, so that you can reach the spirit of humanity with love.

25. Do not love anyone who receives you and shows you faith more than anyone who does not accept your word. When you achieve this breakthrough, you will be able to say that you begin to understand me and to feel in your being a force that will give you courage to resist the greatest trials to which the world could subject you.

26. About this teaching that I am now giving you, I already offered you an example in the Second Half. Jesus was on the cross, the Redeemer was dying before those multitudes whom he had loved so much, each heart was a door to which He had knocked. Among the mob was the man who ruled multitudes, the prince of the church, the publican, the Pharisee, the rich, the poor, the wicked, and the simple-hearted. And while some knew who it was who was expiring at that hour, because they had seen his works and received his benefits, others, thirsty for innocent blood and eager for revenge, hastened the death of the one whom they mockingly called King of the Jews, not knowing that he was not only King of one people, but he was king of all the peoples of the Earth and of all the worlds of the Universe. Jesus, directing one of his last glances at those crowds, full of tenderness and piety, raised his supplication to the Father, saying: "My Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing".

27. That look, the same enveloped the one who wept for Him, that the one who enjoyed with his torment, because the love of the Master that was the love of the Father, was one for all.

28. I tell you, disciples in my Law of love, that if you cannot do perfect works like those I did in Jesus, at least strive in your life to get closer to them. It is enough for Me to contemplate a little goodwill for imitating me and a little love for your fellow men, so that I may help you and manifest my grace and my power in your path.

29. You will never be alone in the struggle. If I do not leave you alone when you are bowed down under the weight of your sins, do you think that I will abandon you when you are walking under the weight of the cross of this mission of love?

30. Understand me, disciples, so that you may imitate me; penetrate my works and my words, so that you may discover the essence of my Doctrine. I am only waiting for your preparation to indicate to you the moment when you should get up, because I, through you, will bring the light of salvation to men.

31. Yes, beloved disciples. I am the vine. Take the wine of my grace; tomorrow it will take you to fight. Get ready now that you are sitting at my table and when the hour rings you will have no hesitation or weakness. You will be my sowers and you will imitate in your faith the men who cultivate the earth, who sow the seed, putting all their trust, their conformity and hope in

Love one another!

God. Thus I say to you, you do not know from where the irrigation will come to your crops or the bread to your lips, but I assure you that you will lack nothing.

32. Do not forget that the triumph belongs to the persevering. Fulfill your mission on Earth and when you have concluded, you will be able to leave this world. and emigrate to the land that I have promised you, which is the spiritual abode that is destined for the children of the Lord. Put your hope in eternal life, but ignore the materialists who believe that my Doctrine, by always talking to you about the spiritual life, is an obstacle to the material progress of humanity.

33. Nor is it right who believes that one should always think about death and despise what this life offers you, because it is perishable: he has not been able to interpret my word; rather, he does not even know it.

34. The first law that came to man's understanding through consciousness was the one that told him: "Grow and multiply." But now I say to you that that law is not only concrete to the multiplication of the species, but to that of your gifts, virtues and knowledge,

35. I teach you to go through the world leaving a work of love for those who come after you, he who does this, has set his eyes on the eternal. If your existence on earth to carry out a great work seems brief to you, do not be afraid that death will cut short your work, because it will not be like that, because my charity is omnipotent and I have the means for you to carry it to its completion. I have given you part in the creative Work, in the work of evolution and in the work of perfection, and nothing can prevent you from reaching the end of your path.

36. Fulfill your mission in harmony with the Creator and with your fellow human beings, and in the end, when everything is completed, you will enjoy infinitely in the contemplation of the divine Work in which you worked with your Father. How great that joy will be in my Spirit and what an ineffable joy there will be in all my children.

37. I contemplate your thirst for love, your hunger for light and the great need you have for Me, and I, your Father having at my disposal all the means to make my voice reach you, I wanted to speak to you through human understandings, as a way accessible to you, to help you understand my spiritual messages.

38. Only my power has caused the sinner to become the spokesman of my Word, but whoever has questioned it has soon contemplated the transformation of the beings for whom I have given you my word. You have seen springing from a rude mind, thoughts of infinite knowledge; you have seen blooming on the lips of sinners, the divine word, full of light and tenderness. The spokespersons, tireless within this service and devoted to Me, have let my Spirit express this message to humanity.

Love one another!

39. I have received great multitudes, without distinguishing any of my children, among them there has been the same the one who loves me, the one who denies me, the same the one who believes in my presence within this form, the one who doubts, and I have received all of them with the same word of love and the same paternal caress.

40. In these multitudes I have received the whole human race. Speaking to this people, I have addressed my word to all men, because my message has been for those of this time and for those of the future. When men from other lands have come among these multitudes, I have received them with love, representing their peoples, and I have prepared them to be emissaries and prophets among those who belong to them by race and language, and I have taught them to pray and to watch over their peoples, making them guardians for times of trial and stalking.

41. My hope, which you must interpret as a divine command, is that you take my word to every heart where it is needed; that you do not forget that just as you came to my presence complaining of hunger and thirst, the whole of humanity is at this hour in a true agony of the spirit.

42. The day is approaching when men will understand the importance of the spirit, because many, believing, do not believe and others, seeing, do not see. But when they feel the truth, they will recognize that it would be childish, unjust and senseless to continue supporting a being who belongs to another life with the fruits of the world. Then you will look for the light in the religions and in their anxiety and anguish to find the truth, they will abolish the false of the doctrines and destroy everything superficial and external that they find in the various cults, until they discover the divine essence.

43. I want that when those times come you will find yourselves in full knowledge of what is happening and of the mission that you must carry out, that is why I tell you once again; listen, analyze and understand my word.

44. I am thirsty for your love, that is why I have come to you at this time, because it is not love that I have found among men, but sin and selfishness.

45. The people of this time have forgotten the examples and the works that Jesus left you as a testimony of his love.

46. You have not let that word be engraved in your heart, because if you had really kept it, you would have kept in mind my promise to return to you and you would have been watching and praying waiting for my arrival. But when I arrived, I caught you sleeping. Then I said, Blessed are those who come to my call without reservation, for I will make them of great wisdom. Some came in good faith, others hoped to be free of the body wrap to come to tell me: "Here I am, Lord, like the bird that leaves its prison I came before you to fulfill your will" But my will, people, has been that from this world you affirmed your steps on the spiritual path, because I want that body that I have entrusted to you, ceases to be a chain or a prison for the spirit. The spirit was not created to be a slave to the flesh or to the world: he is free. However, spiritual ignorance and religious fanaticism have turned the spirit of man into a slave who, century after century, has dragged chains of darkness.

47. Now I have come to show you the way again, to sweeten your journey with the flavor of my word and to give to each one his cross of love so that, under its weight, he may climb the mountain and over. she consumes her work. No one who is my disciple will try to reach Me with his cross, because he will not be recognized as an apostle of my Doctrine.

48. There are many men who claim to comply with my teaching, others who think they love me but their love is false; because they do not practice my teaching and because they have never lived in my Law. I do not want you to be like them, but to come to truly feel love and charity. Do not boast of what I have given you or of what you do, even if you often feel that the heart bursts with joy in your chest, after having done a good deed or having made you worthy of a miracle.

49. My teaching is one of humility, it reveals in spiritual language the value or merit that each of your works must have in order for it to be taken into account by your Lord. Verily I tell you, your spirit, with the light he has attained, already knows when a work is worthy or not, to present to the Father. This is the teaching with which I will sustain your spirit at this time.

50. Of the wine that is in this chalice, I will pour drop by drop on your lips until the day of my death, but do not be sad, for just as you hear me, so my apostles heard me in the Second Time, when I said to them, "I will soon leave you and leave you in my place to teach your brothers." They had lived with me, they had suffered together with their Master, they had contemplated my works and heard my words, but they were not the only ones, because my life was public, and the humble, the poor and the meek in heart were witnesses of my word as well as sinners, Pharisees, scribes, publicans, governor, minister and centurion.

51. I spoke to each one and gave him my light according to his spiritual need.

52. Thus I have come to you at this time, speaking and manifesting myself before everyone and in broad daylight, so that everyone may take their rightful part in my Work and triumph with it. How beautiful will be the Reward that your spirit receives when it leaves the wrapper. Make yourselves worthy of this reward, but for this purpose depart from the darkness of ignorance, so that you may not become wandering spirits, aimless and without a goal.

53. Serve and love the humanity that is your sister, and that at this moment is being tested by my justice. Look how there is no heart that has not drunk the cup of bitterness. Sorrow is in all men at this time, but through him I will be sought, and through him men will feel the regret of having offended me.

54. There are those who are waiting for the return of the Messiah, but in what way are they waiting for me? Until when will you stop ignoring that I am communicating with humanity again? Verily I tell you, my light has come to all nations through my messengers, who came to mankind as forerunners of my third manifestation.

55. Seven nations will be chosen, so that they may make world peace and true brotherhood exist among men, in them I will manifest Myself. Today I have found them engaged in fratricidal wars, given over to their dreams of greatness and their insatiable ambitions for power. From this nation I will send a messenger of goodwill to the great peoples of the world, to speak to them about peace, and when they have put an end to the war, the light of concord and peace will reach their spirit, but this light will not appear in the east or in the West, it will descend from my Spirit to the spirit of humanity.

56. Prepare yourselves, so that those appointed to fulfill this mission, can rise up after the nations at the propitious moment and when they have made my new word heard everywhere, the corpulent tree will send his branches, his shadow and fruit to all his children. Then you will redouble your struggle and your zeal so that my Doctrine will not suffer adulterations and so that from the tree that I have entrusted to you, ignorant and foolish men will not cut branches, intending to make strange trees with them.

57. My work must be made known with the purity and perfection with which I have revealed it to you; without rites or external forms.

58. When you contemplate her so perfect, you feel unworthy of her and you ask yourself: Why did the Father look to us to reveal her to you? And I tell you that despite the imperfections, which you have, your spirit, in its long journey, has reached great evolution. But it is not now that you will realize the greatness of this manifestation, but when I have lifted up my Word from among you, then you will understand the good that you had and you will be filled with joy because you had me among you.

59. Verily I say to you, at my table of love you have eaten and drunk, O beloved disciples.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Humanity. you present to me your hunger for peace, to which I say that the man who does not love, cannot have peace. I have heard your prayers, in which you say, "Peace on earth to men of good will," but you have not understood that good will can only come from the insistence on goodness and justice, which are the fruits of love.
2. When there is love between men, you will feel the presence of my peace everywhere; because the harmony that you have broken with the elements and with everything that surrounds you, will return, and that good walk will be similar to the message that the angels brought you when they told you: "Glory to God in the highest and peace on earth to men of good will".
3. Much is what you have sought through science and yet you have not been able to discover the very intimate relationship that exists between man and the spiritual, between the human creature and its Creator.
4. How can the life of a being who departs from the path traced by the Law of the Creator be normal? Look how much man has struggled trying to discover ways outside of the paths that point out my laws of love and justice.
5. Your world is full of artifice and falsehood. and that is because you have long ago distanced yourselves from what was ordained by the Father.
6. Immense is the test to which I subjected the spirit when I sent him to inhabit the Earth with the mission of persevering in my Law; that is why I have sought you every time you have been lost, forgiving your disobediences and mistakes, and offering you new opportunities. I have willed that by the greatness of your trials, you may presume the strength and the gifts that I have deposited in your spirit, as well as the galadon promised to faithful and persevering children in commands.
7. Always keep in mind that if the reward I promise you is great, your merits will also have to be worthy of the promise.
8. I planted the tree of science and I will not cut it down because it is the fruit of life, but human impatience, curiosity and ambition have twisted its branches.
9. In my divine love for human creatures, I allowed them to search my works and take from everything created, so that they would never have reason to say that God is unjust because he hides his wisdom from his children. If I formed you and gave you the gift of free will, and I have respected it, despite the fact that man, abusing that freedom, has offended me, profaning my Law; today I come to make him feel the caress of my forgiveness, illuminating his spirit with the light of my wisdom. so that one by one of my children will return to the path of truth.

Love one another!

10. The Spirit of Truth, who is my light, shines in consciences, because you are in the announced times in which every mystery will be clarified for you, so that you may understand what has not yet been properly interpreted.

11. The erroneous idea that man was formed from my righteousness in the earliest times will definitely disappear to give way to true knowledge of it. Divine justice will at last be understood as the light that springs from the perfect love that exists in your Father.

12. That God whom men believed vindictive, cruel, spiteful and inflexible, will be felt in the depths of the heart, as a Father who forgives in exchange for the offenses of his children, as the Father who persuades the sinner with tenderness; as the judge who instead of condemning the one who has seriously lacked, vemente, provides a new opportunity for salvation.

13. How many imperfections men attributed to me in their ignorance, believing me capable of feeling anger, anger being only a human weakness! If the prophets spoke to you about the holy wrath of the Lord, now I tell you, interpret that expression as divine justice.

14. The men of the First Time would not have understood otherwise, nor would the dissolute or the libertines have taken into account the warnings of the prophets, if they had not spoken to them in that fonna. It was necessary that the inspiration of my envoys should be expressed in terms that would impress the brains and hearts of those men lacking in spiritual development.

15. In order to give you a faithful and true image of what the Father's love and justice are, I sent you my Word, so that he, through Jesus, might manifest my love. In Christ, you saw the king of humility and meekness, the king who preferred the humiliating and painful crown of thorns to the regal crown of human vanity. As a Judge, you saw him judge the acts of sinners in a different way than men are used to. He preached forgiveness with that teaching in 1a that I was telling you. that if you received the slap of a fellow man on one cheek, you presented the other with gentleness as a sign of Forgiveness, but then with deeds, he confirmed his words,

16. How terrible was the sinner's remorse when he came to feel enveloped in the light of the sweet and gentle gaze of Jesus!

17. How many miracles were worked under the influence of the forgiveness of that Master of love! It is that his forgiveness was true and his judgment perfect, since they came from the infinite love that God has for his creatures. But it was necessary to reveal to men much more than they had been taught, so that they could understand the meaning of those lessons; and then a new Era and a new manifestation of my Spirit was announced to humanity, and the fulfillment of that promise is seeing it realized in this word of light, which is wisdom for your spirit and comfort for your heart. Who but Me could be the Spirit of Truth and Consolation?

18. I am here present, manifest, visible to every spiritual nirada, shedding light on the paths of the spirit, so that you may understand all that has been revealed throughout the ages.

19. It is now that you can say from the depths of the heart and spirit.- "Father, at last I have looked at you, at last I know you" And when will you be able to truly love me?

20. I am speaking to you with the same language with which I spoke in the Second Time; with the same love and the same wisdom, because I am immutable, but you, as disciples, are taking one more step on my way. You feed on these words and you are ecstatic feeling my presence close.

21. From your spirit a song of love and gratitude rises up to Me, for having made you possessors of this grace.

22. Village. keep recreating your spirit; and you, humanity, return to Me, return to your channel. Serve one another, doing with your brothers what I do with you, because in this way you will be serving and loving me.

23. Look for Me as a Father, as a Doctor, as a Teacher very soon you will have me. Ask Me and I will give, you try to imitate me, even if it is in just one of your actions or thoughts every day and I will take care of making what you did in my name come to fruition.

24. Keep in mind that your life on Earth is short and that when you reach its end, you will have to give an account of what you sowed.

25. When my word has reached the bottom of your heart and you are ready to follow me, you will unite in Me to fight, and you will not rest until the world has been converted returning to the true path.

26. Humanity is distressed and suffers and its pain also reaches the spirit of our Heavenly Mother, what pain can afflict the son, that is not felt by Her? But his intercession saves you and his inspiration invites you to walk the path of spirituality.

27. I sent you clean to the earth and so you will return to Me. But how much you will have to struggle to regain the purity with which you were endowed! That is why it is necessary that you watch, that you pray and meditate, so that you no longer fall into temptation and start climbing the mountain without stopping any longer in your ascent to reach the summit.

28. Pray at this moment, that your spirit may carry a message of peace to your brothers and sisters. "Ask and it will be given to you." "Seek and ye shall find." This I have taught you and my word is fulfilled through, the times.

Love one another!

29. Beloved husbandmen: I have graced your spirit, so that he can be saved and so that he, in turn, can rescue his brothers from sin. Now you are in purification to make yourselves worthy of my presence; tomorrow, when you are truly strong, you will help your brothers to get rid of sin. I love your spirit, I love all my children and that is why I seek your salvation.

30. Here you have me proposing to you again the. Peace, that peace that you very well long for. I know in secret that men also yearn, only, when they have sought her, they have not done it by the roads that lead to her. Truly I tell you, the secret of peace lies in the practice of my Doctrine, which is precisely what humanity has turned away from. Tell me if perhaps this world that sins, that wounds, kills, dishonors and profanes, lives in the Doctrine that Jesus taught and you will recognize that it lives very different from my teachings.

31. There are many men who judge out of time, my Doctrine, but it is because their materiality does not allow them to discover the eternal meaning of my lessons.

32. The Law is immutable; it is men who pass, with their cultures, their civilizations and their laws, leaving of all this only what the spirit has built with his works of love and charity. He is the one who, after each journey, each trial, when they interrogate the Arcanum, contemplates the unshakable stone of my Law and the always open book that contains the Doctrine of the Spirit.

33. Ah, if all men wanted to look at the dawning light of this age, how much hope there would be in their hearts! but they're sleeping. They do not even know how to receive the light that the king star sends them every day, that first light that is like an image of the radiant light of the Creator. He caresses you and awakens you to the daily struggle, without men, insensitive to the beauties of Creation, stopping for a few moments to thank me. The glory could pass by them without them perceiving it, because they always wake up worried forgetting to pray to look for spiritual strength in Me; neither do they look for energies for matter in the sources of Nature. They all run headlong, struggling without knowing why, walking without knowing at a fixed point where they are going. It is in that deaf and senseless struggle, where they have materialized their spirit making it selfish.

34. Having forgotten the laws of the spirit, which are the light of life, men destroy themselves, kill themselves and snatch their bread, without listening to the voice of their conscience, without entering into considerations, without stopping to meditate. But if someone were to ask them, how do they judge their current life, they would answer instantly that never in the past times has so much light shone in human life as now, and that science has never revealed so many secrets to them, but they would have to say it with a mask of happiness before their face, because in their heart they would be hiding all their pain and their spiritual misery.

Love one another!

35. And while humanity awakens and contemplates the light of this dawn, my voice does not cease to speak to your spirit and pain does not cease to purify your hearts.

36. Blessed are you, my children, who have joined together in prayer, because at that moment the strong lift up the weak, the man of faith has given encouragement to the one who hesitates and the one who knows how to converse with his Father, has taught to pray to the one who does not know how to do it. In this way the children are taking the example of the disciples.

37. When my word comes from the mouth of the spokesman, I find the people ready, waiting for me; then my charity penetrates the hearts to give to each one according to his need. In those moments of communication, I know who are looking for me, motivated only by the desire to remedy some evil, I discover those who, despite their need, forget about their needs, because first of all they want to be my disciples. The divine understanding and the benevolence with which I speak to each heart are the fire with which I engrave my word in your spirit so that it may be unforgettable. Truly I tell you, when my Doctrine has reached the bottom of a heart, it is a seed that sprouts and multiplies.

38. The moment when you have heard my word for the first time, or when you have received the seed in your heart, is a moment of judgment for your spirit, just as it will be the moment when you have to present the fruit to me. Now I will give you on Earth a precious opportunity to purify yourselves spiritually, and when you return to the eternal abode, you will arrive calm and serene, full of light and merits to enjoy my Peace.

39. The world is a valley of atonement in which, just as one sins, one is also purified; verily I tell you that the Hereafter is different from what you know on Earth, because the one who comes to it wrapped in sin and impurities, has to suffer very great pains, infinitely greater than those he suffered as a human; because already in spirit, consciousness is made heard more clearly by the spirit, which when faced with such purity would like to disappear or at least return to the material World he left, where according to him, his multiple imperfections were not noticeable.

40. To all this, I tell you that everything that surrounds you on Earth is no less pure than what exists in the Spiritual Realm and that the fact that it seems to you that here on Earth you are less impure than in the hereafter is just a belief that comes from the lack of clarity with which you judge good and evil when you are in matter.

41. One of the reasons why I have come to show you my spiritual Doctrine at this time is to help your spirit to rise towards that life that awaits it; learning to meekly submit to purification and to extract from pain and trials all the Benefit and the light that they contain; and so that from here he knows, as far as he is allowed, the path he must travel. See how life on earth is the precious opportunity so that the spirit, when he returns, does not have to be ashamed of his deeds and his past, so that he does not stumble on that path or be confused, believing he sees darkness where there is only light. The man of this time is about to understand the spiritual revelations. My word has come at the right moment of the awakening of this humanity.

42. If on your way you come to observe men who, with their works or their way of thinking, demonstrate spiritual delay before my revelations, do not be confused, because you should know that all beings have never marched to the beat. Trust that from now on I am leaving for them the words that will awaken them when the time comes.

43. Those words, which for now you cannot understand, are precisely the ones that those men will understand.

44. Today you have called me saying to me: "Lord, Lord, come to us", some have done it crying out for forgiveness for their faults, others asking for mercy for their sufferings and others, the least, to thank me for my benefits. I have quickly come to all of you without stopping to judge so that you can tell me more, because the important thing for Me is that you have called me.

45. If everyone were looking for me, I would say the same thing to them as to you - "I do not come to see your stains or to judge your sins, but to listen to your complaints and to alleviate the pain that makes you suffer."

46. Sometimes, those who have forgotten me for a while or those who have come to deny me, have experienced the longing to see and hear me, wondering inwardly where I am and how they could find me.

47. It is the spirit that needs the divine and in his thirst for light he sobs sadly in the prison of the flesh, but it is precisely at that moment when he hears a sweet voice that tells him: "Here I am". I have not forgotten you, I have moved away from you. I could not get away, because I am in each of you, but if you want to find me. my temple is everywhere; in your bedchamber. at work, on the roads, inside and outside of you, in every place where you raise an altar of spirituality or where you light with your faith, a lamp that illuminates the path of your fellow human beings.

48. When a man has asked his Lord. and in the silence of his heart he has known how to listen to the answer. he has discovered greater secrets, than all that Nature could reveal to him through science. This man has finally discovered the source from which all wisdom springs.

49. The lamb who, carried away by his pain and anguish, has managed to communicate spiritually with his Lord and feels him manifest himself in his prayer, in his intuition or in his trials, has built a sanctuary, where whenever he has time he can find the presence of his Father.

Love one another!

50. The pain that overwhelms the people of this time is leading them step by step, without them realizing it, to the doors of the inner sanctuary, before which they will ask, powerless to move forward: Lord, where are you? And from the interior of the temple, the sweet voice of the Master will arise telling them-"Here I am, where I have always dwelt: in your conscience".

51. To help you in your evolution, my light is on your path, so do not be afraid to get lost. Put on obedience and do my will, so you can perform great works, as befits every disciple of mine.

52. He who lives within obedience has nothing. he has to ask his Lord, because he understands that nothing can be lacking; on the other hand, the one who walks, apart from virtue, when the time comes has to ask, because he feels that peace abandons him and that strength is lacking. Then he realizes that the goods of the spirit are not as easily achieved as the satisfactions of the world.

53. There is in my Kingdom a door eternally open and a table always prepared waiting for the arrival of the tired pilgrim. How much I have hoped that men would come to seek these spiritual delicacies in the midst of peace; but when they come to seek them it will be in the midst of pain, however, the table will always be in its place and the bread will not be hidden from anyone.

54. My mercy is waiting for the repentance and regeneration of humanity, to overflow on those who one day were stained with the mire of sin, but then knew how to purify themselves in the love of their Lord. That is the banquet to which you are all invited and at which your Father will distribute the bread and offer the wine of life to his dearly beloved children.

55. I gave you my warning voice, from that time when I descended to Earth to converse with men; I wanted humanity to watch and pray so that the darkness would not surprise it, but the great peoples of the Earth did not watch and the war passed over them punishing their pride and their lack of charity to one another. Behold the ancient nations bowed down under the weight of their disasters. How much they have suffered in their haughtiness. Now new nations have arisen, blinded also by the ambitions of power and wealth without them having stopped to turn to the former for experience, or to listen to the voice of reason or conscience; they, blinded by the confidence they have in their strength, have come to believe themselves omnipotent and therefore they are launching themselves in pursuit of an ideal that they believe to be just, without knowing that they are running vertiginously towards the abyss.

56. Who will be those who, in the midst of chaos, raise their gaze to the firmament in an imploration of peace and forgiveness for those who, in their obfuscation, can no longer discern, nor listen to the voice of justice of their conscience? Who but those who love peace? They will be the guardians who watch over all humanity in the days of trial that lie ahead.

Love one another!

57. Your prayers will bring peace to those who need light in their spirit. Spiritual prayer is a missive that reaches the hearts of those for whom it is asked and is like a mantle of peace over the needy, when several hearts have joined to ask for them. I am receiving from many points of the Earth that prayer that is raised by those who are watching over the peace of the world.

58. Be constant in your prayer for peace, because that will be the way for you to join all those who are praying in the same way. Hold the mantle of peace over the atmosphere of war that envelops humanity, and in the hours of struggle extended over your brothers. Do you remember that I have given you the gift of perpetual peace and that I have called you "Israel", which means "The strong one"? o people, do not turn away from your hearts the remembrance of what I have revealed to you or of what you know your spirit treasures. I prophesied to Jacob that his people would multiply like the sands of the sea and that he would bring peace to the nations. Pray, beloved disciples, and my word will be fulfilled in you, because you are part of my People whose destiny is to be the blessing between all the peoples of the Earth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 105

1. With this word you will make a book that will remain on earth, so that men may find the path of spirituality. Many of them will deny his truth; but many will also affirm that what he says is true.
2. From generation to generation the gifts of the Spirit will be manifested more and more clearly, and these facts, arising even in the most skeptical and unbelieving, will be the testimony of the truth of what I announced to you in the past times and I came to confirm you in this one.
3. Do you see how intensely my word has vibrated in this time, communicating through the brain of the spokesman? For you cannot imagine the wonder of spirit-to-Spirit communication when it reaches its fullness.
4. Do you marvel when you hear the description of a miracle through clairvoyance or the prophetic power of a dream? Truly I tell you that you have only just begun to glimpse what others will see in the future.
5. You have marveled at the gift of intuition and you have been amazed by the gift of healing, but it is necessary that you leave a good example to the spiritualists of tomorrow.
6. The time that Joel foretold, the time when men would receive the Spirit of God on the spirit and the flesh, is this; but it is just at its dawn, and it is necessary that you, the first disciples, leave good seed, so that your works may be good fruits that encourage the walkers of tomorrow in their journey and not become pebbles with which they stumble.
7. Because of the light that you have received, you are among those who will come to interpret with justice the teaching that I have revealed to you since ancient times.
8. The analysis that you make of my word and the fulfillment that you give it, will be the best spiritual work that you leave to the generations to come; they will thank you for it and I will bless you.
9. You, the first in this age, will be staffs, guides and guardians of the last and you will enjoy in the performance of your mission.
10. Live to save your brothers, and I will save you. Cast your boats into the sea and go in search of the shipwrecked, and if you see the waves curling and threatening, pray, and instantly you will feel the mantle of my peace on your spirit.
11. Disciples: Do not think that my messengers, my prophets, forerunners and enlightened ones arose only in the bosom of the people of Israel, because you would be denying many of my emissaries whom I have sent with messages of light, peace and love to different places on Earth.

12. Humanity is the land where I sow the seed of love; which was watered with the divine dew, so that when the seed of my word arrived it would find a favorable field to bear fruit.

13. Whenever any revelation is about to enlighten men, I have sent precursors or prophets to prepare them so that that light can be contemplated by them; but do not believe that only those who bring messages for the spirit are sent by me, no, disciples, everyone who among humanity sows good in any of its forms, is sent by me.

14. You can find these emissaries in all the paths of your life, whether in religions, in the sciences, among the men who govern or in those who impart good teachings.

15. The true servant of mine, he never departs from the path he must travel, he would rather die on the way than go back. His example is a seed of light in the lives of his fellow men and his works are examples for others. Ah, if only humanity knew how to understand the messages that I send to it through them! But it is not so, because there are many men who, having delicate missions in the world, turn their eyes away from those great examples, to take the path that best suits them.

16. You have rulers in whose hearts there is neither justice nor magnanimity to govern their people, because they are going after the petty ideal of power and wealth. Men who call themselves my representatives and who do not even know love for their fellow men. Doctors who do not know the essence of their mission, which is charity, and judges who confuse justice with revenge and use the law for perverse ends.

17. Everyone who twists his path, turning his gaze away from that light that he carries in the beacon of his conscience, does not imagine the judgment that he is preparing for himself.

18. There are also those who have taken on missions that do not correspond to them and who, with their mistakes, are proving that they absolutely lack the necessary gifts to carry out the position that they have assumed for themselves.

19. Thus you can find ministers of God who are not, because they were not sent for it; men who lead peoples and who are not able to lead their own steps; teachers who lack the gift of teaching, and who instead of making light disturb minds. Doctors in whose heart the feeling of piety has not beaten before the pain of others, ignoring that the one who truly possesses this gift is an apostle of Christ. All my institutions have been defiled by men, but the time has come for all their works to be judged. That judgment is for Me to make; therefore I say to you: have a good evening and fulfill my precepts of love and forgiveness.

Love one another!

20. Have I told you that you are part of the people of Israel, the possessor of the divine seed? So prepare yourselves so that you are worthy to carry in your storehouse the seed of love, peace and light.

21. Meditate on the lessons that I have taught you this day, so that you do not deviate from the path that I have traced out to you, usurping positions that do not correspond to you, and so that you do not misuse your gifts; because if after what you have heard in my lessons you fell into the errors that I have pointed out to you, your judgment will have to be more severe than that of one who, during his life, did not know a teaching with the light that contains this one that you have received.

22. Beloved people: multiply, persevere and fulfill your mission.

23. I have lit a light on the path of the spirit, so that he does not get lost and comes firmly along the path, like a sheep that knows where the sheepfold is.

24. That light, which is that of spiritual knowledge, illuminates the gap and discovers the wolf when it lurks among the undergrowth.

25. Not all men come by the sure way; there are many lost along the way, wandering travelers, aimless beings. When I cross their path and ask them: Where are you going? What or who are you looking for? They, bowing their heads, say to me: "Master, I do not know where I am going, where my steps are leading me, or what I am looking for." Then I said to them: "Follow Me" and that single word, penetrating into their hearts, was enough to ignite a light of hope, a flame of faith that has revived them to come after my mark, because from the moment they got up to follow me they felt an unknown force that has not abandoned them for a moment, making them feel absolute confidence in their destiny.

26. I want you to know, all of you who are listening to this word, that by inviting you to walk on this path, I offer you not only spiritual satisfactions and joys, but also trials, lessons and atonements; but that, at the same time, a higher force descends, to support the one who is being tested and that this force, throughout the journey, is the staff on which the walker will have to lean. That strength contains everything, faith, love, obedience and trust.

27. Keep in mind, disciples, that you are beginning to walk after the Master, so that when the trials present themselves in your path, you will think: "I was already prepared, the Master had warned me and I trust that I will come forward with his divine help". Truly, I tell you, if you take these lessons with a strong and high spirit, you will find that no test is in vain, because the one that is destined for a man, the one that appears in the bosom of a family or the one that touches a nation, each and every one of them contains a deep meaning and often great lessons.

Love one another!

Who can say at this moment that he is exempt from proof? No one, because it is time for spiritual restitution.

28. Open your eyes to reality, and realize the responsibility you assume by listening to my word and becoming witnesses of my manifestations of this time. I want to tell you not to be content with listening to my word and satisfying your spiritual needs without thinking about those of others, because that satisfaction cannot be complete if you meditate on the fact that precisely at the moments of your spiritual delight, millions of your brothers are struggling, despairing or succumbing in the fire of fratricidal wars.

29. My Doctrine comes to prepare you for a struggle in favor of peace and spirituality in the world, my teaching comes to tell you what you must do, so that you all work in this saving Work. Then your spirit will begin to experience the peace and satisfaction that correspond to those who work with me in my works of love.

30. This sensitivity that your heart is acquiring when you listen to me, do not lose it when you return to your material struggle, because there on those paths your brothers are waiting for a word from you that contains comfort or a phrase that takes my message of light to their heart; but if when they appear before you, your heart has returned to its usual hardness, you will not even be able to look inside who was looking for something in you that was not yours, but his: my light, my peace, my balm.

31. Do not think that your lack of love for humanity can go unpunished, because if you fail in your spiritual duties, the multitudes will come and when they penetrate into the bosom of your congregations and realize the message that you have hidden or withheld from them, they will wonder inwardly if these are my new apostles, while others penetrating into my teaching will give you a lesson on how divine commands should be fulfilled.

32. I have to speak to you in this way, to prevent you from sleeping and not being surprised in your lethargy. I invite you to the struggle and for this I give you my example of constant work.

33. Let no one tell me that on his way he has great obstacles to be able to fulfill, because if you believe that "the leaf of the tree does not move unless it is by the will of the Father," you must understand that over what you call obstacles, you must fulfill your mission.

34. Do not harbor the belief that just by attending these places you are fulfilling your spiritual mission or that just by talking about my Doctrine, you have already served me, because your field of action is so wide and so full of opportunities to practice love on your way that you will not have to strive to find favorable occasions to sow, but you have not noticed all this and that is why you say that you have many obstacles to be able to fulfill, because you have not analyzed everything that comprises your spiritual mission.

Love one another!

35. Love, serve, be useful, save and comfort, make your life a beautiful example, a beautiful and practical lesson, so that you may be imitated. Then you will be pouring spiritual light on your brothers. Speaking of my Doctrine, you will fulfill the mission of sowing the seed of spirituality, but do it with humility, bearing in mind that every work that contains vanity will be a vain seed that will never germinate.

36. I assure you that if you act in your life with the discretion, sincerity and righteousness that I advise you, the hard hearts of those of whom you speak to me in your prayer will soften, moved by your virtue, and you will come to the conviction that for the fulfillment of this mission, the high spirit will never encounter obstacles, because it will be above all the little things of this life.

37. Never think badly of those who do not love you, nor be exasperated with those who do not understand you, since even the most intimate feeling that you have towards your fellow men, you will transmit it to them with thought.

38. I offer you at this time so many facilities for you to be my disciples, that you have no need to leave your parents, wives or children to go in search of lands where to spread my teachings, nor to preach loudly in the streets and squares, nor to fear that at the end of the day, the scaffold awaits you irremissibly. I and my apostles also traveled that path, but that blood cleared the path so that the new disciples would not stumble on it. It is only necessary that you understand the meaning of this message so that you can put it into practice, applying it to your life in a simple way, so that you truly live my word.

39. I have given the spirit power over matter, so that he may triumph over trials and reach the end of the road, but the struggle will be great, because since man formed in the world the only kingdom in which he believes, the harmony that should exist between him and everything around him has been broken. From his proud throne he would like to submit everything to the power of his science, and impose his will on the elements and natural forces, but he has not succeeded because he has long since broken his bonds of friendship with the spiritual laws. Now, when I have told this people that the elements can obey it, there have been those who have not believed it, and I tell you that they are right to doubt, because Nature will never obey those who do not know, profane or mock it. On the other hand, whoever knows how to live according to the laws of spirit and matter, that is, who lives in harmony with what surrounds him, he, through his life, will identify himself with his Creator, becoming worthy that the elements of Nature serve and obey him, as befits every child who knows how to obey his Father, the Creator of all that exists.

Love one another!

40. I have not said that this people has reached the necessary elevation to perform those miracles, nor that it is already achieving harmony between the material and the spiritual, I only inspire you to seek that goal through spirituality.

41. Sometimes in order to encourage you in your faith and prove to you the truth of my words, I perform before you those works that you call miracles and wonders, and that are only the prize for those who knew how to penetrate into universal harmony even if it was for a moment.

42. The history of the first men who inhabited the Earth was passed from generation to generation until it was written in the book of the First Time. It is a living parable of those first beings who inhabited the earth. Their purity and innocence allowed them to feel the caress of Mother Nature, a warmth of friendship existed between all beings and a complete fraternity between all creatures. Then human passions were driving men away from that life, so they were forced to search through science for what they had lost due to their lack of spirituality. This is how humanity has come to these times when, in order to survive, it has had to steal from the elements and forces, what is necessary for its life.

43. I do not forbid you to take science nor do I condemn it. I have only wanted men to understand through my Doctrine that there is a greater science than what they know and which they can achieve through love, which is the essence of all my teachings.

44. Humanity: How can I not tell you that these times that you live are of confusion, when I am seeing that you do not let my light pass through the dark clouds of your thoughts? I also tell you that my light will triumph, because there is no darkness that can resist its clarity, then you will understand that the Father never abandons you in the hour of trial.

45. Many peoples have fallen to the bottom of the abyss of materiality and others are yet to fall, but the pain of their fall will make them wake up from their deep sleep.

46. It is those nations that, after a time of splendor, rolled into the abyss, to sink into the darkness of pain, vice and misery. It is now not one people but the whole of humanity, which blindly runs towards death and confusion. The pride of the peoples will be touched by my justice. Remember Nineveh, Babylon, Greece, Rome, Carthage; in them you will find profound lessons of divine justice.

47. When men, by wielding the scepter of power, have allowed their hearts to be filled with impiety, pride and insane passions, dragging their peoples into degeneration, my justice has approached to strip them of their power, but at the same time I have lit before them a torch that illuminates the way of salvation for their spirit. What would become of men if, at the moment of his trials, he abandoned them to his own strength? Look at all those villages, which were great yesterday and today are in ruins. They will flourish again, but it will not be the pride and ambition of earthly greatness that will raise them up, but the ideal inspired by justice and virtue that my teachings pour out. New nations will arise from the ruins of their ruins, and on the ruins of their temples and their idols they will raise up the true worship of their God.

48. Pride has been humbled and sin has been washed away with pain, but do not forget that there is still much to stain and that no matter how pure the life of men on Earth becomes, this planet will never be the eternal abode for the spirit, because whoever believes so will have misinterpreted my word, or will be ignoring the true meaning of life.

49. This world will always be the temporary abode of the spirit; a part only on the path of its restitution, of its evolution and perfection. It is another life that awaits you to keep you forever.

50. The sick, the defeated, the poor in spirit come to my presence and while some bless my will, others rebel before pain and attribute their sufferings to divine punishment or to injustices of fate; then it becomes necessary that I come to bring you out of ignorance, discovering the depth of the truth.

51. When you dwell in the flesh, your spirit comes to purify stains from past lives and it has become necessary to reveal all this to you so that you can bear the sufferings of the Earth with patience.

52. Since the beginning of humanity there has been the reincarnation of the spirit as a law of love and justice and one of the ways in which the Father has demonstrated his infinite mercy. Reincarnation is not only of this time, it is of all times, but also do not think that it is until now that this mystery has been revealed to you. From the earliest times, there was an intuition in man about the reincarnation of the spirit, but this humanity, seeking material sciences and worldly riches, allowed itself to be dominated by the passions of the flesh, hardening those fibers with which the spiritual is perceived, becoming deaf and blind to everything that corresponds to the spirit. What is the use of laying his eyes on the books containing the Law and the Doctrine that I revealed to you in times past, if his mind fails to penetrate their meaning, nor does his heart perceive their essence? Recognize that the sensitivity and spiritual intuition are atrophied in men, and that is why more often than not, when looking for my truth in those texts, they fall into erroneous interpretations. They have the light in front of their eyes; but instead of penetrating to the bottom of the lessons, they stop at the letters, that is, at the outer form, with which they are often confused. But I am already here, to make light in the mysteries and in the darkness as well as to free you from confusion and errors.

53. Blessed are those who have called me, because with this they have demonstrated their longing for love and for knowledge; they have seen how my charity helps them; but you must understand that everything that at this time you want to know you will not be able to get it in an instant, because it is necessary that you pray, meditate and live my teachings, so that you may come to possess what you desire.

54. Just as the man who seeks the light of knowledge in Nature, as the one who seeks my wisdom in spiritual revelations, will have to travel on his own foot the path where he will find all those truths that he cannot find on other paths. That is why I have sent your spirit to live one life after another here on Earth so that through its evolution and its experience, it discovers everything that is in it and in what surrounds it.

55. If you want, search my words, but then study and observe life through them and so that you can verify the truth that contains what I have told you.

56. There will be times when it seems to you that there is a contradiction between what I am telling you today and what was revealed to you in times past, but there is not; the confusion belongs to men, but everyone will come to the light already.

57. If you are attacked by this way of understanding my Doctrine, do not be afraid, because truly I tell you, no one is yet in the right, so no one will be able to prove to you that he has already penetrated to the bottom of the truth.

58. Study my Doctrine, reach the light through prayer, make good the norm of your life, and in the moments when you least expect it, you will be surprised by inspirations and thoughts that will be true revelations of my Spirit.

59. When you feel that my inspirations are coming to you, show yourselves humble, so that you may never think yourselves greater than others and so that you may seek to share in the light for your brothers and sisters, with that love with which I have sent it to you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 106

1. Disciples, behold your Master. I come to open before you the veil of many mysteries; ask, ask, that it will be given to you. But do not ask me for more than you should know.
2. In the past times, I could not reveal to you the mysteries that I am making known to you in this Third Time, because your spirit was not able to understand or conceive beyond what its spiritual development allowed it; but my word is the same, unchangeable, eternal. Your spirit is the one that has been born, the one that grows and evolves until it reaches perfection. The Divine Spirit has no beginning and will have no end, it is immutable.
3. Your spirit is part of a people whom I have taken as a means or instrument to deliver my great lessons to humanity. There have been three revelations that the Father has made to this people: The first lesson was the Law of Justice of the First Time, in the childhood of this people; the second, was the Law of Love revealed in the Second Time, when he had barely penetrated into spiritual adolescence; the third lesson is this that I am giving you in the present era, which I have called the Third Time; in it I reveal to you the Spiritual Law in fullness, a law that contains everything that was shown to you in times past and everything that your spirit should know and possess. Spiritually you have reached youth.
4. If you are constantly evolving, why should I always bring you the same lesson? That is the reason why my arcanum reveals to you in each era, deeper mysteries.
5. Faced with the materialism and the evil reigning at this time, you doubt that you have the spiritual capacity to understand, feel and live my new teachings, and I tell you: that behind the materialism of humanity, behind its misery, its vices and ambitions, there is a spirit that has gone through great journeys and struggles, and is only waiting for the moment to put off its false garment, to rise up full of strength on the path of justice and love that corresponds to the spirit.
6. Human science is the materialized expression of the spiritual capacity that man has reached in this time. The work of men in this age is not only the product of the mind, but of its spiritual evolution.
7. The Master, who has found his disciples in spiritual youth, already prepared to understand the new lesson, comes to gather in a single book the three divine revelations, as a testament of love for men. That is the reason why you are called Trinitarians, because you carry in your spirit the seed of those three lessons; however, not everyone will rise up at this time to follow me, not even all those who listen to me, because not everyone has awakened, nor have they been able to take advantage of the trials that they have had in their life. There are those who are lethargic for spiritual lessons, those who are stationary, those who are confused, but each one has marked the moment when he must wake up and hear the voice of his conscience. Those who shuddered at this time when they heard my word, were those who awaited with impatience my new manifestation, those who remembered my promise to return, as the lost traveler waits in the middle of the night for the dawn to appear to find the way and continue the journey.

8. My voice, which I materialize today in this form, will cease to be heard and then I will contemplate in your works, the fruit of my sowing. I will leave in each one of you an ear and a fruit so that when you feel hungry or someone in need comes to ask you, you will have bread and not tell the Father that he abandoned you and left you without an inheritance. I want that in those times, when you feel in need of my divine pleasures, you know how to turn to your spirit and look for him, that there you will find stored many riches that my charity deposited in him. You will also find my seed in abundance, waiting for you to prepare the lands, so that you may sow it. I have taught you how to cultivate those lands and to watch over the sowing. Tomorrow, your spirit will gather the fruit of his works, as a harvest worthy to be offered to the Father and to be kept in his granaries.

9. There will be an instant when my word, given at this time, will apparently be erased from the face of the Earth, then men will arise inventing spiritualist doctrines, teaching new laws and precepts, teachers, apostles, prophets and envoys will be called, and I, for a while, I will let them speak and sow, I will let them cultivate their seed, so that when they gather the fruit, they will know what it was that they sowed. Time and the elements will pass over your crops and your passage will be like a judgment for each of those beings.

10. It is necessary for the world to know about the imposture, so that it recognizes the truth. Then, the truth and the essence that I have given you at this time will resurface among humanity in all its purity and spirituality.

11. See the men who lead the peoples, creating doctrines and imposing them on men. Each one proclaims the superiority of his doctrine, but I ask: What has been the fruit of all this? Wars, with their procession of miseries, sufferings, destruction and death. That has been the harvest that the apostles of such theories have gathered here on Earth. See that I have not contradicted the free will of humanity, although I know how to tell you that about that freedom, conscience is incessantly speaking to the heart of the one who departs from justice, charity or reason.

12. Also in human life I will make men understand what the fruits of their sowing have been, letting sooner or later the results of their works appear as their judges. After that judgment, everyone will come to look for me and then they will discover that my word adapts to men of all ages and civilizations, because the divine word, my Doctrine, does not belong to a certain epoch, because it is eternal.

Love one another!

13. My teaching imparts strength to the spirit to triumph over all trials; the number of these is written down in the destiny of each creature, why retreat before them? Why be cowed by the mountain that rises before your eyes? Don't you know that after overcoming these obstacles you will reach the goal you are looking for?

14. How much weakness I still see in your matter, weakness that often makes you blaspheme. If the elements are inclement, you blaspheme; if some pain afflicts your body, you despair; if work overwhelms you, you lose patience; even heat and cold cause you anger and the darkness of the night instill fear in you, how can you not faint, if you let yourselves be guided by the dictates of the flesh, which engenders low passions? When will you be my good disciples who testify with your works of love, the truth of my Doctrine?

15. Being a disciple of Christ does not mean that you stray too far from the material; that is, by not being content to turn away from the bad and the superfluous, you turn away from your material duties and joys. I do not want you fanatics, nor slaves of the spiritual, when you are still in matter. The good disciple of Jesus is the one who knows how to give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's.

16. A great struggle awaits my people, because in their journey they will have to find great evolution in the spirit and in the mind of humanity. That is why I want you to evolve at this stage of my communication, so that no one will surprise you. Trust absolutely in my word, knowing that there is more wisdom in it than in the understanding of the wise, and knowledge that is not found in all the books of the earth.

17. Tirelessly sow love and peace, in this way you will be preparing your spiritual path, and when death surprises your body and the spirit has traveled much of the way, full of joy he will contemplate to where the merits of his works of love for his brothers raised him.

18. People: see how as you deepen in my teaching, you are leaving behind habits and customs penetrating into a new, cleaner, more spiritual life. It is a new world that arises from the bottom of your heart.

19. How many mysteries my word has come to dispel and how many erroneous interpretations I have come to rectify. In this way you will have to go through the ways of the world, clarifying my Law to your brothers. I tell you, you will go, because no one is a prophet in his land. I myself, at that time, had to leave Nazareth where I lived, in order to be believed where I was looked at as a stranger, where it would not be said of Me: the man who calls himself the Son of God is the son of Mary and Joseph the carpenter.

20. I tell you this, because among you who have received my spiritual gifts, there are those of whom their own parents, their children or their brothers have doubted. Among you are those who, because they testify to my teaching, have been called like Me, sorcerers, sorcerers. Do not forget these words, for some will have to stay in their region; others will have to leave it and even their nation, to take my word to other peoples.

21. This nation, fertilized by pain, sheltered my seed and it germinated, but do not believe that only you have this light; when you take my Doctrine to other peoples, you will see how soon it will germinate and spread. In those lands you will be prophets and emissaries and therefore you will be believed.

22. My light extends from one end of the Earth to the other and illuminates the entire Universe. The light of the Divine Spirit is a language that speaks to all beings. You who are human, receive my word through the understanding of man; to those whom you call angels, I send my voice in the form of divine inspiration; and in each world or spiritual dwelling I make myself heard and understood, according to the degree of evolution of its inhabitants.

23. I want to speak to you as I speak to the angels, not because you have their purity, but because I want you to enjoy that grace and that you become like those beings in their elevation. Spirit-to-Spirit communication will bring all beings and all worlds closer together; but it is necessary that you be prepared to understand each other and, for this, I am giving you a single language, a single light, a single form of communication: that of true love.

24. The era of spiritual communication begins for you. It is a long way that you will have to travel and it will take a long time for you to see this gift culminate; but from the first steps and in each of them, you will find an incentive to persevere on the way.

25. Weren't you pleased with my communication through the human spokesman? Did you not enjoy the presence of the spiritual world through your understanding? For those were the precursor steps for the spiritual communication that you will later achieve. And in these moments, in which you seek my voice in the silence of your prayer, is not this peace that you feel and that nascent inspiration that you receive pleasant?

26. You know the times of peace that will come because you have received my inspiration and my revelations, but there are those who, without having listened to me at this time, dream and desire universal harmony, without knowing if it will reach you, it is intuition that speaks in them.

27. Even men of science have the presentiment of communication through the gifts of the spirit, and that is that they, in their constant searching and penetrating into the interior of the human being, have discovered the existence of that being that, belonging to another world, comes to dwell in man: the spirit.

Love one another!

28. Today I say to all of you: walk slowly and carefully along this path, so that you do not get lost from it. Watch and pray during the day, so that you will reach the end and your joy will be very great when the Father speaks and the entire spiritual Universe listens to him and understands him and that in the same way you understand each other.

29. I want you to feel in your heart the love of your Father; this love descends from my Spirit to yours, but since you have not yet reached the true communion of the spirit, I speak to you then through these creatures, in a simple and humble language available to everyone. It is my will to manifest my Word to you with the utmost simplicity, so that you may find the essence of it with all ease and not get lost in the confusing, often useless chatter.

30. Cleanse your mind and your lips, so that when you have to explain my Doctrine, the crystalline torrent of my Word will flow from your lips, without ostentatious terms being mixed with your word that take away its humility and its essence. If you wanted to explain my spiritual Doctrine in scientific or philosophical terms, you will not impress the world, nor will your brothers understand you, nor will you give a true idea of what my teaching is. At that time, when in Jesus I spoke to the world, I did not take the language of the sages, philosophers or scientists to tell you about the Kingdom of Heaven, I took from your language the simplest forms, because they are the ones that best express superhuman teachings. I used the parables, taking the things that were familiar to you so that, through them, you would know the meaning of spiritual life.

31. Truly I tell you, Jesus had to come to learn nothing from men, because then I would not have been the Divine Teacher, but the disciple of man. If anyone has said that Christ was instructed by theologians, theosophists or sages, he is not telling the truth, because before Christ and at the time when He inhabited the Earth, there was no doctrine that taught Him to be born, to live and to die as He did; but I also tell you that the lessons of Heaven cannot be learned to the world, and what Jesus taught, was the truth that exists in the eternal kingdom of the spirit.

32. How men strive to complicate what is simple, they would like to find in the divine, the composition and substances that are proper to material nature! Your astonishment will be great when you realize that the spiritual or divine, without substance and without form, is the whole, is the beginning and the end, is the truth, is the eternal.

33. Humanity has always been too busy with the greatness of the Earth to consider the importance of praying and meditating on what is beyond this life, so that it could discover the essence of itself. The one who prays, converses with the Father and if he interrogates, he receives the answer instantly. The ignorance of men about the spiritual comes from their lack of prayer.

Love one another!

34. People: Since you have not been able to abolish the confusion of Babel on this Earth, since the races have not known how to unite or love each other, I will gather my family in the spiritual valley. Those stubborn and inveterate sinners will come before Me in spirit and when they receive their judgment, their lucidity and repentance will be as great as their sin on earth was great.

35. Pray for those who are absent from among you and leave for the Hereafter, because not everyone manages to find the way, not everyone knows how to rise up, and not everyone soon reaches peace.

36. There are those who in spirit live under the obsession of material life; some who suffer great repentance; others find themselves insensitive buried under the earth along with their bodies, and others cannot move away from their own, from those who remained in the world, because crying, selfishness and human ignorance holds them back and materializes, depriving them of peace, light and advancement.

37. Let those who still inhabit this world leave without corresponding to them anymore, let them abandon the goods they possessed and loved in this life, so that they can raise their spirit to infinity where the true inheritance awaits them.

38. Do not hold a grudge or remember the bad deeds from which they departed, do not want to have them like fennels before you constantly imploring your forgiveness.

39. How blind mankind is!

40. Get to know each other and get to know me so that you may learn to walk on the path of love and do worthy deeds. See, I want you to know a lot about Me so that you can be like your Father.

41. You all have to get to Me, some first, some later, but everyone will get there. It could not be otherwise if you are all sparks of my divine light, if you are part of Myself. Learn from Me to love and forgive, fulfilling the precept that says to you: Love one another.

42. You want me to forgive you at every moment and you withhold or deny forgiveness to your brothers! Why do you want to get lost in the abyss having so many gifts in your spirit? My word comes at this time to enlighten your mind. You have sought the truth in books and have found only recreation for the mind, but no benefit for the spirit, no food or encouragement to sustain you in your weakness or in your fatigue.

43. I do not come to give you my word in a scientific or flowery way, so that you can understand it; but at the bottom of its simplicity it holds great treasures of wisdom and light for men.

Love one another!

44. Since you sought me so much, and your heart was waiting for me, I am here fulfilling my promise to return among you and attending to your longing to listen to me.

45. My Divine Spirit, as if it were the shadow of your body, follows you everywhere along the paths of the world. I let you know joys and also sorrows, I wanted you to know about struggle and peace, that you tasted and knew everything; but there was something that you searched in vain in this world without having been able to find it, because that something can only be found in Me: My wisdom. That is why, listening to me, your spirit has felt that it has finally found what it was looking for: the Truth.

46. Yes, people: I am the beginning and the end of you, I am the alpha and the omega, although I still do not tell you or reveal all the teachings that I still have in store for your spirit, which you will know when you are very far from this world. I will reveal many new lessons to you now and I will give you what you are capable of possessing, without aggrandizing yourself, or rising up before humanity with a boast of superiority; you already know that whoever is puffed up by his works, with his very vanity destroys them, that is why I have taught you to work in silence so that your works bear fruit of love.

47. Reject flattery, for it is a weapon that will destroy your noble feelings. It is a sword that can kill that faith that I have ignited in your heart.

48. How can you allow men to destroy the altar that you carry in the depths of your being?

49. I know that great works have been done among this people, but let Me know, even if your names are ignored in the world.

50. Only I know the true merit or value of your works because even you yourself will not be able to judge them; sometimes a small work will seem very great to you, and sometimes you will not even realize that its merit came to Me.

51. Strengthen yourselves in humility, in dignity and you will not get lost. I have given you the weapons, fight, and do not lose a single battle. The laurel that will gird your forehead will be an oscar (holy spear) of your Father's love.

52. Do not fall prostrate in lethargy again, since you have got rid of it; do not go to imitate the unfaithful virgins who did not know how to wait for the bridegroom with their lighted lamps, because if your previous awakening was bitter, the next one will have no comparison.

53. Take care of your inheritance and there will be no one who will take it from you, because man has no power to take away the gifts of the spirit.

54. People: the moments of my stay among you are short, in which through this word I give you my teaching; but first I want to leave you my Doctrine as a treasure, as a testament of truth and love, so that when you feel very small before humanity because of your poverty and material humility, the knowledge that you possess a testament of infinite spiritual value, will make you worthily lift your forehead and serenely open your lips to deliver my word. This is the only greatness that I want you to have: that of the spirit.

55. If you only knew that many beings whom you behold miserable, some blind, some lepers, some perishing from hunger, carry many times in their spirit more light and advancement than some who boast of health, power and wisdom! Therefore, do not look for gold, or honors, or mansions. Seek peace, health and virtues.

56. In my high judgments it is ordained that you should be guides and counselors of the multitudes. Prepare yourselves, so that you may become worthy to bring the seed of the Father to the heart of humanity. The stout trees will multiply, from them I will cut the branches that will be taken by my farmers to the regions where my children have long longed to hear my word. My lessons are extensive because the crowds ask me to speak to them, to explain, to make them forget the pain and misery of the world; and I remain for long moments between them without them feeling the passage of time or fatigue, only in this way will you come to assimilate my teachings and understand and analyze their meaning.

57. How beautiful it will be when these multitudes, simple and humble, rise up on the roads carrying the good news of this time, so full of spirituality and morality! You will remember the father who has become the judge of his son, who has to forgive him and love him; the mother who has ignored her children by denying them her lap, who has to open her arms to them and clasp them in her heart, so that they too can love; and the children who rise up against their parents, who have to venerate them because parents on earth take my place. Without righteousness, how can the spirit have elevation?

58. Tomorrow you will have to teach and confirm your words with deeds; from now on moralize your life, rebuild your homes and unify your family. Let the father go in search of his son who fled his home and the children look for the one who abandoned them; let the wife return to the arms of the partner and let the husband who had renounced his duties, look for the partner and build a new and better existence.

59. Today, better than ever, you know your responsibility before my justice, O fathers and mothers! for those beings whom you name children by your blood, are spirits of whom you will have to answer me.

60. I want the union of your hearts to be the garden where those roses and those lilies bloom. Bring the crowds closer to hear my word, bring them to the banquet, which I myself will serve them. Truly I tell you, they will come out strong after they have eaten the bread of true life and drunk the wine of my grace.

Love one another!

61. Those who eat of this bread will never hunger again.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Love one another!

1. Keep my paternal word in your heart, so that it may be like a luminous beacon at the bottom of your being; from there it will guide your thoughts, words and deeds and that light will live in your spirit even when your soul dies. This is the time when humanity awakens to the beauties of the spirit, when it is interested in the eternal and wonders: What will the life that awaits us after death be like? Who, no matter how unbelieving, has not wondered if there will be in him, something that will survive matter? Truly I tell you, there is no one who does not sense that mystery or meditate for a moment on the unfathomable. About the mystery of the spiritual life that seems to be far away, and that in reality is in front of your eyes, some ask, others are confused and others deny; some speak believing they know everything, and others are silent and wait; but how few are those who truly know something of the hereafter.

2. My Divine Spirit, in the likeness of Jesus the child, who before the doctors of the law asked questions that could not be answered, invisibly appears at this time before the theologian, before the philosopher, before those who delve into the unknown, and to my questions about the spiritual life, he who is not silent, answers wrongly. Those who know something of what my arcanum keeps, are the humble, those who live with spirituality; however, my light, like a dew falls incessantly on every understanding, as a message that reveals my truth to him. If I asked those who claim to possess my Law and my Doctrine which of my prophecies have been fulfilled and which have not, they would not answer satisfactorily either.

3. This is the time when the incarnate and the disembodied spirit seek and approach each other; the abyss that exists between one and the other begins to disappear; and when the spirits of all the worlds manage to get closer with true love, it will be the glorification of the Father in every being, today the ignorance of humanity still causes me pain. Ah, if instead of mourning the departure of your loved ones, you would hear their voices in the depths of your heart; instead of mourning, which is darkness, there would be light! that is why I said to you at that time, "Let the dead bury their dead." I ask you: Are you dead? What dies does not exist, but if the spirits you present to me exist, they are alive. How many of you would like to have among yourselves those whom you saw disappearing, not wanting to understand that their desire is for you to be with them in the Hereafter! What you call death, apparently separates those who leave from those who stay, but an eternal bond unites them: that of spiritual brotherhood.

4. In eternity the spiritual family formed by the Father and his children will be reunited; since on this Earth the seed of Babel still bears its fruits of division among the children of God, in the Hereafter I will reunite my family. No one will be lacking, and in many cases the greatest sinners will arrive first, because their repentance and regeneration will purify them and bring them closer to Me more quickly; but it is necessary that you know that many spirits dwell among you in a state of confusion; others are fulfilling painful expiations, among them there are also those whom you call yours. How could you get them to contemplate the light and free themselves from their chains? How could you help them in their elevation? Praying for them, so that this prayer may be the spiritual voice that awakens them, enlightens them and leads them to Me. Remember them with charity and your prayers will be like a balm on their sorrows; make them contemplate that you live within my Law, so that your example and your influence may help them. But do not think only of those from whom you received some benefit, think even of those around you without being seen or having known them on Earth. The acts of gratitude are beautiful, but it is more meritorious before Me, that you give without having received before; but if you manage to remember without rancor and come to forgive whoever has offended you, you will have managed to imitate your Master, and your forgiveness, which is an expression of love, will truly save whoever you grant it.

5. The Father penetrates to the innermost depths of your heart and says to you: Know yourselves and you will know your brothers. Judge yourselves before you judge your fellow man. Take my examples and follow in my footsteps.

6. You are always asking me for forgiveness for your faults, without you having forgiven those who have offended you.

7. For a long time you have been looking for the light of truth in the roads and in books without finding the true food of the spirit, only a recreation for the mind; today you have my truth that tells you about the true life.

8. You arrived before the humility of these enclosures and hearing in them this simple word, because its terms are not flowery or scientific, you felt the emotion in your spirit and it recognized that it was before a divine revelation. I saw your longing for light and I granted you to look at what you wanted so much. I let you walk in all the ways so that at last you would find the truth in this one.

9. Behind the simplicity and humility with which I speak to you, all knowledge is found; go to the bottom of the word and you will find that its essence is alpha and omega, the beginning and the end of everything created.

10. I will reserve many lessons for you when you are in my Kingdom. You should not know them for now, just as you should not know the reward that you are working for the eternal bliss of the spirit. There must be an absolute disinterest in you, so that your merits are true; the good works that you do should not be published, because you will take away from them the merit that they might have. Only I know the great or small value of your works, I am the one who has to judge them, why do you want men to praise you for them? Vanity loses men and taints the spirit.

Love one another!

11. When you come to Me, I will give you a crown that will not be of thorns, like the one you embedded in the temples of Jesus. Everyone has a place in the material universe that the Father has prepared for him, which he has to take care of and defend in order to carve out another in the love of his Lord.

12. I have come to prepare you because the moment of my departure is approaching, but first I want to leave you my Teaching as a treasure. Do not look for gold, nor covet royal mansions; there are those who, being covered with leprosy, or walking like wretches on earth, carry a treasure in the spirit.

13. Now I say to you: prepare yourselves, because this year the trees will multiply in the regions where they have waited so long for my word.

14. The incarnate spirits have not been able to unite on Earth due to the difference of races, so I will raise many of them from Earth and in the Hereafter I will form a family with them, and if their perversity was great, then their lucidity and repentance will be great.

15. Pray for the troubled spirits, for the materialized ones, for those who in the bowels of the earth still cannot get rid of their bodies; for those who suffer and cry because of the ignorant mourning that keeps them on Earth, and also forgive and stop judging those who have sown evils in your heart; if your eyes could contemplate them from fennel imploring your forgiveness, you would not be so unjust to them. Help them to fly towards the infinite, lift them up with your charity, understand that they no longer belong to this world.

16. Once again I say to you, whoever drinks of the water of my word will never feel thirsty again.

17. Disciples: I want the virtues of your heart to be the garments that cover the nakedness of your spirit. Thus speaks the Consoling Spirit to you, promised in the Second Time.

18. The Father already knew of the pain and trials that were to burden humanity and the degree of perversity that men were to reach. The arrival of the Comforter means for you the opening of the Sixth Seal, that is, the beginning of a new stage in the evolution of humanity. From that moment a divine judgment remains open for all men; every life, every work, every step, are strictly judged; it is the end of an era, not the end of life.

19. It is the end of the times of sin and it is necessary that all the contents of this Sixth Seal of the book of God, be poured out in the spirits awakening them from their lethargy, so that man rises carrying the harmony of his spirit with all creation and prepares for when the Seventh Seal is unleashed by the Lamb, which will bring the last residues of the cup of bitterness, but also the triumph of truth, love and divine justice.

Love one another!

20. When the Seventh Seal is closed, along with the other six, that book will also be closed that has been the judgment of God on the works of men from the first to the last. Then the Lord will open a blank book to record in it, the resurrection of the dead, the liberation of the oppressed, the regeneration of sinners and the triumph of good over evil.

21. If you study the revelation of the Seven Seals given to John, you will find only sin, desecration and adultery in the nations of the world. There is the history of your wars, of all the miseries and tribulations that men have suffered because of their infidelity and their weakness and the justice that has followed each of your works.

22. Christ was in the middle of the day, and with his sacrifice, with his perfect example, He rescued you from death; his blood was the judgment of love with which he saved all the lost, granting them his divine forgiveness, like an oscar of life; the cross was the key with which He opened the doors of eternity to the spirits after the great battle.

23. That is the Lamb that the prophet contemplated opening the book and untied the seals, the only one who in Heaven and on Earth, was worthy to open that book, because only his love could overcome your hatreds, his meekness destroy your wars and his light dispel your darkness. Who can escape this trial? Who can get out of that book and cease to exist? No one will be able to hide from Me, O people, look at how in these times when this judgment is palpable even in the air you breathe, you do not lack divine consolation, the mantle of God's love is projected in your life and his voice seeks to be heard by every heart.

24. It is the Spirit of Truth who descends to decipher mysteries and to reveal to you the knowledge necessary to enjoy true life; it is the divine consolation that is poured out on your ailments, to give you testimony that the divine judgment is not punishment, nor revenge, but a judgment of love to lead you to light, peace and happiness.

25. I do not find a single unoccupied heart in which to dwell; they are all dedicated to the world, but how meritorious I find him who, overcoming his pain, knows how to bless my will.

26. What would become of you if, in the midst of your tribulations, you did not have the consolation of your faith? Look at how that faith makes you feel very close to my presence, and already next to Me, you are filled with strength and hope. Continue to show me that confidence, so that I may grant you all the comfort that I have in store for you.

27. How gratifying it is for Me to feel believed and respected in my will! How satisfying it is for my Spirit when I see that you trust in your Father, that you know how to hope, that you are unable to deny against me despite the fact that sometimes the intensity of the trials overwhelms you; then I tell you: these have become worthy of my benefits because they have made merits in the vicissitudes.

Love one another!

28. Forge your spirit in the great battles of life, as that people of Israel forged in the desert. Do you know how vast the desert is, which seems to have no end, with an inclement sun and hot sands? Do you know what loneliness and silence are and having to stay awake, because enemies lurk? Truly I tell you that it was there, in the desert, that that people knew how great it is to believe in God and learned to love Him. What could this people expect from the desert? And yet he had everything: bread, water, a home to rest, an oasis and a sanctuary to raise his grateful spirit to his Father and Creator.

29. When Israel entered the Promised Land, it was a strengthened, purified, fervent people. How sweet that land was to her that opened her lap to receive the son who with such faith and perseverance had sought her and had finally found her.

30. You are also a people and the life you cross is an image of the desert, that is why I tell you to imitate the faith of that people, so that you may see my wonders on your way, those wonders will be on your journey, the water that springs from the rocks or the manna that the winds bring.

31. The tabernacle was for that people the luminous torch that illuminated their path. Do not forget that in your heart there is the sanctuary, where you can pray to put on my strength and to listen to the loving voice of your Father. I am your doctor. On any of the occasions of your life, seek me and you will hear my voice and you will see my presence, my love and my comfort manifest.

32. Comfort yourselves, thinking that in each of your sorrows of life, my charity will compensate you when you reach the bosom of the spiritual life, that new Land that I have promised to your spirit. Can you imagine what the joys, their fruits, their wonders and perfections will be?

33. If it was a dream for Israel to have reached their homeland after having wandered in the desert, how sweet it will be for your spirit to penetrate the Kingdom of Light, after your long pilgrimage. Therefore, know that even the least of your sorrows is a thistle or a pebble of the desert that you cross, so that you may have the patience in the trials and the understanding of your destiny.

34. You have all encountered a crossroads in life, which has made you ask: Where am I going? Sometimes you have found yourself at the crossroads by receiving a disappointment; sometimes it has been by achieving something that you longed for and that, when you got there, you understood that that could not be the reason for your life, that something bigger, nobler and more beautiful must be what constitutes the goal of the spirit.

Love one another!

35. This trance is hard, the hour is bitter and the battle that is being fought inside you is terrible, but I tell you: Blessed are those who, when entering this trial, hold on to their faith, because they will come out of it saying: I have seen the light, I know the way, the voice of the Lord is calling me.

36. Truly, I tell you, you are like streams that sometimes divert their course, but at last they will flow into the sea, which is their goal.

37. Analyze my word, disciples, and you will understand that it clarifies the mysteries that you were not able to understand. I am giving you the interpretation of them, so that you will not fall into errors or confusion. At that time, I promised to send you the Spirit of Truth, to make clear to you everything that was a mystery to you; for that Spirit is I. From whom but from Me can the truth spring? The time of light has arrived, you begin to know everything and as your communication with my Spirit is perfected, the greater the knowledge you will acquire and the greater the light you will receive.

38. Your spirit lived oppressed by the flesh, but the time has come for its liberation and as its flight reaches greater heights, you will discover greater wonders. Your heart was a slave to the world, but when it had triumphed from that crossroads, it knew what it had to love and also knew which passions it should turn away from.

39. You rejoice at the thought of the step you have taken, but you hide that joy in your heart, for fear that the world will take it away from you with its criticism and judgments. You are still afraid, but I tell you, the time will come when nothing and no one will make you tremble, when you will feel an intimate satisfaction in calling yourselves disciples of the Holy Spirit, instead of being ashamed as it has happened to you, as if you had been discovered or surprised in sin.

40. You are brothers of those Christians who hid themselves in the catacombs of Rome; but do not forget that, when those multitudes came out of the darkness, it was to bring light to the unbelieving world, surprising men with their faith. They were the watering over the divine seed that the Master had sown. Later, the Gentile and sinful peoples, convinced by those testimonies, would embrace the cross of my love, like shipwrecked people in search of the saving lighthouse.

41. When will you come out of your retreat and your darkness, you multitudes who have listened to me? Are you deliberately delaying your preparation, for fear of the fight? Truly I tell you, only the unprepared one fears, because the one who knows my word and loves his Lord and his fellow men has nothing to fear and instead of running away from humanity, he goes to meet her to make her share in what he has received; after studying and analyzing my lessons, he puts them into practice.

42. People of Israel: You find yourselves dwelling in this valley in a time of restitution. I point out the narrow way that my Law marks, so that in it you may be clean and become part of the people who are taught.

43. I have given you my word at this time, so that you may know my commands and have one more manifestation of your Father's love. Do not doubt or fear Me, I do not come to dominate you by force; if you want to follow me, you will have to know the essence of my Doctrine, which is the same one that I brought you in the Second Time, and then you will know everything that this call that I make to you means for your spirit. If you do not accept, other spirits will come eager to receive me and in them I will deposit the grace that you reject.

44. I have always told you: many are the called and few are the chosen, and it is not I who distinguishes or grants privileges, it is you who make yourselves worthy of receiving this name.

45. Those who follow me are called to be the ones who propagate my teaching, which will bring comfort and salvation to humanity. Blessed are those who, on hearing this voice for the first time, have felt the emptiness of their heart being filled and have lifted up their weak, fainting wrapper; it is that they have received the strength and encouragement that I have come to give you. I invite you to take up your cross, and I repeat to you those words: "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life".

46. How long you have walked on the earth and how much you have wept too, without reaching your end. I have let you walk and taste different fruits, so that at last you will recognize me! I have been close to you in all your steps. That voice that you have heard inviting you to pray is my voice. That charity which has guided your steps is mine; but I want you to meditate and think about your destiny, to follow the traces of my passage on Earth.

47. You, whom I have gathered in humble houses of prayer, I have not spoken to you as a judge, although in truth I tell you that I have come to judge you; but I love you and I want you to always seek me as a Father, so that when I have concluded my manifestation in this way, you will remember that my word never hurt your heart and that I only moved you by touching your sensitivity, polishing with the finest chisel, which is my word, your heart; and that my teaching separated you from your sad and routine existence, because you found the true way of salvation.

48. Practice my teaching and you will not stumble, pain will come to you, but it will not make you despair. You will have strength in the days of trial, you will achieve serenity even when you go through a painful trance, and in the end, your submissive envelope and as it will descend to earth, your spirit will rise and find me in the tribunal where I will judge Him; but you will not arrive before a terrible judge, but before an understanding and loving Father who will extol your good works and point out to you what is not worthy of reaching Him, so you will still have to purify yourself.

49. You will not be able to say that you have not fulfilled the Law because you lack the light, because I have poured it out in torrents on every spirit. I do not ask you to match my works of the Second Time, but I do ask you to imitate them. The coming generations will go forward in its fulfillment and thus, from generation to generation, humanity will advance on its path of perfection. You are laying the foundation for perfect communication with me, and your children will continue your works.

50. If you were judged because of my Doctrine, do not be afraid of that judgment, do not be ashamed of being my disciples; remember those who followed me in the Second Time and be strengthened by their example.

51. My Work will sustain you in trials, forgive every insult and when you have been judged and covered with reproach, I will give proofs of your innocence and righteousness. Take these trials as the opportunity I give you to make yourselves recognized as my disciples before humanity.

52. Seek eternal life and in it you will find peace; let your brothers and sisters judge you unjustly. The times of persecution that I have announced to you will come and by that time you must already be strong and trust in Me. And when bread is scarce and work is denied you, you will not die of hunger; pray and work for the salvation of your brothers; then you will see that the spiritual ideal feeds you and you will understand those words in which I told you: "Man does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from God."

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Blessed are you who come from the tribes of Israel, my voice has called you. I am spiritually gathering my people who were scattered, fulfilling my promise to point to them with my light and give them their inheritance. I have sought him because the moment will come when this Doctrine will be entrusted to him and each one of the disciples will have to get up to look for his brothers to make them know my message; but it will be until fraternity, union and peace reign in the hearts of my People, when he will fully feel my presence before his spirit.
2. Study my word and its essence will make you understand that you are already very close to spiritual liberation.
3. At the voice of the Master your spirit has been filled with courage and you have risen overcoming all the obstacles that have stood in your way hindering your journey. My voice encourages you to persevere in the struggle, so that you will soon cease to be slaves of the world and become my disciples and servants. Watch and pray that you will not fall into captivity again; see that I have come to set you free with the light of my revelations that promise you a new life. I have always wanted my people to be great and strong, but not to humiliate their brothers but so that in the spiritual, and in other orders, be a bulwark and a guide before the nations.
4. Have those people been faithful to my orders? No, he has not known how to be strong and for that reason his enemies have always made him a slave or taken away his inheritance.
5. Beloved people, my word shakes you at this time because you recognize that only I can speak to you in this way; that only I can offer you to hear my voice of forgiveness. Thus I come to restore to your spirit the inheritance that was withheld.
6. When I tell you that this time is of your spiritual liberation, it is because the gods who have created men are falling one by one. Doctrines, sciences, theories and ambitions of power, all of these are being touched by my justice. I come to propose to humanity a new life and to reveal to it a new science, the divine science, because this one that men proclaim, filling some with vanity and others with amazement, I tell you the truth, is still very far from surpassing the human. Instead, I will give you a light that will illuminate your spirit and then, with justice, you will marvel at what you are going to know. This will be when your heart and your brain learn to listen to the voice of conscience until you see the fruits sprout and know their flavor, but everything human has a limit and the mind of man also has a "so far". However, when the science of men pursues a spiritual cause and has been cleansed of all selfish ends, I will put it at the service of humanity, as a means of spiritual advancement, then Nature, opening its arcanum, will show its secrets revealing to men unknown forces and elements, and then that science of yours will cease to have limits by transforming itself into a noble and good cause.

7. That light is still a closed book that men have not contemplated, so I tell you that the advancement of science in the future will be greater than what you have achieved today; but it will not be by the mind, but by the spirit.

8. I have told you that I have found you turned into slaves of materialism, but I have come to free you from those chains.

9. Before I manifested Myself, Elijah came to you, the same one whom you have called "The Prophet of Fire"; he, with the Lightning of his presence, will melt your chains, preparing you for a better life. Elijah, prophet, messenger, forerunner and spiritual shepherd, will once again reveal the falsehood of idols and deities that men have created. Before the invisible ara he will invoke my power and again the ray of my justice will descend to destroy paganism and the wickedness of men. Elijah is at this time like a luminous star emerged from the infinite that has come to prepare the human understanding for the communication of the Divinity with men. It was his voice that first made itself heard through this medium, because he is my forerunner.

10. Humanity has multiplied at the same time as its sin. There is no shortage of cities like Sodom and Gomorrah in the world, whose scandal reverberates throughout the Earth and is poisoning hearts. Of those sinful cities there were not even vestiges, despite the fact that their inhabitants were not hypocrites, because they sinned in the light of day, but this humanity of now, which hides in the shadows to let its passions overflow, and then appears righteousness and purity, will have a more severe judgment than Sodom.

11. It is the fatal inheritance of all past generations, which with its ambitions, vices and diseases, is bearing fruit at this time. It is the tree of evil that has grown in the hearts of men, a tree that has been fertilized with sins, the fruits of which continue to tempt women and men, causing new hearts to fall day by day.

12. Under the shadow of that tree lie men and women without the strength to free themselves from its influence; there have been broken virtues, stained honors and many truncated lives.

13. Not only adults are attracted by the pleasures of the world and the flesh; also teenagers and even children, the poison accumulated through the ages has reached everyone. And those who have managed to escape the baleful influence of evil, what do they do for those who have been lost? Judge them, censure them and be scandalized by their actions. Few are those who pray for those who stray from the path and even fewer are those who devote part of their lives to fighting evil.

Love one another!

14. Truly I tell you, my kingdom will not be established among men as long as the tree of evil is alive. It is necessary to destroy that power for which it is necessary to possess the sword of love and justice, the only one that sin will not be able to resist. Understand that it will not be judgments, nor punishment, but love, forgiveness and charity, the essence of my Doctrine, the light that illuminates your paths and the teaching that leads humanity to salvation.

15. People: Do you want to be one of those who work for the redemption of this humanity? Do you want to contribute your help in the work of salvation? Well, do not feel powerless to carry out this mission by comparing your insignificant number with that of humanity, because not everything is going to be done by you.

16. Understand that each one of you who turns away from an evil path will cause the power of evil to lose part of its strength, that your life, if it is right in its deeds, words and thoughts, will leave a good seed in its wake; that your counsels, if they spring from a prepared heart, will have strength to perform wonders and that prayer, if born of a thought of piety and love, will be a message of light to the one for whom you ask.

17. The forces of evil have been strengthened, men are working to find the weapons with which to discharge their hatred, their revenge and envy. Men of science dedicate their lives studying the most powerful means to destroy those they consider their enemies, but truly I tell you, in that fight everyone will lose, because my power will only be on the side of justice, love, reason and truth.

18. When all those who pray and those who suffer are united in thought, and seeing the chaos into which humanity is rushing, turn their pain into teachings and good deeds, I will entrust them with my invincible sword so that they may cut branch after branch of evil, which has given so many fruits of death to men.

19. The fruits of the reign of evil will not prevail, but light will reign in every place and in every spirit.

20. At this time I am manifesting my divine word through men, women and children, thus fulfilling that prophecy that announced to you the time when my Spirit would be poured out on every human creature. You are barely at the beginning of that Era, but then you will see the spiritual awakening of humanity throughout the Earth.

21. Symbolically there is a table prepared to which I invite you to sit and eat the delicacies of eternal life that I offer to your spirit. You may well understand the meaning of these words, because from the earliest times I have spoken to you about the true life, which is eternal life, although until now you had not understood that lesson.

Love one another!

22. I, who knew how little you had to delve into my teachings and the mistakes you would have fallen into when interpreting my revelations, announced my return to you, telling you that I would send you the Spirit of Truth to clarify many mysteries and explain to you what you had not understood; because in the depths of my prophetic words I gave you to understand that at this time I would not come between lightning and thunder as at Sinai, not to make me a man, humanizing my love and my words as in the Second Time; but I would come to your spirit in the radiance of my wisdom surprising your mind with the light of inspiration and knocking on the doors of your heart, with a voice that understands your spirit. Those predictions and promises are the ones that are now being fulfilled.

23. It is enough to prepare yourselves a little to look at my light and feel the presence of my Spirit, the same one who announced to you that he would come to teach you and to discover the truth for you.

24. The time in which you live is one of judgment and trials but you are not abandoned. Knock on my door and you will hear to the point how my voice answers you. How strong you will be when you know how to seek me spiritually, how high your spirituality is, when you penetrate the path of love and how beautiful your life will be when you understand its meaning!

25. Come along my path with a slow and firm step, that I do not come to demand that you immediately give fruits of perfection, because it will be enough for me with your regeneration for it to be the beginning of your elevation.

26. Disciples: Eat and drink at my table the bread of knowledge and the wine of love: Verily I say to you, whoever takes of the bread and wine that I offer, he will bear me in his spirit.

27. By a path of light I sent your spirit to dwell on the Earth, and by a path of light it will return to Me; meanwhile, you will have to walk like the pilgrim lost in the vast desert, or like the navigator lost in the immensity of the sea. But do not blame me for your error, for you would be unjust, since before I sent you to Earth I gave you a compass and made a star appear in infinity, so that they might guide your steps. That compass and that star are your consciousness. That is why when you abandon the harmony that you should have for everything that surrounds you, even the dust of the earth seems hostile to you, and it is not that Nature turns against you, but rather you who walk against the laws of harmony that govern the Universe.

28. When the Gentiles of this time know this Doctrine, they will deny it and the materialists will argue against it, but all amazed, they will see how my truth imposes itself.

29. You have already seen how in former times, in addition to teaching my Doctrine, I did many works of those that humanity calls miracles; also in this time, in addition to the word that

Love one another!

I am giving you and that later will spread throughout the earth, I will do new wonders, I will give proofs of my power and I will amaze with works that will make men surrender to the truth.

30. I have a lot to reveal to you, today I just give you the key to open the door of true wisdom. That key is this teaching.

31. Truly I tell you, by the way of love, you will get everything lawful from Me and you will know everything, but you still need to know what the love of which I am speaking to you is and above all that you feel it deeply.

32. My Kingdom is reserved for children of good will who embrace their cross out of love for their Father and for their fellow men. That Kingdom that I am talking about is not in a certain place, the same can exist on the Earth that you inhabit as in any of the spiritual dwellings, because my Kingdom is formed by peace, light, grace, power, harmony and all that you will be able to achieve, even if it is in part from this life; spiritual fulfillment will only be achieved beyond this world that you now inhabit.

33. Why do many people want to leave this life for the next? It is that they believe that everything that surrounds them is hostile to them, more truly I tell you that instead of despairing, they must fight to return to being in harmony with the laws that I traced as a path for you to reach spiritual perfection through it.

34. In all times and in all the peoples of the Earth, apostles of good have arisen, manifesting the elevation of their spirit through various missions. All of them have been sent by me, because good comes from a single source, my Divine Spirit, and with my light I illuminate the entire Universe.

35. Of those envoys, some have been spiritual sowers, others have brought you the light of science and others with their sense of the good, have carried my message of love to humanity. Some you have called apostles, others saints. Some have been considered wise and others geniuses, but there has not been one who has come to earth without having received from Me the mission that he must fulfill among men.

36. The Earth has always been watered and fertilized with the beautiful examples of my envoys and although in this era men have mixed my teachings with the weeds that grow in the world, the seed of nobility, of love and of fraternity, has not died, so I tell you, that she just waits for the sickle of my justice to cleanse this planet, to begin again to enlighten hearts.

37. How many people who suffer because of the chaos that humanity is going through and who live longing for peace, do not know that within them there is a spirit waiting to rise up to sow the divine seed of peace, for which I tell you that soon my servants will have to rise up all over the world united in a work of regeneration and reconstruction. Now I ask you: Wouldn't you like to be spiritually united with them?

38. Each one of you is also a servant and a messenger of mine, whom I have come to instruct to fulfill a spiritual mission on earth.

39. Be alert and you will be witnesses of the conversion of those who had not known me, as you will also see the return of those who had strayed from the true way. Men of science who dedicated their lives to searching for elements and strength to destroy and who, sensing that their judgment is approaching, will return to the path of truth to devote their last days to the moral and material reconstruction of the world. Others who in their pride had tried to take my place in the spirits, and who will descend from their seats to imitate me in humanity. And also men who one day agitated the peoples and promoted wars, who will come to recognize their mistakes and anxiously seek the peace of men.

40. Who will see all this? You do not know it, but I declare it to you, I prophesy it to you, because soon the generations will come to the earth that will see its fulfillment. It is up to you to spread this doctrine by bringing the light of this good news to the peoples. If you comply, your brothers will also call you "Messengers of the Lord."

41. My spiritual presence among you is like the shade of a cozy and healthy tree. Whoever comes to him with faith, experiences a feeling of life, strength and well-being, which makes him exclaim: He is the Master! But he also who approached with doubt, when he was absent from the place where he heard my word, asks himself inwardly: Why do I feel so much peace in my spirit? It is that the tree has spread its branches for everyone, it is that my Spirit has descended to every creature. That is why when someone has not understood the divine essence of my word, I have had to say that some have an inveterate heart.

42. I am among you as a Father, pouring into your hearts the consolation that I promised you in the Second Time. I have come to accompany you in your tribulations and to listen to your complaints. Why then are you afraid of trials? Do you not see how much I love you and how I seek you in your exile? If as a man I gave myself everything to achieve your redemption, today in spirit I will pour myself into yours to raise you to the Kingdom of grace.

43. That is why I tell you to seek me in all the ways in which you need me, whether as God; as a Father, as a Judge, as a Teacher, as a brother, as a friend, as a doctor, what I want is your peace and your salvation, beloved humanity.

44. Not a single one of your sobs ceases to be heard in Heaven, no prayer ceases to find an echo in Me, none of your afflictions or difficult trances go unnoticed by my Father's love. I know everything, I hear it, I see it and I am in everything.

Love one another!

45. Men, believing that because of their sin I have turned away from them, have come to feel distant. Ah human ignorance that has brought so much bitterness to his lips! Know that if I were absent from any of my creatures, they would immediately cease to exist; but this has not been, nor will it be, because by giving you the spirit I endowed you all with eternal life.

46. When you know the meaning of life, the reason for the pain and the purpose of your existence, you will stop feeling distant from me, you will perceive my presence, palpitating in your heart and in your spirit and you will listen to my voice, repeating sweetly the words of my Doctrine, teaching you to walk firmly, along the path of your true life.

47. My divine ray descends at this time to illuminate your spirit so that it can understand my teaching. It is the light that will help you to distinguish truth from imposture.

48. I contemplate among you those who have firmly believed in my word as well as others whose faith is weak and for that reason they hesitate, but despite this, they anxiously seek these houses of prayer to recover strength and spiritual peace in my word. I want you to recognize me in the essence of this Doctrine, to feel my presence and the proximity of my Kingdom.

49. Why did you think me distant if I had promised to come again to talk to you? You are not alone in your sorrows because I precede your steps even when you often lack faith and trust in Me, and thereby delay your arrival at the abode that awaits you.

50. Do not disregard your duties, think that your cross is not heavy if you know how to carry it with submission and love. I want to see you smile and live in peace, I want to see the healthiest joys in your homes.

51. You will not be able to say that my word is not clear or that it contains imperfections, because no confusion can arise from Me. If you find any error in it, attribute it to the misinterpretation of the speaker, or to your misunderstanding, but never to my Doctrine. Woe to the spokesman who perverts my word! Woe to the one who transmits evil and profanes my teaching, because he will suffer the incessant complaint of his conscience and will lose the peace of his spirit!

52. Do not be afraid to be searched in your life or to be put to the test by your brothers, fear to sin, because even if you did it in the bottom of your heart, you could hide nothing from Me.

53. This is the Era of spirituality in which you will lay the foundations of the true temple into which the men who will form a new humanity will penetrate. Soon you will no longer need guides on Earth and then your spirit will come to Me to take strength to guide you only by my inspiration.

Love one another!

54. How much joy you will experience if you fulfill my commands, as you look at the multiplied number of those who follow me; but keep in mind that in order for you to be heard and believed by your brothers, you must truly prepare yourselves.

55. My word vibrates again in consciences because men walk outside the truth.

56. Do you look at the imbalance of the elements of Nature and the disorder they have suffered? Do you realize how you are touched by his unleashed forces? It is that you have broken the harmony that exists between spiritual and material life thereby causing that chaos in which you are sinking, but when humanity is obedient to the laws that govern life, everything will be peace, abundance and happiness again.

57. You still have a long way to go to reach that goal, and you will have to fight hard to make yourself worthy of fully owning your inheritance. It is up to you to draw closer every day to the regions where the peace and grace of my Spirit dwells. The way is prepared, come to Me who am inviting you.

58. Do not rebel before the trials that you encounter in your path, recognize that the pain that you present to me has left a seed in your spirit. I have told you that I want you to be clean, and you only know how to purify yourselves through pain. You did not want to be elevated by love and obedience to my laws, so every time I call you to give you a new mandate, you have to purify yourself first at the source of pain.

59. If you want to be worthy of my peace, let the Master guide you without rebelling before the trials to which my will subjects you. There are creatures who have known how to bend under the rigor of trials and have ascended spiritually, and others who, because they have not accepted my will, have blasphemed against me and have fallen into the darkness of despair. The former have shown humility and confidence and are already preparing to listen within their spirit to the echo of my words. They knew how to accept my will and blessed my justice, while the others, in their pride, ignored me and rejected me from their heart.

60. At all times I have sent prophets to serve as interpreters between my Spirit and that of humanity; but men have not been able to listen with faith and respect to their words, and when those envoys of mine have exhorted the peoples, inspiring them with prayer and penance, they, turning their backs on them, have left them talking alone in the desert without giving importance to their message. That is why I ask you for spirituality so that you can perceive the messages and signs that come to your spirit, coming from the Kingdom of Light. Let those who are ignorant of my coming be indifferent to this revelation, until my call comes to them; but you who have me so close, do not doubt.

Love one another!

61. I behold that you love yourselves very much, but that you do not love your fellow men; I see also that you fear the judgment of mankind and not mine. It is because you have silenced the voice of conscience, which is your inner guide, forgetting that I want to forge you and prepare you to be a strong, virtuous and submissive people to my will, because only in this way can you save your brothers and fulfill the mission that I am entrusting to you.

62. Love me and ask me as befits a son of mine; but put all your trust in Me, so that your existence may be full of serenity and peace.

63. Never doubt the fulfillment of my word, nor are you waiting for its realization to believe that it has been a truth. What I have spoken through my spokesmen, men, women and children, will be fulfilled. Have you not seen fulfilled all the announcements and prophecies given through Damiana Oviedo? Those lips prophesied times of purification and of sorrow, and truly I tell you, those words have been fulfilled. When the seers have crossed the limits of the material to go to ecstasy in the contemplation of the spiritual life, when returning to their envelope they have asked me to allow them to dwell in that mansion where their spirit enjoyed so much during his elevation, to which I have told them that it is not yet the time in which they can dwell in those mansions; but to persevere in my path, which is the one that will lead everyone to the promised abode.

64. If, when contemplating the great trials that are shaking the world today, you lack the courage to continue living, pray, and in Me you will find strength, courage and patience, to continue fighting until you reach the summit of the mountain.

65. Work in my Work, and the balm that you ask of me for the sick, I will continue to entrust to you so that you may pour it on those in need. The fruit of life that hearts lacking faith need so much, give it, since you have been filled with it. Sow the path of your brothers with charities and with this you will multiply your merits to get to dwell in that mansion of light that from eternity awaits your spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. You arrive humble before my manifestation, as those shepherds of Judea arrived before the Redeemer who had just been born. They respectfully bowed their knee to the grace and beauty of the painting that their ecstatic eyes contemplated.
2. That oppressed and humiliated people, for centuries, had been waiting for the Messiah, so when he arrived in the world, surrounded by poverty, he was recognized by the humble. The lords, the great and the rich also awaited the Messiah, but they conceived him in another way, that is why that star that appeared in the firmament announcing the arrival of the Savior, although it shone for the whole world and all spirits, was only contemplated by those who watched and prayed.
3. No one knew for sure how the Messiah would arrive, what He would look like, or in what form He would present Himself; but that mystery was clarified and all the people and humanity with him knew that he came from the Father, that he was conceived by divine grace and that his Doctrine was of justice, love, charity and humility. Only the simple in heart, the poor in spirit and men of good will believed in that Master who hid behind his meekness and his poverty, all the majesty and power of God. Since then, how much Christ has been discussed, how many disputes and controversies, how many judgments and comments! The rich did not want to know anything about selflessness and charity; the powerful did not accept any kingdom or power other than that of this world, scientists denied the existence of spiritual life, and religions falsified many of the divine revelations.
4. Jesus' childhood soon passed away; I can tell you that the sorrowful way began before his birth and lasted after his death on the cross, if it is taken into account that my name and my Doctrine have not ceased to be persecuted and judged. That is why my road of bitterness has been very long, as also for the spirit of Mary, my tender Mother as a man.
5. If on Earth his heart felt lacerated many times to the point of death, he also had to experience in spirit the pain of seeing his name and his purity desecrated by the blasphemies, doubts, judgments and mockery of materialized men.
6. The incarnation of the Word has always found many hearts with the doors closed to reality, despite the fact that all my works have been enveloped in the clearest light of truth.
7. Today my Word returns among you, but he did not incarnate in the womb of the Virgin, to become man as in the Second Time; however, Mary, the maternal essence, is always present in spirit.

8. The straw of the stable where Jesus came into the world, as well as the cross of Calvary where he breathed his last, I will find at this time in the heart of humanity; but in the end, after darkness, light will be made in all spirits and I will be glorified.
9. This time will be a time of struggle, but when everything has been accomplished, humanity will raise a hymn of joy to Me; because at last, after so many struggles, the enemies of peace will become men of good will.
10. Your present life has been a continuous struggle and that is why when you look at others enjoying pleasures and satisfactions, you wonder why your destiny is so hard and severe, and the answer has reached your heart, when you have prayed, offering me your cares, jobs and vicissitudes. That was the moment when the light of intuition told you that you must accept your chalice with patience, since each spirit has contracted a debt to me that the human heart does not know.
11. Disciples: Convince yourselves that at this time you did not come to earth to gather glories or honors, or to delight in the fruit of pleasure, but to fulfill a restitution purifying the spirit in the trials of this life and in the practice of my teachings. However, I do not want to tell you to reject all those healthy satisfactions that knock at your door because you would fall into fanaticism and it would make your day very painful.
12. Analyze what I tell you, because if you do not penetrate to the study of my word, you could fall into fatalism and see that my Doctrine is the torch of faith and hope that comes to illuminate the path of those who have sunk into the darkness of disappointment, confusion and hopelessness.
13. Penetrate into your interior, try to know yourself through my lessons and you will discover the wonderful life of the spirit, revealing to you that you are not poor, nor small, nor disinherited; and making you understand that you are the favorite children in your Father's Creation. That is why I am teaching you, so that you will stop being the child who ignores everything and who does not know himself.
14. It is true that through science you have managed to know a lot about your body, but now you know that your being is not concrete to matter, but that another being of a different nature vibrates in it, which you do not yet know and that is your spirit.
15. Very little is what the religions have revealed to humanity about the spirit, but those who, overcoming scruples and fears, discover to humanity the truth that they have hidden will awaken from their lethargy and will be blessed. I will enlighten you with the light of my forgiveness, my grace and my wisdom.

Love one another!

16. When humanity recognizes that religions are not only for men to live morally on Earth, but have the mission of leading the spirit to his eternal abode, humanity will have taken a step forward on the path of its spiritual evolution.

17. Rise up, people, so that I may always find you in spiritual vigil, not breaking my Law, united in your home and seeking those who have strayed from my path. In this way you will be imitating me as a Teacher, but never try to take my place as a judge. It is up to you to forgive one another and if you want to take my place in some way, do it by teaching, loving and forgiving. You have many examples of mine for you to take as a standard for your works. It is not that my spirit makes ostentation before you, but you must understand that as a Teacher I have to show you my lessons so that you can imitate them. If I hid my works, how could you imitate them? Therefore I say to you, love one another as I love you.

18. You ask for my forgiveness, because at every step you offend me, and I forgive you. But you are not ready to forgive those who offend you. That is why I have granted you that my manifestation be prolonged until 1950, so that by means of my lessons you could understand my Doctrine and grant it its just value.

19. My Law and my Doctrine, made known through the ages, are the only book in which everything is true, however, men are looking for in the books of the Earth, something that will discover the eternal and reveal the truth to them, and they only manage to fill their minds with theories, without finding true light for their spirit.

20. It took my charity, so that this Doctrine took root in your heart, a work of patience and love, which only I, your Lord, could carry out. What you should know at this time will be what I reveal to you in my lessons; but what I reserve will be hidden so that you will know it in times to come. If I told you everything today, many would be confused and others, believing they understood, would be filled with vanity; that greatness would lose it and you must recognize that my Doctrine is not intended to lead you away from the path of Truth.

21. Take this life as a combat, fight in it until you win, come to my presence like a good soldier and I will give you a reward that will fill your spirit with light and grace. But those who sleep spiritually, imitating in their infidelity the reckless virgins of the parable, will be surprised by death, which will find them with their lamp out.

22. Every creature, every man, has an assigned place that he should not lose, but neither should he take the place that does not correspond to him.

23. How much responsibility have those who have listened to me in this time, even if they have only heard me once!

Love one another!

24. Having received my call, you have risen in haste to meet and converse spiritually with me. I want to look to your spirit, full of hope and faith, in accordance with his mission, strong and serene in trials. Do not get tired of fighting, do not stop if you feel that the road is long, do not forget that my Spirit is with you and that therefore, you can be invincible in trials.

25. Your chalice has contained joys and peace, as well as sorrows and uncertainties. You have laughed and cried in your life and there are those who have grown old prematurely, because they faltered in the test and felt that their strength was lacking.

26. Women: I see your heart wounded, the sorrows have brought down your family, but there is still strength in the spirit to continue standing. Despite the suffering, you have been able to trust and hope in Me, because you know that I always come to wipe your tears and to sweeten your lips. Remember that I have told you "that the leaf of the tree does not move without my will". Have you not thought that this pain that you have hastened is the crucible in which your spirit is purified? Do you not know that you are in a time of spiritual struggle in which you must give proof of your strength? Blessed are you because in many trials you have been strong and that is why your merits make you worthy of my peace. I have not offered you perpetual joys on earth; the spirit knows that when you come to this valley, work and struggle await you to forge and perfect yourself; but always in the midst of your battle, my charity has been like a mantle that has protected you.

27. People: Are you not satisfied, knowing that I am manifesting myself to the multitudes in a clear way, and that in all nations I am waiting for my chosen ones? I want to be for everyone as a friend, as a counselor and confidant of your spirit.

28. Not all of you believe in Me, but this does not prevent Me from loving you and coming to you. Who can stop the strength of my Spirit, if I am all love for my children? And who will be able to judge my Work and penetrate into my arcanum?

29. Today you are with me, disciples; rest, for I am watching over you. Do not undermine your health any more in superfluous works. How much you had to suffer to restore purity to your spirit and restore to it the virtues with which it was endowed!

30. Ah, if you had remained pure as you were in childhood, at that age when the flesh is innocent and the spirit is about to begin a new journey, how close would you be to Me, and how the angels would come to you to enter into a concert with you! But man, as he grows, leads his spirit away from the clean and luminous path, to engage in an incessant struggle with the world, and in which the spirit sometimes conquers and the flesh sometimes. You have all strayed from the good path and you must pray to be free from danger and turn away from evil. On that walk you carry a staff to support you, and that staff is the guardian angel that accompanies you everywhere you go.

Love one another!

31. I have come to you to redeem you through trials of love and justice and to teach you my Doctrine to make me follow you.
32. From your good works I take the merits that are in them, even from those that you consider very small because I am the only one who can judge their true value. He who loves and serves humanity, loves and serves me, I only ask you to love each other and this will be enough for me to do great works through you. I have given you many proofs of this, because I have always been present when you have reached out to the needy, making your spirit experience the peace that gives the fulfillment of duty to his Father and to his brothers
33. You bear an indelible sign that distinguishes you from all peoples; that sign is a light that I have made shine in your spirit; I have also made you arise in this nation prepared by Me so that in it your spirit can rise and find a favorable field for its fulfillment.
34. Take care of the treasure that I have given you in my word and do not let unclean hands take it from you. Give it to everyone who wishes to know Him or who seeks salvation in him.
35. If you did not know how to defend my legacy, I will defend it; but then you will have to answer to me for your weaknesses. Work with love for the fulfillment of spiritual and material laws. If you attend to your spiritual duties, the material work will be easy for you. You will not flaunt your virtues; if you truly feel my word and practice it, jealously guard your works, where only I can see them, and your example of humility will encourage your brothers to imitate you.
36. Love each other with the same love with which I have come to teach you, knowing that you come from Me, that you have all been formed of the same substance and that just as you have been in Me in the beginning, in the end you will also be, when you return to your Lord.
37. I come to seek you, so that you may approach the source of life. Here is the path that leads to it. In order to find it, it is sometimes necessary to make sacrifices, to struggle and to persevere in virtue.
38. Listen to my voice that awakens you every moment, that inner voice that demands the fulfillment of my Law from you; because until now you have walked at your free will, doing whatever you please in your life.
39. I have come to sweeten your hardened heart in the vicissitudes of life, giving you to taste the bread of divine love, and your heart has known how to be moved.
40. In Me there is the Judge, the Father and the Teacher; three different phases in a single Being, three potencies and a single essence: love.

Love one another!

41. This is how I manifest myself to you to help you fulfill the mission that I have placed in your spirit since the beginning of time.
42. I am teaching you again to teach this word to humanity. When this people is prepared, in him humanity will find consolation in its sorrows, balm in its tribulations and light for its spirit.
43. The present generation will not pass away until you have risen up to bear witness to my second coming. But I have said to you, If you do not want to get up and practice my teaching, the stones will speak and testify of my presence, but you will answer me about it.
44. If there are obstacles on your path to follow me, show me good will and zeal and I will clear the way, I will help you.
45. I want you to be prepared because the world will test you, and if you do not know how to testify to the wonders that I have done among you, doubt will arise in your brothers.
46. I see among you those who have managed to break the chains that bound them to the world and they ask me for strength to persevere in their noble purpose of regeneration and I give them encouragement with my words and with my presence. They will still have more tests that will serve to affirm their steps on the way. Watch and pray, so that these trials do not catch you asleep, because it would be bitter for you to wake up if you realized that you had retraced the path.
47. If you come to fall, remember your Father at once and pray, so that in Me you will find new strength to overcome. If you prepare in this way, the voice of your conscience will be clearly heard within you.
48. No longer be servants of temptation, fight to preserve your spiritual freedom. I want my disciples to be the good brothers in the bosom of humanity, which is always waiting for a fraternal and sincere hand that reaches out to it.
49. Men are eagerly seeking the light of truth and many are waiting for my arrival, unaware that my presence is with you.
50. Not everyone will listen to me at the time of my communication, but I am doctrinating this people so that each of those who listened to me, will be a guide of hearts when my word is no longer manifested through these spokespersons. By then you will have become spiritualized and you will receive my word and my commands by intuition and you will speak of unknown lessons that will be true revelations.
51. Already from now on I have revealed to you much of what was promised to men and through you I have announced events that you have seen realized, for which you can say that you have not only been my spokesmen, but also my prophets.

Love one another!

52. You have not yet managed to penetrate to the bottom of my word, but the new generations that I have promised you will arrive and they will give you a deep and just analysis of what you have not managed to understand; but men from other nations will also come who will know how to interpret my teachings. However, I tell you that those who have heard me with a loud voice, those who have felt my presence, will be the first to understand my Work, to teach and explain it.

53. I do not want that in the years that remain for listening to me, you become worthy of complaints, because my teaching would be stopped and it is my will to manifest myself more clearly in each lesson, so that at the end of my communication you feel one step away from becoming teachers. I have placed my divine desires in you so that you may achieve love and wisdom, opening your understanding to spiritual knowledge.

54. I am teaching you to prepare yourselves to receive divine inspiration so that you may reveal to your brothers and sisters that everyone can be possessors of this grace.

55. Let my word be deposited in your heart, so that when you become teachers, you will find it always present in your inner temple.

56. Do not be afraid to be torn by humanity because of my Doctrine; the heart of man is so tired of theories and vain words, that when he receives this good news he will feel on his spirit the light of truth that descends like fresh dew to give him life.

57. The Perfect Friend has come to you to tell you not to be afraid, that even if you find poison, evil and betrayal in many hearts, the faithful and prepared disciple will not be able to be intimidated by these trials.

58. Be like those apostles who followed me in the Second Time. If you have not yet been able to heal the sick, improve your preparation, consoling yourself in charity and being in contact with pain. If you are not prepared, do not touch the sick person waiting for him to heal, because you will not contemplate that miracle. But if you prepare yourselves spiritually and materially, you will soon receive, if it is my will, the miracle that you request from Me.

59. If your faith in my power is not great, and your love for others is not true, your work will not be of salvation and you will contemplate all your work; but if you attain spirituality, you will see real miracles performed on your way.

60. If you have not achieved peace among yours, or if the bonds of union and love have been broken, watch and pray, communicate with my Spirit and peace will be with you.

61. If you still do not know how to talk about Me, close your lips, but lift up your spirit because he, with thought, will speak to those in need.

Love one another!

62. If you have not managed to understand my Teaching and want to penetrate into its meaning, be spiritualized, and when listening to me or remembering my word you will be surprised by your analysis. My word is simple and humble so that you can understand it; but it contains an essence that is divine, so that you may feel my presence.

63. Today I find myself in a new upper room, surrounded by disciples and children, who meditate and remember the day and hour when the Word became man in Jesus. You close your eyes and try to imagine the place of my birth, the solemnity of that hour, the purity of the Mother, the gentleness of the just and chaste companion of Mary and everything that surrounded that event. Then you understand the divine humility of Christ, humility that he came to preach with his works and with his divine word, from the first moment.

64. Beloved people: live those moments and take pleasure in remembering and meditating, because from your meditation the light that dispels your ignorance will arise.

65. Seek Me in the most hidden and elevated of your being, feel my presence in your spirit and my manifestations in the subtlest of your life. Think that the higher and more spiritual my manifestation, the greater will be your enjoyment, because this will be the proof that you are already qualified to understand my great lessons.

66. It is you who at this time accepted my coming in the spirit and believed without seeing; but there are those who await me in the way in which I was in the world in the Second Time; and others, who await me in various forms, according to the interpretation that each one has given to the prophecies. I bless all those who are waiting for me and I send you my light, so that when you know that my presence and my communication at this time is spiritual, you will not be confused.

67. I also bless those who are not waiting for me. Some have become weak in the faith and others have become confused among so many human ideas and doctrines, but I pour out my light on all their paths, so that they may achieve their salvation.

68. There are those who wait for me spiritually, and yet they will deny that it is I who manifests, because they will want to see me come wrapped in the splendor of a blinding light, in order to believe. They will want to see me arrive with the majesty of a king of the earth, because they do not conceive true greatness in humility. Then I will have to tell you again, "My Kingdom is not of this world."

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Disciples: Elijah has come to prepare you and has left upliftment and peace in your spirit. Verily I say to you, you do not know who Elijah is, or who he was, or who he will be, but the moment will come when you will look at him and say, Lord, we did not know how to recognize who the Shepherd was until today.
2. I am going to converse with you once again in the language of love that I have taught you, so that you may achieve perfect communication with your Father. It is not your mind that feels my divine presence; for it is not your eyes that see me, nor your ears that hear me, nor your lips that speak to me. Your bodily senses receive my manifestation through a human body, but the essence of the word that the speaker pronounces is the divine part that your spirit receives.
3. You are soldiers in the long combat of this life and you will all reach the land you seek. What a joy for your Father and also for your spirit when you arrive at the promised Kingdom after having gone through so many vicissitudes and having sustained so many battles! It will be when at last the spirit imposes itself on the flesh and through it manages to manifest its light. Matter will cease to be the obstacle, the abyss and the tempter of the spirit.
4. My signs will be recognized on earth; even if your hands were closed to hide their gifts, they will be discovered there; even if you were silent, men would surprise my teaching on your lips, and even if you tried to hide the sign that I have placed in you, it will give reflections and reveal you; but why hide you? Is it because you still feel weak and clumsy? I will continue to teach you until I leave you strong, full of faith and love for my cause. Then you will fear nothing.
5. The concept of men about the spiritual has changed, my light has made them understand that the spirit is free to believe, I do not impose a certain creed on anyone or force anyone to love me.
6. The lands prepared with the dew of my grace will be favorable for you to cultivate this seed. The chains of religious fanaticism will be broken at this time and idolatry will disappear. The spirit will cease to be a slave and will rise up to seek me along the path of truth. The evolution and the knowledge that the spirit has gathered in life, today allows you to fulfill the mission that I have assigned you.
7. It is true that you were not born at this time; you are spiritually the same people whom I have been teaching in all times, who have reincarnated era after era, because in a single existence they could not have fulfilled the great mission that they bring in their destiny. Sometimes a life is barely enough to sow a seed, without giving time to cultivate it and even less to see it bloom.

Love one another!

8. In many of my teachings I mention the people of Israel, because they were an instrument of my Divinity to give lessons and speak to humanity, on them I poured out my love and my pleasures, but also the great tests of my justice. I used his love to give my teaching, as well as his weakness and unbelief; kings, priests, publicans and even the most ignorant men, were instruments for my lessons and examples. But behold, while some at this time have come to rise up in other lands to recognize that the Promised Land is not Canaan but my Kingdom, others, who have inherited only the blood of that people, still live attached to their traditions and the material interpretation that their ancestors gave to the divine lessons.

9. I have changed everything for my new manifestation: sites and media, to destroy the ignorance, confusion and misinterpretation that has been given to my previous revelations. Just as the sun appears in the East and you see him at the zenith at noon, and then contemplate how he hides in the west, so the light of my Spirit has come from time to time advancing from the East to the West, so that you do not limit my greatness and my power to places, to men or to races.

10. Today you are temporarily inhabiting a new land, which you also found by divine announcement, so that it, although temporary, would be your inheritance. This land was prepared full of sweetness, but other peoples have made your life bitter and hard. Despite this, this people will never have acts of revenge, only of forgiveness for their brothers. Judea was also the pasture of foreigners, until they turned it into ruins and rubble.

11. Pain has been your crucible, in it your spirit has been tempered, because tomorrow it will have to give humanity the fruits of evolution of its experience. The war has not penetrated between you, what new lessons could you draw from it? What temper could I give to those who have already strengthened themselves in grief?

12. Your mission is another. When 1950 has passed, you will rise up as prophets, your lips will speak under my inspiration and you will do wonders. By that time, you will no longer expect that my word will emerge as now from the lips of the spokesman, but if you prepare yourselves in prayer, everything that you had apparently forgotten will emerge from your heart because I will continue to speak to you through your conscience.

13. You will see with surprise men of different religions rise up to follow you, confessing that the one you had among you was the Teacher. They will be like Nicodemus, who spoke alone with Jesus, whom he recognized as the Son of God, loved him as his Teacher and wept bitterly when he saw him leave Jerusalem, carrying the cross of injustice and ingratitude on his back. At that moment his sobbing spirit said to me: Master, I will follow you. And he followed me.

Love one another!

14. Blessed are those who at this time rise up like this, without fear of men, for in them will my light be.

15. What are you thinking, my children? I know it; you think that the Father has just entrusted you with a new year so that in it you can take a step forward; a year that sometimes seems endless and that for the spirit is only like a second in eternity.

16. A year has already passed, leaving its mark on men. Listening to my word as Judge, your spirit has awakened, and the memory of your deeds, words and thoughts, of all your sufferings and joys, of all that you achieved and what you could not achieve, has passed through your memory. And at the end of your examination before the light of your conscience, you have thanked your Creator for all that you have received from Him.

17. Man and all creation have given me their tribute and their offering. Bless you!

18. As if all creatures were gathering at this moment to join in a tribute to the Father, so I contemplate all the worlds and all beings united before my gaze. I contemplate even the smallest works done by Me, I hear the voice of my creatures when they invoke me and the hymn of those who glorify me.

19. In everything created there is life and there is sensitivity; truly I tell you, even the stones themselves are sensitive to the divine touch: All creatures recreate themselves, which is like recreating with my Divinity.

20. The star king is the image of a father who gives his life, his energy, his heat and his light to his children.

21. The earth is like a mother, whose lap is an inexhaustible source of caresses; in her there is the mantle that protects the orphan, the breast that feeds, and the warm and comfortable shelter for her children. Its arcana has revealed its great secrets to men and chastity and beauty have always been reflected on its face.

22. The year that passed was a year of trial; a year in which divine justice made itself felt in every human creature. Who did not hurry the cup of bitterness?

23. How many loved ones left this Earth, to fly to the afterlife, because the spiritual life called them. The hearts finally flowed crystal clear water and many gray hairs appeared on the temples of the old man; however, you also had joys: new children came into the world with their message of innocence, the sick regained their health, and those who had been abandoned saw to return to the loved one.

24. You listen to Me with joy in the spirit and ask me to lift the veil of mystery that surrounds the new year that appears before you as a path that you have to travel, and I say to you: do in the future what you have done in the past; listen to me today, when the sap of my word is still being poured out among you, in the likeness of the blood of the Redeemer that was poured out at that time in every spirit.

25. A year passed, people, and in it the war did not end, men did not reconcile, the great rulers did not shake hands as a sign of peace. And at this very moment when you are recreating yourselves spiritually in this communion with my divine Spirit, lives are falling, the number of orphans and widows is increasing and the blood continues to run and moisten the Earth, the blood of men that is my blood.

26. I am going to propose peace to men again, entrusting them with one more time so that they may achieve that supreme good of the spirit. But if they miss this opportunity, their sorrows and bitterness will increase.

27. You attract peace with regeneration, with prayer and the practice of my Doctrine. Do works worthy of your spirit, which will also be worthy of Mine. It is time that you esteem yourselves in something higher, that you give its just value to what I have placed in man: the spirit.

28. When you come to have the true knowledge of your worth, do not be arrogant, recognize that you are nothing more than mere mortals, that you are sent and instruments of my divine designs.

29. No one was born by chance, no one was created by chance; understand me and you will recognize that no one is free in the path of his life, that there is a law that governs and governs all destinies.

30. Let us converse, my children; converse with the Master. I have not come to claim you but to bless you, and just as I started, I want to finish my lesson among you by caressing you.

31. Tell me in silence your sorrows, entrust to me your longings. Although I know everything, I want you to learn to form your own prayer, until you come to practice the perfect communication of your spirit with the Father.

32. Old men, young men, maidens, children and parents; ask that it will be given to you. I am the source of justice and love and I will present to you the path of your life illuminated with my light.

33. What do you ask of me for the Land that I am giving you? What do you feel for all the creatures of the Father? Live in harmony with all beings. for in truth you are all brothers before Me. Bless everything created and you will be blessing Me.

34. I see that you are afraid of the future, because the shadow of war and the echo of its roar reaches you, because the threat of hunger, plague and desolation lurks everywhere. But what do you fear if you carry my light in your spirit? Have I not appointed you soldiers of my cause? Leave fear for those who have no faith, for those who deny me.

35. Many trials will come to mankind and because of them he will know my word and my Work.

36. I want your heart to remain sensitive to pain, to the needy, to the hungry, to the sick, to be like the thresholds of the new Jerusalem, where the people of God, who is humanity, gathers.

37. The Sixth Seal is untied and in it you have heard my word through human understanding, which has been among you law, revelation and prophecy. I still give you seven years so that in them you will listen to me in this way. Seven years in which the spiritual world will still vibrate through the brains of the chosen ones and from them you will respond to the Father on the last day of 1950, which will be of judgment for you when you hear me speak to you for the last time from the Mount of the New Zion.

38. I write these words in your heart and in your conscience because I want them to be unforgettable for you.

39. Do not forget what you heard from the Divine Master; what you heard from Mary, the universal Mother, and what you heard from Elijah, the messenger of the Third Time, who gathered you like a shepherd in the fold of my love.

40. You have enjoyed many pleasures, but they will end, because the time has come for you to work with purity, adhering to my Law.

41. Have no personal interest in serving me, serving me out of love without thinking about the payment or the reward that awaits you. Think of those who suffer, of those who have fallen, of those who do not contemplate the light or know the way, and give them my teaching with charity, lead them to Me and don't care if they arrive before you; be the last one aware of their mission, which I will know how to wait for you, because you will all come to Me.

42. People: I grant you a new year to fight. Over war, destruction and death, the blue of the sky will spread like a mantle of peace, I will adorn the face of the earth with flowers, breezes will blow that will be like a tribute of love. The womb of the mothers of all species will be fruitful and its abundance will be for your benefit. I enlighten human intelligence so that it discovers new revelations in Nature, for the good of my children. I bless the seas, so that the beings that inhabit their bosom, multiply and men do not suffer hunger after the war. I open gaps so that the various races get to know each other and become closer.

43. May spring come among you as a present of peace and hope, of reconciliation and forgiveness among humanity.

Love one another!

44. The summer will burn with the fire of its sun, regions and deserts, where men when crossing will fall with fennels before the Lord, asking for mercy. Those who had forgotten me, will remember me. and scientists, faced with these phenomena, will be confused, but deep down they will hear my voice telling them to cleanse their planet and their mind to penetrate the path of wisdom.

45. Autumn will bring to my mind the harvest of those who cultivate the land, and that harvest will be abundant because some nations will return to peace and will wield the tools of tilling.

46. There will be a blessing in the seed, because children and women will cultivate the land in the absence of men. The hands that lay down their weapons and wield the plow will be blessed, and so will those who were enemies and then shake hands as brothers, because the bread will descend from heaven as the manna descended in the desert.

47. Winter will come, and its snows will be the symbol of purification.

48. Everything is prepared. Watch and pray, ye husbandmen. I am also blessing the hands that anointed the sick, the lips that pronounced my word with love; the eyes that overcame sleep watching over the bedside of the dying, the heart that beat because he was suffering, because they are the instruments of the spirit that knows how to rise in prayer for humanity.

49. I come to make your heart beat to a new life, because I find it dead to faith, hope and love.

50. I am the only judge who can judge the spirits and yet I do not come to see you as prisoners, but as sons and disciples.

51. Know how to have Me as a Father among you, know how to give your value to the word that I give you, or do you want to have me as a judge? Do you want me to make my righteousness felt not only in my word, but also in your life, so that you will wake up and believe me?

52. The seed that I am entrusting to you, you have not always sown well, see that you have not raised the harvest that you expected, but do not abandon the struggle for that reason: understand that if it is sometimes the cause of your tears, it is also true that in this fulfillment is the peace of your spirit.

53. I don't want to see this people crying on the roads of the earth complaining about the roughness of the path.

54. At all times I have put you on the road that leads to the mansion where I am waiting for you, do not be afraid to find its door closed, he who reaches it, it is because he has traveled all the way.

Love one another!

55. You present your heart to me and from it, as from a barn, I gather the good seed and the vain I leave it for you to destroy.

56. You should no longer feed on imperfect or impure practices, you are in the Third Time. Whoever practices my Doctrine as I am giving it to you will be doing my will, and whoever does the Father's will will be saved.

57. I have given you, through the ages, great proofs of my love; I have given you opportunities to reach Me, but you have never obeyed Me and have preferred the pain of the world with its passing joys, to the fulfillment of my Law that gives you true peace.

58. If I came to you only as a judge, I would make you tremble; but between my justice and man, the cross always interposes and only words of love and forgiveness flow from Me.

59. How much I have helped you in this world, so that you will not have to repent when you come before the judge in spirit!

60. You are the same ones who crossed the desert together with Moses, the same ones who followed Jesus through Judea and still at this time you come to ask for miracles to believe, or to request the goods of the Earth, as if you did not know the purpose of your destiny.

61. Do not familiarize yourselves with this manifestation, because you will lose the respect and faith that you should have before it, and what can you take advantage of it if your spirit is absent and your mind is distracted?.

62. In my Divinity there is the love of intercession, it is Mary. How many hearts that remained closed to faith, have been opened by it to repentance and love! Her maternal essence is in all creation, it is felt by everyone and yet there are those who contemplate it deny it.

63. Be you the tireless sowers of my revelations, so that the world may prepare and reach elevation and light.

64. Before my departure, I will prepare the paths on which you must walk. You do not know what I have decreed for the last years of my manifestation. I prepare you, for great trials will arise in those days. I will make all the mortification that you have brought to my Doctrine disappear among you, so that you may know my Work in its purity.

65. Watch, people, because after my departure there will be those who will rise up making you believe that I am still manifesting through the human understanding. I leave you alert and I prepare your heart so that he, knowing my essence and the taste of this fruit, will not be seduced by impostors; but if you do not prepare for those times and strip yourselves of what I have given you, how are you going to distinguish the truth from the lie?

Love one another!

66. Do not assimilate evil influences that can distort the knowledge and the light that I have given you, because you would be involved in the same cause as those who are going to betray me. Dawn after dawn I have to warn you so that you live alert and do not become weak. Many of you will mourn my departure and will not find comfort; you will live sighing for the time in which I communicated by human understanding; but in the moments in which you pray, I will enlighten you by making you remember all the grace and the gifts that I deposited in you; so that you may not feel lonely or abandoned, but recognizing that I am close to my disciples, you may rise up with your inheritance to make merits with works of love in your brothers.

67. Take advantage of this time of teaching, see that there is peace in your nation, while other peoples are being destroyed. It is necessary for you to understand that you must create an atmosphere of peace in your people, so that every foreigner who enters among you, rests and comforts himself in your bosom, and upon his return feels enlightened by good thoughts and animated by noble purposes.

68. They must already emerge from the nations, men strong in good and full of light. They will be the ones who will make all those who, having brought a great mission into the world, have mistaken it admit their mistakes and their faults.

69. The time is also near when epidemics will break out in the nations, ravaging peoples.

70. On this day I ask you: if I sent you to those lands saying to you: cross seas and penetrate the cities of pain and desolation, would you do it, my children?

71. Beyond death, life awaits everyone; but who are those who are going to bring a drop of balm and a word of light to those who can still be resurrected in this life to the truth? Those must be my disciples.

72. Many men will see the mysteries of my manifestations clarified from this world and others will have to penetrate into the spiritual valley to contemplate the truth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 111

1. Open to me the doors of your heart, O humanity! I have seen that the trials of life whip you like a hurricane wind; I have seen diseases penetrate into your home and misery rule. I come to bring you peace. O beloved humanity, if you only knew how easy it would be for you to find your salvation, if you had a good will! A prayer, a thought, a word would suffice to reconcile men, peoples and nations; but men seek by other means the solution of their conflicts. Everything but imitating Christ is the motto of many men; everything, except practicing his doctrine, and here are its consequences.
2. What can you expect from your works, if there is no justice, love and charity in them? Are these not the lessons that Jesus taught you? Truly I tell you that love, justice and charity are not at odds with the way of living in your time, they are virtues proper to beings advanced in spirit.
3. When I see men engaged in wars, killing themselves for the possession of the wealth of the world, I cannot but continue to compare humanity with those children who quarrel over what has no value. Children are still the men who fight for a little power or for a little gold. What do these possessions mean next to the virtues that other men treasure?
4. You will not be able to compare the man who divides peoples by sowing hatred in hearts, with the one who dedicates his life to watering the seed of universal fraternity. You cannot compare the one who causes suffering in his brothers, with the one who dedicates his life to mitigate the pain of his fellow men.
5. Every man dreams of a throne on earth, despite the fact that from the very beginning, mankind has seen how little a throne is worth in the world.
6. I have promised you a place in my kingdom, but very few have accepted, and they do not want to know that the smallest of the subjects of the King of heaven is greater than the most powerful monarch of the earth.
7. Men are still children; but the great trial that is approaching them will make them live so much in such a short time, that from this childhood they will soon pass to maturity, and already with the fruit of the experience they will exclaim: Jesus, our Father, was right, let us go to Him.
8. The Lamb slain for your sins speaks to you at this moment and his word is of love and forgiveness. The book of divine justice is open in the sixth chapter, because the Lamb has untied each of its seals.

Love one another!

9. 1950 will soon come, and this form of communication will end; but the Sixth Seal will not be closed because of it, but will continue to illuminate until the end of its time, when the Seventh Seal will be untied.

10. I want humanity to prepare at this time, so that when the last seal is opened, men will realize it and get ready to listen and understand the content of the new revelations. I want nations and peoples to be strengthened so that they resist the bitterness of those days.

11. I will call blessed those who know how to pass the tests of those times and I will give them a reward for their perseverance and their faith in my power, leaving them as parents of a new humanity.

12. The sins of men will have been blotted out and everything will be like new. A light of purity and virginity will illuminate all creatures, a new harmony will greet that humanity, and then a hymn of love, which I have been waiting for for so long, will begin to rise from the spirit of man to his Lord.

13. Mother Earth, which has been desecrated by her children from the earliest times, will once again dress up in her most beautiful finery and men will no longer call her a valley of tears, nor will they turn her into a field of blood and death. This world will be like a small sanctuary in the middle of the universe, from which men will raise their spirit to infinity, in a communication full of humility and love with their Heavenly Father

14. My children will have my law imprinted in their spirit and my word in their heart, and if humanity in the past times found delight in evil and rejoiced in sin, by then it will have no more ideal than good, nor will it find more pleasure than to walk on my path. But do not think that for this reason man is going to renounce his science or his civilization, taking refuge in the valleys and in the mountains, to make a primitive life; no, he will still have to taste the fruits of the tree of science that he has cultivated with such interest, and when his spirituality is greater, so will his science be; but at the end of time, when man has traveled all that way and has plucked the last fruit from the tree, he will recognize the smallness of his works that seemed so great to him before and he will understand and feel the spiritual life, and through it, he will admire the work of the Creator as never before. He will receive great revelations by inspiration, and his life will be a return to simplicity, naturalness, spirituality. There is still time for that day to come, but all my children will see it.

15. For now you must take a step forward, so that your spirit will not have to regret having led a barren life

16. I have spoken to you for the times to come; do not be surprised by my words, for truly I say, tomorrow they will stir up hope and kindle hope in the hearts of many people.

Love one another!

17. Humanity, I have the power to destroy your sin with love and save you; I will not stop to contemplate your stains, and even if I find you lost in the mire of the world, from there I will know how to rescue you to make you my apostles.

18. Among mankind dwell a part of the one hundred and forty-four thousand pointed out by Me. Those servants of mine are scattered throughout the world fulfilling the mission of praying for peace and working for the fraternity of men. They do not know each other, but they, intuitively some, and others enlightened by this revelation, are fulfilling their destiny of making light on the path of their brothers.

19. These marked by my love, some are simple men, but there are also those who are remarkable in the world; they can only be distinguished by spirituality in their life, in their works, in their way of thinking and understanding the divine revelations. They are not idolaters, fanatics, or frivolous; they do not seem to practice any religion, and yet from them an inner worship rises between their spirit and that of their Lord.

20. Those marked with the light of the Holy Spirit, are like boats saviors, they are guardians, they are counselors and bulwarks. I have endowed you with light in your spirit, with peace, with strength, with healing balm, with keys that invisibly open the most reluctant Doors, with weapons to overcome insurmountable obstacles for others. It is not necessary that they hold titles of the world, to make their gifts recognized. They do not know sciences and are doctors, they do not know laws and are counselors, they are poor goods of the earth and yet they can do a lot in their way.

21. Among these multitudes who have come to receive my word, many of them have arrived only to confirm their mission, because it is not on earth that they have been given the gifts or entrusted with the office. Verily I tell you, the light that each spirit possesses is the one that has been carved out on the long path of its evolution.

22. Blessed are those appointed who, inspired by my love, come to fulfill their spiritual mission, and blessed are those who imitate them, because they will reach the elevation that they have.

23. In the Second Time, how many times those simple people who heard the word of Jesus to the sick who came to them, managed to do greater wonders than those of my disciples, without being of the number of my apostles.

24. Seek the goal with eagerness, all of you come to Me on the path of faith, charity and humility and you will all feel equally worthy of your Father.

25. As the light of the new day dawned, your spirit was lifted up to give thanks to the Father.

Love one another!

26. Come again to learn from Me, disciples and children, keep my words deeply so that times of trial will not surprise you. I do not want to contemplate you as fragile boats in a raging sea.

27. This is what I ask of my people, so that by stripping yourselves of the superfluous and the bad, you may take advantage of my teachings and at the same time give proof that it is the Spirit of Truth to whom you are listening. See that now you have to wash away those stains with repentance and with humility and testify my truth with works of love.

28. From your first steps on this path, make use of the truth, either to speak or to practice. The lie lacks divine essence, so it will never convince.

29. I purify these channels before communicating through them, so that they only make you know the truth. If tomorrow men hurt you by questioning this word, because it was also poured out by the lips of women, do not be afraid, you will tell them that I did not come to choose my disciples by sex or class and that a clear mind and docile lips were enough for my communication to express my inspiration through them.

30. Do not be afraid of those who seek you, even if you see them coming as searchers or talebearers of your deeds; deep down always see spirits who are looking for light.

31. Who will be able to turn away from my fold the sheep that truly loves me? Behind the humility of each of my laborers, hidden from the human gaze, there is an angel who watches over each of your steps.

32. I have told you that you will be fought and that if you want the truth to shine, you must be strong in the fight, forgiving every offense that was done to you and not letting rancor give you weapons that you should not return.

33. If you know how to forgive without boasting, you will win the battle. If you are put to the test, pray and I will do amazing works, beyond all knowledge, that will make unbelieving hearts tremble.

34. Thus I warn you of the trials that you will have to live through; but so that you may not be surprised, always be prepared.

35. Be sensitive to my inspirations and do not imitate the hard of heart who wait for the blows of life to correct then their mistakes. I tell you that pain and death are also before you, they also speak to you.

36. It is the time when every spirit must realize the era in which it is, so that it can rise to fulfill the mission that I have entrusted to it.

Love one another!

37. How much pain you have given to yours, but I love everyone and I will give everyone the means for their salvation, until they come to Me.

38. Elijah has seconded me in the work of restoration in the Third Time. Today you do not see him incarnate as in past eras, walking the roads, preparing the spirit of men to offer worship to my Divinity; you only perceive his presence in spirit and his great struggle to rescue humanity.

39. I hope to all of you after you have fulfilled your mission, in it you will have that good shepherd as your guide.

40. Have you not seen in him the righteousness, the love and his sacrifice for you through the ages? and do you not want to rise up overcoming obstacles to reach the end, praising Elijah and glorifying your Lord?

41. It was written that you would see me coming upon you with great majesty; many have seen me with a spiritual gaze, without being able to understand the work that I am doing among men; but if they asked you, Whom do you hear, and why have you departed from the world? What would you answer? Speak the truth, do not deny what you have seen, do not imitate Peter by saying that you do not know this work, because you cannot hide the sign that is in your spirit and that distinguishes you, without you being able to avoid it.

42. I know that, in spite of the proofs I have given you, many of you will turn your backs on me for fear of being tried and brought before a court, and if you who have heard me remain silent, who will defend my cause? But I prepare those who, not knowing my doctrine, when it is put on trial, will study it and find it righteous and will drown for my people.

43. If you want to be my husbandmen, you will have to imitate me and be conformed to the trials that are to come, because they are arranged by Me; and when that time comes to you, do not be confused or forget that I had announced everything to you. Then you will know my power and my justice, and if you have doubted my word, you will see that I have prepared you so that you will not be surprised, and in the midst of these trials you will contemplate my infinite mercy and charity for you.

44. You have attributed to human beings a great power and you have doubted mine; soon events will come that prove to you that everything is subject to my will and that everything obeys my laws. For that time I want you to be clean and that your only desire is to enlighten your brothers with my teaching. See that you could have made this world a paradise if you had fulfilled my laws. Your life could have been an eternal glorification to your God; but you can still repair your faults and bless the constant opportunity that I give you, so that you may return to the right path.

45. Love, that you may be loved. Forgive, that you may become worthy to be forgiven. Be ready to bow down to those who have been your servants, so that you may prove yourselves in your humility,

46. Be my servants and you will never be humiliated by Me. Behold, I have not come as a king, nor do I bring a scepter or a crown; I am among you as an example of humility, and even more, as your servant. Ask me and I will give you; command me and I will obey, to give you one more proof of my love and my humility; I only ask you to recognize me and do my will and if you find obstacles to the fulfillment of your duties, pray and overcome in my name and your merits will be greater.

47. When you cannot approach a suffering being to anoint and comfort him, pray, and your spirit will reach him and thus you will be able to fulfill your blessed mission. By the diligent, the negligent will overtake, and by a righteous one a nation will be saved.

48. How long has it been since the day I told you that my kingdom has come near to men, until this day when you hear me, but have not believed or obeyed my words, and every passing day brings you closer to the end! What will you do when this time is over, if you have not taken the opportunity to work for your spirit? In spite of this I keep telling you that I am waiting for you and that my patience is infinite, but I want you to understand me, so that you may have charity for yourselves.

49. I have renewed your body life for life and I have enlightened your spirit so that you may give a beginning to your struggle, and I tell you not to be afraid to leave shreds of your clothes or pieces of your heart in it, because only those merits will be those that open the door for you and take you to the eternal mansion.

50. You have marveled at the wonders that I did in the Second Time, and if you meditate, you will see that these have not ceased to be verified in this world, some in material form, others in the spirit of men.

51. The deaf hear. They are those who, having silenced the voice of their conscience, have today listened to my words, which have reached their hearts, making them feel repentance and good intentions, and their spirit is on the way to salvation.

52. The paralytic has healed and is following me today. This day is the son who, having turned away from the spiritual path, was hindered, unable to walk towards Me, and today, after having heard my word, he has healed and is preparing to come free from the chains that bound him, to meet Me.

Love one another!

53. And the blind have seen. After the darkness and the lethargy in which this humanity lived, without wanting to look beyond what surrounded it, I have come to illuminate it with the light of a new day, to show the path full of struggles and trials in which my Spirit manifests itself and allows itself to be looked at so that everyone, without any distinction, can recognize me.

54. The dead have also been raised. How few know how to keep themselves in grace and live close to Me. To those who had died to grace, I have come to restore faith, hope, to make them be reborn to a new life, in which they have contemplated a world of infinite surprises that they do not reach to encompass, in which everything is strength, health and peace.

55. These are the ones who have recognized me at this time; but I tell you that after 1950, when my word has ceased and new multitudes come to you, awaken them and prepare them, as I have prepared you. I give you great power, so that you may continue to encourage the faith of the new believers.

56. Do not doubt my word because you have served me as sinful men and women. Give me a righteous one and through him I will speak to you; but truly I tell you, I do not find among humanity clean and perfect spirits, and my communication must be verified at this time, despite human materialism and imperfection. If these creatures do not have the purity of the angels or the acrisolate virtue of the patriarchs, I have prepared them for a long time, I have chosen their spirit and I have purified their envelope, and from generation to generation their parents have been purified. Who can penetrate into my intimate judgments? My work is going to be consummated and when I have given you my last word, you will take its divine essence and with it you will feed, you and all those who come in search of the Third Testament.

57. The house of prayer is not the only place where you should meditate and practice my teaching, but everywhere; I am not only teaching you to live in this world, but I am preparing you for the spiritual life that awaits you and that has no end.

58. Watch and pray, because you do not know the moment when I am going to call your heart to give it the inspiration and make it pour out among humanity the spiritual gifts that I have granted it.

59. You have come tired of walking the paths of life, you have suffered a lot; rest in my house, sit at my table and drink of this wine. Tomorrow you will have to resume the journey, but you will carry in your whole being a new force, which will help you to reach the end of the road.

Love one another!

60. I am going to entrust you with extensive lands for you to cultivate, and it is essential that you have the necessary strength so that you do not faint at work. Each one of you will be a diligent farmer in this countryside, in which you will learn to sow, cultivate and harvest, encouraged by my divine teachings. It is a grace that I come to grant you at this time, as the most precious opportunity that my love gives you, so that you can do merits that bring you closer to Me.

61. Do not go after pleasures or frivolities of the world anymore; go after the ideal of elevating your life, which I will give you throughout your existence, the satisfactions that are an incentive for your heart.

62. Understand that there is a lot of misery and pain in the world; at every step you can find those in need of comfort, love, balm and justice. Open your heart to all pain. Be gentle so that you listen to the complaints of those who are crying and develop intuition so that you can penetrate those who are silent and hide their grief.

63. Do not have dominion over the poor, so that no one will feel like God, king or lord, if he does not want to be humiliated on the day of my righteousness, before the very ones whom he would have humiliated.

64. Do not turn away from those who, in their desperation, come to blaspheme against me or against you, I give you a drop of my balm for them.

65. Prepare to forgive everyone who offended you in what is dearest to you; verily I tell you that, whenever in one of these trials you grant sincere and true forgiveness, it will be one more step that you will have climbed in it before your elevation.

66. Are you then going to feel a grudge and deny forgiveness to those who are helping you to get closer to Me? Are you going to give up the spiritual delight of imitating me, letting violence obfuscate your brain to return blow for blow?

67. Truly I tell you, this humanity does not yet know the power of forgiveness and the miracles that he works. When you have faith in my word, you will be convinced of this truth.

68. Beloved people: I am going to leave you the water that quenches thirst and heals all evil.

69. I come looking for hearts to dwell in so that, by listening to my word, they may come to recognize their spiritual mission. I want you to learn to pray, to converse with your Heavenly Father, meditating and feeling everything that you want to communicate to me, with that fervor and truth with which Jesus taught me; but do not imitate those who repeat daily one and more times: Lord, your will be done, both on earth and in heaven, and in reality they do not know what they are saying, because in truth they are not satisfied with my will.

70. It is time for this people to rise up to practice my divine teachings; for this I have made you simplify your life and dematerialize your heart.

71. The practice of my doctrine is a return to the simple life of the past times, but at the same time a step forward in the knowledge of the spiritual

72. The chosen ones of this time have not been chosen at random; there is a divine reason to choose each of my children. In order for you to fulfill the mission for which you were destined before coming to earth and to help you fulfill it, I am making it known to you through my teaching.

73. Have you not seen how much I have tried you to give courage and strength to your faith? Do you not feel an inexhaustible thirst to reach and know the spiritual? Have you not felt oppression and suffocation in the environment that surrounds the world? Do you not notice how and without knowing why, you flee from the mud? All these signs are proof that you were destined for a spiritual mission, which was to be before all the others that you contracted on earth.

74. The spirit wants to live, seeks its immortality, wants to wash and purify itself, is hungry for knowledge and thirsts for love. Let him think, feel and work, grant him to take a part of the time you have, so that there he manifests himself and recreates himself in freedom.

75. Of all that you are here in the world, only your spirit will remain after this life. Let him accumulate and treasure virtues and merits so that, at the time of his liberation, he will not be a needy person at the gates of the "promised land".

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. I am the food for the spirit, I am the possessor of what you need, I am the light on your path of evolution.
2. I want you to know me; I was already among you once as a man; today I come in Spirit to show you that I am truly in my children and that I can speak through their understanding. Tomorrow it will only be the light of my inspiration that reaches your spirit; but in each of the ways I take to speak to you, there will always be a new lesson and a new phase that my Spirit will show you so that you may know me better.
3. From era to era, men are getting a clearer idea of Me. Those who have known me through Christ have a concept closer to the truth than those who only know me through the laws of Moses. That God whom the multitudes followed and obey out of fear of His justice, was later sought as a Father and as a Teacher, when the seed of Christ's love germinated in their hearts.
4. Truly I tell you, I am not sending you pain. Have you seen with what love the gardener cultivates his garden? for you are to Me like an immense garden, in which I behold you as lilies, roses or daylilies. But if your corollas are closed for the dew of my love, it is natural that you feel weak when the winds whip you; why then do you think that it is I who punishes you? It is a mistake to attribute to me the cause of your sufferings and bitterness, because a Father only wants happiness for his children.
5. When you understand your lack of harmony with the created and with my laws, you will regret having blamed me for your vicissitudes and you will know that it was you who created the pain.
6. In the past times, when humanity had not yet come to the knowledge of the true God, it saw in each element of nature a divinity; therefore, when these forces came to be unleashed, men said that they were revenge of their gods, not realizing that because of their sins they could not be saved from the effect of the unleashed elements.
7. You still have some of those beliefs, because when you look at or hear about earthquakes, storms or plagues that hit towns, cities or nations, you exclaim: It is God's punishment.
8. I have come to reveal to you at this time, that man possesses power over the elements, a power that until today you had not discovered. I have taught you that whoever prays and lives in harmony with my laws, can be obeyed by the elements and listened to by nature. Does it seem strange to you? Remember how Jesus, among his lessons, gave you that of subjecting nature to his command. Do not forget that when the Master, together with his disciples, was sailing in a boat on the Sea of Galilee, it suddenly curled; He, seeing the fear in his apostles, stretching out his hand commanded the waters to calm down, and they instantly, like meek servants, obeyed.

Love one another!

9. Verily I tell you, there is still much that you have to study and analyze about those examples, in order to understand my new teachings. Until you have confidence in my words, so that by fulfilling my law, in the difficult trances of your life you may testify to the power of faith.

10. How glad was your heart, when in such a trial you prayed and felt my truth. With faith, with spirituality and humility you will achieve true prayer, which will prevent you from continuing to be the victims of the vicissitudes of the earth; because living in harmony with the laws that govern your life, everything that surrounds you will be at your service. Keep in mind my lessons that I give you with so much love through human understanding. My ray, when it lands on the mind of the speaker, becomes a word, without thereby losing its divine meaning. This light, which I figuratively announced to you in the Second Time, is the beacon that will guide the spirits to the port of salvation. I have humanized my inspiration so that, listening to me, you will understand the content of my revelations and the way to put my teachings into practice. Tomorrow, when this communication that I have had with you ceases, my light will continue to illuminate the spirit of humanity.

11. If at that time, the blood of the Son of God was shed for all, now it will be the light of my Spirit that descends on all flesh and on all spirit.

12. In the depths of each being, the ringing of a bell is heard that does not allow you to fall into sleep; it is my voice that calls you and invites you to prayer, reflection and meditation. Some stop at that call and straighten their steps towards it; others resist that voice, interposing the hardness of their matter, so that, while some hurry to awaken to true life, others are late.

13. How many of you who have had the grace to listen to my word have said to me in your heart: Lord, why did it take you so long to return to the world? to which I say: For Me, all that time has only represented an instant. Since I told you my last word on Calvary, until the day I gave you my first chair in this era, I can tell you that the time that has passed has not passed for Me. The space between my departure at that time and my arrival at this time was so fleeting that I compare it to the light of a lightning bolt that shone in the east, to hide in the west.

14. At times men judge themselves so unworthy of Me, that they do not conceive that I can love them so much: and once resigned to living away from their Father, they build a life to their own idea, create their laws and make their religions. That's why their surprise is great when they see me arrive. Then they wonder. does our Father really love us so much that he is looking for a way to communicate with us in this way?

15. Humanity: I only know how to tell you that what is mine I will not let it be lost; and you are mine. I have loved you since before you left and I will love you forever.

16. If you have been slow to return to Me and have encountered many vicissitudes in your path, that does not mean that my love has diminished because of your sins; it is that my voice, through your conscience, has always been inviting you to reach Me along the path of truth. I am the eternally open door that invites you to enter the sanctuary, where your inheritance is.

17. My doctrine has come to teach you to turn faults into good works be sure that whoever takes up the cross of his Lord to follow him, soon feels the elevation of his spirit.

18. This is not my last teaching that has come to illuminate the Third Era, the spiritual has no end, my law is always shining like a divine sun in all consciousnesses. Stagnation or decay is only peculiar to humans and it is always the result of vices, weaknesses or unbridled passions. When humanity builds its life on spiritual foundations and carries within itself the ideal of eternity that inspires you with my doctrine, it will have found the path of progress and perfection, and it will never again depart from the path of its evolution.

19. If I gave your spirit one grain to sow, he will have to give me back a hundred. Have you not seen the multiplication of the seeds of the earth? imitate. I only made one seed of each species and look how they have reproduced endlessly.

20. Beloved children, do you think it was necessary for me to return to the world to shed my blood again in order to make you understand my love? No, that test is no longer necessary, since now it will be enough for you to pray and meditate for a few moments each day, so that my light may penetrate sweetly into your Spirit. That light will be that of the Master, it will be my voice that will come to reveal to you many teachings that you do not know, but that you need to know, so that you can live fully in the Third Time, the time of light and spirituality.

21. At that Second Time, the multitudes sought me more as a doctor than as a Teacher, because men have always believed that the pain of the body is greater than that of the spirit. Jesus was complacent and let the sick come to him; he knew that this pain was the way that attracted men to the light of his word.

Love one another!

22. When the blind saw again, and the lepers were cleansed, when the paralytics left their bed and the possessed were freed from their influences and obsessions, they were living testimonies that Jesus was the doctor of doctors.

23. For a long time men sought me in this way, even when I was no longer with them in the world. But now, when a doctor comes to your sickbed and you put all your faith in him and trust your life to his science, you forget that the lives of both depend on Me. You forget at that moment to pray before your Father to request from Him the light on the man of science and the balm on your ailment. That room, instead of being filled with light and saturated with strength and hope, remains sad and gloomy for lack of spirituality.

24. When will you return to seek me with that faith with which the sick came to Me in the Second Time? It is necessary that I tell you that I thirst for your faith and that when you place your trust in Me, you will become worthy of the great wonders that I have in store for you.

25. I do not know men; of science, since the mission they carry out I have given them, but many of them have lacked prayer, charity and the elevation of spirit to be the true doctors of humanity.

26. I will speak to them also, but my voice will be of justice when they see my disciples healing by spiritual means the diseases that science has not been able to cure, and when men heal one another by means of their spiritual gift, the materialists will open their eyes to that revelation and say: Certainly, beyond our science there is a wisdom and a power superior to ours.

27. I say to you, people, do not forget that divine gift, because through it you will make light in the spirits, you will bring comfort to those who suffer and you will convert many, by saving them from their afflictions.

28. Pain is a path that leads men to the source of health that is Me, but keep in mind that I have given you a drop of my balm so that you can make use of it whenever someone knocks on your doors. Watch and pray that this call may always find you ready.

29. Disciples of the Third Time, truly I tell you that because you have received my new revelations, you will be the ones who will properly and justly interpret the content of the teachings of the past times.

30. Everything that was revealed in them has a divine meaning, even if it seems to you that on some occasions it is talking about human life; look for its essence and you will find that they are always showing you the spiritual life.

Love one another!

31. Do not stop, too much in analyzing the letter, which is the superficial, because it can lead you to confusion, penetrate to the meaning of the word and there you will find the truth. Make sure that your analysis is simple, as my word is, and do not complicate what is clear, pure and natural.

32. Prayer and meditation is what is required for the study of divine lessons. Whoever thus seeks my light, verily I say to you, he will soon find it. I have already taught you that wisdom is acquired through prayer.

33. The disciple who analyzes my word in this way and who consults his Teacher in this way will be the one who always gets the truth right and is never confused.

34. The day will come when your sensitivity for the spiritual will make you easily discover the essence that contains every word that has sprung from Me.

35. "My kingdom is not of this world," I told you in the Second Time, therefore, I speak to you of the spiritual kingdom. "I am the way," I also said to you, making you understand that I was coming to prepare for you the path that will lead you to dwell with Me in the heavenly mansion.

36. For human life, the law that I gave you through Moses was enough; but to live eternal life it was necessary that the Word of God be with you, so that He would prepare the way to the true paradise for you; but as the road to the high abodes of light, perfection and love, has crossroads, pitfalls and temptations, it was necessary that a star, a lighthouse, a ray of light appeared on the traveler's path to illuminate his steps; that light is that of my Spirit, who has come to you to dispel doubts, ignorances, and uncertainties.

37. Look how, from the time when you were governed by the natural law, that is, by the dictation of conscience, until this time when you receive the spiritual light through inspiration, I have made known to you, step by step and part by part, the way of the spirit.

38. This inspiration is the fruit of a long evolution in which you cannot stop, and which will give you the necessary perfection so that you can reap the best fruits.

39. Today I say to you: Welcome, you tireless walkers on the path of perfection; come to Me, all of you who hunger or thirst in the spirit, because everyone who knows how to take this word and extract its essence from it, will find peace.

40. I bless the one who has taken the path with a calm and firm step, because he will not stumble. I enlighten you so that you may lead yourselves as good disciples of my doctrine.

41. The time that I have allotted for the end of this communication in this age will be 1950, the right time for your preparation, because if my word were to fail you before the day appointed for its completion, many of you would weaken and others would return to your old traditions. Your destiny has been drawn with the utmost perfection, and the trials that you find, are reason for you to raise your spirit and love me. When in your life you have had only satisfactions and abundance of material goods, you have stopped on the spiritual path and have turned away from Me; but now I have entrusted to you a new opportunity for the fulfillment of your mission. However, do not forget that your existence on earth is only a moment in the middle of eternity, and that if you miss that moment, you will wake up in the afterlife and contemplate the delay and the lack of light in your spirit. A painful awakening will be for the spirit to realize his poverty and nakedness for lack of fulfillment, and he will have to mourn the lost time, until he purifies himself.

42. Yes, disciples, it will then be necessary to go through the atonement, in order to silence the claim of the conscience and make sure not to continue its evolution.

43. Always walk in the path of the law and it will protect you.

44. How few are my disciples and how numerous is humanity! But I strengthen those who have known how to take this position and this responsibility, because they are willing to get up to sow when I command them. By then they will have the meekness of the servant and the strength of the apostle.

45. When my word will no longer be heard as it is now, nor will I give you the warning voice when the enemy approaches, and the turbid waters want to contaminate the crystalline source that I have entrusted to you, you will resort to prayer, and your conscience will tell you what you should do. In the light of consciousness I am and will be present.

46. You already know the taste of the fruit of the tree and I warn you that tomorrow you will not be surprised by false prophets; but you will also watch over your brothers, teaching them to distinguish the essence of my doctrine. It is written that after my departure false prophets will appear and will come telling my people that they are my messengers and that they are coming in my name to continue the work that I carried out among you.

47. Woe to you if you bow down before false prophets and false teachers, or if you mix up words without substance to my doctrine, for there will be great confusion! That's why I tell you often. "Watch and pray.

48. I have subjected man to two laws and it is my will that you, my farmers, fulfill both, so that, unified spirit and matter, you will do works of perfection in your life. In each of my laws I have poured out my wisdom and perfection. Fulfill both of them, and they will lead you to Me. Do not want to live on earth as if you were already in spirit, because you would fall into fanaticism, which is false spirituality; with that, your body would get sick and go to the grave prematurely, without having finished your mission. Understand then that the spirit was endowed with a superior intelligence to be a guide and teacher of matter.

49. Today you inhabit this valley of struggle and pain, in which trials tell you every moment that this dwelling is temporary; but that whatever you have not achieved at present, you will possess tomorrow. Peace and joy, which in the world lasts only an instant, in the spiritual mansion are imperishable. That is why I invite you to the kingdom of eternal peace and endless satisfaction. Get ready for the big trip, I'm waiting for you.

50. Learn to listen to the voice of your conscience and you will hear my voice speaking to your heart. That inner voice is that of your Father, always sweet, encouraging and convincing.

51. Today I have crossed your path and you have welcomed me with joy in your spirit. The meeting between the Master and the future disciples was a happy one.

52. The sects are preparing and talking about my next coming; however, when I approach them spiritually, they do not feel me, because they lack sensitivity and because they are unbelievers. I tell my people that in this time great men, wise men and priests, will recognize me and feel me in the form that I have chosen to manifest myself to the humanity of this era. I will choose from among them those who will serve me, because after preparing them I am going to send them to preach about my revelations and teachings of this time.

53. I have called you to my table of love, on it you have tasted the divine delicacy; the bread and the wine of the spirit. Ah, if you all understood what the hunger of the spirit is! how lovingly would you seek out the hungry! This moment is of remembrance for you, my new disciples; not so for Me, Who am the eternal present. My passion and my sacrifice are latent, my blood is still fresh. But you, who are passengers on earth and who in eternity are like atoms, remember and relive as something distant, the passion that your Master bequeathed to you as the greatest testament of love. Listen to Me and study, so that you may love my teaching, serve your brothers and be perfected in spirit. If you aspire to be teachers among humanity, you have only to imitate Jesus. Listening to me, you will cease to be the ignorant children who ask everything because they know nothing and you will become the disciples who, when they open their lips to speak of my teaching, will feel inspired by my Spirit; before the interrogations of humanity, your word will be the light, which will ignite in every heart a torch of faith.

Love one another!

54. I am the way, the truth and the life, and that is why I come to you to pour out my love in the chalice of this table, so that you can drink from it until you quench your thirst. I do not come to save a few, but every spirit in need of light; but I do come to prepare some, so that they may save others and those others more.

55. The nations are afflicted, burdened and sick. They no longer expect from science or human power the solution of their miseries and bitterness. Men begin to believe that only a miracle can save them. Many of them know that the prophets of the First Time announced my new coming; many of them know that what is happening in the world corresponds to the signs predicted for the time of my coming and of my presence among you. Soon everyone will know that the Third Age has arrived and that I have manifested Myself according to what was announced; that I came on the cloud, that is, in the Spirit, to send my Word, as a ray of light on the understanding of my elect; but by whom will mankind receive the good news and the testimonies of all that I have said and done among you? By whom should it be, if not through those who have listened to me?

56. Here is the table, sit at it, lift up your spirit and feel my presence; feel it not only with the spirit but also with matter, if in truth you spiritualize and know how to tremble at the contact of my light.

57. As you rise, live for a few moments in the spiritual abode, so that at that hour I may receive you on behalf of humanity, and in you bless the peoples, comfort the sad, the sick, those who suffer in solitude. Behold, there are now more widows and orphans in your world than ever before.

58. In you, who are praying, I receive all races, all peoples, religions and sects, because you have drunk the wine of eternal life; I pour out my essence on every spirit so that there is not a single one of my children who at this moment suffers hunger or thirst for justice.

59. In the face of the sin of the world, it is necessary that the light of my Spirit come to you. If at that time you caused blood, sweat and tears to flow out of my body, now you will make the Master pour out in light on the pain, perversity and darkness of men.

60. There is much pain and sin that covers the nations like a cloak of sadness. But now that you cannot see me crying or bleeding, you will feel the inexhaustible torrent of my forgiveness, my love and my light on your spirit.

61. This is my new blood that I am shedding on humanity today. In these moments your spirit is recreating itself in the regions to which he has been able to rise in this communion with me, but do not forget that it was Elijah, the spiritual shepherd, who came to prepare you and to lead you before Me, so that you may receive the word of your

Love one another!

Master, at the same time as the tender caress of Mary, your Heavenly Mother, whose Spirit is always present in Me.

62. I want to leave peace in your heart, because after that there will come moments of sadness and fear. Get ready because you don't know what tomorrow has in store for you.

63. Remember that I have told you that false prophets and false spiritualists will appear, keep in mind that I have always been warning you for these tests, telling you that my communication, which I started through the understanding of Damiana Oviedo, will last until 1950, and that after that year I will not manifest myself in this way anymore. I have told you many times that after that day, I will pour out my Spirit through your gifts but that, if after this period appointed by my will you wanted the word of the spokesman not to cease in some precincts, while in others they no longer had these manifestations, woe to those who profane my commands and tried to pass over my will!

64. I do not want you to be responsible for such serious faults; but, so that you do not fall into temptation, you will fight for your unification, so that when the last day of my communication arrives, you will all hear that the farewell of the Master through the spokesman is definitive, and that it will not be only for one enclosure or for a congregation, but for the whole people.

65. Prepare yourselves, because I will call on ministers of religions, leaders and rulers to listen to my last words. I say to you again, prepare yourselves, so that at this time a great multitude will witness my departure. I will pour out strength on your spirit, so that you will not feel my absence, because in reality I will not be absent; your gratitude as disciples will be put to the test; since I came to you by the way of the spirit, you will have to come to Me, by that same way.

66. The mission of the spokesman will end on the day fixed by Me; but his understanding will be open to inspiration and to all gifts, as well as that of the farmer and that of the guide and of all those who fulfill my law of love. I must tell you that the gift of the word will also be unleashed among you and you will know how to speak about my work with men who speak other languages. To all of you who listen to me on this day I will hold you accountable for my word, because you are the people whom I found astray from the way, but who in my word found the path again. The one who arrived poor and sobbing, today knows peace.

67. Among you there are those who arrived as outcasts and now sit at my table; among the crowd there are those who were blind and today see the light; there are also those who were many for the word of love and charity and who today, already converted, are my servants; there are those who were deaf, who did not listen to the voice of conscience, but who have regained that gift, listening to the voice of the Supreme Judge and, have learned to hear the complaint of those who suffer. I discover among these multitudes the adulterous woman and also the repentant sinner, both accused and pointed out by those who often sin more than they do; but I forgive them and tell them not to sin again.

68. O people, if you knew how to keep all my words in your hearts, how rich you would be in the treasures of the spirit, how strong and enlightened; but your memory and your heart are fragile! Let my word and its essence, which are the symbol of my body and my blood, and which are the image of the bread and wine that I offered to my disciples at the last supper, penetrate into your spirit on this evocative evening.

69. Eat the bread of life, eat for all humanity in this age of pain, of restitution and of purification; while you are savoring this food, think that at the same hour millions of beings are hurrying a very bitter cup and that many of your brothers instead of drinking the wine of my love, are shedding the blood of their fellow men on the warfields.

70. You are sitting at my table and I don't want any of you to have regrets, feel unworthy to be here, or feel the urge to leave your seat and walk away from this meeting.

71. Certainly at that time there was one among my disciples who conspired against his Master, who, hearing my last recommendations and the last words of my testament of love, could not remain in my presence and left the upper room. It is that in his bag he already carried the coins for which he had sold his Master; the other disciples ignored him, but Jesus knew it; he let it be done so that what was written would be fulfilled. The Eternal used the unfaithfulness of a heart so that everything that had been prophesied about Him could be carried out in His Son.

72. Pray, disciples of the Third Time, that a traitor will not arise among you who will change my truth for the vanities of the world and hypocritically say, like Judas, Master, is it peradventure that it will be I?

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 113

1. Beloved people of Israel, disciple, child and last, the works of your spirit through matter are judged, by the only Being who can truly judge you. You have been contemplated by the only gaze that can penetrate your thoughts, and your spirit has shuddered at that judgment. It is not the flesh that realizes the magnitude of its faults, but the spirit, and it is he who has not dared to contemplate the divine face, but you have bowed your neck to listen to the voice of the judge, O beloved disciples. I send you my blessing, my love and my Father's forgiveness.
2. How long will the voice of the judge have nothing to claim you and only contemplate that your tears, like a dew, purify your spirit and your heart?
3. I am with you; I have come once again as a Teacher, as a Father, as a friend and fellow traveler on the path of your spirit. I have penetrated to the inmost depths of your heart and here you have me again among you, to teach you and to give you the heavenly counsel that points out to you the way where my grace is and from which you should not depart.
4. Elijah, with his shepherd's voice, known to all his sheep, gathers you and keeps you in the pasture. My arcanum has been opened for incarnate and disembodied spirits, my grace and my charity are poured out into the universe, in Spirit and in truth. The Father's love is eternal. But before the manifestation of my divine love, which of you have penetrated into meditation and have regenerated to achieve spirituality?; who is that disciple who has already understood and practiced my teachings?
5. In the Second Time I spoke to great multitudes and was understood by many, and if now in the Third Time, you understand me and practice the teaching that I have come to remind you, blessed are you, because in the present time you will take a step forward on the path of spirituality.
6. Throughout your existence you will live my own passion, because from the Second Time I taught you to be born and live in humility. I taught you to live by "giving to God what is God's and to the world what is the world's." I taught you that, when the moment comes to fulfill the will of the Father, what belongs to the world must be left behind to move towards the "promised land", towards the "heavenly kingdom". I taught you the path of sacrifice, of love, of forgiveness, of charity, always walking forward and upward, until you reach the cross of sacrifice.

Love one another!

7. At this time you imitate me in the passion of that Second Time, because you were born humble and because throughout your human life you have experienced pain, falls, obstacles, offenses, and you have shed your tears for the love of my work.

8. In the Second Time, the Divine Master, being pure in spirit and body, was baptized by John in the waters of the Jordan, to give you a proof of meekness and humility; and if He who had no stain, did not reject the symbol of purification, how can sinners in this Third Time call themselves pure before humanity?

9. Then I went into the desert to meditate, to teach you to penetrate into communion with the Creator and contemplate from the silence of the desert the work that awaited me, to teach you with it, that in order to rise to the fulfillment of the work that I have entrusted to you, first you have to purify yourselves. Then, in the silence of your being, seek direct communion with your Father, and thus prepared, cleansed, strengthened and resolved, rise firmly to the fulfillment of your delicate mission.

10. In the Second Time, only three years I preached among the multitudes who listened to me and followed. The flow of love, wisdom, justice and law that was in my Spirit, was not only in my word, but also in my works, in my looks, in the balm that I poured on the sick, in the forgiveness that regenerated the reluctant sinners, in my voice that raised the dead, in my word that drove away the spirits lost light. The time had come and it was written that it was necessary to penetrate into the city of Jerusalem where the Pharisees and the great priests of that time were only waiting for the occasion to put Jesus to death. My works remained as an imperishable memory for all humanity, the day of my triumphal entry into Jerusalem, the holy cenacle, the apprehension, the night of agony, the via dolorosa (sorrowful path) and finally, the crucifixion.

11. At that time only the man who teaches you was contemplated, who wept and suffered for his disciples and for the multitudes. Today you rise up and contemplate the background of that work, and not only do you weep for the human pain of Jesus, nor are you only moved by that blood that flowed from his body, but with the study and spiritual elevation, you understand that inside and outside that man was the Divine Spirit, who with his light came to teach men to fulfill the mission that purifies them of all their faults, a God who wept and bled through a body, because of the darkness or ignorance that covered humanity, a God who became a man to dwell with men and teach them the true way and the love of one another, a God who humanized himself to feel man's pain and be close to him.

12. Times have passed and man has not forgotten me. Humanity has my name engraved on its conscience, but it has strayed from the true path and today it is content only with knowing my name, remembering it and confusing my teaching; because man wrapped it in rites, in ceremonies, in traditions and feasts, and with that it is content. He stopped loving his own brother, he stopped feeling the pain of his fellow man, he filled his heart with selfishness, he dominated himself, he forgot that his Master shed his blood and turned it into balm, into grace, into redemption and into life for humanity, and that everyone who loves me and follows me, can do what I did, regenerate and save with the word, raise the dead and heal all ills with the spiritual caress

13. After my departure in the Second Time, my apostles continued my work, and those who followed my apostles, continued their work. They were the new farmers, the cultivators of that countryside prepared by the Lord, fertilized with his blood, his tears and his word, cultivated with the work of the first twelve and also by those who followed them; but from time to time and from generation to generation, men were mystifying or falsifying my work and my doctrine.

14. Who told the man that he could make my image?; who told you to represent me hanging from the cross? who told him that he could make the image of Mary, the shape of the angels or the face of the Father?

15. Ah men of little intelligence!, that in order to feel my presence, you had to materialize the spiritual.

16. The image of the Father was Jesus; the image of the Master, his disciples. I said in the Second Half, "He who knows the Son knows the Father." This means that Christ, who spoke in Jesus, was the Father himself. Only the Father could make his own image.

17. After I died as a man, I manifested myself alive before my apostles, so that they might recognize that I was life and eternity and that in matter or out of matter I was present among you. Not all men understood this and that is why they fell into idolatry and fanaticism.

18. Some ask me: Lord, have we fallen into a new fanaticism or a new idolatry? and the Master says to you: You are not clean at all, you have not prepared yourself with all the spirituality that the Master is teaching you, but little by little you will reach it. In this Third Time I have prepared prophets so that they may contemplate with the spirit and bear witness to the people.

19. Listen to my voice through conscience, recognize that you are my chosen people, that you have to set the example and be the clean mirror, where peoples can contemplate themselves. Later, when you have all formed one body and one will, you will be an example before the doctrines and religions, and you will have the right to speak of love and peace, to tell others to love one another, because you will give them an example. You will teach others regeneration, because you will have been regenerated before and understood my teaching.

20. As long as you are not spiritualized, how will you be able to rise up to overthrow the false gods? Only spiritualized will you be able to go through the world and make hatreds, foolish ambitions, pheasant grandeur and bad sciences cease. Only in this way, prepared, will you be able to stop the advance of perversity; how? with love, which is spirituality. Then you will be an open book; to no one will you say that you are teachers, or that you are my disciples. Without showing off, you will get up on the roads and I will put the crowds in your path, I will prepare the regions and the roads, I will make you be able to communicate with your brothers of different languages. Not all of you will cross the seas. I have appointed those who will rise up in distant or near lands, but they will all rise up like a flock of doves. They will be my emissaries in all places of the earth as messengers of peace.

21. Yes, people, this is the mission that awaits you. Today I come to you to speak more clearly through my spokespersons. In the Second Time I spoke to my disciples and to great multitudes figuratively and in parables.

22. Men did not understand me, but their spirit did penetrate into the essence of that word. My disciples asked one another, "What did the Master mean by this word?" and neither one nor the other could understand all my teaching; but it was being stored up, for when the time came when it would be understood with all clarity.

23. In this Third Time, my word given through the human understanding, has been clearer and more understandable to your understanding, because you have evolved; how could I expect evolution and perfection from you, if I had deprived you of your gifts before?

24. If there are beings who have lost the meaning of true life on their way, becoming parasitic plants, I transmit to them the sap of eternal life so that they can become fruitful plants again.

25. People: take advantage of my teachings, because many of my words will not be picked up by golden pens and many of the writings will be hidden by selfish and ignorant hearts.

26. Think that you will soon cease to listen to me in this way and that you must be prepared to receive my revelations and commands by inspiration.

27. Woe to those who would try to twist my plans, because the righteous sickle, when the time of harvest comes, will treat them like weeds or weeds!

Love one another!

28. Understand that I have come to teach you to share the pain of your brothers, so that you may know how to rise up sowing peace and pouring my balm on every ailment.

29. Look at the war, which, like a black mantle, is covering the peoples and nations in mourning where it passes. The seas, the mountains and the valleys have been turned into fields of blood and death, but do not lose faith; no matter how great the confusion that reigns in the world, do not distrust your strength to resist the trials, because then it will be when the spiritual elevation and the way of praying that I have taught you, will help your brothers to find the path of true light.

30. Do you see those men who only live to satisfy excessive ambitions, passing over the lives of their fellow men, without respecting the rights that I, their Creator, have granted them? do you see how his works speak only of envy, hatred and greed? For it is for them that you should pray more than for others, who are not so in need of light. Forgive these men all the pain they cause you and help them with your clean thoughts to reason. Do not make the fog that surrounds them denser around them, because when they have to answer for their actions, I will also call to answer those who instead of praying for them, only sent darkness to them with their evil thoughts.

31. Does it seem impossible to you that these beings will ever hear the voice of conscience? I tell you, the time will soon come when they will knock at my door and say to me, Lord, open to us, for there is no kingdom but yours.

32. Evil has always prevailed over good in the lives of men; I tell you again that evil will not prevail, but that my law of love and justice will reign over humanity.

33. Hear my word, O disciples, for the day will come when you will no longer be able to hear it, and it is necessary that you store its essence in your heart. Only I can quench your thirst for justice in this time of selfishness and lies. Drink these crystal clear waters, which in truth I say to you again: "Whoever drinks of this water will never feel thirsty again."

34. When you think that I am giving my divine word through these rude understandings, and that thousands of hearts find health and comfort in it, you bow to the miracle.

35. Verily I tell you, if Moses, touching the rock in the wilderness with his rod, caused the water to flow out of it, which quenched the thirst of the multitude, at this time with my righteousness, which is love and power, I have touched these minds and these hearts of rock, causing the water of eternal life to flow out of them.

36. My word is the path; enter into it and with the light of my love you will know the way. I am the guide who guides your steps; my voice that is in your conscience encourages and guides you, and my wonders ignite your faith.

Love one another!

37. In all times, my law has been the voice that has led the peoples towards the light; the men I have sent to the front of the multitudes have been examples of fidelity and strength that at every step have been pointing them to the true path.

38. Enter with love into the study of my doctrine, for you are approaching the time when you will have no guide but your conscience, and no shepherd but my Spirit.

39. As long as you do not reach a complete preparation, you will need someone to help you walk and direct your steps along the right path; that is why I choose some of my children from among you to put them in front of towns or crowds. How delicate that office is, and how grave its responsibility! Blessed are those who, filled with zeal, obedience and fear, lead their brothers along my path, because their cup will be less bitter, when the crowds weigh them down like a heavy cross. I will help you when you are about to bend under the weight of your responsibilities and I will never let you fall.

40. Blessed also be the multitudes who meekly follow in the footsteps of those who watch and suffer so that they do not deviate one step from the path of fulfillment.

41. Unite yourselves truly and you will hear clearly the voice of the Divine Shepherd, who is leading you to the heavenly fold.

42. Everything was prepared so that, in the Third Time, you would listen to me through human understanding; those who have heard me in this way were already destined for it.

43. Not all of you expected me, least of all in the way I have manifested myself, because they hid my word from you and you forgot my promise to return. But I, for whom it does not happen. time, I came to fulfill my promise to you. Now my word is to announce a new time of revelations that will come to free you from all slavery. No more chains, no more captivity, humanity!

44. In the First time one man was enough for me to lead you to the "land of promise"; in the Second Time twelve disciples were those prepared to spread my doctrine and teach the way to men; now I will raise up a people invested with my grace and gifted with my word, so that it is he who will bring to the nations and regions of the world the bread of eternal life that will feed the poor in spirit and those hungry for righteousness.

45. I leave in your heart the bread of love and truth that you will share with humanity, because she is apparently strong, but behind her finery, her splendor and her power, she carries a weak, sick and fatigued spirit.

46. Here I am with you, I have fulfilled my promise. I come as God, as a Father, as a Teacher and as a friend.

Love one another!

47. At the announcement of my arrival, many have turned to books and history to confirm my new coming, but everything has told them that my presence is true. Does it seem strange to you that he has now come in Spirit? understand that it is no longer time for the Word to become man to dwell with you; that lesson of love belongs to the past. Today you live in the age of the Holy Spirit.

48. This is the time of elevation, in which if you want to look at me or feel me, you have to prepare your spirit, because you are not going to ask anyone if it is true that I am among you. Are you deprived of spirit or sensitivity? Peradventure, do you lack heart and senses? So to whom are you going to ask if my manifestation among you is true? You will not try to ask the wise men, for they know nothing about Me. Remember that in the Second Time, while the men of power were surprised at my presence, and while the theologians were confused and the priests condemned me, the humble and simple listened to the echo of my word in the purest of their hearts. To those who are listening to me and cannot conceive of my presence under this manifestation, I say that if, despite their doubt and reluctance, they want to know if I am the one who speaks, let them put my teaching to the test, practicing it, analyzing my word, cleansing their hearts and minds, going to find their enemy to forgive him, washing the wound of the leper, comforting the sad, and then they will know for themselves if it was I, Christ, who spoke through these human lips.

49. It will be your conscience that will tell you whether this word is from God or from man.

50. Speaking through the human understanding I am not hidden, on the contrary, I manifest myself in it.

51. At that time I said to you, "The tree will be recognized by its fruit." See the fruits that my doctrine is giving; the sick evicted by science heal, the perverse repent; the vicious regenerate; the skeptics become fervent; the materialists are spiritualized. He who does not see these wonders is obstinate in being blind.

52. Humanity cultivates many trees; the hunger and misery of men makes them look for shade and fruits that offer them salvation, justice or peace. These trees are the doctrines of men, often inspired by hatred, selfishness, ambitions and delusions of grandeur. Its fruits are death, blood, destruction and outrages to the most sacred in the life of man, which is the freedom to believe, think, speak, in a word that is to deprive him of freedom of spirit.

53. It is the darkness that rises up to fight the light.

Love one another!

54. I put you on alert announcing to you that a time would come when wars of ideas, doctrines and homicidal wars would be unleashed, spreading from nation to nation, leaving a trail of hunger and pain among humanity. And that that would be the time of my coming on the cloud, that is, spiritually.

55. An instant before I expired on the cross, I said on the lips of Jesus: "Everything is finished." That was my last word as a man, because spiritually my voice has never ceased, since my Word began a concert of love with all beings from the moment of its creation.

56. Now I am speaking to you through a human spokesman; after 1950 I will converse Spirit to spirit with you and I will make known to you great wonders and revelations, but I will always speak to you, because I am the Eternal Word.

57. You will remain to teach your brothers what you have learned from Me, and there will be no question, no matter how profound, that you will not answer correctly, as long as you are humble, so that you will not be deprived of my grace.

58. You love, speak when you should, be silent when it is convenient, tell no one that you are my chosen, flee from flattery and do not publish the charity you do, work in silence, testifying with your works of love the truth of my doctrine.

59. To love is your destiny. Love, for in this way you will wash away your stains, both from your present life and from previous lives.

60. Do not say that I am the God of poverty or sadness, considering that Jesus was always followed by multitudes of the sick and afflicted. I seek the sick, the sad and the poor, but it is to fill them with joy, health and hope, because I am the God of joy, of life, of peace and light.

61. If someone has told you that there are sins that do not have forgiveness on my part, he has not told you the truth. For great faults, there are great purifications, and for intense repentance, there is my infinite forgiveness. Once again I tell you that you will all come to Me.

62. At this time, my covenant with you will not be sealed with blood, as it was in Egypt when my people marked the doors of their houses with the blood of the first-born lamb, or as later in the Second Time Jesus, the Lamb of God, did by sealing with his blood a spiritual covenant between the Master and his disciples.

63. Now I want you to rise up out of love, guided by the light of conscience and by the ideal of spirituality, so that it is not the blood of the innocent that seals this covenant pact;

Love one another!

it must be the light of my Spirit and your light, which are founded on a single clarity, on a single ray of light.

64. The path that Moses traced to the multitudes through the sea and the desert, leading them to the gates of the "promised land", is a symbol of the teaching that preceded the lessons that I revealed to you through Jesus, lessons that began in the manger of Bethlehem and ended at Calvary.

65. At this time you will be the ones who have to get up to teach my lessons, for which you will have to penetrate the hearts of your brothers with the greatest respect, because the heart of man is my temple. If on entering there you find an extinguished lamp or a withered flower, light the lamp and water the flower, so that the light and the fragrance of the spirit may exist again in that sanctuary. But you will not want to reap the fruit immediately. When you sow the seed in the earth, does it germinate instantly or bear fruit immediately? Why then, from the human heart, which is harder than the earth, do you want to reap the harvest on the same day that you sow in it?

66. You should also know that just as there are differences in material lands, there are differences in men. Many times you will sow, and when you have lost all hope that your sowing will be born, you will be surprised to see it born, grow and bear fruit. Other times you will think you have sown in fertile lands and you will not see the seed germinate. If you find lands so hard that they resist your efforts, leave them to me, and I, the Divine Farmer, will make them fruitful.

67. I speak to you figuratively so that you retain my teachings; I do not want you to feel like orphans without inheritance after 1950. When my voice ceases, many will continue to seek me; but my voice, in this form, will no longer be heard. There will be a moment of weakness for the people, in which men and women will be confused; when their confusion reaches the maximum, I will make my presence felt with all splendor. Then everyone who is prepared will open his eyes and behold the truth in my doctrine. Those will be the ones who will see me and bear witness to my presence among you.

68. I am preparing you for those times, because when you no longer listen to my word, temptations will come to your heart, wanting to take advantage of your weakness, to show you many ways. You will then turn to your memory in search of my word, and you will look for the books that are being formed, so that there you will find the value that your spirit lacks. Then you will know that you are in the debugging time.

69. You are still weak, but you will become strong again, because at this time there will be rulers who will tremble at the authority of my people. When will these events occur? when this people will increase their spirituality, and the development of their gifts will reach a high degree. Then rumors will spread about your power; those rumors will go from nation to nation and it will be when that new pharaoh will appear who will try to enslave you, without achieving it, because that will be the time of the freedom of the spirit on earth. My people will cross the desert of slander and injustice; but he will not bow to pain and will continue step by step, carrying in the ark of his spirit the teaching of the only book revealed to men in three times, the light of the three testaments that are the law, the love and the wisdom of God.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 114

1. When this skeptical, unbelieving and materialistic humanity finds itself before a divine manifestation or before what they call miracles, it instantly seeks reasons or Proofs to prove that there is no supernatural work, nor has there been such a miracle. When a man appears manifesting a spiritual gift that is not common, mockery, doubt or indifference rises before him, silencing his voice; and when nature, as an instrument of my Divinity, gives its voices of justice and its warning messages to men, they attribute everything to chance; but never has humanity been found so insensitive, deaf and blind to everything divine, spiritual and eternal, as in these times.
2. Millions of men call themselves Christians but for the most part they do not know the doctrine of Christ. They claim to love all the works that I did as a man, but in their way of believing, thinking and conceiving, they show that they do not know the essence of my doctrine.
3. I came to teach you the life of the spirit, I came to reveal to you the powers that are in him; that is why I came into the world.
4. I healed the sick without any medicine, spoke with the spirits, freed the possessed from strange and supernatural influences, conversed with nature, transfigured me from man to Spirit and from Spirit to man, and each of these works always had the purpose of teaching you the path of the evolution of the spirit.
5. The true essence of my teaching has been hidden by men in order to show you a Christ who is not even an image of the one who came to die to make you live.
6. Today you are seeing the result of your turning away from the Master who came to teach you. An atmosphere of pain surrounds you, your littleness overwhelms you, ignorance torments you; but the time has come when the powers and gifts dormant in man awaken, announcing like heralds that a new time has arrived.
7. religions, science and the justice of men will try to prevent the advance of what will be a strange and evil influence for them; but there will be no power that can stop the awakening and advancement of the spirit.
8. The day of liberation is near.
9. Also in this time I have had my prophets as I had them in the first times. Every speaker has been a prophet, for through his lips I have spoken to you of things to come.
10. My word in this Third Time, collected in writings, contains many prophecies for the humanity of tomorrow. I have foretold to you what will happen when many years have passed and I have spoken to you of trials that will be fulfilled in other ages; to prove to you the truth of my prophecies, I have given you some that you have already seen fulfilled; that is why among this people there are hearts with unshakable faith that have seen the fulfillment of my word in wonder and full of joy.

Love one another!

11. Not only the spokesman within my manifestation is a prophet at this time; this people, by raising their spirit, by listening to me, have felt the awakening of their sleeping gifts and have emerged as a prophet. Some see, some hear, some sense.

12. The Master tells you: Prepare yourselves, develop your gifts, let them guide you along the path of light, so that your works, words and thoughts always carry the essence that emanates from the truth.

13. History collected the names of the prophets of antiquity, many of whom announced the time that you are living. From Joel to John, they anticipated the history of humanity.

14. Those names will be remembered again, when the peoples will awaken to the truth that those men, sent by Me, had already revealed to you.

15. Today I tell you that the prophecies of my new lessons will be linked to the prophecies of the first times, because they all speak to you of a single revelation.

16. Blessed are the children of this time who, in their faith, in their zeal and in their love for the Father, resemble those first prophets, because through their mouth my Spirit will speak to the people of this time and of future times.

17. Do not grieve if I say that your names will not go down in history; if you are already humble, you will know how to do charity with your right hand, trying to ignore the sinister.

18. Pray, people, enlighten yourselves with the light of my word, so that the light of your conscience may guide you in each of your steps.

19. Today I have called you heirs of my glory, because you are destined to possess my kingdom.

20. When you sprouted from Me, you were endowed with all the attributes necessary to travel the long road of life and know how to return to the starting point; none of these gifts has been acquired in the journey, everything was possessed by the spirit from the beginning. Consciousness is innate to the spirit, it is light; at every step it advises him to do merits to help him return to the Father.

Love one another!

21. Sometimes the spirit deviates from the path, then finds it again; at times he walks diligently, then stops. It is that there is no longer path, nor with more tests than that of the evolution of the spirit.

22. How much evil have been done to those who believe that at the moment of death they can achieve spiritual glory! These spirits do not know how to look into this life beyond what they have forged in their imagination.

23. When Dimas, who recognized the power of Jesus, from his cross confessed his faith in the Divinity of Christ and humbly asked him to remember a sinner, He, contemplating how that being reached purification at that moment by repentance, by faith and by pain, promised to take him that same day to paradise.

24. The Master wanted to give you to understand that the spirit, when purified, flies to regions of peace and light, from where he can fulfill that command to love his brothers, inspired by the love of the Father, which is the only ladder that exists to reach the perfect kingdom.

25. You all have the right to possess my kingdom, you are all destined to reach Me, even if it is the most sinful and imperfect, when you have conquered, as Dimas did, with your love and faith, with your humility and hope, that world of peace, from where you will begin to present before your God those works that are the perfect tribute of the spirit to the Father who created you with so much love and who destined you to dwell with Him in the perfect.

26. I have disinherited no one, in everyone there are the gifts that one day will make them repent of having sinned, they will regret having offended me and later they will be inspired by the greatest works.

27. Once again I am manifesting myself among you. Every spirit is a temple of the Lord; every mind is an abode of the Most High; every heart is the sanctuary of the Divine Shepherd who leads his sheep to eternal life. The Lord touches the spirits with His justice and purifies thoughts with His light.

28. Truly I tell you that I am not a visitor, I am the eternal indweller of your spirit, I am the light and the life present in you. Who can quench my light in your spirit? Then let that luminous star manifest on your way.

29. Ah, if men would do my will imitating Jesus who on earth did only the will of his Heavenly Father, how great and beautiful would be the manifestations of your spirit, in deeds, in words or thoughts!

Love one another!

30. I am preparing my dwelling place within men, both in those who love me and in those who do not know me, so that my light may have your spirit as its kingdom. Behold my light made revelation and doctrine. It is the message of the promised Comforter, the One who announced to you that he was coming. The long-awaited has already arrived, just wait for the lethargic heart of men to wake up to shine in them like the light of a new dawn. Then you will see that, despite the times that have passed, the truth remains the same, because it is immutable. The truth is God, and a proof of this you can find in nature, one of so many expressions of your Creator. For just as I show myself through nature, so I want to manifest myself in you.

31. Humanity, wake up! Analyze the word of the One who was to come and who is already among you! The one who sustains the spirits has arrived. The one who illuminates the path of your evolution is sending his light from above, using the human brain to translate into words the divine inspirations, words that reach the troubled heart, the troubled spirit, the sick and the hungry. Whoever receives this light on his spirit, sees his potency increased. My divine force is the one that moves the universe and the one that comes to you like a caress. Each of these messages is a thought from your Lord.

32. Humanity, I will save you and make you the perfect interpreter, the one who best expresses my will. O disciples who are listening to me at this moment, if you cannot understand everything, at least feel this love, this outpouring of life that reaches you! My light will save you in this time.

33. What greatness can the human have without the divine? My light is what beautifies everything that exists. Let it shine in your being and in your works and you will feel the joy of living imitating me.

34. See that I, being the Word, am not only word but also work; I gave you proof of this by incarnating at that time to live with you and to give you an example. I was a man indeed, but that body had not the slightest sin or the slightest stain in its formation. It was a true temple, from whose interior the Word of God sprouted. The One who raised the humble and with a word healed the sick, the One who blessed the children and sat at the table of the poor, is the one who is coming now, is the same Word. It is the light of truth that you saw appear in the East and whose radiance is illuminating the West. Today I do not appear incarnated in a man; I come to manifest myself through men prepared by Me and born to fulfill this mission. Verily I tell you, these for whom I have given you my word, I prepared from before they came to earth, then I led them from their birth, and now that I use them, I still continue to prepare them.

35. I would like to tell you about many spiritual teachings, but you cannot understand them yet. If I were to reveal to you to what abodes you descended on earth, you would not be able to conceive how you dwelt in such places. Today you can deny that you know the spiritual valley, because your spirit, being incarnated, is forbidden its past, so that it does not become puffed up, or succumb, or despair before its new existence in which it will have to start as in a new life. Even if you wanted to, you could not remember, I only grant that you retain a presentiment or intuition of what I reveal to you so that you persevere in the struggle and have conformity in the trials.

36. You may doubt everything I tell you, but in truth that valley was your abode when you were a spirit. You were inhabitants of that mansion in which you did not know pain, in which you felt the glory of the Father in your being, because there was no stain on him; but you had no merits, it was necessary that you leave that heaven and descend into the world so that your spirit, through his effort, conquer that kingdom; but little by little you were defending morally until you felt very far from the divine and the spiritual, from your origin.

37. My voice as a Teacher has always been speaking to you to teach you; you have recognized it by its essence of love, but when you have insisted on your mistakes, then pain, inexorable teacher, has come to make you understand your disobedience. Today a thorn and tomorrow another, have come to form on your temples a crown of painful experience. Why do you not learn love from Me, letting yourselves be guided by my teaching that hurts no one and does sweeten your heart when I tell you: "Love one another?" He who loves his brothers loves his Father in them.

38. I loved you before you existed, I caressed you in Me and at birth I made you feel my divine tenderness. If you love your Father, you have to love your older brothers and your younger brothers, knowing that every man who exists is because God has willed it that way and that every creature is the form of a divine thought. Think, moreover, that you are not only brothers of men, that there are many creatures who, even lacking the spirit, are your brothers, whom you may call minors, but who for that reason do not cease to have for Father the same one who created you. Know your place in the midst of life so that you may properly fulfill your mission.

39. When the light of my doctrine is received in truth by your spirit, you will sigh for heaven much more than you do now for the goods of the earth. He who longs to achieve the virtues of heaven to reach the elevation of his spirit, feels an inner flame that illuminates him, and hears within himself a hymn of love to his Father. It is this light that makes you feel the presence of the One who dwells in you, who comes to trace you the shortest path to reach the "promised land", moving you away from the paths where men leave traces of pain throughout the ages.

Love one another!

40. When I was among my disciples at that time, and my departure was near, I said to them on one occasion, "Behold, you will soon cease to have me among you, for I am going with my Father from whence I came." I say now to you: Do as I do, and heaven will be yours, even for less than what I did, if you so desire.

41. Enter into the light of this eternal dawn so that you will not contemplate the night again, because in the spirit of the enlightened, of those who have kept my teachings, darkness must not appear. In the likeness of the night is the spirit of the materialized; in the likeness of the dawn is that of the one who seeks spirituality. Let your spirit manifest its light which is like letting mine shine.

42. Be masters of what I have taught you, but first, "deaf to the voice of temptations, to the worldly noise of frivolities and vanities. Hear my voice in the silence, then you will receive my message.

43. No one will be lost, some will arrive first by the path that I have pointed out to you and others will arrive later by the paths that they follow. In all religions, a man can take that teaching that is necessary for him to become good; but when he does not succeed, then he blames the religion he professes and remains the one he has always been. Each religion is a way, some more perfect than others, but all tend to the good and seek to reach the Father; if any of the religions that you know is not true, do not lose faith in Me; go on the path of charity and you will be saved, because my path is illuminated by the virtue of love.

44. So I come to prepare my abode, my temple. When I speak to you of my abode, I am not speaking to you of your body, but of your spirit, because I am building that abode on eternal foundations, not on what is transient.

45. Many have come to this manifestation hungry for my word of life, while others do not yet feel these lessons; I touch these so that they hunger and thirst for love and seek my light.

46. Humanity: I see that you are afraid of the tempest that is beating you; do not be afraid of it, for I will placate it, as long as you believe in Me and listen to my voice. If you do not yet know how to listen in silence, come and learn from Me, who am teaching you through these prepared understandings, or wait for this message to come from Spirit to spirit to you. This message has light for all religions, for all sects and beliefs and for the different ways of behaving of men. But what have you done with my word, disciples? is this how you let the tree bloom? Let it bear flowers, for they will be the announcement that later there will be fruits. Why are you hiding these messages and not giving the world the surprise of this new age with the good news? Why do you not dare to tell the world that the voice of Christ is vibrating within you? Speak and bear witness to my teaching with your works of love, for if some would close their ears so as not to hear you, others will open them, and your voice will be in them as sweet and harmonious as the song of the nightingale.

Love one another!

47. My word of this time will not erase those that I told you in the Second. The times, the centuries and the ages will pass away, but the words of Jesus will not pass away. Today I come to explain and reveal to you the content of what I told you then and that you did not understand.

48. I am yesterday's sower; today I cultivate and tomorrow I will reap the fruit, but my truth is the same at all times. You live not only by the bread of the earth, but also by my teachings. Your body will go to the bowels of the earth, and it is to your spirit that I come to say: Get up and walk, return to your Father.

49. My Word once became man to teach you by example to love each other, because if I had taught you only by the word, the world would have said. He spoke and did not do. I was among you to dream of you, for that is why I came. What could I learn from men that I ignored? Nothing, I dedicated that life to humanity. In the temples I was a light among the doctors of the law; when it was three years before I left the earth, I went out to teach men in the fields, on the banks of the sea or rivers, in the squares; I spoke to all, I stopped giving my teaching to none.

50. Today you tell me Master, the world is the same despite your sacrifice, your word and your shed blood. It is true, humanity has shed its blood to the point of soaking the earth; it has not been out of love, but out of greed, out of evil; it has shed the blood of its brother whom it does not love.

51. Many make my image and cover it with silks, gold and precious stones, while leaving the poor to die of hunger and cold; but my divine plan is stronger than the hardness of men and will be fulfilled. Woe to those who lie! it will be better for them to confess their guilt and not to feel better than others, because their conscience will not give them rest even in sleep. Those who try to cover their stains with the mantle of hypocrisy are "bleached tombs that keep rot inside". Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees hypocrites! If you want to walk in the ways of the Lord, do what my doctrine teaches, imitate me, take up your cross and come with me!

52. My children, do you find anything wrong with my message? Am I hurting you with this word that contains love for everyone? Search it, and you will find nothing unclean in it.

Love one another!

53. Written will be this message that will remind you of the time when I manifested, and many will come remembering how close they had me. Also in the Second Time, my apostles did not love me so much when I was with them, as after I left. While they were walking with Me, they did not lay down their lives for Me; after all, they gave everything they had for the love of their Master. When the voice of Jesus stopped being heard, then the disciples suffered, they wanted to have me again and they never loved me as then. It was already reigning in their hearts. That's how I want it to happen with you.

54. By the peace that you feel in your spirit you can recognize my presence. No one but Me can give you true peace. A spirit in darkness could not give it to you. I tell you this, because many hearts fear the lurking of a tempting spirit, to which men have given life and form according to their imagination.

55. How wrongly the existence of the prince of darkness has been interpreted. How many have come to believe more in their power than in mine, and how far from the truth men have walked in this.

56. Evil exists; all vices and sins have been derived from it. Sinners, that is, those who practice evil, have always existed, the same on earth as in other dwellings or worlds; but why do you personify all the existing evil in a single being, and why do you confront it with Divinity? I ask you: What is an impure being before my absolute and infinite power, and what does your sin mean before my perfection?

57. Sin has been born into the world; the spirits, springing from God, some remained in the good, while others, deviating from that path, created a different one, that of evil.

58. The words and parables that were figuratively given to you as a revelation in the earliest times have been mistakenly interpreted by humanity. The intuition that men had about the supernatural, was influenced by their imagination, and they came to form around the force of evil, sciences, cults, superstitions and myths that have reached your days.

59. No demons can spring from God; these you have forged with your mind. The concept that you have of that being that at every step you put me as an adversary, is false.

60. I have taught you to watch and pray, so that you may get rid of temptations and evil influences, which can come from human beings as well as from spiritual beings.

61. I have told you to overcome the spirit over the flesh, because this is a weak creature that at every step is in danger of stumbling if you do not watch over it. The heart, the mind and the senses are an open door for the passions of the world to scourge the spirit.

Love one another!

62. If you have imagined that the beings of darkness are like monsters, I only see them as imperfect creatures, to whom I extend my hand to save them, because they are also my children.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Love one another!

1. I receive you, beloved people, and through you the humanity that is my daughter. In this time in which I am communicating through the understanding of man, I come to give you strength so that you may return to the path of perfection, correcting your steps and feeling in your own heart the echo of my divine voice. I am preparing you in this propitious time, so that you may raise your spirit, which is lethargic today, so that you may sensitize your heart, because I do not want to find myself in it as a passing visitor, but as an eternal inhabitant, since it is in it that I want you to build my temple.
2. I am the same Divine Word who in the Second Time manifested himself in a body called Jesus, living with you and giving you the sweetness of his word and the truth contained in his perfect examples. Now I use the human devices that I have prepared and that were already destined from before I was born, for the fulfillment of this sublime mission.
3. I have told you that this earth is not your true homeland, because in truth, there was a time when you had glory as your abode and you were with the Heavenly Father. When you had not yet descended to this planet, you were in the spiritual mansion where everything is light and truth, but you did not record this impression in your spirit and that is why memory betrays you and you do not remember anything of that life, of your stay in what you call heaven, which is not the same as what you imagine through your senses in this world that you call earth.
4. Before your creation, you were in Me as a spiritual creature, in the place where everything vibrates in perfect harmony, where the essence of life and the source of the true light are found, which is what I come to feed you with.
5. The pain was not created by the Father. In the times of which I speak to you, you had no reason to groan, you had nothing to regret, you felt the glory in yourselves, because in your perfect life, you were the symbol of that existence; but when you left that dwelling, I gave the spirit a garment and you were descending more and more. Then little by little your spirit evolved until you reached the plane where you are now, where the light of the Father shines.
6. I am the Master of love, that is why when you do not walk in my ways and do not love humanity with the love that I have taught you, the pain for your disobedience comes to you. Thus, from fall to fall, you are gaining experience.
7. Man, as a creature of God, is a brother of all creatures, of this and of the other worlds, because each form is a thought of the Father in different manifestation. If you are endowed with reason, understand that you are part of that creation and in this sense brothers of all beings, and you must consciously realize the place you occupy in it, on the divine plane and in the universal concert; why don't you act in accordance with the mission that I have come to reveal to you? Be the apostle of my doctrine, with clear criteria that you must evolve from plane to plane; have mercy on yourselves, get closer as soon as you can to the way of salvation, which is none other than that of perfect love, contained in this simple maxim. "Love God above all creation and your neighbor as yourself."

8. Teach your sister humanity not only with words, but with your deeds of love. In the Second Time, being the Word of the Father, I became a man to teach you to obey the divine laws by my own example; because if only with my word I had taught you, you would have said: He spoke and did no work; therefore I was always among my disciples as a Teacher.

9. Keep my divine lessons and examples, they will be like a staff tomorrow; ask me in these moments when I communicate through the pedestal, that if your requests are noble and just, I will attend to them; but if you ask only for asking, be careful that I will only give you what you should receive. Render spiritual worship to Me and do not be like those who erect temples and altars made of gold and rhinestones, who carry out great pilgrimages and discipline themselves with harsh and cruel floggings, with prayers and prayers. prostrate on their knees, and have not yet been able to give their heart to me. I have come to touch you through conscience and that is why I tell you: Whoever speaks by saying what he does and proclaims it to the four winds, has no merit before the Heavenly Father.

10. If you want to walk in the right ways of the Lord, do what I have taught you in my word, my examples and my love; be humble, return good for evil, without caring about human ingratitude; take up your cross with patience and follow me.

11. I, the Word, became man in the Second Time, to show you my divine love; I did not disdain to live among you in human flesh. I wanted to be a child of this humanity, in order to feel more of it, so that it could see me closer; that woman who offered her womb, so that the Word might become man in it, was for her purity and innocence, the worthy temple of the one who had chosen her as a human mother. Mary was the flower of a lineage prepared by the Lord, many generations before She was born.

12. Maternal love, whose essence and tenderness are in the Father, incarnated in Mary, in that maiden who was the flower of purity and innocence.

Love one another!

13. Mary, woman, is the representation of the universal Mother. It is the maternal love that exists in my Divinity, who became a woman so that there would be a light of hope in the lives of men. Mary, Spirit, is the divine tenderness, who came to earth to weep over the sins of humanity. His tears were mixed with the blood of the Son to teach men to fulfill their mission. In eternity, her open arms lovingly await the arrival of her children.
14. From the beginning of humanity, the coming of the Messiah was prophesied to you, Mary was also announced to you and promised.
15. Those who deny the divine Motherhood of Mary are unaware of one of the most beautiful revelations that the Divinity has made to men.
16. Those who recognize the Divinity of Christ and deny Mary, do not know that they are depriving themselves of possessing the most tender and sweet essence that exists in my Divinity.
17. How many there are who, believing they know the scriptures, know nothing, because they have understood nothing! and how many there are who, believing that they have found the language of creation, live in confusion!
18. The Motherly Spirit pulsates sweetly in all beings, you can contemplate its image at every step. Her divine tenderness has fallen like a blessed seed into the hearts of all creatures and every kingdom of nature is a living testimony of Her, and every mother's heart is a raised altar before that great love; Mary was a divine flower and the fruit was Jesus.
19. I became a man in that creature, a masterpiece of God's charity, in order to reveal to men the great mysteries of my kingdom, speaking to them with deeds and words of love.
20. Everything in Christ spoke, because it is the Eternal Word, the same one that you are listening to.
21. Beloved disciples: Study with love and goodwill my teachings and you will come to understand what I have revealed to you through the ages.
22. Verily I say to you, that you and all who penetrate to the bottom of this word, will be the true interpreters of the scriptures.
23. The history of my people is full of wonders and miracles, which ignited the faith of those multitudes in the existence and power of God, the living, invisible and true God.
24. The testimony of what that people saw and lived, went down in history and was written in texts that all generations have known up to your days; but those testimonies, have now found men without faith or spiritual preparation, to whom to believe, they need to think, analyze and scrutinize, submitting everything to their science, their reason and their logic; these have doubted, others have been confused, some have denied and there have been those who have mocked.

Love one another!

25. It is natural that those who try to find the divine truth by searching for it with their eyes or with their poor mind, do not give three passes without having stumbled or found the abyss. Only the Spirit can find the way of truth.

26. It is necessary that I tell you that the testimony of the men who followed me was true, what they bequeathed to posterity was true; they explained the lessons received through their simple and innocent faith, as they saw it and as they studied everything that happened.

27. Each of those facts, of those works and proofs of which the ancients speak to you, contains a truth, a light, a revelation. They believed without searching because they felt the facts. It is up to you to believe by analyzing, in order to extract the spiritual content of what has been revealed to you.

28. Everything has such a simple and so clear explanation; but I tell you again that it is necessary that in order to find it, the spirit must go ahead and meditate.

29. Great will be the astonishment of this materialized humanity when even its very science and its observations prove to it the truth of many of those facts that they did not want to accept; then surprised it will say: It was true; but everything that today you call a miracle, is nothing more than the materialization of a divine message, a message whose voice incessantly speaks to you of something that is beyond your planet and your reason, of something that comes directly from my Spirit to yours.

30. Today my charity is in you. I come to listen to your requests, even the weakest of your complaints; I want you to learn to converse with your Father. But do not think that I have come to you alone; no, I have descended on all my children, because the cry of this humanity reached to the height of heaven, like a distressing cry, like a plea for light.

31. When you receive my word in this form, you ask me inwardly if I come as a Father or as a judge, and then I tell you that since before you heard my first word of this day, conscience has already been pointing out to you each of your faults and also each of Your good deeds.

32. But if I judge you by my word, why are you afraid? Peradventure my judgment does not come from the love that I have for you?

33. I come to awaken you so that the trials do not surprise you, so that the storms and hurricanes of these times do not take away the light from you.

Love one another!

34. Certainly this is a time of trials for which it is necessary to be strong and prepared not to succumb.

35. Life on earth has always been one of trial and expiation for man; but never has this path of evolution been so full of pain as now, never has the chalice been so full of bitterness.

36. In these times, men do not wait for the mature age to face the struggle; how many creatures have already known since childhood the disappointments, the yoke, the scourges, the stumbles and failures. I can tell you even more; in these times a man's pain begins before he is born, that is, from his mother's womb.

37. Great is the atonement of the beings who in these times, come to earth! But you must think that all the pain that exists in the world is the work of men. What greater perfection in my righteousness, in letting the very ones who sowed the path of life with thorns, come now to gather them?

38. I know that not everyone has the same share of blame in the chaos that you live. It is true, but I tell you, those who are not the cause of war are responsible for peace.

39. I say to you, O people, Have charity for yourselves and for your fellow men, but in order that this charity may be effective, acknowledge your gifts by studying my word. He who loves his brother loves Me, because his brother is my beloved son.

40. You are a people whom I am preparing for prayer, to teach the truth, for healing; life with its miseries, its struggles and bitterness has become like the desert; but I tell you not to go and park or stay in the desert, because then you will not know true peace.

41. Keep in mind the example of Israel of which history speaks, when she had to wander in the desert for a long time; she struggled to get away from the captivity and idolatry of Egypt, but also to reach a land of peace and freedom.

42. Today, all this humanity resembles that captive people of Pharaoh; beliefs, doctrines and laws are imposed on men; most of the nations are slaves of stronger ones; rough struggle and forced labor under the lashes of hunger and humiliation, are the bitter bread that a large portion of humanity now eats.

43. All this is causing in the hearts of men a longing for liberation, for peace, for a better life to take shape.

44. The din of war, the human blood that flows, selfishness, ambition and hatred that bear fruit in a thousand forms, are awakening men from their deep lethargy; and when that longing of all my children unites them in a single ideal, as it united the people of Israel in Egypt under the inspiration of Moses, what man, what threat, what force will be able to stop these hearts? None in truth, because in that longing will be my light, in that struggle will be my strength, in that ideal will be my divine promises.

45. Does the world need a new Moses to free itself from its chains? I tell you that the teaching that I have brought you at this time is the light that inspired Moses, it is the word of justice and prophecy, it is the strength that lifts up the weak, the timid, the coward, and makes him courageous, determined, fervent, it is the law that guides and leads on the path of truth, it is manna that sustains in the long days of the day, and finally, it is liberation, it is peace, it is well-being for men of good will.

46. You feel encouraged by my word, people, and as if a wonderful balm were falling on your wounds, you feel strengthened, renewed, full of hope for tomorrow; so I ask you: Do you not believe that if you carry this same message to the oppressed peoples of the earth, the same miracle would work in them?

47. That is why I tell you at every step, to prepare yourselves, so that you do not delay the moment when you can rise up as emissaries of this inspiration. If I tell you to prepare yourselves, it is because this good news must be spread in such a way that it is not the reason for pain to be caused, a fratricidal quarrel to be provoked or a single drop of blood to be spilled.

48. My message is persuasive, sweet, full of truth; the same touches the heart, which reaches the mind and convinces the spirit.

49. Listen to Me, study, practice and you will be in a position to open for men gaps towards faith, towards light, freedom and peace.

50. That is why I come to teach you the perfect worship of my Divinity. I want you to understand that only before Me should you pray, because I am the giver, without whose will or permission nothing is done.

51. Mary, your Heavenly Mother, is the possessor of gifts and graces; so, when your elevation is scarce, or your lack of elevation makes you unworthy to speak to me, pray before Her, seek her help and her intercession, and in truth I tell you that along this path, your requests will soon reach Me.

52. I give you these lessons, because you have turned the spirit of many righteous into divinities, whom I asked and whom you worship as if they were gods. How much ignorance, O humanity! How can men judge the holiness and perfection of a spirit by his human works alone?

53. I am the first to tell you to imitate the good examples that your brothers have written with their works, with their life, with their virtue, and I also tell you that by remembering them, expect their spiritual help and influence; but why do you raise altars to them that only serve to offend the humility of those spirits? Why are cults created around their memory as if they were the Divinity, putting them in the place of the Father, whom they forget because they adore their brothers? How painful for them has been the glory that you have given them here!

54. What do humans know of my judgment about those they call saints? What do they know about the spiritual life of those beings or the place that each one has carved out for himself before the Lord?

55. Let no one think that with these revelations I come to erase from your heart the merits that my servants have made among humanity; on the contrary, I want you to know that the grace that you have found in Me is great and that there is much that I grant you by their prayers; but it is necessary that you destroy your ignorance, from which religious fanaticism, idolatry and superstition come.

56. If you feel that the spirit of those beings floats over the environment of your life, trust in them who are part of the spiritual world, so that they and you, united in the path of the Lord, consume the work of spiritual fraternity, that work that I am waiting for as a result of all my teachings.

57. In this way I come to teach you, so that you can carry out your mission with clarity.

58. Certainly, this existence is a new stage for your spirit, which had left incomplete a work that had been entrusted to it, and which has now been given the opportunity to take it a little further on the path of perfection.

59. I too, the Divine Teacher, had to return among men, because my work at that time was incomplete. There will be those who deny this assertion by saying that the work of Jesus ended at his expiration on the cross, but this is because they have forgotten that I announced and promised my return to you. But you, to whom I now reveal these teachings, understand that reincarnation is not indispensable to Me, because in my Spirit there is the power to manifest myself in a thousand ways to humanity. Nor have I returned in search of perfection for my Spirit. If I come to you now, it is only to continue teaching you the path that leads you to the light. Remember that in the First Time the prophets said to you: He is the door, moreover, did I not tell you when I became human among you. "Am I the way?" Am I not now saying to you, I am the top of the mountain you are climbing?.

60. Verily I tell you, I have always been in perfection. Today I am pleased to know you safe traveling along my path; tomorrow will be the universal joy, when you all live inside the spiritual home, which has been waiting for the arrival of the Lord's children for a long time.

61. This is how I speak to your spirit, because I know that he can already understand these lessons and that I can tell him that he is not a child of this earth, that here in this world he should only consider himself as a guest, because his true homeland is spiritual.

62. Take this word in its true sense, because otherwise you would come to think that this doctrine is against all human progress; and it would not be fair for you to attribute such errors to a Father who only seeks the perfection of his children in the different paths of life.

63. What my justice relentlessly pursues is evil, which takes various forms in the human heart, sometimes manifesting itself in selfish feelings, in low passions, in excessive greed and even in hatred.

64. Disciples, you must study what I am telling you now in a figurative sense: Life is a tree, its branches are countless in number and of those branches, no two are the same, but each of them fulfills its mission. If a fruit goes bad, it is detached from the tree, and if a branch deviates, it is pruned, because from the tree of life only fruits of life have to sprout.

65. Verily I say to you, every science that has caused evil and every religion that has not made true light, you can consider them as branches and fruits through which the sap of the tree of life does not flow, because they were detached from it.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 116

1. You are the people in whom I have once again placed my pleasures, because whenever the pain has been very bitter in you, you have been able to raise your eyes to Me, to call Me.
2. This is a time of trials, but my word as a divine balm has come to bring you comfort and hope in your tribulation. But I ask you, why do you find yourselves crying, hungry, sick and naked? Why did you sleep? Why have you blotted out from your heart my words of life, which are the sustenance for the spirit?
3. You were not prepared when my presence surprised you, but at least you knew how to feel me when you realized that my voice was calling you to make a new revelation.
4. To come in search of me, it was worth a lot to you to be poor in material goods, but it is not that you had voluntarily renounced them to seek spirituality, but that my charity separated you from frivolous and superfluous riches, so that you would be free when I knocked on the doors of your heart.
5. When you first came to hear this word, you were little or nothing interested in the spiritual purpose of my manifestation; what your heart desired and asked of me were only earthly goods, of which you felt very needy; but then you realized that the gifts that your Master had been pouring out were spiritual and you came to understand that the goods of the earth would never have the value of those.
6. When that light shone in your understanding, you understood the misery of the great nations, the pain of those who, being rich and lords in the world, only apparently have everything; you discovered that splendor, lies, greatness and pleasure were false.
7. You have seen the impotence of religions to unite and regenerate humanity, and at every step you have witnessed their disunity.
8. When contemplating so much imbalance and confusion among men, a thanksgiving to the Father has escaped from your heart, because listening to him at this time you have found in his word a safe harbor for your Spirit
9. But just as you have realized all these truths, it is necessary that you also become aware of the responsibility that you have before yourselves, brothers, because you must understand that have I put this peace that you enjoy and this light that illuminates your existence, just to help this people? No, multitudes, my pleasures have been poured out on you only as a first or a foretaste of what I will later give to humanity. See why I tell you to keep watch while waiting for the walkers who will come in search of shade and shelter.

Love one another!

Would not your heart be pleased if the men who came from other peoples found in your bosom an example of charity, spirituality and peace?

10. That will be your mission, after I have concluded to give you my lesson; and so with Elijah in spirit he was, my forerunner, this people will be my successor. whoever gives with his life, his words and his deeds, the best of the testimonies that I was among you.

11. It will be big. your satisfaction when you know how to receive your brothers with love and give them something of the much that I have given you; but think that your sorrow would be greater, when humanity was knocking at the doors of your city, its inhabitants were asleep or given to the fulfillment of superfluous practices.

12. Do not be absolutely confident in your actions, because temptations lie in wait for you and it is not difficult that, who had already advanced on the path of spirituality, wanted to return to the paths of pleasure, to selfish Materialism, to an empty life due to the lack of a true and high ideal.

13. I tell you this, so that you may live alert, but do not think that my law tortures or enslaves; it is true that the passage from darkness to light, from evil to good, from the low to the high, is often painful for man; but when he already manages to walk firmly along my path, everything he finds in his journey is peace, because for the spirit, the practice of virtue does not mean any sacrifice.

14. Who among you can tell me that I have not invited him to walk the path of virtue? See that I do not come to flaunt the benefits that I have been granting you, but I do ask you to tell me if I have not shed wonders on you and on your families, if I have not healed the sick only with your prayer or your tears, if I have not saved you from death when you were already on the edge of the abyss. How could I stop doing this with you, if I know that you are going to need a lot of faith and strength to travel my way?

15. I have brought you my light so that you may rejoice in its contemplation; I have not done it to hurt your eyes, nor to blind your spirit.

16. Take the path with serenity and calm so that it does not seem to you any shorter than it actually is, nor too long. You should only think that in order to achieve peace in eternity of which you are part by the spirit, the trials in life are the way; go through it in peace, with a true ideal of perfection and you will never come to feel it heavy or rough; it will be for you like one of those trips in which a beautiful path is contemplated, a pleasant landscape and the one that you wish would never end.

17. If I had given you everything in this life, you would no longer be wishing to ascend one more rung, but what you have not achieved in one existence, you seek in the other, and what you do not achieve in that, another higher one is promising you, and so on ad infinitum, on the endless path of the spirits.

18. When you listen to my word, it seems impossible to you that your spirit will be able to achieve such perfection, and I tell you, that today you question the high destiny of the spirit, because you only look at what you can see with your material eyes, smallness, ignorance, evil, but that is because the spirit in some is sick, in others it is paralyzed, there are those who are blind and those who are spiritually dead. And in the face of so much spiritual misery you have to doubt the destiny that eternity has in store for you. And so you live in this time of love for the world and of materialism; but already the light of my truth has come to you dispelling the darkness of the night of a time that has already passed and announcing with its dawn the arrival of an era in which the spirit will receive the illumination of my teaching.

19. This light will free you from ignorance, from lies; under its clarity, how much falsehood, how much adultery and imposture will be exposed. Iay of those who have adulterated the law! Woe to those who have concealed or falsified the truth! They cannot imagine what their judgment will be like.

20. My word exhorts the world to meditation, so that repentance can be born of it and regeneration from it; but just as the word awakens and shakes you through these spokesmen, so in other lands, in other regions, by other roads, my envoys have risen to warn the people, to remind them of the purity of my law and the truth of my doctrine. They have prepared themselves in the light of my inspiration and although they are enduring ridicule and contempt, they continue step by step in the fulfillment of their mission. I tell you that I reserve their reward for them, and the moment will come when they will also know what you are now receiving.

21. Not all those who walk along the streets and roads, talking about the events of past times, interpreting prophecies or explaining revelations, are my messengers, because many out of vanity, out of spite or for human interests, have taken those teachings to offend and judge, to humiliate or hurt and even to kill.

22. It is necessary that this light, which has so sweetly reached your heart, be spread from one point of the world to the other so that men may remember that Christ does not hurt, nor humiliates, and even less gives death; because He is the life, the bread, the health, the consolation, and humanity is in need of all these today.

23. People, I have talked with you, think about my words, judge yourselves through them, look with this light that I give you, life and everything around you; so that when you return to listen to me once again, you will find yourself more aware and better prepared for the performance of your mission.

24. I have spoken to you through symbols throughout the ages, but now you are at the entrance of a new one in which I will speak to you clearly, because you can already understand me.

25. Everything in creation speaks to you of God and of eternal life, everything that surrounds you and happens in life is like an image of the spiritual, but you have not been satisfied with the works that I have created and through which I speak to you, reveal and teach you. Every people, every religion or sect, creates images, symbols, forms and figures, for the representation of the divine. You have thought it necessary and I have allowed it to you, O humanity; but now that your spirit is more enlightened, more developed than in previous times, it can look at life and understand it clearly. I will send this message to all of you, so that you may awaken to the light and be able to contemplate the truth head-on.

26. The gifts of the spirit, withered by the abandonment in which man has had them, will feel the dew of my charity descend, and when humanity again raises its thoughts to Me with purity, it will be able to contemplate what it had not seen before; it will hear the voice of the Father speaking to it in many ways and will feel his presence at every step.

27. Then, they will stop creating symbols and forms, because when they look at the radiant face of their Father in all creation, they will stop feeling the need for those objects, which they endow with virtues to believe in them as if they were the image of the Father.

28. To you, disciples, who have heard this word in my lessons, I ask you: Why, looking at me, hearing me and feeling me, did you think you had the need to create symbols for your worship?

29. If you answer these questions that you are only respecting what the first bequeathed to you, I tell you that they, surprised by the light of my revelation, with symbols conceived what spirituality is.

30. This people has a great spiritual mission to fulfill in the midst of this humanity threatened by the most absolute materialism, which grows and advances as a new paganism, as a new and greater cult of matter, the world and its passions.

31. And in the face of that test, do you still want to keep preserving reminiscences of idolatrous cults? Is this the example of spirituality that you are going to give, and are these the weapons that you are preparing to fight?

Love one another!

32. Let my word germinate in your hearts, so that you may soon be able to rise up to testify with your works to my doctrine.

33. When I stop communicating with you, because this stage has come to an end, do not go astray from the path, do not stop looking for me in your tribulations, continue trusting in my teaching.

34. I am the narrow gate through which you must pass and Mary the ladder by which you will ascend, loving and obeying your Mother. Believing and respecting me, you will not encounter stumbles and shorten the path.

35. You are in the time of the struggle of good against evil; you have been called to collaborate with Me in that battle that has already begun. I have come to teach you how you should strive to dispel the darkness and make light in every spirit. My word has guided you, so that you may live by watching and praying, so that you may not be seduced by false lights, nor give life to deceitful voices.

36. When this time has passed and you see my communication very far away, and you, in compliance with my commands, transmit this good news to your descendants, you will long for these times and you will feel happy that you have been chosen to witness my divine manifestation; but by those times everything that you have impure mixed to this doctrine will have disappeared and my word will emerge from your spirit clear and pure, revealing only light and truth.

37. When you are questioned by your brothers, speak without silence anything of what my work contains and remember the Master before them in each of his lessons.

38. I make you responsible for the generations that, born of you, are to come; think that my word of this time has not been given for a few generations, but for all those who are to succeed you, and that they have to prepare with greater spirituality, to reach the summit that I have indicated as a goal to man.

39. I bless those who follow the ascending path and who, as time passes, reach greater elevation in the study of my word and prepare to hear my voice in their spirit, when this time of my communication through the understanding of man has passed. Blessed are those who give credit to my work and know how to honor it with their spirituality.

40. How many of your brothers and sisters can you save with your prayer! This world is on the brink of an abyss and I am sending you to it so that you may avoid its cald. Stop the youth in their race towards the destruction of their morals; enlighten their spirit so that it lays the foundations for an upright and high life.

Love one another!

41. Cross the roads of the world taking the truth of my teachings as the norm of your life; but respect the land you tread, and those paths traveled by you will be prepared and there will be a covenant between the nations and you will make this earth a home in which you all feel the warmth of your Heavenly Father and recognize each other as brothers and sisters.

42. I have suffered when contemplating the ingratitude of my creatures, and if they have unknown me as a Father, I have never denied that you are my children, even if some are tainted. I have contemplated great nations far from Me, given only to their material life, to their problems, without expecting anything from Me. But soon the time of awakening will come, and from children to the elderly, they will occupy their lives in the study and practice of my teaching. The elders will speak sweetly and guide with the light of their experience. Children will surprise the world with the development of their gifts and with their consecration to my work.

43. Today, beloved people, draw from my doctrine the highest morality for your life. If you long for the world to believe in this revelation, give with your life the greatest testimony of my truth. I have told you that you must be the clean mirrors, the people who know how to set an example of faith, obedience and impurity.

44. Make purity and goodness take strength among you, and with this you will go correcting those who without carrying healthy intentions have penetrated among your ranks.

45. Those of you who have come to understand the truth and perfection of my doctrine, it is your duty to counteract with your good works all the evil caused to this work by those who have not understood its purpose.

46. See how the evil seed has multiplied among you, until it almost hides the true seed. Lies, superstition, hypocrisy, profit, evil influences, fanaticism and all the impurities, have been the weed that has spread among this people whom I would like to see free of all scourge, to send him as my emissary to other peoples and nations.

47. I entrust this work of purification to those who love the true, the clean; it is a work of great patience; but how great will be the happiness of this people, when they see that their light has finally dispelled the darkness. Then it will be when I consider you as emissaries of this good news and send you into the world to fight the evil empire, countering its strength with the regeneration of your brothers.

48. Look with what love and with what divine patience I have come to teach and correct, telling you to let me be the one who points out your mistakes and defects and who leads you to perfection, but alas, how many there are who remain deaf to these words, and in their indolence, in the hardness of their heart. they let precious moments of preparation pass, not wanting to believe in the tests that are approaching!

49. One day the world will propose to judge and scrutinize this people, and only the one who has watched will be able to get ahead; but the one who has taken my work for selfish and insane ends, he will feel the justice of the earth on himself, and then he will belatedly regret having wanted to create his own kingdom, his throne of flatteries and comforts within my own spiritual work, which is the way of love, humility and renunciation.

50. I say to all of you once again, watch and pray, and if you really believe in my word, do not leave it until tomorrow to fulfill it, because tomorrow it could be too late.

51. See, people, that the earth is already too small to contain so much human pain. Yesterday this planet seemed to man an endless valley, now he has conquered it and populated it.

52. I gave man this world as his dwelling place, saying to him, "Grow and multiply and fill the earth," and indeed he has filled the earth, but he has done it with sin and pain.

53. This world, which should be the home of a single family encompassing all of humanity, is a bone of contention and a reason for absurd ambitions, betrayals and war. This life that should be used for study, meditation and the effort to achieve eternal life, taking advantage of trials and lessons for the benefit of the spirit, is mistakenly interpreted by humanity, leaving its heart to be poisoned with rebellion, bitterness, materialism and nonconformity.

54. Men forget the language with which conscience speaks to them, they lose faith and let the gifts of their spirit turn off to surrender some to materialism, others to deny against this existence, pretending an infinite longing to flee this world to move on to another life.

55. To these I ask: Do you already have the spirituality necessary to inhabit better worlds? Do you not think that if you are not prepared, even if you were able to penetrate into the best of spiritual abodes, you would not be able to estimate the value of that life, nor enjoy its peace amply?

56. Truly, I tell you, the merit of this life that you have today lies in knowing how to overcome the spirit to all the vicissitudes and prevailing miseries; and that is not all, but that in addition to being conformed, you manage to experience in your spirit the joy that comes from being useful to your brothers in a world where there is so much need.

57. The day when the spirit has reached the perfection that is necessary for him to feel in my glory, he will not care about the place or world in which he lives, or whether he is incarnated or disembodied; he will carry the kingdom of heaven with him and will know how to enjoy his grace in each and every one of the missions that his Father sends him to fulfill.

58. Meditate on this, and for now see that this valley is an extensive land, propitious for you to make the necessary merits in it to conquer those dwellings to which your spirit aspires.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. People, rest on dry land, stop your step under the shade of this palm tree, and listen to my voice so that you may heal all your ills, regain your strength and be able to continue the walk. See that you have no need to tell me the sorrows of your heart, or where you come from, because I know everything. I know that your spirit comes from a great struggle and has tried to turn away from crooked paths; you come to seek support and strength in Me, so as not to faint. When you were about to weaken, when your energies were already running out, you rose up to Me to ask for help and I instantly responded, calling you to this oasis of peace, so that you would have a truce in your pain.

2. How many of my teachings have you understood and analyzed from the moment you first heard this word. In it you understood that the spirit is not perfected in a day, or in a year, or in a lifetime, because having an eternal nature, its journey has to be long to achieve its perfection. You have also learned to listen to the voice of conscience, which always speaks to you of law, of love, of goodness, of righteousness and purity, coming to distinguish it from that other voice that comes from the senses of the flesh or the passions of the heart, which does not always lead to the right path.

3. You already know that you have weapons to defend ourselves, you also know what is the shield that protects you, so you have begun to make use of prayer, good thoughts, willpower and faith.

4. You have learned to give your rightful place in life to the parts that make up your being, understanding that the essential is in the spirit and that after it, occupying a worthy place, feelings and the mind are located.

5. You know now that true spirituality in man does not consist in turning away from what belongs to material life, but in harmonizing with all creation, and that the spirit to achieve this harmony needs to walk ahead, to be above the human, in a word, to be the guide. Otherwise the spirit is the slave of the flesh.

6. You know that love, purity, and knowledge cannot be pretended on my way, because you instantly feel a gaze that penetrates and judges everything. You know that in order for your merits to be real, your virtues and your deeds have to be true.

7. If I speak to you like this, it is not because I come to demand the supreme perfection from you, but to ask you to make an effort to achieve it.

8. Now, when you suffer, when you go through a hard trial, or when you find yourself on the bed of pain, you know that that chalice purifies and renews you; that that trance makes you atone for faults, or that it is a wise lesson. for the spirit, and then you rush it with patience and conformity.

Love one another!

9. You have come to understand that I am building a temple in each of you, and you no longer dare to destroy what has been built, but you try to collaborate with Me in this work.

10. You have understood well that it is not before men before whom you must make merits in order to receive praise or reward from them, but before your Father, the only one who can value your works.

11. If you understand all these lessons of love that I give you, no matter how reluctant your matter and very strong your passions, a submission of the flesh to the spirit will have to be born, which will be a principle to achieve the harmony and order that must exist in man to be worthily called my son.

12. The future of many beings depends on your present, beloved people, do not doubt it. Then think about this, get rid of the last remnant of selfishness that you harbor and work for tomorrow the peace, unification, morality and spirituality, which are indispensable for the new generations to find the way prepared.

13. Do not doubt that you will be able to carry out this work in the world, because this is not the first time that I have entrusted my seed to you; proof of this is that I speak to you in this way and you understand me.

14. This is the continuation of my lessons, but not the consummation of the times, as interpreted by man. The world will continue to revolve in space; spirits will continue to come to earth to incarnate to fulfill their destiny; men will continue to populate this planet and only the way of life among humanity will change. The transformations that human life undergoes will be great, so much so that it will seem to you as if one world ended and another was born.

15. Just as in all times the life of man has been divided into eras or ages, and each of them has been signified by something, either by its discoveries, by the divine revelations that men have received within it, by the development of the sense of the beautiful, which you call art, or by its science; so I tell you, this time will be signified by the development of the gifts of the spirit, that part of your being for which you should have begun to cultivate, to avoid so many evils and mistakes.

16. Do you not think that human life could be totally transformed, developing your spirituality, cultivating your gifts and establishing on earth the law of conscience?

Love one another!

17. Ah, if you could realize all that your spirit possesses! But you do not know it, despite the millennia that you have been inhabiting the world and space, because in your egoism, which is love for yourselves, you have only cared about science at the service of material existence.

18. I will be the one who will discover before you the virtues, gifts, beauties, powers and wonders that are hidden in your spirit, since this is the propitious time, because you are reaping the last fruits of an era.

19. Soon all the peoples will recognize that I, their Lord, have spoken to them in each of the eras through which humanity has passed, each of my revelations being like a rung of the spiritual ladder that I have laid out so that all of you can ascend to Me.

20. This time will be called the time of light, the age of the Spirit, or the time of truth; but I tell you, it will be the time of the elevation of spirits and that of their vindication.

21. The spirit is the temple built by Me, a sanctuary continually desecrated by man. But the age of the light so often prophesied is coming, whose clarity will be seen by all, and under whose warmth all the children of the Lord will be united. I am not talking to you about a religion that welcomes some and rejects others, that proclaims its truth and denies truth to others, or that uses unworthy weapons to impose itself by force or fear. No, I am simply speaking to you of a law, explained by a doctrine, which is precisely the message that through this word I have revealed to you at this time. So when the time comes for you to rise up to give the good news, you will preach peace, love, charity, unification and fraternity with deeds; but if on your way you find someone who hypocritically went preaching the same as you, but falsifying the truth, with your deeds you will expose the lie. If, on the contrary, you meet your brothers and sisters who preach the truth, love and charity by example, then you will join them, because their struggle and yours will be the same.

22. I cannot but tell you that if you find yourselves impure and unprepared, you will feel unworthy to carry out this work. Then, when you see that others rise up to fight with true faith and purity, do not hinder them, because it would be double your responsibility before my justice.

23. I warn you of everything so that nothing surprises you, and so, when you arise for this struggle, you will truly know how to awaken the ideal of elevation.

24. This land, which has always sent a harvest of sick, tired, troubled, confused or under-advanced spirits to the afterlife, will soon be able to offer me fruits worthy of my love.

Love one another!

25. Illness and pain will be banished from your life, as you lead a healthy and elevated existence, and when death comes, you will find yourself ready for the journey to the spiritual mansion.

26. Who can get lost or confused when entering the abode of the spirit, if already from this life he had sensed it in the moments of praying, meditating, dreaming or being inspired by my law?

27. Now so much peace and so much good seems unattainable to you, and it is because you look at all the confusion that reigns around you; confusion that you know will increase in all orders of human life. But I tell you to trust in Me, to watch, pray and be the tireless sowers, so that this stormy night may let the light of the new dawn appear and the earth may feel how its new inhabitants come to sow it with noble works, restoring and rebuilding what the foolish and profane destroyed and defiled.

28. People, on this day I have revealed to you part of my divine plans for you, I have advanced to you something that belongs to the future and I have prepared you for the struggle that is approaching all of humanity.

29. Meditate well and you will feel strengthened, for truly I tell you, Blessed are those who are reading in this book that reveals my word to you. In him you have found many lessons that were ignored by you.

30. I wanted to make myself heard of those who have nothing on earth, and then use them. I have chosen you among the humble, as in all the times when I have sought my servants among the simple in heart. You already know that the owners of wealth in the world are always busy with them and do not remember Me. A time is entrusted to them to worship what they love so much; but the time will always come to listen to my voice, to take up their cross and follow me, but first they will purify themselves in the crucible of pain.

31. Beloved disciples, there are only seven years left, which will be seven days in which you will be able to listen to me. I want you to leave your hesitations in that time and affirm your steps, so that you can tell me when the year 1950 arrives: Lord, the unification between us has been made and we present to you proofs of our spirituality and of our fraternity.

32. This people knows that I am only waiting for their elevation to make them hear my voice in their conscience, when I tell them: People, arise and multiply like the dust of the earth; cross valleys, cities, deserts and seas and spread this teaching with love and humility. My omnipotent charity will open roads and erase borders. My love will protect you against all persecution or stalking, and I will put my Word on your lips when the occasion requires it.

33. Great, very great is this work that I am entrusting to you, because I want you to be strong and great in spirit. Truly I tell you, in the heart of your Father there can be no shelter for selfishness.

34. Seven years I entrust to the people who have received these blessed lands, so that from them they may gather fruits worthy of my Divinity.

35. People, have charity and patience with those who are taking their first steps. Advise them with the grace with which I have corrected you, love each other with the love with which I have loved you, and then there will be harmony between you.

36. Come on!, my presence is like the shadow of a tree, my word is like the song of a bird. Come to Me, hungry and thirsty for justice, sick, poor in spirit and misunderstood, come to Me!

37. I do not reject you because of your poverty nor do I despise you because of your condition. I know that deep down in each of you there is a spirit that needs my light to rise to life.

38. I bring health for the sick and hope for the troubled. No one will leave without comfort for their pain. But when you have achieved peace, you will feel clothed with this dignity that I have come to give you. Do not deny the world, nor its vicissitudes and sufferings, remember that they were the ones who brought you closer to Me; neither do you distance yourselves from your brothers, on the contrary, now that you have seen how I receive you and how I give you, get closer to them, doing in those in need what you have seen that I have done with you.

39. By one of you who truly practices my teaching, many will be those who will attain my grace.

40. Prayer, charity and goodwill, is all you need so that your knowledge in my teaching may shine like a bright light in the midst of darkness. Times of trial are coming and I want all my disciples to be prepared.

41. In the midst of peace or pleasures, humanity will not call you, but through pain, it will seek you. Get ready, because soon the pain will overflow over the world. Then you will be called by the sick, to bring them my balm; many of your brothers will ask for your prayers and will also seek your teaching to find the path that leads them to spiritual elevation.

42. Do you see how delicate and great is the mission that awaits you?.

Love one another!

43. You intimately confess that the revelation that I have made to you at this time is great; if you know how to behave as my disciples, you will contemplate greater lights in my work.

44. Form the people of peace and spirituality, remove from your heart the last remnants of fanaticism that you keep; achieve purification through regeneration, and then I will give in heaven a sign that will be contemplated in the world, which will tell you that the "day of the Lord" has arrived. That will be seen even by the blind and understood by the rudest understandings.

45. Use the strongest weapon that I have entrusted to you, which is prayer, and pray that you will not listen to those who try to extinguish the flame of your faith. Beware, people, do not allow anyone to obfuscate your heart, making you mistake the path; you already know my law, she is the way, never deviate from it and you will have nothing to fear.

46. If there are those on earth who seek to get lost and those who pray for you, because they believe you lost, think that in the spiritual there are those who watch over each of your steps. Your Heavenly Mother protects you under her mantle; Elijah cares for you with the love of a spiritual shepherd, and your brothers and sisters who in the hereafter live consecrated to the good, protect and advise you. This is how I speak to those who, in the midst of hesitations and doubts, are taking their first steps and often suffer blows and stumbles.

47. Faith will soon be ignited in your hearts, and when this is done, nothing and no one will be able to extinguish it; but first I have to give you my teachings, so that your heart will be strengthened at the same time that your spirit will move away more and more from the superfluous. So you will rise up. Then you will feel how the thirst for truth and love that you made present to me has calmed down, making you march full of strength and courage to the fulfillment of your mission.

48. I prepare you with infinite love because my lesson through these spokespersons is not going to be eternal; soon you will stop listening to this word and despite this you will have to be strong in the struggle that will come when my word is no longer transmitted in this form.

49. What would you do if you had not understood the Master's lesson? How could you defend your faith if you had not come to know the weapons that could help you defend yourself? Meditate on these words, because many will have to fall to their knees before idols again, because they have not been able to take advantage of my teachings.

50. People, do not be deaf to my voice, nor do you interpret. I have told you that you must make it known with the purity with which I have entrusted it to you; listen to my voice so that when you hear the voice of your enemies, you will know how to free yourselves from their snares and jealousies.

51. Until now you had looked at life and humanity superficially; but I have come to show you the meaning and essence of all the lessons that I have revealed to you in the three times, so that you may have full knowledge of who you are, and so that you may embrace your destiny like Christ to his cross and love your fellow beings in the Creator. All this is revealed to you and taught by my doctrine. Now I tell you, let the one who has been marked by Me, do not feel superior to the one who has not received that sign, because many of them will give you proof of spirituality and of possessing gifts as great as yours.

52. This is the time when the heavenly bell is heard in infinity that calls men to congregation, that invites them to meditate and pray. Its echo vibrates incessantly in the depths of every heart, because it is the Third Time, in which Elijah, as my envoy, is calling from one end of the world to the other to the spirits to attend the judgment. "you of those who at that hour seek me through the spirit and not through forms and images made by human hands, so that I can say that you are of those who have persevered in my law, since in it, the one I gave you at Sinai, I commanded you that to worship me you should not put before your eyes any image that represented my Divinity.

53. If since then I have inspired spiritual worship, it is right that you now offer it to me, O people, who at times lose hope of reaching complete regeneration and spirituality. See how I have prolonged your existence and how I have made you walk the path of restitution and evolution, so that in your step and in your constant walk you will leave every imperfection and every stain. Do you not see how the waters blackened by the mire become purified in their swift current? truly I tell you, it will be the same with your spirit.

54. I am the owner of the living and the created, so I tell you, that I am the only one who knows the arcanum, eternity and the destiny of all beings.

55. If humanity were not obstinate in its ignorance, its existence on earth would be different; but men rebel before my commands, they deny their destiny, and instead of collaborating with me in my work, they seek a way to circumvent my laws, to do their will. I also tell you, that if humanity were to observe carefully each of his acts, he would realize how at every step he is rebelling against me.

56. If I pour out my pleasures on men, they become selfish; if I grant them to taste joy, they become excessive; if I test their strength, in order to temper their spirit, they protest; and if I allow the cup of bitterness to reach their lips to purify them, they renounce life and feel they lose faith. If I put the burden of a large family on their shoulders, they despair and when I raise one of their loved ones from the earth, they accuse me of being unjust.

57. I never see you satisfied, I never hear you bless my name in your trials, nor do I contemplate that you try, throughout your life, to work in my creative work.

58. Do you not remember the examples that I came to give you in Jesus, when I consecrated that life to glorifying his Father?

59. Jesus possessed nothing on earth, and yet he never protested about his poverty, he had to leave his Mother and his homeland and knew how to renounce everything, for the love of the one who sent him; his work was arduous and his path painful to the end, but he never rebelled; he was persecuted and mocked, judged and finally died, but from his heart, from his lips and even from his eyes, only blessings, forgiveness and consolation flowed for those who loved him, as well as for those who offended him.

60. But not only in Me you can find examples worthy of imitation; remember the meekness of Abraham, when his Lord asked him for the life of his son, the patience of Job, who blessed me in each of his tribulations, and as well as those examples, many more that have come down to you throughout history.

61. Sometimes you are amazed when you come to see some sick person who patiently carries his cross, some blind or paralyzed person who blesses my will. At other times you fail to understand the conformity of a father who has just lost the son he loved very much, and that conformity, that patience and that compliance with God's plans, are not conceived by the materialized men of this time, so far from the truth. I am the one who is putting these beautiful examples of humility, obedience to my will and spiritual elevation in your path, so that you have models to imitate in your trials.

62. I tell you that when this humanity does everything that is my will, pain will not be known on earth, because my peace will be in their spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 118

1. "Let the children come to Me," I say to you again; not because you look at them small, do you think that they cannot receive me.
2. No matter how many debts and stains a spirit has, when it lives in childhood, the soul participates in the purity and innocence of it. It is at these moments that the spirit needs all kinds of help so as not to deviate from the path.
3. Reincarnation is the opportunity that God, in his loving justice, offers to the spirit, so that it recovers its purity and returns to the way. That is the way you can take advantage of the experience collected on your pilgrimage.
4. When you look at children, do it with respect, because you do not know what spirit is hidden in them; but what you can be sure of is that in each of these little beings there is a past that is a whole history, a whole life of evolution.
5. The spirit, when he lives the childhood of his childhood, needs the support of the elders, because his matter is fragile to sustain him; he requires tenderness, so that his heart does not harden, and he also needs examples and teachings that cultivate and strengthen him, until the time comes to be able to manifest.
6. Each spirit brings its message, and in order for it to be able to express it, everything must be favorable around it. When the spirit, after its long journey of struggles and trials to achieve its perfection, becomes free from stains, miseries and ignorance and is only the light in it, it becomes similar to the purity of children.
7. The child intuitively knows that he is powerless to fight for himself, and then he puts all his trust in his parents. He fears nothing when he is next to them; he only waits well and knows that he will lack nothing. Then he discovers that in them there is a source of knowledge, tenderness and life, so in their company he comes to experience happiness.
8. When will men feel this way when they are with Me? When will the human spirit reach that faith, that purity and that confidence that the child possesses in his innocence?
9. Truly I tell you, when that happens, you will hear my sweet word again, saying to you, "Let the little children come to Me, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."
10. It has long been said to you, "Honor your father and your mother"; and the best way to honor them is by leading a righteous and virtuous life.
11. Is it necessary that at this time I have to remind you of your duties on earth? Your heart tells me: No, Lord, tell us now about the spiritual life. However, I see that humanity has not risen up honoring its parents; and if it has not fulfilled the first commandments, how will it be able to fulfill my new maxims?

12. On the foundations of the law he raised the walls of the sanctuary, with the light of my doctrine that I brought to you in the Second Time; and now, with my new word I come to finish the formation of the spiritual temple.

13. I must tell you, that your foundations are still weak, because you do not live according to the law of the first times, because only on a true morality and an acrisolate virtue will you be able to build your inner temple.

14. My question is this: How could you honor your Heavenly Father without first honoring your parents on earth? How do you try to see humanity as your sister, if before you did not love your family, formed by your parents, brothers, husband or wife, and children?

15. That is why I wanted you to join the law of the First Time to the doctrine that I gave you through Jesus and to the revelations of this time, because in this way you will have all the knowledge and preparation to penetrate the spiritual path that leads to eternal light.

16. If in your life you do not practice virtue and yet you flaunt fulfillment, I tell you that you will go prevaricating and also falsifying the truth.

17. My disciple must be clean of heart on earth, to be clean later in spirit.

18. Honor with your life those who by my will gave you existence, and tomorrow your children will honor you. Not only do you glorify me with spiritual works; no, your human works also glorify my Spirit

19. This is the time when many people, when they see the great trials that are looming over humanity, exclaim - It is the hand of God that is touching humanity through pain - to which I tell you that this is an erroneous way of thinking about my justice.

20. When will you understand that pain exists because of your sins, and that it is man himself who condemns and punishes himself?

21. You should have understood that by allowing pain to reach your heart, I thereby give you the clearest proof that sin is the greatest obstacle for you to contemplate the light and enjoy the peace of the spirit.

22. Many people think they love me and serve me, but when pain surprises them, then they wonder confused: How is it that loving my Father, He allows me to drink this cup of bitterness? They have not realized that not only do they not love me, but they have also let their passions and ambitions for the earthly, be for them a cult that they put, without realizing it, before the cult that they must offer me.

23. If men paid tribute to truth, love, justice and goodness, which are attributes of my Spirit, do you think that pain, war, hunger, confusion and death could exist in the world? Verily I say to you, there would be none of this in your life and, instead, there would be peace, health of spirit and body, there would be strength and well-being.

24. Remember that in the law it was said to you: "You will have no other gods before Me"; however, there are many gods that human ambition has forged to worship them, pay tribute to them and even give their lives.

25. Understand that my law has not passed away and that without you realizing it, it speaks incessantly to you through conscience; but men are still pagans and idolaters. They love their body, flatter their vanities and indulge their weaknesses; they love the riches of the earth, to which they sacrifice their peace and their spiritual future. They worship the flesh, sometimes reaching degeneration and even death for going after pleasures.

26. Convince yourselves that you have loved the world more than your Father. When have you sacrificed yourselves for Me, loving Me and serving me in your fellow men? When do you sacrifice your sleep or risk your health to come to the relief of the sorrows that afflict your brothers? and when have you gone to the point of death for any of the noble ideals that my doctrine inspires? See how it is not Me that you love the most; see how the worship that you have for the material life is for you before the worship of the life of the spirit; and that is the reason why I have told you that you have other gods to worship and serve before the real one.

27. How will you be able to know on earth a life that contains justice, and how will you be able to feel the divine mantle of my peace on your spirit? What can you do to stop feeling pain, if it is the only thing that the false gods that you have created and loved from the past times to the present can do?

28. Love Me, before everything created, because loving Me you will know how to give all beings their just and true place.

29. The confusion that reigns in the world at this time is very great; but the spirit of humanity is prepared and my call will suffice, so that it turns its eyes to my law.

30. The moment is approaching when the light of my Spirit reaches the hearts, making them feel and understand, what they have not understood until now.

Love one another!

31. Beloved disciples, you present to me your spirit thirsty for truth and for this reason I invite you to draw near to this fountain, so that you may drink to your heart's content. Penetrate to the bottom of my word; see that I only materialize up to a certain limit, and it is then that it is your turn to analyze, meditating on everything you have heard. Pray, and in your prayer question me, then you will see how in each manifestation, you receive a flash of my light. Do not expect to receive the whole truth in a single instant. Know that there are spirits who have been walking in pursuit of the truth for a long time, searching and trying to penetrate all the mysteries and have not yet reached the desired goal.

32. Christ came to teach you the way, telling you to "Love one another"; but you have not imagined until now the scope of that sublime commandment. Truly I tell you, the whole life of men would be transformed if you lived in that maxim, because only love will be the one who can reveal the arcanum to you, since in it is the origin of your life; search eagerly for the truth, search for the meaning of life, love, strengthen yourselves in the good, and you will see how step by step everything that has been false, impure or imperfect will fall from your being. Be more sensitive every day to the light of divine grace, and then you will be able to ask your Lord everything you want to know, everything that is necessary for your spirit to reach the supreme truth.

33. Work harder on earth and give yourselves with faith to your duties; always seek the benefit for your spirit, so that your material life is not sterile.

34. Pray with the simple prayer that springs from the purest of your spirit, and with the help of your conscience examine your works. Then you will enjoy my presence.

35. In this communication of the spirit, you will receive floods of light to better understand life; you will not lack the inspiration that will lead you to be more and more good. In those moments the powers and gifts of the spirit will awaken and you will be in a position to carry out the various missions that I have entrusted to you.

36. Intuition, which is clairvoyance, foreboding and prophecy, becomes clear in the mind and makes the heart beat before the messages and voices it receives from the infinite.

37. When men have learned to communicate with my Spirit, they will no longer have anything to consult in books, nor what to ask. Today they still ask those who think they know more, or go after texts and books, eager to find the truth.

38. Blessed is the one who is eager to hear my word and does not want to miss a single one of my lessons, because he will be able to form in his spirit the book that will be his best inheritance at this time.

39. My word is resurrection and life for the spirit that capsizes and is lost in the stormy sea of passions. Therefore, the one who has received it into his heart and has tasted its essence, will live forever; and his greatest desire will be to reveal it to his brothers, so that all may be nourished and attain eternal life.

40. I bless those who announce my coming in the Third Time and fulfill their mission with truth, because their seed will blossom in a short time; but woe to those who will take my name or my teaching to surprise the unwary, claiming to be sent, or taking my place to be served, because they will be discovered and subject to judgment! On their way they will find that humanity has awakened and will ask for evidence to justify what they are preaching.

41. I am the Word that speaks to your spirit. I am the Teacher who once again finds himself surrounded by disciples, of whom, while some pray and make merits to feel clean and worthy to be with Me, others adulterate and distort my doctrine. I tell you, each one of them will answer me for the teaching that I have given to all of them. The present generation, due to its materialism, will not come to understand the meaning of this revelation, and it will be the new generations, who by communicating with them from Spirit to spirit will know the content of that book of wisdom with which I have inherited you in this Third Time.

42. Humanity is waiting for the signs of my message. I will allow this doctrine to be translated and taken to other countries so that it can be made known. How many men are waiting for her, not knowing that I am speaking and dictating countless lessons, with which the book containing my message will have to be formed!

43. My word has been poured out abundantly among you, like a stream of crystal clear water that cleanses and quickens everything in its path.

44. If you prepare yourselves, you will be strong and you will have the spiritual power that my chosen ones had in the past times. You will be respected by some and feared by others, because carrying the truth in your spirit, you will discover falsehood, lies and hypocrisy, wherever they are found.

45. Many men, knowing that you have my revelations, will come to you out of curiosity, others will be unaware of you and still others will want to destroy us; you will concretize in all cases to fulfill your mission of bearing witness. Then you will see the very ones who mocked you or those who tried to put you to death, moved by your words and throwing their weapons away from them, accompany you on your way.

46. the battle is approaching, after the chaos peace will come to this world. It is necessary that man rushes that chalice so that he may come to value and seek peace and the virtues of the spirit. He must undergo the rigors in order to be moved and purified, and so when the weight of his guilt is no longer unbearable, he will experience the burning desire that the peace, which he rejected from his heart for so long, will return to his spirit, for which he will offer his complete repentance.

47. I tell you that that peace will return, and that it will be kept and preserved for a long time in the heart of humanity.

48. This earth will be a fertile field where my seed will flourish and bear fruit, because already the human heart is hungry for love and thirsty for truth; it is also tired of vain words and doctrines empty of love. That is why he has come to feel that he needs to be taught by a true Teacher who will reveal the spiritual life to him and prepare him for a higher existence. My law, always present in the lives of men, is forgotten by them, and that is why humanity walks towards chaos, hence the human heart is empty and the spirit poor.

49. That is why I invite you all to return to the true path. My peace is beginning to come to you, and be sure that with it, the virtues will flourish again in the spirit of humanity. After the egoism in which men lived, charity will return to them and they will know how to go in search of the one who needs help, to provide him with the peace and comfort that for a long time they did not know how to give; then they will experience the joy that must be felt by the one who loves his fellow men as brothers. When will these good sowers of charity arise? I have told you that by a righteous man this world could be saved.

50. Think that if you all sought to be just and good, this valley of tears would soon be transformed into a world of high spirituality.

51. You, people, work without getting tired; teach, do works that convert; and since you have been raised, watch over those who, believing they are alive, have died to faith and hope. Those of you who are now strong and those of you who are healthy, watch over the sick. Pray for those who do not pray and strengthen those who are going through great trials. Support the weak and bring peace to the nations at war; to all those spirits who have left their bodies in the fields of destruction, help them to rise and to penetrate the spiritual life, aware of the state in which they are and the step they have taken. Pray for everyone, your mission is not reduced to doing it for those you love and know to be yours, but for all who inhabit this and other worlds. Do it, disciples, because your spiritual mission is universal, since I have not set limits for you to love each other, but I have always told you - "Love one another".

52. To help you in that mission, the light of my Spirit has descended to caress you, O little ones, who have fought hard to be able to offer those in need a corner of peace, where to hear my voice that is balm, light and peace.

Love one another!

53. The enclosure is poor and humble, because you have learned that this is not the temple; instead, you are trying to give clarity to your spirit where you already know that my true temple is.

54. These enclosures are like trees on the long roads of your life, they are like the palm trees of the desert. Places to give rest and shade to the walker.

55. Ah, if every county had one of these trees where they could hear my nightingales trilling! but your step has been slow and your work scarce, that is why there are many regions without a tree, and many walkers who do not find oasis, shade, shelter, or trills.

56. Since you have the consolation of my presence through this word, do merit so that your tree grows and its shadow increases, because the number of walkers will increase greatly, attracted by the testimony of those who have found the peace of their spirit here.

57. All of you work together and do the work that I have entrusted to you, but watch and pray that you will not fall into temptation, because then you yourselves will destroy your work.

58. You ask me in your heart, what are the temptations in which you could fall, to which I answer you, that those temptations would be vanity, fanaticism or materialism.

59. Now you are surprised that I speak to you in this way, because you judge it impossible to fall into acts so unworthy of a disciple of mine.

60. If you knew how many of you, who arrived full of meekness, who cried every time you committed the slightest fault and who swore love to me in every prayer, then exchanged humility for pride and charity for interest.

61. I know you better than yourselves, and it is necessary that I speak to you in this way, so that you may live alert.

62. I am entrusting you all with the mission of building a spiritual sanctuary, which is my true temple, an altar invisible to the human gaze but which will have the strength of what truly exists, its presence will be felt through what you pour into your brothers.

63. This is the temple that I am entrusting you to build, because I know that in its bosom you will find peace, life and the light of the spirit.

64. If you unite yourselves with true fraternity, fulfilling my teachings, persevering in humility, faith and charity and trying not to stand still, striving to achieve greater spirituality every day, do not doubt that you will soon see your mission fulfilled and your work accomplished.

Love one another!

65. Combat every outbreak of disunity, falsehood, mystification or materialism that arises in your bosom, because if you neglect, the bad weed will grow, taking root between the foundations of your sanctuary and will grow, covering the walls of your temple.

66. Do not expect that the result of your work will be similar to what happened to the people who built the Tower of Babel. Desire that at the end of the struggle everything will be joy and peace in your spirit, but do not go to cause confusion and pain to arise at the last moment.

67. Blessed is he who seeks to be at peace with his conscience.

68. Blessed is he who sows his way with peace.

69. To you who come to hear my sweet word, I welcome you.

70. Come to Me, whenever you find yourselves confused, afflicted by sorrows, or weak in faith, because I am the light that will restore you the tranquility of the spirit

71. When you are far from these enclosures, you will hear me in your conscience, pointing the way to you.

72. Now that humanity is going through an era of spiritual disorientation, the clarity of my word comes to enlighten you, because you are qualified to understand the higher life.

73. You are all witnesses that at this moment science dedicates its time and mental strength to discover in nature the answer to many human questions. And nature, responding to the call of men, has borne witness to its Creator, as an inexhaustible source of wisdom and love and also as justice. However, man does not awaken to the truth and continues to carry, as a sentence, the heavy burden of his materialism.

74. It is the fear of taking a step towards evolution, a step forward, accustomed to following the traditions bequeathed to him by his ancestors.

75. Man is afraid to think and believe for himself and prefers to submit to the criteria of others, thus depriving himself of his freedom to know me. For that reason he has lived in backwardness.

76. The time of light has come to humanity, with which man acquires his own will.

77. Why, if humanity has seen the development of science and the discovery of what it would not have believed before, does it resist the natural evolution of the spirit? Why does he persist in what makes him park and lethargic? Because he did not want to look out into eternal life.

78. Check how my revelations of this time come in accordance with your material evolution, so that you will never judge them wrongly.

Love one another!

79. Let man not be puffed up by his material work and his science, because he does not know that without my revelation, and without the influence or help of spiritual beings who inspire him from beyond, he would have been able to discover nothing.

80. Man, as part of creation, has a mission to fulfill as all the works of the Creator have; but he has been endowed with a superior intelligence and his own will, so that he can achieve, by his own effort, the spiritual development and perfection that is the purpose of his existence.

81. Through the spirit, man can conceive his Creator, understand his benefits, and admire his wisdom.

82. If you, instead of puffing yourselves up with your earthly wisdom, identified yourselves with all my work, you would see that there would be no mystery. Then you would recognize and love each other as brothers, as I teach you in each of my works. There would be in you kindness, love, charity and therefore, union.

83. How small you are when, believing that you are all powerful and great, you resist confessing that over your power and your science is the one who truly knows everything and can do everything!

84. Poor human creature when it concretizes itself to be matter and only matter, because it is subject only to the natural law that governs mortal and fleeting beings who are born, grow and die!

85. How long will you rise from the state of materialism in which you find yourself? Make an effort to contemplate beyond the heaven that you have forged, the place that eternity reserves for you.

86. Do not wait for someone to start the march towards Me; come, interrogate the arcanum and he will tell you what you should do; he will tell you the mission that you have to fulfill.

87. I come to invite you to come closer to Me; you do not have to abandon the duties, nor the healthy delights of human life.

88. Disciples, you have come to earth at a time when all human life is subject to the science of men; but despite so much materialism, the light that illuminates your interior will make you understand what you will have to do. In this way you will develop your gifts, because nothing should stagnate, everything should walk in harmony.

89. I do not give you my doctrine simply as a moral brake on your passions; no, I give it to you so that you may climb the greatest heights of the spirit.

Love one another!

- 90. The brake on your passions must be your conscience.
- 91. I have not been creating a new religion among you, nor does this doctrine come to ignore existing religions.
- 92. My word is a message of divine love for all, and a call to all spirits.
- 93. Whoever understands the divine purpose and fulfills my precepts, will feel guided towards the progress and improvement of his spirit.
- 94. Understand that, as long as the world does not penetrate the path of spirituality, peace will be very far from being a reality.
- 95. I, in Jesus, dictated the law of the highest and purest feelings. Come all of you to Me., become my dearly beloved disciples and I will teach you to live in peace.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 119

1. I have wanted humanity to know the history of the people of Israel, because I took that people as an instrument for my lessons and subjected them to great trials so that they would be like an open book for all generations.
2. Those twelve tribes represented the humanity of all times; but now the similarity is greater between that captive people in a strange land and the current world, slave of sin and materialism, which are the forces that represent the power of the new pharaoh.
3. If at that time the charity of Jehovah rescued his people, tracing a path through the desert and leading them to Canaan, now I come as a light of justice and love to rescue all the peoples of the earth from their captivity, to lead them to the "promised land"; now I will lead your spirit to my kingdom of light and peace, and I will also cause a new manna to descend on the spirits, which will be the sustenance of eternal life in their long journey.
4. I will make a new covenant with men, but this one will not be with symbols, my Spirit will be present in it.
5. In my people the ideal of good will awaken again and the desire to unite with all the peoples of the world, as those twelve tribes united, when they crossed the vast desert, animated by the same ideal.
6. The struggle will be great and obstacles, enemies and temptations will arise on the way, but from that day the soldiers full of courage and the apostles full of charity and faith will come out. Throughout the journey. but especially in the trances of trial, I will encourage the crowds and encourage their faith with my wonders; and when men have achieved peace and live in harmony, I will cause them from this earth to begin to taste the sweet fruits of the kingdom of light and peace, as a foretaste of the delights that the spirit will have later, when he comes to dwell in the spiritual mansion.
7. The fruits that the spirit gathers from here will be a compensation for the sacrifices, struggles and deprivations that your heart has suffered. Later, when this people, like an immense multitude, knock at the doors of my kingdom, I will go out rejoicing to open to tell them. Come, come to Me and leave the dust of the road and fatigue, here is the city of peace, decked out, waiting for its new inhabitants.
8. The people, fearful in the presence of their Father, will believe that the hour of their judgment has come; then I will tell them do not be afraid, go to my house, which is yours; the desert has already purified you and made you worthy to come to Me.

Love one another!

9. People, when you saw so much perversity among men, knowing of their hatreds and their wars and knowing the painful result of materialistic doctrines, you thought that in order for this humanity to regenerate and convert to my law, it will first have to endure great trials and that it will take a long time for it to come to love itself according to my teaching.

10. I tell you that although it is true that very great trials await this world, its days of pain will be shortened, because its bitterness will be so great that it will cause men to wake up, turn their eyes to Me and listen to the voice of their conscience that will ask them to fulfill my law.

11. My justice will be the one that cuts off everything bad that exists in this world. First, I will search everything: Religions, sciences and institutions, and then the sickle of divine justice will pass blinding the tares and leaving the wheat. Every good seed that I find in the hearts of men, I will leave to continue germinating in the spirit of humanity.

12. There are entire peoples and nations who have thrown my seed out of their hearts; others who have forgotten my maxims; others who neither watch nor pray. However, and despite the sterility in which they live, these peoples will soon become fertile lands, because my charity will descend into their hearts.

13. It is necessary that you prepare the tool, that you fill the barn with the spiritual seed that I have brought you and that, through the gifts that I have entrusted to you, you know the hour when you will have to leave your rest, to get up to sow. You will watch and pray, so that that blessed dawn does not surprise you asleep in ignorance, in materialism or in sin; because then you would not recognize the hour to go after the lands, and when you wanted to get up, you would no longer find the strength for the fight.

14. If you have faith in my word, prepare yourselves from now on through prayer, so that you may find the lands suitable for sowing them. If you do not finish this work, your children will take the seed of love that I have given you and will carry my commands to their end.

15. Blessed are the farmers to whom it is ordered to go to fertilize and cultivate the lands, because they will see the dew of my grace descend on their fields, which will be the constant blessing of the Father on the efforts of the son and a caress for all who rise to faith and life.

16. It has long been said to you that the moment would come when man would understand everything revealed from times past, and I tell you that that time has already begun, and that in it your spirit receives my light through inspiration.

Love one another!

17. Christ came into the world and opened the way for you, teaching you with his life, with his works and his words, the perfect way to fulfill the law. Since before He appeared in the world, He was announced by the prophets, in order that the people would wait for Him and recognize Him when they had Him before their eyes.

18. In Abraham and in his son Isaac I gave you an image of what the sacrifice of the Redeemer would be, when I put to the test the love that Abraham professed to me by asking him that he, by his own hand, sacrifice his son, his dearly beloved Isaac. In that act, if you know how to meditate, you will find a likeness of what later was the sacrifice of the Only Begotten for the salvation of the world.

19. Abraham was the representation of God, and Isaac the image of Jesus; at that moment the patriarch thought that if the Lord asked him for the life of his son, it was so that the blood of the innocent would wash away the faults of the people, and despite deeply loving the one who was flesh of his flesh, obedience to his God and charity and love for his people were stronger in him than the life of his beloved son. The obedient Abraham was about to unleash the deadly blow on his son; at the moment when, overcome with pain, he raised his arm to sacrifice him, my power stopped him, ordering him to sacrifice a lamb in place of his son, so that that symbol would remain, as a testimony of love and obedience.

20. Centuries later, humanity had to ask me for the sacrifice of Jesus, my beloved Son, and I had to give him to you, so that his example of meekness, sealed with his sacrifice and with his blood, would remain indelibly written in the conscience of humanity.

21. If in the case of Isaac, a lamb came to replace him to rescue his life, in the case of Jesus there was no one to replace him, because He knew that it was necessary that his blood be shed, so that the essence and light of that sacrifice would illuminate the spirit, the heart and understanding of men lacking spirituality. That is why Jesus is also called the Lamb of God. The law told you, "You shall not kill," and Christ in his doctrine of love taught you the sublime lesson of dying to save others.

22. Blessed is he who dies giving life to those who need it, for he will live forever.

23. See how the time has come for you to be able to extract the spiritual essence contained in my past revelations, those to which humanity interprets only in material form, without trying to delve into them to find their spiritual meaning.

24. I place you at the beginning of the path of analysis, so that later you can get to the bottom of my lessons. if all this were fully clarified, your spirit would not strive to penetrate to the bottom of my word.

Love one another!

25. I am going to remind you how in that Second Time, when that bloodthirsty crowd finally contemplated Jesus hanging on the cross and next to Him agonizing two other sentenced, heard that he said to the Father: "Forgive them, Lord, because they do not know what they are doing". All those present heard, but did not understand those words, and time had to pass, so that men understood that that blood spilled slowly on earth, was the symbol of divine love and supreme forgiveness, which like an infinite mantle descends to cover all men.

26. Many centuries have passed and the humanity of this time, which weeps at the memory of the sacrifice of Jesus, and which marvels at the cruelty of those who took him to the scaffold, is the same that sacrifices thousands of brothers day by day.

27. If Christ were to return to earth at this time, made man, he would no longer say as on Calvary: "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing", because now you have fully received the light of conscience and the spirit has evolved a lot. Who is unaware that I am the giver of life, that therefore, no one can take that of his brother? If man cannot give existence, he is also not authorized to take what he cannot give back.

28. Humanity. Do you think that you are complying with my law just because you claim to have religion and comply with external worship? In the law it was said to you, "You shall not kill," and you are profaning that commandment by pouring out in torrents, on the altar of your sin, the blood of your brothers.

29. Israelites and Christians wage war and kill each other; did I not give one law to one and the other?

30. The restitution will be bloody and painful, because the lives that men have reaped and the blood that they have shed, cry out for justice. Woe to those who have killed, and even more so to those who have advised or ordered to kill!

31. Step by step the peoples advance towards the valley where they will have to unite to be judged.

32. And they still dare to speak my name who wage war and have their hands stained with the blood of their brothers. Are these the flowers or the fruits of the doctrine that I have taught you? Did you not learn from Jesus how he forgave, blessed the one who offended him and died giving life to his executioners?

33. Men have doubted my word and disbelieved; therefore they have entrusted everything to His power. Then I have let them disabuse themselves and reap the fruit of their deeds, for only in this way will they open their eyes to understand the truth.

Love one another!

34. On this table of love there are delicacies that even the kings of the earth could not offer; they are the bread from heaven that the poor seek and the wine that the outcasts of the world come to drink. Eat and drink, but never be conceited about possessing these goods, because you will be hiding vanity under your rags, and I want you to be humble of spirit and heart. Take the example of those who, wearing a royal mantle on their shoulders, also know how to carry humility in their hearts. The bread and my wine are for everyone, because I see you all in need of the Spirit. In the beginning I gave you all with my grace, which is divine seed; since then you have gone on different paths according to your destiny, and in those paths each one has collected according to his sowing, some the fruits in abundance, others have only reaped pain and misery. While some have lived briefly on earth, because they have obtained the necessary light to rise, others, living for a long time in the valley of tears, have not even come to know who they are, or where they are going; I have charity from those spirits who walk aimlessly, stopping them to show them the way that leads to the "promised land

35. The light of my Spirit penetrates every heart, even when it remains closed; similar to this is the light of the king star, which apparently does not penetrate into your bedroom when it is closed, but, nevertheless, its invisible rays do reach its interior, giving life to the environment. You do not wait for my light to penetrate into your interior, having the doors of your spirit closed. How pleasant it will be to find your inner temple prepared, receiving the grace of my charity! Let me heal and comfort you, and then I will make you my husbandmen and disciples.

36. Many of you who are nothing in life now, since even in your family you are the last ones, you will soon see sitting at my table. Those of you who have been disowned and cast out of the bosom of your own, tomorrow you will be recognized by the very ones who had unknown you.

37. Do you want to sensitize or temper your heart? Take this path, which is that of humility, elevation and charity. take the balm to the sick, approach the beds of pain; console those who suffer and respect those who have taken up this cross before you; imitate those who are awake studying my work and those who, despite drinking a cup of bitterness, are imparting sweetness among their brothers.

38. I speak in this way to those who are going to begin to pronounce the first words of the spiritual language, to the children to whom I am teaching the principles of the law and the purpose of my work. In it you will learn that by praying from spirit to Spirit and loving your brothers, you will not only heal the sick, but you will raise the dead.

39. In this humble region, where I am manifesting myself, I have come to reveal to you that the Third Time began in 1866, and that this communication will end in the year 1950, when many of my children have already listened to me; truly I tell you that these mouths that have given you my teaching, have not spoken by their will, but under a divine inspiration.

40. Beloved farmers of this countryside, embrace with true love your mission, till my lands, opening furrows, in which you deposit the divine seed. Know the seed so that you may sow only from it, because in its fruit will be the elevation and the light of your spirit. Do you think it right to have to lament when you arrive at the spiritual abode, just because of your lack of zeal in the mission that led you to inhabit the earth?

41. Do not forget that at every step I tell you to sow the wheat in my fields, because those lands where the tares and the nettle would have grown, will be reaped by the sickle of divine justice.

42. I said the same thing to the disciples and to the multitudes in the Second Time. "Truly I tell you, every tree that was not planted by the hand of my Heavenly Father will be uprooted."

43. Pray, husbandmen, do it humbly before your Father and make sure that your sowing is pleasing to my gaze. Tirelessly cleanse your lands, seek the light to illuminate errors, until only the wheat fructifies in them.

44. A clean seed is the one you have received; but your littleness has not managed to understand that purity, and without realizing it, you have mixed it with other seeds that are not mine.

45. I have said to you, Know the seed, so that you may purify your sowings one by one, and when your children arise in the way of the Lord, only the truth will sprout from his lips. I see those who are struggling to get to the bottom of this doctrine, but who so far have not been able to get rid of the influence of strange doctrines, religions and dogmas.

46. People, help my spokesmen with your prayers, form and strengthen your prophets. Do not forget that when my communication is about to end, it will reveal to you many lessons that I have in store to close this testament with a flourish.

47. After the time of this communication, my light will help you to understand what you heard, with which you will be able to separate the essential and true, from the superfluous, that is, from what is materiality.

48. I will inspire this people, a witness of my word, to study my teachings deeply, so that they may know how to analyze what I have said and what is the essence of my doctrine.

49. When you have passed the stage of preparation and are ready to teach, I will open the way for you, and then you will no longer be intimidated by the pitfalls and thorns or the treacherous snares and threats that you encounter, because everything will already be prepared for your sowing.

Love one another!

50. I will have arranged everything and my light will pour out on you as the dew descends on the valleys in the silence of the nights. Love is what you will have to sow; how do you want peoples to make peace pacts, if love does not exist in their hearts?

51. I told you that peace would be in men of good will, and in no people on earth do I find that good will.

52. That is why it is necessary that a people without ambitions arise from the riches of the world, so that they may be the ones who teach charity, prayer, virtue and faith. I will call that people mine; and men will know them as the people of God. From the morals of his men, from their good customs, and from the virtuous life they lead, the peace that fills humanity with well-being will spring up, without forgetting that perfect peace, that which is the only one capable of flooding the spirit with happiness, only descends to the one who goes in search of it through true love.

53. When will you reach the peace of the spirit, if you have not even managed to obtain the peace of the heart? I tell you, until the last murder weapon has been destroyed, there will be no peace among men. Murderous weapons are all those with which men take their lives, kill morals, deprive themselves of freedom, take away their health, take away tranquility or destroy faith.

54. The limit for so many evils to cease is already near; that is why my voice, resonating in the depths of the spirits, has called on men of all peoples, to lay down the weapons of destruction and death, and in the fire of my justice be consumed.

55. Then I will speak spiritually, and my voice will be heard in the consciousness of all my children.

56. If proud and foolish humanity meditated and prayed, it would realize where it is heading and would stop its steps; but it cannot become full light in its spirit, because it is blinded by hatreds and ambitions.

57. Pray, all those who wish to be part of the people of peace; come closer to the light, all those who wish to extend a fraternal hand to their brothers, to save them.

58. The seed of evil, scattered throughout the earth, is bearing fruit as never before; but I have to tell you that the good seed is also sprouting in different parts of the planet.

59. Prepare yourselves spiritually, all of you who feel that this divine seed is beginning to germinate in your heart, so that when you meet other sowers on your paths, you can recognize them and unite yourselves in my law.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. It has long been announced to you by the mouth of a prophet that a time would come when the Divine Spirit would be poured out on all flesh and on every spirit. Truly I tell you, that is the time in which you are living; but you were unprepared, because you attached very little importance to those prophetic voices and did not study or analyze that prophecy.
2. Today you are in search of everything that is supernatural for you, in order to verify that spiritual life exists. Some observe and study the stars, others wait for mysterious voices or signs; others want to find the explanation in science; but there are very few who have concentrated in the depths of their spirit to hear the voice of their Lord there, to feel and love him.
3. When in the Second Time I appeared for the last time before my disciples, they saw how a cloud enveloped the silhouette of the Master, lifting him up and carrying him towards infinity. There they received the promise and he announced that the Lord would return to men, in the same spiritual way in which those men saw him leave.
4. Only they could understand that divine sight, because they were the only ones who were prepared, while the world was sleeping. Now I am saying that you have seen the word of that prophet of the first times and the promise that I made to you fulfilled; but my coming in a spiritual way has only been felt by those who have prepared or those who were waiting for me watching.
5. With the same solemn silence with which I ascended in the cloud at that Second Time, I now descend on all spirits; but not all have seen, felt, or heard me, because now as then, very few are those who were prepared for it. Sweet is my voice, however my presence will once again move humanity in all its orders.
6. Rulers, Pharisees and scribes mocked Jesus when they heard Him say that He was a King and that He had come to reign. When they saw him expiring on a cross, their ridicule and doubts increased, but they did not imagine that they would soon perish along with their reigns and vassals, and that He, whom they had judged and died as an impostor, would conquer multitudes and peoples with the truth of his doctrine, full of justice, love and humility.
7. Here you have me, visible and tangible for anyone who prepares and wants to look at me, making light in all spirits, so that no one seeks me in any other way than the spiritual one, or tries to find me on the outside, when he carries me in his heart.

Love one another!

8. Elias has come to prepare my arrival. He has once again prepared the paths, illuminating the understandings and untied the lips of those for whom I have come to give you my word. When I finish speaking to you using the human understanding, Elijah will continue to make light on the path of humanity.

9. Great is the message of the messenger in this age; know that from the Second Time I said to you, "Elijah will come to restore all things to their former meaning."

10. Who are the ones who truly feel His spiritual presence? I could well say to you as I said at that time, "Elijah has been with you and you have not felt him."

11. You call him a forerunner, and indeed he has been from the earliest times. He gave you a glimpse of divine communication through man, he raised the dead before Jesus came into the world, he brought you the first messages about the reincarnation of the spirit, he has been preparing the ways of the Lord since then; until the present era, in which you who enjoy this communication, marvel at the order and perfection with which each of the spiritual revelations have been realized.

12. Elijah is like a shepherd; follow him, because he will lead you along the true path, until you reach the pasture where He who is the Father of all creation awaits you.

13. In the silence of your meditation, prepare yourselves spiritually, because he will come closer to reveal to you everything that your mind has not been able to understand.

14. The struggle is approaching and Elijah is coming to strengthen us; do not be afraid, do not distrust your spiritual guide, because if at that time he sent down with his prayer a ray, to prove to the worshipers of false gods, the existence of the true God, in this he will do before the materialized world, wonders that shake him and make him open his eyes to the truth.

15. Are you afraid to talk to your brothers about the reincarnation of the spirit?. Are you not convinced of the loving justice that it contains?

16. Compare this form of restitution with that of eternal punishment in the perennial fire of hell, a form that men use to frighten the spirit of humanity. Tell me which of these two forms gives you the idea of a divine justice, perfect and merciful. One reveals cruelty, unlimited rancor, revenge; the other contains only forgiveness, charity, hope of attaining eternal life. How great is the deformation that my teachings have suffered because of misinterpretations.

17. I prepare you for the fight because I know that you will be fought for what you are going to teach, but if your brothers who are currently fighting you, death surprised them, and I asked them when they died in sin, what they prefer, if the eternal fire in which they believe or the opportunity to purify themselves in a new life, I truly say that they will express their preference for the second solution even if they had fought in their life blinded by fanaticism.

18. Disciples, be faithful and persevering in my doctrine, because at last the light will overcome the darkness; the light is true faith, it is reason, knowledge, wisdom.

19. Elijah will go before you as a divine torch illuminating your path.

20. At this time I come to clothe you with virtue, so that you can fulfill the delicate mission that I have entrusted to you in the Third Time, a mission that will be for the good of humanity and that will serve to raise your spirit on the path of evolution. I am turning those who were pariahs or simply egoists yesterday into counselors and doctors. You need to have faith in your gifts so that you can do amazing works. If you have faith, you will have to marvel at the works that you do, to the point of saying to me, Why do you grant me so much, being so unworthy? Understand that after the crucible of pain through which you have passed, my divine teaching has been preparing you so that you can evolve.

21. Give with absolute selflessness, of what I have given you and you will open many eyes to the truth and you will move many of your brothers with your actions. Teach that whoever serves humanity, serves Me. There are temptations on the path, but to fight them I have given you the necessary weapons.

22. Disciples, how many of you in your humility have been like shining beacons in the lives of your brothers; as long as you practice my doctrine, you will be invincible in trials, but if you do not unite or if you practice this teaching under your idea and will, then you will be defeated in the struggle, not in my work, because it is the truth and it is indestructible. Prepare yourselves, for after my departure I will leave you the prepared lands, the counties, the villages, even the nations; and you will continue to sow this seed, teaching those who did not listen to me, giving them the essence of my word and making known my prophecies about what was to happen after 1950.

23. Yes people, I will leave these prophecies imprinted in the hearts, because by that time you will no longer hear this word through the human channel. Of these spokespersons that you contemplate today, some will be lifted up from the earth and those that remain will have to close their understanding for this manifestation and for that of my spiritual world. That will be the time of lurking and dangers in which false prophets will arise, false spokesmen and false gods will speak. By then you have to be strong so that you do not let yourselves be surprised by impostors. Take strength at my word, so that you will not succumb out of weakness.

24. Be submissive, practice obedience, be willing to execute what I command you and you will see that pain departs from your path and you will never be surprised. It is not My will that you perish, nor that the disasters of which I warn you should happen to you. Watch and pray, that just as in the world men can lay ties for you, to make you fall, you know well that in the hereafter there are impure and troubled beings who can send their darkness to you.

25. Look, O guides of multitudes, that this people who listen to my orders, is understanding the charges that I make you and the responsibility of my spokesmen, and if tomorrow you do not comply with what has been ordered, this same people will rise up ignoring you and making you recognize your mistakes.

26. It is my will that this people and the multitudes who will come tomorrow, will find you occupying with all zeal and dignity the place that corresponds to each one, so that by your work men recognize that you have been the good farmers of this countryside. Do you understand me, people? Do you intend to carry out my orders during these last years of my manifestation among you?

27. Analyze my mandate on your unification so that you will find the true meaning of it. Many times you have wanted to prove to me your union and I have proved to you the falsehood that has existed in it. I have wanted you to help each other, to respect each other, since the position that each one holds has been given by Me; that you have true charity, because then I will find in your works the foundations for a uniform practice and worship. Interpret my desires and obey my commands. for if you do not do so, you do not know the chaos that awaits you. I am not coming to instill in you useless fears, I am coming to awaken you now that it is time to meditate, to correct your mistakes. You will not say tomorrow, when you stumble: - Lord, why, if you see everything, did you never prophesy these misfortunes to us?

28. Disciples, I have given you this lesson on this day, because I do not want you to weep after my departure, although I know that many will weep.

29. If in the earliest times everything spiritual was a mystery to men, and because of this they had to do sciences and theologies, in order to study and come to understand the divine, truly I tell you that Christ, when he went among men, spoke to you with the utmost simplicity, so that everyone could understand the doctrine of love. He knew that it would not be well understood, but that it was necessary to wait for the time to come when the spiritual evolution of humanity would reach. he was allowed to know the whole truth. That is why He promised the world to return spiritually and send him a light, which would allow him to understand everything that was confused in the heart of humanity.

Love one another!

30. Lift up your spirit, because the announced time is the one you are living. That Master who promised to return to you is the one who speaks to you, and the light he promised to send you is this one that is spiritually vibrating over all beings.

31. The light of truth is so clear that you do not need to be theologians in order to understand what has been revealed to you throughout the ages. If in the beginning of the way everything was a mystery to you, step by step and lesson by lesson, I have been unraveling veils, dispelling darkness and destroying falsehoods.

32. The Father cannot be a mystery to any of his children, because in everything created he allows himself to be felt, touched and looked at, from the smallest to the infinite; the mysteries are created by men without wanting to realize that with this they stop the spirit in its evolution towards the Creator.

33. I do not say to you, "Come to the Father, that you may know Him," but, "Know the Father, that you may know Him." Whoever does not know Him will not be able to love Him, and whoever does not love Him will not know how to go to Him.

34. I came into the world to tell you, "I am the way," and I added, "He who knows the Son knows the Father."

35. What was the way of Christ? That of love, that of charity, that of meekness, that of purity. How was the Son, that by Him you might know the Father? Wise, just, loving, merciful, full of power and charity.

36. That is why the Master came into the world, to show himself to the true God, not the one who the peoples had forged in his heart. In the same way in this age, the light of the Divine Spirit descends fully on all spirits, so that you can rejoice with your spirituality as you contemplate the infinite charity of your Father.

37. Blessed is he who follows me on the path of love and humility.

38. Blessed is he who loves and trusts, who knows his mission and fulfills it.

39. When I tell you about the way, I do not point out any on earth, because it is not in the world that you inhabit that my kingdom is. It is the always ascending spiritual path. It is the evolution and progress that your spirit must reach. Therefore, wherever you are on earth, you can be within the path of the spirit.

40. My children, if you have gone off the path, turn to it, if you have stopped, go forward.

41. The mission you carry out I have given to you according to your capacity and strength; you only need to understand and love it. Pray every day so that you may receive the light necessary for your work; then, remain prepared, attentive, so that you may hear the voices of those who call you, of those who ask you, and also so that you may be able to face the trials. Every day of your existence is a page of the book that each of you is writing. Each day is marked with a test and each test has a meaning and a reason.

Love one another!

42. I want to make of you a healthy people of spirit and matter, because you are the chosen one, the witness of my manifestations in all times, and you have come at this stage to fulfill a delicate mission and to prepare the way of the new generations.

43. I have sown your path with proofs of love so that you will not doubt Me or yourselves. Those of you who have listened to me at this time, do not go to the grave taking away the secret of this communication that I have had with you, because this is your main mission. Speak in my name to humanity, testify to my revelations with your works.

44. Do not tell me that you lack preparation to do so, because I have spoken to you a lot, and when you heard me you purified and dignified yourselves. You can all take this message to the world. The men are waiting for him and are ready to receive him. Have you not discovered the longing for spirituality and peace that humanity has? Are you not moved by their ignorance and their pain?

45. My Spirit pours out on them, speaks to them through their consciousness and says to them: Come to Me and rest. Take the faith that you need, stop being the blind on the way.

46. People, do you know the work that I am developing in the world? No, you tell me, all we see is agitation, humanity plunging into terrible abysses and enduring a great trial. And I tell you. that I have allowed man to do justice to himself by his own hand so that he will recognize all his mistakes, so that he will return to Me purified. I have sent my light on every creature and have accompanied it in its days of tribulation,

47. My Spirit has been poured out on every spirit and my angels are scattered throughout the universe, fulfilling my commands to order everything and return it to its channel. And when everyone has fulfilled their mission, ignorance will have disappeared, evil will no longer exist and only good will reign on this planet.

48. Ah, if only you had understood me! If only you could realize how great is my desire to perfect you!, how much you would have climbed already and how close to Me you would find yourselves! If your will were mine, you would have already reached the top where I am waiting for you!

49. And what is my longing, people? Your unification and your peace.

50. To help you, you have me among you once again, speaking to you, touching your heart, waiting for your awakening.

Love one another!

51. Every good tree will be protected and its roots and branches will spread out to give shelter and sustenance to the wayfarer, but the bad weed will be cut off by the roots and thrown into the inextinguishable fire.

52. I am speaking to you in a figurative sense, and in telling you about that tree, I am speaking to you about the works of men.

53. To whom I have entrusted great offices, I say to them, Prepare your harvest. Fathers of families, teachers and rulers, lords and servants, great and small, I do not want you to present to me your uncultivated lands, even if it is a small grain, make it present to me clean and pure.

54. Come to Me, knock and it will be opened to you. But come joyful, satisfied with your work, so that you may feel great, like Me.

55. My word is heavenly water that quenches the thirst of the spirit. Whoever I will take from her will never thirst again. I am the inexhaustible spring that descends like a waterfall and that bathes your spirit and heart.

56. You, who have purified yourselves with pain, prayer and penance, have made yourselves worthy of the grace of listening to my word. Continue to be meek and humble, so that you will never lose this light. Your life had been arid like a desert, without a shadow, without an oasis; but I made that in the middle of the desert you would find a palm tree and a spring where you could recover breaths and hopes. Now that you have regained your strength, that you have peace in your heart, do not go into the city of sin to lose yourself in its pleasures and vanities.

57. This is and will be called "the Time of the Spirit", because in it I was to come on the cloud, to shed the light that reveals and dispels the mysteries, the time when I was to open the book of teaching on the page corresponding to the era in which you live. With my divine charity I am illuminating the brain of man, which because of its insensitivity to the spiritual, is like a rock; but from that rock I will make water flow and I will even make flowers sprout.

58. Turn your eyes back, look into the past and you will find that I have always sown love on your path. When you have thought me absent and your loneliness has been prolonged, I make myself felt in your heart, I become a staff so that you do not faint. In small portions you gather to listen to my word, but tomorrow you will multiply like the sands of the sea and those multitudes, spiritually they will be those who formed the twelve tribes of Israel. It is written that I had to gather them together to judge them. From these multitudes I will choose those who will be my new apostles at this time; but I will prepare their hearts for all of them, so that they may feel love and charity for their fellow men, so that, obeying the dictates of their conscience and the feelings of their heart, they may carry out among humanity works worthy of the one who has destined them to carry my new message, with the good taste that destroys the bitterness of the world.

59. If you come to regard your mission as a cross, truly I tell you, it is; but I will be your Cyrenian. Whatever you do for the good of your brothers, I will return it to you, converted into a light for your spirit. Remember Christ when He ascended into heaven, after his labor of love and redemption was completed, full of glory and majesty.

60. Pray, people, prophets appear in the nations speaking of my manifestation and of my presence among you; you must recognize them, because they are my messengers; but learn to distinguish them from false prophets who will also arise, giving words of apparent light, which at their bottom will have only darkness. Those who are sent evil, they will prepare the hearts, they will awaken the peoples, they will be my precursors, so that when you arrive in those regions, you will find the lands fertile.

61. Everything that is happening at this time, my prophets had already announced to you from ancient times, but who today recognizes the fulfillment of what was announced to you? Many sleep, very few have been awake; and in the midst of the darkness of this sinful night of the world, I have come among those who apparently slept, but who were waiting for me.

62. The book of the Third Time is being written by my golden pens under the dictation of my loving voice. The Guardian angels, who zealously watch over the teachings of the Father, guide the hand of those who write, so that in the book they settle what will remain for future generations: a book of love, a book of perfect wisdom, a book where the humble and the wise, the small and the great, the vain and the simple can read. My word will be the sword that fights speaking of my coming at this time, of the form of my communication; it will illuminate the rough understandings and pierce the hearts of rock, destroying their doubts. My doctrine will continue to spread from heart to heart and from people to people, making itself understood, believed and loved even by the rude, the ignorant, sinners, Gentiles and idolaters, who will recognize my manifestation of love.

63. Rejoice, be filled with joy to think that you have felt my presence at this time, because you have already reached the point where your spirit divests itself of the superfluous, to take with steps of perfection the path that leads to evolution. Watch and pray for those who, having been called, have not wanted to listen to me, have charity for them.

64. I tell you in the Third Time: It is necessary to possess merits in order to deserve the gifts of the Lord. I have given to many of you, without you being able to tell me what your merits are; but I who see everything, I know what merits you have done in times past to deserve what I have entrusted to you today, but no one boasts of this revelation, which for some reason has not been given to the spirit, to reveal to the flesh its past.

65. Beloved children, keep gathering together; but if the day of my lecture comes and the speaker does not appear, do not be afraid; pray, prepare yourselves, raise your spirit to Me and at that moment I will pour out my light, my strength, my grace and my charity on you. If you seek me with the spirit, I will speak to you from Spirit to spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. My promise to return among you is fulfilled; like a thief I have tiptoed into your bedroom, and I have awakened you from your sleep. He who, when he opened his eyes and looked at me, asked me to help you get up, he felt my strength in his spirit and in his matter, and quickly got up. I come to show you again the narrow way of my law, the way through which all of you must pass.
2. Blessed are those who have prepared to receive my Spirit, because from their inner sanctuary will flow the prayers for the peace of the peoples of the earth. Later, they will teach their brothers to pray in that way, so that through that communication they will come to hear my voice, which will manifest itself through inspiration when speaking, intuition when advising, and through the gift of healing, when anointing. Now my light is communicated through the spokespersons, tomorrow I will communicate directly with the spirit of everyone who prepares.
3. Many say to me, "Lord, when will you give me gifts like my brothers?"- and I tell you: you are all gifted, you all carry your inheritance, although you do not yet know it; you will see those gifts emerge as you penetrate my path; when you are already my servants, then I will indicate to each one their positions and their mission.
4. At this time you have been able to prepare a humble abode to receive me and I have made you enjoy my presence. My word has come full of sweetness and light, to lift you up to life, so that you may take your rightful place in it.
5. Do not be afraid of those who reject or deny my coming; you act with tact and be patient with them; it will be my righteousness that touches them. Truly I tell you, those who have denied and persecuted me the most will later be the ones who follow me the most closely. Remember Saul, the persecutor of my doctrine, who later became my disciple. These converts will join you tomorrow, but if you really want to be believed, do not be angry when they tell you that you are before a false god or a false teacher, nor be afraid to say that Christ has been with you. I am preparing you for everything to come; be strong and I will send you to different lands, where I will fulfill my word, when I tell you that for one of you a region will achieve peace and salvation, because his heart will be like that of a shepherd who loves and cares for his sheep, adding that the love he has for his brothers and the sacrifices he makes for them will not be sterile.
6. Let no one forget these words, because the one who is now unknown among the crowd, tomorrow will be holding a delicate position among humanity.

Love one another!

7. I send my peace on your nation, receive it in your spirit and make it reach other nations. I bless them all. Pray that peace may be in the hearts of all men.

8. I am waiting for the awakening of humanity, so that it remembers that I exist, that before my gaze it has done all its works and that the hour when my justice will put an end to evil, is approaching. Listen to my teachings and restrain yourselves from evil deeds; cleanse your body and your spirit, because if as a Father I am infinitely loving, as a judge I am inexorable.

9. The peoples of the earth have never been in need of spiritual light. Truly I tell you, not only have this people had prophets and messengers, but I have sent messengers to all of them to awaken them. By the light and the truth of his doctrines, as well as by the likeness to what I have revealed to you, you will be able to judge of his words. Some came before the coming of the Messiah, others have been after my presence as a man, but all have carried a spiritual message to men.

10. These doctrines, like mine, have suffered desecration because when their essence has not been altered, they have been mutilated or hidden from men hungry for truth.

11. There is only one truth and one morality, it is that which has been revealed to men, through messengers, prophets and servants; why do peoples have different concepts about truth, morality and life?

12. That truth, falsified through the ages by humanity, will be re-established and its light will shine with such force that it will seem to men as if it were something new, being the same light that has always illuminated the path of evolution to the children of my Divinity.

13. Many are those who have died for telling the truth, many also those who have been subjected to torments for not wanting to silence the voice that spoke in them.

14. Do not think that heaven has sent only those who have spoken to you of spirit, of love, of morals; no, it has also sent those who have offered you good fruits of science, those knowledge that make light in the lives of men, that lighten their burdens and alleviate their sorrows. They have all been sent from me.

15. There are also others who, without bringing doctrines of spiritual morality, or scientific revelations, bring the message that teaches us to feel and admire the beauties of creation; they are my messengers who have the mission of bringing delight and balm to the hearts of those who mourn.

16. All of them have drunk the bitterness of realizing the incomprehension of a world blind to the truth, of a humanity insensitive to the beautiful and the good. However, if I have told you that in this age everything will be restored, if I have announced to you that everything will return to its course and that all my teachings will have their original essence restored, you can believe that a time of spiritual splendor is coming in this world, although you should not forget that before that happens, everything will be judged and purified.

17. Every walker who does not have peace in his heart, stop for a few moments under the shade of this tree and he will feel comforted.

18. On the spirit of humanity also floats the memory of the spirit of Elias, as shepherd of incarnate and disembodied, tirelessly seeking in every way his beloved sheep, to remind them of their mission and to choose those who will serve me in this time.

19. All of you have been led to Me by Elijah, but when you came to my presence and felt the outpouring of the Master, you have seen compensated for all the sacrifices and trials that you went through to get to hear my word.

20. Truly I tell you, this people of today resembles that of the First Time.

21. Israel had been a captive for a long time in Egypt, from where he was freed by Moses. obstacles, enemies and adversities stood in the way of the people, to prevent their salvation; but their faith and perseverance overcame, reaching the foothills of Sinai, where they listened to my voice and received the law. There the idols fell and the darkness of his heart vanished, light was made in his spirit, to from that moment, believe, love and serve only the true God of justice and love.

22. The life of that people was soon going to change; the law that he had just received promised him peace and prosperity while Moses, with his index pointed out to him on the horizon the "promised land", as a refuge of peace and earthly happiness.

23. The journey through the desert lasted forty years, that lesson of the Father to his people lasted forty years, to make love spring from his heart, as water had sprung from the rock, to teach him to overcome temptations, to uproot impure cults from his heart and teach him to take the first step on the path of elevation to purify him before he took possession of the "promised land" and that his new generations constituted a new people by their customs and by their worship of the Creator.

24. The life of the desert, the wonders that I granted to my people and the struggle, forged his spirit, and before the regained freedom he forgot his captivity and the spirit of Israel rose again.

Love one another!

25. It was the prophets who announced to the people the coming of the Messiah, they were the ones who kept the flame of hope lit in their hearts, when they felt they were succumbing under the yoke of other peoples.

26. Many waited with joy for the arrival of the Rabbi of Galilee, whom they did not know how to recognize in the child who was born from the virginal womb of a humble Nazarene woman in a grotto in Bethlehem. But while some felt that their Savior and Redeemer had been born, others denied it from the first instant.

27. Thirty-three years I lived among men all that life was of examples and teachings for humanity because I came to learn nothing from this world. And when it was only three years before my departure, I began my preaching among the people. My word was heard on the roads, in the houses and on the porch of the temple palaces; it was heard on the mountain, in the desert, in the valleys and in the sea.

28. Mixed among the mobs were those who hated me, those who felt judged at every step by my doctrine, those who saw the positions they unduly occupied threatened. They were the ones who prepared the judgment, the sentence and the death on the cross for the one who had brought them eternal life.

29. There was bitterness and sadness in the Master's heart, knowing the long way that those who did not know the truth would have to travel and in whom he had worked miracles that neither before nor after had any man been able to perform by himself.

30. When I announced to my disciples that I was going to leave soon, an infinite sadness seized them; then, to revive them, I said to them, "Behold, I will return and the signs of my arrival will be these: When the war sends rumors to you and the wickedness of men is touching its limit, my arrival will be near; but before Me, Elijah will arrive to prepare the way." After those words, an era passed so that they would have fulfillment. On the first of September, 1866, the spirit of Elijah manifested himself through a righteous man, destined and sent by Me, to announce my presence and be the precursor of my spiritual communication among men.

31. That man received the divine mandate to found seven enclosures that were simply the representation of the "seven seals" and at the same time, the order to prepare the understandings of the elect to be the spokesmen of the Divine Master.

32. Since then, all those who have come to listen to me in this way have had the feeling of being servants, marked or marked, as children of that people who from the beginning have communicated with their Lord, and have received from Him manifestations, wonders, his teachings and his law.

33. Engrave this lesson in your heart and analyze it with love.

Love one another!

34. Put aside all selfish thoughts, and think about your mission. This era is transcendent and decisive for humanity. Only my doctrine, which is above human weaknesses, can reveal to you that this is the time when the truth will destroy all lies and darkness.

35. This humanity that today sleeps forgotten of its Lord and even of its own spirit, will wake up shaken by the voice of my call. I have first manifested myself to the people of Israel, not to the Israelite people by blood, but to this one, who is by the spirit, and whom I inherited in the light of the Third Testament.

36. I come to seek you, people, because among you are those who have been faithful to me; I cannot tell you yet that you have already fulfilled your mission, because you still have a great stretch of your way to go. I have found you attached to earthly goods, materialized in your egoistic life; but despite this, I do not come to claim you, only to make an appeal to you to listen to me, fill yourselves with your wisdom and be able to become the masters of spirituality, for which you were sent.

37. Open your eyes and let your spirit awaken, so that you can realize that you are indeed living within a new time, and you will see the fulfillment of my prophecies. Then you will be able to say, convinced, that I have arrived among you at the announced time. Only by knowing the essence of my word will you be able to give the correct interpretation to the events that arise day after day in your world; but this humanity, which struggles in its blindness and does not see the divine light that shines before its spirit, does not realize the time in which it lives, because if it knew, the murderous hands would have stopped in their work, there would be vigil, there would be prayer and fear, there would be forgiveness among men and there would be repentance; but none of that exists; every day new bonds of love are broken between the peoples of the earth. Spirituality and morality have been rejected, there is only a dull struggle of hatreds, selfishness and ambitions that reveal the lack of elevation of men. In the midst of that struggle, death reaps a daily harvest of lives, his relentless and righteous sickle, blow after blow, plucks the weeds. But that humanity that sins, that rapes and profanes, struggles intensely to survive, albeit selfishly and without looking at whether the means it uses are just and humane or if they are the opposite. Now I ask you, what are you doing in this time of justice?

38. It is true that the hour has not yet sounded for you to rise up to give the warning voice, but you should know that these moments are precisely those that you should take advantage of for your preparation, because this word is what is forging you for the spiritual struggle that is approaching; that he has called you and united you to be a people of peace that knows how to open the doors of his heart to receive the stranger or the foreigner, and that he has given you the mission of emissaries of this message, so that you may carry it on all the roads of the earth.

Love one another!

39. I tell you that true peace can only descend from my Spirit to the human spirit, and that this is the one that I have brought to you in this revelation, so that you may bring it to peoples and nations. Do you expect the world to forge its own peace? With what seed could he create it, if in him there are no feelings of love, justice or charity?

40. Judge your responsibility, beloved people, think that a day that you lose is a day that you delay the arrival of this good news in the hearts of your brothers, that a lesson that you lose is one less bread that you will be able to offer to those in need. Work with love and soon peace will come among humanity, but remember what I tell you; do not confuse my peace with the one that the nations are going to sign, because that cannot be lasting; it will be a false peace that will destroy itself, because it will not have the seed of love, which is respect and which is fraternity, because it will be based on fear of one another, interest or material convenience. true peace is that which descends from heaven into the hearts of men and from there springs forth and spreads in works of justice and love. I announce to you that this peace that is approaching the nations is not true, and if you want to prophesy it like this, you can do it, with the certainty that you will not deceive. I tell you that in order for the peace of my kingdom to be established among men, the war of doctrines, religions and ideas still needs to be carried out, a war in which some confront my name and my truth with the false deities of others and in which one doctrine rises up fighting the other; that will be the new struggle, the spiritual battle in which the false gods will fall from their pedestal and all the falsehood that you have had as truth will be exposed. You will see how from among that. chaos of confusion and darkness, the truth will emerge splendid.

41. The star king with his light gives you an idea of what the truth is. Its light shines during the day and when it disappears the night begins. Then man, by means of his science, returning from the elements of the same nature, discovers a light with which he can illuminate the darkness of the night, but it is so weak that it disappears and is lost as soon as the rays of the king star appear again. You have succeeded in making light in the night, but who by his knowledge will be able to hide the light of the sun and make darkness in the day? Only I can do it to show you my power, just as I am the only one who can make true light or hide it when it is my will. Also in the spiritual, I am the only one who can make the light of truth shine, there, where imposture and falsehood exist, make peace arise from death, from hatred, from evil or from spite, charity, repentance or forgiveness arise, or from the derangement of the mind, reason arises. In a word, that over the darkness, light may be made. Yes, people, the light of my truth will illuminate your world, and that long spiritual night that you have lived will dissipate. It has already begun to appear as a new dawn; it is the light that has awakened you at this time, telling you: Watch and pray, wake up your brothers, heal them, so that they can rise up to the struggle and look for the one who has been lost. Be disciples of the light so that tomorrow, converted into teachers, you will give teachings of light. To be my disciple sometimes requires going so far as to sacrifice; but I tell you that the peace of the spirit is worth more than the comforts of the earth. Be the true children of the light, so that each of your prayers may be like a star in the sky of your life and so that the prayer of all, formed by the union of your thoughts, may resemble the light of an aurora.

42. Elijah is watering the roads with light, and the sheep are returning to the pasture; when I reach every heart, every people, everyone will have already been touched by Elijah.

43. Prepare yourselves, disciples, I do not want that when the pain reaches its greatest degree on humanity, it will be like a cloak of darkness that clouds your thoughts and your reason; I want my disciples, in that hour of trial, to know how to rise up strong and that, in the midst of the storm, they know how to hear the voice of conscience.

44. My children, who in your ignorance or in your fear say to me: Lord, if you want us to reach you, why do you let temptations and vicissitudes cross our path? and the Master answers you: Because trials make light in your spirit, the only way that you can see; and it is necessary that you look, so that you may acquire knowledge. Understand that there is a lot that you will have to see in your spiritual life, because being the children of light, you are the heirs of my wisdom.

45. You will be the forerunners of the time of grace, so your responsibility is very great; the foundations of such a great work will have to be strong, so that the sanctuary to my Divinity can be built on them. I am revealing to you much of what the future holds in store for this people. So you will not look at me forever hidden in mystery.

46. Analyze my word, so that you can be spiritualized, because if you do not penetrate to the bottom of this doctrine, you may fall into a new fanaticism. Understand, disciples, that in spirituality there is no place for fanaticism, prejudice, idolatry or superstition. Spiritualism means elevation; spirituality means freedom of the spirit, because whoever attains it, has dematerialized, has emancipated himself from the passions of the flesh, has gone through sacrifice and renunciation well understood. O people, who have listened to me a lot, the moment of the absence of my word is already near and I do not contemplate in you the understanding of my doctrine, much less the preparation and the correct interpretation of the lessons that I have given you.

47. You sleep sweetly, trusting in my love, but I say to you: Watch and pray, so that it is not the pain that comes to wake you up, not the pain that I send you, because it is something that has not sprung from Me; the pain sprung from man because of his disobedience. Everything tells you about Me and it tells you about my love. Nature, the outer life, the inner life, the whole creation, are like an index that points you to infinity, as a goal towards which you should direct your steps. Meditating on all this, don't you think about your departure? Do you not realize that every day you live is a step that brings you closer to the abode of the spirit? Listen and understand, because there, where many look at death, there is life; where they believe that darkness is, there is light; where they see nothingness, there is the all and where they see the end, there is eternity. How many men, in their unconsciousness, resemble children who, given over to their childish games, are not worried about the future.

48. Men who carry in your heart the light of the experience of this life, and in the spirit, the light that leaves the evolution of different existences, why do you occupy your spirit in what is superfluous for him, and why do you cry many times for causes that do not deserve your pain?

49. Seek in all things the truth; it is in all ways. it is diaphanous and clear as daylight.

50. Go and tell your brothers about these lessons; I am already preparing the regions to receive the good news; but I see that you are still afraid of the struggle, of the judgments of your own. There are those who fear their parents or their brothers before the judgment of your God. Are you afraid that they will judge you wrong, that they will call you traitors or false? Verily I tell you, I have placed in your spirit a jewel of such greatness, that a word from you will be able to persuade those whom you fear so much.

51. You see the rich of the world, the wise, the powerful, the philosophers, the men of science, the ministers of religions and the men of power as too great, and I tell you: You do not need that greatness to be able to speak of my truth; you need none of it to be great, because the true greatness, which is that of the spirit, does not need gold, nor human science, nor titles; where the spirit does not manifest itself through love, there will be no true greatness. Do you not see monarchs who today are on their throne and tomorrow they are dragging away their misery? Do you not see sages correcting what they once proclaimed to be true? Have you not seen a beautiful woman, admired and desired, later turned into a rag? then do not confuse eternal values with fleeting human vanities.

52. Turn your cross and follow me, carry it on your heart and do not be afraid; walk step by step, leave my word in your hearts, like a trace of light; forgive those who hurt you; but if you fell and your fall was mocked, do not be afraid, because now Christ, the one who speaks to you, will be the Cyrineus of those who take up my cross.

53. Listen, people, 1950 is already approaching and the will of the Eternal will be fulfilled; you should not find yourselves divided by then, because you do not know the trials that are coming. Here where I have prepared a people who will receive my word at this time, confusion should not arise; it is necessary that by then this people will be unified, with their men and their women preparing their spirit for my last communication, in which they will have to listen to my last words, which will be saying to you: I am waiting for you in heaven!

54. If you prepare yourselves in this way, you will soon see the light of my Spirit coming upon you without intermediaries or human spokesmen, to communicate with the disciples from Spirit to spirit; by then you will have refined Your practices to such an extent that your brothers will be surprised to see the spirituality of my new disciples, a spirituality that will speak of the inner worship that you practice.

55. Then humanity will verify that the times prophesied thousands of years ago, those in which my new coming was to take place, are these, because they will be able to verify that the divine light is poured out on all flesh and on all spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Forget for a few moments the vanities of the world when you hear my word, and as your spirit rises, it will contemplate the light of this time.
2. While for many peoples these hours are of pain and death, for you they are of peace and hope; but do not trust too much in your merits, because you will also be surprised by trials. It is I who have given you this peace so that you may witness my manifestation, penetrate my word and put my doctrine into practice. I have given you time to listen and understand my lessons, but I see that your analysis has not gone beyond the material and that is why you have not discovered the meaning of my teachings. You are in this misunderstanding, imitating humanity, which, having palpable proofs of my justice at every step, does not stop for a moment to meditate to understand the meaning of these events.
3. I want you to open your eyes to the reality of the time in which you live, so that you can pray for the world. The time that was announced in other ages, when the battle of good against evil would arise, is this. Disciples, do not go to sleep waiting for another era. You are the children of light to whom I am revealing great teachings so that you may be a torch of faith among humanity.
4. You will come to your brothers who are sleeping for the spiritual revelations and you will tell them in sweet words, fraternally, making them understand that the cause of the bitterness that humanity is hurrying, is due to the forgetfulness in which it has left the spirit.
5. When men truly believe that the leaf of the tree does not move without the will of God, then they will feel my presence in all the steps of their life. Some will feel that I arrive as a Father, others as a Teacher and some more will feel that I arrive as a judge.
6. You have sent me down into the darkness to seek you; in your error I have been present to make myself felt in all spirits. Like the shepherd who goes down to the bottom of the abyss in search of the lost sheep, so I have descended into the darkest abysses into which men have fallen. You who are listening to me, have a true understanding of the hour of justice and restitution in which I lived; think that if you persist in remaining in ignorance, the darkness that surrounds the world, would be even denser; you do not know how long it would take for the spirits to receive a ray of light.
7. I am sending spirits to earth whom I can call the firstborn in the law, because they are among those who received my first revelations; I will not tell you who they are, where they are, or what they do, because if you recognized them, you could fall into idolatry or confusion.

8. To this people that grows day by day in search of my teaching, I say that they live united so that in this way they may come closer to Me. If you do not strive, how can you become the masters of spiritual teachings?

9. Love, it is the seed that I entrust to you so that you may sow it for the world. See the sterility in the lands; there is no longer fraternity, friendship, or respect. The seed that has spread is that of hatred and ambition, its fruits you already look at them; they are wars, destruction, misery, death.

10. After the time in which I have been giving you my word, don't you think it is right that the Master should ask you what you are doing in this era, when nations and peoples must seek a better life and stop rising up against each other? What is your work?

11. It is true that I have come to give to you, but do not be concrete to receive only; think that the peace that I am giving you is not only for you, but for many of your brothers. You are not on the sidelines of the great battle, know that I am preparing you to be soldiers.

12. Are you waiting for the world to forge its peace? With what seed can he form it, if the law of men now weighs more heavily in the spirit than that of God?

13. Do not be deceived; in the heart of humanity there is no charity or spirituality, therefore it has no foundation to affirm its peace, its home, its source of work, nor its worship of my Divinity.

14. Peace will soon come to the world, and when it is, you will thank me, people, believing that it was for your fulfillment; then I will tell you: Open your eyes, this peace that the world has achieved will not be lasting because it is not true." I will destroy it with my sword of righteousness, as I destroy all that is false. That peace of which I speak to you will be apparent, because it will be based on the fear of one for another; true peace cannot spring from impure hearts, it will come later, it will descend from the kingdom of heaven to the heart of humanity.

15. If you wish to proclaim these prophecies to the world, you can do so; do not be afraid, for I am not deceiving you. If you want to tell your brothers that the peace that the nations are about to make is not good, you will not err, because I cannot err. You will soon see the fulfillment of what I am announcing to you in this year of 1944. War, material ambitions will cease, but later the wars of religions, doctrines, ideas and philosophies will arise. It will be that battle of spiritual struggle to find the way of truth.

Love one another!

16. It is necessary that this be so for humanity to open its eyes, discover the false gods and break the chains of slavery.

17. When this battle ceases, silence is broken, and men prostrate in prayer meditate and repent, you will see an offering rise from their hearts similar to the perfume exhaled by flowers, which will go in search of the one true God.

18. I will make this world arise clean from its leprosy, I will also make life arise from death; I will make the fruits of reconciliation sprout from hatred and reason arise from madness.

19. In the meantime, you continue to multiply, both in number and in knowledge and virtue. I am giving you weapons to resist and get ahead.

20. This corner of the earth in which you live is suitable for your mission; it has a resemblance to that "promised land" to the people of Israel in the First Time, but do not get fanatical about the riches of the land, because you must remember that the city of Jerusalem was razed to the ground by its enemies and even the temple of Solomon was destroyed.

21. Your land has a likeness to that which was given to the people of Israel, but neither that was a homeland for the spirit, nor is this the second Jerusalem, because the spiritual city is not of this world.

22. Continue to be hospitable as Abraham was, prepare for the foreigner to sit down to eat at your table and rest under the shade of your roof. Take my balm of love in your hands so that you may heal the sick, make them feel my comfort and recover their health. You are that people to whom the living and invisible God has spoken in all times, and also, the one who has always allowed himself to be influenced by the idolatry of other peoples.

23. Now I have come to strip you of fanaticism and superstitions, to remind you of the spiritual worship of your Father, so that when the nations fix their gaze on this people and the caravans arrive, they will be surprised to find morality, virtue and spirituality among you.

24. Take this lesson in your spirit, which I have given you to serve as a preparation for you.

25. Let no one rebel at the idea of having to return to this planet in another body, nor think that reincarnation is a punishment for the spirit. All the spirits destined to have to dwell on earth, have had to go through the law of reincarnation, in order to achieve their evolution and carry out the mission that I have entrusted to them.

Love one another!

26. Not only the spirits of low elevation need to incarnate again; also the high spirits return again and again, until they have completed their work.

27. Elijah is the greatest of the prophets who has come to earth, v despite the great works he did and the great trials he gave, he had to return to this world at another time, in another matter v with another name.

28. This law of love and justice was ignored for a long time by humanity, because if they had known it before, they could have fallen into confusion, however, the Father made some revelations and gave you some signs that were the precursor light of this time, of the clarification of all the mysteries.

29. The past of your spirit, with its various existences on earth, is forbidden to you. He has only revealed to you the truth of reincarnation, because it will have to give you a more real idea of divine mercy and justice and will cause to be reborn in the impure, in sinners in whom they uselessly waste their lives, the hope of a new opportunity in which they can correct the mistakes committed.

30. The idea of death or eternal damnation, are destroyed before this revelation and both the human spirit and the human heart, when they understand this truth, rise to glorify the divine goodness.

31. If in the first times this was not discovered to you, it was because you were not prepared to know it; and if now you have come to know it, and despite this you do not have a precise idea of who you have been before, that is another proof that you are not yet very advanced.

32. When men love each other and know how to forgive each other, there is humility in the heart and they have achieved that the spirit imposes itself on matter, it will not be the flesh, nor the world, nor the passions, that form the thick veil that prevents you from looking back or forward on the path; on the contrary, matter already spiritualized by the practice of my doctrine, will be like a servant docile to the dictates of conscience, contrary to what it is now. obstacle, stumbling block, blindfold over the eyes of the spirit.

33. Now you marvel when you have a principle of clairvoyance that allows you to get to see something from the past, or that makes you a revelation of the future, when truly I tell you, that spiritual gaze should be constant, like the vision in the eyes of your body during life on earth.

34. It is necessary that you walk a little more on my path, in order that you may reach those heights, and your spirit, gathering in itself all the fruit of its past experiences, may be liberated, delighted and elevated in its own knowledge.

Love one another!

35. Think that if there were already a lot of light in your spirit, there should be a lot of peace in your heart.

36. Do not listen to those who want to intimidate you because they are searching for what refers to the spirit, because they are the ones who want to continue sleeping in the sleep of ignorance.

37. To many of the phases of your material life you have attached greater importance than to what concerns the spirit, and that is why you have created a false and empty world; but the time has come for you to take a keen interest in what is essential in your being, and when that is, you will give true life and beauty to your existence.

38. But I must tell you that even if life, in this world, reaches the heights of virtue and justice, it will not be here that you will find your perfect abode. Your passage through this valley is temporary, it will only serve as a crucible, a school, a book to reach the elevation of your spirit.

39. There are other higher abodes in your Father's house, which I have prepared for you to come and dwell in.

40. Blessed are those who, meditating on these words, felt faith in them and straightened out their lives for the benefit of his spirit, for he will bear fruit in eternity.

41. Beloved people, with certainty you could say that everything that has happened in this world was announced or prophesied to you in previous times.

42. That word which man has heard by the mouth of my prophets has been my voice. They have not spoken by their own inspiration, but by divine will.

43. The true interpretation of my predictions, announcements and promises, I give them to you when you see that in due time my words are fulfilled.

44. How many different interpretations you have given to the divine revelations, the truth you have only known until I have fulfilled my word. Many of the prophecies have already had their fulfillment, others are being realized before your eyes and others are still waiting for their time.

45. I am still preparing and sending new prophets, by whom he will reveal great wonders to you, and at the same time they will announce the presence or proximity of what was announced to you in times past.

46. The old prophecies will be confirmed by the new prophets; everyone who feels this gift in himself, pray, watch and prepare to speak only the truth. If you do so, you will see that some will confirm what others announce. This is how the prophets of the past times fulfilled their mission, even though some have come in one era and others in another.

47. Do not worry that sometimes you do not understand what you receive by inspiration or what your lips speak; neither did those many times know how to understand what their mouth spoke.

48. I will pour out my light on those who receive your testimony and in due time I will fulfill each of your prophecies. Woe to those who do not tell the truth, for in due time they will also be discovered; then they will not find in their body, or in their spirit, anything with which to wash away their stain and pay off their debt.

49. Who will be the judge of false prophets? The truth, because she is light that will reach those hearts through consciousness.

50. The truth always seeks clean hearts in order to manifest itself. Cleanse yours so that this light may be in the words, thoughts and deeds of my people.

51. With a key of love that I possess, I open your heart. I had found you lethargic; on the way I surprised you by walking with a slow step; I came to make you recognize that you are sent from my Divinity; this is what the Word of the Father tells you, the One who became man in the Second Time.

52. Not once, but several times and in various forms, I announced and promised my new coming to my disciples; I prophesied to them the signs that were to announce my arrival: signs in nature, events among humanity, world wars, sin at its greatest height. So that the world would not be confused by waiting for me again as a man, I let them know that Christ would come on the cloud, that is, in Spirit.

53. That promise has been fulfilled. Behold the Master in Spirit, speaking to the world. Behold the possessor of peace and the kingdom of light, who comes to form an immensely large ark, where men can take refuge and be saved, as in the early times, when Noah made the ark to rescue the human seed.

54. By your advancement and perseverance in my doctrine, I will show you in all simplicity the content of many mysteries. The book of life, sealed with seven seals, is an unknown for you, because the Sixth Seal is the one that is untied and its content is the one that illuminates your time; everything has been a mystery for you and I do not want it to remain so. I have already told you that the seven seals are the seven divine revelations that I have given to man, of which you are receiving the sixth and you are still missing the seventh.

Love one another!

55. You know that Roque Rojas founded seven enclosures to which he gave the name of seals and that symbolically the sixth of them was like a fruitful tree that multiplied its branches. You also know that a new era began in 1866, but you still do not know how to organize your ideas; some have wanted to analyze these lessons, but their interpretation has been erroneous, because it limits and encloses the eternal and divine within the human and material. But before this confusion occurs, I will dispel the darkness of ignorance with the light of my revelations.

56. I have prepared this piece of earth that you tread on, so that my divine light may descend at this time among its inhabitants. Here I came to remind you of the divine law that as a Father I taught you in the First Time; here I have repeated to you my word that as Jesus gave you, as the true song of songs of the spirit, and I have brought you the light of truth that clarifies every mystery and explains every lesson not understood.

57. I come to rebuild my temple, a temple without walls or towers, because it is in the heart of man. The Tower of Babel still divides mankind, but its foundations will be destroyed in the hearts of men. Idolatry and religious fanaticism have also raised their high towers, but they are flimsy and will have to fall. Truly I tell you, my divine and human laws are sacred and they themselves will judge the world. Humanity does not believe to be an idolater and truly I tell you, it is still worshipping the "golden calf".

58. I am Spirit, I am essence and light. Wake up, open your eyes, look at me and listen to my voice. This communication that you have today from my Spirit through the human channel is not the most perfect and therefore will not be eternal. Soon it will pass, and then the time of Spirit-to-spirit communication will begin, in which you will hear the voice of your Father.

59. At that Second Time I found the blind man and gave him sight, I made the crippled man walk, I raised the dead man; now I find greater desolation in the world, because I contemplate by thousands the blind, the deaf, the lepers and the dead of the spirit. It is true that I come with justice among you, but also full of love, because I will never cease to consider you as children and I will always see you as children.

60. People, do you want to follow me along the path that I have long traced for you with my works and examples? It is true that in him is the imprint of sacrifice, but at the end there is the "land of promise". Nor at this time will I come to dazzle you with the false brightness of human riches. Your Teacher will only show you the brilliance of virtue. "My kingdom is not of this world," I said to you, of this world of vanities, of selfishness and lies; for truly I tell you, I reign in perfection.

Love one another!

61. By 1950, the last link in the chain that will form the 144,000 marked, will receive in his spirit the divine sign. From them will arise in the nations the messengers, the prophets, the disciples who with their teaching, their prayer and their example will bring the seed of a new life to humanity.

62. This word that you are listening to today will cease and the delight that you experience today in listening to it will also pass away; then, when you want to enjoy my presence spiritually as now, it will be enough for you to enter into meditation and pray imploring my love.

63. Not because you no longer listen to me through these spokespersons do you think that I am absent and you are going to lose the respect and the preparation that you have today when you hear my word. Know that I will follow you wherever you go, that I will be contemplating your work in my countryside and asking your conscience for each of your steps.

64. I am preparing you, because I know that after this time of preparation, the false spokesmen will arise announcing that the Master is still giving his word in this way, and I want you to get rid of that confusion, which will be caused by those who, believing to be watching, are actually sleeping, and those who, believing to be serving me, are actually serving themselves.

65. I announce to you that the time to end this communication will be a time of judgment for this people, because each one of you will manifest at that moment what he carries of seed in his heart and of advancement in his spirit. There you will see the tendency of each one, his understanding, his obedience, his spirituality.

66. I know that there will be those who profane my commands, who for this reason become stagnant and confused, thereby stopping the progress of the mission undertaken; but after a while, the memory of my word, of my teachings and of my prophecies, in which I warned you of everything that was going to happen, will arise from the spirit, causing those who departed from him to return to the path of obedience.

67. Let no one say at this moment, Lord, I will not turn my back on you, I will not disobey you. Do not promise the Master what many of you will not fulfill.

68. Watch and pray, strip your heart of materialism, cleansed of interests and passions. Study my teaching so that at that hour you will not be lethargic and you will be able to take the next step with fortitude.

69. I am not asking you for promises, I am asking you for the fulfillment of your mission.

Love one another!

70. Keep my word in the depths of your heart, so that tomorrow you will not deny me with your deeds or with your words, saying that I did not warn you what you well know that I have repeated countless times.

71. Some of you are saying in the depths of your heart: Master, will we be able to deny You, when You have come to raise us to true life?

72. I tell you that you cannot yet fully trust in yourselves, because your love and faith are still small.

73. It is necessary that you study my lessons with constancy, so that your virtues may develop, and when that hour of trial that is already approaching arrives, keep my word in mind and you will not falter for a single moment.

74. See, disciples, with what love I invite you to prepare yourselves. Tomorrow, if you fall, you will not be able to say: The Lord had warned us nothing about his departure.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. My Word is poured out inexhaustibly on you. I am the Christ who dwelt among men in the Second Time, and who comes down to you again, to testify of Himself, fulfilling his promise and his word, as at that time I came to confirm by my works the law that the Father dictated to Moses, who did not do his will, nor that of men, but the will of the Eternal, therefore I tell you, if I did not erase what Moses said, neither would I now come to erase what I taught you in Jesus.

2. I am with you, because I promised and announced this to my disciples, when on a certain occasion, finding myself surrounded by them, they questioned me in this way: Teacher, you have said that you will leave, but that later you will return; tell us, when will this be? I saw that innocence and the desire to know made them search the arcana of their Lord; however, I kindly told them, "Indeed, the day is not far off when I will return among men," giving them to understand that my presence would be in Spirit, and at the same time, letting them know the signs that would announce my upcoming arrival. Those signs would be wars, chaos and great bitterness in all the earth; but truly I tell you, this is how my arrival was at this time, in the midst of chaos. Here I am, humanity, with a message of light and peace for your spirit, from which I am going to make an ark into which all men of faith who want to be saved will penetrate, where humanity can take refuge. This ark will be strong because of the faith, hope and charity of those who follow me and will have a spiritual resemblance to the one entrusted to Noah, when the elements were unleashed.

3. What time are you in? Analyze and you will realize that I have given you my lesson in three times. The first was the law, the second love and the third, which is the present, corresponds to wisdom.

4. One Spirit, which is mine, has always been with you; but if I have manifested it under three different phases, think that the forms in which I manifest Myself in all creation are infinite and at the same time Perfect.

5. You first met the Father as a Judge. and Legislator; in the Second Time I made my Word incarnate in Jesus and his word spoke with divine wisdom; Christ is the Word, the same one who said to men. "He who knows the Son knows the Father." Now you are in the Third Time, in which I pour out my wisdom on you.

6. Fulfilling my promise, I have come in Spirit, on the symbolic cloud that your spirits form when they rise to Me, to build the true temple in the heart of humanity.

Love one another!

7. When listening to me through these spokespersons, do not think that my Spirit lodges in these small and impure bodies; I have already told you that it is on your spirit that a ray of my light descends, which is divine inspiration, which is wisdom and love.

8. Feel the miracle of this communication, recognizing that through the understanding of these rude creatures, the word springs from their lips that enlightens the ignorant and converts the sinner, making him build in his heart, a dwelling worthy of God, and giving him the key of faith, the one that opens the door of wisdom.

9. With infinite patience I waited for the time when the development of your spirit would allow you to understand my communication through the understanding of the speaker, as a preparation for the perfect communication between your spirit and mine.

10. That is the reason why the spokesman pronounces my word without his brain getting tired or his throat getting hoarse; because it is I who moves those lips, to make the call to humanity. I am inviting you to rest under the shade of the tree of life and to eat the fruit of eternal life.

11. I take up my cross again, because I have to go through sins, impurities, adulteries, materialisms, ridicule and doubts, if you take into account that I communicate through creatures who do not always know how to purify their understanding or cleanse their heart, and that, on the other hand, I expose my manifestation and my word to multitudes of every creed and every condition. But the merit consists in making water flow from these rocks, which is faith and love of one another. That is why I tell you, I am going step by step through the mobs, carrying my cross on my back.

12. This is the time when the spirit is reborn, that he wakes up crying like a child, but his crying is quickly calmed by the cooing of parental caresses.

13. What would you do if you carried life in the body and death in the spirit? What works worthy of Me could you do, and what hopes of immortality could you nourish? How many dead have I raised in this time! and how many blind people have seen my light!

14. Awaken fully, become possessors of my light, but not only by my love, but also by your effort and your will. Penetrate into the lessons that tell you about eternity; they are necessary lights for your spirit. There are ties between heaven and earth that sin and human iniquity will not be able to break; one of those ties is that of my spiritual communication with you.

15. My cross is not heavy, but you must always keep in mind that every spiritual work requires sacrifice. I will be like a tireless pilgrim following your footsteps everywhere, until the moment you are safe in the "land of promise".

Love one another!

16. I have not come to dazzle you with the glitter of gold, nor with the luxury of liturgical ceremonies.

17. My love is the gift that I have been offering you, and my word is the best treasure. I humbly offer to your spirit, what I reserve for him, because "my kingdom is not of this world".

18. This people who listen to me are truly Israelites, but they are not Israelites because of race, but because of the spirit, and I send them once after another to the earth, so that they may be like a link between my Spirit and that of humanity.

19. Among that spiritual people, there are the 144,000 marked or pointed out by Me, so that they may be the light that illuminates the path to the multitudes, as the tribe of Levi did in the First Time, when Israel crossed the desert. Your restitution, at the same time that your repentance has purified you and your humility has meant you. Go thus clean through the world, and I assure you that your passage will be fruitful watering, so that my seed may germinate in the hearts of your brothers.

20. Great will be your labor, for the heart of man has been deformed by wickedness; but nothing will surprise you, for I will have prepared you for the fight.

21. At this moment I have flooded your heart with love and peace, and with this you have felt satisfied and joyful.

22. I have not offered you a material bread, and yet you have been in communion with my Spirit.

23. Today, as you recall the First Time, you remember that in times of scarcity the people received manna, which was valuable sustenance so that the multitudes would not faint. Today, my word nourishes and sustains you in days of trial; how many times have you wanted to retreat or flee because faith failed you, but I have made you feel my presence in the middle of the desert of your life.

24. Verily I say to you, I am always with you in each and every one of your trials.

25. Whoever has faith, even if it is as small as a mustard seed, keep it and increase it. Blessed is the spirit with faith! How many there are who, not knowing that they carry me in their being, seek me without knowing how to find me! How many who, being enlightened by Me, fail to perceive inspiration, because they have not opened their hearts to enjoy such a precious gift!

26. Israel, you are once again my emissary. I had promised you to come and here you have my word fulfilled. I announced to you my return among angels and on the cloud; but if you know how to analyze or interpret, you will soon know who the angels are of whom I spoke to you and what the cloud is that I prophesied.

Love one another!

27. Elijah prepared your spirit, telling himself to get ready because the coming of the Master is near and with it you will see wonders, spiritual greatness and great events in the universe, but only a small part of humanity was waiting for the fulfillment of those prophecies, wondering if the presence of the Lord would already be imminent, since the signs were already fulfilled.

28. Already being present my Spirit to manifest in the Third Time, I have called you one by one to confirm his belief that this was the time of my return and invite him to rise up to achieve spiritual communion with Me.

29. But if, by listening to me and following me, your brothers do not know you, if you are slandered, do not be afraid; close your ears to murmuring, and to meaningless words. In the flood do not expect to be understood; the one who will be able to fulfill your desires for wisdom, peace and love, will be Me; but to achieve it, surrender to ME and I will give you health and peace.

30. Pray more with the spirit than with matter, because to be saved it is not enough an instant of prayer or a day of love, but a life of perseverance, patience, high works and obedience to my commands. For this I have given you great powers and senses.

31. My work is like an ark of salvation that invites everyone to penetrate. Whoever obeys my laws will not perish. If you are guided by my word, you will be saved.

32. This seed that I have brought into hearts will bear fruit and give food to humanity; but I tell you to persevere so that those works that have not flourished may flourish, because everything that has a principle of love and faith tends to grow. Faith, charity and goodwill will bear fruit in multiplication.

33. I want the strong to help the weak, that the healthy impart health, that you share the fruit of your gifts with your brothers and that in this fulfillment you feel how your spirit advances and how it enjoys sowing charity.

34. When my word ceases through the mouthpieces, you, my laborers, will give my word; but how much you have to prepare to receive my inspirations! That time that you have contemplated distant, is already approaching, therefore, do not despise my words, no matter how simple and humble they may be. Each of them has divine essence and the power to comfort and heal many hearts. That essence will come as a radiant light to all those who have not understood the meaning of existence and have expected from their struggle a result that they have not obtained, because I sent them to work for their spirit and not for the flesh. To them, my simple and tender word will give peace and make them rest.

35. Pray for the nations that do not have my word. Pray for the peoples who suffer the bitterness of war; pray for those who do not have a corner of spiritual peace. Also for the defenseless women, for the men who are mercilessly dragged into the war, pray, the hour you are living is serious and only your unification will save you.

36. You have entered the final time, and as it progresses, humanity understands how the divine judgment weighs on it, causing men to enter into a thorough examination of all their acts. But that judgment will not lose man, on the contrary, it will save him; and then you will all come to Me clean and without debt, as beings who have come to fulfill the mission entrusted to them. Only the practice of love, as my doctrine teaches, will make you worthy of the supreme good that is the peace of the spirit.

37. To Mary, the sweet intercessor who watches over you, I have said: Wait, that humanity will soon take the path of regeneration and turn its thoughts to You.

38. Multitudes, who come to hear my word, do not be confused in the perversity that prevails in your world; if you see that the ideal of men is human greatness, vanities and pleasures that flatter the senses, you ignite in your heart the longing for spiritual elevation.

39. I will inspire you; for that I have sought these humble places, from where I call you, to prepare you as a seed that, by germinating and multiplying in my fields, comes to counteract the evil that reigns on earth.

40. The mission that I entrust to you is one of love; but do not, because you have been called by Me, think yourselves the cleanest on earth; think that you are still far from being free of sin. Do not for this reason feel less loved, because on many occasions, my most fervent disciples have emerged from among the great sinners.

41. Of these it is you, to whom I now say: Come along the path of love, step by step, always trusting in Me, but always living alert, because at any moment the weaknesses of the flesh may manifest in your being, with which you will fight until you purify your matter and free your spirit.

42. Truly I tell you, as you are transformed, I will reveal to you all the gifts that you possess. Therefore do not shy away from the trials that I send you every day, because they are the chisel that sculpts and polishes your spirit. Notice that after a trial you get up with more mettle and confidence in Me and in you. What would become of the soldiers of any cause, if they did not first prepare for the fight? What then will become of me, soldiers, if they did not know the lurks of temptation to reject them? They will be weak, and at the first stumbles they will cry and at each blow they will retreat.

Love one another!

43. Look, Disciples, the year 1950 in which I will stop speaking to you as I do now, is near; therefore I am announcing to you that for the last days there will be very great multitudes who will listen to me, so there will also be many men who will know this message.

44. It will be known in the world that Christ was among men again, no longer humanized, but in Spirit, and it will be understood that in each time I have a new way of manifesting myself.

45. Understand that if at that time I came to do merits for your salvation, now it will be the merits that you do that will save you and through which you will save your brothers. Disciples, since you have had a Teacher who teaches you the lesson with such love, do you think that my sacrifice as a man was useless, and the blood shed was useless? Truly I tell you, no, because the blood of the Lamb of God, symbolizing divine love, is fresh in the consciousness of every spirit. At that time, when the mobs led me to Calvary, I carried the cross; today it will be carried by everyone who loves me and follows me with humility, and then I will be your Cyrene in the painful journey and I will send the guardian angels to give you light and spiritual strength in the supreme hour.

46. If you see that at this time I made my presence felt by making you hear my word in the west and not in the East, do not be confused, because it is not the points of the earth that I seek, but the spirits.

47. If you think that my word is not flowery, understand that it is the Teacher of humility, of simplicity who speaks, and that if you know how to penetrate into the depths of this teaching, you will soon discover true wisdom in it.

48. I am just preparing you, you are not in the fullness of the struggle, because the great day will begin at the end of 1950, and you cannot know when it will end. Those who fall in the struggle will listen to my voice that will tell them: Your spirit has not fallen, you have risen, and if on earth you have not received honors for your sacrifice, do not be afraid, for my kingdom awaits you, so that from it you may look to your children and to your disciples to continue your work.

49. At the passage of this people, the Gentiles and the Pharisees will come out to stop him, the same ones who will fall surrendered to the truth, justice and love that overflow my words. Persevere, beloved disciples, because when the crowds arrive at the gates of the "promised land", they will open as a sign of welcome for my people, who arrive victorious at the threshold of eternity.

Love one another!

50. How beautiful is the struggle that awaits my soldiers, how great and how noble!

51. You, listening to me, cannot launch yourselves into this struggle, because you still feel weak and, nevertheless, I will know how to find among you the seed that will bring the good news to all the peoples of the earth. Do not be afraid, for I do not demand the impossible from you, nor do I lead you to death. I will be in every step of the one who walks in my name, and if his faith is great, he will find invincible strength in his spirit. But whoever denies Me like Peter, out of fear, or lack of faith, doubts Me like Thomas, he will be smaller than the weakest, he will feel clumsy and needy and he will have to close his lips, hide his hands, forgetting that he is full of gifts, and he will even deny that he has listened to me.

52. Do not feel more than anyone because you have had the grace to listen to me at this time, but do recognize that the word that you have received is the Third Testament that I have bequeathed to your spirit, and that in the world only the first two parts of this book were known, the first, revealed through Moses and the prophets, the second, the one that I gave you in Jesus; but you did not possess the third, which is the one that my Spirit has sent you at this time.

53. These are the three testaments that together contain the law, love, wisdom and eternal life.

54. I contemplate many of you anxious for peace and elevation, manifesting the desire for a life of spirituality and love, and that longing will soon be the cry of spiritual liberation in all humanity.

55. Therefore, when you hear that I announce to you the establishment of a kingdom of peace in your world, you anxiously ask: When will these prophecies be fulfilled, Master? When will all men come to live in morality and virtue? When will we see mutual respect between parents and children and between spouses? When will we again see innocence in children, purity in maidens, righteousness in men, dignity in the elderly, justice in judges, magnanimity in rulers, in a word, love among men?

56. I bless you because you begin to sigh for everything that is good, beautiful and true, but I tell you that if the time of the arrival of that kingdom is shortened, you will have to watch, pray and fight. For this struggle I come to prepare you both in matter and in spirit, because if I have not come against what I revealed in other times, I also have to tell you, that I do not come against the laws that govern nature. I come to give you my love so that you can achieve harmony with everything that surrounds you.

57. Understand that what my law reproves is the superfluous, the vices, the abuses or excesses, both in the material and in the spiritual. That is why I always tell you to deepen yourselves in the meditation of the law, so that you do not fall into errors, passions or fanaticism.

58. You are the stonemasons with which I am building the temple to spirituality, to the one in which I will recreate myself, and in which you will receive the bread of eternal life.

59. Fulfill my laws on earth and you will not have to fear your arrival to the hereafter; just as you saw the light of the world when you arrived and just as you felt the presence of your fathers on earth, so you will feel the presence of your Lord in that valley that awaits your return. And when you have penetrated into my bosom, you will hear my voice, saying to you: Beloved children, behold your Father, look at me, know me, love me and then contemplate creation, because I want you to know that what is mine is also yours.

60. Disciples, to reach my kingdom, you need to travel the spiritual ladder, which is the way, inhabiting one mansion today and another tomorrow, until you reach that of the perfect spirits. Keep in mind what I told you from the Second Time: "In my Father's house there are many mansions."

61. Then pray and regenerate yourselves, so that the pain may be lifted from among you, and once you are free of its burden, you surrender yourselves to the work of the spirit, which is the struggle to raise your life, doing good, and sowing love on the path of your brothers.

62. Blessed are those who make amends out of love for Me and to set a good example for others, for they will walk steadfastly in the path that I have laid out for them.

63. Those of you who know that in former times Israel was a captive of other peoples and that I had mercy on him, sending him a liberator, are the ones who now cry out from the depths of your heart, that I save you from the slavery that you suffer asking Me with real anguish, that I free you from everything that stalks, threatens and afflicts you. To all this, I say to you as I did at that time: "What can he who is with Me fear?" Do not go away from Me and you will feel safe at any time and in any place. If you are afraid, it is because either you are not on the path, or being on it, you have faltered in your faith.

64. You have to dedicate your life to love, to serve and to sow charity, so that then all your works are directed to a noble end, both in the human and in the spiritual.

65. Never see enemies in anyone, see in all men, only brothers, that is your mission; if you persevere in it to the end, justice and love will triumph on earth, and this will give you the peace and security that you so long for.

Love one another!

66. Do you think that I lack mercy, or will I cease to feel your afflictions? How do you conceive that I am the one who raises some to sink others?

67. Life is a battle, but never call your brothers enemies, much less ask me to unload my justice on your oppressors. Pray for everyone and your prayer will be light and peace that will spread minute by minute over the face of the earth.

68. The example given by the people of Israel in their journey through the desert, take it in its spiritual sense, so that at this time it will be applied by my new people and later imitated by all humanity. It is true that the people of Israel had moments of weakness, but their faith and perseverance prevailed in the end and led them to the conquest of the land of which they dreamed.

69. His long pilgrimage in pursuit of a life of freedom, love and peace, was a constant struggle against adversities and vicissitudes; that people knew hunger, thirst, persecution and the stalks of the enemies that surrounded him, and he had to fight against everything to defend his life; he had to fight against other peoples who stood in his way, preventing him from reaching the land that was his ideal.

70. That struggle, those combats against adversity, are similar to those that you are holding today to achieve your ideal of liberation, of elevation and peace for the spirit; but you have not yet joined your forces, as Israel joined them at that time, to achieve the goal that you long for, because many lack the understanding about their mission within the work that has been entrusted to you, and that is to fight hard, and without truce until reaching the goal.

71. Seek now the "promised land" in the eternal; there you will find the peace for which you have fought on the long road of your life.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 124

1. People of Israel, heir of my word, I am preparing you to be the consolation of humanity. Seek the poor in spirit, the sick, the weary and needy in body and spirit and give them this spiritual bread, which is strength and health.
2. In this time of complacency, I want to pour out my Spirit on you so that tomorrow you can testify about Me and say that I manifested myself as a Teacher, as a Father and as a judge, so that my children can find me in the way they want to look for me; because all loves are in Me.
3. Elijah, who is the forerunner, takes the wayward sheep and presents them to me. His fighting spirit inspires you, so that you speak with perfection and help him in his blessed mission of rescuing the spirits from the confusion that reigns at this time.
4. Only to you, people, has this knowledge been revealed, the great mission of Elijah, his attributes and perfection. He will guide humanity and bring it to Me. But I also tell you, do not forget Mary, welcome Her, who is divine warmth and sweetness. All perfections and beauties have been eternally in his Spirit, and I have entrusted Him to humanity as a daughter for whom he has always watched. Rise up to Her in your tribulations, feel her peace and her love. The eyes that have been prepared to look from the earth to the spiritual valleys, see her descend from perfection to your world, full of grace, and the hearts sensitized by my word feel her presence.
5. All these goods are owned by you. the trials become palpable so that you do not doubt for an instant; your spirit feels that the grace he has received is so great that I would like everyone to hear my word and every spirit to be enlightened; and I tell you. You can work for humanity; for this I have given you great gifts. The sun of my wisdom is illuminating all men, my justice of love is calling the spirit of all beings.
6. The world wonders why so many calamities, why sin increases and there is no human hand that can stop it; then they think that only a superior force, that only the Divine Father can help humanity to return to balance and reason.
7. You, my disciples, will give them the answer; let them know my doctrine of love so that I can restore peace to all those creatures and offer them a new horizon, a new life, through the fulfillment of my laws.
8. Form in the bosom of your family a world of peace and understanding, live and develop in it. Make your works speak of Me. You will teach, when the time comes when you are ready, and you will tell those who hear you, how much peace you have found in loving your brothers, how sweet it is to love your God and you will manifest all your experience.

9. Your mission, Israel, is to serve your brothers. Who among you is willing to carry a message of peace to other nations? There are already those who are to receive the good news. The pain they have been through has come to you, and your fervent prayer has alleviated many Hardships and brought them peace and hope. By my will, precursors have arisen in those nations who speak of spirituality, preparing hearts for the advent of my work, which they still do not know. My word will be known to all nations. If all humanity listened to me, it could feed on just one of my lessons, because in them I pour out my essence, and my presence is real in all my manifestations.

10. I have come to fill with my love the emptiness of your heart, I have awakened in you great spiritual ideals that nourish you, and your faith has overcome. The trials that burdened your heart before, today seem small to you and you are satisfied and joyful because you have found me,

11. Humanity judges you and puts its hope in you, and even when it doubts, the spirit intimately recognizes that you are my chosen ones. Your charge is great, so you must always pray and watch, to be alert in the place of my disciples, where I have placed you.

12. I am speaking to the disciples of the Third Time, whom I am teaching to look for the essence contained in this word, since whoever finds its meaning, will be able to know the divine language. Love and truth do not find human terms that can express them in all their purity; then they must be sought in a language that is beyond the human word. You are the disciples who begin to understand what true love is; do not stop judging whether a certain word was pronounced right or wrong by the spokesman, lest those superficial trifles, those mistakes typical of those who are clumsy and humble, be a stumbling block for your study. I have come from the kingdom of love and charity to a world where love is something strange, and I have begun my teaching by a people ignored, simple and almost lost among the crowds, and this people has listened to me, and even more, has believed me.

13. If my word had been given in all nations, the majority would have rejected it, because vanity, materialism and the false greatness of men, would not have accepted a doctrine that speaks of spirituality, humility and fraternity. The world is not yet ready to understand love, therefore not everyone would have been sensitive to my presence in this form.

Love one another!

14. Just as Christ at that time sought the hollow of the rock to be born as a man, today I found this corner of the earth willing to listen to me, which has a resemblance to the grotto and the manger, which received on that blessed night the Son of God.

15. Here I will prepare you in silence; then the day will come when you will have to leave to prepare the ways for my word to reach all hearts; by then the world will be purified through pain and my word will no longer seem to him a foreign language, but something that his heart and spirit will easily be able to understand and feel. I am giving you the book that speaks of truth and love so that you can take it to all humanity.

16. There is no people on earth to whom I can tell you not to go because they do not need this revelation. What people can say that they are truly Christian, not only in name, but because of their love, their charity and their forgiveness? Which nation can demonstrate its spirituality? Where in the world do you love each other? Where do men truly comply with the teachings of Christ?

17. Verily I tell you, my law you have written in books, sometimes in your mind, but I do not find it fulfilled in your life. Do not tell me that this is not true, because that is why I have tested you, and when the time has come to forgive, you did not know how to forgive the wrong, and instead, you avenged it. When the needy hand knocked at your door, you did not know how to give charity, and when it was necessary to sacrifice to save someone, you sacrificed your brother first to save your life and the goods you have. That is why I tell you that humanity keeps my word only in powdered books.

18. If my word seems very humble to you, I say to you again: That is only the outward expression; go beyond every human term and you will hear in the world the voice of the Father speaking a heavenly language that will not be foreign, but familiar to your spirit, since he sprang from God.

19. Do you realize the mission and the responsibility that you are taking on?

20. My teaching does not seem strange to anyone, nor does his cross seem heavy, for truly I tell you, the more difficult and heavier is the life you lead in the world. My cross of love is the sweetest of yokes.

21. Remember that through three ages of spiritual evolution your spirit has followed me, and you have not yet reached the end of the path. You have voluntarily followed me, because I have never forced anyone to do so.

22. When your confession emerged from the depths of your being in which you said to me: Master, You are my Lord, it was the voice of your faith that spoke and from that moment of inner enlightenment, you come after my footprint, step by step, sometimes falling and rising again to follow me. How much the spirit enjoys when he feels the weight of his cross of love on himself. Only he who does not take it with love, when the last moment of his life arrives, will have to show himself dissatisfied and uneasy, and in his unpreparedness he will sometimes come to blaspheme before his Lord, imitating the thief who to my sinister was crucified on Calvary. This earthly life is only a preparation, a stepping stone, to reach the true life.

23. My doctrine is the law that teaches you to live in harmony with the spiritual and with nature. Despite the light that shines in your mind pointing the right and just way, sometimes you cry, and it is because sometimes you stray from the law, and then your conscience judges and punishes you. When you defy nature by breaking her laws, she touches you instantly; however, it would be unjust for you to say that she has exercised revenge, because I am in nature as I am in everything. If you insist on throwing yourself into an abyss, how can you avoid the pain of the fall?

24. Feel how you are spiritually crossing an immense desert, beyond which there is a mansion of peace, perfection and light, which has been promised to your spirit. Look behind you at the distant and sinful city, how far it is. Today you are free from chains, because at last you freed yourselves from the slavery of passions. The idols before which you were bowing, remained far away, insensitive and inert, later they will be knocked down from their pedestals, by others who will come after your footsteps. But if your enemies were to pursue you, a saving sea would stand in their way, so that you might arrive safely at the end of your journey.

25. Who would try to come back? Ahead, the light of hope shines on the horizon; behind are the darkness of disappointment.

26. Go ahead, people. The desert is barren, yet manna descends on you and water gushes from its rocks. Watch and pray, for even in the desert temptations will follow you. Woe to him who neither watches nor prays! Woe to him who is weak in his purposes of regeneration!

27. As soldiers you will cross immense distances and solitudes. I have already made your weapons known to you. The battle will arise, and you will measure your forces with those who try to stop or destroy you. How will you manage to survive in that battle? Not losing faith, crossing through darkness and confusion, without your light going out, reaching the end of the desert, with your heart free of grievances, grudges or hatred, loving and forgiving your enemies. You will see then that your spirit was magnified in the struggle, because it forced him not to stop, not to retreat, making use of all his powers and faculties known and to seek in himself unknown or dormant gifts.

Love one another!

28. Be humble before your Lord and you will be great in spirit, do not weaken before the temptations of the world and the flesh; men will tell you, that while Jesus makes you last and humble, they will make you first and great on earth, but do not believe them.

29. I also know how to give crowns, thrones and scepters in the world, as to David and Solomon, when they knew how to recognize their Lord; and I have touched them with my justice, when they have betrayed me, letting themselves disinherit themselves from the gift of power, inspiration and wisdom.

30. Today I have not come to offer you kingdoms of this world; rather, I have been stripping you of earthly possessions, so that you may follow me more freely. The kingdom that I have come to offer you is beyond the human. Whoever reaches that kingdom will never leave it again.

31. Look at the monarchs and the lords of the earth. How brief is his glory and his reign. Today their people lift them up and tomorrow they make them fall from their place. No one seeks his throne in this life, because believing to advance, he will stop his step, and your destiny is to walk without stopping, until you reach the gates of my kingdom.

32. If at the end of 1950 you are going to stop listening to my word, you will not stop being my disciples, because my inspiration will continue to reach your spirit and your understanding, to make you understand everything that you received in my word.

33. The last part of the book is still missing, the seventh chapter, which is still sealed; when this seal is opened, you will receive from Spirit to spirit the last lesson.

34. My justice wisely brings humanity closer to the great revelation. Life, like a teacher, incessantly teaches and corrects, trials send their spiritual voice through consciousness.

35. In order for the world to be able to communicate spirit-to-Spirit with Me, I have first had to approach you in this form and prepare for the step that men will have to take on the path of their evolution. My word poured out at this time through the spokespersons will serve to free you from stumbles, doubts or confusion on your way; in it you will find the clarity of my teaching.

36. I charge you, people, to announce to the world my promise to communicate from Spirit to spirit with men. I want you to also transmit this light to your children, so that they may illuminate their path with the light of hope.

37. If you sleep, if you forget to watch and pray, when my promise is fulfilled and my Spirit calls you, the confusion and doubt will return to you once again, which men have always had when I returned to them, because they did not know how to wait for me.

Love one another!

38. I want that from the moment I make my word cease, you give yourselves to the study of it and to the spiritual exercise that will give you the necessary development to get to communicate directly with my Spirit. In this inner, intimate, spiritual development, you will obtain the most beautiful fruits of inspiration, revelation, clairvoyance and strength. Then this people will be one step away from seeing my promise fulfilled, when the last seal is untied and I reveal its contents to the world.

39. Do not want to replace my manifestation, when you no longer have it, with false imitations or with external forms, because you will sink into lethargy, into routine and you will not be able to hear my divine voice when it comes to enlighten your spirit.

40. I do not want it to be a vague intuition that makes men expect my presence in Spirit, I want it to be the certainty, the full conviction that in that way my kingdom will come to approach men.

41. At that Second Time I announced my return, but it was not in a vague way, but clearly; however, the peoples got tired of waiting and ended up forgetting my promise.

42. I made all the signs that should announce my return appear and they also went unnoticed by men, because they were spiritually asleep, given over to the world and stationed in their religions.

43. I do not want you to be confused again now; listen to my word that tells you the way in which I will communicate with men from Spirit to spirit.

44. Put away all materialism from your heart, so that you may wait for this communication in the highest form that you can conceive, and thus you will not suffer disappointment or any confusion before reality.

45. When the Messiah was promised to Israel in the First Time, the people waited for him as for a powerful king of the earth, so when they had him before their eyes they did not recognize him.

46. While I was in the world, I announced my return to men and gave them to understand that it would be spiritually; however, now that I have sent my ray to you, becoming a word in the minds of my spokesmen, many believing me, have denied me, because they had forgotten that I was to return, or because they think that when I returned to the world, it would be in the same way in which I came at that time, that is, as a man.

47. I speak to you now of this so that you may prepare your brothers and your children, so that they may watch, and when the hour comes and the divine voice seeks you to make itself heard, men and peoples will find themselves praying, because their joy will be infinite and the revelations they receive will be incomparable.

Love one another!

48. This time will be of merit, people. The patriarchs have already given you life and examples; the prophets have already announced my messages to you. You already had Christ, who gave everything for your redemption and later apostles and envoys who brought you the light.

49. Now it is your turn to take up the cross that you previously left to others; now you must live your own passion, so that you may reach the highest significance of your spirit. Your mission is to spread light and peace among your brothers and sisters like fruitful and life-giving dew. Do not lie down to sleep. Do you want the wars unleashed in the East to invade the West as well? Do you want to see your soil stained with the blood of your fathers, sons or husbands, and the women taking the tools of the work, to work the daily bread? Do you expect to see the roads turn into streets of bitterness?

50. Recognize that while humanity is suffering and bleeding to death, you should not feast, or even remain indifferent. You must carry in your heart the pain of your fellow man, send your prayers and thoughts, as a continuous message of love and peace, asking for charity for your suffering brothers.

51. I see that you do want peace, people; but you are not fighting for it. You want me to forgive you, but without having forgiven each other before. I am teaching you to love each other even if you don't know each other, and to feel your brother's pain, even if you don't look at him because he is distant. You are not alone in your struggle, I am with you, I, who came at this time on the cloud to give you help and love in the desert that you are going through.

52. I prepared everything in this corner of the earth so that you could fulfill your mission. A new land that flowed with milk and honey, a very pure sky, a virgin, fertile and prodigal land, full of wonders and beauties, everything was arranged so that your struggle and your earthly tasks would not burden you and leave time and strength to your spirit, so that you remember your Heavenly Father, being useful and loving your fellow human beings; but if you did not know how to pray to achieve your spiritual evolution, neither did you watch over what you possessed in the world and behold, walking in your lands, you felt strangers, and contemplating your inheritance, you had no right to it. Now you have to fulfill your spiritual destiny, although you often carry bitterness and even misery in your spirit. That is why in my word I give you strength so that you do not lose heart in the struggle and know that you can still see the time of justice.

53. If the struggle is great, give warmth and encouragement to each other, that is the unification that I ask of you. You know from Me that those who are going to fight you will rise up on your way. 1950 is already approaching and I say to you: Blessed are those who take advantage of my word, because my farewell will not lacerate their heart.

Love one another!

54. No one is a prophet in their land; your people have made you bleed and cry with their doubt and their mockery; but wait and be like Jesus, be like the prophets or the apostles who instead of crying, rose up to other regions and other nations to preach the truth, where they were believed.

55. After 1950, those among you will rise up who will go to other regions and also to other nations, where they will find greater understanding, and there their wounds will be closed.

56. When my word has ceased, my prophecies will begin to be fulfilled one by one. Then the unbelievers, repentant, will believe.

57. Interpret my word properly, fulfill my commands, continue your work of regeneration, unite in truth and I tell you, peace will be in this nation. You will be recreated again with the abundance and good taste of its fruits and it will be seen by foreigners as a beacon of light, as a bulwark of justice and as an emporium of peace.

58. Turn away from your gaze every superfluous illusion, every false deity, cleanse your ways and pray for the peace of the nations.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 125

1. I am here in your abode, speaking to you through your conscience, because I am your judge. I have entrusted you all with a mission and today I come to ask you, what have you made of it.
2. I have not come at this time in secret; from the earliest times my spiritual manifestation was announced, therefore you should not be surprised.
3. Why then was no one watching, waiting for my arrival? Who cleaned his home for me to come to him? Who washed his hands to break bread at the table? Who filled his heart with love to receive me? No one; however, here I am fulfilling my promise among you.
4. If I come to teach you to fulfill a promise, understand that it is right for you to take my example and fulfill your mission. Beloved people, when you hear that I am complaining to you, you remember that having received the commission to watch over the peace of the world, you have not had peace, so you have asked me: Lord, if I am watching and praying, why is peace not coming to the nations? and I tell you because it is not enough to pray, but also to do meritorious works.
5. Already the prophets gave their blood to proclaim the truth to you; already you had me made man on earth, to live a perfect passion among you; already the apostles and the martyrs gave their lives for the love of humanity. Now is the time for you to take up your cross and fulfill your mission, so that you can contemplate the arrival of peace.
6. People, open your hearts and wake up from the deep sleep in which you live. Fight and do not be suspicious, because if you contemplate the endless desert that you cross, I tell you that in the middle of it, when the sun burns your faces more, a cloud will appear whose presence will make you feel very close to your heart.
7. In the depths of your heart you tell me that you are not worthy of my grace or my peace. And why are you not worthy? I have put the whole of nature at your disposal so that you can serve me better, I have filled you with gifts and blessings so that your life may be more peaceful and from your heart a hymn of love may rise up to Me.
8. Today I had to say to you: Make your life simple so that you have time to think about your brothers and sisters; only in this way will you be able to provide your spirit with the opportunity to free itself from the materialism that surrounds it and to fulfill its mission of loving and serving its Lord, in its fellow men.
9. Fight, more children, for the cause of peace and fraternity, but do not think you see the triumph coming, that one is still distant. Do not be confident, because enemies lurk, and even when spiritually they have no strength, you are considering them powerful and imagining them invincible.

10. Why am I judging you, people? For I do not want there to be faults and errors hidden in your heart, because I will put you before those who are to receive my message from you, and I do not want them to find something to correct you about, because you would not honor your Master in this way.

11. What would become of you, if I hid your imperfections from you? Would you regenerate in life if your faults did not have painful consequences?

12. See how much pain there is among humanity, that is the fruit of its sowing. I speak to him through conscience to move him to repentance and amendment, but his heart has become deaf to my voice.

13. Men who rule the destinies of your peoples: Are you not yet fed up with blood and lives? Do you not listen to the voice of conscience or reason? You are proud and arrogant, but my justice will bring down your pride.

14. You are proud, because with your science you have built the new tower of Babel from where you defy my power, telling the peoples that your knowledge surpasses divine revelations. By this you have trampled on the Father's law and have falsified the word of Jesus, fearing that the truth will be known, thereby losing the glory and power of the earth.

15. I have allowed your tower to rise and your science to grow, so that we may ask: Who has given you the right to dispose of the lives of your fellow men? Who has allowed you to shed his blood? Who, in the end, without missing the right thing should stand in the way of the fate of their own, brothers?

16. Humanity, daughter of light, open your eyes. see that you are living the age of the Spirit!

17. Why have you forgotten about Me and wanted to compare your power with mine? I tell you that on the day a wise man with his knowledge forms a being similar to you and endows him with spirit and gives him consciousness, I will place my scepter in his hand. But your harvest, for now, will be another.

18. On corpses and rubble, science will raise up her kingdom, which will be very brief, so that later the kingdom of justice, peace and love will be established. I will come looking for those who have fallen in the struggle, those who have lost their way, those who have been taught a different path. I will look for them to raise them to the true life, without distinguishing anyone, depositing my oscar of love, the same on the clean forehead, as on the stained one.

19. The Father speaks to you, the One who has no one to bow down to pray to; but truly I tell you, if there were someone greater above Me, I would bow down to him, because humility dwells in my Spirit. See how you, being my little creatures, make me descend so that I may speak to you, listen to you and comfort you, instead of struggling to ascend to Me.

20. My arcanum has been opened for you and the time is approaching when you will love the truth and flee from the fictitious and empty life that you have created. The splendor of the materialistic age will soon begin its decline to enter its final period. Today you understand little of what I am telling you, but soon everyone will understand.

21. How can I not talk about materializing your life, if even the divine you conceive only through the material, giving credit only to what you perceive through your senses?

22. I have been badly represented on earth by those who claim to know me, and this is the cause that many have turned their backs on me. To those who call themselves atheists, I will not claim that they have thrown me out of their hearts, but to those who, falsifying the truth, have shown a God that many have not been able to accept.

23. Everything that is just, healthy and good contains truth, which is what I have proclaimed throughout the ages.

24. The hour has come when you must love the truth again, that is, when you will recognize the just and the good again; since having been born of ME, you will have to come to aspire to the high, to the eternal, to the pure.

25. I have taken no one captive, I have forced no one to abandon the path he has chosen. To the one who wanted to search, I have allowed it, to the one who wanted to delight, I have allowed it, but to all I have shown my law, the only one, so that they do not stray from the path.

26. What is at the end of the path that humanity mistakenly follows today; what man will find when he reaches that goal will be boredom, fatigue, disappointment and pain. Can the human spirit be satisfied with such a harvest, and may it be the fruit that he gives to his Father in eternity? No, people, the human spirit is going to wake up to the result of his works, and at that hour, he will be his own judge, so that, after that judgment, he will rise up full of strength to restore and rebuild his life, taking advantage of his experience and consecrating himself to love and seek only the truth. Then he will have found the path where he will hear my voice, which says to him: Welcome, O patient and prudent Israel, who in the Third Time have arrived in the land of peace.

Love one another!

27. I have come to seek you and I say to you: Let the spirit rise and contemplate me. I am the same; time does not pass over Me; I am the Teacher who in many places and roads of Judea, spoke to you of the eternal kingdom of truth. But you have changed. The selfishness and the evil of the world has poisoned your heart and you sometimes feel unworthy of my presence. I have come because I love you, and I want you to amend your steps and strive for your spiritual advancement.

28. Don't waste the time I give you. Watch and pray, and I will tell you how you should work. Love and you will have joy, work peace, and you will feel that life on earth is a reflection of the eternal mansion.

29. Think that I have not come to give you material riches, but to invite you to make a spiritual life of renunciations and humility. And once again I say to you, "Whoever wants to follow me, let him take up his cross and come after Me." That cross will not be heavy, if you know how to carry it with patience and fortitude, assuring yourself that you will no longer be able to live without it, to the extent that if its sweet weight were taken away from you, you would ask me to place it on you again, even when you come to feel it greater than before. It is because you will have understood the gravity of the office I have entrusted to you, and that this cross represents your salvation.

30. if I have formed everything created on earth for the pleasure of man, always take it for your benefit. Do not forget that there is a voice in you that indicates the limits within which you can take what nature offers you, and it is that inner voice that you must obey. Just as you seek for your body a home, shelter, sustenance and satisfactions, to make its existence more pleasant, so you must grant to the spirit what is necessary for its well-being and progress. If he is attracted to higher regions where he finds his true abode, let him rise, do not imprison him, because he is looking for me to feed and strengthen himself. I tell you that every time you allow him to free himself like this, he will return blissfully to his envelope.

31. In this way you will prepare to comply with the laws of the spirit and those that govern life on earth.

32. I feed all beings and if I have told you, "Birds do not sow or reap or spin, and they are fed and clothed with so much love," why do you, who are the favorite son, doubt my power? In the midst of the struggle for daily sustenance, do not forget that there is a Father who watches over you and who will never let you perish. I also tell you that if you observed my precepts, your struggle would be less painful, because it would not take so much effort on your part to survive, and in the hour of your trials you would see wonders.

Love one another!

33. In the First Time, the people of Israel went through great hardships, and Moses, contemplating the despair that for lack of bread was seizing the multitudes, said to them Pray, the Lord will help himself to send food to his people. Moses prayed and waited with patience and faith for the divine will. And the manna, as a response and as a reward for the man's faith, came down to calm the needs of the people. With her I declared that I had heard his prayer and that I was with him.

34. Now I have told my people that the trials will touch them again, that the pain will be great among humanity, and that bread will not be enough to feed men, that the earth, today fertile, will become sterile for a while and that you will contemplate everywhere, pain, hunger and corruption. Caravans of men and women will go from door to door, imploring charity. The cup will be very bitter, but if you know how to pray, there will be bread on your table and comfort for you and for your brothers.

35. With prayer and charity, you will attract the spirits of good, who will protect you. If you want to feel me very close, you will get ready and you will have me presiding over your table. You will not lack what is necessary and you will make your brothers participate in the same grace.

36. Peradventure do you not have enough love to protect your fellow men in the hour of trial? Just as I have come to you, you will go to your brothers and do to them what I have done to you. Once again I tell you, that by a small portion of farmers who rise up with true cleanliness to spread my teaching, my work will be known and will be established in the hearts of those who will later be my precursors in all nations.

37. Science has not taken root in you; I look at you humbly and for that reason I have chosen you. I have given you my word, so that you may possess true science, because the knowledge that men have cannot cure the evil that afflicts humanity. That light, that science of which man is so puffed up, neither converts hearts, nor saves spirits.

38. My word, which now flows abundantly through the spokespersons, you will not hear after 1950 in this form. Only those who rise with true preparation will receive my inspiration, and when they speak in my name, they will be believed. Preparation and spirituality, is what your mission requires to be able to perform wonders. Whenever I have taken you as an instrument to heal a sick person, I have taken into account your preparation. You will not always have to try too hard to persuade your brothers of this truth, because you will find that many will feel faith from the first moment, and others will humbly confess that it was the essence of my word that healed them.

39. You will concentrate at the bottom of your heart, forming with the union of your thoughts a single spirit, so that your prayer, as if it were crystal clear water, falls at the foot of this bush that you are cultivating, the bush becomes a corpulent tree and gives you abundant fruits with what we feed in the time of trials.

40. Do not be afraid because you will not be able to receive me in pomp and finery or with royal ceremonies; your humility and simplicity are the best environment that you can prepare for my manifestation; I want spirits, because they are the ones I seek, for whom I descended into the world in another time, and for whom I gave you my blood.

41. It was I who at that time appointed the place and the hour for my coming as a man; I also have marked the place and the time when I would come among men in the Third Age. Everything was prepared with perfect justice and wisdom. A new earth was to witness my new coming; the West was to be illuminated by the radiance of my presence. Listen: A long time ago in the north of your lands there lived a great tribe, from which a prophet arose inspired by my light. He raised up and led that people in pursuit of a beautiful land, where they should found their city. Faced with such a pleasant promise, those tribes rose up in the hope of deserving that grace. They crossed jungles, crossed deserts and climbed mountain ranges; nothing stopped them, and when they encountered obstacles in their path, their faith helped them overcome them until they reached the prophesied place, which was, as in the First Time, an image of Canaan, the "Promised land" to the Israelites, the land that flowed with milk and honey.

42. See how the leaf of the tree does not move without my will and how nothing is alien to my divine designs and plans.

43. That tribe, inspired by the faith of a promise that it came to see fulfilled, built its city, and in it raised its primitive worship to its God, formed its homes and gave splendor to its empire, which in its magnificence resembled that of Solomon. It was that land, according to the promises, a land of prosperity and prosperity. The man was strong, the woman sweet and tender, and they were both beautiful; but the time came when that people were to know the name and the work of Christ, their Lord, the good news coming to them on the lips of strange men who came from the other side of the sea and whom they had already seen in a dream. Very great was the mission of those who brought to these lands the light of my doctrine; but in truth I tell you that there were very few who knew how to comply with the law of love, charity and humanity, which my teachings advised, because for the most part those men allowed themselves to be possessed by greed, forgetting every principle of fraternity, making innocent blood run in torrents, to take over everything their eyes contemplated.

44. The invaders tore down the idols of that people, causing them to blaspheme against the God that they came to reveal to them with such injustice and with such cruelty. Could those idolaters recognize through such inhuman acts Christ, the God of love, the One who takes no one's life, but rather gives his own to save the very one who has offended him? Those tribes fell under slavery and the rule of the strong, as in the First Time Israel had fallen under the yoke of Pharaohs and Caesars. It was times of pain, bitterness and tears that came upon that people, and it was then that their cry, echoing in the heavens, attracted upon itself, like a mantle of infinite tenderness, the love of Mary, the sweet Mother of the universe.

45. Because of their sensitivity, that people was destined to be Marian, because by recognizing and loving that divine truth, they found the spiritual ladder that leads Me to the spirits.

46. And that village, what is it? It is yours, which after its struggles and its long journey has contemplated the arrival of the Third Time, with my new coming.

47. It is my living word that you are listening to, so that with it you may destroy all the fanaticism and all the idolatry with which you have surrounded my name, teaching you a cult through which you may seek me from spirit to Spirit. This people will be very great and strong in spirit, when they live and practice the worship that I have been teaching them, then they will be able to abolish the lie and take to other lands the message of spirituality and light that the nations are waiting for.

48. This people will be prepared for that struggle in which my justice presides over the great battle of ideas, creeds and doctrines. Everyone will be surprised when in the midst of the whirlwind they hear a serene and firm voice that will be that of my disciples, fulfilling their mission of spiritual fraternity.

49. For now understand that as long as men do not achieve complete spirituality, they will have to need material temples, and to place before their eyes shapes or images that make them feel my presence.

50. The degree of spirituality or materialism of humanity, you can measure it by the form of its worship. The materialist seeks me in the things of the earth, and if he does not come to see me according to his desires, he represents me in some way to believe that he has me before him.

51. The one who conceives me as a Spirit, feels me inside, outside of him and in everything that surrounds him, because he has become my own temple.

52. From time to time I have made to you more and more advanced revelations that men have not been able to understand, because they have always created idolatries and more idolatries around them. At that Second Time I said to my disciples. "Do you see how great, majestic and opulent is the temple of Jerusalem? for not one stone will remain of him upon another." My word was fulfilled, because all the idolatry and profanation that were done in him, I erased with my doctrine. I promised to rebuild it in three days, which are precisely fulfilled in this Third Time, in which I come to raise up in the heart of humanity the new temple, the new sanctuary built in the purest of the human spirit.

53. Recognize my Father's mercy, looking at how, when the altar of your idolatry collapses, my word is already waiting for you, and a new light is shining on your way, so as not to let you fall into darkness.

54. Do not be surprised or scandalized if I tell you that all the splendor, power and pomp of your religions will disappear, and that, when that happens, the spiritual table will already be prepared where the multitudes hungry for love and truth will come to feed.

55. Many men, when they hear these words, will deny that they are mine; but then I will ask them why they are indignant and what they defend. His life? I defend that one. My law? I watch over her, too.

56. Do not be afraid, that no one will die because of me, only evil will die, because good, truth and justice will prevail eternally.

57. People, what voice is this that you hear in the depths of your heart, to what paths does it lead you and why do you seek it? I know why you follow me; it is that you know that the voice you hear is that of your God, of the One whom through the times and your evolution you have sought in many ways.

58. You all know that this voice, which reaches to the depths of your being, is that of your Father, because he treats you like children, like children, with perfect love.

59. I come to show myself as a loving Father, as a humble Teacher, never indifferent to your sufferings and always forgiving and merciful before your imperfections, because you will always be children before Me.

60. I have to judge you when I contemplate how the creatures who were formed with so much love, and destined for eternal life, stubbornly seek death on earth, without worrying about spiritual life, nor wishing to know the perfections that that existence reserves for you.

61. Study my word, so that you may know that my law is in it, and that therefore it is the word of a king who never turns back. Neither should you go back on the way, if you take into account that you carry in your spirit my word that is the law, and that your body is inferior to your spirit; therefore, listen more to the voice of conscience, in which I am present, and not the voice of the flesh.

Love one another!

62. My divine word descends on your spirit and you feel full of spiritual essence; but, if this word were false, your spirit would never feel satisfied after listening to it, nor would you gather again to wait for it with the eagerness with which you are doing it.

63. I am the dawn that has begun a new time for humanity, in which your spirit will see illuminated the path that leads to Me. Do you know which rung of the ladder of perfection you are on? do you know if you are spiritually elevated or immersed in the kingdom of evil? Truly I tell you, none of you could satisfactorily answer these questions.

64. Do not think that while your spirit, because it is incarnated, inhabits the earth, it will have to concretize itself to live the material existence; no, you should all know that from your earthly abode you can spiritually inhabit the regions of light, where the kingdom is that will come to inhabit eternally.

65. The spirit on earth is only supported by a weak point of support that is the body, which serves to inhabit the world and receive through it the lessons or tests that the Father is pleased to send him. However long and painful the atonement may be in the world, you should never regard it as a prison. No one has been condemned to death, but I tell you, you have all been destined to live. Each creature, at birth to life, received from the Creator an oscar (holy spear) that was an antidote against evil and a breastplate against the lurking.

66. I am the cause of your existence, so recognize that your origin is in the good. If your past on earth has been impure, sinful or in any way far from my laws, let your conscience shine through, emerging into a new life, and leaving behind the path in which the abuse of material pleasures resulted in you falling into vice and pain. Seek in the example that I gave you through Jesus, the luminous path for your spirit, Because my steps on earth, my works and my word, were the perfect lesson and the parable of eternal life that I bequeathed to the spirit of humanity.

67. I leave you anointed with my balm and with my forgiveness; know me, O little ones, because the knowledge you have of Me is still very small. What I tell you in a lecture, is not all that I have to reveal to you. Come tirelessly to Me and the "book of life" will be opened before your eyes.

68. You have already received the First Testament, my law and my presence in the time of Moses. You already had in the Second Time the Second Testament, bequeathed by Christ to men through his Divine Word; now receive directly from my Spirit the Third Testament, so that, uniting the three revelations, you can become the great disciples of the Third Time.

Love one another!

69. People, listening to me, you transport yourselves and contemplate my presence in a spiritual mirage. It is not your senses that contemplate me in that mirage, nor is it a mirage of your imagination, it is the faith with which you are listening to me, it is your spirituality and elevation of this moment. Here you feel my peace; but how close to you are those who create pain. They are the ambitious ones who, in order to be crowned, do not hesitate to put their brothers to death. Get ready to fight, so that you will soon know that you must not go after high stilts of false foundations, because divine justice destroys everything that is vain.

70. Sick, come to Me; I come to heal you. The hungry know that I am waiting for you. The murderer, through whose veins runs hatred, come to Me, that I will transform his obfuscation into light and his bitterness into good taste. Come all of you to listen to me and to prepare your spirit, because after 1950 the splendor of the reign of light will begin. Today you are just a seed; tomorrow you will be plants and finally you will bear fruits of love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 126

1. Whose voice is it that reaches to the bottom of your heart? Where is she leading you and why are you looking for her? You come to seek her, because in her you find the presence of the One who has constantly come to seek men; and since your spirit needs to worship its God, when it feels Him close, it no longer wants to depart from Him.
2. Through many paths men come in search of me; they are the different religions that exist on earth, and within them those who feel closer to me are those who carry greater spirituality, those who are sowing love in their journey.
3. My voice is of a Father because it caresses you; my word is of a Teacher because it instructs you. Like children and toddlers I look at you, and therefore I lavish my care on you.
4. I know that this way of communicating with you, that this word that I give you now, will be fought and denied by many; but I also know that later it will be understood and believed; then my light will begin to shine with splendor in the heart of man. This time will be like a new day for humanity; but not because the divine light will shine with greater intensity than before, because it is immutable; it will be because the eyes of your spirit will be opened to penetrate the truth.
5. Today I find myself with a humanity that is failing spiritually, because of the abuse it has made of the gift of free will. I traced a path of justice, of ardor, of charity, of goodness; man has created another of apparent light, which has led him to the abyss.
6. When you return, my word shows you the same path, the one that you did not want to take; and it would be unjust and foolish for me to say that this doctrine confuses or lethargics.
7. My light shines from infinity on the spirits and makes you look more clearly at the paths you have created, to get away from Me or to look for Me. Walk towards Me, towards the perfect. Only the one who rises towards the summit of the mountain will be able to know how much he has left below, how much he has progressed and from how much he has freed himself. Did you think, humanity, that because you have descended so much, I would not come to look for you and to bring you out of your sin? Here you have my presence; I come to heal your wounds and to dry your tears; I come to comfort you in your sadness and to accompany you in your loneliness; I come to converse with your spirit to make you feel my divine oscar (holy spear).
8. My love will lift those who have fallen into it out of the mud and will save them, because they too sprang from the divine womb to fulfill a mission of love.

Love one another!

9. Recognize that when you have fallen into error, you are looking for death, without understanding that you were created to live. You are going after the cup of bitterness, when I have sown your existence with high delights and true joys.

10. See, people, how different is my righteousness from how you conceive it, when you thought that my scepter would come to exterminate you for disobedient to my law! I have called those who have been most defiled to entrust them with beautiful missions and noble offices that will mean them to others and save them from their mistakes. This blessed work will be made known with deeds, and in order for you to be of those who give examples, you need to prepare.

11. I come to deposit my word, which is the law, the doctrine and the seed, in your spirit, not in your matter; the spirit is the depository, the responsible one; if you keep this word there, it will not fall into emptiness, it will not suffer alteration.

12. I am the dawn that begins to illuminate at this time, and you are among the first to awaken at this dawn. It is not a new light, it is the one that has illuminated your consciousness in all times. This voice that says to you: Rise up to Me through spirituality, is the same one that told you at that time: "Persevere in what is good and you will be saved", and also told you: "Love one another". This spiritual path of which I am speaking to you now is the one that I made known to Jacob in distant days, by revealing to him the scale of perfection. There is that ladder in front of every spirit, as a path that invites you to ascension. Its base is this human valley, below there are abysses, but I did not create those. Upward are the steps in infinite number, like a slope that leads to the summit of spirituality.

13. Who will be just on the first rung? Who in the darkness of the abyss? Who is on the highest rungs? They are secrets that only my justice knows.

14. I send you to the esplanade, to the valley, to start the walk and I point out to you on the horizon the mountain that you must climb.

15. See how this doctrine is for the spirit, because while matter is getting closer to the bosom of the earth with each passing day, the spirit, on the other hand, is getting closer and closer to eternity.

16. The body is the support point on which the spirit rests while inhabiting the earth. Why let it become a chain that holds or a cell that imprisons? Why let him be the helm of your life? Is it right for a blind man to guide one who has sight in his eyes?

17. I am the one who makes life known to you in all its phases; it is the sustenance of the body and the spirit; whoever complies with the laws of the spirit and with human laws, has consecrated his entire life to the Creator.

Love one another!

18. I will be a forerunner of you when you are about to reach the spiritual valley; I always go ahead. May your spirit never fall into idleness, may it always try to take one more step on the path of progress, which is perfection.

19. Do not be content to say: I believe in the Lord, show your faith in what you do. Do not just say in words: I love the Father; submit yourselves to the test so that you may know if you really love me.

20. I have spoken to you and my word is anointing; I have anointed you as teachers,

21. Why do men continue to ignore me more and more, despite the fact that the human mind has been enlightened with new advances? For in attending only to cultivating the tree of knowledge, they have been neglecting the perfecting of the spirit.

22. He had already said to you: "Watch and pray so that you do not fall into temptation, but even prayer, which is the language that the spirit uses to speak to his Lord, has been forgotten. It is an unknown language for men of this time.

23. When they ever feel the need to pray, they do not find words with which to express themselves before Me; however, I understand perfectly what each one asks, without the need for words or thoughts; but when my Spirit answers them, they do not understand me, because they have not prepared themselves; then the voice of their Teacher, which should be familiar, is unknown to them.

24. If the prayer that I have taught humanity had been practiced with purity, from generation to generation, men would have achieved greater and greater spirituality to listen to my voice; then at this time their spiritual communication with the divine would serve them to form a world kinder, more just and more real than the one they have created with their materialism.

25. Why have you believed that spiritualism is something that opposes the development of your material life? When have I condemned your science applied to the good of humanity? If anyone dared to say it, it would not be fair to his Father.

26. Through spirituality, a degree of elevation is achieved that allows man to conceive ideas beyond what his mind can sense and have power over the material.

27. Now think, if the elevation of the spirit is used in the study of the material creation that nature presents to you, or of any other human ideal, you can already imagine the fruits that you could obtain when your discoveries were not due only to the scrutiny with the mind, but also the spiritual revelation made to you by the One who created everything intervened.

Love one another!

28. Watch and pray, I say to you again, so that you may come to know my voice, so that my inspiration may come to you and you may understand it, because there are many lessons that I have yet to tell you.

29. I come to save you from your shipwreck; I am the beacon that shines through the darkness; seek Me, trust in Me and I will help you transform your life into a world of peace, virtue and spiritual elevation.

30. Share with Me the joy that my Spirit experiences, every time you plant one of the trees that must give their shade to humanity. Seven precincts opened their doors in the present year of 1944, as a representation of the seven that Roque Rojas implanted in 1866; but if those first ones were divided and did not know how to live in harmony, you carry your charge with obedience and fraternity. Imitate the sixth precinct from which you come and persevere in my mandates; form the seven one shadow and give everyone the same fruit; this is a pact that you have made with my Divinity. Before the oath to follow me sprouts from your heart, I test, purify and strengthen you, so that your purpose may be unshakable and conscience may tell you that this promise has been written before the ark of the new covenant.

31. The covenant that you make with Me is not a material commitment, it is a spiritual charge that you have accepted to contract with your Father, with the One who made everything created; I teach you to fulfill your spiritual mission, but I also charge you to fulfill every commitment and every promise that you make in what is human, so that they recognize you for the truth of your spirit and for the sincerity of your heart; make your yes, always be yes, and your no, always be no; then there will be confidence that your determinations will always be firm. Never break a sacred covenant, such as that of marriage, parenthood and friendship.

32. If ignorance of human duties and commitments entails such great suffering, what will it be when you turn your back on a spiritual mission contracted with your Lord? It is true that my cause requires renunciations and sacrifices, but I also tell you that it is the ideal that never disappoints the one who pursues it; he who reaches the goal, will achieve immortality. Now I tell you, study my word thoroughly so that you do not form a separate group on earth; reach a degree of understanding and preparation that allows you to live spiritually with everyone and not divided. My doctrine does not come to sow the seed of division.

33. The time is approaching when truth, reason and light will prevail over force, violence and fear; but when will man be able to say, like Christ, "My kingdom is not of this world," and without ignoring anything created, taking everything with just measure, recognize that earthly goods are temporary, Understand that the true strength is in the spirit, that the power of the earth, its vanities, its glories and the splendor of its science, however long its reign, succumbs to eternity.

34. With its false greatness, humanity has suffered many disappointments, and in truth I tell you that it will suffer greater ones. What will become of men when their conscience, which is their judge, awakens them and they contemplate his work? His pain will be acerbic, his repentance great, and then his reaction will be to seek a spiritual path to atone for his faults; that time will be of religious exaltation, which will reach the highest height of fanaticism; then the struggles and battles between religions and sects will come; you stay awake and don't go waiting for the rumor of that fight to come to wake you up, because then you won't know where your weapons are to fight. Look how I am multiplying the number of these enclosures that I figuratively call trees, in order that their branches may spread out offering their fruits.

35. I am building the temple of the Holy Spirit; but when it has been built, the precincts, the temples and shrines, together with their symbols, their rites and their traditions, will no longer exist or have lost their reason for being; then you will feel my greatness and my presence, you will recognize the universe as a temple and love for your fellow beings as worship. From the bosom of Mother nature new lights will spring up, which will make your science a path of prosperity, because it will be guided by the conscience that is the voice of God.

36. He will no longer be the master of the world, but the collaborator of the spirit, who will guide and enlighten him.

37. In these times when love and charity have fled from the hearts of men, the Father says to you: Calm down and rest.

38. I have tried you in all times and even more so in the present; you have asked yourselves what will be the cause of your pains, you raise your spirit to converse with Me and you tell me: My sufferings are greater than those of my brothers. No, my children, war with all its consequences has not come to your nation. Others suffer more than you. If you feel pain, it is because you carry the weight of a great responsibility and because you are feeling the pain of others. If you suffer for them, blessed are you, for your work will bear good fruit. Work among humanity and my word will encourage you every moment.

39. You feel that the judge is very close to you at this time and each one is preparing to give an account of his work. You enter into recollection, you examine your heart and you wait for the voice of your conscience to point out to you your mistakes, and I tell you: I have seen that you have put your spirit and heart in your works, that sometimes you have gone beyond your duties, reaching the sacrifice to fulfill my commands, therefore I bless you; but in truth I have not asked you for sacrifices; there are works that I will do for you, because they are beyond your possibilities. You just have to pray and trust.

40. Today, having come to communicate with men, I find that they and their ways have changed, and in order to understand and follow me they have to fight more. Sin has multiplied and the environment is polluted. Evil influences invade and cause disorder, obfuscating the mind and the heart; and in the midst of this environment the people of Israel struggle to achieve their liberation and help humanity. Your merits will be greater, if you work patiently and humbly for my work, overcoming the difficult living conditions that you suffer.

41. If you feel ready to talk about my doctrine, do so; if you have not yet analyzed and your word does not have the strength to convince, wait a while longer, continue listening to me until you have assimilated my teaching.

42. How many there are who, listening to my Word through human understanding, have not believed me or been convinced! How many more will doubt you if you do not prepare yourselves! The world will come to you with its weapons, with its theories, and if you are not prepared, you will weaken. They will search you mercilessly, they will ask you how you have received the revelation of my coming, by what means you have received my doctrine, and you will answer each of their questions. You will be kind and forgiving, you will look for the clearest way to explain the truth of my word, to make them understand its meaning and you will help them so that they can be enlightened.

43. I leave My peace among you, savor it, enjoy it to the extent that your life allows it, because the kingdom of peace has not yet descended among men. Today you are living in a time of chaos, of disturbances, but I have come to bring you the antidote of all evil and I promise you in fulfillment of my word of the past times, that peace will come like a radiant dawn to illuminate your spirit and that this time of sorrows will not leave a trace.

44. The time is approaching when new generations full of grace will inhabit the earth bringing a sacred mission, then my word that says to you will be fulfilled: "The last will be First and the first last". Each one fulfills in his stage because you do not know if he will grant you to come in the time of peace.

45. Feel my comfort, humanity. Live in Me and you will not fear the rigor of trials.

46. Mary, your intercessor, blesses you, I bless you too.

47. The Christian world often forgets the spiritual works of Jesus, for giving greater importance to some of his material facts. Thus, for example, he confuses his human poverty with his humility, and his physical pain with the true passion that he lived in

Love one another!

Spirit; and he takes his bodily blood as the one that washed away the sins of the world, forgetting that the true blood, that which is eternal life for the spirit, is the essence of his word.

48. The Master tells you that if that body had had reason to dwell among you forever, the Father would have protected it from its executioners, or once dead, if it had been useful for your salvation in any way, he would have left it to you; but once his mission on that cross was completed, your eyes could no longer contemplate it, so that you would seek from the Divine Master what you should take from Him, his word, his works, his humility and all his examples of perfect love.

49. That human form disappeared from the earth, only the divine essence of the Word, who spoke in Jesus, remained floating in the consciousnesses. That is what you must look for, the essence, the spiritual meaning of that message of life and love.

50. Stop worshiping your Father through material forms, so that you may learn to love Him directly with the spirit.

51. When someone asked Jesus: Are you a king? the Master replied, "I have come for that," but everyone doubted that He could be king, judging by the poverty of his clothes. No one glimpsed behind the humility of that man the majesty of which he spoke, or sensed at the bottom of that word the promise of a reign of peace, love, fortune and justice.

52. The human gaze always stops at the exterior; it does not analyze, that is where the unjust and erroneous interpretations of man come from.

53. Do you know that Jesus was questioned, insulted and even denied at that time? Do you know that even His own disciples could not tell who He was when they were questioned? In the same way, at this time the world will ask who it is who has spoken to you, and many will deny that it was Christ, the one who has conversed with you, Then some of my disciples will be confused and will not know who it is who has spoken to them, whether it was the Father, the "Word", or the Holy Spirit, to which I tell you, that just as there is only one truth, there is only one divine essence that I have given you throughout the ages, so call it: law, doctrine or revelation.

54. He who has loved that truth and followed that light has loved and followed his Father.

55. The spiritual disciple must always seek the essence of my works, so that he may discover the truth in my divine messages. You will see then how simple it is to find the meaning of everything that some involve in the mystery and others complicate with their theologies.

Love one another!

56. Spirituality means simplicity; why then complicate what is simple, clear and diaphanous as light?

57. At this time you have risen up following my word, to quench your thirst for justice and love in it. You hear Me as good disciples and I watch attentively turning the pages of the book of teaching. You are the chosen ones, do not be surprised when I tell you these lessons. But you are not the only privileged ones; in my work of equity and love I have given all spirits with precious attributes. You who have been called before, do not magnify yourselves; prepare yourselves only so that you can fulfill your mission and be understood and followed by your brothers.

58. You have always looked for me to thank me for the benefits I grant you. And my Spirit, whom you cannot contemplate, is the one who speaks clearly to you in this way. I will not allow the spokespeople, whom I use, to lie. I will make myself felt in their conscience and they will know that their work is pleasant for the peace that their heart experiences.

59. I will fulfill your ambition for progress. I put everyone at the beginning of the path so that you can start the journey.

60. Recognize that the reason for my third coming among you is my love for humanity. I have come in Spirit to fulfill my promise.

61. I said to you at that time, "He who knows the Son knows the Father." I gave testimony of Myself. At this time I come to clarify with the light of my Spirit, what was a mystery for humanity. I enlighten you to gather into one book the commandments of the Lord, the word of Jesus and the revelations that my Holy Spirit is making to you at this time, and confirm that I have come to you to bear witness to my truth in three times.

62. My word of the past times has not been properly interpreted, but the seed is in the spirit and there it will be cultivated by Me.

63. Israel can converse with her God from a high spiritual plane. Come to Me and if you have doubts, ask. I wanted you to keep in constant communication with Me, but you, wanting to spiritualize yourselves, have fallen into mysticism or fanaticism. And my will is that you understand my word, which advises simplicity and purity in all your acts.

64. Today you come in small numbers to listen to me, but the spiritual legions that approach Me in these manifestations are immense. My word is like cleansing water that cleanses everyone. I come to teach you so that you feel your responsibility and do not tell me later: I did not know what I did, there was no light, my parents did not advise me, my home was a nest of discord. I have seen that children do not know their parents, that parents do not set a good example for their children, that brothers are at war with brothers, and I ask you: When will you be united? I have always sent you virtuous beings to earth, to advise you and make you progress in your world.

65. If you are married, bear in mind that the man and the woman who have joined in marriage, must make their home a temple, so that in it you can shelter and lead your children. Do not leave them an inheritance of pain. Each one of you in your passage through life will find just compensation for your deeds.

66. Just as you seek to please a friend, seek to please Me. Ask, ask and I will give you. I have formed you for the recreation of my Spirit and I am pleased to grant you what helps you in your evolution.

67. Temptation inspires you with hatred, and a man who is weak by nature, does works of destruction in the heart of his brother. And I ask you, What right do you have to destroy what I have created? Why do you kill the faith, why do you censure? Humanity does not do pleasant works before Me at this time, but the light of my Spirit shines and I prepare you to fight iniquity. I invite you to fight so that you throw away from yourselves what is harmful, what makes you go back in your evolution.

68. Be quickened in Me. Take my word for it so you won't get hungry again. Today you feast at the table, you taste my bread, and you will always remember that the Master sat his disciples at his table, talked with them and fed them for eternity. I have told you that when you call on Me with your pure heart, I am with you. I have heard your prayer and therefore I have come down, see me with the eyes of faith, which are the ones I have prepared; I am before you and I have made you worthy of my presence. Acknowledge me by the truth of my word. This is the lap you had walked away from; but whenever the world separates you from Me, make an effort to take back, and this loving bosom will always be open for you to penetrate into it.

69. Just as I came to you in the Second Time as a sign of alliance with man and returned to the Father, today I have come for a while and my universal ray will be retained in 1950; that is why I have told you that you will no longer have this manifestation after that year. Then you will communicate with Me from spirit to Spirit and my grace will descend into your heart. The day will come when you will feel very close to Me, simple hearts of my people. Serve Me by serving your brothers; become doctors, and if they would repay your charity with a smile, you should be satisfied. I will write your works in the hereafter.

70. Love Mary, your sweet Mother, seek her spiritually; do not put any effigy in front of you to feel her close. She is the tenderness of the Lord, which you have seen manifested at all times. She is your divine intercessor. Love her, so that I may say to her again, "Mother, behold your son!"

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 127

1. Close your material eyes to this manifestation, for it is your spirit that I wish to converse with.
2. I promised to come back and I couldn't stop attending this spiritual appointment with you.
3. Have peace so that you listen to me carefully and let the chisel of my word shape your spirit.
4. You walked a lot in search of a place that would bring you peace and you could not find it, and when you came for the first time to these humble places to hear my word, you did not imagine that in them, so poor and humble, you were to find the peace that you had longed for so much.
5. I come to conquer you through love, for this I am giving you this teaching, so that with it you may teach your brothers, travelers, walkers, with the solicitude and charity with which I have received you.
6. Man does not live on bread alone, because in him there are hunger and thirst that do not come from the body, and that, to calm them, they have to look for water and spiritual bread. But pain must touch you so that you may understand my teachings.
7. Some ask me: Lord, why is human love illicit and abominable before You and do you only approve of spiritual love?
8. No, people. It is true that the highest and purest loves correspond to the spirit, but I also placed a heart in matter so that he could love and I gave him senses so that through them he could love everything around him.
9. I entrusted human life to the spiritual world so that it would come to dwell on earth and test its love for Me there. For this I divided human nature into two parts, giving the strongest to one and the most fragile to the other. Those parts were the man and the woman. Only when both beings were united could they be strong and happy. For this, marriage was instituted. Human love is blessed by Me. when inspired by the love of the spirit.
10. The love that lies only in matter is typical of irrational beings, because they lack a conscience that illuminates their path; on the other hand, I will tell you that good unions must always sprout good fruits and incarnate in them spirits of light.
11. It is time for you to purify your seed, O people, so that you may form a family that is strong in spirit and in matter. Understand me, my children, so that you may interpret my will well, because the year 1950 is already approaching, and you must remember that it is the year that I have indicated for my communication to end. I want that day to find you prepared, because only those who have achieved that preparation will be able to remain firm in their positions. Those will be the ones who will bear true witness to Me in the future.

12. Think that only those who have achieved spiritualization will be able to manifest my work, because those who have not prepared for the new form of communication, how can they have the necessary inspiration, to receive my thoughts and interpret my messages?

13. I want you all to achieve progress so that your testimony may be for the good of humanity. Behold, if some thought one way and others another, they would bring confusion to the multitudes.

14. The essence of this word has never changed since the beginning of its manifestation, when I spoke to you through Damiana Oviedo; the meaning of my doctrine has been himself.

15. But where is the essence of those words? What was made of it? Hidden are the writings of those divine messages that were the first of this time, in which my Word has poured out so much among you. It is necessary that these lessons come to light, so that tomorrow you will be able to bear witness to what the beginning of this manifestation was like. This way you will know the date of my first lesson, its content and that of the last one I give you in the year 1950, the year marked for this stage to end.

16. Today, you still do not foresee the chaos that will be in humanity after my word has risen, nor can you imagine the whirlwind that such an event will unleash among the nations. You must notice that your responsibility is getting greater and greater, because at each time you are having more and more light. Your inheritance is already very great and it is essential that you share it with your brothers and sisters in need, before you leave this earth.

17. Sensitize your hearts so that you understand my word, because you have not yet understood it. How will you be able to receive and understand my word, when tomorrow gives it to you as inspiration?

18. Unite yourselves in truth and in spirit and you will not be divided even in the greatest trials. One God, one will and one word have been with you; therefore, no different commands can arise in the future than those that have now been given to you.

19. Will anyone dare to go over my will? That would be tantamount to division and war arising within this people, because while some would have to take refuge in the truth, others would take false words to divert the congregations from the true path.

Love one another!

20. Do not weaken, people, remember at all times that I have called you "strong". If I have not disappointed your faith and I have proved to you that the essence of my word is not variable, how could you disappoint your brothers by giving them a bad example? It is time for you to prepare what you are going to leave for the coming generations.

21. Many in their hearts are saying to me: Master, are you watching that we are going to be unfaithful to you? How would that be possible? And I answer you the same thing that I said to my apostles in the Second Time: "Watch and pray, so that you do not fall into temptation", because it is known to all of you that among those there was one who betrayed me and sold me; and you do not know who, calling himself my disciple, does it at this time.

22. My Spirit makes the call to you, my voice as a Teacher descends to your heart and the Spirit of your Heavenly Father will always be close to you, who will seek you to give you his caress.

23. I am the summit that every spirit must seek, because whoever reaches it, will be able to contemplate all the beauty of creation and the splendor of the works of his Father.

24. My word comes to chisel your heart, to sculpt your spirit, to make it similar in light to my Spirit.

25. See that you are not before confused understandings, but before the one who comes to prove to you the perfection and the truth of a law. I have brought you closer to the tree of life, from whose branches the good fruits hang. Today there is a feast in my house; many of you are at my table; but who of those present will turn their backs on me tomorrow? Only I know.

26. Everyone who aspires to a spiritual inheritance, come to my table, sit with Me and eat of this bread, so that when he gets up, he will feel the owner of my peace, and his spirit will become one more link in the chain of love that I am forming, and with which I am uniting my children.

27. Come, come and knock on my doors. Come, you outcasts, eat and get dressed, but then follow in my footsteps. Know the laws dictated by Me and fulfill them, so that you do not drink the cup of bitterness. Understand that whoever strays from the perfect path, strays from my kingdom and is in danger of meeting death.

28. I am giving you more than each one can need; why? It is so that you may tell your brothers and sisters how much I have entrusted to you; but be spiritualized, so that not only the sorrows that your eyes contemplate may come to move you, but even those that are beyond your gaze, because they will not be beyond the reach of your charity. Nor should your sensitivity be limited to feeling the sorrows of the beings of this world; no, you should also sense when a spirit approaches you in the invisible in search of charity. In such cases, only spirituality will be able to reveal these needs to you.

Love one another!

29. How much joy will my Spirit experience, when I contemplate that the river of life, which gushed from my bosom, is passing from one to another, quenching their thirst and washing them of their impurities!

30. Take advantage of your life, because it is brief; a year is an instant that is lost in the immensity of time. Follow the Father's plans meekly and you will not lose a single one of the precious moments of life entrusted to you.

31. I have told you that my complacencies are over and that you must analyze, so that you understand what I want to tell you. The tolerance that I have had for your selfish and materialized life has reached its limit; however, I will have new pleasures with you, but they will be of a spiritual nature.

32. The book is open; it was I who opened it, its pages will constantly show you its divine content.

33. My gaze envelops you in these moments in which your prayer has come to Me. My light as Father, Teacher and Judge has descended on your spirit. Yes, people, because it is the day when I come down to collect your offering, to ask what is the fruit of the works that you have come to present today.

34. Your spirit is silent, your heart stops, and your conscience attends to your judgment.

35. I no longer regard you as little children, for you are great spirits who were placed by Me on the path of spiritual perfection from the First Time. That is why I have called you firstborn and have made you confidants and heirs of my Spirit; that is why I come to ask you for an account and to ask you what you have done with your spirit and also with that matter, which as an instrument has been entrusted to you. I have sent you in this Third Time with the delicate mission of making known the light of the Sixth Seal and so that the great multitudes that will form my people may gather around you. I have communicated through the human understanding to teach and prepare you, and I have set the year 1950 as the end for this communication. Keep it in mind because that day is already approaching and you must examine yourself in time in the light of conscience, so that you know whether or not you have taken advantage of the entrusted time.

36. I have granted you the grace of communication from the spiritual world of light, so that he would make your journey easier and I have sent Elijah before you, so that he would cleanse your way and revive you in trials. I have sent you the angel of peace, so that you may feel his influence, defending you against the threat of wars and the unleashed elements.

Love one another!

37. I am speaking to you as a Father, but do not seek me as a judge. I love you and I have waited for you a lot, but remember that my judgment will be inexorable on the universe and that you must be unified in Me so that you rise up to deliver the word of the Master everywhere.

38. If you aspire to peace and happiness and if you want to have the right to health and well-being, recognize that these graces will only be achieved by loving your fellow human beings, forgiving those who offend you, sharing your bread with the needy, that inexhaustible bread of the spirit that I have given you in torrents.

39. Be spirits of peace in these times of war in which your prayer is like a mantle of fraternity that extends over the whole world.

40. I behold the earth reddened by human blood, and the men who do not cease in their crimes. Draw my peace to the world, for otherwise my righteousness will be from nation to nation, and you too will have to answer to me for your lack of charity.

41. I do not want to contemplate you before Me as prisoners; I want to see you always as my children, for whom my Father's love is always ready to help you; I have created you for the glory of my Spirit and so that you may be recreated in Me.

42. I do not stop to contemplate your faults, nor do I want to see your sin; I want to see in you the purpose of amendment and the spiritual deepening within my work.

43. Learn to love me spiritually, as I love you, blotting out your stains with my forgiveness. If this life in the valley of tears is a banishment for you, weep and vent your pain in Me and strengthen yourselves, because your spirit is being purified. Bear your cross with patience and resignation, letting the flame of faith and hope shine in your heart.

44. Turn your faces and behold humanity, orphaned by peace; but forgive her, if the effect of her war should be felt in you.

45. I bless those who have withstood the trials that I have sent them; I bless those who have worked in my countryside; I bless the hands that have healed the sick and the men and women who have been regenerated. I bless the sick who in the midst of their pain have blessed me and all those who have attributed to my charity the benefits they have received. But I not only bless those who love me or recognize me, I bless all my children with the same love.

46. It is my will that you destroy in yourselves all fanaticism and all that is superfluous in your worship, because I want to find in your spirit the true sanctuary to my Divinity.

Love one another!

47. Deposit my balm on the sick, but if with all your preparation and charity you fail to heal some of them, leave that cause to Me, who I answer for it. I tell you, if any of my disciples were to reach perfect spirituality, he would be like Jesus, who with his gaze, with his voice, with his will or with just touching, healed the sick and raised the dead.

48. Disciples, just as I have descended to receive the fruit of this people, I have come to gather the harvest and the tribute of the entire universe, of all natures, of all kingdoms, of all worlds and abodes, of all beings known and unknown to men, from the most perfect to the most distant from perfection. Above all I am shedding my light and making my presence felt.

49. Humanity is spiritually living the Third Time; but whoever does not know what the Third Time means, let him study and deepen himself in my word that is making great revelations to you; although much of what you have to come to know, you will not know it in this life, because your intelligence would not be able to understand it. When you penetrate into the spiritual life, I will make new revelations to you.

50. At this moment I am speaking to the nations of the earth. Everyone has My light, with it they will reflect that they have come to take life as if they were the owners of it. Truly I tell you, your destruction and your pain has aroused deep repentance in many and has awakened millions of beings to the light, who seek and invoke me, and from them a cry rises that reaches Me, asking: Father, will the war not cease in 1945, nor will you come to dry our tears and bring us peace?

PROPHECY RECEIVED ON JANUARY 1, 1945:

51. Behold my presence among you, O seven nations! Seven heads that you have raised up in the world before Me!

52. ENGLAND: I enlighten you. My righteousness will greatly touch you still, but I give you the strength, I touch your heart and I tell you: Your ambitions will fall, your powers will be taken away from you and they will be given to no one.

53. GERMANY: I touch your pride at this moment and I say to you: Prepare yourselves, for your seed will not perish. You have asked for new lands from me, and men have stood in my high judgments. I touch your neck and I say to you: Take my strength and trust in Me that I will save you; but if you do not trust in Me and give yourselves up to your pride, you will fall and become a slave of the world; but that is not my will, because it is the time when I come overthrowing the lords and freeing the slaves and captives. Take my light and rise up.

54. RUSSIA: My Spirit contemplates everything. The world will not be yours. I will be the one, reign over all of you. You will not be able to erase my name, because Christ who speaks to you will reign over all men.

55. Dematerialize and get ready for a new life, because if it doesn't work that way, I will break your pride. I give you my light.

56. ITALY: You are no longer the Lord of former times; today ridicule, slavery and war have destroyed you. You are going through a great purification because of your degeneration. But I say to you, Regenerate yourselves, put away your fanaticism and idolatry and recognize me as the Lord of lords. I will pour out new inspirations and light among you. Take my balm and forgive one another.

57. FRANCE: You make me aware of your pain. Your lament reaches the height of my throne. I receive you. Yesterday you stood up as lord, now you only present to me the chains that you drag. You have not watched or prayed; you have given yourselves over to the pleasures of matter, and the dragon has taken prey on you. But I will save you, for the cry of your wives and the crying of children comes to Me. You want to be saved, and I give you my hand, but in truth I say to you: Watch, pray and forgive.

58. UNITED STATES. At this moment I also receive you. I contemplate your heart, not of stone, but of metal, of gold. I find your metal brain hardened. I do not find love in you, I do not discover spirituality, I only see greatness, ambitions and greed.

59. Go on, but I ask you, When will my seed take root deeply in you?;when will you tear down your "golden calf" and your "tower of Babel", to build the true temple of the Lord? I touch your conscience, from the first to the last and forgive you. I enlighten you so that in the supreme hour, when the trial reaches its culmination, your mind will not be clouded, but you will think clearly and remember that I am before you

60. I give you light, strength and power. Do not interfere with my high judgments, because if you disobey my commands or cross the limit that I point out, pain, destruction, fire, plague and death will be with you.

61. JAPAN. I receive you and I speak to you. I have entered your sanctuary and have contemplated everything. You do not want to be last, you have always wanted to be first and truly I tell you, That seed is not pleasing in My sight. It is necessary that you hurry the cup of bitterness, so that your heart may be purified. It is necessary that your language should blend with other languages; it is necessary that the world should draw near to you. When the world is ready and clean, he will bring you seed that I will give to him, because I see no one ready.

Love one another!

62. I do not contemplate in you the spiritual seed of my Divinity. But I will prepare the way. Soon there will be chaos of idleness in the universe, confusion of sciences and theories, and after that chaos the light will come to you.

63. I prepare and forgive you all and cause you to enter the right path. When the moment is marked and peace comes to the nations, do not be reluctant, do not intercede in my high judgments, nor oppose my will. If the nations have signed, do not betray them, for then I will pour out my justice on you.

64. Seven nations! Seven heads! The Father has received you. Before you, under your dominion, is the world. You will answer me about him.

65. Let the light of the "book of the seven seals" be on each of the nations, so that men may prepare themselves according to my will.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 128

1. I come to give you my word, which is the ladder that leads to my kingdom. If you practice what I teach you, you will awaken to a new life. Anyone who wants to perfect himself will find the way prepared. My voice is calling you because you are all my beloved children.
2. Come to Me and possess my kingdom. Come, children and young men, for I am pleased to hear your request. Lonely women, I am the chaste bridegroom who comes to accompany you; beloved men, be with me. I behold you all overcome by trials, but from them I come to raise you up. Don't be surprised if he comes looking for you this way. Have you not seen love reflected in my charity? Have you not also seen the Mother weep with love for humanity? The cup that you all drink is very bitter, but it purifies you, because those tears that you shed are like the essences that Magdalene poured out when she anointed the feet of Jesus. Now, as then, I forgive you your sins.
3. You go through the world encountering evil and you have to pass over it, without stain, but my strength sustains you so that you do not fall, because without it you would weaken. Be prudent, watch, pray and you will be invincible.
4. I contemplate humanity spiritually poor, because the power it has acquired is material. Before the spiritual, material works are small, they will not make the spirit immortal; only the merits that are achieved in the struggle for the good, will give him eternal life and make him strong.
5. The proud man thinks he has the strength, although the tests tell him at every step that it is not absolute, that his greatness is false. The strength that I give you, take advantage of it in the practice of good.
6. Do not doubt my words. I come to give you a seed of faith, so that you may cultivate it and through it you may know how to appreciate my Wonders. I have placed the light of conscience in your spirit, so that you may know the laws that I have given you, and through them you may govern your spirit and your matter. In my teaching you will find health, peace, joy; therefore I have told you that whoever takes this bread will never hunger again.
7. I come to show myself to you so that you may recognize me, and later let you know what I am giving you as an inheritance.
8. You are living in the present and you do not know what I have destined for your future. I am preparing great legions of spiritual beings, who will come to dwell on earth, bringing a delicate mission, and it is necessary for you to know that many of you will be the parents of those creatures in whom my envoys will incarnate; your duty is to prepare yourselves so that you will know how to receive and lead them.

Love one another!

9. The earth is prepared by Me and clean as I formed it; if there is anything bad in it, it is the work of men. How much evil, you have done with your sin, humanity!, although there are those who say that you are not responsible for what happened a long time ago, and I answer you: Your spirit has inhabited the earth in other times, has been lacking and has desecrated it. Do you happen to know who you are? How much you must work to restore to humanity all that you have denied it!

10. When you are tired, lean on the staff of prayer, for in it you will regain strength. Hearing my word you will rise to higher regions, from where you will feel my presence. Understand that to fulfill the law, it is not enough to raise the spirit through prayer, you must do works of love and charity.

11. The time is drawing near when this manifestation will come to an end; but always keep in mind that my Spirit will not depart from you.

12. By ceasing to communicate in this way, that will be the sign that you have ruined the stage of preparation. I will seal the understanding of those who have served me and will give them a rest on the great day, and I will give a reward to those who have been obedient servants in the countryside. To them I will leave the peace of my Spirit. But they will continue to be instruments of a higher manifestation.

13. In the same way that the Word did not incarnate again after having been in Jesus, this manifestation of my Spirit through man will not be repeated. Only my light will remain radiating from infinity, to guide you spiritually on the true path.

14. Look at that light and you will not lose your way; observe My laws, and faith and trust in your gifts will be very great. Understand what the powers of Moses, Jesus, and Elijah are, for I have made you partakers of them.

15. Take pleasure in carrying out my commands, which will not be a sacrifice, but rather a joy for your spirit. Be like children at their Father's side, trusting and waiting on Him.

16. I have contemplated this people praying for humanity, loving it, being inspired by the love of the Master. Your pain is also great, he will be the one who unites you and makes you form a true family. I will comfort you throughout your journey, until you reach the "land of promise".

17. The peace that you are waiting for will come, and it will be as great as the pain has been. The union will also come, but first I will send announcements telling you about the approaching time when these prophecies will be fulfilled.

Love one another!

18. Welcome those of you who have crossed the thresholds of a new era; you have listened to the ringing of the sonorous bell and gathered to the voice of his call, recognizing that it is the voice of your Father who invites you to listen to him. That solicitude and that obedience have made my voice, by reaching your heart, have been recognized.

19. As you do not know the time that I grant you to live, it is necessary to get up from this moment, that no matter how long your day is, it will always be full of incentives for you to reach the goal. In every time a mystery has been clarified before your eyes. In this Third Time in which my word becomes spiritual fruit to nourish you, I will reveal to you what is reserved for your spirit. My word is being poured out in the humble of spirits and in the simple of understanding, because it is like a stream of crystalline waters that, when passing through the mind, from the mind to the heart and from there to the spirit, has not been contaminated with the impurities that it encounters in its path.

20. At this time, I have not come to tread on the dust of the world; only my Spirit makes an appearance in the inner temple that exists in the depths of your being, where I am leaving the imprint of my step. You who have sat down at your Lord's table know the taste of this bread, this wine and these fruits so that you will never be mistaken.

21. I found your spirit sick, but I presented myself to him, saying, I am the way; I offer you my help; direct you by my words and you will reach the land that you seek.

22. When you lacked a notion of the spiritual life, you came to blaspheme, when you felt desperate, wishing to die to rest, according to you, without knowing that rest, as you conceived it, does not exist, because the perfect happiness is found by the spirit only in activity. Inertia is selfish, and selfishness is of the flesh, not of the spirit. Only matter finds rest when the last breath of life is extinguished in it. Spiritualize yourselves, O people, so that you may look at the face of your Master who smiles at you full of tenderness and peace.

23. Like a seed that multiplies and spreads, so my doctrine will spread over humanity to rescue it. Not only will those who listen to me be saved, but also those who have not been able to hear this word.

24. Upon this people I have poured out the spiritual gifts that tomorrow will fertilize the lands where love, harmony and peace will germinate, because my seed will be carried by my messengers to the valleys, to the provinces and to the cities.

25. I have visited you in your cell, since you were prisoners of materialism, selfishness and sin, but I have set you free so that you can take this good news to the hearts. You will never be able to depart from Me; you are the tender leaves on the stout tree of life; you are branches or branches; the sap of the tree flows through your spirit. That is the covenant of covenant that binds you to Me and that can never be destroyed. The tree is the family, in it are the father, the mother and the children, eternally united. In him all the children of the Lord will also have to recognize themselves as brothers, brothers not only because of the principle or origin, but because of love.

Love one another!

26. The symbol of that tree was the cross where you placed me.

27. Here is the Master to sweeten your path with his word, because those who have once felt peace on this path, hardly turn away from it, or fall back into the mistakes of their past life, where the hurricane winds hit them. My word, always full of new lessons and revelations, encourages you so that you do not stop, nor do you go back.

28. He will always tell you to take advantage of the time when I am giving you my teachings with my word, because when the time comes for my departure, you will never hear these nightingales trilling again.

29. I want the former to be good teachers of the latter. See that great spirits will come among them, that after passing through a crucible of pain they will embrace with great love my spiritual work, and with my doctrine in their heart and my breath in their spirit, they will undertake their struggle among humanity.

30. Let me teach you, prepare you and test you, so that you may become strong and your faith may be true. I will take you as instruments of my will and I will do many works through you. Through your lips I will speak to the multitudes and from among them I will choose those who will have to follow me at this time.

31. fill yourselves with charity, feel the tragedy of humanity, understand its trials and its atonement, so that you may pray and watch over it. See how the Master does not abandon you in your difficult trances, so that you, as my disciples, may do the same with your brothers.

32. Do you think that you are indispensable for my message to reach the hearts of your brothers and sisters? No, people, but you must fulfill the mission that I have entrusted to you and for which I give you everything you need to fulfill it. Do you know what those who have nothing to offer you today can do for you tomorrow?

33. A great purification weighs on humanity and you can feel my justice even in the air you breathe; but this chalice will be the one that will transform humanity morally and spiritually.

34. Seek your regeneration and stop being infants before my teaching so that you become disciples, not only for what you understand, but for what you practice.

Love one another!

35. Rest under the shade of this tree, O way-weary pilgrims, and when you have restored your strength, become guardians of the tree, procuring care for it. Those cares and that love to preserve him, will be like water that fertilizes and refreshes the earth. Then you will let the branches grow, so that the shade will be abundant and under it many in need will come to take shelter. The multitudes will come in search of health and spiritual peace and you must be prepared, because in this tree they will find fruits that they could not find anywhere else.

36. From your spirit prayer will rise for the peace of the world and for light for the men who govern the peoples, because you will not be hard of heart and understanding, so that my work will not stagnate. I am planting and spreading my trees in many regions, to rescue the lost hearts. These trees have the mission of destroying the fanaticism and idolatry of men.

37. Again I say to you, I am the way; walk no more in uncertain paths.

38. All these congregations, united, will fill the fold that Elijah will present to the Lord; but you who are entrusted with watching over these congregations, have your ears prepared to listen to my word, which will be the light with which you will rectify the crooked paths.

39. Truly I tell you that you have me very close to you in the essence of my word, and you also have him close to my spiritual world through his help, his protection and his advice. It is My charity that strengthens you so that you will not faint on the way, since the position you have received at this time is very delicate; but I leave you invested with the necessary gifts so that you may go forward.

40. Carry your cross, not as a burden, but as a blessing.

41. May my caress of a Father and my lesson of a Teacher be with you, feel my warmth and my peace and I assure you that when I finish my chair, yours will be greater and you will have more strength to face the struggle.

42. My word in your heart will be a shield, and on your lips it will be a sword, but know how to use it in battle and also use it in peace.

43. Here is your Savior. Did you not eagerly seek me by all means? Did you not call upon me with hymns and psalms to come and rescue you? Well, here I am, only now I've come in a way you didn't expect. But do not be surprised by this form, which is not new, and be more specific to seek the essence of my doctrine, and you will be convinced that this tone with which I speak to you. this love that my words pour over you and this wisdom that shines in each of my teachings, is a language that your spirit understands.

Love one another!

44. Take the light of my word and with it set yourselves free, because for a long time you have remained occupied only in earthly things, turned into guardians of earthly goods, without noticing that the spirit is destined to return to his former abode and that you must prepare the saddlebag and the staff that will help him on his journey.

45. Men seek immortality in the world, trying to achieve it through material works, because earthly glory, although ephemeral, is tangible, and they forget about the glory of the spirit, because they doubt the existence of that life. It is the lack of faith and the lack of spirituality that have put a veil of skepticism before the pupils of men.

46. If this humanity had faith in my word, it would fill me in its heart, it would always have in mind that phrase of mine, when I said to the Multitudes that listened to me: "Truly I tell you, if you gave a glass of water, he would not remain without reward".

47. But men think that if they give something, they receive nothing in return, and in order to preserve what they possess, they keep it only for themselves.

48. Now I tell you, that in my justice there is the perfect compensation, so that you may never be afraid to give something of what you possess. Do you see those men who treasure and accumulate and do not share with anyone what they own? These men are dead in the spirit.

49. On the other hand, those who have consecrated to the last minute breath of their existence to give to their fellow beings what they have, until they find themselves alone, abandoned and poor, in their last hour, these have always been guided by the light of faith, which has pointed out to them in the distance the proximity of the "promised land", where my love awaits them to give them the compensation for all their works.

50. Verily I say to you, the mighty of now will be finished, to make way for those who will be great and strong, powerful and wise out of love and charity towards their fellow men.

51. Disciples, take my word as one more proof of my love for you. Feel in your body and spirit my healing balm; but if your conscience comes to tell you that this pain that you carry is due to your sin, expel it from your being, that in my doctrine you will find strength to overcome the weakness of matter. Come all of you to Me, so that I may give you strength to achieve your spiritual liberation.

52. Let the children come to Me. Let the youth come to Me. Men and women, some in maturity and others in old age, come before Me, I want to enjoy your presence, I want to hear your voice calling me Father.

Love one another!

53. Sinners, weep before your Master, so that your tears may purify you, but that your weeping may resemble the repentance of Magdalene, so that your love may come to Me, like the prayer of that repentant sinner.

54. Destroy your pride, so that you become humble before your brothers; humility is triumph, vanity is defeat, although in the world you appreciate these things in another way.

55. What can you be proud of if nothing is yours on earth? I did not make you heirs in this world, I entrusted it to you in the same way that the landowner does with his farmers, he distributes among them the responsibility for the cultivation and care of the lands to then collect the harvest, and give each one the share that corresponds to him.

56. Take from the earth what you need, enjoy and delight in everything that is good for you; but never come to take earthly life as if it were the perfect mansion of the spirit, nor judge that what you have in the world is your greatest treasure.

57. The earth is not stained, it is blessed and pure; it is men who have stained their hearts. If the earth had sinned, I would have already destroyed it and sent you to dwell in another world, but in it I find no stain. That is why I tell you that it is in humanity that you must work for its regeneration, so that it may bring you peace, prosperity, love, abundance and true progress again.

58. See how patiently I come to teach you, so that you too may have patience in teaching your brothers, and when the needy knocks at your doors, never deny him your presence, nor receive him with displeasure. What will your hands be able to offer him, if there is no love in your heart? I tell you that whoever feels fatigue, it is because he does not have true spirituality; on the other hand, whoever is always willing to give, he has managed to raise his feelings above the egoism of the flesh.

59. Sometimes I withhold my charity from you, so that you may know how to consider those to whom you are withholding it; but I never disinherit you, because what I have given you is yours.

60. Do you think you have received many disappointments from humanity? That was when you expected something from her and when you had nothing to offer her; but now that you are getting rid of that material interest and your egoism, now that you know that even if the world had nothing to offer you, it is I who watches over you, you can no longer talk about ingratitude, disappointments or disappointments. You must close your eyes and your heart to all human misery and open them only to serve your brothers and sisters with true charity and love.

Love one another!

61. The ones that make you suffer the most, are the ones that can help you rise the most. Encourage the longing for spiritual progress, destroy the monotony and routine of your life. Don't you find my communication through human understanding highly meaningful? Do you not realize the value of each of the gifts I have given you?

62. I am the one who receives everyone's ingratitude. I, the one who loves and the one who gives everything to you; however, have you ever heard that I find Myself disillusioned with you? Never, my children. Who can know you better than Me, to disappoint me, knowing that you are going to love me and arrive at the gates of my kingdom? If I thought as you think now, it would be like taking from you the blood that as a man I once shed; and I tell you that that blood was for you, the one that traced the path of evolution for you.

63. It is necessary that you understand your mission so that you can carry it out properly. Think that when you deeply feel the pain of a fellow man, and by making it yours you present it to me in a prayer, you become the true intercessor and intermediary between God and your brothers. The one who will live and the one who will die for the world, I will put them in your path, because you will know how to awaken the longing for regeneration in which he is going to resume his journey on earth, and to the one who is going to leave for the spiritual valley you will be able to point out the path that will lead him to the light. I have given you gifts that you may use them for the good of your brothers and for your own good, but not that you may hide them for fear of the world, nor that you may show them off and even make a show of them. Practice charity in such a way that the ignorant, the needy and the innocent come to desire to possess your gifts in a desire to also serve their fellow human beings. Then you will teach them and reveal to them that every creature carries gifts of the Divine Spirit.

64. Let no one rise up scandalizing with teachings that my work has not revealed to him, because they would be the cause of my doctrine being persecuted and you would have to answer for it before my justice. Speak my truth, without ever altering it. Never be silent for fear, for if you were silent, verily I say to you, the stones would speak. Look that the structure of your planet is made of rock, because voices would come out from its entrances that would speak of the time of justice. Do not wait for that testimony, you better speak; but let that voice come out of your heart, because in it your spirit will speak.

65. People, I have come to sweeten your existence, to give you the bread of eternal life. Take me as your confidant and I will put peace in you.

66. I am pleased to give you my word at this time, as I gave it to you in the Second Time: A simple word so that you can understand it, and listening to it you will fill your heart with strength and virtues. See how his divine essence has captivated your spirit and has been a balm for your wounds, so that tomorrow you too may heal your brothers by making them listen to my word.

Love one another!

67. If you prepare yourselves, you will see wonders, you will be healthy, and your brothers will receive graces and benefits.

68. Great trials are approaching mankind, and you must be the prophet and the bulwark. Pray, work, and the elements will pass without leaving a trace on you. Lift up your intercession, and I promise you that a mantle of love and protection will defend yours. I do not ask you for penances or sacrifices; to please me it will be enough that you raise your spirit and I will flood you with peace. Love one another and I will bless you.

69. I have not asked you to go to distant lands to spread my teachings; that time has not yet arrived; but the time will come when you, with yours, will move to other places where you will establish yourselves and continue to be the indefatigable sowers of the precious seed that I have entrusted to you.

70. My work will be sought by men of different races and creeds, and it is necessary that my disciples show them the shortest way to reach Me, teaching them to love one another.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Love one another!

Teaching 129

1. From my kingdom I come to the abode of man seeking the lamp of your faith. I have called in every heart, to recognize in each one his good will to come to my call. In some I found a sanctuary illuminated by the flame of a lamp, in others only darkness. Some are liinpius enclosures, where I can penetrate, the others are stained, and it is necessary that they purify themselves to receive me; but I bless them all with the same love.

2. He who knocks at your doors does not come in regal attire, being a King; he comes in the clothes of a wayfarer and in search of shelter. When I contemplate you awake, watching and waiting for me, my word, like an inexhaustible torrent, overflows into you to fertilize your heart. That heart that beats inside you, is a propitious land to sow the divine seed. Your spirit is the temple of Divinity, it is my abode. Your conscience is the interpreter of my voice of justice and the holder of my scepter. All these powers tell you that you are not absolute, but that you precede an Omnipotent Being, to whom you have to submit your will, since He is perfect.

3. The Father approaches his children to gather from them his merits as an optimal harvest and not only the tears of your sufferings, because they will not be the ones that I store in my granaries. Almost always your weeping comes to be the fruit of your disobediences to my law; rarely do you weep of love or repentance.

4. I have not found your heart hard at this time; but if in the First I engraved my law in stone, why should I not print it in this age on the rock of your heart? There I will show you the power of my word, writing not a leaf, but a book that contains mysteries in my arcanum, which only I can reveal.

5. I am speaking to you as a Father and as a Teacher, but when I speak to you as a Judge, fear my justice, but do not flee because even that voice is a friend and if it claims you, it is because it loves you. This is how I show myself before your eyes, so that you may know me. How could you achieve this if you lived eternally hidden behind a curtain of mystery? Understand that I have needed to manifest myself little by little before your spirit, so that you can come to look at me in all my splendor. If at the beginning of your spiritual evolution I had shown your spirit to me in all my greatness, what would you have seen, felt or understood? Nothing; by feeling close to Me, you would have perceived an infinite emptiness, or by wanting to conceive the profound truth, you would have found your reason impotent and your spirit weak. Today I come to uncork the veil of my arcane a little more, so that you may know something more about your God.

6. Who is blind that can't look at me? Who is insensitive that I can't feel myself? It has been a while that I have been preparing you to listen to me in this way, which is like seeing my face, at the same time that I prepare you for future times in which you will have to know more about Me. So, if you are hungry for light, if you have! hunger and thirst for truth, listen to me with all your senses and powers and you will contemplate me. Do not get acquainted with this word, do not get into the routine of ritual. Do not take my teaching as any material work, nor use it to profit from the good faith or the physical or spiritual ailments of your brothers.

7. The time of understanding has arrived for you; the time of lucidity has arrived and the moment is not far away when you rise up to make this light shine in other hearts. I give you sensitivity and it is my knowledge for you to fulfill your spiritual mission. You are all qualified to give a light advice to those in need, to dry the cry of the one who cries. I have given you in abundance a precious balm, which should not be inactive for a single day. Pain has purified you so that you can develop your gifts; do not become stained with sin again; your lips and your heart were also purified, the one to become a source of charity and good feelings, and the others so that they knew how to express the pure, the elevated.

8. Here is my lesson clear, transparent as the water with which you quench your thirst; I turn your heart into a fountain so that it keeps these waters and through their transparency you can contemplate their bottom, which is as if you contemplate my Spirit free of all form or clothing.

9. Listen to Me, disciples, for all wisdom comes from Me. I come to you with words and deeds to surprise you in your dream; but truly I tell you, before I reach a people or a heart, I send an emissary or precursor so that at my arrival he will know how to recognize me and receive me. Now ask yourselves in which of my arrivals you were prepared to receive me.

10. The prophets of the first times who announced the coming of the Messiah, were mocked, persecuted and stoned in the cities. Elijah, at this time, speaking through the lips of an inspired and righteous man named Roque Rojas, preached in the desert and very few listened to his voice.

11. If you observe the struggle of Moses with his people in that First Time, you will also see the lack of faith, the lack of preparation in the decisive moments. Remember that, Moses having charged his people on the night of deliverance, that no one should sleep and that they should spend the evening praying standing up, with sandals on and staff in hand, there were many who gave themselves up to sleep, and when they woke up, the people had already departed; and when Moses left the people praying on Mount Sinai, on descending he found the crowd given over to idolatrous worship, completely forgetting about the announcements of their guide and prophet about the promises of the Lord.

Love one another!

12. I have never wanted to be unprepared or to surprise you by sinning or sleeping in the lap of the world given by the flesh; that is why I have sent my emissaries to you first, so that they may make my voice reach from the humblest house to the most sumptuous mansion. I caused seven great prophets to be born of the same people to announce to them the coming of the Savior of the world, seven men who were brothers of that people, who carried their blood and their tongue. I put my voice in them so that they would be like a beacon of hope for the poor and oppressed and a harbinger of justice for the proud, for the wicked, for the unjust.

13. When the Promised One arrived among his people, very few followed him, only those who hungered and thirsted for righteousness; but those who were full of honors, vanities and power, who were those who felt marked by the index of my righteousness, those were the ones who prepared the cross for the Son of God.

14. You will bring the good news to humanity that it is already living in the time of the Holy Spirit, of this time that has been announced by great signs in nature, to open to the truth the ears of men of science, to move the sinner's heart to regeneration and to penetrate the world in meditation; but this humanity, without wanting to translate those voices to their true meaning, when it has not attributed everything to material causes, has fallen into superstitious fears. That is why my word has stumbled in this time with hearts that are rocks, starting for Me a new passion.

15. The light that my Spirit has shed on you in this age is the blood that Christ shed on the cross for all humanity. As a foretaste of these revelations, in the First Time you sacrificed lambs and with their blood you pointed out the doors of your houses. Blood is life, sacrifice is love; love is the light of the Spirit. That has been your mark or sign in each of the times.

16. O people, who have risen up following this voice, never forget that the Lord's charity has appointed you for a great mission. That divine mark is my oscar of love, it is antidote, weapon and shield.

17. The life that you are crossing today is a greater desert than the one that Israel crossed in the First Time, but if in its transit you do not lack love and faith, there will be no shortage, no hunger, no thirst. There will be water and manna, there will be oasis and joy on the journey. Those who do not flee from the burning sands, or are afraid of enemies, or are fatigued by the long journey, will soon feel themselves arriving at the "promised land"; but those who in the journey seek the comforts, the pleasures and the means to become great, those will be parked on the road and will take a long time to reach the gates of the city. The road is evolution, the desert is a test for faith and a test for the spirit.

Love one another!

18. Do not make this path a path in your own way, do not want to adapt my law and my work to your life, customs and passions. You are the ones who follow my law.

19. Sometimes you fail to understand why I love you so much, why I forgive you all your faults; then I show you your fellow men so that you may do to them what the Master has done to you.

20. Who can doubt the goodness of my teachings at this time? I have said to men as at that time: "Love one another", to children: "Venerate your parents", to man: "Respect the woman", to parents: "Set a good example for your children". This is not darkness. My seed is of peace, of love, of concord. Stop with her that restitution that from the earliest times has been passing from parents to children, a painful restitution that has been the seed that you have always been sowing and gathering. Every fault must be washed away, and truly I tell you, no fault escapes my justice. A year, a century and even an era may pass, but the moment of judgment will have to come.

21. Love purity, live according to the law that conscience points out to you. Take advantage of these teaching times, so that you can put into practice what you have learned. Do not sleep while others are crying, do not get acquainted with rumors of war. See that these rumors are full of sobs, lamentations and anguish; understand that these rumors that reach you are painful voices of your brothers; it is better that through my word you feel the pain of those and moved to mercy you pray and do merits so that they find peace, and it is not the war that surprises your nation, and when you are drinking a very bitter cup you exclaim: Now I understand what those peoples have gone through!

22. What would become of this people whom I have gathered, if I did not teach them with words of righteousness, wisdom and love? Do you not believe in my word of this time because I am making it known to you through my children?

23. If you put to death the prophets of the first times in the streets and later you led my apostles to martyrdom, I tell you that it is also death that you give to these spokesmen when the word that their lips pour out is not believed. Are you so material, that you do not feel the divine essence of this word? Remember that I said to you, "The tree is recognized by its fruit."

24. I am preparing you for the time when you will no longer listen to my word, because by then men are going to name you the people without God, the people without a temple, because you will not have regal enclosures to worship me, nor will you celebrate ceremonies, nor will you seek me in images; but I will leave you a book as a testament that will be your bulwark in the first and will be the way where you guide your steps. These words that you hear today through the mouthpiece, tomorrow they will come out of the writings, so that you will rejoice again and be heard by the multitudes that will arrive by that time.

25. Do not despise what was written in other times, because you would be fanatics; do not let yourselves be dominated by passions, and learn to respect your brothers who in other times wrote with their love, with faith and even with their blood, pages of that book in which are the names and examples of those who have testified to my truth.

26. Do you love me and recognize me? Do you love Mary, your Heavenly Mother? For in those pages there is one that is written with the blood of your Savior and with the tears of Mary, of the One who encloses in her womb the divine maternal love.

27. If you want the new generations to respect the Third Testament, you respect the past testaments.

28. The great trials will move the world, and then men will pay attention to the new book, which they will find firm as a rock, imprinted in the heart of a people.

29. Understand my word; I have told you much about my absence and my departure, but understand that I have spoken to you figuratively. I may cease to speak to you in this way, but do you conceive that I can depart from any of you, if I am the life of your spirit and dwell in him forever? Will you be able to stop hearing the voice of your Father within your being? Never, if you know how to prepare.

30. You are walking towards that goal, for that purpose I came to prepare you through this communication. If you are ready, you will listen to my clear and clear voice, if you are not, you will be troubled and you will not be able to give anything as a testimony. What are you going to deliver then, what are you going to talk about after the departure of my word?

31. I want you, without leaving a natural and simple life, without falling into a state that could be considered out of the normal, to always keep yourselves prepared and keep spirituality stored in your heart, so that at any moment when you are called, you will be ready to fulfill your mission.

32. I have told you that in 1950 I will gather the 144,000 marked; but no one knows to what points of the earth I will send those who are in the spirit to be born to fulfill my mandate.

33. Your destiny is in Me, for I am the resurrection and the life. Later you will meet in the spiritual valley to complete your work from there.

Love one another!

34. Spiritualize your practices; 1950 is approaching and you should not be unprepared. I want you jealous, but not fanatical. Take advantage of the time that for the spirit is light and redemption.

35. After having walked a lot, humanity still remains spiritually divided. Is it that each people has been made aware of a different truth? No, the truth is only one.

36. The spiritual division of men is due to the fact that some took one branch and others another. One tree is the one that exists, on the other hand, its branches are many; but men have not wanted to understand my teachings in this way, and discussions distance them and deepen their differences. Each one believes he has the truth; each one feels he is in the right; but I tell you, as long as you taste only the fruit of a single branch and do not know that of the others, you will not come to recognize that all the fruits come from the divine tree, whose set forms the absolute truth.

37. In speaking to you of these truths, do not think that the Master is referring to the external cults of the different religions, but to the fundamental principle on which each of them rests.

38. A strong stormy wind has begun to be felt; its gusts, when whipping the tree, cause its different fruits to come off, which will come to be tasted by those who had not known them before; then they will say: How mistaken and blind we had been, when driven by our fanaticism we rejected how many fruits our brothers offered us only because we considered them unknown!

39. A part of my light is in every crowd, in every congregation. No one therefore boasts of possessing the whole truth. Understand that if you want to penetrate deeper into the eternal, that if you want to go beyond where you have arrived, if you want to know more about Me and you, first you must unite the knowledge of one with that of the other and so! with everyone. Then, from that harmony will spring a clear and purest light, which is the one that you have sought in the world without having found it.

40. "Love one another" is my maxim, my supreme commandment for men, regardless of creed or religion.

41. Come closer to each other through the fulfillment of that maxim and you will find me present in each of you.

42. Observe and you will understand that the struggle of ideas, beliefs and religions is already beginning. The result of your human struggles is leading you step by step towards that new battle.

Love one another!

43. Ah, if men would prepare themselves when my light approaches them, how much pain and confusion would be averted! But they do not yet know how to prepare themselves to receive peace; they only seek to prepare themselves for war or at least for defense.

44. After announcing all this to you, after warning you, would you dare to confuse yourselves as any ignorant person would when the time of the struggle has arrived?

45. Prepare yourselves for peace, harmony, conciliation and fraternity.

46. You are going to see the great religions attacking each other, the multitudes fleeing in confused confusion; for that hour this people must have full knowledge of its mission, be free of prejudices, stains or confusion, to extend its hand full of charity to the needy of peace. of consolation, of light and of health.

47. Regenerate your life, spiritualize your works, study my word, because in it I am giving you the taste of all the fruits of the divine tree, so that when your brothers come to offer you the one they have and that they have cultivated, already knowing the taste of the one I have given you, you accept it with love, if: you find it bad, or you reject it with kindness, if you do not find it pure.

48. A higher sense has the spirit, which allows him to discover the true the pure. the perfect; but it is necessary that this gift be developed, so as not to fall into confusion, that is, that you feed on unhealthy teachings and reject what is really sustenance for your spirit.

49. I am going to give you my lesson, but first deposit your sorrows in Me. cry to the heart of the Master. rest, v when you have mitigated your pain. when the tears have dried up on your cheeks, lift up your spirit so that my teaching may be upon him.

50. I do not want to see hunger or thirst in any of my disciples, I want to see you satisfied that you have eaten and drunk at this table, only in this way will you be able to do works worthy of Me in this world; do not forget that every day that passes, the day of my departure approaches, and whoever does not take advantage of this time of teaching, will later feel orphaned.

51. Perhaps it was not he who brought you before my presence; my voice called you by the ways and my charity led you; now you know that you have come to know the mission that I sent you to fulfill on earth; in my word you have known what is your beginning and what is your end; you have had the revelation that you are part of a people, which in three stages has received the manna of the spirit.

Love one another!

52. If you transfer everything that happened to the people of Israel in the first two times to the spiritual, you will see that the same thing has happened to you in the present time.

53. The life of that people, its history, is a lesson for all humanity, it is a parable, it is a book whose stone foundations were the law that I revealed to you on Sinai; its content keeps the voice of the prophets, the evolution of a people, its struggles, its triumphs and its falls, its joys and its bitterness. In him also is the perfect work of Christ among men and the mission of those who followed him.

54. Today that book is opened before your spirit and you see new lights sprouting from it, because what was not understood in those times, today has been explained to you; today your spirit can knock on the doors of the hereafter in demand of wisdom; today your spiritual capacity allows you to get closer to the Master so that He shows you the new lessons of my arcanum.

55. My people, even when there is peace in the glory of my Spirit, I cannot help but send you my help, because I see you going along the paths of the world dragging chains of hardships or imperfections.

56. You have come across a desert and in the middle of it I have caused palm trees to be born so that you may shade yourselves and have rest. I have caused to spring up from the barren rock of your world, an inexhaustible spring so that you may drink from it, and never thirst again. Today I will give you lands in the world for you to cultivate; you will find your lands in the hearts; some have come to start cultivating, others to complete a work begun long ago, and others to gather the fruit of their sowing.

57. Parents who have many children should not pretend that their time is devoted solely to earning their daily bread, and that for that reason they cannot think of doing good to others.

58. Let not men tell me that they feel incapable of teaching my law. I tell you all that there are plenty of occasions on your way when you can sow my seed without wasting your time, and without neglecting your duties.

59. Serve me and I will serve you.

60. Let not your heart suffer disappointment, if by sowing love in your children or in your brothers, you only reap pain from them; you well know what Christ sowed in the world and what He gathered; but He knew that the harvest was not in the world, but in heaven, when the time came. You also, disciples imitating the Master in patience, do not seek rewards or compensations on earth, but do wait for the hour of your joy in the hereafter.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 130

1. The world is moved by the memory of my passion. On this evening, when you remember those events and when my divine ray descends to give stillness to the spirit of humanity, Jesus contemplates you with emotion.
2. You who love me and who as apostles offer your life to me, you who know how to offer the thirsty Rabbi the crystal clear water of your love, feel that in truth the Sacred Spirit of the Master is among you.
3. It is time for the Spirit of Truth to reign and religious fanaticism to depart from the hearts of men.
4. At this moment my Spirit feels a very great joy to find myself among my disciples, to whom I come to offer the wine of my table of love, not the grape wine that will never cease to be the juice of the vine, but my own spiritual life.
5. The time has already passed in which I told you to remember the holy upper room, taking the bread and wine in memory of me Today I come to teach your spirit to feed with the essence of my teaching of love, dispensing with all symbolism.
6. I do not come to try to make you remember pains that corresponded to another era, although if you are going to cry with my lesson, but that cry must be of repentance.
7. The world is not a cup full of bitterness, but Christ, the Word of the Father, comes full of love to continue the teaching of infinite charity that I have given to men. At this time I come to show you the path that you must follow to achieve the redemption of your sins; but I do not want you to just carry Christ in your thoughts but to testify with works of love the truth of his doctrine.
8. See how on this day many of my children mistakenly symbolize that dinner at which I met my disciples for the last time; my word, my lessons of love, have been falsified. At this moment the Divine Word, in direct communication with all the spirits, gives you his love, just as he distributed the bread among his apostles.
9. Behold Christ, the prince of peace, whom the mobs judged to be an agitator and a rebel. Remember that the Man God came into the world and said, "These are my children, for whom I will give every last drop of my blood." Now, my beloved children, I come to speak to you simply. At that time I spoke to you in a parable, and many times you did not understand me, because you gave a wrong meaning to my words.

Love one another!

10. Humanity infinitely beloved by Me, I have returned to you, but not as you heard me in the First Time, nor as you looked at me and listened to me in the Second; today I come to give you my teaching through a brain prepared by my wisdom.

11. Among my people there have always been those who feel spirituality, as well as those who only pursue material goods. In the First Time there were times when while some worshiped the "golden calf", others wept in fear before Jehovah; and in the Second, in the bosom of my apostles, there was one who aspired to receive from Me the power to turn stones into gold, pretending that it was good to help the poor suffering from hunger with money, to whom I said, "Giving money to the multitudes, would make them not appreciate it because it is easy to obtain." And I added, "He who follows me must be poor, like his Master." Therefore I humbly bowed down to wash the feet of my disciples, and said to them, "Never think yourselves the first, but the last before the Father."

12. To you, who are my new disciples, I say, "Whatever you see me doing with you, do it with your brothers."

13. You have prepared your heart to receive the essence of my word and with it, the comfort, strength and light that you need. You trust in Me, because you know that you, like all beings, receive my protection; but I have told you to live in a time of restitution and purification and that you will still know pain to a greater degree.

14. There are great combats and vicissitudes in the future of men; and you, as part of that humanity, will also have to suffer. Only prayer and vigil will make the sorrows bearable; many will lose their way in these trials, they will falter and seek the solution of their ills by other ways; and only when they return to the path of good, peace and justice, will they regain their tranquility; and even among this people who have been marked in this time, of the 144,000 marked on their forehead, how many of them will abandon me, despite being now surrounding the Master, listening to his lesson of infinite love?

15. That is why I have come in this era, to give you strength in your struggle, to teach you to work for a high ideal, which is the same for which I have fought in all times, your spiritual elevation

16. Possess and value all your gifts so that you can face this great test. Do not deprive yourselves of them, so that you do not feel like orphans, because you are going to need to gather faith, spiritual strength, courage, so as not to faint.

17. But whatever I announce to you, it will not be to annihilate you, but to make you great; for you will find innumerable reasons to do good and to pour out your charity. If you know how to prepare yourselves, you will forget yourselves to go to the aid of your brothers and you will find their spirit ready as virgin land, to receive the seed and the beneficial irrigation of your works of love.

18. This is how I have prepared the spirit of my children, so that when the time comes they can testify that all the events that surround them have told them about Me, that they have felt that my Spirit has been close to them.

19. Because I am not just a word, I am an action. I struggle incessantly in the spirit of my children to transform it, and I am attentive to answer your questions, to respond to your call and come to your aid, so that you can fulfill your destiny.

20. It is the time when my light is poured out on every spirit; he who has been willing to practice my doctrine, has felt full of strength and animated by a superior will, and the works he has done, have given him life and have affirmed his faith. He will no longer be able to turn away from the path, even if he had to tread on thorns, because the strength of his spirit has grown and he knows how to master suffering, in order to achieve his ideal. He who has not started the day, let him start it today and let it not stop. Even the simplest of his works will be taken into account by Me. You will find no greater satisfaction on earth than to help a fellow feeling his pain.

21. All the works that I did in the Second Half to teach you my lessons of charity, you must repeat them now. you have seen that I have restored sight to the blind, you can make the blind of this time, who live in the darkness of ignorance, look at the clear light of my doctrine. Make the paralytic walk, who has stopped for lack of teaching; raise up the one who has died to the life of grace and spirituality; make the mute speak, who does not know how to pronounce the words of love and forgiveness. Whatever you wish to do, I will grant it to you, because I have clothed you with gifts of inestimable value, so that you may be able to testify to my truth.

22. My love for humanity has been constant; not only when I have descended to earth have I done wonders; my work of giving life and protection to men is eternal, and my teaching is also inexhaustible. When will you understand my struggle, when will you recognize Elijah, who is tireless working among you?

23. The end of time is approaching and I have to come to gather the harvest. Only ripe wheat I will receive. only works of love, completed and perfect. i will take to my barn: and you. as my disciples, you have to present your work to me in this way and help your brothers. In all the nations there are my disciples, prophets, forerunners, whose gifts are being manifested just like yours. They seek in prayer the balm that heals the sick, they communicate with Me spiritually, seeking the light that illuminates their path and recognize me as their guide and Teacher.

Love one another!

24. Do not be surprised that they. without having had my communication through the understanding of man. know these lessons, because I have told you that the spirit has evolved, and each creature has a mission to fulfill. His spirit has been purified in pain, and not finding true guides on earth, he has sought me, knowing that I am in Spirit enlightening and leading all my children.

25. Here I am, ready to receive your thoughts and your heart. for we offer the essence of my word as the true wine of eternal life, of which I tell you that whosoever will take of it. thirst will not feel again.

26. Do not confuse my word anymore, which is the bread of life. with the symbols that only represent an image of her.

27. The light of the Holy Spirit illuminates your path and fills your spirit with peace. How much grace will there be on earth when this people, who are scattered among humanity, live dedicated to teaching their brothers and sisters to love one another! When I speak to you of unification, you must understand that I am looking at your disunity and disharmony; but know that I address this appeal to all men and to all peoples, because the seed of discord has multiplied and has penetrated into all hearts.

28. Discord has insensibly invaded the most intimate of human life and has managed to move empires, nations, households, religions and sects. Very bitter have been the fruits that the lack of harmony between men has produced, and they have yet to taste the most bitter; but it was not my will that humanity needed that chalice so that it would recognize its error and open its eyes to the truth, because although I am judging you at this moment, I never cease to be your Father and I would like reflection and repentance to save you from the abyss to which you are precipitating. Who will be the ones who will let me penetrate into their heart? Which towns will open their doors to me? Who will be those who do not heed the call of their conscience?

29. Pray. What else can you do in these moments, if I still consider you small in your spiritual development, if you are still weak and clumsy? Strengthen yourselves in the practice of my teachings; your life offers you daily the opportunity for you to do merits and for you to perfect yourself. Be a people that reflects in each of their works the light of my Spirit, and I will soon send you to fulfill your mission, as humble apostles of my teaching.

30. If you think that I have left my throne to come to communicate with you, you are in error, because it is the throne that you imagine, it does not exist; thrones are for puffed up and proud men. My Spirit, being infinite and omnipotent, does not dwell in a certain place, it is everywhere, in all places, in the spiritual and in the material. Where is that throne which you ascribe to me?

Love one another!

31. Do not take my words as reproaches for your lack of understanding and knowledge of the truth; I have not come to you to humiliate you, highlighting your littleness; on the contrary, I have come to help you to rise up to the light of truth.

32. Do you think that I do not realize the progress and evolution that your beliefs and knowledge have reached since you have come to hear this word? Truly I tell you, I contemplate, better than yourselves, the steps you are taking along the spiritual path.

33. When you came before my manifestation, you did not believe in my teaching through the human understanding, because you have the belief that only in this way could you find me in the images, symbols and other objects consecrated by your religions. Later, when, despite your lack of faith, you felt that my teaching touched your heart, and that your spirit felt my peace, you recognized that a divine light was manifesting through these creatures destined to transmit my divine message. A new faith was born in your heart, a light was lit that taught you to understand that man could communicate directly with his God; but that was not all, it was necessary that you come to understand that the human mind is not indispensable, so that the Father could give you his teaching; then you knew that this divine communication through the mouthpiece would be temporary, because later the time of communication from Spirit to spirit would come, when men would move away from their worship, from their beliefs and practices, materialism, fanaticism and all the ignorance that their traditions and rites enclose.

34. Some of you have already understood, others are practicing; but you still have a long way to go to reach the goal, from which you can conceive me in my truth, in the reality of my greatness, and no longer through fantasies forged with your scarce human imagination.

35. Stop materializing me on thrones similar to those of the earth, strip me of the human form that you always attribute to me, stop dreaming of a sky that your human mind is incapable of conceiving; and when you free yourself from all this, it will be as if you broke the chains that bound you, as if a high wall collapsed before your eyes, as if a thick fog dissipated, allowing you to contemplate an unlimited horizon and an infinite firmament, luminous, but at the same time accessible to the spirit.

36. Some say, "God is in the heavens," others, "God dwells in the hereafter," but they do not know what they say, nor do they know what they believe. Surely I dwell in the heavens, but not in the certain place that you have imagined; I dwell in the heavens of light, of power, of love, of wisdom, of justice, of happiness, of perfection.

Love one another!

37. I am in the hereafter, yes; but beyond human sin, beyond materialism, arrogance, ignorance. That is why I say that I am coming to you, because I am going to your littleness, because I speak to you in a way that your senses can feel me and your mind understand me, not because I come from other worlds or abodes, because my Spirit dwells everywhere.

38. You have struggled and you have needed a lot of time to transform your beliefs, and you will still have to try harder to reach the spiritual goal to which I have destined you, which is to know your Father, love him and worship him through the spirit; then you will begin to sense the true glory of the spirit, that state of elevation, harmony, peace and well-being, which are the true paradise where you will all have to arrive.

39. Today you open the doors of your heart and of your understanding in the light of my teaching; by what works do you come to glorify me?

40. You are all silent, the spirit is silent and so is matter before Me; you bend your necks and humble yourselves; I do not want my children to humble themselves before Me; I want them to be worthy to lift up their face and contemplate mine, because I do not come in search of servants, or slaves, I do not come in search of creatures who feel proscribed, banished. I come to my children whom I love so much, so that by listening to my Father's voice, they may raise their spirits along the path of their spiritual elevation.

41. But behold, I come to the house of Jacob and find only fear within it, I hope to find a feast and there is only silence. Why, my people? because your conscience claims your fault and prevents you from experiencing joy at my arrival. It is that you have not loved each other, it is that you have not worked, as Jesus taught you.

42. You have lacked spiritual preparation, to sense the shadow of pain that stalks you, and it is necessary for your Father to materialize and speak to you in your language, so that you can know that the angel of war advances, that his weapons are stronger, and that in front of him, the angel of peace sobs.

43. Riding on wings of the wind, the plague. It advances instant by instant, and in the spiritual environment there float thousands of beings who succumb day after day in the fields of hatred and tares and whose confusion clouds your mind and your heart.

44. The elements are unleashed, awakening the men of science from their sleep, but these, obstinate in their greatness, continue their destructive work among humanity; while you forget to pray, you do not fulfill the mission that the Father has entrusted to you.

45. You know intimately that the mission of making peace has been weighing on your spirit since those times when I said to Jacob, "Behold, I will give you a numerous seed, by which all the peoples of the earth will be blessed." That is why you are silent in front of Me.

Love one another!

46. Do you expect that the laws of men will come to disinherit you and force you to close your lips, which I have prepared for you to testify about Me?

47. Do not be men of little faith; if I have chosen you, it is because I know that you will be able and know how to serve me.

48. On this day I tell you: If the nations want peace, I put it within the reach of their love; if they still want more war, they will have it, and through it, the scepter of my righteousness will be on earth.

49. If humanity, persecuting my new disciples, tries to prevent them from healing the sick and speaking about my doctrine, the strangest diseases will be unleashed among men, men of science will get sick, many will have their eyes closed, others will have their brain deranged. The gates of the beyond will be opened and legions of troubled spirits will ravage regions and possess men. Then, in the face of the impotence of men of science, my humble laborers will arise, giving proofs of their knowledge, through which many will believe. It has been a long time since all these misfortunes were announced to you, despite which you remain deaf and blind. You are ungrateful.

50. Sometimes it is necessary that I speak to you like that, but I did not take my word of love mistaking it for a whip. I love you; come so that you may feel my warmth; come closer to Me. that you may feel the peace of my kingdom. You are the ones who have sought me through the desert, you are the ones who have always walked after my promise.

51. Are you tired of this life? So rest for a moment under the shade of this tree. Tell me here your cares and weep in my bosom; how long will you be with Me forever? I already want to contemplate peace in every spirit.

52. Let the lark for now spread its wings over the entire universe, so that you may feel its peace and warmth.

53. Women, it is you who, with your prayer, preserve the little peace that exists on earth, who, as faithful guardians of the home, take care that it does not lack the warmth of love. This is how he united himself to Mary, your Mother, in order to break human pride.

54. Men, I have made you lords on this earth, so that you may represent me on it; your spirit is like that of the Father, and your body is like the universe. Do not judge the perfection of your body by its dimensions, but by the wonderful life that exists in it, its order and harmony. Even in all its perfection, the body is limited, and the moment comes when it stops growing; then the intelligence and feelings continue to develop, until death stops him, but all the wisdom and experience that he acquired on earth, is imprinted on the spirit, which continues to grow and develop until eternity.

Love one another!

55. Make your home a second temple, your affections a second cult. If you want to love me, love your wives and love your children, because great works, thoughts and examples will also spring from that temple.

56. You are all Elijah's sheep at this time; some dwell in his fold, others are still astray. The light of the Sixth Seal illuminates at this time all incarnated and disembodied spirits. While on earth some take this law for the advancement and salvation of their spirit, others take it to penetrate the mysteries of science and discover new wonders; they are the profane and disobedient hands that still cut the fruits of the tree of science to poison the heart of humanity. You are living the sixth stage that humanity will travel on earth as an image of the path it will have to travel in eternity.

57. In the first stage, Abel represented me on Earth, Noah in the second, Jacob in the third, Moses in the fourth, Jesus in the fifth, in the sixth, which is the present, Elijah, and in the seventh the Holy Spirit will reign.

58. What have you made of my messengers? The first fell under the blow of his own hennano, moved by envy. The second was unknown and mocked by multitudes of unbelievers and idolaters.

59. The third lived by giving proofs of my power, receiving in return the ingratitude even from his own.

60. The fourth had to break the tablets of the law, because of the little faith of his people, whom he loved so much.

61. The fifth, having announced his coming. he was not expected, believed, or loved, and after delivering his message of love to the world, he received from men the most ignominious death that prophet or envoy had ever received.

62. The sixth, he has come in spirit at this time; however the darts of doubt, indifference and mockery haunt him.

63. When the Seventh Seal is loosed and instead of a messenger, it is the same Spirit of the Eternal who gives light to men, who will try to hurt me or kill me?

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 131

1. On this day when the bells are being rung to announce to the world that the glory has opened to receive Christ, I tell you that for you those traditions have already passed; now it is up to you to recollect, instead of hubbub, remembrance and meditation, instead of noisy manifestations of joy. What would it be if the disciples of the Holy Spirit materialized the divine teachings?
2. The spirit is life, and therefore it will never cease to be; it must be perfected so that it can dwell in the highest. You have evolved; proof of this is that you involuntarily turn away from the images or symbols with which men try to represent me, because you already conceive me as a Divine, infinite and omnipotent Spirit and do not wish to look at me as limited. you have finally come to understand that there is no better offering before your God than that of your good deeds.
3. Did I tell you that I would rise on the third day from the dead? Well, with this I also told you figuratively about future events. Here you have me in Spirit at the beginning of the Third Time communicating with me through the human understanding, and I have also come to the dead to spiritual life. Through this communication announced and promised in other times, you have heard that there is no use for trappings, nor ceremonies; that you must clothe your elliptical with purity. You have already understood that to show oneself clean and adorned on the outside without having cleansed the heart, means a deception, which before the Father does not go unnoticed.
4. You can impress man, your brother, and even deceive him, but not Me, because my discerning gaze discovers and judges everything; moreover, in this time of great spiritual light, you will see men reject everything that contains hypocrisy. I am preparing you so that you will not be surprised by anyone, nor that your brothers will be surprised.
5. If any man appeared claiming to be Christ, incarnated again, do not believe him, because when we announced that he would return, I gave you to understand that it would be in Spirit. If anyone says to you, "I am the messenger of God," distrust him, because the true emissaries do not boast, nor do they proclaim the mission that I entrust to them, they only give proof by their works. It is for men to say whether he is the messenger of the Lord. Do you remember when I told you that the tree by its fruits would be re known?
6. I do not forbid you to taste the fruits of the trees, but you must be prepared so that you can distinguish the good fruit from the bad.
7. Those who love the truth, I will make them like lamps to illuminate the path of their brothers.

Love one another!

8. I come looking for your spirit, that being invisible to your eyes, for whom I became a man and shed my blood at that time, to teach him to fulfill his mission.
9. Do not be afraid to encounter men in your path who deny my presence in this form; they are blind who do not yet have light in their spirit. At that time they also denied me and when they saw my wonders they had to proclaim that Jesus was the promised Savior.
10. You will see at this time those who have denied me, contrite and sorrowful before you, without finding words to confess that this doctrine has come from God.
11. On this day, when the mobs run with great clamor to their churches, to celebrate the instant in which the glory opened to receive me, I tell you that all this is just a tradition to impress the heart of humanity. They are only rites that today materialize my divine passion.
12. Do not follow this trend, erecting altars and symbols; do not make representations of sacred facts, or use special dresses to dress up, because all this is idolatrous worship.
13. Invoke Me with your heart, remember my teaching and imitate my examples. Offer me the tribute of your amendment and you will feel the doors of glory open to receive you.
14. Believe that, just as Jesus rose on the third day from the dead, today in the Third Time, I have risen again from among men, dead to faith and grace, to come to teach you through the human understanding the beauties of the spiritual life.
15. And I say to the multitudes who listen to me, why do you cover yourselves with robes and ornaments and do not better clothe your spirit of purity? I just want to see that dress in you.
16. Flee from the false and profane representations that are made of Me and of my passion, because no one will be able to represent me; live my examples and teachings; whoever does so will have represented his Teacher on earth.
17. While some burn incense and myrrh as an offering to my Divinity, I teach you to offer me the essence of your heart, the perfume of your spirit. That spiritual offering is what I want from you.
18. In this dawn of grace, humanity commemorates the third day, when Christ rose to comfort his apostles and crossed the threshold of death to visit those in need in spirit. Remember that I have told you: I am the great farmer or the Shepherd; you also carry out these missions. Who but a shepherd is he who can guide the spirits and lead the peoples? And the father of a family who cultivates hearts or the teacher who guides minds, are they not farmers?

Love one another!

19. Each one has been assigned a portion to which he must guide or cultivate, and that mission is not finished with material death. The spirit, the same on earth as in the spiritual world, continues to sow, cultivate and harvest. The older spirits are those who guide the younger ones and these in turn to others in a lesser degree of development, the Lord being the One who leads them all to the prison.

20. If I have told you that the older spirits guide the younger ones, that does not mean that those spirits have been great from the beginning and that the latter should always be small before their brothers. Those who are great now, it is because they have risen and developed in the fulfillment of the noble mission of loving, serving and helping those who have not reached that degree of spiritual evolution, those who are still weak, those who have strayed and those who suffer.

21. Those who are small today will be great tomorrow through their perseverance on the path of evolution.

22. The scale of spiritual perfection that Jacob saw figured in his prophetic dream is the path that begins in the world and ends in heaven, that begins in the Material world and ends in the perfection of spiritual life.

23. Do not abandon your children, your disciples, your peoples, even with death, because the distance between one world and another is only apparent. From the spiritual valley you will be able to continue caring for, guiding and cultivating Your portion, and many times you will be able to carry out such great works that on earth you would have considered impossible.

24. Blessed is the way of your spirit, which makes you know your Father's love more clearly every day and teaches you to understand the greatness of his works.

25. After these teachings, will it be possible for someone to continue waiting for death to come to free him from his cross, or will there be those who fear that it will come to take away his life?

26. Everything lives in Me, everything in Me is eternalized, nothing is lost.

27. In this age I come to visit you in your dwelling place, because if you seek me, I also seek you. I want to converse with you, let me penetrate into the depths of your heart and do not try to hide your regrets or your faults from me.

28. Try to hear me in the silence, raise your spirit to your Father and soon you will hear my voice, speaking to you in a language that has never been heard by you, and which you will be able to understand, as if you had always been listening to it.

Love one another!

29. You should not be surprised by this, because you should understand that I am the Universal Word. I speak to consciences, I speak to hearts, spirits, reason and senses, I speak in all beings, my voice never ceases.

30. Learn to listen to me and analyze my lessons. Remember that I told you that whoever drinks of the water of my word will never thirst again. I have poured out my wisdom on everything that exists so that you may gather it throughout your journey.

31. Even if there were no religions in the world, it would be enough for you to concentrate at the bottom of your being to find my presence in your inner temple; I also tell you, it would be enough to observe what life offers you, so that you would find in it the book of knowledge, which at every step shows you its most beautiful pages and its deepest lessons.

32. Then you will understand that it is not right for the world to go astray when it carries the way in its heart, nor for it to be confused among the darkness of ignorance dwelling among so much light.

33. I have not come to judge you for the sole purpose of passing a sentence for each sinner; I have come to judge you, not without first offering you a new opportunity to free your spirit from all its faults.

34. I am calling everyone, because I want to see myself surrounded by that great family that for Me is humanity, in which I have deposited so many pleasures and tenderness, to the point of making me his child.

35. You who have had the opportunity to listen to me in this way, know that you have arrived at an opportune time. Neither I came before or after the right time, nor have you arrived too late or too early. This is the time that had been promised to your spirit from distant times, so that in it he would receive the continuation of a lesson just begun in previous eras.

36. You could not return to Me, without first having tasted all the fruits of life and having delighted yourself with all the pleasures. How few are the beings who have known how to remain faithful and clean next to the Father! They have done only their will; but you, who have repeated many times in your prayers, "Lord, your will be done, both on earth and in heaven," it is a lie that you have always acted according to my will; hence, by doing yours, which is imperfect, you would have made so many mistakes, that now you are paying with great bitterness, illness and misery. But you will cease to continue doing your will, to submit to a divine authority that governs everything with wisdom and justice; then you will stop making mistakes and suffering because of them.

Love one another!

37. Pray, seeking the solitude and silence of your inner sanctuary, and in that prayer the senses and powers that are now dormant will arise, inside your being, talking to you about past teachings and future events, inaccessible to your mind today. Then you will come to know that you have to finish some work that in previous existences you had left unfinished. It is at this time that man will begin to know himself spiritually. He is already at the door of the sanctuary where he will find the explanation of all the mysteries that have so far surrounded him without being able to explain them to him. But woe to those who, despite my constant calls, show themselves deaf or insensitive to the voice that incessantly knocks on the doors of their heart, because there will be boredom and sadness in them until now never imagined.

38. O women of this people who are listening to my word and who move you to the deepest and noblest of your hearts, watch over your own, keep the flame of faith burning in them, cultivate virtue, peace and fraternity! I am addressing you, because your heart is more sensitive to my word, although your spirit is the same as that of all humanity.

39. I want to make all of you, the beloved disciples who learn to correct without hurting or judging anyone, those who know how to heal a wound without making it bleed, who know how to forgive without causing humiliation. When you are ready, I will send you to the nations as counselors, as emissaries of peace, as heralds of this good news. as worthy disciples of the one who has taught you so much, but you must not forget that the only one who can give is the Father and He is the only One who can give back to the spirit all that he has lost.

40. After 1950, when my manifestation in this form ceases, I will not leave you alone, I will continue to make myself present in another form, in a more subtle way, and if you really come to watch over the teachings that I have entrusted to you and you come to spiritualize, you will feel my presence closer, if you have faith, you will see me with your spiritual gaze, and if you come to unite as brothers in my work, the multitudes will come to you. as they have come in this time when I have communicated through the spokesman.

41. No one will be able to tear this seed from your heart, because it will pass from one generation to another.

42. There will be a struggle, the wicked and the hypocrites will point at you and persecute you for going after this footprint; but nothing will be able to turn this people back., because this seed. sown by Me in your heart, it will arise in moments of trial, a word of light on the lips of your children.

Love one another!

43. Just as Christianity managed to make my lessons of love known at a time when it was difficult for men to feel the love of one another, at this time spiritualism will struggle in an era in which materialism has petrified the heart of humanity. And if in those times the word of Christ touched the life of men at its foundations, even now this light will make their most sensitive fibers tremble. There will be times when apparently my seed will have disappeared; but it will prevail and persist among all the events of the earth.

44. If some come to conceal my truth, others will take care to make it known; if the parents are silent, the children will speak; but my word will spring from the lips of my disciples and testimonies will arise everywhere; but do not pretend to see the fulfillment of everything that I am now announcing to you; let the seed germinate first, after the plant bears the desired fruit, and even then you must let the fruit ripen; then you will see how all my prophecies are fulfilled one by one. Some of you are anxious, some negligent, but I tell you that you must all be patient and persevering.

45. When you know how much it costs to pick a fruit or a seed after having cared for and cultivated it, you will have true love for it; that is why I want my seed to pass through your hands, so that you take care of it and grant it all its value; to help you in the fulfillment of your mission I come to strengthen you for the fight.

46. The Shepherd lovingly leads the flock into the bosom of his love, which is for the spirits the bosom of the Lord.

47. Walk, my voice tells you, do not stay parked on the path. Love time as a precious treasure, used in the fulfillment of the duties of your spirit and of those imposed on you by your earthly duties; invest it in everything that my law commands, and the reward you will achieve will be of light and peace for your spirit.

48. For many men of this time, their atonement on the face of the earth is coming to an end; you, who are listening to these revelations and who do not know if you are among those chosen, take advantage of every last moment of your existence, examine it in the light of your conscience; analyze the trials that you have to suffer, pay off all your debts as far as you can, and with that preparation you will obtain a pleasant fruit, which your spirit will reap, as soon as it crosses the thresholds of spiritual life.

49. Do not think of death, that the unknown does not constitute an obsession for you; think that you will live and be sure that when you look at the path of the spiritual valley, your spirit will exclaim rejoicing and surprised: It seems to me that I have already passed through here

Love one another!

50. Study and interpret my teachings well, because if you did not do so, you would fall into fanaticism due to the misinterpretation that you give to my lessons of spirituality, and this one, which is elevation, does not admit errors.

51. Live with purity, with humility, simply. Fulfill everything that is just within the human, as well as everything that concerns your spirit. Remove from your life the superfluous, the artificial, the harmful, and recreate instead with everything that is good in your existence.

52. The way is so smooth and the weight of the cross is so light, when you have already learned to live, that it will seem easy to fulfill your restitution; but for him who carries heavy burdens and drags chains through the world, it seems to him that it is impossible to take the way of the Lord and follow the traces that He traced.

53. See that the Master is not asking you for impossibilities, I am not even telling you to transform your life in an instant. Dematerialize your heart, stripped of egoism and you will be advancing on the path that I traced with meekness and love.

54. It is not my servants who with vain words proclaim to serve me, boasting of wisdom or judging the works of their brothers. My servants, my disciples, my soldiers, are those who, with a clean, industrious and useful life, are sowing my light in their path, they are leaving a trace of virtue and examples of good.

55. No one is authorized to judge the works of his brothers, because if the one who is clean does not do it, why should he who has stains on his heart?

56. I tell you this, because you are always searching your brother's seed hoping to find defects, then show him your sowing and humiliate him by telling him that your work is cleaner and more perfect.

57. The only judge who knows how to judge your deeds is your Father who dwells in heaven; when He presents Himself with his scales, no one who understands more will have greater merit in his eyes, but the one who has known how to be a brother of his fellow men and the son of his Lord.

58. It is necessary that my people arise among the nations giving an example of fraternity, harmony, charity and understanding, as a soldier of peace in the midst of those who take the divine teachings again to quarrel, wound and take their own lives.

59. To my children of all conglomerates, churches and sects, I speak through your conscience. I exhort them to reconciliation and inspire them with great thoughts of light; but it is essential that you know that I am leaving them a message with you, which you will have to deliver to them in my name.

Love one another!

60. You must be humble, it should not matter to you if they offend you; you will be meek; they will make you suffer humiliations and sufferings; but at your word, which will be my message, they will not be able to throw him out of his spirit, so I tell you that if some are going to remain insensitive and deaf to your call, others will wake up from their long sleep and get up to march and channel their life along the path of regeneration and repentance.

61. Put on courage, faith and fortitude, so that you can face the struggle; but I warn you: Do not be afraid when you talk to your brother because you see him well dressed or because they call him prince, lord or minister.

62. Take the example of Paul and Peter who raised their voices before those whom the world called lords. They were great in their spirit and yet before no one they pretended to be lords and did manifest themselves to be servants; follow their example and bear witness to my truth with the love of your works.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 132

1. Welcome to you, those of you who are gradually feeling the flame of love for your Master within you. Welcome those who seek to sweeten your life with the caress of my word. Welcome also those who doubt my presence, because I will free you from your doubt and it will give way to my light. Welcome those of you who come with a saddened heart, for I will give you the comfort you need. You all fit inside my love.
2. Seeing how I receive you, from the bottom of your heart you tell me: Lord, I was waiting for you, I was already looking forward to your coming, and your loving word. Are you seeking the Kingdom of God? I will take you to it step by step, until you reach the highest height of perfection. Many who have preceded you on earth are already reaching that elevation. They are the spirits of light, the emissaries or messengers of God, who come invisibly among men to bring them messages and inspirations.
3. O disciples, take care of the advancement of the spirit and you will learn to solve all those problems whose solution, being within your reach, you think impossible. Why, if you are graced with such high gifts, do you want Me to do everything for you? Think that you have to reach Me through your merits, efforts and even sacrifices; I am teaching you how to progress on the way to reach the goal.
4. Behold, my word is like a good seed. Sometimes it falls on hard ground, among stones or thistles; it is materialism, the indifference of the hearts in which my doctrine cannot germinate. Sometimes some plant begins to bloom, when an impure hand comes to cut it. It is when the heart gets carried away from bad passions. When the seed comes to fall into fertile soil, it germinates in time, blooms and fructifies, the bush rising more and more every day and lavishing itself with fruits.
5. Sometimes you ask yourselves: Why does the Master, instead of choosing his servants or disciples, not take them all, since we are all his children? And I answer you, I come to those who are already on time, like a seed in season; and I leave the Others some more time until they reach full maturity, so that I can use them. The Master does what the good fisherman does, who at an early hour enters his boat, casts his net where he knows that fishing abounds, and when he has taken it out full of fish, he lets the useless minnows come out from between the mesh, to select the best ones. I am the fisherman of spirits, the one who stretches out his net to imprison in you your heart. How many who were imprisoned in my nets of love, returned to the sea of their concerns and passions. These cannot yet be of the chosen ones who faithfully and selflessly followed me. More will come later.

Love one another!

6. I try to make my voice heard in all spirits, but the materialism of humanity does not allow it to hear the voice of the world and the flesh. There are those, however, who listen to me, and these are the sad, the needy, the sick, the despised, those whom the world no longer needs and has relegated them to oblivion, because they no longer have anything to give. They do listen to me, because they know that they can only expect from Me. What can my voice, my word matter to him who finds in the command everything he desires? He sees only his material happiness, and if he ever hears my call, as he usually tells the beggar, he also says to Me: Today I have nothing to give you, come back tomorrow. And who knows that tomorrow? Who can know how long it takes to call back? It may be in the morning, as it may be in another existence. Blessed is he who forgets his suffering for the pain of others.

7. Pray, see that it is the time when my righteousness and my light have removed all darkness. This is a difficult and dangerous time, because even the beings who dwell in darkness will pose as beings of light among you, to tempt you, to confuse you. I give you my light, so that you will not stray from the path or be deceived by those who take my name.

8. The tempters are not only invisible beings, you also have them incarnated in men who tell you about lessons that seem to be light, but that go against my doctrine. Those, do not listen to them. My word is recognized by its elevation, by its divine essence and flavor. The tree, by its fruit is recognized. Whoever gets to know and get acquainted with the taste of my word, that one is never wrong. I have given you the right to search my word and analyze it, so that you may come to know it deeply.

9. If I watch over all, like the shepherd who cares for his sheep, if I stretch out my net to rescue your spirit from the raging waves of the ocean, pray also for your brothers, and your prayer will be spread like a mantle of peace over humanity.

10. You are understanding, that I have divided my divine revelation into three great times.

11. It was in the spiritual infancy of humanity, when the Father gave him the law and promised him a Messiah who would come to open the door to a new era.

12. The Messiah was Christ, who came among men when they were in spiritual adolescence. He came to teach men a higher way of fulfilling the law that they had previously received from the Father and which they had not been able to fulfill. The Word of God spoke through the lips of Jesus, therefore I tell you, the world continued to listen to the voice and the command of his Father through the doctrine of love of the perfect Master.

Love one another!

13. Jesus, in turn, offered men to send the Spirit of Truth to them, so that he would make them understand everything that of his teaching had not been understood by them.

14. Well, beloved people, this simple, humble word that you are now hearing is the voice of the Spirit of Truth, it is the spiritual light of God, which pours into your being, so that you may open your eyes to the new time. This light that begins to make you clearly understand all the revelations of your Master, is the light of your Father, of the Holy Spirit, which surprises humanity at a higher height of spiritual evolution, that is, when it is approaching the mature age, to understand the revelations of God.

15. In all that this light reveals to you, you will be receiving the teaching of the Father, because the Word is in Me, and the Holy Spirit is my own wisdom.

16. This form of communication through human spokesmen is only the prelude to the true spiritual communion of men with their Creator and Lord, when filled with the Spirit of Truth you converse with your Father, spirit to Spirit.

17. To those who still do not believe in my manifestation of this time, I say: Do not deny that the Master is communicating with men again, because He promised to return to you, and none of the divine promises has remained unfulfilled. Do not distance yourselves from your Father either, saying that it is not possible to communicate with Him. Truly, I say, the Lord has always communicated with men in different ways, according to their elevation.

18. This new era, because it is one of spirituality, because it is illuminated by the divine light that clarifies everything and teaches you to understand everything, will be called the Era of the Holy Spirit.

19. The new time has already begun to never end, because the culmination of this era will be linked with eternity.

20. Do you not yet perceive the greatness and the wonders that the time of light promises you? Do you not rejoice at the thought that the time is near when the world will come out of its darkness to open its eyes to the new day?

21. The confusions will cease, the crossroads will disappear, the mysteries will be dispelled, and a bright light, but at the same time sweet and soft, because it is that of the Divine Spirit, will say to the men who sought a lot, doubted and tormented themselves: Here is the truth.

22. Understand that the law of the Father came to be explained by Christ, and that the doctrine of the Master comes to be clarified by the light of the Father himself whom you call the Holy Spirit.

Love one another!

23. To reach this light, lift up your thoughts, set the spirit free, open your heart, because I want to pour out a torrent of blessings on you.

24. Multitudes who have just arrived today in the light of my word, open your needy hands and take the bread and wine of my teaching.

25. The trials have passed over all of them; in some they have been brief, but intense, in others they have been lasting and bitter. Moments, hours, days and years of pain, I want them to pass from you and peace returns to your hearts. From my Spirit to yours go my balm, my strength and my light.

26. Let yourselves be enveloped by my flood so that here you will forget sorrows, mourning, miseries and tears; it is time for you to discover the treasure that you carry hidden and stop being the outcasts in the world.

27. Do not be afraid, people, that I will not give you positions or responsibilities until you have achieved the peace, strength and health that you lack; when you are already strong, your heart will come to thank me and at the same time to ask me for a place in my countryside.

28. "Ask, and it will be given to you," I say to the sick, to those in need of peace, to the poor, to those who have been hungry and thirsty for justice, to widows, orphans, to those who have no affection in the world, in short, to all who drink the cup of bitterness; but do not promise me anything in exchange for my charity. Let me pour out my love on you and be free to follow me or to turn away from Me. Whether you follow me or not, I leave it to the gratitude of your heart, to your understanding, to your conscience.

29. It is not an order that I come to give you, nor will you put conditions on me to follow me.

30. What you must keep in mind is that everyone who regenerates, who leads a righteous life and in his works puts a flash of virtue, he will have within reach the most precious treasures of the spirit, such as peace, health and the light of wisdom.

31. If you are obedient and meek, you will have nothing to do, terner; in Me you will only see love, justice and kindness without limits.

32. Your fear will be justified when you are walking off the path; then you should fear the consequences of your imperfect acts.

33. There is someone among you who says to me: Lord, why have you called me, if you know that I have a very hard heart that has never felt charity from anyone? I tell him not to be afraid, that my power is great and I know how to make crystal clear water flow from the rocks.

Love one another!

34. Persevere listening to my word, it is the only thing I ask of you, and when you least think about it, the darkness of your understanding will dissipate to make way for the light, and that heart that resembles a dead man in his coffin, will rise to life feeling and loving as befits every child of God.

35. Learn to pray, your Teacher tells you. I want to converse with you in the corner of your bedchamber; I want to converse with my sick and anoint them, making them feel the comfort of my divine balm; I want to grant you that which you have been waiting for for a long time.

36. Learn to converse with the doctor of doctors, O blessed sick, for you will call on me a lot tomorrow, when you are already healthy and have other sick under your care.

37. Always have faith, so that the miracle may be verified and make merits so that you may always find yourselves worthy of what you request.

38. What merits can a sick person, who is incapable of all struggle, make? His merits can be many and great, if he knows how to put on patience and conformity, if he knows how to be humble to the divine will and knows how to bless me in the midst of his pain, because his example will be a light in many hearts that dwell in darkness, that despair and give themselves up to vices or think of death when they are surprised by a trial. Those beings, finding on their way an example of faith, humility and hope, which arises from a heart that also suffers a lot, because it carries a very heavy cross, will feel that their heart has been touched by a ray of light; and so it is, in fact, since they failed to listen to the voice of their own conscience; they had to receive the light of conscience that another brother sent them with his example and his faith.

39. Do not give up, never confess yourself a failure, do not bend under the weight of your sufferings; always have before you the lit lamp of your faith; that faith and your love will save you.

40. Men, who suffer privations and miseries in silence, who have to drink the cup of howling day after day, I bless your steps. Yesterday you were lords and now you are servants; yesterday, the finery covered you and now poverty envelops you. You inhabit a miserable corner, from which you remember your past and there, in silence, you shed your tears so that neither your wife nor your children will see you cry. I felt you were cowards at that moment and you don't want to make yours falter. Only I know those sorrows, only I know how to wipe away those tears. I want to talk to you all and teach you, because all that pain that you have accumulated, I can put aside, leaving in your heart only that blessed light of experience. I assure you that of those who have suffered the most, I will bring out the best teachers.

Love one another!

41. You need to know my word so that you may be healed and that you may rise to true life, o dead of the heart and of the spirit.

42. Pain has poured all its contents on the world, making itself felt in thousands of ways.

43. How dizzy you live, humanity! how laboriously you knead your daily bread! That is why men are consumed prematurely, women grow old before their time, maidens are exhausted in full bloom and children become desensitized in tender age.

44. However, I want you to find peace, to achieve harmony, to reject pain; for this I present myself in Spirit and I send you my word, which is a dew of consolation, balm and peace on your spirit.

45. Hear my word, which is the resurrection and the life, in it you will regain faith, health and the joy of fighting and of existing.

46. I come to give you the love that is in Me and that never runs out. You are part of Myself and I feed you, my well-made shadow always covers you. As a Father I have taught you to take the first steps in fulfilling your mission. You are at the foot of the mountain of perfection, from there climb. My Spirit is at the top waiting for your return. Humanity will follow in your footsteps. I am making the call, I am speaking to the father of the family, to whom he has become my representative and has the mission of guiding the spirits entrusted to him, also to the one who is ruler, so that each one works within my laws and can, overcoming the trials of this time, fulfill his mission.

47. I have established from the beginning of time the home, formed by man and woman, and in it I have poured wisdom and love. I have placed on both of them a cross, a perfect destiny. The foundations of such a home are love, mutual understanding. Government belongs to the man, submission and compliance to the woman; in both I have poured out precious gifts so that they can be perfected. And that blessed institution, it is not my will that it be unknown or desecrated. In spite of the storms that strike and threaten everywhere, watch over and defend these principles. Build the future of humanity on firm foundations. I, who preside over your acts, will bless you and multiply your seed.

48. If your spirit cannot conceive great ideas or inspirations, pray, prepare yourselves and I will enlighten you.

49. All the positions that I hold for you are of great importance and responsibility; while I grant some the guardianship of the children, others I make them spiritual guides of a large portion or rulers of a numerous people. Blessed is he who rises above matter to seek strength and light in Me, for he will be in communication with Me, and I will sustain him in all his trials through the fulfillment of his mission.

Love one another!

50. Feel my Father's warmth, listen to me and understand me; do not let those who hear me for the first time think that this man through whom I give you my word is trying to make you believe that he is the Lord, the Teacher; no, your eyes do not see me, but your spirit receives me and in your heart you feel my presence. I speak to you from infinity and the sweet echo of my voice is the one you hear through these lips prepared by Me so that you can hear my holy word.

51. Why are these communications? Once I promised to return to you; I announced that my arrival would be when the wars were unleashed, when the perversity of men had reached its greatest height and when the plagues had been unleashed on the earth; moreover, I implied that my arrival would be in Spirit. The time of my coming has already arrived, the time of my presence among you is this one in which wars shake the whole earth, homes are destroyed, virtues trampled underfoot and the law adulterated; that is why many wonder when they see all this; When will Christ, our Savior, come? They do not know that I am already back in the world preparing the seed that will bring them light and peace; I am just beginning to fulfill my promise.

52. Again I have come among the humble, among the poor and ignorant, but who hunger and thirst for justice, love and truth, and this humble and ignored people, seeing that someone has noticed them and that someone has been their Lord, moved by a very great inner strength has risen up after my word. He came sad, tired and sick; in my presence he found balm for all his ills, he came contrite for his sins, his scourges and vices, and when he felt the caress that my forgiveness gives, a firm purpose of regeneration, of amendment was born in him; he felt his spirit empty of works worthy of his Father, and he received teachings, so that he could do great works and wonders.

53. Human and spiritual life were mysteries that his limited knowledge could not penetrate; here listening to me, he has known the truth of everything created. If at that time the Israelite people awaited the arrival of the Messiah as that of a powerful, warrior and strong king in material matters who would restore their freedom, give them weapons to overcome and humiliate their oppressors, and then fill them with earthly goods, making them the greatest and strongest people on earth, at this time this people has not come to make them rich in the world, or to make them great and lord over others, they have come Here to find truth, redemption and peace. The material goods I have also granted them, but it has been in addition.

54. The bread of the poor of this time, with being so bitter, is not as bitter as that eaten by the great, the lords, the kings.

55. Humanity, return to Me, begin by praying as I taught you, so that you may feel the peace of my arrival; pray spiritually before Me, feeling those phrases that I taught you and that say: Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, thy kingdom come! How many times have you uttered these words, which are an invocation for my coming, without knowing what they say, what they contain and therefore without feeling them; Christ taught you to pray by raising your thoughts to the Heavenly Father without any image or form coming between the Father and the Son; since when have you forgotten these lessons?

Love one another!

56. O my new people of Israel! I entrust this work to you as if it were a tree; now it is tender, tomorrow it will be corpulent; it is destined to give shade and fruit to the fatigued and sick pilgrim; but if you who come from the regions and the countryside, from the mountains and villages, in search of its fruits, are going to neglect it, that tree will wither, its fruits will fall and; the day will come when you will go back to it, because you will feel hungry and tired of life, and when you reach the place where the tree was, you will not find a sign of it, because you did not know how to take care of it, because you concreted to eat of its fruits until you satisfied your hunger and then turned your back on it. That tree is the one that grows in the hearts of my children; its fruits are love and charity. your trust and gratitude will be the best watering you can give to your tree so that it lives, grows and bears fruit.

57. Here I am well among this humility, that is why I have not sought the great ones, because they would try to please me by offering me riches of the earth. Remember that Jesus at that time did not even have a hut in the world where to be born; it was a humble grotto that gave him shelter, and straw was the one that served as his bed. "My kingdom is not of this world," I told you later, and he proved it to you from my birth. A poor robe covered my body, which was soaked many times by the tears of sinners, for whom they had suffered a lot, and the faith of those who touched it worked real miracles on them.

58. Today that I come to you in Spirit, I tell you that the mantle that covers me and with which I cover you, is only that of my love; come to Me and wipe away your tears in this blessed mantle, that a new miracle will shine on your faith, that of your salvation.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 133

1. You are welcome, my beloved, who have come to hear my word. Behold, the Master of mankind; now I am communicating through these spokesmen, as I once spoke to the peoples through the mouth of the prophets.
2. Do you find among men anything greater than what your God has revealed to you? No. Then why do you follow astray paths, if I have set a straight path before your eyes? Only I can reveal to you what have been mysteries for you. Who else can intervene in God's plans? Only my divine light could have revealed to you that your present life has been granted to you to atone for past faults that your heart ignores. In that cup of bitterness you are expiating mistakes to purify your spirit and achieve evolution.
3. . Do not forget that your existence is not limited by your matter, therefore at the end of it, your spirit does not die; have you forgotten that the spirit is the seed of eternity?
4. Do not limit me in the form of Jesus either; if you want to remember me or meditate on my manifestation as soon as I come, do it by remembering my teachings, my works. Conceive me infinite, so that you may recognize the first proof of love that I gave you by making me similar to you, so that later, through the practice of the virtues, you may be similar to my Divinity imitating my examples. If I speak to you in this way, it is because you are already qualified to understand me.
5. I am all Spirit, but in all my works I am present. If you seek me as soon as I surround you on earth, in the air, in space, in light, you will see me there. If you seek my presence in the most insignificant creature, in the leaf of a tree that moves the breeze or in the perfume of a flower, there you will find me, there you will discover the imprint of the love with which the Creator initiates all his works. Your science has discovered and created many wonders, but man has not done everything, because I put the elements of life in him. The beginning of everything is in my charity. The spirit through the human mind is a mirror reflecting the light and power of Divinity. The higher the spirit and the more evolved the mind, the greater revelations it will have to reflect. If today your science has given you very bitter fruits, it is because you have brought that light only along the path of free will.
6. Have I not told you that you are the wayward sheep? That's the reason I'm coming after you to get you back. When you return by the true way to my fold, the harmony between you and the Father will cause you to give humanity true fruits of life. Why should you always go the crooked way, if the voice of your inner judge never tires of speaking to you? Why should you not embrace the good, if whenever you do a good deed, your spirit is flooded with joy?

Love one another!

7. Humanity: I have never wanted you to get lost. It is unjust that you have such a concept of ME, that you think that I have created beings that inevitably have to be lost, that I have pointed out that destiny to the children of God. Understand that your destiny is different, it is to live eternally and not a few, but all, because they are all my children. If I descended into the world becoming a man, it was to show you in the examples of that sacrifice, the fulfillment of the mission indicated by my Divinity. I tell you that this blood was shed to trace the path of restitution to all my children, and that if someone had not achieved that benefit, for him alone I would become a man again and I would give my blood to save him.

8. There is no justice as perfect as mine. If now you complain that sentences are imposed on the innocent in the world and that, on the other hand, there are some guilty people without the justice of the world having sanctioned them, do not be afraid, do not judge them; remember that everything has a limit, that nothing goes unnoticed before Me and that, moreover, everything has an end on earth. Walk, my children, do not stop, but go along the path that my law has drawn for you. Tell me that you love me, but not with words, but with deeds, with deeds of love for your brothers. Do not raise material altars to worship me; but if you need an altar to inspire you, look at that wonderful nature that surrounds you and love me through it, so you will reach Me.

9. Beloved disciples, whenever you approach Me, prepared in spirit and matter, you will receive my strength and consolation, your sorrows will be turned aside and you will taste milk and honey; deposit in Me what your heart contains, and I will arrange in your life according to my will; I want you all to fight, that no one becomes lethargic, that you be solicitous and work with shyness and obedience, because it is time for fulfillment and restitution, and your farming tools only acquire brightness after the struggle.

10. Humanity is waiting for my new disciples, but if you who are my husbandmen, for fear of the judgment of the world, abandon the seed and the tools, what will become of this humanity? Have you not felt the responsibility of your position? Your conscience never deceives you and it will always tell you if you have complied; that restlessness that you experience is a sign that you have not observed my precepts.

11. I have given you the gift of peace, and you have not sown it in the hearts of your brothers, you have not influenced with your thoughts and prayers to alleviate the pain of nations that are at war. Do not be like the blind leading the blind. remember that I have told you that you are the light of the world. Your burden will not be heavy if you have love for this cause; if you present me with good intentions, I will help you; it will not be necessary for you to go in search of the sick, but you will be requested; I will put them on your way and thus you will be able to fulfill that blessed mission of comforting. Those who come to you will have been prepared by Me so that you will not stumble with hard hearts and say to me, "How heavy is the office you have given me, Father, and how hard are the lands I am tilling." I have arranged everything for you to work with love and perfect yourselves.

12. I have chosen you to entrust this mission to you, because you love me and have presented your humility and submission to me; I do not want that after having taken you as intermediaries to pour out my charity on those in need, you feel superior to your brothers and you do not know me.

13. To raise your spirits, you have to renounce the superfluous pleasures of this world; my path is narrow, and it is necessary to watch and pray; but if you truly love me, it will not be a sacrifice for you to turn away from these human miseries; I have made your cross light, I have enlightened those around you so that they will not be obstacles in your path.

14. Tomorrow there will be a war of doctrines and ideas; many of your brothers, tired of false promises, will come to you in search of the truth, and if you are not prepared, the presence of these men will frighten you.

15. Fight for the salvation of humanity and take advantage of this time, because 1950 is already approaching and I will stop speaking to you through the spokespersons; many of you will serve me before that year and others after it. After that year, you, those who have transmitted my word, will not penetrate into ecstasy, and those who have let the spiritual world manifest at this time, will obey its inspirations and will feel protected at all times. I will be with all my children so that you continue to make my teachings known to humanity. At that time your enemies will try to annihilate you and form obstacles to the development of my work; if you are disunited, you will feel weakened. Many of those persecutors, knowing the essence of my doctrine, will recognize me, convert and take my teachings to other nations and regions.

16. I want you to bring this light to all my children, some humble and others powerful, that you seek his spirit that groans and know how to guide him, and that you who have been rude, know how to interpret my will before the world.

17. Each one is in the place that I have indicated to him; do not murmur about those whom I have left in front of you as interpreters, as responsible for these multitudes, but rather, help them with your thoughts; if I have chosen them to give them an important position, pray for them so that they carry out their delicate mission.

Love one another!

18. You, who have suffered the trials that have forged your heart, can already understand the sufferer and penetrate the arcanum that is the human heart, discover the sorrow or the evil that afflicts him, to console him.

19. Understand me, people, and think that if I have materialized my word, it is because I love you and I want you to know my desire that you love one another.

20. Shake hands as a test of friendship, and do it sincerely. How do you want to be brothers, if you have not known how to be friends?

21. If you want the Father to dwell among you, you must learn to live as brothers. When you take this step on the path of fraternity, your triumph will be rewarded by spirit-to-Spirit communication. I have given you many gifts and I announce to you that when you are united in will and in thought, I will grant you to communicate by inspiration with your brothers who live beyond your world.

22. My work is of light, my truth is clear, therefore I tell you that no one will be able to walk in darkness, claiming that I am there.

23. At that time, when I became a man and dwelt among you, it happened many times that at night, when everyone was resting, there was no shortage of men looking for me, sneaking up on Me, fearing to be discovered. They were looking for me, because they felt remorse for having shouted and scandalized against me, while I was speaking to the crowd, and their remorse was more intense when they realized that in their heart I had left them my word a present of peace and light and in their body I had poured my healing balm.

24. They stood before Me with downcast heads, saying, "Master, forgive us, we have recognized that there is truth in your word." I answered them, "If you have found that I speak only the truth, why are you hiding? Do you not go out to receive the rays of the sun when it appears, and when have you been ashamed of it?"

25. He who loves the truth will never hide it, deny it, or be ashamed of it.

26. I speak to you like this, because I see that many come to listen to me on the sly, lying where they have come from, hiding what they have heard and sometimes denying that They have been with Me. What are you ashamed of?

27. It is necessary that you learn to speak of my work and of my word, in such a way that there is no room for you to be mocked, or to be singled out. It is also necessary that you cultivate sincerity, so that when you bear witness to Me, you do so with words that are expressions that flow from your heart. That is the seed that always germinates, because it possesses the essence of truth that touches the heart and reaches the spirit.

Love one another!

28. My divine message, by depositing it in you, must be transformed into a fraternal message, but in order for it to impress and move the materialistic and skeptical heart of this humanity, it must be wrapped in the truth that I have revealed to you. If you conceal anything or keep silent, you will not have given a full testimony of what has been my revelation in the Third Time, and therefore you will not be believed.

29. I have come to prove to you that the blindfold of darkness can be removed from the ignorant or the stupid, without hurting him, without hurting him, offending him or hurting him, and so I want you to do it too. I have proved to you in yourselves that love, forgiveness, patience and indulgence have more strength than hardness, anathemas or violence.

30. Keep this lesson, disciples, and do not forget that if you want to call yourselves worthy brothers of your fellow men, you will have to accumulate goodness and virtues to pour them out on them. I promise you that when the light of fraternity shines on earth, I will make my presence felt vibrantly.

31. The spirit of the one who knows how to prepare, was ecstatic in the contemplation of spiritual teachings, inspired by the word of the Master. The land of your heart has not been barren, and the wheat will soon bear fruit.

32. My light has torn the dense darkness of your ignorance, your heart has been softened to bind it and your understanding has been cleared to understand my revelation. This light has made you contemplate the greatness of life, the perfections of creation, the wonders of nature and the wisdom with which each destiny has been traced.

33. Sometimes you say to me: Master, it is easy to learn your lesson, but it is difficult to practice it. Then the Master encourages you and with his love inspires you with confidence; then in your daily life he tests you to the extent of your ability, and thus, insensibly, you begin to practice the lessons of the Master. Understanding, faith and love, is all you need to travel this path.

34. Remember that when you have come before my presence, rather than demanding that you immediately begin the fulfillment of some mission, I let you listen to me, so that you may be saturated with my word, which is wisdom and strength, balm and peace. First I have let you search for my truth until you find it, I have let you search my work and penetrate it as far as you want, as I told Thomas to sink his fingers into the wound in my side so that he could believe. Only in this way will you be able to be firm and persevering in the struggle that awaits you.

Love one another!

35. I have made you listen to my word countless times and that you feel like disciples before my chairs. My Divinity has been manifested and I have let my spiritual world give proof of its presence, doing wonders among you.

36. If you know how to understand and look well at what I have granted you, you will be convinced that you are not hungry or in need of trials and miracles.

37. You have seen the wonders performed in yourselves or in your brothers, and those wonders have been those who have ignited the flame of your faith, and those who raised an altar of love in your heart.

38. You have everything, so that you can come to practice my doctrine with the purity and elevation that you already understand.

39. Today you question me at every step, tomorrow you will be the ones who answer the questions that your brothers ask you.

40. Delicate and beautiful is the mission I have come to entrust to you. It is the cross of love under which you will fall, and which will lift you up with its strength.

41. Who will be able to go through this life without carrying a cross, and who will be the one who, carrying it, does not sometimes fall weighed down by its weight?

42. Do not forget that I, your Messiah, your Redeemer, also had my cross on earth and had to fall again and again under its weight. But truly I tell you, the flesh may bend and fall weighed down under the weight of pain, fatigue and agony; but the spirit will not be overcome, because in each fall, it will rise higher, in each complaint, it will bless its destiny and from the same death it will rise to the light of true life.

43. Christ did not disdain to take up his cross; carrying it on his back to Calvary and expiring on it, he gave you the greatest example of humility and went to the right hand of the Father.

44. That cross was the pen with which I wrote my passion in the hearts of men.

45. O people to whom I have entrusted the mission of being light and salvation for humanity! You are the disciple of the three times, who until now, in the third, will become a teacher.

46. Today you are united forming congregations, multitudes and groups, tomorrow you will rise up in different ways testifying and teaching my doctrine, but you will not be spiritually distant from each other.

47. Even if you were separated by the seas or by vast lands, your hearts will beat next to each other, united by the ideal of fulfilling your mission.

Love one another!

48. The unification of this people will come after 1950, and the Father's joy will be very great to see the fruition of the seed that he cultivated with his word, which was like fruitful dew and that the people received from 1866 to 1950.

49. The moment is approaching, people, when you will have to hand over the first fruits of your mission to your Father Jehovah, at the foot of the new Mount Sinai.

50. I want you in that blessed hour to present to the Father the suffering unification that you lost in times past and that I have asked so much of you in the present; that you do not come before Him carrying fanaticism or idolatry in your heart, and in your hands the fruit of mystification.

51. How could he who worships idols discover his error, if he also found you deifying similar objects?

52. Charity is fertilizing all lands, so that the seed of spirituality may fall into them.

53. Do not be afraid of your destiny, people; within this mission there is no slavery, nor is this prison a prison, nor are the charges I have entrusted to you chains.

54. Blessed are those who enter this ark with faith and good will, because they will be saved from the temptations of this time, they will be strong, because in their pain they will have my balm, in their poverty they will have the treasure of this work, and when ingratitude and slander persecute them, they will have the consolation of my word of love.

55. I have not come to ask you for superhuman sacrifices. Neither have I demanded that the man stop being a man for following me, nor have I asked the woman to stop being a woman to fulfill a spiritual mission. I have not separated the husband from his partner, nor have I distanced her from the husband so that they can serve me, nor have I told the parents to abandon their children or to leave work so that they can follow me.

56. To some and others, by turning them into farmers of this countryside, I have made them understand that not because they are my servants they cease to be human and that for the same reason they have to know how to give to God what is God's and to the world what corresponds to it.

57. I only tell you not to let any of the opportunities that I put in your path pass by so that you fulfill the mission of love that I have taught you.

58. You will find your spiritual and material duties linked, and many times at the same time you will be fulfilling both laws.

Love one another!

59. Seven spiritual stages your spirit will have to go through to reach its perfection. Today, when you live on earth, you don't know which rung of the ladder you are on.

60. Knowing the resolution of this question of your spirit, I must not tell you for now.

61. Work with great zeal so that, when death comes, and you close the eyes of your body for this life, your spirit feels rise by itself until it reaches the abode that by its merits it has reached.

62. The disciples of this work will contemplate, in the trance of bodily death, how easily the bonds that unite spirit to matter are broken; in her there will be no pain for having to leave the satisfactions of the earth; her spirit will not wander like a shadow among men, knocking from door to door, from heart to heart in search of light, charity, peace.

63. Pray and watch, see how while my word, full of sweetness and peace, descends among you, there, in other nations, war sows desolation in its wake.

64. Pray for the world, people.

65. Men, when you return home with a hasty step, because you want to hold your wife in your arms, or look into the eyes of your children, and you carry joy in your heart because the fruit of the work you are going to give to yours, pray for those men who are in death camps and will no longer be able to return in search of their home, because it was razed to the ground.

66. When you have a joy, do not forget that at that very hour there are many who cry.

67. You women and mothers, when you incline your face to kiss the forehead of the son who sweetly sleeps in the crib, think of those mothers, who were once like larks and now have lost the nest, the companion and their children, because the war like hurricane wind destroyed everything.

68. When you close your door and feel the sweet warmth of home and its protection, think also of those mothers who seek in the bowels of the earth a place to protect their children from death; think of the children who call their parents without receiving an answer, and of those who only utter one word: bread.

69. And while men continue to destroy each other, you pray, and may your prayer be like an angel of peace floating over those peoples.

70. From Master to disciple and from Father to son I have spoken to you; meditate on my word.

71. The meeting that you form with my Divinity is like a stout tree that invites the walker to rest. I am the root and the trunk of that tree and you are the extensive branches, covered with foliage. I feed you with the sap and in it you receive life and strength. Think, if you will be able to live detached from Me. Sometimes you tell me that you are weakened, and that you suffer because times have changed, and I tell you: That the times are the same, what has changed is your heart, because it has not known how to live and persevere in love, in union and in peace, and this is the cause of your affliction.

Love one another!

72. My teaching comes to renew the faith of your spirit, to give you new strength and to enlighten you. My word is crystal clear water that quenches thirst and pours out inexhaustibly on you. I give you the wheat in abundance so that you may cultivate it in the hearts of your brothers. I want you, as I love you, to love one another, and also yourselves, because I have granted you not only the guidance and direction of a portion, but the first duty you have to Me is to watch over yourselves; you must love each other, recognizing that you are the living image of your Creator.

73. The harvest that you present to me until today is one of pain and little recognition of my law, and I have not given you this cup to drink. I have told you that if you sow wheat, you will reap wheat; but you must take care of the seed that you sow. Today is the time of harvest and everyone will gather his harvest. After, the earth will be clean and man will start a new life and I will be very close inspiring his heart. It will be the reign of peace, of which I have spoken much to you, beloved disciples, and for which I am preparing every spirit.

74. I want to contemplate you as little children around my table, listening to me and feeding you, penetrating into communion with Me, and as you are receiving my lessons, forming resolutions of fulfillment. I want you to serve your brothers; I will send you to them, when love and charity have blossomed in your heart. May your life be like a clean mirror so that your actions may be reflected in it and you may know if you have done well or if you have failed.

75. The development of the virtues of my disciples will be a stimulus for those through whom I communicate, inspiration will be abundant and my grace and wonders will be poured out among humanity. Your spiritual brothers, attracted by your preparation, will help you and make your path easy and your work pleasant. Your influence will go beyond your home, your region or nation, helping other hearts; the good has a power that you do not yet know.

76. I have given my word through simple and ignorant men; but among those who listen to me are scientists, those of cultivated understanding, who have been able to discover in the humility of this word my divine essence. I have polished your heart day after day, to make it sensitive to my inspirations, and my love has overcome; from the rock that you made me present in your heart I have made a temple in which you offer me a cult of love.

Love one another!

77. I entrust my work to you; defend it because it is a jewel of inestimable value. Be sentinels and watch that she is respected and understood. Let nothing turn you back on the way; always go forward.

78. Whenever your heart thirsts for love, rise up to Me; when sorrows are like a heavy burden, remember that there is a Father who loves you and who is ready to comfort you; and thinking of Me, you will feel that fear and sorrows fade away. Entrust your sick to Me and I will heal them.

79. The tree of life has stretched out its branches to give you rest and freshness, and its fruits have made your heart sweet.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 134

1. I come to bring peace to your heart in this message of love, because I have seen your sanctuary open and I have penetrated to dwell in it.
2. Christ, the Teacher, is speaking to you and reminds you of His works on earth so that you can be inspired by my examples.
3. You must take advantage of my presence among you, O dearly beloved people, because the time you are living is momentous for your spirit.
4. That being of light that dwells in you, knows that his work is not finished, he knows that in previous existences he wasted the time that had been granted to him, as well as the opportunities he had to achieve his spiritual progress, therefore he knows that today he must strive to achieve the complete fulfillment of his mission, as well as the development of all his gifts.
5. I have wanted that through this work you know all the gifts and potencies of your spirit, I have imparted to you my teachings of love, I have granted you enough time to cultivate your gifts and so that you can illuminate the path of those who are in darkness, with the light of my truth.
6. I have made you understand that this is the time in which my chosen ones will emerge as prophets, seers or enlightened, announcing to the world that the age of light has arrived. Few will be those who sense in these announcements the proximity of my kingdom, which is ready to overflow with revelations, graces and wisdom.
7. Many will be confused by what they see, feel and experience, to the point of asking me: Lord, what is it that my eyes see, what is happening in the world and what is the meaning of so many strange manifestations and signs among men?
8. And those who, because of their unbelief, because of their pride or because of their hardness, do not get to see or feel, or manage through intuition to contemplate the lights of this time, will be those who call the light darkness and the truth an imposture.
9. Do you not think that you, who have been delighted with the light of this word that has been encouraging your heart, are the ones indicated to define the why of all this, announcing the good news and teaching my doctrine through the book of my teachings to all those who need it?
10. I have given you the law, the rules, the way and the knowledge of what is just and what is lawful, so that you will never stumble, so that you will not doubt in the moments of struggle and so that you will not stain what is sacred. I know that you are going to see men and women arise from all over the earth who prophesy, who announce strange doctrines for all those who live far from the spiritual, beings who cure diseases that they call incurable and who preach spirituality as the only doctrine that is capable of giving the world peace.

11. The manifestations of many of those men will not be defined or pure, because they lacked the direction of the Master, but by then, this people who have been my disciple, will carry my message on all the roads of the earth.

12. Many will be right to wonder that the spiritual life becomes the norm of the works of humanity, because long ago men closed the doors of their hearts to my message and inspirations. In this voluntary exile, man listens only to the voice of his free will, and the path of his life is illuminated only by the faint light of his material knowledge; but that voice is almost always a long complaint, sob or imprecation, and its light manifests it through his science that instead of elevating him, sinks him deeper into his pain.

13. Those who arise after their centuries-long sleep announcing the light of the new time, will be the dead who rise to the spiritual life, after having remained inert for the true life. Where there is love, wisdom and justice, where there is inspiration and goodness prevails, there true life will exist. But where sin reigns and vice reigns, where war exists, envy and selfishness nestle, there only death, desolation and darkness will be found.

14. When men fall into materialism, instead of their work being creative, it is destructive; then they resemble a multitude of worms ready to finish eating a corpse, when by their creative work they could resemble a swarm of bees building their honeycomb in perfect harmony. The work of these little beings consists in looking for honey so that later it sweetens the palates. And you: When will you discover the true flavor of life to give it to each other?

15. This knowledge is constituted by divine love, sublime nectar that I have deposited in every heart and that you have not been able to understand or seek, and therefore it does not yet sweeten your existence.

16. Today, the light of the Father is poured out in torrents on every spirit, so that when he wakes up from his lethargy, he meditates on his own experience, which is a book rich in wisdom and light and perceives the radiance of truth.

17. People, prepare yourselves, meditate on your mission, measure your responsibility in this time, which is propitious to awaken spiritually, and get ready to work in my countryside, that I will help you in the fulfillment of your mission.

18. I come to listen to your requests, your complaints; I want you to learn to converse with your Father.

Love one another!

19. Do not think that I have come only to you, I have descended on everyone, because the love of this humanity reached to the height of the heavens like a distressing cry, like an inspiration of light.

20. When you receive my word this morning, you ask yourself internally, if I come as a Father or as a judge, and I am saying that since before you heard my first word of this day, conscience had already pointed out to you each of your faults and also each of your good deeds. But if I judge you by my word, why are you afraid? peradventure my judgment does not come from the love that I have for you?

21. I come to wake you up so that the trials do not surprise you, and the storms and hurricanes of these times do not leave you in the dark.

22. Certainly this is a time of trials, for which it is necessary to be strong and prepared not to succumb.

23. Life on earth has always been one of trial and expiation for man, but never has this path been so full of pain until now, nor has the chalice been so full of bitterness.

24. In this time man does not wait for the mature age to face the struggle; how many creatures in their childhood already know the disappointments, yoke, scourges, stumbles and failures. And I can tell you even more: In these times a man's pain begins before he is born, that is, from his mother's womb.

25. Great is the atonement of the beings who are coming to earth at this time!

26. All the pain that exists in the world is the work of man. What greater perfection in my justice, than to let the same ones who sowed the path of life with thorns, come now to gather them?

27. Not everyone is equally to blame for the chaos you live, but those who are not the cause of war, are responsible for peace.

28. Have mercy on yourselves and on your fellow men. For this charity to be effective, recognize your gifts by studying my word, because he who loves his brother loves Me, because his brother is my beloved son.

29. You are a people whom I am preparing for prayer, for the dissemination of my word and for healing. Life, with its miseries, struggles and bitterness, resembles the desert; but do not go and park in it, because then you will not know true peace.

30. Keep in mind the example of the Israel referred to in history, who had to wander in the desert for a long time, to get away from the captivity and idolatry of Egypt, at the same time as to reach a land of peace and freedom.

Love one another!

31. Today, all of humanity is similar to that captive people of Pharaoh. Beliefs, doctrines and laws are imposed on it; most nations are slaves of stronger ones; the struggle is rough and the work is done under the lashes of hunger and humiliation; the bread that all men eat is bitter.

32. All this makes that in the heart of humanity a longing for liberation, for peace, for a better life is taking shape.

33. The din of war, the human blood that flows, selfishness, ambition and hatred that bear fruit in a thousand forms, are awakening men from their deep lethargy; and when they unite in a single ideal of spirituality, as the people of Israel united in Egypt under the inspiration of Moses, what force will be able to stop those hearts? None, because in that longing will be my light, in that Joy will be my strength, in that ideal will be my divine promises.

34. Does the world need a new Moses to free itself from its chains? The teaching that I have brought you at this time is the light that inspired Moses, it is the word of justice and prophecy, it is the strength that lifts up the weak, the timid, the coward, and makes him courageous, determined and fervent, it is the law that guides and leads you along the path of truth, it is divine tenderness that sustains you in the long days of the day.

35. You feel encouraged by my word, people, as if a wonderful balm were falling on your wounds; you feel strengthened, renewed, full of hope for tomorrow; so, don't you think that this same message, if you take it to the oppressed peoples of the earth, the same miracle would work in them?

36. That is why I tell you to prepare yourselves, so that you do not delay the moment when you rise up as emissaries of this inspiration.

37. If I tell you to prepare yourselves, it is because this good news must be spread in such a way that it can never cause a pain to be provoked, a fratricidal quarrel, or a single drop of blood to be spilled.

38. My message is persuasive, sweet, full of truth. The same touches the heart, which reaches the mind and convinces the spirit.

39. Listen to Me, study, practice and you will be in a position to open for men gaps towards faith, light, freedom and peace.

40. You know that I am always ready to give you one more of my lessons. Today I will begin by telling you that the purpose of my arrival among you is to teach you, so that you can carry out your mission with clarity.

Love one another!

41. Certainly, this existence is a new stage for your spirit, which had left incomplete a work that had been entrusted to it, and now it has been given the opportunity to take it a little further on the path of perfection.

42. I too, the Divine Master, had to return among men, because my work at that time was incomplete. There will be those who deny this assertion, saying that the work of Jesus ended when he expired on the cross; but this will be because they have forgotten that I announced and promised that I would return.

43. You, to whom I now reveal these teachings, understand that reincarnation is not indispensable to Me, because it is in my Spirit to be able to manifest myself in a thousand ways to humanity. Nor have I returned in search of perfection for my Spirit. If I come to you now, it is only to show you the path that can lead you to the light. Remember that in the First Time the prophets said to you, "It is the door." Moreover, did I not say to you when I became human among you, "I am the way"; am I not now saying to you, "I am already the summit of the mountain that you are climbing?"

44. I have always been in perfection.

45. I am pleased to know that you are safe traveling along my path; tomorrow will be the universal joy, when you all live inside the spiritual home that has been waiting for the arrival of the Lord's children for a long time.

46. This is how I speak to your spirit, because I know that he can already understand these lessons, and I can tell him that he is not a child of this earth, that here in this world he should only consider himself as a guest, because his true homeland is spiritual.

47. Take this word in its true sense, because otherwise you would come to think that my doctrine is against all human progress, and it would not be fair for you to attribute such errors to a Father who only seeks the perfection of his children in the different paths of life.

48. What my justice relentlessly pursues is evil, which takes various forms in the human heart, sometimes manifesting itself in selfish feelings, in low passions, sometimes in excessive greed and even in hatred.

49. Disciples you must study what I am now telling you figuratively. Life is a tree, its branches are countless in number, and of those branches there are no two that are the same, but each of them fulfills its mission. If a fruit goes bad, it is detached from the tree, and if a branch goes astray, it is pruned; because from the tree of life only fruits of life have to sprout.

Love one another!

50. Every science that has caused evil and every religion that has not made true light, you can consider them as branches and fruits, through which the sap of the tree of life does not flow, because they have already been detached from it.

51. Blessed is the one who has it as an ideal to follow my path, blessed is the one who seeks the way to make his spirit great. I receive those who, silencing their complaints, think only of receiving the dew of my word, those who do not let la die and the hope of M. I will do with my word that everyone comes to sing a song to faith.

52. I come to teach you spirituality, because it will give you spiritual and physical health, it will make you love each other, it will give you strength and faith.

53. Through the one who thinks of Me and loves me, the torrent of life passes, in him is my divine manifestation. I have given you life so that you may be great and strong in it, I have given it to you so that you may have charity and manifest your faculty of love; I have also given it to you so that you may have wisdom. Life is the reflection of God, it is the great testimony of my existence; live it and enjoy it, but also understand it. You have enjoyed it a lot without understanding it. Sing to life and may your song be one of understanding, admiration and love. Your spirit, as it rises, will sing a better psalm to the Creator.

54. Life is an incessant stream. In order for the spirit to become great, wise, strong and kind, it must live eternally. People, you think that I am coming to visit you, and the truth is that I dwell in you. I visit you only in this way of manifesting myself by making me think, word and spiritual vision, and it is that my inner manifestation in your being you do not perceive it with the clarity of the beating of your heart, because to feel me palpitate in your being, it is necessary to have sensitivity. Do not lose hope of coming to feel me, because hope comes from faith, which is light on your path. Woe to him who loses faith! Faith is the beacon that illuminates the future, faith is the force that produces what you call miracles. What would become of your life if you did not have faith in my law?

55. I give you life, but I say to you, quicken the light of faith in your God, faith in yourselves, faith in life and in creation. Do not doubt my charity in your vicissitudes; my love is stronger than your trials. Listen to me more with the spirit than with your ears. To those who call themselves disinherited, to those who say that their star does not shine and that they are extinguished lamps and to those who regret having come to life to cry, I say: Have you ever tried to forget about yourselves for a moment to bring comfort to your fellow human beings? Surely not, because whoever practices charity, does it to himself. I have called in this time those who have nothing to give to the world.

Love one another!

56. Love and give selflessly and you will soon see the reward. Knock on my doors and my voice will answer. You can all get up, even if you have fallen very low, even if you are covered with mire. The lost men of today will be the good men of tomorrow. I will build my temple on your ruins, but man will help me rebuild it. Say it here, penetrate into the true life; it is like a kingdom, within which from the heavenly to the least in the material, everything is within your reach.

57. Abolish the pain. The life created by Me is not painful; suffering comes from the disobediences and faults of the children of God. Pain is typical of the life that men in their dissolution have created. Lift up your eyes and discover the beauty of his works; prepare yourselves so that you may hear the divine concert. Do not exclude yourselves from that feast. If you isolate yourselves, how will you be able to partake of that delight? You would live sad, tormented and sick.

58. I want you to be harmonious notes in the universal concert; that you understand that you have sprung from the source of life, that you feel that in all consciousnesses there is my light. When will you reach the fullness when you can say, Father, submit my spirit to yours, as well as my will and my life? See that you will not be able to say this while your senses are sick and your spirit selfishly isolated from the path. You live under the torment of illnesses or the fear of contracting them and, what is a bodily illness in the face of a lack of the spirit? Nothing, if he knows how to get up, because in my charity you will always find help.

59. Just as blood flows through your veins and quickens the whole body, so the power of God, like a torrent of life, passes through your spirit. There is no reason to be sick if you comply with the law. Life is health, joy, happiness, harmony; being sick you cannot be a repository of divine goods. Sick minds, hearts or bodies, the Master says to you: Ask your spirit, who is the son of the Almighty, to return to the way, to heal your ailments and to help you in your infirmities.

60. What can the Father deny his son when he approaches spiritually to request something for his body, a small and fragile material creature? This is how I teach you to ask, but when it comes to giving, I tell you: Give and give. Divide the material and give love, because what good will it do you to give the material part if you did not put love in it? How difficult it has seemed to you to properly manage the goods that you have possessed in the world. Some want to have only for themselves, others, having too much, do not feel the duty to share it.

61. I discover for you a source of health that exists in you, in your spirit, so that you can turn to it when necessary; if you know how to look for it, you will find its waters. I do not want a defeated and sad world, a people who, because of their ignorance of what they possess, speak to me every moment with anguish, and ask me with despair. I want a world aware of what it is and possesses.

Love one another!

62. There are those who are thinking: What if man was always healthy, how would he die? To which I answer you, that it is not necessary that your body should be sick in order for it to cease to live; it is enough that the heart should stop when the hour has rung, in order for it to cease to be.

63. The light of my Spirit is poured out on you so that you may rise again. In this Third Time I have come looking for those who have gone astray to serve me. I am the liberator of the spirits, who comes to free you from your slavery, the rebels, I come to turn them into submissive and humble servants. Then I say to them, "Watch," so that you will not be surprised by the rumors and temptations that lead you back to the precipice.

64. Whoever has known the scum and the underworld and has been able to get rid of it, is prepared to go there, in search of those who still remain lost. There is no one better than he to persuade with his word, which is the light of experience. When will you become the fishers of hearts and liberators of spirits? When you affirm your step on the path that I have traced for you.

65. Give without condition, do not judge your brother's house, but know your dwelling well, so that if you find it dirty, you will clean it and it will be worthy to receive me. Do not look if his storeroom is full or empty or if his body is covered with finery or rags. Let my love put to death all those scourges that could tarnish the light that you should reflect.

66. See that from the perfect mansion I descend to your abode to show you the greatness of the spiritual life, to reveal to you a lesson that teaches you to know yourself, to know your Creator and to know your destiny.

67. The Father would not have his children weep, even if he had said to you, "Blessed are those who weep." My law does not teach you to weep, but the way to avoid pain. If it pleased me to see you suffer, I would not come to you as a doctor, nor would I come to pour out my balm on every wound. He who bears his cross of sorrows with meekness pleases me because he imitates me; but from him who in his religious fanaticism and his ignorance torments and punishes his body, I receive his intention, which is to purify himself or try to wither me in my sufferings, but the act I do not approve.

68. It is enough that you hurry with patience the chalice that life offers you daily and that, overcoming your sorrows, you have the strength to think about your fellow men and do them the good you can, so that you may thus fulfill your mission.

69. Don't complain about suffering anymore. you have received the gift of my love and have been entranced by my word; recognize it by its divine essence and the preparation of the speaker, by the sweetness and firmness of his voice; then, let your spirit wander through regions that only he can reach so that there it will be saturated with light, while his mind is ecstatic, and his heart throbbing with admiration and love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 135

1. I come full of love and clothed with patience to make me understand everyone. Take comfort in Me. Eat and drink so that you may quench your hunger and thirst for righteousness. I want the one misunderstood by humanity to feel understood by Me and the one who felt his empty hand, when he got up after having heard me, to feel that he carries gifts with him. May the one who has come to my presence bringing remorse in his spirit, when listening to me, feel relieved of all this and be able to lift his face like that adulterous woman of the Second Time, when I said to him: "Where are those who persecute you? I forgive you, go in peace and sin no more."
2. I am the divine judge, who never applies a greater sentence to a fault. How many of those who are accused before Me, I find clean. On the other hand, how many proclaim limpidity and I find them perverse and guilty.
3. How unjust is human justice! How many victims of bad judges atone for other people's faults! How many innocents have seen the prison bars close before their eyes, while the guilty walk free invisibly carrying his burden of theft and crime!
4. Spiritually, your world is imperfect. You must help him to rise.
5. The material world, the planet, is not close to disintegration, but the end of that world of errors and sins, of darkness and bad science, will come with the light of my doctrine, and on its rubble I will raise a new world of progress and peace.
6. Your mission as farmers will not end in 1950; on the contrary, it will be when you begin to stop being disciples and become teachers who, with a word of love, guide humanity along the path of light.
7. Great spiritual legions await only this purification among men to incarnate and dwell again on earth. They have a great mission and they expect you to leave them your place to occupy it for them.
8. I come to explain my doctrine to you, materializing my word to make you understand who you are.
9. Never be frightened by the weight of the responsibility that I have placed on you, but the burden of sin weighs. The abyss with its darkness is more painful than the light that exists on the top of the mountain where the Master dwells. Again I tell you that the "yoke of Jesus is sweet".
10. I have called you Israel, because in your spirit there is a mission of peace, a destiny of spiritual harmony with all humanity; because you are the firstborn, because you were not born only of Jacob, you come from beyond him, from beyond Abraham. Your starting point dates from before I sent the first man to earth, who formed a family from which I chose the seed to form my people strong in faith, in obedience and in love to the invisible God. So I prepared it and blessed it and it remained like a beacon in the midst of humanity.

Love one another!

11. You lacked nothing to fulfill your destiny, and yet you saw other peoples rise higher than you, who then humiliated you with chains of slavery.

12. By chance, were peoples superior to yours? Neither in matter nor in spirit were they greater than you, in whom the Father had overflowed the precious gifts of inspiration, wisdom, beauty, love, health and strength. I prepared you so that you would be like a mirror of my love for everything created, where humanity would contemplate me, and as a source of crystalline waters where those who thirst for truth would quench their thirst.

13. But, at last, humans, you faltered and in your decline you were subdued by other peoples.

14. At this time I come to seek you and to be very close to you, reminding you of my law, awakening your spirit to listen to the voice of conscience and saying to your heart: Wake up, the chains that overwhelmed you were broken by death and today life has given you back your freedom. That's why I came among you in the Third Period.

15. Do not believe that they existed only in the bosom of the people of Israel. prophets, forerunners and spirits of light. I have also sent some of them to other peoples, but men took them as gods and not as messengers and created under their teachings, religions and cults.

16. The people of Israel did not understand the mission they had to other peoples and slept on a bed of blessings and pleasures. The Father had formed it as a perfect family in which one tribe had the mission of defending the People and maintaining peace, another tilled the land, another tribe was fishermen and sailors. Another was entrusted with spiritual worship, and so on, each of the twelve tribes that made up the people, performed a different mission that together gave an example of harmony. But truly I tell you, the spiritual gifts that you possessed in those early times, you still have.

17. See the prophets among you; see how men, women, the elderly, and even children testify to my truth through their revelations. You possess the spiritual elevation to pray, the power to make yourselves heard and obeyed by the elements, of which you had examples in Noah, overcoming the fury of the waters, in Joshua to whom you attribute that he stopped the career of the sun, about which I tell you that the stars have never stopped their course, and that it was my divine light, similar to a radiant sun that prolonged the day and hid the night, so that the people would achieve victory, while the universe continued its trajectory without leaving its laws of harmony.

18. Moses also had power over the elements and the waters, the winds, the rocks obeyed his voice. I have entrusted this nature to man so that he may use it, but he has upset the order of creation and has become a slave to nature, in which he has often sought his God.

19. In the Second Time, I gave you one more lesson on these teachings, when I calmed the storm by extending my hand, also when I walked on the waters or when I raised the dead. The miracles I performed at that time were to save the lost, to turn darkness into light and hatred into love. I did not come to amaze or surprise men with that which served only to amaze their understanding, like some who make themselves admire men as superior beings by performing apparent miracles and who, however, are not capable of converting a sinner. I have not come to teach you superfluous or surprising sciences; I have revealed to you my existence and the reason for yours; I have discovered to you that the fire that gives life and animates everything is love; it is the principle from which all natures have sprung.

20. Behold, you were born for love, you exist for love, you are forgiven for love and you will be in eternity for love.

21. Prepare yourselves, so that when my word ceases, you will go to the different nations of the earth, where you will find peoples whose origin is lost in time, in which their inhabitants practice cults and sciences in the midst of which the spiritual world has manifested itself; there you will hear about transformations, wonders and miracles before which you will be amazed.

22. You will be prepared, because you will have to endure great trials; you will feel confused at times when in the bosom of those men you look out into the spiritual world doing wonders that you could not have done. When they present to you writings containing their history, their laws and precepts, you will open your eyes so that you will not be confused with the material wonder, with the external wonder, but also so that you can admire and imitate them in everything that your conscience and intuition is what contains truth.

23. You will also find in them a striving to find the path that leads to perfection, a longing for eternity.

24. You will surprise others in their spiritual ecstasy, of which they have made a fanatical cult; they are like parasitic plants because they neither comply with the laws of love dictated by God, nor do they fulfill the duties of the earth. Such doctrines will not spread to other peoples, because true spirituality will destroy fanaticism and mysticism.

Love one another!

25. I have taught you from the earliest times a law that is just with spirit and matter, remember that on a certain occasion I said: "Give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's".

26. Many will be surprised and will even judge you badly when they hear that being my disciples, you comply with the law of material work, when they see that you have a wife or husband, that you have children and family, that you know how to enjoy yourself in contemplation and in the fruits of nature, to which I am like a mother. Then they will ask you: Why, if you are servants of the Lord, do you not live only in the contemplation of the spiritual? You will also find those who have the gift of prophecy and you will be surprised, because certainly, there is a spirit among them!, advance.

27. Prepare yourselves when you are tested and I will speak through you, and if that preparation is also clean, simple and pure, you will see my wonders.

28. I am speaking to those who must fulfill their mission as apostles and prophets in other lands, so that they do not flaunt the mission that I have entrusted to them. They will not cause scandal by fighting religions or beliefs. Others will be those who promote scandal against you, without knowing that by doing so they will be helping you to propagate my doctrine, arousing the curiosity of many, which will later become faith.

29. For some, the present existence will be their last reincarnation. It is time for you to prepare the journey for the hereafter; fill your storehouse with good seed so that with a firm step you will come to the call that I will make to you in the spiritual valley that awaits you and from which no one will be able to flee.

30. Each of you has been assigned a number of spirits whom he must help to rise, leading you along the path of my truth. No one will come without his portion, for he will not be received.

31. Fight and work, enjoy learning and teaching. I am fertilizing the lands, removing all weeds from them so that my sowers will find them prepared by my charity.

32. Then a path will open before your eyes through a desert, offering you its oases and there on the horizon the white silhouette of the "promised land", whose open doors will invite you to pass with the portions and with the peoples who will not only love the same God, but will practice the same spiritual worship.

33. Turn with your prayer the beings into darkness, who like armies fight and fight while you sleep. Realize that around you and above you, an unknown world floats and stirs, where light fights against darkness in a war whose rumble and influence upsets your world, your heart and your mind.

Love one another!

34. That is why tranquility and peace have also fled from the heart of humanity; but blessed is the one who, feeling that battle, prays, because he will come out ahead.

35. Whoever takes the judgment of this time as mere coincidences, does not know that he will be at the mercy of death, plague, plagues and famine.

36. Rest on solid ground; stop your step under the shade of this palm tree, and listen to my voice so that you may heal from all your ills and regain strength to continue the walk.

37. You have no need to tell me what you have in your heart, or where you come from, because I know everything. I know that your spirit approaches the Father after winning in the great struggle he sustained to turn away from crooked paths, that you come to seek support and strength in Me so as not to faint. When you were about to weaken, when your energies were already running out, you rose up to Me to ask for help, and I instantly responded by calling you to this oasis of peace, so that you could have a rest by the infinite charity of your Father.

38. How many revelations have you understood from the moment you first heard this word!; among them you understood that the spirit is not perfected in a day, nor in a year, nor in a lifetime, because having an eternal nature, his journey has to be adequate to the reward that awaits him.

39. You have learned to distinguish the voice from the conscience that always speaks of law, of love, of good, of righteousness and purity, of that other voice that comes from the senses of the flesh or from the passions of the heart, which does not always lead to good.

40. You already know that you have weapons to defend yourself, you know what they are; you also know what the shield that protects you is, and you begin to make use of prayer, faith, good thoughts, firmness of will.

41. You have learned to give your right place in life to the different values that form your being; you know that the essential is in the spirit and that after it, occupying a worthy place, are the feelings, the mind, the bodily needs.

42. You now know that true spirituality in man does not consist in turning away from the flesh or rejecting the material, but in harmonizing your life with all creation; however, in order for the spirit to achieve that harmony, it is necessary that he always go ahead, that he be above the human, that he be the guide; if not, the spirit is not free and becomes a slave of the flesh or an enemy of it.

43. You know that in my way you cannot pretend love, purity, or knowledge, because you feel that a look that sees everything. and he judges everything.

Love one another!

44. . Now you know that in order for your merits to be real, your virtues and deeds have to be true, inspired by love for your brothers and sisters.

45. Do not be afraid that I will speak to you like this; I tell you again that I come to demand from you the supreme perfection, but an effort with so much to achieve it.

46. Now, when you suffer, when you go through a hard trial, when you find yourself on the bed of pain, you know that that cup of bitterness purifies and renews you, that that pain that makes you atone for some faults, that it is a wise lesson; then you hurry it with patience and conformity.

47. You have come to understand that I am building a temple in each of you, and you no longer dare to destroy what has been built; on the contrary, you are trying to help me in this work.

48. You have understood that it is not before men before whom you must make merits in order to receive praise or reward from them, but before your Father, who is the only one capable of valuing your works,

49. Understanding all these explanations, no matter how deeply rooted your passions are, you will have to make a submission of matter to the spirit, which will be a principle for that harmony and that order that must exist in man to be worthy my son.

50. The future of many beings depends on your present, beloved people, do not doubt it for a single moment: then thinking about this truth, get rid of the last remnant of egoism and work for tomorrow peace, unification, morality, spirituality.

51. Do not doubt that you will be able to carry out this work in the world, because it is not the first time that my seed has trusted in your path; proof of this is that I speak to you in this way and you understand me.

52. This is the continuation of my lessons, but not the end of this planet. The world will continue to revolve in space the spirits will still come to earth to incarnate to fulfill their destiny; men will continue to populate the earth; only the way of life will change.

53. the transformations that human life undergoes will be so great that it will seem to you as if one world ended and another was born. Just as in all times the life of man has been divided into eras or ages and each. of them;. it has meant by something, either by its discoveries, by the divine revelations that it has received by its development in the sense of the beautiful, which it calls art, or by its science, thus, the time that begins, the era that already appears as a new dawn, will be signified by the development of the gifts of the spirit, of that part that you should have cultivated to avoid so many evils, and to which you always left for later,

Love one another!

54. Do you not believe that human life can be totally transformed, developing spirituality, cultivating the gifts of the spirit and establishing the law that dictates consciousness in this world?

55. Ah, if only you knew how much your spirit keeps! But you do not know it, despite the millennia that you have been inhabiting the world, because in your egoism, which is love for yourselves, you have only cared about science at the service of each one.

56. I will be the one who will discover to you the virtues, the gifts, the beauties, the power and everything wonderful that is hidden in your spirit; this is the propitious time, now that you are gathering the last fruits of a world or of a life that ends.

57. Soon all peoples will understand that God has spoken to them in every age, that the divine revelations have been the ladder that the Divine Being has extended to men so that they could ascend to the

58. Some will call this new time the time of light, others the age of the Holy Spirit, others the time of truth; and I tell you that it will be the time of elevation, of spiritual recovery, of vindication.

59. This is the era that I have long wanted to live in the heart of man and the one that has been continuously fought and destroyed by himself. A time whose clarity is seen by all and under whose light all the children of the Lord unite, not to a religion of men that welcomes some and rejects others, that proclaims its own truth and denies it to others, that uses unworthy weapons to impose itself, or that gives darkness in exchange for light.

60. People, when the time comes for you to rise up to give the good news, you will preach peace, love, charity, unification and fraternity with deeds; if on your way you meet others who are hypocritically and falsely preaching the same thing, with your deeds expose their lie; but if, on the contrary, you find that they preach truth, love and charity with examples, unite yourselves in spirit with them, because their struggle will be yours.

61. I cannot but tell you that if you find yourselves impure, unprepared, unworthy to carry out this work, and you see that others have risen up to fight with the due purity, do not hinder their way, because then it would be double your cause

62. I am speaking to you about everything, disciples, so that nothing surprises you, so that, when you get up for this struggle, you will really know how to awaken in the hearts the ideal of elevation.

63. This land, which has always sent its harvest of sick, tired, troubled, confused or with very little advance spirits to the afterlife, will soon offer me harvests worthy of my love to you.

Love one another!

64. Illness and pain will be banished from your life, and by leading a healthy and elevated existence, when death comes it will find you prepared for the journey to the spiritual mansion.

65. Who can be surprised or lost when entering the unknown abode, if already from this life his Master has shown it to him in the moments of praying, meditating, dreaming or being inspired?

66. Now so much peace and so much material and spiritual well-being seem unattainable to you, because you look at all the confusion that reigns around you, confusion that will grow more and more in all orders of human life; but after this stormy night lets out the light of the new dawn, the earth itself will feel that its new inhabitants come to sow true life with noble works, that they come to restore and rebuild, and that the destroyers, the profane and the impious have already left to find their purification.

67. People, on this day I have revealed to you something of the Father's divine plans for you; I have advanced to you what belongs to the future and I have prepared you for the struggle that is approaching all humanity. Meditate on this teaching and you will feel strengthened.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 136

1. Be recreated with my word, let the wrapper rest while your spirit is recreated in my heavenly banquet. Take your mind away from the ambitions of the earth for a few moments and let the eyes of the spirit be opened.
2. Think and live spiritually in these minutes that my manifestation lasts among you. I bring true riches for your spirit. Do not consider these moments lost. Do not forget that what you need from the earth will be given to you in addition, and that therefore it is not the essential of your existence.
3. To truly understand these objections, it is necessary to have absolute faith in Me.
4. I would like you to know what faith is, so that you would understand that whoever possesses it is the owner of an incomparable treasure.
5. The one who lives illuminated by that inner light, no matter how poor the world considers him, will never feel like an outcast, abandoned, weak, or lost; his faith in the Father, in life, in his destiny, and even in himself, will never let him fall into the struggle, and also he will always be able to perform great and amazing works.
6. When you hear these lessons, you sigh thinking that you are not yet the true children of faith.
7. Men, women, the elderly and children rise spiritually towards Me and ask me to come and fan that divine flame in their hearts; that is why I have come and that is why I am speaking.
8. You are not completely lacking in eph, my children; proof of this is that when you come to Me, you deposit in my presence all your complaints, and your pains, your heavy cross; your hearts are opened and they present to me their cares, problems, disappointments, boredom, weaknesses, ailments and many more miseries.
9. What then is lacking in your faith to be able to work wonders? Let it grow, let it increase, let it overflow, and then it will not be miseries that you will present to me, nor tears that you will offer me, but thanksgiving, satisfaction, conformity, confidence, joy, strength and hope.
10. When you lack faith, or it is very weak, without realizing it, you are denying me at every step, and in many of your works you are bearing witness against me; I tell you this, so that you may observe your actions well and measure their effects, not only material but also spiritual.

Love one another!

11. You are my disciples, whom I have come to prepare so that you may give the great testimony of my manifestation and my revelations of this time, which humanity will demand from those who received them.
12. There is not one of my new disciples who does not long to see the flowering and fruition of this doctrine on earth, and you should know that in part, it depends on your work, your cleanliness and the love that you put into your practices; if you do so, you will see the triumph of spirituality among men.
13. I contemplate that many of you think that such spirituality is impossible in this world, and you concretize to listen to my word as one who listens to a beautiful concert and momentarily delights in it.
14. To these I ask, when will they rise up to the struggle, and they answer, that until they dwell in the spiritual valley, because in this world everything is against spirituality, good and justice.
15. Ah, timid men who do not understand that you have come to make merits to achieve greater elevation in the spiritual life and to carve out a restitution in this incarnation for the benefit of your spirit!
16. When will you understand that in the midst of this reigning whirlwind, it is where you can do the greatest merits and gifts that you will find the most fertile and propitious lands for you to sow my seed?
17. Strive to leave in this world the burden of imperfections that weighs on your spirit, free him here from all his mistakes and let him when he goes to the spiritual realm penetrate it without tears, without stains.
18. Nor do you wait to know the peace of God until you are in spirit; no, from here, on this earth turned into a valley of tears by your mistakes, you will be able to have a little of that perfect peace as a partaker.
19. Never stop in your spiritual progress, whether you are in one world or another.
20. You have managed to evolve spiritually; if you want me to give you proof of this, I ask you: Where are the gods that you worshiped yesterday? Where were the offerings and sacrifices left? Even within the knowledge of the true God, how many modifications have undergone your way of thinking, your beliefs, cults and practices!
21. Because of this, and as a further proof that you have evolved, I have come to you in this new time, in which the spirit will take precedence over matter in everything, until achieving direct communication with the One who gave it existence.

Love one another!

22. I have sent you in this Third Age to dwell once more on the earth, this ground where the blessing of God passed before, so that later you might come to dwell in it and fulfill the law.

23. Among all the regions, big or small, I chose this one where I give you my teaching, so that it would be the scene of my new manifestation.

24. How few there are who have stopped to meditate on the history of this people, on the circumstances in which they have lived century after century!

25. Other men from distant lands will see more clearly than you, all the signs that have made humanity perceive my presence and that of a new time. The king's word had to be fulfilled, because only the word of men is variable.

26. I am here, people, not only for you, because in the essence of my word I am with everyone.

27. Painful was your restitution to receive the arrival of this time; life was like a crucible where your spirit melted and an anvil where your heart was forged.

28. The whip of the proud has fallen on your spirit and body, slavery with its chain of humiliations, misery and ignorance.

29. Wars, oppression, sufferings, they formed your cup of bitterness; all this was not spiritually sterile, because you were strengthened for the full struggle of faith, and enabled to feel and understand the sufferings of others.

30. Everything was foretold, the prophecies were written in your books; therefore, when all the precursor signs were fulfilled, the time had come to open the doors to the new time and touch with my love the understanding of man to make my light vibrate through his spirit and illuminate humanity with it.

31. In the same way, in the past times, a people was prepared to receive in its bosom the presence of the Son of the Most High; the longing for him to arrive, was born of their pain, of their sadness, because of the slavery and humiliation into which they had fallen; and the promise of the Lord to that people was fulfilled. If a just, clean, and pure man had been promised to him as Savior, it was natural that his body should come from a chaste womb; and so it was; for Mary, the one who was called blessed among women, was a heavenly flower transplanted to earth by the will of God, so that she would leave in the stained and sad hearts of men, the perfume of her maternal tenderness, of her divine consolation.

32. Jesus was born and grew up among men; but when the hour of his preaching was approaching, a man who lived in the desert named John, went down to the cities to announce to men the arrival of the kingdom of heaven, prepared them and exhorted them to reform, so that their Teacher would find them prepared.

Love one another!

33. He was the voice that cried out in the desert, the greatest prophet, the forerunner, it was the spirit of Elijah who announced to humanity that the doors of a new time were opening before their material and spiritual eyes.

34. John poured the waters of the Jordan over the skulls of the men, as a symbolic act that they should be purified for the arrival of the Master. I subjected that body to that act, as an example of humility and meekness, wanting to give you to understand, that when man feels that all his powers have reached their full development and that his being has achieved the harmony between the spirit and its envelope, that is the propitious hour to do the greatest and noblest works of life, because maturity, strength, ideal, serenity has been reached.

35. Reminding you of past lessons is teaching you new ones. At this time a precursor also had my Arrival represented materially by a man named Roque Rojas spiritually illuminated by the spirit of Elias, who came to manifest himself through his understanding and speak through his lips.

36. Elijah had been and should have been, because he is the ray of God that establishes communication between the children and the Father, the one who prepares and prepares the paths, the one who disposes the spirits and keeps the hearts awake and waiting 37 Today you do not need symbols, only light, faith, will, love; all this will be the best, the most complete purification of the spirit and of the flesh to initiate you on the luminous journey of spirituality.

38. Beloved disciples, today you present to me your heart thirsty for truth, and for this reason I invite you to draw near to this fountain of love, so that you may drink until you are satisfied.

39. See that I do not materialize in my word, but to a certain limit; it is then that it is your turn to analyze my lesson, meditating on everything you have heard.

40. Pray, in your prayer interrogate your Father and in meditation you will receive a flash of my infinite light. Do not expect to receive the whole truth in a single instant. There are spirits who have been walking in pursuit of the truth for a long time, searching and trying to penetrate all the mysteries and have not yet reached the desired goal.

41. Christ, the Anointed One, came to show you the way, saying, "Love one another." Can you imagine the scope of that sublime commandment? The whole life of men would be transformed if you lived in that doctrine. Only love will be the one who can reveal to you the truths of the arcanum, since he is the origin of your life and of everything created.

Love one another!

42. Eagerly seek the truth, seek the meaning of life, love, strengthening yourself in the good, and you will see how step by step everything that was false, impure or imperfect will fall from your being. Be more sensitive every day to the light of divine grace, then you will be able to ask your Lord directly everything you want to know and that is necessary to your spirit, to reach the supreme truth.

43. Work on earth as heretofore and devote yourselves with faith to your duties; but always seek the essence or meaning of what happens to you or of what you do on your way, so that your material life may not be sterile for your spirit.

44. Pray, with the simple prayer that springs from the purest of your spirit, and with the help of your conscience examine your works and then enjoy my presence. 05-136.45 In this communication of the spirit you will receive more light so that you will understand life better, you will have the inspiration that will induce you to be more good, purifying your feelings and awakening your heart to charity. These are the moments in which they awaken the powers and gifts of the spirit and prepare to fulfill their various missions through those who possess them.

46. Intuition, which is clairvoyance, foreboding and prophecy, clarifies the mind and makes the heart beat before the messages and voices it receives from the infinite.

47. When man has learned to communicate with the Father through the Spirit, he will certainly no longer have anything to consult in books, nor what to ask on earth.

48. Today, they still question those who think they know more, or they go after texts and documents, eager to find the truth, but I bring you true spiritual riches, so that you will never feel hungry or thirsty in your spirit.

49. I have come on the cloud, like an iris of peace among men, whom I find divided, engaged in wars of nations against nations.

50. Here I am, teaching you to seek me with the spirit and removing superfluous habits from your heart. I have come to reveal to you the spiritual weapons you possess to overcome evil and reject temptations.

51. You are the true apostles, the true doctors, you will be able to save humanity in this time. I have come to prepare with my teaching the great multitudes, from among whom the good soldiers will arise. These will leave their parents, their wives and their children, to go after other, regions to bring the good news. But if I tell you to leave your own, I want to give you to understand that you have to leave the comforts and the satisfactions that the affections offer you, but not to leave them in helplessness and abandonment. Search my seed well before you take it to sow, so that you may be convinced of the good that you are going to do; if you sow my seeds under my will, your harvest will be of satisfactions and joys.

52. This teaching has been ringing in your ears since 1866, Elias. the good shepherd of incarnated and disembodied, came to prepare or prepare the roads, disposing of his heart and spirit so that you could feel the proximity of the kingdom of heaven. Since then, I know a lot, my seed has multiplied, the multitudes have grown, the number of those appointed increases every day, and everywhere, in counties, provinces and villages, precincts arise as places destined for your meetings and to listen to the daily teaching.

53. I have come to give life to the world, so that it may open its eyes to the light of this time.

54. While the great nations are at war, I have kept this people in peace, so that they may receive my message and so that they may prepare, because here in their bosom the so-called foreigners will take refuge.

55. Rise up through your obedience; do not wait for the elements to be unleashed on your nation to remind you of your mission, nor do you wait for death and war to hover near you. so that you will remember Me. Take advantage of these moments because you do not know if they will return.

56. The year 1950 is approaching, the year appointed by my will for my departure; if you are prepared for that time, you will be able to do great works and feel great wonders. But I tell you that by then, while some will be pleased because they have fulfilled, others will weep. From now on I announce to you that my farewell will be in all the enclosures and you will feel it in all places, in the cities, on the roads and even in the mountains; then I will tell you: Do not feel orphaned, only your material ear will cease to perceive my word, but your spirit, together with its envelope, will continue to be inspired through its elevation. There will be no reason for you to shed tears that day. The Master is preparing you, because that is how I will speak to you at that moment; for now I am preparing the understandings through which you will hear my last word. That is why I ask you for more elevation every moment.

57. Later the time will come when sects and religions will disappear from the world and only the doctrine of Christ, who is love, justice and peace, will remain in the human heart.

58. There are those in the world who believe that I am about to arrive, without knowing that the time of my departure is already close in this form of communication. When humanity knows that I was among you, communicated by human understanding, it will ask itself: How is it possible that these have heard God? Then you will explain the way in which I communicated and you will give proofs of your advancement and regeneration with your works of love.

Love one another!

59. Tell the world that if at that time Christ became man to dwell with you in your world, now from here you will rise up to penetrate spiritually into the region where He dwells. The footprint that I traced with blood, look at it now converted into a footprint of light.

60. As in the Second Time, I have accompanied my word with great works to awaken your faith, but the spiritual wonders have been more than the material ones, because now you are more able to believe me and conceive me in a higher way.

61. Some expected that the Holy Spirit would come at this time to manifest himself in synagogues or churches; I have come in search of humility, of simplicity, because gold, riches or vanities do not flatter, to the one who owns all creation.

62. Remember that at that time John the prophet, the Baptist, who was preparing hearts for the kingdom of heaven to penetrate into them, said to the crowds, "Christ will come, because he knew that the Master would come to build his temple in the hearts of men.

63. Here you have me looking for the sanctuary in the purest of your being; think that to be truly worthy of my presence, it is necessary that you prepare the place. How many times will it have to be the pain that purifies you, the one who washes your stains? I come to dress you in a white robe, but first your spirit must be cleansed to become worthy of it.

64. Disciples, in the Second Time my apostles asked me how they should pray, and I taught them the perfecta prayer, which you call the Our Father! Now I say to you: be inspired by that prayer, in its meaning, in its humility and in its faith, so that your spirit may communicate with mine, because it will no longer be the material lips that pronounce those blessed words, but the spirit that speaks to me with its own language.

65. My ray has descended among you, beloved people, its light becomes a human word and the splendor of this manifestation is found in the essence of my chair. This word is like crystal clear water, but if, when passing through the human body, it mixes some impurity with it, then let your understanding be like a filter, so that my lesson may reach the spirit with its original purity.

66. I come to give your spirit the water that reanimates it. for thirst sears him on his long journey through the desert.

67. Only he who has been watching waiting for me, has heard the echo of my footsteps; how do the materialists want my new coming to be ostentatious, if I come in Spirit?

Love one another!

68. I had reserved for you the enjoyment of my manifestation, but she had to arrive at the right time.

69. My word of the Father is among you who found yourselves desolate, who wept, feeling lonely, when you have never been. And this is the time marked by my will for my voice to be heard with all its force through your consciousness.

70. So far, more than being your Lord, I have been your servant. I have listened to your voice that demands, that orders and demands, I have received insults and blasphemies that have been like lashes.

71. Today, my universal language makes itself heard by everyone, to tell them that although I am in each one of you, no one should say that God is inside man, because it is beings and everything created that is inside God.

72. I am the Lord, you are His creatures. I do not want to call you servants but sons, but acknowledge that I am before; love my will and respect my law, knowing that in what I have ordained there is no room for imperfection or error.

73. You are in a position to take a definitive step, to take flight and soar very high; your evolution enables you to do so.

74. My arcanum is open, come and look, penetrate; I will not judge if yesterday you were the ones who raised your will or your voice against me.

75. Repent of our past, wash away your stains and then look into my arcanum so that you may contemplate life in all its truth.

76. Do not stop thinking that you are unworthy of my grace.

77. On the high rungs of the ladder, many who on earth were fratricides, traitors and blasphemers are walking. How have they been able to climb? Because they took the path of repentance, regeneration and charity. Imitate them, the Master tells you.

78. How close to your pupils the book of life opens and how much light you have to understand its signs.

79. In the distant times of your spiritual babbling, you received the divine law engraved in stone, according to your little evolution. The times passed and that law that had been in the stone, became human flesh in Jesus to speak to you of love. Now you are being prepared so that you may receive my eternal law by the inspiration of the spirit. There in your consciousness, I will write my word in this age.

80. O humble children, who, in the absence of studies in the books of the earth, have had the life to receive my love and come to understand the purpose of your destiny!

Love one another!

81. Receive my charity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 137

1. My light and my power are manifested among you. From the beginning, the light of my Spirit has illuminated the path of humanity. Every era, every age, has witnessed my revelations. Your spirit knows that I have spoken to it in many forms. That light shows you the path that my charity has been tracing for you so that through it you can reach my Divinity, where your origin was.
2. The spirit is in man; the spirit is the light of the Divinity; that is why in your spirit I am in each one of you. If today you do not appreciate the greatness of the way I am manifesting myself, tomorrow you will understand it. Here you have the path clean of human impurities; by this I do not want to tell you that your religions are bad; I do not come to divide you, because if in truth everyone fulfilled what his religion commands him, he would be saved. Don't they all teach to love God and their fellow human beings? But I contemplate that on many occasions you even take the truth to be unknown to you.
3. What I have come to teach you is love, because from it spring the purest and highest feelings, the highest inspirations. You lack love, that's why you walk in darkness. If I come tearing down idols and abolishing rites, it is so that you can contemplate the light of truth more clearly. As a Teacher I come to give you my teachings; one of them is that I am giving my lessons through men, without it being essential for them to be just and impure in heart. How many times will he be more sinful in my eyes, the spokesman of whom I serve, than those whom I find myself doctrinating; my power and my wisdom inspires him so that holy, just and pure ideas spring from his mouth. That is why, when these understandings are put in communication with their Lord, the spiritual life is reflected through them and they reveal to you much of what is beyond your life.
4. It has not been necessary for you to see me or touch me in order to believe, because your spirit in its evolution has prepared itself to feel my presence in a spiritual way.
5. Your heart is surprised to be able to conceive certain ideas; it is because he does not know the path that the spirit has traveled. In the same way, you are surprised by the precocious intelligence of the childhood of this time, which asks you questions, so that it has knowledge that has not been taught at this stage of its spiritual life. It is the light that the spirit has been collecting on its long path, which is reflected in every existence. You ask me, if you manifest yourselves with such wisdom and if our spirit is prepared, why don't you tell us everything that your teaching holds for us? What I reserve for you is very great and that I cannot give it to you in an instant, so as not to cause you confusion in spirit or in mind.

Love one another!

6. He will always tell you that if you do not want the light of revelation to stop, it is necessary that you persevere on this path of love for your Father and for your brothers.

7. Go along the road slowly and firmly, do not go along it in a hurry or run over, because you would stumble and in the end you would not even know where you walked.

8. Disciples. From time to time I must tell you not to judge the teaching of one precinct better than that of the other, nor the work of a spokesman superior or inferior to this or that. The meaning of my doctrine is one only through all, and the difference is external, it is superficial, it is in the language. He will always tell you to seek my truth in the essence of this word.

9. Humanity is going to believe; my work has to spread around the world. I will start with 144,000 signaled, who will fight with obedience, with love and zeal in the time of the wars of beliefs and doctrines, and in the midst of that battle they will be like a link that proposes to the world, not the chain of slavery, but that of the spiritual alliance that will be of freedom and fraternity. Those soldiers will not be alone, my spiritual world will follow and protect them, they will do wonders in their path and thus bear witness to my truth.

10. Bear your cross to the end with patience and resignation; and then it will be my charity that will free you from it when you arrive at the doors of that dwelling that I have promised you, where you will come to enjoy true peace. Now you are the walkers, you are the soldiers, the fighters, who are going after an ideal, who are going after the conquest of a better homeland.

11. But you are not alone in your struggle; man has never been alone, because I have always shown him the best way.

12. If anyone asks me how the Lord's people were guided, before the law that Moses received from the Lord was known to them, I would answer them that, before Moses, I sent into the world spirits of great light, patriarchs and prophets, who brought the law in the light of their conscience, to teach it by their works to all their fellow men.

13. Those men honored me with their lives; they were not idolaters, because they already knew spirituality, they had a sense of love and charity towards others, they knew how to receive the foreigner in their lands, and inside their home they were hospitable to the weary traveler; for everyone they had a good word and wise advice at the top of their lips.

14. But not all men have been able to be guided by the voice of their conscience, because this requires spirituality, and the senses of matter do not understand it. That is why it was necessary for your Father to manifest Himself in various forms among humanity, in order to explain the law and reveal the divine teachings to him.

Love one another!

15. You, people, who are listening to this word in the Third Time and who still retain some of that seed that entrusted you in the past times, understand that you must cleanse your heart of egoism and materialism, so that the happy moment can come to you in which you will follow your life again, guiding it by the dictates of your conscience, as did those first enlightened ones, like Abraham, from whom the people who in all times have been the depository of my revelations sprouted.

16. I want that when the moment comes when my manifestation ceases in the form in which you now have it, you will be so prepared that each spirit of the beings that make up this people, will be like a temple for Me, each heart a sanctuary, each home an altar, a patriarchal house, hospitable and full of charity. How deep will your peace be then. How strong will your heart be then, to get ahead in all the trials.

17. The bread will then be blessed not only for Me, but also for you, because by then you will have learned to knead it with love, with faith, with peace.

18. The spiritual strength with which I have given you is none other than the seed of spirituality; truly I tell you, whoever cultivates that seed in his heart, caring for it with true love, will not become a victim of the plagues or the furies of the unleashed elements, nor will material needs come to afflict him in a depressing way.

19. But you should not wait for those days to come to you; no, people, with your spirituality you should be the ones who, through prayer, achieve your Father's forgiveness, and understand everything that the spirit is capable of when it manages to rise above the mire, dust and mud of a materialized and impure life.

20. Do not forget, O disciples, that spirituality cannot admit fanaticism of any kind, idolatry or prejudice, because then it would cease to be spirituality.

21. The one who carries purity in his heart and seeks to honor me with the facts of his life, that one does not need the external cults, to feel that he has fulfilled the precepts of his Father and Savior; on the other hand, the one who carries in his heart the restlessness that his conscience makes him feel when judging him, that one eagerly seeks the external rites and cults, in the false belief that with them he will reach reconciliation with his Creator.

22. Be simple as flowers and pure as birds, be transparent as air and diaphanous as pure water, then you will have achieved the limpidity and elevation that will make you know all the truth that life contains.

23. Anyone who comes to say that my doctrine is a danger to the material progress of humanity, commits a grave error, because I, the Teacher of teachers, when I come to show the spirit the way of its restitution, I also speak to the mind, to reason and even to the senses themselves. My doctrine comes not only to inspire and teach you the spiritual life, but to make light in all science and in all human paths, because my teaching is not concrete to guide the spirits to the mansion that is beyond this existence, it also reaches the heart of man, to inspire him to live a pleasant, dignified and profitable life on this earth.

Love one another!

24. If I told you in the Second Time that "my kingdom is not in this world", now I tell you that yours is not here either, because this dwelling, as you already know well, is only transitory for man.

25. I come to teach you the true life, the one that has never been based on materialism. That is why the lords of the earth will raise me up again against my doctrine. I come to you, with my eternal doctrine, with my usual teaching that is of love, wisdom and justice; however, it will not be understood instantly; the world will judge me again, this humanity will put the cross on my shoulders again; but I already know that my doctrine must pass over all these ingratitude, so that it may be recognized and loved. I know that my most tenacious persecutors will later be my most faithful and self-sacrificing sowers, because I will give you very great proofs of my truth.

26. Nicodemus, in the Second Time, prince among the priests, the one who sought Jesus to converse with Him on topics of high wisdom, will arise again in this time, to calmly analyze my work and convert to it.

27. Saul, later called Paul, who, after persecuting me viciously, became one of my greatest apostles, will appear again on my way, and from everywhere my new disciples will arise, some fervent, others self-sacrificing. The present hour is of great importance; the time of which I am speaking to you is already looming.

28. Do not these wars of ideas, these contests that you are now witnessing and these events that you have daily, tell you of something that is approaching, do they not make you feel that a time is coming to an end and that a new era begins to spread its light?

29. I only want you, the witnesses of my word at this time, to stand firm in the moments of trial, which will have to precede the establishment of my law, of my kingdom among you; then I will be like the hurricane, under whose force the earth and the seas in which this humanity dwells and stirs, will have to curl up and stir in their own bowels, so that they expel from them everything unclean they keep in their depths.

30. Do not be afraid when these manifestations come; you must understand that the beginning of the end of an era has begun and the dawn of a stage of peace is approaching.

31. Evil, injustice, pride, slavery, ignorance, earthly power, will succumb, to make way for the establishment of the reign of love, light and peace among men. You will not falter,

Love one another!

you will not extinguish your lamp, even if you feel that the trial is very hard and that the chalice that you have to hurry is very bitter; on the contrary, you must kindle and fan the flame of hope, as the soldier does in the heat of battle, when he feels that he is dominating the enemy and that victory is already at hand.

32. When you see yourselves surrounded by hostile multitudes whose tongues are spewing poison against you and whose eyes are throwing flames of hatred against you, do not doubt my promises; in those moments I will make you feel my reassuring presence and I will make you listen to my loving voice that repeats to you: "I am with you".

33. You will see many times how from among those mobs a heart will arise that understands you and that will be for you like a shield, but you will only achieve this when you place your trust and your faith in Me.

34. Remember Daniel, that faithful prophet who so defended the truth of the one God in Babylon and whom I saved from his enemies.

35. Before the struggle begins, return to water the seed that the Eternal sowed in him, the spirit of man, let the weeds be cut off at the blow of the sickle of my justice and let the lands be removed, so that they may be conducive to the cultivation of the doctrine of love.

36. It is necessary to grant men who are ambitious of the goods of the earth a few more moments, so that their disappointment may be absolute, so that they may be convinced that gold, power, titles and the pleasures of matter will never give peace or well-being to the spirit.

37. The hour is coming when the works of, today. The humanity in the light of conscience; there will be the wise, the theologians, the scientists, the powerful, the rich and the judges, wondering what has been the spiritual, moral or material fruit they have collected. Seeing the scarcity of their harvest, many will return to Me, recognizing that, despite the glory they had on earth, something was missing for them to be able to fill the void into which their spirit had fallen, which can only be sustained with the fruits of spiritual life.

38. For these spirits I have already prepared the oasis in the middle of the desert, because I know that throughout their existence, knocking from door to door and traveling road after road, some have sought the truth, others strength, others happiness; and at the end of the path they have traveled on earth, when they are about to deny everything, I will open my arms to them, to make them rest in my bosom, I will comfort them and I will point out to them what the true path is, so that through it they will find the fields in which they can sow the fruitful seed of their experience.

Love one another!

39. The oasis is spiritual, and men of all races will come to it by all the roads of the desert, some tired, others full of wounds, puffed up and sweating, and many with their already empty saddlebag, ashamed at the sterility of the struggle they had undertaken. There they will hear my voice and, recognizing it, they will exclaim, It is the Lord; and in that phrase they will reflect the humility with which they will finally seek me, because everyone will have to arrive on their own foot, without carriages, because they could not cross the desert with them, without camels, because they have already perished of thirst throughout the day.

40. But that hour of infinite sweetness, of reconciliation and humility, will also be of divine forgiveness for the "prodigal children" who finally returned to the paternal home in search of the loving arms of the One who gave them life and the inheritance.

41. Today receive my word of love, forgiveness and justice, and present to me your heart. Do not try to hide your faults, because I know everything. You have promised to love each other, and I am still waiting for your fulfillment. I have given you one tree to cultivate, and you offer me different fruits. I have prepared you humble, submissive and obedient, so that you may serve your brothers, and I do not find that seed in your works.

42. The son does not bow down to his parents, the wife rebels to the husband, the brothers do not know each other, everyone does acts that reveal pride and vanity, everyone feels superior, and I continue to teach only love and peace to all men.

43. The nations have signed peace and there is no love or good intentions in their words. Behind that apparent peace, there is rancor, the longing for revenge and war lurking. Where is he who has known how to forgive, who has left the cause for Me to judge?

44. The human heart has hardened and is not moved by the pain of children, the anguish of women and the tragic fate of young people and men who are mercilessly thrown into war. But there have been those who love me and feel love for their brothers, those who have known how to pray and do works of charity. the test has been very great for those nations, their pride has been punished, they themselves are destroying their power. Only pain will bend them and make them reflect. I have been very close to each spirit to strengthen him in the trial, and those who have prepared, have felt my presence.

45. The atmosphere of war has penetrated everywhere sowing destruction; from the small home to the great nations, who have not watched, have fallen into its nets without knowing how to get rid of this yoke.

46. I have taught you, I have given you the secret of peace: Love Me "love one another", be inspired by Me. Fulfill your duties, conform to your destiny and you will have my blessing.

Love one another!

47. I have received the song of joy from those who, after the struggle, have returned to home, to the homeland, but I also receive the pain of the mothers who did not see the return of the son, that of the children who no longer saw the father and that of the woman who has been widowed; I bless everyone. May Israel participate with those peoples in their feelings; and that prayer that you have raised for the peace of the world, continue to offer it and make it be like a song of protection for all nations.

48. Spirits who left your body on earth, enlighten yourselves. I have received you. Trust in Me and you will be led to the true life. You are not dead, for the Spirit has eternal life. I invite you to true peace and justice. For I am life and I come to offer you the bread of eternal life; but I look at you hungry, and you have not understood that the essence is at the bottom of my word; if you look at it superficially, you will not be able to feed. It contains my love, that divine essence that is life, joy and peace for the spirit.

49. While you are not studying my word, there are many beings in this and other nations, waiting for the good news to fulfill my commands. But the day will come when the good apostles will arise from among you to go to the regions and nations preaching my teaching; and I will speak through their understanding, as I did with those who followed me in the Second Time. Everyone who works like this, be full of honor and trust in Me.

50. If you encounter obstacles, do as Moses did: Command the elements to favor you, and they will submissively obey.

51. If you want to see wonders, get ready, but don't expect everyone to believe you. I have told you that at this time not everyone will believe in my word; then leave the cause to me and move on. They will recognize me when they are in spirit.

52. You, respect ideas and feelings, but speak as I have taught you, with this word that does not hurt and uncorreds the veils that hide my light from the spirits.

53. The time of awakening for each spirit is appointed; I promise you that everyone who prepares will see me in all my splendor.

54. Ask and it will be given to you. Whatever you give in charity to your brothers, ask of me. Pray, join your prayer to that of the needy and I will grant you what you request.

55. The light of my word will be the white garment that covers you all.

56. For your sake I have come in the cloud, a symbol of the spiritual, to communicate with your spirit; but at first that luminous cloud had to settle on the understanding of the spokespersons, as a preparation for when you already know how to communicate directly with Me, and it is in your spirit that the cloud descends to settle.

57. I chose the cloud as a symbol to represent my arrival in the world in the Third Time.

Love one another!

58. Is not the cloud. the messenger who crosses over mountains, valleys and cities? Is it not she who fertilizes the fields with her rain and provides a beneficent shade? Does not the lightning that announces the storm and the vibrating ray that trembles arise from it? That is why I chose the cloud as a symbol, that is why my apostles, when they saw me in Spirit for the last time, and Roque Rojas in this Third Time, when I made them contemplate the symbol that was a sign of my new coming, understood the meaning of my presence in the cloud.

59. Since then, a sweet shadow has enveloped the people who have been forming around my manifestation. My word has been a fruitful rain on the arid fields of spirituality, and the ray that descends on the human understanding in each communication has torn the darkness of your sin and your ignorance, shaking your fibers and awakening your spirit. How terrible has been for many of you the storm that has been unleashed in your spirit upon hearing my divine word!

60. How much majesty and what imposing beauty you have witnessed in that tempest of light that arises from my word in the moments of its manifestation Overwhelmed with admiration, respect and fear, the multitudes remain mute, letting that torrent of love, justice and wisdom, bathe and purify them.

61. O beloved people whom I have called Israel: because I am making you the depository of my messages and revelations, when will you learn to translate and interpret my word justly?

62. My promise to return, made in the Second Half, I have fulfilled it for you. The apostles, in Bethany, saw me ascend from the earth to infinity, and you have seen me return from infinity to your heart. Do you not also find in this a resemblance to the clouds that rise from the sea and ascend to go and pour out their beneficent rain in other places, where the thirsty lands call them?

63. I have been attracted by your pain, my Spirit has felt invoked by yours and I have come in the cloud of love and justice to overflow in mercy on men.

64. Not all peoples call me, and there are very few hearts that wait for me. The spiritual cloud will come and cover like a mantle of peace the peoples who invoke it, the hearts that wait for it; all those who try to quench the thirst of the spirit with the pleasures of the world, the cloud will surprise them with the radiance of its lightning and the thunder of its storm will fill them with dread, because until then they will remember that there is a divine justice and that each man is the bearer of a spirit who will have to answer to God for all his works.

Love one another!

65. The cloud of love, light, mercy and justice. it is also an immense legion of spiritual creatures, of my servants, of spirits of light who live to fulfill my designs and multiply in the universe, fulfilling with perfect harmony their mission of loving one another: because that divine commandment, that maxim that in the Second Time I revealed to the world, was not only for men, that maxim is the law that governs all existing spirits.

66. Beloved people: on that cloud of light, which is the spiritual legion of love and fraternity among all the worlds, I descended through my ray, in this Third Time, bringing you a new message of wisdom, an infinite consolation for your pain and a light that would serve as a guide to find the forgotten path, so that, once discovered, you come to Me, step by step, merit by merit, consciously and firmly, in pursuit of your spiritual perfection.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 138

1. Dear disciples, every moment that passes in your life is a step that brings you closer to your Father. Slowly, step by step, you are walking the path that leads to the kingdom of light.
2. Little by little you are approaching the time when you will know how to give in justice what corresponds to the spiritual and what touches the world, a time of true prayer, of worship free of fanaticism, in which you will know how to pray before every undertaking, in which you will be able to watch over what has been entrusted to you.
3. How can a man make a mistake when, before doing his will, he interrogates his Father through prayer? The man who knows how to pray, lives in contact with God, knows the value of the benefits he receives from his Father and at the same time understands the meaning or purpose of the trials he is going through.
4. The man who prays before God is a spiritualized man who does not wear a blindfold of darkness before his eyes, apt to discover inside and outside him, unknown worlds, ignored aspects of life, lights and truths that surround the lives of men without them perceiving them.
5. Whoever comes to discover this path, can no longer stop, because their senses have awakened and their spiritual gifts have become sensitized; today they hear voices from nature, tomorrow they will be able to perceive messages from the spiritual kingdom, later they will hear the voice of their Lord in a spirit-to-Spirit communication, fruit of the love between the Father and his children.
6. People, do not envy these spokesmen through whom I communicate, because if you really prepare yourselves in matter and in spirit, you will come to surpass them after this communication has passed.
7. It is the time of wonders, of trials and wonders that is reserved for this people, witness of my communication in this Third Time.
8. I have not yet said my last word, that is, my last lessons, in which I will reveal many mysteries to you yet; but my will and my commandments are written in the conscience of all this people, so that they may have full knowledge of how the end of my manifestation will be.
9. It is necessary for you to understand that I have come to teach you everything you should know, so that you can penetrate the worlds or dwellings that await you; because just as your spirit had to be prepared in the immediate valley in which it dwelt, in order to incarnate and dwell on earth, so it will have to prepare to return to the valley it left, although it goes to higher dwellings in love, in purity and in wisdom.

10. Do not doubt my word; in the First Time I fulfilled my promise to you to deliver Israel from the slavery of Egypt that meant idolatry and darkness, to take you to Canaan, a land of freedom and worship of the living God. There my coming as a man was announced to you, and the prophecy was fulfilled word for word in Christ. I, the Teacher who dwelt and loved you in Jesus, promised to speak to the world at another time, to manifest myself in the Spirit; and here you have the fulfillment of my promise.

11. Today I announce to you that I have reserved for your spirit wonderful regions, abodes, spiritual mansions where you can find the true freedom to love, to do good and to spread my light. Can you doubt this, after having fulfilled my previous promises to you?

12. Know that the great spirits work in my work eternally; Elijah, destined to announce the arrival of the Master among his disciples, is the light that opens a gap in the spirits, descending to the lost of the way, to those who sleep or have died to faith in the spiritual life, to envelop them in the fire of love that emanates from him, fire that is faith, extermination of evil and purification. His turn calls in every nation, his purifying fire advances, sweeping away the weeds. Certainly purification leaves in its wake a trail of pain, but soon a divine consolation arrives, represented in Mary, pouring her balm on every sobbing heart, on every creature tormented by pain.

13. He will come to visit heart by heart, to make my divine call to men heard, telling them only: "Follow Me" I.

14. I come to comfort you in your trials, and to tell you that when the cup is very bitter on your palate, say to your Father who dwells in heaven, like Jesus in the garden: "Father, if it is possible for you to take this cup away from Me, do it, but first of all your will be done, but not mine".

15. If you pray and watch in this way, I will stop the angel who is coming to offer you the chalice of trial; but if the divine will is that you hurry it, I will be with you to give you strength and you can emerge triumphant from the trial. Do not forget that for one who suffers by blessing me, many attain clemency. Now you will be able to understand why those who are cleansed of sin carry pain in themselves, because they are worthy to help wash away the stains of their brothers.

16. It was not my wish that man should suffer pain on earth; but since from the first to the present they have wanted it this way, carry your burden with patience and love and offer me your sufferings with humility; your pain will be fruitful in you and even in some of your brothers.

Love one another!

17. How much men have suffered in vain in this world; how much they have wept without obtaining a reward and without collecting a seed! On the other hand, those who have been able to bear their cross patiently, when the last moment has come for them, and have believed themselves to be at the bottom of an abyss, have opened the eyes of their spirit and have contemplated themselves standing on the mountain.

18. It will not be the blood shed in your fratricidal wars that will save humanity; but your prayer full of love and charity and your virtues will. Those that will make your brothers worthy to feel my peace.

19. Do not proclaim that the peace that the nations have ruined is the true one. Watch and pray, so that peace may be built on foundations of spiritual and human love, not of terror or death threats.

20. This false peace, created by men, is like a castle built on the quicksand of the sea, which will soon come by land when the waves stirred by the winds whip it.

21. I, the Spirit of peace, have proposed it to men through their conscience, saying to them: Here I am, love one another and you will be saved.

22. Humanity wants to continue in childhood, it has not wanted to reach adulthood, because after living so much on earth and watering it with its blood and tears, it has not yet known how to reap the fruit of experience, so it continues to ignore what peace of the spirit means. His heart has hardened and that is why his noblest feeling, which is charity, does not vibrate inside. That is why the chalice of pain has made itself felt in each of my children.

23. All the pain caused by men, will be united in a single chalice that will be drunk by the guilty. This will awaken your dormant spirit. Then you will see, in the face of unforeseen events, notable men and may abandon their post or their people, to hide with their spirit shattered by regrets. Others will be troubled by reason and the gift of the word.

24. What do you say about all this, people? Do you feel ready to search for humanity, lost at the crossroads of the road?

25. Look in what a short time the nations prepare a war and make any man a soldier, while I have been preparing you since 1866 to be soldiers of this cause, and I fail to contemplate one of my sons fully prepared.

26. This time is different from the First and the Second. Today you live within a chaos of unchained elements, visible and invisible. Woe to the one who does not watch, for he will succumb, and the one who is prepared has to fight!

Love one another!

27. Thousands of invisible eyes are watching you, some to stalk you in your path and make you fall, others to protect you.

28. The tares are advancing, spreading through peoples and nations, penetrating hearts and homes.

29. Customs degenerate, and men, women, and children become acquainted with perversity.

30. In the face of all these misfortunes, do not cover your eyes or cover your ears, because if your heart is cowering, it will not be sensitive to give love and do charity testifying my work before his brothers.

31. I do have to see everything, because I love you, and after judging you I will come to save you.

32. Times of greater bitterness are coming; I am preparing you for that time, so that you will not say that the Master did not speak to you in prophecy; if you are already prepared by that time, you will get out of every situation in advance.

33. I will make peace among men through my messengers. How do you want the peace of the world to be based on hatreds, ambitions and fears? But first, the fire will burn, the waters will wash, and the snows will purify.

34. Disciples: Be strong so that you may resist the unbelief of men, so that persecution, slander or attacks may not make you faint; my word will make the spirit of humanity tremble. The theologian will be forced to consult his science, the philosopher will search his greatest teachers, and every sect or religion will be deeply moved by my new revelations. Then the battle of ideas will arise, because as long as some awaken to the truth, others will want to remain in their fanaticism and in their traditions and will fight against each other. In the midst of this struggle, the voice of my true disciples must be heard, saying to the rampant mobs: Do not turn the fruit of life into an apple of discord.

35. Now you feel small and weak, but tomorrow you will be strong and you will truly love me, because I will discover for you what theologians will not be able to discover, and you will understand what the wise will not be able to understand, but not because you are greater or more loved than others, but because from the First Time you have known how to open your heart, like a tabernacle, where I have been depositing in each of the times, the law, wisdom and revelation.

36. In the First Time you knew the symbols: The tabernacle or sanctuary that kept the ark where the tables of the law were kept. When those symbols had fulfilled their mission, my will erased them from the earth, hid them from the sight of men so that the world would not fall into idolatry, but the meaning or essence of those lessons I left written in the conscience of my servants. In the Second time, after the sacrifice of Christ was consummated, I made the greatest symbol of Christianity disappear: the cross, together with the crown, the chalice and everything that could have been the object of fanatical adoration on the part of humanity.

Love one another!

37. In this Third Time, I have come to present myself inside the tabernacle of your spirit, to deposit, in the ark kept there, my new revelations.

38. You came at this time as "prodigal sons" to the Father's house and I said to you: Look, in your absence your younger brothers dispersed and I was left alone in my bedroom and at my table. And the people in their ingratitude have fallen into disunity, many have denied their Father. But today I have come to give you back your wealth, to feed you, so that you may go in search of those who were lost after you, so that you may bring them before my presence. Then you will be at peace.

39. I do not come to claim from your matter the fratricidal war that humanity has ignited, and the disunity that still exists among the people of Israel; it is to your spirit that I turn, because the discord and schisms that the tribes of that people have suffered in his bosom weigh on him, since the day when the sons of Jacob filled that father's heart with pain, telling him that the wild beasts had devoured Joseph in the desert, when in truth they had sold him to the merchants.

40. Since then, this evil seed has been germinating in the hearts of this people who today have before them a new time to honor their Lord, fulfilling the law of loving their brothers without distinction of races or languages and of being salvation and blessing over all the nations of the earth.

41. The name of Israel has been given to you by your Father and it is a spiritual name. I have made great revelations to you and have clothed you with strength so that you will not feel unworthy when I call you that.

42. It is your spirit that I come to seek, as I have done in all times.

43. My doctrine teaches you a perfect, spiritual and pure worship towards the Father, because the spirit of humanity has arrived, without realizing it, at the threshold of the temple of the Lord, where he will penetrate to feel my presence, to hear my voice through his conscience and see me in the light that descends to his mind.

44. The emptiness that men feel within their different religions at this time is due to the fact that the spirit is hungry and thirsty for spirituality; rites and traditions are not enough for him; he longs to know my truth.

Love one another!

45. I discover in the depths of many men the inner struggle between spirit and matter. He wants to go beyond the splendor of the ceremonies to find the beauty of the spiritual. I have lit that light that illuminates you and disturbs you; I am that voice that calls you. No one has been able to explain your concern or understand your inner struggle. Only I, who penetrate into your heart, know your longing and your thirst; I am also the one who indicates to you the path that you must follow so that you may find what you are looking for.

46. How many of those who listen to me, for being sincere and trusting their feelings to someone, have been admonished, unknown or hurt in the noblest of the spirit!

47. You, who listen to my words, ask me why I have come among the most insignificant and sinners to manifest through them the lessons of my Spirit, to which I answer you: I do the same as you when you are parents on earth, you devote more attention and more care to the one of your children who is the weakest, the sickest or the one who is in danger of going astray.

48. If that's what humans do, what won't your Heavenly Father do for his children?

49. , The light of my word has arisen among you as an oasis in the spiritual desert of this humanity, so that all walkers who seek water and peace of the spirit may approach him.

50. It is necessary that this doctrine should reach all men; it will make light in the darkness of the confused, of the ignorant, and of the proud who think they know everything.

51. My word will come to reconcile the spirit with matter, since there has been enmity between one and the other for a long time, so that you may know that your body, which you have considered an obstacle and a temptation for the transit of the spirit, can be the best instrument of your fulfillment on earth.

52. Wash your spirit and your body in this waterfall of light that overflows over you in the Third Time, so that you may understand my teaching. The one who is clean can enter into what was previously a mystery, because he is not stopped by regrets on his way.

53. Confess yourselves before Me, before whom you will not be able to falsify or hide anything that you carry in your heart, and you will feel through conscience my divine absolution. Dignity will be your attire with which you will not be ashamed to present yourself before any man, no matter how great he may be, whether in power or in science.

54. Sow my seed of love. You are on earth, which is also a teacher of men and teaches you that what you sow on it, it returns to you multiplied, as a proof of gratitude and love.

Love one another!

55. Such is the Spirit of your Father. He is the supreme and divine compensation. But may your seed always be good and clean so that you can gather it multiplied into good fruits. In order that your spirit, which has been stained with sin on its way, may arrive clean at the bosom of God, much must be lived and purified, for he must arrive at his Father without the slightest trace of evil, nor the faintest shadow of his past imperfections.

56. If he was blasphemous on earth, as he approaches the presence of his Creator, only a song of love will flow from him.

57. Spirit: How long are you going to make me wait for your arrival at the top of the mountain?

58. There where I ascended from the cross, there I wait for you.

59. You're slowly getting closer. It was necessary to set you free, first stripping you of your earthly possessions, because those possessions had robbed me of your spirit.

60. Come to Me, to the feast that your Father has prepared for you, so that in it you may take the lessons that correspond to you and that form your inheritance.

61. Think seriously about the generations that come after you, think about your children, to whom, just as you have given them the material being, you also have the duty to give them spiritual life, that which is faith, virtue and spirituality.

62. Making my light vibrate over my beloved people, I descend to you to bring you the peace of my Spirit. You are only a small number, but your love for Me is great.

63. Listen to Me now through the speaker, since you are not yet able to receive divine inspiration directly.

64. I had to prepare these subjects beforehand, so that the vibrations of my thoughts could be captured by them as faithfully as possible and transmitted to the multitudes. Notice that when they speak, they explain to you that it is not they who are giving you the teaching, their voice has told you: I am the Divine Teacher, who is coming to speak to you.

65. The form of my communication may be changed, but the spiritual essence of my doctrine is the same, absolute, immutable, outside of time and space. The infinite is eternal.

66. Only the love of your spirit will come to understand these lessons. Why? Because he identifies himself with the spiritual, with his essence, which is eternity.

Love one another!

67. Man, by not showing interest in knowing himself, slows down his elevation and understanding of what eternal life contains, and that is why he has not reached the realization of his greatest work.

68. You were born in Me; you took spiritual and material life from the Father; and in a figurative sense I can tell you that at the time of being born of Me, I was born in you.

69. I am born in your consciousness, I grow in your evolution and I manifest myself in fullness in your works of love, so that you may say full of joy: The Lord is with me.

70. I am preparing you like little children, because the hour is approaching when the bell will sound joyfully, ringing in triumph, announcing with joy the spiritual awakening of humanity.

71. Listen to Me in silence, and in silence meditate, O people. Tomorrow awaits you, it is the path that you will have to travel to reach Me. But already enlightened by the light of my teaching, you will be able to be guided by what you have studied and understood. Knock on my door, I am the only one who opens it, I am the revealing Teacher; ask, ask and it will be given to you.

72. In the desert of your long pilgrimage, Christ is the oasis; but it is necessary that you have faith, so that you may know how to find Him in your hours of solitude or of anguish.

73. I have taught you to renounce yourselves and to renounce the false greatness of the world; but it has been impossible for many to understand this lesson, because it seems impossible for them to conceive of life without luxury, without pleasures and riches. But in this time, full of pain, and with the experience acquired in the lessons of life, they will awaken by themselves to the light of the truth; and how great will be the amazement of humanity to discover that dematerializing and simply divesting itself of the superfluous, it will feel a new being sprouting within itself to a new life.

74. Beloved disciples, among whom I count even the last: After my departure you will feel my presence only those who have prepared themselves. There are those who feel indifference when I tell you about this, because they think that there are still years to go. This time will be like an instant. I will fulfill my mission as a Teacher, but when my ray descends for the last time at the end of 1950, I will never again take the human understanding, to manifest myself in this form. Trust in Me, disciples, that I will fulfill my word to you not to leave you alone. I will make you feel my presence, I will give you inspiration, I will comfort you. Watch now and watch later, so that you will never be surprised. May the one who stealthily tries to steal your inheritance find you alert, or the sick person who sends for you from his bed in the middle of the night, so that you may give him the balm of your love.

75. With great clarity, I have spoken so that you may understand me. You have made my word materialize for some time, because you are short of elevation to understand me, but when my departure is near, my word will be more elevated on the lips of the spokesmen.

76. As my teaching makes greater revelations to you, you will seek ways to correct your mistakes, to regenerate your life and to turn away from every vice and evil inclination. If you become clean, when you talk about my work you will have to be believed and considered as disciples of Jesus, who truly preach his teaching with examples and works of love. That is the garment of grace that you must always wear and by which you can distinguish yourselves among your brothers.

77. Spread yourselves on the earth as prophets of my Divinity, awaken the lethargic humanity, announced that justice is approaching. Tell him that Sodom was warned, but she disobeyed the prophet of God, and the day of her judgment inexorably came.

78. The elements are just waiting for the time to unleash themselves on the world to wash and purify the earth. The more sinful and haughty a nation is, the greater my righteousness will be over it.

79. The heart of this humanity is hard and deaf; it will be necessary for the chalice of bitterness to reach it so that it hears the voice of conscience, the voice of the law and of divine justice. Everything will be for the salvation and eternal life of the spirits, who are the ones I seek.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 139

1. Blessed are you, members of my people, because you have been able to resist with patience and with presence of mind, storms and trials. I have seen you pray and watch in difficult hours and I have even heard you bless my will, when bitterness had invaded you. I have rewarded then your faith and good will, sending you my peace, for having been the boat that defies the storm without capsizing.
2. I also bless those who, forgetting their own sufferings, watch over the peace of the world or visit the sick in their beds, because I will not leave those merits without reward.
3. During this war in which the world has lived, you have been united in prayer day after day, and truly I tell you that I have not ceased to shed wonders among those of your brothers for whom you ask me so much. Do not let your prayer weaken, O my people; I tell you that the vigil is not over yet, although the peoples are saying that the war has ceased. No, Israel, as long as the peace of the peoples is not founded on love for one another, keep watching and praying, keep winning hearts for this work of peace and fraternity.
4. You will soon see that this peace that men are talking about was false, that it only constituted a truce in the midst of their inhuman struggle to then continue in their work of destruction.
5. Scattered throughout the world are those who have the mission of praying and watching over the peace of humanity, among them are my people, whom I am doctrinating with my word. You all have the obligation to build in the heart of humanity, which is your sister, the temple of spirituality, the sanctuary of peace. When that spiritual sanctuary rises to the heights and men find in it direct communication with their Lord, you will be able to say that you have sown in the world the seed that I entrusted to you at this time.
6. People, strengthen yourselves in my word and have confidence that your conscience is correct, if what you are doing is in accordance with the teachings of my doctrine; pray, that your spirit and mind will fight to banish war. Do not weaken, so that their influence will not obscure your reason or your feelings.
7. When one of you prays, he does not realize what his thought achieves spiritually, and it is necessary for you to know that when you pray for your brothers, for those peoples who are being destroyed in war, at those moments your spirit also wages a mental battle against evil and that your sword, which is peace, reason, justice and longing for good for them, collides against the weapons of hatred, revenge, pride.

Love one another!

8. This will be the time when men will realize the power of prayer; for prayer to have true strength and light, it is necessary that with love you raise it to Me.

9. I am not speaking to you about sending thoughts to your fellow beings with evil intent, because I have never given you weapons to use for petty ends, since when ambition or hatred blinds you, you make use of what is most sacred to you and use it to wound and even kill you. I inspire you with the true struggle against evil and I reveal to you what is the most powerful and invincible weapon, so that you may triumph, advising you to first cleanse your heart so that you may then rise up to Me, fill yourself with light and strength, so that I can send your thoughts as luminous flashes among peoples without peace and men without hope.

10. Take my charity, O people. Men and women for whom these recent times have been very cruel; homes in which pain has taken prey, feel my peace, where daily bread has turned into gall, feel the sweetness of my caress.

11. The men of today have to fight a lot to be able to get the sustenance, and the Father says to you: I increase your strength three times, so that you do not faint.

12. Ignite in youth love for their fellow men, inspire them with great and noble ideals, because she will be the one who tomorrow struggles to achieve an existence in which justice, love and the sacred freedom of the spirit shine. Prepare yourselves, all of you, for the great battle of which the prophecies have been telling you has not yet come.

13. Keep in mind that the greater the evolution that humanity reaches, the greater the weapons they have to fight. Do not sleep, beloved people, and be ready to work for my cause.

14. A new war is coming, all the powers and forces of man will take part in it, and it is necessary that the children of this people, who will have to live in that trial, know how to cross it with their banner of truth, leaving a deep imprint of spirituality.

15. Scientists, theologians, sages, philosophers, all will prepare for that great struggle in which lies and evil will be destroyed, good and truth will emerge victorious.

16. Great will be the confusion of men before the light comes to them, because among humanity there will be men who had a great faith and will lose it, others will change their beliefs and some will go from door to door, from religion to religion, in search of the truth for their spirit. It is necessary that the whole path be traveled, so that all evil will be expelled from the spirits and disappear from the hearts.

17. You will see men and women coming up on roads, cities and villages proclaiming that they are God's messengers, saying that they are prophets or emissaries; and from now on

Love one another!

I tell you to be careful, so that you may recognize them by their works. Never say that you are prophets, seers or apostles, but in your works always give proof of my grace, of all that I have entrusted to you and of the doctrine that I have placed in your heart; then it will no longer be your lips that say whether you are prophets or apostles or my disciples, your brothers will say it by the works that they see you doing. I tell you again to remain in prayer, until you see that peace returns to the peoples and joy to all the homes of the world.

18. In this age the Spirit of your Father presents himself at the voice of your call. Listen now to my word which is the sustenance for your spirit. On the day when my word ceases, you will remain giving help to one another, but later. in imitation of the birds when they grow up, you will learn to flap your wings and you will be able to look for sustenance. It will be when through your elevation you will be able to reach Me to receive inspiration and peace.

19. Watch, do not let the dream take over your heart and conquer your spirit, because time passes, and the day will come when you wake up crying for lost time; then you will want to replenish those moments and missed opportunities, but you can no longer do it, because while some are in old age, others will find themselves in spirit in the hereafter. You will ask for mercy and mercy from your Father, not understanding that you were the ones who did not have mercy and mercy from your own spirit.

20. Have charity for your brothers, which is as much as having charity for yourselves; if you do not fulfill this mission, you will be the first to cry because you will contemplate that your hand, which was full of gifts, will find itself empty, that the balm with which you healed the sick has disappeared, and that faculty for freeing the possessed has also gone away. Be humble so that you do not feel like losing your gifts, do not try to seem superior to your brothers; do what I did with my disciples in the holy upper room.

21. I come to point out to you your mistakes, not to judge you, but so that you may amend yourselves and become the obedient people in the fulfillment of my teachings.

22. What I am doing with you will be for the good of future generations, but do not forget that in order to teach you, I have never hurt you or caused blood to flow from your heart. Learn to straighten the tree that has grown crooked and also to straighten the paths.

23. My righteousness is great, but when I speak to you about it, I do not threaten you just to fill your heart with fear. I come to speak to you with truth because my justice will be in each one of you, and if you do not want to cry tomorrow, do merits from now on.

24. Every one of your works is recorded by Me, and the works that are pleasant, I take as the seed that I will cultivate until it multiplies among humanity.

Love one another!

25. Do not seek me as a judge, for you will have to listen to my voice full of justice and severity; seek me as a Teacher and as a Father. What are you waiting for tomorrow? Do you want to go and atone for your faults in the hereafter? Do you want to prepare from now on a path of thistles to your spirit? I do not ignore your merits, but they are still like the weak wheat next to which the tares grow.

26. Practice my doctrine trusting in Me, for as long as you keep my word, I will watch over you and yours. Why do I regard some as strong and others as weak? The strong have not been able to communicate their strength to the weak.

27. Unite all of you and you will all be strong; love each other and have bonds of fraternity and you will see that the weak bushes become lush trees. Welcome everyone because no one knows the mission that his fellow man brings. No one knows their past, that's why no one should be rejected by you. The more clumsy or foolish your brothers are, the more charity and piety you should have with them, considering that they are the ones who have fallen, those who have not been able to assert their ground on the way. From hearts hardened like a rock, I know how to make hearts that emanate tenderness; you too can do it.

28. Cleanse your heart so that your works may be clean. Keep in mind that a bad tree can never bear good fruit.

29. For this I have called you at this time, to become trees that provide shade and shelter to the wayfarer, and those who have understood this, have opened their hearts to tell Me: Today I know that I am your creature and that I have been sent to fulfill a delicate and noble mission, I know that in you I have my beginning and in you is my end.

30. Yes, I am the way; whoever wants to walk in it, let him take up his cross and come after Me. I only ask you, so that you may travel this path, to love your Father in your own brothers. That is the law or the way: to call to God and to love one another." It is the law that in all times has illuminated the path of men.

31. With one love I have loved you all; why should you not all love each other equally? The nations await the arrival of the emissaries of peace, the peoples of the earth lamented their misery like scattered sheep waiting for the arrival of the shepherd, the one who will gather them into a single fold.

32. Prepare yourselves, for the time is near when you will receive these commands from my Spirit, for they will no longer be given by any man on earth. No one will raise his plant without first having received the divine command. I know the way and I don't want you to cry on it. I will prepare it first and I will indicate the time to start the day.

Love one another!

33. Religions and sects deliberate among themselves, prepare and get ready to fight because they sense the battle; you also deliberate, prepare and pray, so that you will not be surprised, because if you did not, my doctrine would be judged and slandered by men, my Spirit would receive all the insults and I would show you wounds in the likeness of Jesus on Calvary.

34. Your spirit is awakening to a higher life; an ideal of a better world is already beginning to form in it.

35. I come to teach you how to conquer peace and to preserve it as the true treasure of the spirit. My word will deliver you from evil in this Third Time, turning you away from the uncertain paths, where you have so long wandered and suffered.

36. My voice will knock on the doors of each heart, and it will be the spirit who answers from within each being.

37. Some will immediately recognize my call; others, uncertain, will wonder who the caller is; and so, one after another, they will rise up after the light.

38. How beautiful is the awakening of a spirit!, when man wonders: Who vibrates inside me?, Where does my inspiration come from and who drives me to good?

39. My word also teaches you to read in your spirit, to penetrate it, to find its essence which is light, truth, love, obedience, purity.

40. When man finds himself spiritually, it is when he feels the presence of his Father in himself; but when he does not know who he is or where he comes from, he feels distant, strange, unattainable, or remains insensitive.

41. Only the awakened spirit can penetrate into the realm of truth; man, by his own knowledge alone, will not be able to know it.

42. I see that men aspire to knowledge, glory, strength, wealth and power, and I come to offer them the means to achieve everything, but in its essence, in its spiritual truth, not in the superficial and artificial of the world, not in the passing or deceptive.

43. When man surrenders himself to the material, closing himself in the small space of a world like yours, impoverishes, limits and oppresses his spirit, nothing exists for him anymore, outside of what he possesses or what he knows; then it becomes necessary for him to lose everything so that he opens his eyes to the truth, and once disabused of his error, he turns his gaze to the eternal.

Love one another!

44. There is nothing better than my doctrine, which is inspired by divine love for you, to show you the true way. Who better than I could teach you to give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's?"

45. That is the reason why I have once again made my voice heard in your world, because I have seen you lost in a sea of darkness and confusion.

46. My light of love will light the lamp of faith in the hearts that come in darkness, and my charity will raise up those who have died for my kingdom.

47. Whoever does not know how to find the essence of this word, may come to believe that my doctrine is a yoke that subjugates and enslaves man; but whoever knows how to give his just interpretation, will feel his whole being flooded with light and his joy will have no limit. An inner song will arise from his spirit, leading him to a harmonious life, which will be the best worship towards Me.

48. Whoever walks within my law, no matter how tried he may be, will not fall; faith will give him the strength necessary to emerge triumphant. However long his chalice may be, he will never blaspheme; he will be patient and will know how to wait, according to the will of his Lord. Whoever practices my teachings in this way will be doing merits so that my wonders may be manifested in him.

49. Faith, conformity and humility before what I have ordered will make the day shorter, because you will not walk the painful path more than once; but if rebellion, nonconformity and blasphemy arise in the trials, the trial will be prolonged, because you will have to travel that path again until you learn the lesson.

50. Life is a constant lesson for the spirits. The universe, by being formed under my mandate, had no other mission than to teach. Life is a crucible and struggle for the spirit, it is not an absolute enjoyment as many would like it to be. Joy, triumph, peace or glory, are beyond all struggle, beyond that crucible. The glory of the spirit, with all its joys, is in the perfection of the spirit.

51. Understand this truth, so that you do not pass by the book that day by day shows you new pages of wisdom. Educate your spirit in such a way that it becomes the good observer, educate your mind in meditation, pray with the prayer proper to the spirit, sensitizing the mind, and the heart so that you can receive my divine messages and learn the spiritual language of the life that surrounds you, pointing the way to perfection.

52. To encourage you, I descend to your tired hearts, to give them new life.

53. When the understanding of these spokesmen rises cleanly to Me, my word comes directly to the spirits. This humble word, which has moved great multitudes, will be the one that will make the miracle that you will become Mine again, O beloved people, because it has been a while since you had strayed from the path of truth. You had forgotten that you were taking me with you, and when you came to listen to me, you felt my presence shine again, like that of a luminous star that came to illuminate your heart.

Love one another!

54. I come to receive you, and before I do so with your human part, I take your spirit, which is the true son of my Divinity. In the spirit there is consciousness, intelligence, and it is through him that I will make my inspirations and thoughts reach the human being.

55. People, whom I love infinitely, a thought of mine made a word on the lips of these spokesmen, is like a path full of lights for your spirit.

56. Listen to me: be humble in the world and sow good in it, so that you may reap its fruits in heaven. If it pleases you not to have witnesses when you do evil, why do you like to have them when you do good deeds? What can you be proud of, if you have only done your duty?

57. Understand that because you are so small and so human, praise hurts your spirit. Why, after you have done a good deed, do you immediately expect your Father to give you the reward? Whoever thinks like this, does not act disinterestedly and therefore, his charity is false and his love is far from being true.

58. Let the world see that you practice good works, but not in order to receive tributes, but only in order to give good examples and teachings and to bear witness to my truth.

59. The angels of the Lord are everywhere in the universe, pouring out their charity and love among all the children of God. In spiritual silence they work incessantly to achieve the good for their brothers and sisters and, when have you seen that they come to earth to ask you for the reward to the payment of what they have given you, or at least to the ostentation of the favor they granted you?

60. Be humble, because human greatness, its pride and its vanities, belong to the earth, are proper to matter and with them you go down to the grave. The spirit only preserves what he can carry to the heights, what he can shine in the light; if the greatness is not spiritual. if it is only vanity, tomorrow he will have affliction in his spirit.

61. There is truth and falsehood, and it is necessary that you know both ways, so that in your choice you can follow the true way. Open your eyes, awaken your spirit, refine your senses, so that you may perceive in everything created the love of your Father. I have given you everything, without asking anything of You for Me. If in your misunderstanding you have come to say that there is a lot that I ask of you, in exchange for everything that I have given you, you are in error. If something or a lot is necessary, it is only for your good, for your happiness in eternity.

Love one another!

62. You will have to give an account to your Father of everything you have done in life; but how are you going to silence the voice of conscience in that supreme hour? What will you answer when your spirit hears the voice of the Lord, warning him that you will never be able to justify evil?

63. Only the effort to get up from the fall, the love and the zeal with which you march along the path of restitution, will make the traces and stains of sin disappear from your being, in order to present you clean before the divine judge.

64. Learn all this from here; know that where your interests are, there will be your thoughts and your heart. If these are materials, you will be materialized, if you are spiritual, you will be on the path of perfection.

65. Live on earth, as my word has taught you. Live the struggle, love and seek all that is good, delight in all that I have entrusted to you, but let your spirit, in the likeness of clouds, float in the infinite spaces, full of whiteness and light.

66. It is in vain that men seek perfect pleasure in materialism. Everything is sad and empty without the presence of the Father. He is the true joy.

67. Let all evil thoughts depart from you and attract noble thoughts. Happiness is not in what is materially possessed, but in what is spiritually known. To know is to own and practice.

68. The one who truly knows, is humble of spirit, is not proud with the wisdom of the earth, who only aspires to know everything and to understand everything that he has not come to understand. He who carries in himself the light of inspired knowledge, he knows how to receive revelations in due time as well as how to wait for them. Many sages have been named and it has been a mystery to them the sun that day after day shines in full light..

69. Many have thought they knew everything, and truly I tell you, the ant that imperceptibly crosses their path, also holds for them an unfathomable mystery.

70. Men may be able to investigate many of the wonders of nature, but until they do so along the path of divine love, they will not reach true wisdom, which is contained in the immortal life of the spirit.

71. Men, come closer to Me; you do not need to break your mind to discover secrets and mysteries, you only need to open your heart with the key of faith.

72. Have the firm will to go to the Father, to be with Him, to penetrate into His sojourn, and you will be amazed, and later you will also come to do wonders, when you live practicing my love and my forgiveness.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 140

1. I am present among you, to teach your spirit the way of peace, light and goodness.
2. I come to you because only I know that the pain and anguish in which men live are nothing more than hunger, thirst and misery of the spirit.
3. One man today and another tomorrow, will be opening their eyes to the light of truth, convinced, at last, that they will never be able to reach their perfection with worldly pleasures, riches and satisfactions, sensing that there is something, beyond the material, whose essence, beauty and truth, are that bread, that sustenance and that joy that the spirit lacks so much.
4. In order for the heart of humanity to be filled with my light, it will first have to be cleansed of everything that keeps you, how do you want to comply with my law, if your whole being is saturated with materialism? First he will have to cleanse himself of all pain, of the evil and of the hatred that he encloses, until he is clean and then, my grace will penetrate into you.
5. Know that in every man I have created a place destined for Me, but you have invaded it, filling it with impurities, imperfections and desecrations. That is the truth, man has desecrated in himself the most sacred thing that I granted him: his spirit.
6. Only I could have pity on men, because charity was turned away from them; now they no longer know it, and it has come to discover to them all their mistakes, which are the cause of their bitterness.
7. What good are religions to men? I see that they all have as a principle the belief in God and as a law the good; do you obey what your religions teach and command you? You will not be able to tell me that you do fulfill, because you would deny it with the imperfect works that you carry out daily in the world.
8. I am not believed, nor loved, nor obeyed. Another would be the life of men on earth, if they believed me, loved and obeyed.
9. I presented myself to the world and gave it proofs of my presence, of my truth and my power so that it would follow me; and the greatest proof of my wisdom I revealed to it in: "Love one another", a simple phrase, but which contains the secret of the true greatness reserved for men, spiritualized.
10. "Love one another," was the last commandment I left to my disciples at that time. Commandment is the same as law, therefore, in that law of loving each other as brothers in God, I gathered all the precepts, all the maxims and proverbs known, so that you would know that love is the law that governs life.

Love one another!

11. Only Christ, the Lamb, revealed that light to the world, so I tell you that the hour will come when all men will be unified in the truth of that commandment.

12. It is time for man to offer me his tribute of love as all beings of creation do. Until now, humanity has only offered me the gall and vinegar that the centurion brought to my lips in my agony.

13. Do you know that with bitterness the thirst for love can never be quenched, and yet it is what you have always offered me? I, on the other hand, bring a mantle of infinite mercy to cover you, a chalice of the wine of life and bread of the spirit, bread of wisdom, peace, love and truth to lift you up, not on a cross of pain, but on a mountain of perfection.

14. My disciples will not mystify their practices within my doctrine. She is simple, with that simplicity that you contemplate in nature. The prayer that I teach you is the one that springs from the heart. What can you hide from me that I don't know? if a storm is stirring in your spirit, how can you tell me in a prayer, which is not yours, that you are calm and that you do not need help? Form your own prayer each day according to your needs. Feel me close, and when this world with its problems and tribulations fatigues you, come to ME, also seek the spiritual world, where you will find protectors and friends, true love, pure affections, and you will feel his company and his comfort.

15. I am ruling and contemplating all the worlds and I will watch with love, how the brothers who inhabit different planes come closer to identify and get closer. Later, you will be only spirits and you will imitate those who have been examples of virtue, those protectors and intercessors of yours, whom I have allowed to manifest themselves in this time before the people of Israel, so that they fulfill a great mission among humanity.

16. Learn to live for moments on higher planes; fly to those regions where peace and harmony are breathed, and on your return you will feel stronger and more comfortable.

17. You have everything you need to live within my law; you will not be able to tell me that your living conditions do not allow you to comply. Even in the midst of the struggle, you can pray, love and do good to your brothers.

18. The doors of my heart are open for you to penetrate to study my word.

19. You are the spirits who from the beginning of creation have been given a mission. You are the spark of my Spirit and you have been endowed with reason, will and intelligence. I have formed you in my image and likeness, and therefore you are prepared to think, feel and love.

Love one another!

20. You are like precious stones that in this time will shine to make light among men, and like jewels I love you; to Me, you have an inestimable value. Wake up and let my chisel polish you so that already prepared you can work diligently in the regions and make my truth known, bearing witness to it with true works of love.

21. Do you think that in 1950 I will stop demonstrating among you? My word will cease by the decree of human understanding, but my gifts will remain in you. I have told you that you are the foundations of a world of love, and I want you to find yourselves strong, so that stone upon stone you may build and leave this inheritance to the generations to come.

22. Fulfill your mission, for I will pay more than for each of your works. The road to the end is still long, but you can shorten it with good will.

23. I receive your spirit, who is the one who can rise to the heights of the perfect. I am waiting for you to become spiritualized so that we will be One, because you will all merge into Me. In the meantime, I am enlightening your spirit.

24. You will overcome through your trials and I will welcome you; it will be my love that will come out to receive you. My love does not ask how you are coming, he only tells you: Come.

25. So that you can come to my presence with your calm spirit, take care of him, because he is your true self; do not forget him, because it will be as we forget about yourselves and God; stop worrying too much about human satisfactions, comforts, personality and pleasures.

26. I speak to those who neglect their spirit and ask them: What have you worked for your eternal life? Nothing, because you live devoted to the perishable life, to what is today and tomorrow will cease to be, to this life of constant changes where the triumph lasts a short time, on the other hand, pain is its immediate consequence.

27. Meditate deeply on these words. My law and my doctrine always remain unchanged before you, reminding and teaching you of your spiritual and also human duties. I have already told you, that your life is according to your deeds. If humanity is dragging along a chain of pain, that chain has not been put on by Me, but by herself. You will still see crying and suffering a lot. Study my words so that you will not make this chain of bitterness and painful trials any longer. Have mercy on yourselves, because of Me, you are already forgiven.

Love one another!

28. At the time when I was on earth through Jesus, sinful hearts were telling me: Rabbi, what a strange doctrine yours is, which makes us sinners know God's forgiveness. My word was strange to them, because they knew that they were criminals or adulterers and that the only law they knew said: An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth; that is why they asked me, strangers, and how do you speak of the forgiveness of sins?; How do you, O Rabbi, show your love for the wicked? Your lips, when they speak, shine with a heavenly radiance and your doctrine is a pulsating message of the purest love. I answered them with each of my works.

29. My teachings are not strange doctrines, it is the doctrine of love, the path through which the spirit can evolve, through which he will be able to channel his thoughts, his words and his works, which will follow him until the end of his restitution.

30. It is necessary that the one who has sinned, enter the temple and repent there, attend the feast of divine love.

31. You can make your journey through the crossroads of life shorter and with fewer falls than others, with fewer stumbles, if you know how to make use of the key that opens the door of the temple of your spiritual preparation.

32. If you truly repent of the evils that you have caused, you will always be well received; but it is necessary that you demonstrate your repentance with works, because only with them will you purify yourselves.

33. You must pursue three virtues: repentance, forgiveness and love. If these feelings, these virtues do not shine in your being, how do you intend to reach the light of my kingdom for your spirit? How do you want to enjoy the delights that are reserved for those who know how to rise to reach them?

34. Whoever achieves this joy, carries in himself the glory of his Father. Only by the way of love will you reach your true abode, that kingdom that no one can acquire by any other means, that you cannot buy at any price, except by winning it with the heart.

35. Love lightens the burden during the day and all pain is temporary. The word love means life; love and life are my doctrine.

36. Three qualities are necessary in my disciples in order to transform their lives; the first is to listen to me, the second is to understand me and the third is to practice my teaching.

37. If you turn away from the whirlwind of your life and I come with the clearest thought, my word will be a light to your understanding; but you come stunned by the struggle and by your works that are not always those that the Father has commanded you to do.

Love one another!

Precisely I come to remind you of the work that you have left pending or forgotten. The spiritual work that you forgot at birth or after birth.

38. Your sight has become immensely recreated when you see the sunrise in all its splendor at dawn; you do not know what the joy of the spirit will be when it comes to contemplate the appearance of my divine light as a sun of infinite love.

39. Ah, if only you knew how to awaken your inner senses to contemplate the one who is waiting for you and who you take with you! How great will be the surprise of those who, looking for me along so many paths, one day discover me in themselves.

40. Listen, a source of crystal clear water will have to faithfully reflect the sunlight, while another of turbid waters will not be able to reflect it with the same purity. This is your spirit; it is up to you to clean the fountain and then fill it with transparent water.

41. The kingdom of heaven cannot be yours in a moment; it is necessary to reach it step by step. The light of the sun does not invade the earth suddenly, it appears slowly and gently, without violence, until you wake up from your sleep with sweetness. This is how your spiritual awakening should be.

42. Disciples, I want to tell you about Mary, my Mother as a man and your spiritual Mother.

43. It is necessary that the human heart thoroughly knows the precious message that her Spirit brought to the world, and then, knowing the whole truth, you erase from your heart all the idolatrous and fanatical worship that you have consecrated to Her, and instead, you offer your spiritual love to her.

44. Mary's message was one of consolation, tenderness, humility and hope. She had to come to earth to make known her maternal essence, offering her virginal womb so that the Word might incarnate in him; but her mission did not end there. Beyond this world was her true abode, the one from which She can spread a mantle of piety and tenderness over all her children, from where she can follow in the footsteps of the lost and pour out her heavenly consolation on those who suffer.

45. Many centuries before Mary descended into the world to fulfill a divine destiny, incarnating in a woman, a prophet of God announced her; through him you knew that a virgin would conceive and give birth to a son, who would be called Emmanuel, that is, God with you.

46. In Mary, a woman without blemish, in whom the Spirit of heavenly tenderness descended, the divine promise announced by the prophet was fulfilled.

Love one another!

47. Since then the world has known her, and men and peoples pronounce her name with love and in their pain seek her as a Mother.

48. You call her Mother of sorrows, because you know that the world has thrust the sword of pain into her heart, and that aching face and that expression of infinite sadness does not depart from your mind.

49. Today I want to tell you to remove the image of pain from your heart and instead think of Mary as the sweet, smiling and loving Mother who works spiritually helping all her creatures to rise along the path traced by the Master.

50. Do you see how Mary's mission did not materialize to motherhood on earth? Also her manifestation of the Second Time was not unique, but a new time is reserved for Her, in which she will speak from Spirit to spirit to humanity.

51. My disciple John, prophet and living, contemplated in his ecstasy a woman clothed with the sun, a virgin radiant with light.

52. That woman, that virgin, is Mary, the one who will conceive again in her womb, not a new Redeemer, but a world of men who in Her are sustained by love, faith and humility, to follow the divine footsteps of Christ, the Master of all perfection. The prophet saw how that woman suffered as if she were going to give birth, and that pain was that of the purification of men, that of the atonement of spirits; after the pain, light will be made in men and joy will fill the Spirit of your Universal Mother.

53. Today come to Me, beloved disciples, come to take the place that corresponds to you; and you, little children, also be with Me; today that you take your first steps, begin the path of evolution. To the one who comes for the first time to hear my word and seeks comfort for his heart and light for his spirit, I receive him, and I welcome all of you.

54. O I call you blessed, because in this time of materialism in which humanity lives, you get up looking for my footprints, you close your ears to the temptations and it only brings you the hope that you have placed in Me. The way I look at you now. innocent and clean, I want to contemplate you always. And just as I receive you on this day when you feel my peace, so I will always receive you.

55. It hurts my spirit to contemplate that not everyone prepares in the same way. There are some who have no faith; others, believing, are unwilling to face the approaching struggle. Some, in their egoism, do not feel united to their brothers and sisters and have divided themselves, and I tell you: Only love will make you strong and faith will save you. Always watch so that you are not surprised.

Love one another!

56. Wake up, those of you who are still asleep, look at the light that is illuminating the world and prepare to recognize my coming at this time. Many of your brothers will want to turn you away from this path, offering you well-being in earthly life and advancement for your spirit, but in them there will be no love, no sincerity, and I ask you: Who in the world will be able to give you true peace at this time? The nations that claim to have returned to peace have not forgiven each other, the rulers have not reconciled, therefore, they have not laid the foundations of a lasting peace.

57. Before you came to listen to me, you were sailing in a fragile little boat, your faith was faltering. The spiritual teachings you had received were very poor, and your spirit did not have the tranquility and joy that you have experienced when you heard my word. If you feel hurt in your beliefs, do not be silent out of fear, confess that you are my disciples; because if you who have heard me, are silent, then the stones will speak, the elements of nature will testify to these teachings. I do not want to see in you the cowardice that makes you deny what I have given you, because if you do. there will be a lot of pain in your heart. If those who have come to you sick and needy, when healing do not know you, do not cry, rejoice thinking that you have fulfilled your duty and that they have calmed their sorrows. Many, after having denied you their gratitude, will seek you out and recognize your gifts.

58. Only those who have faith in Me can do wonders. And I use those who believe this to grant benefits to those who ask me for proof. I want to look at love in you, the true love that will restore all strength and restore grace to humanity, teaching men to love one another.

59. The light of my doctrine will enlighten the world. My power will be manifested by my husbandmen, and just as the hardships have been very great, greater will be the wonders that I will do among my children.

60. If you prepare yourselves, you will marvel at my works and you will climb step by step to the top of perfection.

61. Youth, pray and practice my laws, for I want to use you. Do not chain your spirit with the false grandeur of the world. Be free, with that freedom that I grant to man within my precepts. Do not sow pain so that you will not gather that seed.

62. To you, parents of families, I say: Guide your children with love, teach them charity, watch zealously for their virtue, and thus you will achieve peace.

63. Watch over your, rulers and respect their determinations. I have kept this nation in peace, because I want it to be a refuge for weary hearts and a corner of peace on earth. Do not let the war come to her; but if you call her, if you so desire. may not my will be done,

Love one another!

but yours; if it is necessary that you know the rigor of the tests in order to sensitize yourselves, so that you may know how to have charity for the pain of others, let it be as you ask. Think that the war element only waited for your call to appear to invade countries and nations. While some have asked for war, others have prayed for world peace. This nation has shared its bread and its clothing with those who have gone through great vicissitudes. I have allowed your land, lavish in fruits, to offer its help to those who lack them.

64. Many powerful men in those nations have considered themselves needy, confused with those who have nothing, have had the opportunity to know the misery and human pain and have meditated on what the greatness and possessions of the earth mean. These, who had not thought about the spiritual life, today prepare themselves and raise their spirits to Me, because pain has purified them.

65. Prepare yourselves, farmers, for the time when I command you to take this message to other regions and nations.

66. Today come and rest, quiet your mind so that you may receive the word that comes from the Holy Spirit. It is the Word that reveals, clarifies and explains the truth to men, that will fill hearts with hope and comfort and flood spirits with peace.

67. The promised Comforter is the one who speaks to you, O people, it is my presence in Spirit that comes to fulfill the promise that I made to you in times past. When you introduce me, you welcome me, multitudes, and at once your heart begins to make me aware of its bitterness and its worries.

68. When will you make present to me instead of afflictions, your satisfaction by saying to me: Master, come and be pleased with our works, come and gather the flowers that have been cultivated in our own spirit? Then I will penetrate as if I were a gardener, I will get to your heart and from there I will collect as if they were beautiful tears, your thoughts and your good deeds.

69. The only Messiah, the only Rabbi, is the one who speaks to you today through these spokespersons; it is your brothers who transmit my word to you.

70. Each of my children will have the three virtues that are essential so that his words can reach the heart of humanity, these are. power, love and wisdom.

71. When you visit one, others and several precincts, when through their spokespersons you hear the same word, your heart is filled with joy and faith and you take that lesson as a true proof that those congregations are united through their spirituality. When you come to witness a deficient manifestation, you have the feeling that you have been wounded in your heart and you understand that the unity that should exist in this people is not there, or is not manifested.

Love one another!

72. That is the truth, not everyone loves each other in my work, even when they are in it, nor have they all come to understand it, so I can tell you that some are of my work and others do theirs.

73. Those who have been following me out of love love my word, because they know that it corrects them without hurting them and points out their flaws, without giving them away. That makes them persevere in perfecting their practices.

74. Those who, instead of trying to achieve that perfection, what they pursue is only flattery, superiority, flattery or the means by which to live, instead of seeking the perfection of the spirit, those do not resist my word when I point out their defects; then they have to create a work other than mine, where they are free to do their will. They have not come to understand that the only thing the multitudes must do during the time that my demonstration lasts is to listen to me with the greatest elevation, so that later they can analyze my message.

75. After so much as I have spoken to you, what is it that you have come to understand? Very little, because you have been distracted by so many material practices that my doctrine does not teach you and you have even been confused by the various interpretations that you are giving to the teachings that you have received.

76. This is the opportunity to learn a lesson that earth will never be able to give you; in human books you will be able to get to know material science, but the divine one that tells you about eternal life, only the Word that is the book of true wisdom, will be able to teach it to you.

77. And this consolation, this piety, this understanding, in a word, this love that I am pouring into you today, is what the world will not be able to give you. When you are sad, I tenderly collect your tears, when a grief tortures you, I reach out to relieve it. I have the mission of saving humanity and of redeeming every last man; do not be surprised, that from time to time I come knocking at your doors to request that you give me shelter.

78. Blessed are those who, when they hear my call, have in their hearts the presentiment of my arrival and tell me: Come to my humble house, O Lord, it is yours; because in it I will deliver my message to you.

79. Tomorrow, many of you will be sent to other countries and nations, taking the place of my new emissaries. You will know how to talk to Me and then transmit my lesson to your brothers, with words that will be of peace, wisdom and fraternity; from your hands will flow the balm of health and consolation capable of raising the dead, your examples will awaken many of my children so that they can follow me, encouraged by your example.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 141

1. People: I see your struggle and your efforts, I also contemplate your patience to suffer, fulfilling the lessons of my doctrine. The struggle is in all the paths that man has to travel; understand that not only you have it. Now more than ever you must be strong. Watch and pray and, at the dawn of each dawn be with Me and I will illuminate you at that moment, so that my light accompanies you in all the works that you are going to execute on that day.
2. It does not matter that you do not have words or ideas to form a sentence; it is enough for Me that you raise your thought to infinity, because I will know how to interpret the language of your heart.
3. The spiritual struggle of this time, you see reflected in many homes. Marriages that do not share the same ideas; some, in which the man follows me, others in which it is the woman who drags everything to follow me full of faith, while the partner hurts her at every step with his ridicule and disbelief. Many times when they are together in their bedroom, their spirits live distant from each other. The attentions and tenderness of other times, have given way to violent words and hurtful phrases; then the flame of faith, which burns in the heart, trembles, whipped by the tempest of passions and exalted feelings.
4. There are homes in which children, some in their childhood and others in their youth, are impressed by witnessing this struggle between their parents, and they also feel that in their hearts restlessness, doubt rises, and they ask themselves: To whom should I give the reason? Who will be the possessor of the truth? Which of them is it that I should follow and by what advice should I be guided?
5. This struggle is bitter and painful, but it had to arise between you, because you were not ready to understand my new lessons. The same thing happened in the second time in the bosom of the families, because while some of its members gave their lives assuring that Jesus, the Christ, was the Messiah, others denied him all truth and longed to see that his doctrine was exterminated.
6. To you who come to listen to me and who have this battle in your home, I say that you take the light from my doctrine, so that you may have the necessary tact to act wisely; may there be charity in your heart; may the intelligence and love of your actions guide you in your home; may you take strength in my word so that you may have patience in the hard trial that constitutes your restitution.
7. Do not be afraid, because if you know how to fulfill in the way that I am teaching you, you will see wonders working among yours, and there will be times, when the most reluctant, in which the most unbelievers later become the most fervent. I touch those hearts by granting them the proof that is necessary for them to be able to believe.

Love one another!

8. Do not weep, people, hasten this trial with love, for the patience and faith with which you endure it will be your reward.

9. Conclude by understanding that you all love the same God and do not quarrel over the difference in the way that one and the other have been doing. It is necessary that you come to understand that there are beings in whom beliefs, traditions and customs have taken such deep roots that it will not be easy for you to uproot them the first moment you teach them. Be patient and over the years you will succeed.

10. There are those who listen to me once, and from that moment they give themselves to Me full of faith; on the other hand there are others, who come in search of my word, again, again and many times more, without ever feeling that inner enlightenment. That is because not all spirits march in unison, because while some are already about to feel me, others still need to evolve more and strengthen themselves with the tests that purify the spirit, to understand my revelations.

11. Spiritualism is causing a worldwide battle between ideas, beliefs and cults. But after this struggle, this doctrine will bring to men the blessed peace they need so much and will make the sun of my divine justice shine on all spirits.

12. This stage of light, which has been my spiritual communication, will go unnoticed by many; however, too clear signs and events will remain as an indelible imprint that will come to mark two important events for humanity: the beginning and the end of my communication, so that men study, investigate and finally come to accept that the Lord was once again among them. I will prepare my children to form the book that will contain my lectures and lessons, which will become a torrent of crystalline water, a river of life that will come to quench the thirst for spirituality and the craving for light of this humanity.

13. Now that two eras have passed over you and the third is beginning, I come in Spirit in search of your fruit, and in the silence of your heart I hear you say to me: Father, how little we can present you with good and how little we have advanced on the way. The time is already short in which I will continue to speak to you under this banner and you must hasten your pace and improve your works, because the congregations are pending your example; the multitudes are willing to follow and imitate you, but you must testify with your works of love to be believed.

14. Study my teachings thoroughly and analyze my orders, so that when the time comes you will get up in pursuit of the paths that I point out to you, your mission and you will be able to bring those who have parked out of their lethargy, and at the same time you will be able to save the one who has been lost at the crossroads. I want you to know the path before you walk it. Have I not told you that my word is the way? So listen to me and study.

15. No one is going to rise up tracing the path to his will, or creating laws or altering my commands, because he will go to the abyss along with those he seduces.

16. If you have the conviction and faith that you are the Lord's people, who have passed through the desert of this life for a long time, do not forget the law for a moment, do not be unfaithful to your Father, nor lose the route that leads to the goal that your spirit pursues, that which you call the "promised land" and which is the abode of the perfect light where your Father awaits you.

17. Who can say that he is weak when he receives my strength every moment? Who can say that he is hungry, when so many times he has sat down to eat the bread of true life at my table? Everyone has an inheritance, gifts, and if you sometimes feel weak or poor, it is because you still have little faith. Your flesh is reluctant to let manifest how much good the spirit brings, but on the other hand, how easily it lets reflect the bad inclinations or the insane tendencies that the spirit harbors. Check this in children, who alone tear the veil of their innocence, or are rebellious before good deeds. Not all those who return to earth arrive purified; there are those who need to drink the bitterest chalices that life offers in its lessons, and endure the harshest trials so that they bend, become sweetened and converted.

18. The world will tremble in the light of my new revelations and men will know the truth.

19. When I speak to you as a Father, it is the book of the law that is opened before you. When I speak to you as a Teacher, it is the book of love that I show to my disciples. When I speak to you as the Holy Spirit, it is the book of the saibidur.that he enlightens you with his teachings and that they form a single doctrine, because they come from one God.

20. The day is approaching when this communication will cease, so I pour out my word extensively so that this people will be strong and prepared.

21. You can all say that in this time you have seen me, some with your heart, some with your mind and some with your spirit. When you have been recreated with my divine teachings, you have seen me, when you attend the fulfillment of some of my prophecies, you have looked at me, and when you feel in your being the presence of spiritual communications, you have contemplated me. I have allowed myself to be looked at in different ways, so that you may bear witness to my coming in this Third Time. Did you think the only way to see me was with the eyes of your body? Before the spiritual, your material eyes are the most limited way of seeing. Did you think that it was essential to see me as a man, as the world saw me in the Second Half, so that you could say: I have seen Him? However, the spirit feels with greater perfection than the heart, the mind or the senses; and it is he who has understood me. My word gives birth to the truth to some, and raises others to true life, because materialism is death.

Love one another!

22. The book of knowledge opens to reveal to you how many gifts and attributes you possess, many of them still unknown to you.

23. Do you know that I have come to give you one more of my lessons, and then send you to give the good news to humanity; do you expect to penetrate the heart of any of your brothers, without knowing what is heart and what is spirit? How long ago you were inherited by the Father and you still do not know what your spirit possesses; but the era of spirituality has finally arrived for humanity: everything that is unknown will be known, the hidden will come to light and every mystery will be clarified, because the Spirit of Truth is pouring out on every spirit and on every flesh.

24. When men know spiritually who they are and know their origin, they will not have suffering tears to mourn the faults that through ignorance and pride, their reluctance caused them to commit; but after purification, my mantle of forgiveness will cover the world and a new era will begin. Do you not believe that when the light is made in the lives of men and illuminates their conscience, there will be a change in their life? Yes, because tribulations, wars, everything that afflicts some and loses others, is for lack of spiritual light, that which you can call conscience, justice, love.

25. O people, the day is approaching when I will stop speaking to you in this way; take advantage of my teachings so that you can resist the whirlwinds that threaten you. Men will come to you to ask for proof that you spoke with Jesus and that you received His lessons from Him.

26. You are leafing through the book of my teaching in which the law, the prophecies and my word given throughout the ages are written; everything will be recorded in the end in your spirit. This is the inheritance I leave you. Try, experiment and study my work, analyze it; when you have discovered and known its essence, you will feel immensely loved by the Father and you will also love me.

27. If, because you have come to my call, your brothers murmur, close your ear and be silent, they are innocent; but if you took up this cause to judge them, woe to you, because you have already been enlightened by the light of our conscience and you know what you are doing.

Love one another!

28. I am the judge of every spirit and I know who truly loves me. Not everyone who calls me Father is with Me; many of those who proclaim that they are my chosen ones and that they are serving me have not understood me. You may deceive one another, but who can deceive Me?.

29. I have taught you equality, love, humility; if your destiny is apparently different, the purpose that I have pointed out to everyone is the same.

30. Be guided by your conscience, she will always speak to you with justice; and you will know if you are within my law; if you have done deeds worthy of offering them to your Father. I love the pure and if you want to please me, be clean.

31. There will come a time when the world will make you accountable, it will ask you for powerful works that speak of your great gifts, and if you are not prepared, many will deny me like Peter and say that they never heard me, that they did not know me, and you know that for a long time my word has been your food and consolation.

32. What have you asked of me, that I have not granted to you? I have given you many proofs of love to encourage your faith. Blessed are the meek and humble, who know how to accept with conformity the trials of their life without despair.

33. Analyze my word, feel and practice it, so that your faith may be firmer every day.

34. Open the doors of your heart and of your understanding. By what works have you come to glorify me? You are all silent, the spirit is silent, and matter is also silent in my presence; you bend your neck and humble yourselves. I do not want my children to humble themselves before Me, I want them to be worthy to lift up their face and contemplate mine, because I do not come in search of servants, or slaves, I do not come in search of creatures that feel proscribed, banished. I come to my children to whom I taught the way of redemption through the blood of the Divine Lamb, so that when they hear my Father's voice, they will throw themselves into my arms.

35. Here I come to the house of Jacob and I only contemplate fear inside it, I hope to find a feast and there is only silence. Why, people? Because your conscience claims your faults and prevents you from experiencing joy at my arrival. It is that you have not loved each other, it is that you have not worked, as Jesus taught you.

36. You have lacked spiritual preparation, to sense the shadow of pain that stalks you, and it is necessary that your Father materializes and speaks in your language, so that you can know that the war is advancing, that its weapons are stronger and stronger and that in front of it, the angel of peace sobs.

37. Riding on the wings of the wind, the plague advances instant by instant, and in the environment there are thousands of beings who day after day stir in the fields of hatred and tares and whose confusion clouds your mind and your heart.

38. The elements are unleashed awakening the men of science from their sleep, but these obstinate in their greatness, continue their destructive work among humanity, while you forget to pray, to fulfill the mission that the Father has entrusted to you to love one another.

39. You know intimately that the mission of making peace has been weighing on your spirit since those times when I said to Jacob, "Behold, I will give you a numerous seed in which the peoples of the earth will be blessed." That is why you are silent in front of Me.

40. Do you believe that the laws of man compel you to close your lips, which I have prepared for you to testify about Me?

41. Do not be men of little faith; if I have chosen it, it is because I know that you will be able and know how to serve me.

42. On this day I tell you, If the nations want peace, I will put it within their reach; if they still want more war, they will have it and through it, the scepter of my righteousness will fall on the earth.

43. If humanity, persecuting my new disciples, tries to prevent them from healing the sick and speaking about my doctrine, the strangest diseases will be unleashed among men; men of science will get sick, their tongues will be silenced by others, many will be blinded and their brains will be disturbed by others.

44. The gates of the beyond will be opened and legions of troubled spirits will ravage regions and possess men. Then, in the face of the impotence of men of science, my humble laborers will stand up to him, giving proofs of my power, through which many will believe. For a long time I have told you all these prophecies, yet you remain deaf and even blind. You are ungrateful, twisty and fickle.

45. It is necessary that I speak to you in this way, but do not take my word of love for a whip. I love you, come into my arms so that you may feel my warmth, come closer to Me, so that you may feel the peace of my kingdom. You are the ones who have sought me through the desert, you are the ones who have always walked after my promise.

Love one another!

46. Are you tired of this life?; so rest a moment under the shade of this tree, tell me here your cults and weep in Me. How long will you be with Me forever? I already want to contemplate peace in every spirit.

47. Let the lark for now spread its wings over the entire universe, so that you may feel its peace and warmth.

48. Women, it is you who, with your prayer, preserve the little peace that exists on earth, who, as faithful guardians of the home, take care that it does not lack warmth. Thus you unite yourselves to Mary, your Heavenly Mother, to destroy all temptation.

49. Men, I have made signs for you in this land, that you may represent me in it. It is your spirit similar to that of the Father and your body similar to the universe. Do not judge the perfection of your body by its dimensions, but by the wonderful life that exists in it, In all its perfection, the body is limited, and the moment comes when it stops growing; then intelligence and feelings continue to develop, until death stops it to rise from there the spirit and grow endlessly in eternity.

50. Make your home a second temple, your affections a second cult. If you want to love me, love your wife and love your children, because great works, thoughts and examples will also spring from that temple.

51. You are all Elijah's sheep at this time, some dwelling in his fold, others still astray. The light of the Sixth Seal illuminates at this time all spirits, both incarnated and disembodied. While on earth some take this light for advancement or salvation of their spirit, others take it to penetrate without respect into the mysteries of science and discover new wonders. They are the profane and disobedient hands that still cut the fruits of the tree of science to poison the heart of humanity.

52. I tell you at this moment before Elijah, that you are living the sixth stage that humanity will travel on earth, as an image of one of the seven rungs that your spirit will climb in the hereafter.

53. In the first epoch, Abel represented me on earth; Noah in the second; Jacob in the third; Moses in the fourth; Jesus in the fifth; in the sixth, which is the present, Elijah; and the seventh the Holy Spirit will reign.

54. What have you made of my messengers? The first fell under the blow of his own brother moved by envy. The second was unknown and mocked by the crowds of unbelievers and idolaters.

55. The third lived by giving proofs of my power, receiving in return at every step the ingratitude even of his own.

Love one another!

56. The fourth had to break the tablets of the law because of the little faith of his people whom he loved so much.

57. The fifth, Jesus, having been announced his coming, was not expected, nor believed, nor loved, and after delivering his message of love to the world, he received from men the most ignominious death.

58. The sixth has come in spirit at this time; however, the darts of doubt, indifference and mockery haunt him.

59. When the Seventh Seal is loosed and instead of a messenger the same Spirit of the Eternal is the one who gives light to men, who will try to hurt me or kill me?

60. I speak to you in this way, so that tomorrow you will not be confused by theologians.

61. Each seal has shone in its time and has left its light in the spirit of my children. It was arranged that in the Sixth Seal the voice of the Word should be heard on earth.

62. People, pray before Mary; she is the divine tenderness made woman in the Second Time, purity misunderstood by materialized humanity, virginity that cannot be analyzed by the minds of men and that can only be felt by the one who purifies himself in his feelings.

63. The mantle of your Heavenly Mother has overshadowed the world from eternity, covering with love my children who are Hers. Mary, Spirit, was not born into the world; her maternal essence has always been of Me.

64. She is the bride of my purity, of my holiness; she is my Daughter by becoming a woman and my Mother by conceiving the Incarnate Word.

65. The Master says to you: You have taken care of yourselves a lot, and therefore you have forgotten others; it is necessary that you leave your indifference to the pain and the needs of others and divest yourselves of your egoism.

66. When pain presents itself on your way, prepare to receive him; when you look very closely at the trial, pray as Jesus did in the garden, on the eve of his death and say like Him: "My father, if it were possible to take this chalice away from Me, but first your will and not mine be done". Watch, my children, that if you prepare yourselves, I will on many occasions take the cup of bitterness from your lips. But if you had to drink it, by your conformity and submission to the divine will I will clothe you with strength to go forward.

67. Do not forget that pain purifies and that when it is rushed with love and upliftment, it not only washes away its own stains, but even those of others.

Love one another!

68. Offer me your pain and it will not be barren; how much useless pain there has been among mankind!; but he who has been able to suffer to the end of his restitution and carry his cross, has reached the top of the mountain when he thought he would fall forever.

69. The world has not reached by your prayers and merits in the trials of peace that it should receive, because when you are under these, you only think of yourselves to lament and rebel, instead of praying to the Father and saying: If one of my fellow men can reach an atom of peace by the bitter cup that I hurry, with how much satisfaction I will drink to a drop. And the Master says to you: Whoever prays in this way will make his love reach the benefit of many of his brothers.

70. People, apparent peace has been made among the nations, but do not proclaim that peace has come. Close your lips. True peace cannot be built on foundations of fear or material convenience. Peace has to be born of love, of fraternity.

71. Men find themselves building on sand and not on rock, and when the waves stir again, they will hit those walls and the building will come by land.

72. I have proposed my peace to men through conscience, to tell them: Here I am, but they have not wanted to listen to me; sometimes they act like children and fools. I tell you that they act like children, because they do not reveal in their actions the light that the spirit collects in a long evolution; living in the Third Time, they have not yet realized what peace means; if their spirit is lethargic, even more so is their heart that does not feel what charity is, nor has it come to vibrate with love for humanity; but a pain more bitter than wormwood will come to them, because of which they will wake up and become sensitized. I will no longer be the one to offer this chalice to men, because that bitterness cannot exist in Me.

73. All the pain caused by men, will be gathered into a single chalice that will be drunk by those who originated it; and those who were never moved by the pain, will now shudder in their spirit and in their matter.

74. That hour is approaching, when you will see that the peoples are moved by strange and surprising events. You will know of men who were great in the world and who will abandon their peoples and nations, to seek peace with their conscience in the desert, in solitude; others, who have been remarkable for their hatreds and for their ambitions, will surprise the world, because suddenly their mouths will speak words of love and peace; it will be because my light will envelop them and my Spirit will speak on their lips.

75. Are you already prepared for these events, to find a just solution and explanation to the questions and to bring light to the troubled or confused minds?

Love one another!

76. I have been preparing you for a long time and you still cannot be the soldiers of peace. Look at the nations, how little time is enough for them to prepare for war and how they move even the bowels of the earth. See how the force of their hatreds makes their influence felt even in the most remote places, while you are not able to make them feel peace.

77. Is hatred stronger than love? Is darkness more powerful than light? Is evil more powerful than good? No, my children.

78. I am not rebuking you, I am only waking you up with love to tell you that it is not difficult to work in the countryside of Jesus and that you must persevere in your work. When for a moment you carry the purpose of regenerating yourself, your spirit is recreated and feels closer to his Father; but, the itations stalk your steps and make you fall.

79. Get up definitively, realize that you are living in a time different from the First and the Second, in which the material and spiritual elements are agitated everywhere. It is a battle visible only to those who are spiritually prepared, and invisible to those who are not. In this whirlwind millions of human and spiritual beings are stirring, some making light, others seeking it; some sowing darkness, others fleeing from it.

80. Woe to those who, seeking the light, falter at this time! Millions of invisible eyes contemplate you to make you fall, I want you to be the good seed that comes to invade the fields where the tares have grown. Like an overflowing sea, so evil advances and envelops heart by heart, its impure waters penetrate homes, in the heart of childhood, in the mind of youth, in the purest of women. Your noblest institutions are profaned; the most sacred also. In the meantime, what are you doing? Are you also one of the blind people who don't realize it? Are you going to shut yourself up in your egoism to seek a little peace for your heart, are you going to shut yourself up within the four walls of your bedroom so as not to let the din of war or the lamentations of men get there?

81. You will not say that the Master did not speak to you in prophecy, when you see the time coming that I announce to you. But before peace is made among mankind, the fire will burn the weeds of the whole face of the earth, the untied waters will wash and the snows will purify.

82. Alert, disciples. Be prepared so that they do not surprise you because you will be fought with word, with deeds and through books. Weapons and slander will be prepared against you. You will also witness a battle of ideas, doctrines and theories. Theologians will try to scrutinize beyond where they have scrutinized; philosophers will launch new ideas into the world; men of science will proclaim their knowledge as the only truth. The fanatics of the religions will rise up in sides to launch against each other.

Love one another!

83. That will be the time for which you must be prepared, because your voice will be the only one that will be heard calmly and consciously. ,

84. Do you see how much he demanded of you? Do you already see how small you are and how many blemishes and imperfections you still have? For you will serve me and your offering will be pleasing and fragrant before my Divinity.

85. The tabernacle, the ark and the law are in your heart. To you, as humble, I will reveal what the wise will not come to understand.

86. People, at this time you returned like the prodigal son to the Father's house, I have received you and I have said to you: You are the firstborn, but in your absence the other brothers disintegrated. I was left alone and in my loneliness I cried, now you have returned and I tell you: Sit down at the table, there are the loaves, the fruits and the wine. In the alcove are the tillage tools. You, then, have wept for your ingratitude and disobedience, recognizing that you have been the outcast among other peoples who did not receive what you, you have begged for your gifts to be returned to you, and your wealth has been returned to you.

87. I have made you recognize that in the disunity of humanity you have a great responsibility; then I have entrusted you with a sword of love so that with it you may subdue those who motivate fratricidal wars and bring them before my presence.

88. Your mission is one of peace, fraternity and spirituality. I do not come to claim to your heart his present works, but to remind your spirit of his past, and to give him to understand the sublime mission that awaits him in eternity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. My love descends to you, to ask you to fulfill the commands that I have taught you throughout your existence. I contemplate that you are full of grace, anointed and prepared for the fulfillment of your mission and I want to reap the fruits of the seed that I have given you. I want to enjoy with your humility and good will. If I have offered you that the world will be full of grace and blessings through your intercession, it is because I have given you the power so that you can see your good works multiply beyond this earth; through your intercession the needy spirits will reach light. For truly I tell you, not only is this world going through an era of difficulties and trials for its purification, but also in other valleys there is restitution and pain.
2. Assimilate my teaching, feel my word; just as it is sweet and loving, it is also severe; you must understand and analyze it. Do not let this seed be carried away by the wind without germinating in your heart, because tomorrow you will need it. What do you expect to normalize your life in the practice of my commands? Do not wait for trials to touch you, because it would be very painful for you; to do it out of love and conviction, fulfill the precept that tells you: "Love one another".
3. Take advantage of this time when I am speaking to you very clearly and let me guide you. Think that your life will be one of peace, if you obey my law.
4. Penetrate into yourselves, examine yourselves in the light of your conscience and you will see that I speak to you with justice, that I do not come to sow terror, but that I warn you so that you live alert.
5. My word is food for the spirit. I have spoken to you in all times; in the present, using yourselves, I have left this message for humanity. I'm watching over the world while he sleeps. I have appeared before you, and just as in the Second Time, on the day of my resurrection, I ascended before my disciples and they watched me depart in Spirit, so now I come to you, full of glory to judge all beings.
6. Today my light bathes all humanity. From nations and regions, your brothers will come to this land in search of my word, when they have news of these teachings. At that time I will no longer communicate by human understanding as I do today, and you, the faithful, will teach yourselves to raise your spirit to make communion with Me and you will show everyone my printed word and the testimony that you have gathered from my teaching. You will tell them that I did not become a man, but came in the Spirit, and so I have remained among you forever.

Love one another!

7. Today that you commemorate my passion, I tell you that I have gone once again to Calvary, that my passion is renewed every moment, that war, sin and materialism form a cross of affront to your God. You, who have understood my word, will join Me in a great struggle against sin. The spiritual armies have engaged in their battle, you will join them.

8. The trials will wake up the world. The good news will reach everyone and they will know that I have come to leave one more will and to judge their work.

9. I don't want those of you who have heard me. cry later, for not having understood my divine manifestation. Pray, and in your prayer you will receive the light to penetrate this new revelation that I am giving you.

10. I grant you the gift of peace; if you remain prepared, you will spread it in your thoughts and deeds. These precious times when you gather to raise your spirits and inhabit the spiritual regions from where you converse with Me, will not return. Nor will you hear my word again through the human channel, after the time appointed by Me.

11. Watch and pray and you will see my word fulfilled.

12. I am giving you a new lesson; each one of them comes to prepare you for the fulfillment of your mission. You are realizing that you did not come to earth just to preserve your wealth, to accumulate wealth or to carve out honors for yourself. You are not needy on the path of life. If you have thought yourselves poor, it is because you have not known how to look at what you carry in your spirit. Is it necessary for you to lose all that you have, so that you may know how to recover what you had? No, my children, it is better that today that you possess your gifts, you have knowledge of them so that you can use them for the benefit of your spirit.

13. If my doctrine seems strange to you, I tell you that you are the strangers, because both I and my law are immutable and eternal. Every time I come to you, I find you more distant, more stained, and therefore more astray from the path. It seems new to you the way in. that I am communicating with you now? It's not new. Did you want my voice to have been heard in infinity? without the mediation of men? Nor would that form be new; already in the First Time I made my voice heard before the people gathered on the slopes of Mount Sinal and, what became of that people when they heard the voice of their Father like this? That his ears, his heart and his mind were powerless to receive that manifestation, of power, to the extent of having to cover his ears so as not to listen, and to ask Moses to intercede with Jehovah so that he would stop speaking, because his voice was like the thunder of the storm My voice at that time descended from my Spirit to Your matter, while now, I am preparing you so that you rise up to where my Father's love awaits you and listen to me from spirit to Spirit.

Love one another!

14. Despite the fact that, at all times I have manifested myself full of clarity, because of his materialism man has doubted. Right there on Sinai, under the sublime trials and manifestations that their Lord gave to the people, those hearts doubted, faltered and at every step they were ready to turn their backs on the Father; in every weakness of the people the Lord's charity was manifested and in the end only his truth shone out.

15. If I tell you about my manifestation as a man, I will have to tell you, that despite having been announced a long time ago, the world was sleeping and did not recognize me. From the moment Jesus opened his eyes in this world, until the moment he closed them, while hanging on the cross, my heart was wounded throughout his journey by the doubt of men.

16. They doubted the Divinity of Jesus, judging him by his humility, by the poverty of his clothes and his lack of material power and the wealth of the earth; and still in his agony, the doubt of those men stuck in the heart of Jesus, as if every one of their questions were darts-How is it possible that his body bleeds being a son of God? How is it possible for the Son of God to die?

17. Two thousand years have passed for some to unlearn those lessons, and many more will have to pass for all to understand them.

18. If someone now says that I have come by surprise, he does not tell you the truth, because I announced my new coming to you and foretold the signs that would give it to you; but if you were sleeping when I gave you the signs, how could you warn them?

19. Just as in the Second Time my presence was not in the same way as in the First, so in this age my manifestation is different, always being the same doctrine. I have always announced my arrival centuries in advance, to find you prepared, so as not to find your house in disarray and cause you embarrassment with my visit; I wanted you to have everything ready at my arrival, so that when I knocked on your door you could tell me like the virgins of my parable: Come in, Master, welcome to your home. But it has been your doubt that has come out to receive me, doubt because of the form of my manifestations and my communication, doubt before the wonders that I grant you, which you come to attribute to evil powers, doubt before the poverty and humility of my new servants and the places in which I am manifesting; but I know that after the departure of my maniac, faith and understanding of it will come, as it happened in the past, despite your coldness, your doubt and your materialism.

20. I come to you because I love you, because I knew that at the time of my new manifestation I would meet you as a flock without a shepherd, as sick people without a doctor and as infants without a teacher. I come to prepare a portion of humanity to be the one to sow the good seed in the new lands, because you have entered a new era, that of spirituality.

21. From now until 1950, take advantage of my word that pours like a spring from heaven on your heart, store it so that you can give it in abundance after my departure, strengthen yourselves in my doctrine so that your spirits will not falter; look that there will be those who will have to answer for this teaching before the courts; you will concretize to say with all truth what I taught you. After 1950 your memory will become clear to remember my teachings, but you will also receive new and unknown lessons by revelation.

22. Someone from the bottom of his heart is telling me right now: Lord, why don't you do on my way those wonders that you did in the days when I began to follow you, if now I find myself more prepared and I have more faith? You just didn't know how to observe. Nor am I now doing the wonders that I did in the First Time; that time was that of your awakening to the life of the spirit, it was of material trials and miracles; today is the time of spiritual wonders; how could it be possible that your spirit was always at the same level and that the same lesson came to repeat to you?

23. When you came to my presence to listen to my word, I did amazing wonders to encourage your faith; today, that you already have that light; why do you keep demanding what only corresponds to the weak? Now it's up to you to do with your Hennans what I did with you.

24. Today I teach you my law and I say to you: My peace be with you, as well as purity in your thoughts, so that you may listen to what the Word tells you this day. I bring peace to the people who give back on earth, some with love, others with pain. I have come to lay bare before your eyes those blights of the spirit, which your heart does not know, so that you may wash them away with patience. I also make you feel the great responsibility that you have contracted before my work.

25. In humble and simple, but zealous hands, I have placed my work in the Third Time, so that with your works you may honor and glorify it.

26. I give you my word in the privacy of these houses which I call enclosures and not temples, so that they may not be confused with those where ceremonies and rites exist; you know that through this doctrine, I am raising up in the depths of your heart the true temple of the living God. Each congregation of those who gather in the precincts will rise according to their love, their obedience and their goodwill in fulfillment of my precepts.

27. It is my will that you all work for the greatness of my work, because times of great importance are approaching for your spirit; they are those in which my light, made voice and thought, vibrates from infinity in your spirit in the highest communication that you can reach. You cannot say that at this time the Spirit of the Lord has penetrated into the brain of the speaker, because a human being is incapable of harboring what is universal potency. It has been a ray of divine light that has descended on the mind of the predestined one to transmit my teaching to you. Ace! this is how the truth flows through those ignorant lips, and this will be the beginning of the destruction of idolatry and religious fanaticism.

Love one another!

28. These men possess the supreme grace of serving as the seat or pedestal of the divine ray and their brains and their lips as interpreters of the Word and, despite this, they must remain simple men like the others.

29. Tomorrow these precincts will multiply and the multitudes gathered in them, will listen to the communication of Spirit in spirit of the Lord with his servants, without anyone trying to magnify those who serve as instruments to the Lord. I want simplicity in all your works; I am pleased with the humble of heart. Remember that I was born in a stable, among shepherds, because in them I found purity to feel and to believe myself. None of you has yet had a manger as a cradle, but it was your King who had to do it, to give you an example of humility.

30. Why do I come again among men after I have given them those lessons of eternal life? For men have made rites of every one of my examples. Feel Me, and do not try to imagine me in this or that form, because either of them will lead you away from the truth. As an Eternal Father, do not try to imagine me through an old man like the one you paint, because neither time nor struggle leave traces in the Spirit of the Creator, since I am above time and not like you, subject to it.

31. My word will make men uncomfortable again as in former times, but I will tell them the truth. Without betraying anyone, I said hypocrite to hypocrite, adulterer to adulterer, and wicked to wicked. The truth had been vexed and it was necessary that it should shine, just as now when the truth has been hidden, and therefore it must arise again before the eyes of men. What do I show you now?; to bless everything and everyone with heart and spirit, because whoever blesses in this way is like the Father, by making his warmth reach everyone. That is why I say to you: learn to bless with the spirit, with the thought, with the heart, and your peace, your strength and your warmth will reach the one to whom you send it, no matter how distant you believe it. What would happen, if all men blessed each other, even without knowing each other or having ever seen each other? For perfect peace to reign on earth, war would be inconceivable. For this miracle to be performed, it is necessary that you raise your spirit, through perseverance in virtue. Do you think it is impossible?

Love one another!

32. How many great converted sinners came to reach the degree that you call holiness! They were not originally better than you; but you have not yet reached that degree of perfection. You begin to love, the gift of intuition begins to bear fruit and you already have inspiration, because when I touch you, you respond. Not all doors are sensitive to my call, but those that open are the ones that let my light pass between you. The transformation of the sinner is not impossible. Remember some names of the Second Era: Magdalene, Paul, Augustine, Francis of Assisi. Why do you only have to remember those of the First Time?

33. Those whom I mention to you, they knew of sin and even of the mire of passions, and instead, now they shine like luminaries in heaven, and as illuminators of men they send their light to you.

34. Only I can reveal to you the unknown. So I can tell you that it is in vain that people today try to get to know the youth of Jesus on earth. They search and imagine, but only my childhood and the time of my preaching are known. I say to you: Jesus, before he rose up to proclaim the "kingdom of heaven," learned nothing from men. What had to learn from them who in his childhood confused the doctors of the law? That time, of which men know nothing, was only a time of waiting.

35. If you learn from Me with love in your heart, it is impossible for you to be wrong.

36. This is how I am preparing you; today some of you are coming and others are coming for you and for those, others will come closer. Every day and every generation he will feel closer to me, because his spirituality will be greater.

37. Do charity in every day, that will be your best elevation towards Me. Give, help, console and that will be your best prayer of the day, because you will speak to the Father with deeds, not with words, although these are beautiful in their form but empty in their background.

38. Pray to Me with the thought. You don't need a specific place to do it and the position of your body is indifferent. Raise your thoughts to the heights in peace and then wait for my inspiration.

39. What I am going to tell you this day, even the prophets do not know; in my high judgments only I can reveal it to you. Do not be afraid to ignore the intimate judgments of your Father; be happy knowing that, as a Teacher, I will always be revealing new lessons to you. How can you think that I want to hide something from you, only in order for you to ignore it? I love you, and in my Father's heart egoism cannot exist, if I approach you, it is to enlighten your spirit so that it can understand and love me.

Love one another!

40. I have come in the Spirit among you, but not all have believed me, nor have all felt me; many have denied me and still others will deny me; yes, before those who deny me I will manifest myself in a thousand different forms, they will not recognize me at all, because the way in which they have conceived me has them confused.

41. I have never hidden behind a disguise to present myself to the world, but I have limited myself to be able to be looked at, heard and understood by men.

42. Why are you not moving forward on the path of your spiritual evolution? Should I agree with your delay? If you were prepared and I manifested myself in a stone to speak to you through it, even in that form I would be recognized by you. Those who know my essence, everywhere will be able to feel me, on the other hand those who have forged a false image of my Divinity, even if they contemplated me in all my splendor, would not know how to recognize me and would even deny me.

43. How strange is it that I communicate by the understanding of a man? I am not hiding myself, I am present; whoever wants to prove it, let him cleanse his heart, his mind, and with his spiritual eyes contemplate the truth.

44. No one like man will be able to reflect the Divine Spirit; man's mind is the mirror of divine reason; his heart is the source where I keep love; his conscience is the light of my Spirit. If you doubt that you have such great gifts and feel unworthy of them, it is not your Father's fault, it is yours, because you have not yet understood the infinite love that I have for you. See that I have not come to judge you only for your sins, that your stains have not been an obstacle for me to manifest myself before you in this way; but if men of science tomorrow misjudge these manifestations, it will not be Me they will judge but themselves.

45. I formed man with such perfection, that contemplates himself he will be able to see a reflection of what his Father is; but man has not known how to look at himself, or penetrate into his interior, that's why he has not recognized me.

46. In the different ages I have manifested myself to men in unexpected ways. Who would have told you that in the Second Time the promised Messiah, the Son of God, would not even have a humble home to be born in? Who would have told you that Mary, the carpenter's wife, would be the Mother of Jesus?

47. From my first steps on earth I showed my power, and yet, for many I was not even foreboding.

48. In this time I have not come to surprise you. If you had prepared yourselves by transmitting to each other from father to son, from generation to generation, the promise of my new coming, I would have found you waiting for my arrival, but no one was waiting for me; some of you had forgotten these prophecies, others you ignored them because they were hidden. How few of you scrutinized the firmament and observed the events of the world in search of the signs that would announce the time of my arrival!

Love one another!

49. However, those who were awaiting my return as a Consoling Spirit, feel that the time has come and that Christ has come spiritually to humanity; others have heard the rumors of my coming and have not believed.

50. Jesus said to his disciples, "I will only be absent from you for a while, I will return." Then it was revealed to them that their Master would come on the cloud surrounded by angels and sending rays of light towards the earth.

51. I am here on the cloud, surrounded by angels who are the spiritual beings who have come to manifest among you as messengers of my Divinity and as your good advisers. The rays of light are my Word that speaks to you of new revelations, that overflows wisdom in every understanding.

52. Blessed are those who have believed without seeing, for they are the ones who feel my presence.

53. Watch, for this is the time when temptation struggles tirelessly to overcome you. She senses that the moment when she is tied up is approaching; she has thousands of tricks to keep you away from Me, but you must pray and watch so that the way to dodge all stalking is revealed to you. I have taught you to know the true taste of the divine fruit that is the essence of my word; I have taught you the way of virtue and the fulfillment of your spiritual and human duties. That's the way. How could you get confused?

54. Do not run away from trials, learn to cope with them. It will not be enough for you to close your door to be safe; with the door closed the danger will penetrate. Do not be tempted by low passions.

55. Get ready, because you will be fought with theories that are in preparation. Beware because false prophets will appear. Do not sleep believing that you have won the battle without having yet conquered even the first test.

56. Do not be afraid of the fight, watch and you will win. The spirit is invulnerable, every other weapon is fragile; therefore fight with the spirit, that your gaze always contemplates clearly, and you will have the adversary at your mercy, because anger will blind him, because he does not know spirituality.

57. I don't want ministers or priests of spiritualism, I just want apostles. I do not want you to tell the world that you will be teachers; no, be my good children and through you, I will deliver great teachings.

Love one another!

58. If you prepare yourselves, that time of struggle, instead of pain, will be a time of recreation, because wonders and wonders will be seen in it.

59. My word has resounded in the heavens and its echo has been heard in your world.

60. On this day of grace I receive you; you are the little children of Jesus, always small before the greatness of my doctrine. I quicken the light of your lamp and remove the thorns that you have grown yourself to make your plants bleed. Receive the balm that heals all wounds and with it stop suffering.

61. Listen to me and then analyze my word that I give you with simplicity, but which has a deep meaning. In it you will find enclosed my teaching, which is all love and justice.

62. I have given myself to you by sending you my divine flood. I have manifested my Consoling Spirit to you, but you have not yet come to understand the meaning of this manifestation and have prevented it from becoming clearer, because by misjudging your brothers, you are causing disunity, preventing or closing the channel through which you receive my messages. Because there is no union or love among my people, you have been moving away from the source of grace, because you will not be able to affirm that you love me, if you do not do it with your brothers.

63. My laws are just and disobedience to one of them is enough for the world to lose its peace. My laws are greater and more delicate than you have supposed, that is why the works that men have done since the beginning of humanity, still reverberate, and spread like a trail that reaches you.

64. Nations are nothing but limitations made by men. Peoples, religions, large or small groups, are outside my laws, ignoring each other, judging the actions of others that it is not up to them to judge. Everyone has a lot to correct himself, as much or more than he finds wrong in his fellow men.

65. Men speak of laws, but they do not carry them within their hearts, they do not feel them or practice them; the time has come for the awakening of the spirit. I have come to polish the hearts that are like rocks, because they do not shine as they should, like jewels much loved by their Creator. How few are there that I meet with true courage, but my patience is infinite. I am the Teacher who eternally teaches, polishes and perfects your spirit.

66. Do not take man as an example of perfection, look for the Father as a model, without becoming discouraged when you see that your brother commits an evil deed. Do not let your faith weaken, because you are all falling and rising along the path of restitution; sometimes it is necessary that you start the walk again. arise and be quickened in Me; if you lack the strength to start your struggle, take it from Me and lean on your Father.

Love one another!

67. Why have you let the fountain of love that I have placed in you dry up? Don't you know that love is life and redemption? Speak with words of love; spread my precepts and feel strength, because you must know that I have come to restore to the spirit all his gifts, and the more you work, the stronger you will be.

68. I have come to teach you and I want to correct you too. Know yourselves by penetrating into your interior; do not let it deceive you to believe that you have advanced a lot, if you do not learn to forgive and love first. You need to be clean and practice humility, only then will you be able to feel like the owners of your gifts, capable of doing great works and going everywhere; then there will be no obstacle that can stop you and all danger will disappear. You will be able to descend into the darkness and you will not be confused, on the contrary, you will shine with greater light and you will be able to rescue those who live there.

69. I have made known to you from the beginning of time these precepts-"You shall love God with all your heart and spirit" and "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." The fulfillment of these laws, which in their duality come to form one, would fill this world with joy, peace and bliss. If you analyze that because you have not obeyed these precepts, man has suffered and has lost his way, then you will be encouraged to start a new life, and you will see that there is much to do in your inner world and also near your brothers.

70. Love is capable of igniting faith in a single instant, uniting people, awakening in them many faculties that are dormant today, giving new light to the eyes of the body and the spirit. If you have love in your heart, you will have heaven within you.

71. When the world loves, peace will descend to it, my kingdom and my presence will be in every spirit and you will be prepared to enjoy the spiritual life, in which you will achieve perfect bliss.

72. How many times will you have to return to earth to carry a body through which the message you bring to the world manifests itself more and more clearly? Let your spirit, like a lark, find its spring in this life and enjoy it, and in its pilgrimage find the necessary experience to return to Me. While the rich accumulate treasures, which are too ephemeral, you must accumulate experience, true knowledge.

73. I want you to form believing homes of the one God, homes that are temples where love, patience and self-denial are practiced. In them you should be teachers of children, whom you should surround with tenderness and understanding, watching over them, following with interest all their steps. Bestow your love on the one who has been endowed with beauty, as well as on those who apparently present ugliness. Not always a beautiful face is the reflection of an equally beautiful spirit; on the other hand, behind these creatures of apparent ugliness there may hide a spirit full of virtue whom you should appreciate.

Love one another!

74. Pray with humility and let my will be done in you, because what you ask for is not always what is just, noble or good. There I will be the one who will give you what suits you so that you have a peaceful and happy life.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 143

1. I am strengthening your spirit to withstand the coming struggle, because great will be the battle of ideas, doctrines and beliefs. Truly I tell you, when the persecution against the spiritualists breaks out, new apostles full of faith and courage will arise. They will be the ones who proclaim that I have truly been with you at this time and they will be forerunners and prophets in their peoples. From among them will arise those who write my inspirations, those who analyze my Doctrine and those who contemplate spiritual visions.
2. In this time I will manifest the same in men as in women, in young people as in children and in the elderly.
3. All the world will receive revelations, manifestations and wonders, because it is written that every eye will see me.
4. I showed up where the man of science works and he was amazed by my presence. I have surprised the armies in the middle of the combat, stopping their advance by means of the elements. I have manifested myself by pouring out my charity in the desolate homes where there was no bread; a young man has arrived at the doors of the houses carrying a cake of bread in his hands and men and women have asked themselves: Who is it?
5. Study my Work, disciples, because you will have to be strong so that, when all the visible and invisible elements have been unleashed, you will bear witness to my Doctrine of love. I entrusted seven gifts to you at this time for the development of your spirit and for the fulfillment of your mission, here they are: Guide, cornerstone, spokesman, faculty, seer, golden feathers and column. But this is not the first time that I have given these gifts to the people of Israel; also when you crossed the desert after the Promised Land, I gave you these same gifts. Moses was a guide and at the same time transmitted my word and expressed my will to the people; in his hands I put the cornerstone of my Law that is the foundation that you must raise in your heart. The tribe of Judah was the strong pillar that sustained the courage and courage of the multitudes. The tribe of Levi was the legion of spiritual laborers who were empowered by Me to keep their faith in the Lord on fire. History, prophecy and revelation were written by predestined hands for this and under my inspiration the prophets contemplated the future with the eyes of the spirit.
6. There are no new gifts in this time for your spirit, you carry everything in you from the moment you gushed from Me.

Love one another!

7. The days are coming when I will reveal to you the great teachings that you did not know, because it will not be men who will reveal them to you. It is true that my envoys are found in the bosom of every religion, but they will not be the ones who open my arcanum, much less will they be those who, without being destined for that mission, have taken it of their own free will. Those whom I have sent for this service have wisdom for inspiration; those who are not my servants have taken knowledge from books. While some pray and love, others read and study, but the mind will never reach the elevation of the spirit. The first when they speak, persuade, move, caress and heal. The latter surprise, admire, but do not console or save.

8. Be humble, disciples, work without expecting reward. Enjoy loving knowing that you are loved by your Heavenly Father. Do not imagine your reward because he can never be known to your mind.

9. Again I say to you: Get ready! You do not know if this year I will surprise you with great revelations. The light of the Sixth Seal illuminates you at this time and it is right that you know the content of that mystery. I will clarify these lessons through my spokespersons.

10. John, my apostle, heard and wrote what he saw in mirages, without coming to understand them. The blessed hand of that prophet left written in a figurative sense my promises and revelations. And at this time, I come to give you an explanation of those words and inspirations, because only I can do it. But in order that I may transmit this light to you and that you may understand this word, purify yourselves, watch and pray.

11. Truly I tell you, if you have not listened to greater teachings until now, it is because you have lacked elevation and clarity. Make yourselves worthy to receive in your hearts the pages contained in this book of the Seven Seals, loving one another.

12. I come to my children to teach you virtue, so that your spirit may be strong and you may overcome the temptations that are tendencies of your body. Open your spiritual eyes and contemplate how much I have in my arcanum for you.

13. I am chiseling your hearts with my word, so that you may be part of the temple of my Holy Spirit.

14. Beloved people: The Teacher gives you the teaching and in its essence is the light that illuminates your spirit.

15. You rise to Me in your prayer because you know that through it you are heard by your Father, who gives you the strength and helps you like a Cyrenian to carry your cross.

Love one another!

16. In my word you will find the shield and the luminous weapon for you to win in your struggle. I am preparing you so that with the evolution of your spirit and the development of your gifts you will be able to face the trials.

17. Live alert, beloved people, imitate the virgins of the parable given to my disciples in the Second Time, be like them, with your lamp lit, so that you may always have faith and hope in Me. In you is the sanctuary that I have come to prepare with great love in this Third Time. You are the depositories of my word and I have turned every spirit and heart into a source of love, of virtue, of balm, which like crystalline waters will be poured out among humanity.

18. Great is your rejoicing, O Israel, because you have seen that when you have been prepared, comfort has come from you for the afflicted heart and those who were burdened by pain, have been encouraged by your word. Blessed are you who are fulfilling this way! Keep fighting to give my charity to humanity. I come with my word to give you encouragement in this struggle, I come to teach you to build and rebuild what through the ages has destroyed humanity with its materialism. Your spirit knows the time in which he lives, he is learning to overcome the trials that he encounters on his way, because great is his faith and his love for my Work.

19. Beloved children, I will give you the reward at the end of your struggle. Now you do not know when or how, but truly I tell you, my word is fulfilled and I have offered you the Land of Promise, where you will achieve glory, rest and happiness; you will fully feel my peace because by then your spirit will have triumphed.

20. I have come to show you again the path that your spirit must travel, in it is my light, the virtues and the spiritual ideals with which you must walk. I have come at this time with a fiery sword, not to put the spirit to death but to fight the darkness that has hovered around you.

21. Behold the power of my word which in works of love I manifest before you! I have been bearing witness to myself. I have been working wonders in every heart, to make you the children of light; because your Father is Light and infinite wisdom. To each one I give my word, which is the law, but recognize that I do not come to force you with my power to comply with it, to see in my word a whip that hurts your heart. Don't you know that as a parent I don't want pain for my children? See that with my teaching I cleanse you and heal you of the wounds that you make present to me and if for a moment my word judges you, it is because I am the perfect justice and with it I come to warn you of the pain that you carve when you forget the fulfillment of my Law.

Love one another!

22. I want you to be spiritually free, but do not fall into the debauchery that inspires you with matter, because I have entrusted it to you to be the docile instrument that helps your spirit in its evolution, but it has made its servant the one who was supposed to govern it. I come to teach you with my word so that you will not be caught up in the storm of your passions and know how to dominate yourselves.

23. My people, love and in every one of your works bear witness to Me. Give my light, practice the virtues; I am pouring into your spirit, I am feeding it with the bread of eternal life; it is tasting the fruit of life, it is receiving my wisdom. This is the essence of my word. You have prepared your heart like a clean cup and into it I pour my blood drop by drop.

24. Understand my people, the figurative sense of my word and enjoy yourselves with it.

25. Your material eyes cannot contemplate my radiant face, but if you understand me through the word that assimilates your spirit; my word is the vibration that gives the rhythm to everything created so that everything is in perfect harmony and so your spirit will yield to the force of my word so that you arrive at the port of salvation and then to the Promised Land.

26. Behold my presence! Behold, the power of my Spirit has become a law in yourselves, a law that says to you, Love one another! With this law I am invisibly unifying all my children. I will cause the flame of love to arise from all hearts, so that all may merge into one ideal.

27. Your Master brings you the message of peace and salvation that you have been waiting for so long. Only I, with my teaching, can help you find the path that will lead you to the spiritual mansion.

28. You hear my word through human lips.

29. What do you need to get started on the path of spirituality? If you have love, you will reach very high, and if you trust in Me, you will not stumble in your life, and the faculties of healing, speaking and persuading that are in you, will develop and all this will be for the progress of your spirit.

30. You can all follow in my footsteps because you are all ready to ascend and reach Me. Who told you that some will arrive and others will not?

31. I have not created spirits with different hierarchies, they have all been formed in the same way and you all carry my divine anointing; but today, not all of you are clean as when you were when you were formed, and that is why I tell you that it is necessary that you purify yourselves, because I want what springs from your heart to be clean, that you

Love one another!

obey my inspirations so that your work is disinterested and your loyalty is reflected in all your works. Selfishness or envy are not manifestations of a high spirit. When you have cleansed your heart to make way for the light, then you will be prepared to make my Work known, and that is when you will be able to be the interpreters, seers and prophets of the truth.

32. My universal ray is illuminating the spirit of men, purifying and elevating them, because I want you to go beyond the human and do wonders as I have taught you.

33. See that I am benevolent and have not judged your deeds. I come to give you my help, I come to the aid of those who suffer, of those who have made the wrong path and I do not condemn them because they can still repent and avoid new falls. I have betrayed no one, I have only prepared your spirit so that you feel responsible for each and every one of your steps, and you can get up repairing faults and building on solid ground.

34. Heal the sick, by faith and by love; develop your powers so that you may know with what grace I have prepared you and do not say that what I ask of you today is beyond your reach.

35. Seek my presence with clarity, and full of strength go on the roads preaching love. Teach with trials, and prove that love can restore health to a sick person, because it is the most powerful of all the means man knows to cure.

36. Lift up your spirits and think of the sick of the world, whom you can count by the millions, and on all of them pour out the balm of your prayer.

37. Christ has not died, he lives eternally to give life and resurrection to the spirits. If you have come to Me in pain and when you leave this enclosure you look for your pains and you do not find them, it is because you have known how to analyze my word, you have found in it the balm that has restored you health and peace.

38. I have come at this time to show you my Law despite human unbelief. Those whom I have chosen to form my apostolate with them, when they heard my word, believed, and their faith is unshakable; but those who, after hearing me, have turned away, denying that it is I who manifests myself, already carry in their spirit the seed of my love and sooner or later, they will return to Me.

39. If, because of me, you were strangers and they wanted to convince you that you were in error, what would you answer?

40. You tell me that you will follow me to the end; that you have lit a lamp of love in your heart and that you will suffer the greatest trials bearing witness to Me, and I give you strength, because in truth great whirlwinds will arise wanting to extinguish the lamp of your faith.

Love one another!

41. If you show as a testimony of this truth your simple and upright life, and let the spirit full of power speak, you will defend your faith and I will be believed. The strongest weapons to defeat your enemies are love, prudence and justice. Respect the faith of your brothers, but make light in their spirit. Be humble and do not wage war because of my doctrine. They all claim to be fulfilling my precepts and do unworthy acts before Me. You, prepare yourselves and do not prevaricate. Through you I will speak to humanity, because each of my chosen ones must be a spokesman for my Doctrine, an emissary of goodwill.

42. If you want your brothers to receive me, take me with you into the sanctuary of your heart. I am going to leave the book of my truth open so that the world can read in it.

43. I want to leave you prepared before the year 1950; I want to say goodbye leaving you my peace. It is my will that you become creditors to receive my latest mandates and recommendations.

44. After that year, when the 144,000 marked with the fire of my love will have gathered, some in matter and others in spirit, they will have been prepared and there will be no human power that can strip them of the gifts granted by Me, nor clothe them with other graces.

45. Blessed are those who have spiritualized themselves by that time, those who have allowed their spirit to evolve following the upward path, because they will be prepared for the transition step that awaits you and will be strong to face sects and religions.

46. I have made known to you my teaching, which is like a life-giving river that proceeds from me. No one will be able to stop her current, she has descended from a high mountain to fertilize the lands that are thirsty and make them bear fruit.

47. I am with you and you have nothing to fear. My inspiration flows eternally and you can always feed on Me. Like that angel, I tell you now: Glory to God in the conscience of spiritualized man and peace on Earth to humanity, when it works to build peace in the world.

48. Beloved people, I pour out on you the purifying fire of my word so that you may have strength, light and life. I send my thoughts to you through this spokesman, without being able to stain it when passing through it. Divinity is not tainted by communicating through the human brain, even if it has not been spiritualized.

Love one another!

49. I have to repeat my teachings over and over again, so that the last ones who continually come before Me, take the first step and from that moment, from the first lesson, they will know the essence of this manifestation.

50. Know that those who love each other can communicate over the greatest distances, I love you and you also love me. For the spirit there are no barriers, on your path you will have many opportunities to prove it. You are learning to love me and there are moments when you have glimpses of having reached true love, which I let illuminate your heart to give you encouragement in your journey.

51. I am not here to demand that you do what you do not know or what you cannot, if I did that it would be unfair to you. If anyone knows the degree of evolution you have reached, it is Me. Observe that I do not require you to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit without first going through a previous preparation. I have been giving you this preparation by communicating through the spokespersons, through whose brain I have sent you my lessons.

52. Learn to listen, O children, because listening is not the same as hearing. Everyone hears, but there are very few who know how to listen, and that is the only way in which the truth of my teachings can be understood.

53. Know that this work of spiritual rapprochement between man and God is being carried out by your master by sending you his thought so that it descends to enlighten yours. Outwardly the language that flows from the lips of the interpreters is too humble, but its essence is perfect as is your Father, who is the one who sends it to you. The purpose of this Work is beyond what you imagine and understand, so you must imagine it divine, great, eternal. She is more than a comfort to the afflicted, more than a balm to the sick. It is the supreme gift for the spirit, who gives you the joy of loving God and shows you the knowledge of true life.

54. Know that he who comes to understand and know something of what is reserved for those who rise, he will no longer be able to take away from his spirit that light that was revealed to him. Whether he penetrates into unknown places or returns again and again to the Earth, what he once received as a divine flash will arise at every step from the purest of his being as a presentiment, as a sweet awakening or as a celestial song that will flood the heart with joy, as a longing to return to the spiritual mansion. That is what my Doctrine means for the spirits who return to this life. Apparently the spirit forgets his past, but in truth he does not lose the knowledge of my teaching.

55. To those who doubt that it is the Divine Word who speaks to you at this moment and in this form, I say that if you do not want to give me that name, if you do not want to attribute this word to the divine Teacher, take the essence of this lesson, analyze each of your thoughts, and if by meditating on what you have heard you come to the conclusion that it contains light and truth for humanity, that you take it as the norm of your steps on Earth and with it transform your life.

56. I know that I am giving you true wisdom, what men create does not affect one atom of my truth, but it is necessary that man have the certainty of what he believes, what he knows and what he loves; that is why in my manifestations I sometimes come to place myself at the level of humanity, in order to get them to recognize me.

57. I must say to those I already call disciples, that they have the sacred duty to instruct and make understand this Doctrine those I call children, because they do not yet understand what they see, or what they hear in my lessons. To be my disciples it is not enough to understand, you must also feel; because there are many who, understanding enough of the teachings that I have given them in my word, are not able to reach out their hand to the one who has not managed to understand the divine teaching. Realize that my children are often in need of your explanations and your experience. Prepare yourselves to be instructed by them and you will see faith develop in them and the gift of the word in you. You will ignite deep faith, which also knows reasoning and understanding.

58. It is not true that you are all hard of heart. I have seen you many times cry for others and feel your heart broken in the face of someone else's pain.

59. This time has opened with the communication of my ray through the understandings, which were chosen because they carried this mission in themselves; do not believe that they have been chosen for their purity, because if that were the case, I would not have found a single one.

60. Saturate yourselves with my divine strength and feel safe because you are with me, tomorrow when your heart awakens to love and is animated by the feeling of charity, he will be at every step with his brothers as I was with him.

61. Remember that day that was of light and joy for the first congregation of disciples of this Work. It was that first of September, 1866, when the light of Elias poured out in inspiration among those who gathered around Roque Rojas.

62. On that day those who were to be the first guides and the first spokesmen were consecrated. It was a day of inspiration, revelations, promises and covenants.

63. Those disciples felt spiritually transported to Sinai or Mount Tabor, they remembered the great revelations of the First and Second Times. And they were not mistaken in their presentiment, because the spiritual presence of Moses, My presence and that of Elijah, were with them, as it was on Mount Tabor, in that vision contemplated by some of my disciples, manifestation that was called by men "the Transfiguration of Jesus".

Love one another!

64. Truly I say to you who listen to me on this day, that the spiritual presence of Moses, My presence and that of Elijah, are with you, What did the men of the Second Time have, that you do not have? The same is faith in these, as in those, as I also tell you that the same is imperfection and sin among you, as there were at that time.

65. Here you have the presence of the three messengers: that of Moses, that of Jesus and that of Elijah. Spiritual presence, invisible to human eyes and only perceptible to the senses of the spirit. Therefore I say to you: prepare yourselves, so that you may enjoy the light that is being poured out on your spirit in these moments.

66. Open your heart and feel the presence of Moses in it; sensitize yourselves and listen to his spiritual voice encouraging you to continue on the journey, the same as he encouraged his people in the First Time when they crossed the desert.

67. Moses is not inactive in the bosom of the Father, his spirit works without ceasing, making the voice of the Law heard in every spirit. He comes to tell you to be the true children of faith, so that you may reach the Land Promised to the spirit.

68. People: keep in your heart the lesson that you have heard, so that you may always enjoy my spiritual presence that has led you through the path of life.

69. Pray, that I receive your thoughts, and while your prayer lasts, I will pour out my blessing on humanity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 144

1. Raise your spirit and cross the thresholds of the material so that you communicate with my Divine Spirit.
2. Why do you want to subject the spirit to the Earth, depriving it of spiritual delights? Do not forget that he belongs to another world.
3. Let your spirit penetrate into my sanctuary so that being saturated there with light, it will then be the guide of your steps, the teacher and the inner judge.
4. These multitudes who listen to my word have opened their spiritual eyes to the light at this time, because there was no human being who preached with the purity, truth and purity with which I have given my teaching. In all times men have falsified my truth and have hidden my Law from humanity.
5. Now, I have seen that the Doctrine that I taught you in the Second Time is hidden, imperfectly interpreted and not according to the spiritual evolution that you have now, but adequate to the understanding of men of many centuries ago. But I have come among you and seeing you hungry, I have given you bread in abundance so that you may be filled and then give to the multitudes that are to come.
6. Think that a new time awaits you, that my word will cease and that you will be left alone with my teaching. Then, if you know how to prepare yourselves, you will know how to speak about Me; but if you know and fall into temptation, if you adulterate my word or do not interpret it properly, then my lesson on your lips will not be sustenance for your brothers.
7. It is still time for you to pray and prepare for your fulfillment. Do not expect that my justice will touch you, do not expect that pain and war will strike you like those sister nations of yours that are bleeding the fields and leaving homes desolate. Support your nation with prayer and do not want to see it destroyed as Jerusalem was. Cultivate with your works a garden in which the flowers are of forgiveness, of love, of prayer and charity. That garden will begin in your heart and end in your spirit. Dedicate a few moments of the day to meditation, let your spirit rise so that my inspiration may come to you. See that you have no books in your hands and only through that inspiration will you be able to perceive the light of this time. Think that the time will come when you will have to bear witness to my truth and you will need to turn to the book that is in your heart. Learn to read in that invisible book so that your mind is not disturbed, know how to penetrate into yourselves so that the voice of your spirit can spring from your lips.

Love one another!

8. Every religion and every sect prepares because it senses the proximity of the struggle; among them you will meet, but you must be prepared, because I will seek your understanding to manifest myself.

9. Today I still consider you weak, because if in exchange for your charity you receive the ingratitude of your brothers, you have wept in silence and said to me: "Is this the cross that you have put on my shoulders?" To which I answer you with another question: Have you already forgotten the example of Jesus among men? When the world strikes you, do not accuse it to Me, have pity on it; I will close your wound.

10. Let men behold you small, if you are humble I will make you great in spirit. Keep quiet whenever you can, but work hard. Bear witness of Me, for I will also bear it of you.

11. If your spirit experiences the need to rise, it is because there are moments when it feels strange in this world, when it feels like a foreigner. Understand that his true homeland, his home, is in the afterlife.

12. The twelve tribes of Israel are scattered throughout the world, they will unite in the fulfillment of their mission even when they are distant from each other. They search the infinite in anticipation of my new manifestation. But the prophecies will be fulfilled and they will behold the light. Among them are the greatest spirits, developed understandings, hearts of great nobility and inspiration. Many of them will come among you and you will be surprised at their elevation despite not having listened to me at this time. Do not let them be surprised at your lack of preparation.

13. The time is coming when peoples will arise who will surprise you with their spirituality and the development of their gifts and when prophets will arise, because the light of my Holy Spirit is on every spirit and on every intelligence to reveal the time he lives and designate to each one his mission.

14. The gates of this nation will soon be opened to give shelter to men and women who will come from foreign nations; they will all bring hunger, pain, need and among you they will find warmth, bread and comfort. Prepare your hearts so that you may receive them with love.

15. How many of you will have to enter foreign lands and will need to be received as brothers!

16. I leave you all forming one heart.

17. Say with the spirits of light, "Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth to men of good will," such is the song of the angels.

Love one another!

18. People: prepare yourselves with all submission to listen to my word and you will realize that it has been a grace that you have seen the light of the Master again. My inspiration has become a human word and comes in search of spirits who are in need or who are thirsty for light. The sweet consolation that was previously promised to you, comes in the essence of this humble and tender word that tries to persuade you. There is a heavenly aroma in it and it makes high hearts beat, as those of my disciples of the Second Time beat on the night of the last Supper.

19. Be welcome before my lesson, you come for the promise of your salvation, you come for the word that shows you the true life. Imitate me, love your cross, kiss the cross of your life, bless the will of your Father.

20. I tell you to love your cross, because if, having to carry it on your back, you deny it, the pain will open a deep wound in your heart. I do love my cross, O people, and do you know what I call my cross? You constitute my cross, O humanity, whom I love so much.

21. You must not blaspheme in the hard walk, each new pain is a new light in your heart, each trial will make the flowers of experience sprout in your being. Understand that if pain comes to you, it is because you needed it; you must also understand that if joy comes to possess you, it was because you were also in need of it.

22. Blessed are those who silence their sorrows and instead make their brothers share in all their joys, even if they are very small.

23. Blessed is he who, by accepting pain, knows that it perfects him and that it will lead him to the summit, because he has realized that pain is the inheritance of man and that this will be the means by which he will succeed in washing himself to return to the Father.

24. I gave man all the necessary elements so that with them he could build with works of love a scale that would raise him to Me. I have inherited him with my wisdom and with my love, but since he has not made good use of those gifts, pain has come to fill that void.

25. The cradle is the beginning of man, the grave is the end, and I see that in the span that unites both extremes, it is more what you suffer than what you enjoy in your existence. You cry when you are born, when you live and finally when you die; I who come following in your footsteps want and must save you. My Doctrine is the voice that comes to call you to find the way of peace. In all times my Law has been of justice, of love and of peace, she has pointed out to you and has marked for you the route by which you can be saved.

Love one another!

26. Many of the men of this time, when they hear that the word love is often repeated in my Doctrine, will ask themselves: What will be the love that they are preaching so much? My followers will then have to carry out works that explain and clarify what is the love that I have indicated and inspired you. Also at that time I was asked what kind of love it was that Jesus spoke so much to men, and the Master was sitting by a rose bush whose flowers were dry and withered, he caressed them with his hand while He preached, and those flowers revived under the influence of his caress, leaving all those around him truly amazed at such a miracle. Such will be the hearts of men when they know how to love one another. The rose bushes will bloom again, and the dried roses will be resurrected.

27. Not all men will think in the same way when receiving this light, because the time of evolution is not the same in all humanity. Some have been on the path of life longer than others, you should also know that all men are delayed in knowledge and elevation, because they have strayed from the path of evolution.

28. Man has lived a lot, but little has been taken advantage of in his life and he has given greater importance to material satisfactions, despising the science of living with love and justice.

29. A new lesson I have come to give to the world, which will be like a divine irrigation that will resurrect withered hearts and encourage stagnant or sick spirits.

30. Remember that I said to you, "Ask that it will be given to you," and that is why you come with your list of requests. But now I tell you to learn to ask and to receive. Ask with humility and receive with conformity.

31. Your heart says to me: How many times, Master, have we offended you with foolish and ignorant requests? But I tell you, you have not offended me if you did them out of ignorance.

32. Because of your lack of knowledge I have come to show myself once again as a Teacher among you and here you have me teaching and correcting my disciples with love.

33. You do well to come to my call, because all destinies are in Me. It is not the world that gives you; nor are the laws of the Earth that govern your destiny; your free will also has a limit, man is not absolute, I am the only absolute, in whose being everything created is, however, I tell you that I thirst for your perfection.

34. Why do I see you walking around like failures in this life? Lift up your face, have confidence in your destiny, always look ahead and there, on the horizon, you will contemplate me.

Love one another!

35. Humanity: know my Doctrine, the spirituality that it imparts will make you listen to my voice in moments of loneliness or pain, it will give you unknown forces in hours of trial and when the murmur of the world has fatigued your mind and you feel sadness in your heart, you will hear from infinity the heavenly concert. When you come out of your rapture, you will ask: In what book will I have learned? and I will tell you: in the book of my wisdom and my love.

36. When this is, you will be communicating from spirit to Spirit, then you will have penetrated into the Temple of the Lord.

37. It is necessary that your spirit be raised so that matter may be strong and help you in the struggle. If you truly trusted in Me, you would have no need to uselessly knock on the doors of your brothers and sisters, whose hearts are almost always closed to charity.

38. My Doctrine comes to forge the spirit, collaborate with your Father, educating the hearts of your children in it.

39. Today you are my disciples, tomorrow your children will be.

40. Think of those who in their childhood lose their father!

41. Think of those who never knew about the tenderness of the mother!

42. Only the way of my law will be able to make up for their emptiness and lead them to the port of their salvation. That is why my imprint is indelibly imprinted on all the paths of your life.

43. Beloved people: Tomorrow, when the word spreads that I was among you, multitudes of men will come to question you, if by that time life in your home is clean and your worship of the Father is the one that I have come to teach you, don't you think that that will be the best answer you give and the best proof that you heard my word?

44. At this time when even the air, the earth and the water are poisoned by the wickedness of men, how few there are who are not contaminated by evil or darkness!

45. Which of your brothers, finding a people who live in virtue and peace, will be able to deny that the Father has been teaching them? Dethroned monarchs may come mourning their lost power and in the bosom of that people regain the peace of the spirit by recognizing the falsehood of earthly vanities. Ministers of sects and religions will come, who, seeing the spirituality of that congregation and its worship full of purity, will feel in their hearts the judgment of their own conscience claiming their mistakes.

Love one another!

46. That people is the Lord's, who will make his voice heard over all the peoples of the earth, and will overcome them with the light of truth, and by overcoming them, will make them part of that family, because all spirits are children of the people of God.

47. Today you know who you are going to listen to and you prepare your spirit to receive this heavenly bread in him. You prepare your spirit, because the one who comes to teach you is not a human teacher, he is not a sage, a philosopher, a man of science, or a king on Earth, and yet he is more than all of that together. The book that teaches you the way of perfection is open before you.

48. My disciples know all this, but the last ones who are just arriving are surprised to find me in the midst of this material poverty, and then it is necessary to tell them that I have nothing on Earth, that when I came to dwell among you I lived in humility, because in this way I taught you to understand that my Kingdom is not of this world and that what I come to seek are hearts. The crown that you saw on my head was not put on by Me, but by men, and it was made of thorns.

49. Come to Me and entrust to me your desires, confess your weaknesses and ask me for strength. Here I am with you, I do not turn away from my children and I follow you wherever you go, because if you enter the prison, I am there to comfort you. If you go on a long journey, you have my company on it. If you are sick, you have me at your bedside as nurse and doctor, if you are alone I make you feel my presence.

50. See me here cultivating my seed, I am tireless in talking to you since the time when Elias, through the lips of Roque Rojas announced the new time. Many have abandoned the planting and the tool, but I am still working in my countryside, but if some believe that I will always be communicating in this way, they are wrong, because the time is already short that you will still hear me in this way. It is necessary that this communication ceases so that you can begin to spiritualize yourselves, to communicate directly with my Spirit and you can see your Lord on the cloud of your spiritual elevation.

51. Are you not worried about the absence of this word? Have you already stored up enough for yourselves and for your brothers? Or do you think that on the day of my departure this Work will end?

52. I have been erasing forms, rites and traditions, so that in the times to come you will concretize the fulfillment of the Law and do not do what in the past times you gave yourself with all your enthusiasm to traditions and feasts, setting aside the Law.

Love one another!

53. You do not know how much the spirit of Moses wept in the afterlife when contemplating the infidelity and weakness of the people he loved so much. His seed was later watered with the blood of the Redeemer.

54. How did I find the people who had been inherited in the name of their patriarchs? Divided, separated into two kingdoms that saw each other as foreigners. I came to unite them and not only them, but all the peoples of the earth. Everything I brought, I left here, I took only ingratitude and pains from the world. I left my word to the world as an eternal inheritance, my blood, spilled to the last drop, my body went down to the bowels of the Earth, and my Spirit poured it out among my apostles. That was my will. After my departure the men recognized me; my seed germinated and spread to other nations; my persecutors were then my soldiers; those who had blasphemed against me, then blessed me.

55. An era of peace and morality was for the peoples the flowering of the Christian seed; virtue bore fruit, the goal and ideal were Heaven. Later the fragility returned, the apparent observance of my Doctrine, fulfillment that disguises the world with sumptuous feasts and rites that impress men, that do not satisfy the Father or elevate the spirit.

56. Chaos has returned because virtue does not exist, and where there is no virtue there can be no truth. It is not that the Law that the Father entrusted to Moses had no force, nor that the Doctrine of Jesus was only applicable to the past times. One and the other in their essence are eternal laws, but recognize that they are like a fountain from whose waters no one is forced to drink, but everyone who approaches that spring of love does so of his own free will.

57. I gave the Law to the people at the First Time so that all the tribes would live united in it, but when I arrived I found them divided, ignoring each other, profaning my Law and given over to idolatry.

58. My Doctrine of love came later to unite all peoples into one Law, and now that I return among men, I again see them divided into sects, into religions, into ideas and theories. Everyone practices according to their idea or convenience. Everyone claims to love the same God, however, they are divided and I tell you, he who does not love his brother, is not loving Me. It is well that not all spirits march in unison, since they are in a different state of evolution, but who is he who, knowing my laws and my Doctrine, ignores that they have for essence the love of one another? Many call themselves Christians, but I tell you once again that no one can be a Christian who does not have love.

Love one another!

59. Truly I tell you that the world ignores many spiritual lessons of my Doctrine, because instead of seeking the interpretation of my teachings and then practicing them, it has conformed to rites and traditions. That is why great trials have arisen among humanity and conflicts appear to which men find no solution.

60. Has the chaos of this time come as a surprise to humanity? No, it was announced so that you could avoid it. I gave John, my disciple, the revelation of these times, that if you had known how to interpret it, if you had given it the value it contains, instead of turning it away with indifference, you would have known that this time belongs to the Sixth Seal of the Book of Revelation, you would have watched and prayed and you would have been saved from great evils.

61. See how my word prepares you for the times to come, that is why I tell you to take advantage of it, because this manifestation will pass as Moses passed through the desert and did not reach Canaan, as Jesus passed through the world and ended his journey on the cross.

62. I am preparing you for the time that will follow the termination of this communication. There will be a book in each room containing my word so that you can gather and enjoy reading it.

63. If in order to transmit my word at this time I chose those who should express it, I will also be the one who designates those who have to interpret it through reading, when I no longer communicate in this way. But I tell you from now on, if you concretize to just listen to my teachings, without the purpose of putting them into practice, you will not be able to collect any seed in the end. It is necessary for you to understand that my Doctrine is not for you to take it as a reason to create customs or traditions, but for you to see it as the true path of fulfillment for your spirit and for you to bear witness to it with your works.

64. After 1950, my people will penetrate into the study of this teaching in order to reach great conclusions.

65. These books, which under a divine dictation are forming my "golden feathers", will be valued as jewels of infinite value, because every time you open them in your meetings, the essence they contain will be like a breeze from heaven on your spirits and on your sufferings. This book will clarify for you many mysteries enclosed in the book of the Seven Seals.

66. You will study these teachings without falling into arguments, and the light of the Holy Spirit will come to enlighten you so that you will be able to give the just explanation of what had seemed to you a mystery.

Love one another!

67. The announced year is already approaching to give you my goodbye through this communication and it is my will to give you everything I have to tell you. Do not lose a single one of my lectures, a single one of its syllables, because I am giving you the last words of this new testament by which the previous two and the coming ones will be understood.

68. I did not reveal the analysis of the Seven Seals to you at the beginning of my communication because then you would not have understood me; but now I have made light of this mystery so that you may deepen and come out of all ignorance, doubt or confusion.

69. The world will at last take an interest in all these divine revelations, and knowing of your interpretation will seek you out for questioning. Will you hide from your brothers when that is? Will you, who at all times have had my revelations before others, deny them?

70. Do not sleep, do not go to falter or be divided, do not be found busy in the superfluous because then instead of brothers who ask you, you will see enemies coming to attack you, and you do not know if they in their struggle come to teach you what it is to comply with my Law and make you respect the truth. Then you will ask, Lord, have you put your righteous arm on the side of my enemies?

71. I have told you to prepare yourselves so that wherever you look, you will only find brothers. I want the divine sign that I have placed in you to be the light that will help you to be recognized as my new disciples.

72. How beautiful it will be for your spirit to return to the Father showing him your fulfilled mission; an image of that bliss has been experienced here in the world by the son who has returned to the paternal home after having gone to obediently fulfill an order from his father. How much joy flows from the hearts of both of them as they come together, the father knowing that he is obeyed and respected, and the son looking at himself exalted and received by his father.

73. Have you imagined what the feast will be like for the spirit returning to the house of the Heavenly Father? What will be the oscar with which the Father receives his son and the joy of the beings who inhabit that mansion?

74. Do not stop on the right path, come along it, humanity, and do not turn back your eyes until you reach the great door where I will be waiting to receive you.

75. Be fervent, learn to kindle in your heart the flame of faith and trust in Me, so that you may always be content with the trials that I am sending you.

Love one another!

76. I enlighten you. They fall on humanity, innumerable rays to make light where before you had made darkness. The dawn of a new time has appeared, inviting everyone to wake up and start the journey back to Me. I am calling you, because the hour is already approaching when I will gather my seed from the earth, as I have been announcing to you.

77. You who hear me have seen my Word manifest, under his influence, you have seen men and women being redeemed, those who had died to faith and hope coming back to life, healing the sick in body and spirit. I have come back to you, to help you and make your journey less painful. Watch and pray that nothing prevents or delays you from reaching the Father. Come along the path of love and sacrifice and when you raise your spirit to the Father asking me for strength, I will receive you and encourage you until you reach the end of your journey where I will give you peace.

78. Practice all that I have been teaching you throughout the ages; restore meekly, but I also say to you, teach your brothers with the love and patience with which I have taught you.

79. You have searched for Me in the different religions and sects that humanity has formed and I want you to divest yourselves of rites and to erase from your heart every trace of fanaticism. Come to Me in spirit, love me with purity, respect and fulfill my laws and in this way you will be offering me true worship.

80. Come to Me, you sad, lonely, sick men. Those who drag chains of sin, the humiliated, hungry and thirsty for justice, be with me, in my presence many of your ills will disappear and you will feel that your burden is lightened.

81. If you want to possess the goods of the spirit, I will grant them to you, if you ask me for earthly possessions to make good use of them, I will also give them to you, because your request is noble and just. Then you will become good stewards and I will grant you the multiplication of these goods so that you may share in them for your brothers.

82. Look at humanity tired of struggling uselessly without ever finding the purpose of its existence. He presents me with a life without ideals and it is that he has strayed from the path of virtue and only seeks pleasure, where there is artifice and death. He has not been able to find joy in love, charity and benevolence, he has not been able to listen to the insistent plea of this Father who loves him so much and who only wants peace and redemption for everyone.

83. The world, divided into religions and sects, is calling me at this hour believing me absent, or at least distant. Being with him, he has not felt my presence; but I say to you,

Love one another!

one by one you will penetrate into the fold where you will all be together when you have understood my teaching.

84. You, cultivate this seed and move on. The light will be your guide and the great multitudes that I will entrust to you will follow you.

85. Go on the wings of prayer to spread the light among your brothers. Enter prisons and hospitals and leave your comfort there.

86. If you are tired, come to Me and I will comfort you. Fear not, I am forgiveness, mercy and true justice.

87. I am the spring that overflows in torrents over the fields in search of seed and husbandry.

88. The earth is ready for men to get ready to choose their share of work.

89. The field awaits you, cultivate it with love and purity and when you see that the good seed begins to bear fruit, destroy the weeds that could hinder its development. Put to death every shoot of tares, and do not fall into apathy because you will not raise a good harvest.

90. Present the fields to me when the golden spike can be seen shining in them and then you will be able to harvest and enrich your granaries so that the spiritual portion assigned to each one, does not suffer hunger in his day.

91. The idolatrous practices that prevail among men will be abandoned as false; the teachings that I have revealed to you have the reason for the truth and they will be recognized at last.

92. The wise man seeks the cause of all that is and happens, and hopes to prove by his science that there is no principle or truth outside of Nature. But I regard them as small, weak and ignorant.

93. When Jesus had to face the questions, looks and judgments of the crowds, he had not read any book, however, he gave a lecture of wisdom, because in the understanding of that child the light of the Most High shone and the very Word of God flourished on his lips. I say this to you, because you can also do it, when you have to face the interrogations and tests to which you are subjected. Then you will convince, because you will talk about the lessons of God that always have a beginning, a basis, a reason. There is no miracle that does not have a logical and natural reason, nothing occurs without a cause. The leaf of the tree does not move without my will.

Love one another!

94. They will ask you: Why, since the majesty of the Lord is so immense, does he use the most insignificant mortal to pour out his wisdom?

95. To which you will answer that God's love for His children has no limits and that is why man often fails to understand it.

96. You have to be humble, because if your Master left his Kingdom to live and show himself humble on this earth, you will have to imitate me before those who are equal to you.

97. If it were necessary to return in matter as in the Second Time, I would come even knowing that I would have to go through that painful trance of body and spirit, but now I come in Spirit and you must prepare yourselves so that you may feel my divine truth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 145

1. Behold my Divine Spirit among you.
2. Come closer to Me, beloved children, rest from your pilgrimage on roads and deserts, for it is not I who come to you, but you who have come to Me.
3. I, your Creator, come to show man my meekness, my humility and my love for all my children. In the Second Time I sent my Word to incarnate among you, he called himself, "the son of man".
4. I am manifesting myself through the favorite creature of Creation: man, so that you may hear my Word through the understanding of your brothers.
5. How far you thought me from you, and really, how close I am.
6. In you I receive all humanity that on this day is saying goodbye to one more year that I have entrusted to it.
7. You do not know how I will show myself to you on this day; whether as a Father, as a Teacher or as a Judge.
8. I am going to surprise you and penetrate into the innermost depths of your heart.
9. Truly I tell you, Jehovah, the Word and the Holy Spirit, are one God, the only one who is the beginning and the end of all creation, the Alpha and the Omega of all that exists. I am going to speak to you as a Father and to teach you as a Teacher: my tenderness will descend on your matter and on your spirit.
10. Mary, your Universal Mother, is in Me, and it is she who bestows the most tender caresses on her dearly beloved creatures, she has been in your heart to leave her peace and the preparation of a sanctuary in him. Mary watches over the world and spreads her wings like a lark, to cover it from one pole to the other.
11. From all creation I receive the tribute that as thanksgiving comes to Me.
12. My insightful gaze penetrates the heart of man and woman, from childhood to old age. I present myself invisibly in the nations, in the regions, in the different churches and before the disembodied beings who still populate the Earth. And my spiritual presence makes men shudder. They just don't know what the future holds for humanity.
13. Now I will touch the man in his free will, he will want to do his will, but everything will be done according to mine.

Love one another!

14. Evolution is with all spirits and through their developed virtue and intuition this light will come to them.

15. He will understand that there is no peace in the world, that there is thirst and hunger, scarcity and misery and I ask you why?

16. Has the wealth of blessings that I deposited on this earth disappeared? Have the order and laws of the universe changed? Does the star king no longer give light and life? Is there no water in the springs, no fertility in the lands, no fruit in the trees? Is there no light in your brain and no feelings in your heart? Is there not an atom of strength in your spirit so that you can lift up your face before Me? Then why do you behave like enemies if you have all sprouted from Me?

17. The Divine Spirit also weeps, but my tears must not fall into the world now, I forgive him, let them fall into my divine mantle.

18. Take from Me the ear, it is the wheat of love, peace and goodwill. Cultivate it and with it, make bread that sustains your spirit.

19. There's a sword in my cloak, but it's not the murder weapon. She is the truth. Whoever wants to be a soldier of the truth, take it in his right hand and with its light he will win in all battles.

20. The spirit of humanity advances in search of the Doctrine that I am giving you; the pilgrims are already beginning to arrive.

21. You must be alert! for the men of science will put you to the test. Do not be suspicious because you are humble, because what has always been revealed to the humble has been hidden from the exalted wise or has not been allowed to understand.

22. Unite yourselves so that if you become persecuted, the Red Sea will open to make way for you; but you must fulfill my Law of love, O people, do you want my forgiveness? I also want you to forgive your brothers.

23. You have given your dead to Me, and I tell you, your dead live in Me. You have given me your love and I ask you to show it in charity to your brothers.

24. Humanity: the rays of the sun are already approaching illuminating the face of your world to tell you with their light, that a new day appears before you as a precious time, so that in it you will work your progress and achieve true peace as befits men of good will.

25. Listen to your Father, rest for a few moments, O people of wandering spirits. Blessed is the one who listens, loves and believes in my word, because he is a worthy son of the

Love one another!

Father, because he knows how to zealously keep my laws and teachings to fulfill them later with works of love.

26. At these moments you are all attentive to my word, no superfluous thought disturbs your understanding. Some listen ecstatic, others, heads down for their regrets, others more aware of each of my manifestations.

27. Humanity, whom this people represents at this moment, has spent a year that was like a shadow of pain for those who cried, a helping hand for those who received their favors, a second for the eternity of your spirit. But time continues its march, because Time is Me, I who have been and will always be with all my children.

28. There is on this day an instant in which every spirit feels my divine presence in his consciousness, and the greater the mission he carries, the greater is also the voice that speaks to him from within.

29. 1945 took away the last shadows of the war; the sickle mowed down thousands of existences and thousands of spirits returned to the spiritual valley. Science amazed the world and with its destructive weapons made the Earth tremble. Those who conquered became judges and executioners of the vanquished; pain, misery and hunger spread leaving as a trace of their passage, a trail of widowhood, orphanhood and cold. The plagues advance from nation to nation, and even the elements make their voice of justice and reproach heard for so much wickedness. A mantle of destruction, of death and desolation, is the footprint that the man who is said to be civilized left on the face of the planet. This is the harvest that this humanity presents to me, but I ask you: Is this harvest worthy to pass to my granaries? Does the fruit of your wickedness deserve to be received by your Father? Verily I tell you, this tree is far from being the one that you could have sown if you had fulfilled that divine commandment that commands you to love one another.

30. Men are hard and inflexible with their brothers, as they were in the time of Moses when it was an established custom to return blow for blow. Today I tell you, if this is the way you understand justice, you will be measured with the same rod with which you measured your fellow men.

31. But I forgive you, I bless you and I give you time to cultivate with love the blessed seed of my Teaching. I am the great warrior. Who is preparing to be a soldier of this cause? I make war with peace. And I slay evil with the sword of good.

32. Everyone who, in the silence of his life, rises to follow me on the path of good, is my soldier and in his hand I deposit a sword so that he may fight and overcome. That sword is the truth, before it there will be no enemy that resists its light.

Love one another!

33. It is a day of jubilation. Beloved Israel, for the Eternal is standing before you to teach you to love and forgive one another. I have given you my teaching. I have come to you full of joy, but I have also suffered, because at times you forget about Me.

34. Receive my peace. Once again I bless and forgive you. Your hearts have come before my plant as an offering, as a holocaust, as an innovation of peace and forgiveness for the whole world. The master's teaching, like a torch of light, has been lit once again in your understanding and spirit.

35. It is the time of the struggle of light against darkness, which surprises the peoples of the Earth. Time of tests and refunds. A time of purification and justice. I see all the nations confused. All sects and religions are divided. And this is the time when I come to show you the book of truth again.

36. You say that another year is coming, I tell you: The spirit is not subject to the times. It is time that is subject to eternity, to the spirit.

37. Blessed is he who has heard and loves my word, who understands my manifestations and carefully keeps in his heart the memory of what he has seen and heard.

38. Believers and unbelievers hear me: those who love me and those who blaspheme me are attentive to my word; the awake and the asleep, the diligent and the lazy, the spiritualized and the materialized: All listen in my houses of prayer that form the temple of the Holy Spirit, the temple without material altars, the temple without human vanities.

39. . How long have you walked, humanity! How much you have erred on the roads! How much you have searched! How much you have searched! You have risen very high and have fallen into the abyss.

40. And behold the Lord, the Eternal, the Unknown, the Forgotten, asking men, Are you tired yet? Do you already want to stop on the path of sin? Have you not been disappointed yet? Do you still want to be great in this world? Do you not know that in humility there is greatness?

41. I am the Father and I am the Giver. I am the one who at all times has said to man, "Ask, and it will be given to you." Here is my hand; in it is a scepter of justice, a golden spike and a sword of light, take what you want, there is still the most bitter at the bottom of the chalice, but also the new year is approaching as a promise of peace.

42. Do you want the Kingdom of Heaven to come near to you, as I have promised you? My will be yours!

43. I forgive you, sinful humanity, because I am a loving Father. Take the golden ear and cultivate the wheat; multiply it to one hundred percent and recreate your spirit with your harvest. It is the wheat of love, harmony, fraternity, peace and goodwill, carry it in you! Knead your daily bread with this wheat and give it to your brother. It is wheat of forgiveness, of charity, of friendship. Do you understand me, people?

Love one another!

44. On this day I lift the veil of the future and prepare you. Behold how the great mobs and caravans advance in search of this people, behold how the legions advance in search of the light. The pilgrims are knocking at your door, alert people! The man of science is preparing to scrutinize you, to question you.

45. You have respected my arcana and have penetrated when I have called you. You know Me as far as I have granted you and you are penetrating step by step into Me.

46. You are one of my chosen ones at this time. Some of you were called in childhood, some in youth, some in old age, and each one has been entrusted with a mission, according to the time that he must still inhabit the Earth.

47. When He came to Me, there was not a spirit that did not present me with a little care. It seemed to you that that pain with which you arrived was an obstacle in your life, but then you realized that it had only been the stepping stone that brought you closer to Me. Then you blessed that test that was to bring so much joy to your spirit.

48. You do well to bless that pain that brought you closer to Me, because through it you learned to seek me and to ask Me. Later you learned to pray and finally to carry out a spiritual mission, to put into practice my teachings of love and charity with your brothers.

49. Since then you have seen a miracle performed in your life, because eating the same bread that you used to eat, now it no longer tastes bitter to you, but sweet and pleasant, the difficulties that you encountered in your path, and that made you blaspheme or lose faith, now no longer frighten you, because you no longer consider them insurmountable and even your physical sufferings, which used to overcome you, now no longer frighten you.

50. It is the strength of faith, it is the effect of spirituality and regeneration.

51. Before, many spiritual sensations went unnoticed for you, because you were only looking for the satisfaction of your senses and the senses tend many times to materialize your spirit. Now you begin to discover a new life, you begin to find the essence, the beauty, the meaning, the truth of what surrounds you.

52. As you listen to my teaching, you are elevating your thinking, modifying your old way of worshiping me and improving your life. You have stopped asking with the demand with which you did it before, and you are learning to pray and to feel what you say to me in prayer: So, when you have said, "Lord, your will be done in me," it is because you have understood the meaning of your words, preparing to receive from Me, as I command. But there are always the last among the crowd, because new hearts endlessly come to these enclosures in search of the water of life. I have to speak to them in another way, so that they understand me and at the same time feel understood.

Love one another!

53. Remember that this is how I received each one of you, when for the first time he came to hear my word. To some I do not speak of a spiritual mission, because they would not understand me, but I speak of the burden of sufferings they carry in life, under whose weight they feel defeated and overwhelmed. I teach them how to solve the great trials that have arisen inside or outside the home, I comfort them in their bitterness, I grant them the balm that restores them to health, I comfort them and fill them with hope.

54. Then the sick person feels that a heavenly gaze knows about his pain and that this gaze is that of his Father, who comes to free him from the burden of suffering that he is dragging. The heart that on Earth has not known tenderness, understanding or affection, suddenly feels wrapped in the tenderness of my word; it loves with an infinite love, and feels the torrent of its pain contained for a long time overflow.

55. The same goes for the lonely or misunderstood man, for the man turned into a slave to passions or vices, for the abandoned woman or the maiden afraid to face life. The same goes for the father or the mother of a family who presents all their problems to me, than for the orphan who has no shelter in the world. I listen to all of you and I touch all of your hearts with the fine chisel of my word.

56. I know that by taking care of everything that afflicts you, no matter how human or very material, I am taking care of your spirit because I am freeing you from your burden, because I am preparing the path that you will have to travel later and because in that way I am lighting the lamp of faith for you.

57. My fountain of love overflows in these moments over you, forgiving and blessing you.

58. I receive all of you on this day so that you may listen to my word and rejoice with it.

59. If among these multitudes there are hypocrites and Pharisees, loan sharks, thieves of material goods, or of moral goods such as honor, or of spiritual goods such as faith and peace, I want to caress you all as if there were stains on none, because I am your Father who thirsts for your regeneration and for your love.

60. It is precisely in the most lost and far from the Law that I always test the power of my word, so at this time I came to speak to you in a broad way, with a lesson full of loving justice and infinitely wise teachings, to save you from the abysses and raise you to the summit, because the abysses are full of darkness and there you will never be able to see the truth, and instead the summits are illuminated with the light of wisdom, love and justice.

Love one another!

61. Righteous trials and complaints are for the reluctant, for the foolish and obstinate in evil, but I know when a word of love is enough for them to redeem themselves.

62. This people is continually touched in both ways. Love is sufficient for those who are docile in spirit and matter to be guided by it, while for those who are not susceptible to love, it is necessary that it is pain that reduces them to moderation and order.

63. Slowly and step by step as regeneration arises in them, they will move from the ranks of those who purify themselves with pain to the ranks of those who rise through spirituality.

64. You all hear me and you all keep quiet. The book of your conscience is open before your spirit, before your understanding, showing you the true way and pointing out to you the path along which you have freely walked, but in these moments the spirit of the crowd has gathered, to listen to the last of my words.

65. Here, before this word, there is no man who does not shudder inside and outside his being, that is, in the spirit and in the flesh. Here, when listening to me, is when he thinks about life, about death, about divine justice, about eternity, about spiritual life, about good and evil.

66. This is where when he hears my voice, he feels the presence of his spirit in him, and remembers where he came from.

67. Listening to me, he feels at those moments identified with all his fellow human beings, recognizing them in the depths of his being as his true brothers. Brothers in spiritual eternity, even closer than those who are so only by the flesh, since it is temporary on earth.

68. There is no man or woman who, listening to Me, does not feel contemplated by Me, therefore, no one dares to hide or disguise their stains before Me; and I show them but without pointing out anyone publicly, because I am the Judge who never betrays; I tell you that among you I discover adulteries, infanticides, thefts, vices and scourges that are like leprosy in the spirit of those who have sinned. But I not only come to prove to you the truth of my word by showing you that I know how to discover the faults of your heart, I also want to prove to you the power of my lessons, giving you the weapons to overcome evil and temptations, teaching you to achieve regeneration, awakening in your being a longing for the good, the high and the pure and an absolute repulsion for everything ignoble, for everything false and for everything evil to the spirit.

Love one another!

69. Men and women with whom I will form my new people, beloved multitudes who in silence and in spirit weep in this blessed hour, rest in Me, feel how my forgiveness descends to you, cleansing you of your stains and unloading you of your burden so that you may begin a new existence.

70. Do not be afraid, I am seeing the sincere repentance in those who have realized the magnitude of their faults and at this moment they ask me with a broken heart to forgive them, that I will not make them pay for their faults, measuring them with the same rod with which they have measured in the world, and finally they beg me to provide them with an opportunity to prove their repentance to me. How can I not know who it is who cries with true repentance so that I could deny Him that opportunity that he so anxiously requests of me? Just as I also know of those who deceive themselves with a false repentance, but not of Me, who see beyond your present. I will leave them subject to trials for as long as it is necessary for their full awakening to the call of their conscience.

71. For now, all of you feel my caress, my love and my peace, because you have come to the spiritual feast at the Master's house, and it is only fair that you all get to taste the majares of your Father's forgiveness and love.

72. My mantle of love is spread over the universe.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 146

1. Disciples: I have caressed your forehead, turning away your worries, and you have turned your eyes to Me to tell me: Were you here, Lord?
2. It is necessary that you concentrate your attention on my word, because when I am truly heard, I open my arcanum and overflow my wisdom in my disciples. You ask me: To what is due so much patience and so much divine love? And I answer you: many of you have been fathers on earth and all of you have been sons, what father has desired pain for the son, even when he has received from him the greatest offense, the cruelest ingratitude? A deep wound has opened in the heart of that father, pain has seized him and sometimes even anger has troubled his mind, but it was enough for a word of repentance from that son or an act of humility, so that he pressed it against his heart. If that is what you humans do, why is it strange to you that I love and forgive you perfectly?
3. I formed you to love and feel loved. You need Me as I need you. It is not true who says that I do not need you, if it were so, I would not have created you or made me a man to rescue you with that sacrifice that was a great test of love; I would have let you lose, but you must recognize that if you feed on my love, it is right that you offer the same to your Father, because I keep telling you: "I have, thirst for your love".
4. How can you not miss me and how can I not feel your absence if you are part of my Spirit? Do you see why I ask you to analyze My word and even the way in which I have come, so that you will not be surprised by the fact that I manifest Myself through sinful matters? For my love, your sin could not have meant an obstacle, I have come to purify you to bring you closer to Me. Some have understood it and others have not, that is why among the multitudes of men and women who have listened to me at this time, there are those who have proclaimed that I have returned among men, as well as those who have said that this is impossible.
5. My presence has never left you. It is my word that I come to pour out in fulfillment of my promise; it is my love and my light that emanates from this word. Now I find myself doctrinating you, but when the year 1950 arrives, designated by my will as the last of this manifestation, without my Spirit departing from you, I will make this way of communicating cease.
6. Only a few hearts will be prepared for that time.
7. In the Second Half did I wait for the world to turn to be absent? I left amid ridicule, ridicule, cruelty and doubts. I knew that my death was necessary for the world to rise to life. Again at this time I will be absent in the moments of your confusion, your confusion and your doubts, but my word, bequeathed to humanity as a testament of love, will once again move the world.

Love one another!

8. The war of ideas, creeds, religions, doctrines, philosophies, theories and sciences will come, and my name and Doctrine will walk on all lips. My new coming will be discussed and judged, and from there the great believers will rise up proclaiming that Christ has been among men again. In those moments, from infinity I will encourage those hearts and I will do wonders in their path to strengthen their faith.

9. Humanity is remembering on this day, the one in which some magi from the East came to the Bethlehem manger to worship the child God. Today some hearts ask me: Lord, is it true that those powerful and wise lords bowed down before you, recognizing your divinity?

10. Yes, my children, it was science, power and wealth that came to prostrate themselves in My presence.

11. The shepherds, their wives and their children were also there with their humble, healthy and simple presents, with whom they received and greeted the Redeemer of the world and Mary as the symbol of heavenly tenderness. They represented humility, innocence, simplicity; but those who had in their scrolls the prophecies and promises that spoke of the Messiah, slept soundly without even sensing who had come into the world.

12. Sometimes you doubt what the history written by my apostles tells you, because my life has been surrounded by many false legends; now I tell you that what they wrote was true and it was also indispensable for your salvation. All that I have come to confirm now and what the imagination of men has created will be destroyed with the truth of my word at this time. The humble have come before my word bringing in their hearts their present of humility and simplicity. Afterwards, your scientific world, the wealthy and the men of power, will bow to my invisible presence.

13. Despite having found you more materialized than in the past times, the evolution that the spirit has had will allow humanity to conceive my new manifestation in a spiritual form. When man thinks he is most distant from my Divinity, behold, he is one step away from it. There are those who claim that I do not exist, but you do not let yourselves be impressed by it, those men speak like that because they have conceived me through unreal forms, and when they are disillusioned by their science that I am not where they believed, then they have denied me, but still great is their desire to know if I really exist.

14. Man has not yet found himself, he needs to know himself spiritually so that he has the solution to many confusions and the answer to many questions. This is the time when you can and should meet, discover and get to know each other. When this is, how clearly he will feel my presence.

Love one another!

15. I have allowed you to communicate briefly with the beings of the beyond, which I did not authorize in the Second Time because then you were not prepared for it, neither one nor the other. That door has been opened by Me at this time and with it I fulfill the announcements of my prophets and some of my promises. In 1866 that invisible door was opened for you, and also those of the brain of the elect, to manifest the message that the spirits of light were to bring to men. Before that year, spiritual beings had been manifesting in the nations and peoples of the Earth, which were the precursor signs of my coming.

16. You have woken up a lot for science and you have slept a lot for the spiritual, but I have come to teach you a divine science that has love as its root, and from which charity, wisdom, fraternity derive. Your science has brought peoples closer, time and distances have been overcome, it is the fruit of the mind. How strange is it that by the spirit the worlds approach and eternity is conquered? Everyone who longs to walk this path, fill his heart with respect, watch, pray and be obedient to the call of his conscience.

17. I have told you that your communication with the spiritual world in this materialized and tangible form will be brief, because in 1950 this lesson and experience will be over, but if you use it properly, it will leave innumerable fruits, among them that of having prepared you for spirit-to-Spirit communication, that is, direct communication without the need for the faculty that I temporarily granted to your understanding. Only love should be what attracts you to each other.

18. This is how I teach you so that you do not fall into confused sciences, into new fanaticism or superstitions. That is why it was not allowed to you in the Second Time to know the lessons given in this form, because you would not have understood their essence. Christ promised it to you and Elijah came to fulfill it at this time. The spirits will continue to materialize on the world even after 1950, this will serve so that many skeptics believe and many lethargics awaken, but this people must be obedient letting that form of manifestation end for them at the right moment: later these disciples will arrive to the nations and with a firm hand they will pluck all the grass that has grown among humanity, leaving only the light of experience as fertile wheat. On the desecration that is made of the sacred, those who teach respect for what is pure will arrive. And when spirituality is in the heart of humanity, it will feel that its thought rises to other worlds, and it will feel them penetrate into its heart, then men will have reached a spiritual elevation that will allow them to feel in their heart the presence of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Love one another!

19. The bonds of love with which you have been united on earth will be strengthened with those who unite you spiritually in eternity. Thus the universal family will be formed, where there will be no differences.

20. You have had among you manifestations of troubled beings who live in darkness, they have passed through the doors of that gift that I have entrusted to you, and who can take these manifestations as evil or therefore judge this Doctrine impure? Do you not think that this gift is aimed at doing charity not only among humans, but also among those who carry darkness in the spirit?

21. Whoever misjudges these lessons has studied the works of Jesus of the Second Time poorly. The spiritual life is similar to the material life, it also has its crossroads, vicissitudes and temptations as in this life that you live; when a door is opened to do charity, the needy come there as happened with Jesus in the Second Time and as it happens with those who have received that gift in this time. That is where I want to contemplate your charity.

22. I bless you, because when the possessed came before you, you did not call them demons, but you saw in the possessed a brother in atonement, and in those who dominate him, needy brothers who disturb him.

23. Tomorrow, there will be no need for those beings to take your brain to understand reality, it will be enough for them to receive your thoughts in their spirit to contemplate the light.

24. It is already the last times that I will be with you in this way. Believe in it and also believe that I will not return to this world to materialize my word and even less to become a man.

25. Prepare yourselves, for rumors will come to you from men claiming that I have returned, that Christ has come to earth. You will remain faithful and say firmly: the Lord is in spirit with all his children. If you sleep and do not spiritualize yourselves, you will deny that I lifted up my word, and converted into blasphemers and disobedient you will invoke my ray on the multitudes saying to them: let us ask the one who gave us his word to continue speaking to us, let us raise songs and hosannas to him so that he may listen to us; but truly I tell you, my ray will no longer return to human understanding because I will not come to feed your foolishness. What would you expose yourselves to? That the words of apparent light will lead you into confusion. Doesn't your heart want that? Prepare yourselves for that test, and on your obedience and humility the light of my inspiration will shine.

Love one another!

26. I announce to you that if before 1950 the unification of these multitudes into a single people is not done, confusion will reign very soon because there will be those who say that the Master is still manifesting, and then woe to this people! Have you not sensed this threat? That spirit of brotherhood and union has not yet awakened in you, and you hope that events will unite you, but if you wait for that, you will see the plagues, disorders, wars and the justice of the elements unleashed, until there is no place of peace in the world, neither on the surface of the Earth, nor in its bowels, nor in the sea, nor in the winds.

27. People: I began my word this day full of sweetness, but then it became severe because it is necessary to warn you of dangers and correct your mistakes in time, but I want to finish my lecture by speaking to you with sweetness.

28. Disciples: Do not forget that on the day when men remember the birth of Christ, I came to open your eyes even more so that you may come to Me on the path of fulfillment, of humanity, of obedience.

29. Today you have not brought me milk, honey and bread, as an offering of love and joy in imitation of the shepherds of that time. Neither will the kings or the wise men of this time bring me incense, gold, and myrrh. Everyone will show me his spirit, so that I may deposit in him a present of love.

30. At this moment I descend to you in my word through a human understanding, to welcome you and tell you that I have given you my forgiveness forever.

31. I am waiting for the new seed in you, listen to me so that you may be a seed of light.

32. Many of you want to die because you are tired and without ideals on Earth. Certainly the death of the body is the rebirth for the spirit, but that body that you occupy serves to purify you. Pray and watch and you will not grow weak. I am in you; when you say that the blood of Christ fell on humanity, do you think that it is only a figurative sense or a symbol? What would you think if I told you that both my blood and my body traced the path to the fulfillment of the mission entrusted to each of you? And if my Spirit is poured out on each one of you, how is it that you do not recognize each other as brothers and sisters and instead hate each other? Have you ever thought that whatever you do with your brothers, you do with me?

33. Stop searching the human ancestry of Jesus, it will not reveal to you the subtlety of my body. Penetrate into the great revelations that I have given you at that time and in this one and you will understand what I am now making known to you.

34. Do not turn to the books of the world, which although they speak of Me are not written under divine inspiration. See that what springs from the human mind may have errors, but what comes from heaven cannot mistake you. Guard my revelations with more zeal than if you kept pearls or sparkles.

35. Men say in their books that Jesus was among the Essenes seeking their knowledge, but he who knew everything and was before the worlds, had nothing to learn from men; the divine could not learn from the human. Wherever he was, he was teaching. Can there be anyone on earth wiser than God? Christ came from the Father to bring divine wisdom to men. Did not your Teacher give you proof of this when, at the age of twelve, he engrossed the theologians, philosophers and doctors of the Law of that time?

36. There are those who have attributed to Jesus the weaknesses of all men, rejoicing in throwing on the divine and spotless man, the mire that they carry in their hearts. Those don't know me. If all the wonders of this Nature that you contemplate are nothing more than the materialization of divine thoughts, do you not think that the body of Christ is the materialization of a sublime thought of your Father's love? Then Christ loved you with the Spirit, not with the flesh. My truth can never be falsified because it contains an absolute light and strength.

37. The sweet and unforgettable echo of the word of Jesus, the one that does not hurt, I come to manifest at this time through these humble and clumsy understandings.

38. Men, without respect and without love, have dared to judge the life of the highest beings that God has sent among men, taking my own word as the basis for their reasoning. If on a certain occasion I called my disciples brothers, it was not the only one, nor them only whom I called that way. Mary in her virgin womb carried the body of Jesus. The chosen Mother, the most pure Mother, the daylily without blemish, was the embodiment of the maternal tenderness that exists in the divine. Why did Jesus, calling himself the Son of God, not call men brothers when they are also children of God? When will you have enough elevation to allow you to give your just meaning to the divine and the human? Understand that it is the only way for you to know where the mistakes are and where the truth shines.

39. It is not men who can tell you about Me with more truth than I, although I tell you these lessons through men, see that it is in their ecstasies that I speak for them. My Doctrine will become understood, its essence that is law will be lived by humanity. Before, the seed of the tares will be exterminated. And when will you call all men brothers? When will you see in them the children of your Father? The only title that will be able to take you to my bosom, will be that of having known how to be children of God and brothers of your fellow men.

Love one another!

40. You who care so much about your home, why are you not equally concerned about the dwelling that you will have to prepare in eternity for your spirit? You who turn on the light of your room so that you will not be in darkness, why don't you turn on the lamp of your heart so that you will no longer remain in darkness?

41. When you are ready, I will tell you at length about the three times and the seven stages or epochs so that you will not confuse one with the other.

42. Here is my revealing and simple word, understand it and put it into practice.

43. This is an instant of grace in which the light of my Holy Spirit spreads in all the worlds; light that is divine wisdom for every spiritual creature. And you who are listening to my word, enjoying yourselves with the wisdom of the Spirit of Truth, find in all of it the meaning of my teachings, prepare yourselves in truth, because it is necessary that you teach many my Law.

44. My Law is a path of justice and love to which I am calling men again, so that they may govern families and peoples with that love and that justice of which I am speaking to you. In that Law there is the beginning and the end of everything created; it is my will that everything lives in harmony, and that you, within this Creation, evolve spiritually as the different kingdoms of Nature evolve, so that you achieve the progress of your spirit.

45. Man has stagnated morally and spiritually, he has forged a cult towards Me and a way of living that he believes are the best, and he has fallen into a routine that wearies and fatigues his spirit, fanaticizing it in material rites and ceremonies. Instead, see the level of evolution at which the kingdoms that form material Nature are located, see their order, their harmony and their perfection.

46. You have to understand that you, endowed with spirit, signify in Creation, the most beloved work of the Father, because in you He deposited essence, attributes and immortality.

47. There is no death for the spirit, death as you conceive it, that is, ceasing to exist. It cannot be the death of the body, death or end for the spirit. That is precisely where he opens the eyes to a higher life, while his envelope closes them to the world forever. It's just an instant of transition on the route that leads to perfection. If you have not yet understood it this way, it is because you still love this world very much and feel closely linked to it. You are worried about leaving this dwelling because you think you are masters of what you possess in it, and there are still those who retain a vague presentiment of my divine justice and are afraid to penetrate into the spiritual valley.

Love one another!

48. Humanity has loved this world too much; too much, because its love has been misdirected. How many have succumbed to it for this cause! How much the spirits have materialized for the same reason!

49. Only when you have felt the steps of death near, when you have been seriously ill, when you have suffered, is when you think that you are one step away from the Afterlife, from that justice that only in those trances do you fear and then you make promises and oaths to the Father to love him, to serve him and obey him on Earth.

50. Pain purifies you, pain is the chisel that shapes the heart of man so that it reaches spirituality. So that your pain may not be sterile, you need the torch of faith to illuminate you so that you may have courage and patience in trials.

51. You are the best fruit that has sprung from Me, who am the universal tree; always fulfill my Law of love so that I can rejoice with you.

52. If you hurry in life a cup of bitterness for the sake of humanity, return to her that same cup, but full of honey. Like Christ, who gathered only pain and bitterness among the men whom He loved so much, and still hanging on the tree, while the mobs blasphemed and offered him gall and vinegar, He opened his side as a spring of love to give His blood to the children, as the wine of resurrection and eternal life.

53. In the Second Time, the Master separated himself from his disciples for a few hours and when he returned, he observed that they were deliberating, then he asked them: What have you learned from my Doctrine? And one of them answered, Master, when you are not with us, we study your words, but we do not always understand. The Master then said to them: Behold the sea, see that it is immense, this is the Law of the Father, she is the beginning and the end of everything created, but I will grant you to understand as far as my will is.

54. Humanity goes on different paths in this Third Time and does not find the truth. I send her messages and signals but she is blind. The voices of the elements and wars have not been enough to testify to the second coming of Christ among humanity.

55. Among a few I find myself, teaching my message of spirituality, which man will know in this time. And from among those who have come to Me to hear me, I have chosen the new disciples, who will be the emissaries and messengers of my Work in the world.

56. That is why you see how tireless and persevering I am teaching you my lesson, because I want to leave you strong. This word will be heard throughout the universe.

Love one another!

57. If you work with purity and love, you will have done a work that will dignify you before Me, because you worked hard to implant morality, love and spirituality among men.

58. I will make your example be recognized and taken into account by humanity. Then the generations to come will firmly follow in your footsteps.

59. To achieve peace, fulfill my Law and you will have it in your spirit, and the hour of the death of the body, which you do not know when it will be, will find you in peace.

60. Be vigilant, taking care not to stain your mind with impure thoughts; she is a creator and when you give room to an evil idea, she lowers herself to lower planes and your spirit is surrounded by darkness.

61. Be zealous for my law, for I have put it in you. Do you know why I removed the material symbols? Because you yourselves are the symbol of the Father's love.

62. Every time you attend one of my teachings, prepare yourselves, and meditate that if you are going to receive a lesson, you must take advantage of it, because otherwise the spiritual seed in your heart will be sterile, and you will not only have missed the divine sowing, but even your time.

63. Meditate before you come to listen to me, so that you do not leave my precincts with the same defects with which you arrived there, and then you will be able to say with intimate satisfaction that you have been able to take advantage of the lessons of your Teacher.

64. If you do not concentrate to listen to me, or try to put my teachings into practice, you will never be able to contemplate the fruit that my word can produce among you. But on the other hand, if you strive to carry out my Doctrine, and apply it to your actions and live it, then you will begin to see how you get out of spiritual stagnation to advance on your path of evolution, the one that will take your spirit step by step to true greatness.

65. My word speaks of love and that love, when applied to your life, will translate into fraternity, union, equality, harmony and peace. Moreover, in order for you to be inspired by obedience in my word, you first need to believe in the truth of my manifestation.

66. If you do not believe me now that I communicate through the understanding of these creatures, what will it be when I speak to you through the spirit of the great inspired of the times to come?

67. You all wish to be saved; you all want to escape the atonement of the spirit and you all dream of knowing Heaven; but I tell you that the effort you make to achieve all this is very small and that many times, instead of looking for the means that could help you achieve it, you flee from them.

Love one another!

68. You believe that Heaven is a region in infinity, and that you will be able to reach it by sincere repentance of your faults, at the hour of your material death, trusting that you will be forgiven at that moment and led by Me to the Kingdom of Heaven. That is what you believe. On the other hand, I tell you that Heaven is not a place, nor a region, nor a mansion, the heaven of the spirit is its elevation and its perfection, it is its state of purity. Whose is it to allow you to penetrate heaven, in Me who have always called you, or in you who have always been slow?

69. Limit no more the infinite, the divine. Do you not understand that if Heaven were as you think, a mansion, a region or a certain place then it would no longer be infinite? It is time for you to conceive the spiritual in a higher way, even if your idea does not reach the whole reality, but at least approaches it.

70. Always keep in mind that the spirit that reaches the high degrees of goodness, wisdom, purity and love is beyond time, pain and distances. He is not limited to inhabiting one place, he can be everywhere, and find in everything a supreme delight to exist, to feel, to know, to love and to know himself loved.

71. That is the heaven of the spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 147

1. I receive my people, you who come in search of the sweetness of my word, to alleviate the hardships of life. I come to give you the tenderness that shelters my divine heart and to bless you.
2. It is the time when I come to deliver in this way my word of truth on this planet, valley of sorrows in which you are suffering, O humanity!
3. On your heavy sleep and on the bitterness in which you find yourselves, my law appears once again, which comes to awaken you, to illuminate the Earth, according to my promise made in the Second Time.
4. It was written that when men were in a great height of perversity, my light would shine in the world, all spirits would be converted, for children and the elderly there would be prophecies; and women and men would have spiritual visions.
5. See that you are already in those times, when the sin of Sodom and Gomorrah has spread; when the parents do not know the children and they rise up against the parents. It is then that my light, like a sublime beacon of hope, comes to illuminate you like the radiant morning sun.
6. I have promised you that if three of you gather in the name of the Father, my ray would descend and my divine thoughts would become words to comfort and strengthen you in your sadness and loneliness. Because I am the Divine Word who has loved and loves humanity, before and after the cross.
7. The world is moved because the minds are sick and in their confusion they do not know whether or not I am the Master. Men have always lost the balance of justice and truth. They have touched the extremes. In times past, you worshiped God in all the material forms that were before your eyes: in the stars, in the elements, and in idols made with your hands. Now man feels greatness and exalts his personality and is ashamed to proclaim God, calling him by other names so as not to compromise his pride, so as not to get off the pedestal of his position. That is why they call me: Cosmic Intelligence, architect of the Universe, but I have taught you to tell me: Our Father! My father! As I showed you in the second half. Why, telling me Father, do men think that their personality is being lowered or diminished?
8. To you, beloved disciples, the Master asks: What is yours in this world? All that you possess, the Father has given it to you so that you may use it in your transit through the Earth, while your heart beats. If your spirit comes from my Divinity, if it is a breath of the heavenly Father, if it is the incarnation of an atom of my Spirit; if your body has also been formed within my laws and I entrust it to you as an instrument of your spirit, nothing is yours, beloved children. Everything created is the Father's and He has made you temporarily possessors of it. Remember that your material life is only a step in eternity, it is a ray of light in infinity and therefore you must attend to what is eternal, what never dies and that is the spirit.

9. Look! All the trappings of this world are destined to disappear, so that others may come in due time; but your spirit will continue to live eternally and will contemplate the Father in all his splendor, the Father from whose womb he sprang. Everything created has to return to the place where it came from.

10. The love of God is infinite and the more you have wanted to diminish it, the greater it will rise up before you and the more intensely it will manifest itself on your way. You wanted to humanize him by seeking him in various ways and you worshiped him in the narrowness of a quarry sanctuary made by human hands. But I tell you: Do not look for him so little! Don't look for him like that! Seek Him in the greatness of his Holy Spirit, sublime, divine, majestic, owner of all that has been, of what is and what will be.

11. If in your thoughts you still wonder if it will be possible for the ray of light of Jesus of Nazareth to be illuminating this sinful world through his word, this voice asks you: When should the doctor arrive if it is not when there is gravity in the sick person? Today the world is agitated in the midst of its deepest pain, there is agony and death rattle in the spirits and that is why it is the moment that the Father has chosen to illuminate and raise the spirits through this message of peace and love, in fulfillment of the prophecies.

12. Man has forgotten his Creator and has only wanted to live for matter. Today the Master is coming to tell you: Learn to make use of the powers of your spirit, so that the owner of the world and of the atoms, of the greatness of the infinite and even of the most imperceptible, is also of your thoughts; shine and shine in your dwelling of light and that light envelops you and illuminates like all the stars.

13. Do not ask yourselves any more why I am with you. Let my Divine Spirit vibrate with love for all creatures, come closer to this spiritual banquet that I am offering you, to the table where the tenderness of my words invites you to rise firmly on the path of true light. Hurry up, my children, because I will deliver this legacy to you in just a few moments.

14. I hear the cry of the dying man and that of the mother in moments of sadness and anguish. My spirit, who is everywhere, inside and outside the human, answers them: Do not be afraid, I hear your prayer, I am here with you!

Love one another!

15. Beloved disciples of the Third Time: I come to invite you to shine with me, to be the light of the world and my collaborators in this divine task, so that you prepare the sowing with spirituality, with piety, with mercy, with love, as I have taught you. Water this seed with tears of compassion that you shed when you feel the pain of your fellow man, with tears of repentance, they bring joy to my Divinity and possess the sublime power of contrition and faith. I do not ask you to do it with the blood in your veins, because it does not reach Me.

16. Man, in his blindness, seeks me in the wrong ways, and when he does not humanize my Divinity, he divinizes his humanity. That is why my voice says to him: It is time for you to listen to me and feel me in the depths of your heart. Remember that in your sorrows and in your joys my love is always present. But when your heart wants to tell me: I have felt you! you silence his voice; when your spirit wants to rise to Me, you stop him with the heavy chains of your materialism.

17. Do not despair in trials: Carry your cross with resignation, as I taught you to carry it, have faith and think that nothing goes unnoticed by Me and that everything that exists is counted: to the last of the sands of the sea and to the farthest star. My words in the Sermon on the Mount were also told; the blows of the hammer that my hands and feet drilled when I was nailed to the tree; the thorns of the crown that humanity placed on my divine temples and my last words on the cross.

18. Never feel alone or attempt against your life, because your days are also numbered by the Father.

19. Forget for a moment your pains and give mercy, pity and love, so that you can manifest the power and love of the Father through yourselves.

20. If you have felt too small for God to take care of you, I tell you: You think this way because of your egoism that does not allow you to conceive the greatness of your Father. Remember all that your material parents do to guide your steps when you are little and how much they go out of their way to take care of you. For the totality of the love of all the fathers and mothers of the earth is only a weak reflection of what God loves you. Understand how much your Heavenly Father must love you, in order to have come to suffer in this world, to teach you the true way and to give you eternal life. You are the most precious being, the magnum opus of his creation. Being atoms, you are great before Him. His Kingdom is represented in you and the Universe is symbolized; within you you can find heaven and a luminous sun, but you have not known how to know yourselves, so today I say to you: Understand my word, let me shine in your inner heaven and live in you. Let my Work flourish and bear fruit in your heart, so that your Father may be glorified and carry out his divine plan of giving salvation to all spirits.

Love one another!

21. Humanity, in its materialism, tells me: Is it true that the kingdom of the Spirit exists? And I answer you, O unbelievers, you are the Thomas of the Third Time. Feeling pity, compassion, tenderness, kindness, nobility, are not attributes of matter, nor are the graces and gifts that you carry hidden in yourself. All those feelings that you have engraved in your heart and in your mind, all those potencies, are of the spirit and you should not deny it. The flesh is only a limited instrument, and the spirit is not: He is great because He is an atom of God.

22. Seek the mansion of the spirit at the bottom of your being and the great wisdom in the greatness of love.

23. Learn from Me, so that you may be good sowers in the field of love. In this time when humanity does not love each other, and does not realize the hour it is living, I have come to you fulfilling my promise.

24. I come to give you my lessons again, awakening your sleeping senses and faculties, so that you may put all the good that is in you at the service of my divine Law.

25. The end of my communication is already approaching and you must arrive at that day with true spirituality and knowledge of my Doctrine.

26. The manifestations that you are seeing you will not contemplate again, they have only been the preparation for my direct spiritual communication with you.

27. Whenever your spirit rises to Me, you will truly feel my presence.

28. It is time that my Work should be better known, but your fear has not allowed it to be so; many times you are afraid to speak, but after 1950 it will be universally known and understood.

29. In my work as a Teacher at this time, I have been seconded by the spiritual world, which has left among this people an example of fraternity, of elevation and fulfillment. It is necessary that you do the same.

30. My word has fought against your religious fanaticism. He has sweetly persuaded you that your spirit, within the evolution it has achieved, can dispense with all external worship and all ritual form.

31. I wanted to leave you united as brothers, because the time of the struggle is approaching and I want you to come to possess mettle in spirit and moral strength.

32. Look that on your way you are going to find pictures of misery, of pain. You are going to cross paths with the living dead and the possessed of darkness. You are going to contemplate those who have an inveterate heart and those who have fallen victims to their passions.

Love one another!

33. I tell you from now on: Do not be afraid to reach out to them. If it is his body that suffers from diseases that are repugnant or contagious to you, do not be afraid of contagion or diseases of the spirit. Do not forget or doubt that you are protected by my grace, so that this too may be one more witness before the unbelievers. Go to the meeting of the sick and needy and through your elevation, advice and prayers, bring them closer to the Doctor of doctors. If you do so, you will have put into practice the gifts that I have given you.

34. . You still have to fight a lot to achieve the development and evolution of your spirit. It is necessary that you increase your willingness to serve me in your fellow men.

35. Unify your analysis and your interpretation of my word, so that your worship and your works may be the same in all.

36. When men come to you to ask you what your ideology is, you will show them this page of divine love, with your deeds, words and writings.

37. The disciples of the Holy Spirit are entrusted with this task. Work and you will see your efforts crowned.

38. I see in your spirit the longing to know the hereafter. You no longer concretize just to live and worry about what belongs to this world. The pain, the tears, the trials, have disillusioned you, have dematerialized you and have led you to the path of spiritual elevation.

39. Be transported on the wings of prayer to the regions of the spirit, so that there you may be saturated with peace and light.

40. Give my teachings their true meaning, without forgetting that the men I use to speak to you are only an instrument of my will.

41. You stand before the altar of wisdom, of which I make you guardians and responsible. Take care that it is not desecrated, but beware of falling into mysticism, because I have seen many who imitate the white mausoleums that outwardly flaunt their whiteness and keep only rot inside.

42. You who work in my countryside, you will carry my word like a seed and you will sow it and cultivate it as I have taught you. You will be the continuators of my disciples of the Second Time and you will preach my gospel in the different nations.

Love one another!

43. How much you will have to fight to soften the hard human heart and how you must resist the tests to be believed! Only faith and perseverance in my teaching will lead you to triumph. If you weaken, you will have lost this opportunity to save yourself and you will carry in your spirit the pain of having yielded under the influence of the unbelievers.

44. You have come to Me, obeying the call that I have made to you and you will arrive seeking without knowing what is the best way to present yourselves before your Father, and I say to you: come as disciples, my children and remain close to Me.

45. I know, from before you raise your prayer, what you are going to ask of me, what you need and I only grant you that which is for your good, because you yourselves do not know what is convenient for you. If you trust in Me and are satisfied with my will, I will give you what you need and your heart will make you realize that what you have received is just, what you need, and you will grant me the reason to govern your destiny.

46. I do not ask you to pay for my benefits, I love you and I only fulfill my duty as a Father. On the other hand, when the world grants you a favor, it does not do it to alleviate your sorrow, but to attract admiration, praise to itself, and that humiliating charity is not meritorious. I have taught you discreet charity, the pious works that dignify the one who does them and the one who receives them, those that are hidden between two hearts and that seek to alleviate and comfort, having my Divinity as the only witness.

47. All of you who follow me must seek in the future life your hope of salvation and compensation for your hardships, and then full of confidence, you will be patient in trials, content with your restitution and even more, you will be happy, because you will be able to pay past debts, repair mistakes and get rid of serious faults.

48. At this moment, you are elevated savoring my words, you have no secrets for Me, you invite me to penetrate your heart and to know everything that is inside, and I leave in it, like a thirsty flower, my word of love, which is life-giving dew. Just as you have prepared today, always do it, keep my lessons in your memory, analyzing them and then putting them into practice.

49. You do not think that by serving others you degrade yourself and that your personality weakens; I have already told you that it is better for you to give than to receive, and that if you give a part of your inheritance, you will be accumulating works of true value for your spirit. What I have given you, does not belong only to you, I have made you the depositaries of a wealth of gifts that you must send to your brothers.

50. This voice that you hear now is the same one that the first inhabitants of the earth heard, the same one that the people of Israel heard in the beginning, the one that made Moses tremble. Do you not recognize it in its essence?

Love one another!

51. When you come to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit, those words of the prophets who said will be fulfilled: "Men and women will penetrate into a spiritual life unknown until that time, their eyes will see beyond the earthly and everything will be transformed." You are one of those called to see the beginning of a new era that will lead humanity to know the true purpose for which it was created. In this time, I will be loved and recognized by my children and they will love each other. This is the goal that I have pointed out to man and to which he will reach. I will announce it to you from now on.

52. In this age, come before the Master of Masters, come to rest from your earthly fatigue under the foliage of the Tree of Life. Come to feed yourselves with the bread of eternal life and to quench your thirst in the crystalline waters that I am pouring in torrents into your spirit.

53. I receive you to give you my warmth as a Father, my teaching as a Teacher and the balm as a Doctor of doctors. You will find everything in Me and you have no reason to complain, because I do not abandon you. Like a thief, I tiptoe to your heart and quietly relax when I find you ready. When you meditate on my Work, in your prayer I teach your spirit to communicate with my Divinity, it is when I reveal the truth to you and give you everything you are going to need on your way.

54. Difficult times are coming for you and also for humanity. Times of great calamities and if you are not prepared, you will weaken in your faith and in the confidence of what I am talking about. Tomorrow you will see my prophecies fulfilled, see that I do not disappoint you. In your good intentions I strengthen you and I say to you: Walk this way, and when an evil thought assails you, I say to you: Do not walk this way; do this and do not do this; I show you the best way; I say to you: Eat of this fruit and leave the other because this one is good and the other poisons you.

55. Then why don't you ignite your faith in my Divinity more? Why don't you let yourselves be guided by my word? Do you find in it evil and a bad direction for you? No, you tell me in your heart. Truly it is your spirit who speaks to me, who confesses before Me, puts on my strength and is saturated with my wisdom, because he does know who it is who teaches and commands him.

56. I come after your spirit, it is to him that I have called, because my voice is heard spiritually throughout the Universe making the call to every spirit. For it is the time when all of you must remember the spiritual teachings that have been forgotten in the heart of man.

57. It has been my will to pour out the light of the Holy Spirit in torrents, so that the world may clearly contemplate the path that leads to spirituality, to the advancement and progress of this humanity; a path that I have come to show to all without any distinction, a path in which there are no worldly pleasures, nor materialism, a path clean of low passions, free of material conflicts and that only leads to a divine end, to a spiritual end.

58. And who are those who will walk this path? Anyone who wants to get rid of materialism, anyone who wants to penetrate to a spiritual fulfillment, anyone who wants to be my servant, my companion, will pass through it. Because I have a countryside and everyone who wants to serve humanity will come to it, because by serving humanity, he is serving Me.

59. Understand my inspiration and my divine desire, so that step by step you may prepare yourselves and be willing to receive what I have to give to each of you in this Third Time, because I am delivering great missions, I am inheriting the spirits and preparing the matters so that united the spirit and the matter, they rise to the fulfillment of their mission.

60. I am preparing you as the strong one of the nations, of the world; for you I will send messages to the afflicted, I will stop the unleashed elements; for one of my servants who flaunts in his spirit the triangle of my Divinity and who with faith rises in prayer, I will stop the chaos that envelops humanity.

61. I will continue preparing you and giving you the light so that you can understand my teaching and so, little by little, you will rise in spiritual knowledge, I will entrust you with the essence of my word, my wisdom, so that tomorrow you will be the great analyzers of my word.

62. I am taking you away from your mistakes, from your ignorance, from your spiritual backwardness; I am giving you a new opportunity to get closer to Me through knowledge, the light of conviction and so you can defend yourself and defend my Work. My Law, which I have given you in Three Times, now you will no longer hide it, that Law will be presented to men in all its purity, in its truth, in its wisdom. For everyone who obeys the law will be regenerated in a short time. The people of Israel will be prepared with her and will be the people who teach everyone who stands in their way to purify themselves.

63. Beloved people: I have always manifested myself in my power, in my light and in my wisdom, and if men have not found me in what I am, it is because they have not meditated or contemplated my greatness. They have only become confused, their minds have been troubled and they do not find a solution to their troubles. But the moment will come when everyone will feel me and contemplate me, in the divine, in the pure, in the invisible, in the spiritual.

Love one another!

64. Do merit with works that elevate you and dignify you before Me, because according to your preparation, so you will draw closer to the Father.

65. That is why I tell you to prepare yourselves, because you have to reach the Father and I do not want you to present yourselves with the stain of your sin.

66. I give you the weapon of love, with this weapon you will be able to overcome all obstacles, you will be able to put away all confusion, hatred and ill will. With love you will be able to do great works. Wield this weapon because it is with which I have been fighting in this Third Time and with it I want you to do wonderful works among your brothers.

67. People, listen and follow me, push aside with the strength that I have given you, everything that stands in your way and at the end of your journey you will be the victor, the warrior who triumphs in the battle; because if today you are not yet in the great contest, tomorrow you will be, and with the understanding of the mission that I have given you and with full knowledge of your responsibility, you will rise giving the alert, giving the good news of my teaching that comes to give strength to the heart of humanity, so that it may rise and follow you on the way.

68. I am teaching you how to fight and how victory is achieved, so that you can take these examples to your brothers.

69. You are under the shade of the tree, eating the richest delicacies that no man could give you, the Master can give it to you because I have prepared the table and the fruits, and Elijah has gathered you so that you can get enough, for recreation and food of your spirit and for strength of your body.

70. I have come again as the Great Warrior, fighting to rescue my people, I have presented myself in the midst of darkness to dispel them with the light of my Holy Spirit, so that my people can contemplate me in all my splendor, in all my power.

71. Already from the Second Time I have spoken to you in parable and figurative sense and now it has been my will to materialize more the meaning of my word, so that you can all understand me. For I have told you that at this time every sinful and non-sinful eye will behold me. Now, great multitudes will listen to my word, they will be recreated with my wonders and their brains will know how to analyze my lessons with perfection. I am enlightening the brains of the clumsy, so that they analyze my word. That is why I have been cleansing you of everything that can confuse you, so that with your free understanding and prepared with my light, you can assimilate the essence of my word and make it known by all means as it is my will.

Love one another!

72. Men in their science, in their doctrines and according to their own will, have prepared many paths to lead their spirit to Me, but I tell you, I have allowed all this to humanity, so that after having searched for me in their materialism, they stop to meditate on the spiritual, because they have forgotten that they carry a spirit that is part of my Spirit.

73. I have come to combat the confusion and error into which humanity has fallen by trusting and living only for matter. That is why I have presented myself with all humility in this Third Time to live with you, no longer in matter, now in Spirit, so that you may resemble Me and awaken your spirit, so that in him the gifts he possesses may develop and manifest themselves through matter. Because I want a strong people, in whom I put all my trust, the great missions, the great positions. A people that does not weaken before the first test or stop before the invader; may he contemplate the enemy as an innocent and ignorant brother in the Work of the Father, may he approach him without fearing him and with all love and charity teach him, prevent him, lead him and speak to his spirit, to his heart.

74. My struggle is great, because I want to contemplate a people responsible for their actions, an active people in which good works, love, humility, recognition of my Divinity, understanding of the Marian Trinitarian Spiritualist Work are reflected. A people that only wields the weapons of love, charity and light. This is how I want to contemplate my people, this is how I want to leave them prepared for after my communication through the human brain ends, in 1950, the date indicated by my Divinity and since my word cannot go back, on that date I will end my communication through the human understanding.

75. You shall not profane this command, nor shall you attempt to retain my Ray among you or to my Spiritual World, for woe, woe to you if you do so! for it will not be my Spirit, it will not be my Ray that illuminates you. After 1950, I will communicate with everyone who knows how to prepare, with everyone who becomes spiritualized so that he can communicate with Me from spirit to Spirit; because then my inspiration will be received by everyone, not only by those I have named pedestals, no, my inspiration will be transmitted by everyone, in its truth and in its essence, because this is my will.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 148

1. Engrave my words deeply in your spirit, because each of them is part of the book that I am showing you at this time, in which you can study and later teach your brothers.
2. You do not yet have all the wisdom in your understanding, nor all the grace in your spirit, so it is necessary that you come to receive my lesson. My path is not a flowery path, but a path of struggle and great trials. That is why I invite you to pray and meditate, so that you can understand me.
3. Humanity will recognize as my apostles those who, full of humility, carry my Doctrine. I want justice and righteousness to be in all your acts, so that you will be respected. A war of ideas is approaching and will be unleashed on all nations. Each one of you will be a soldier, but to defend this cause, you will use the weapons of love, reason and charity. Many will be confused when they hear your testimony and will say that it is not possible for the Divine Master to come and speak to men and you will explain with the lessons you have received, my Doctrine of love. My light will come down to you and I will speak through your mouth.
4. Very few are those who at this time strive for a spiritual ideal, because humanity has lost its sensitivity and has forgotten its duties to its God.
5. I look at the children, without joy, without peace, full of the material knowledge their understanding, and of the spiritual laws and virtues they have learned nothing and their saddened spirit begs, implores charity and their prayer is not heard. Their parents have not been prepared to teach them. Women have asked me for the gift of motherhood, which I have not granted to them, without measuring their responsibility, and here are the consequences; they have not been able to lead to childhood, they have not shaped their heart, nor have they enlightened their spirit and it has not been able to develop.
6. You, who form the present world, will go through great struggles and the fruit of your effort will be collected by the generations to come. Leave them an inheritance of faith and deep convictions, help them to climb with your works of love.
7. You have heard the call of the Master, who is waiting for you once again to give you his word, which is a divine caress. Not only the first received this grace, but also the last have been worthy to receive this Doctrine that will evolve the concept that humanity had of God. I have told you that I have been with you at all times, but truly I tell you, Because of the faithfulness of the first to whom I gave my first orders, you last ones have achieved grace.

Love one another!

8. My word today is the same as that of times past, only the manifestation is different. Tomorrow I will not speak to you in the way I am speaking to you now; the customs of the peoples will change by the same evolution, but you will always be prepared to receive the messages that your Lord is sending you. You all should know that I will always be with you.
9. My manifestations of this time have been and will continue to be a reason for discussions among religions and sects, but Spiritualism will triumph, because its purity will make the greatness of my Work felt and you will bear witness to these lessons with your way of living, which will be an example and a teaching for your brothers.
10. Sometimes I repeat my lessons to you in order to indelibly engrave them in your heart and in them you will find the imprint of the Master.
11. This message is for all peoples, not just for those of you who call yourselves spiritualists.
12. The essence of this Work will be the basis on which all laws will rest and thus, the world will enter a period of understanding, fraternity and reconstruction. Only with weapons of love will men be able to break down the barriers that divide them today. Only under these principles will the leaders of the peoples succeed in uniting the men of these times. Then the strong will be seen reaching out his hand to the weak, and the latter, when he gets up, helping the strong, united both as one family: the family of Christ, the one who knows his destiny and the end that awaits him: eternity.
13. My disciples are not alone in spreading my Doctrine; my spiritual hosts are also scattered throughout the world, preparing minds and hearts to continue my Work among humanity.
14. Your eyes will not see the fulfillment of these prophecies, but you will be able to contemplate the prepared fields and the scattered seed, which will germinate in the spirit of future generations. And so the world will go on its march, recognizing the supreme authority of its Creator, without whose will not a leaf of the tree moves.
15. Prepare yourselves, because you are going to enter a time of great spiritual events. So far, it has only been a stage of preparation, now comes the time to face the world, which is clinging to its ideas, its concepts, cults and doctrines.
16. Go and talk about my Work, in which all who seek me can find me. I won't tell anyone apart. In this way you will announce that the Master is waiting for all his children, that no one will be late at my door, because the salvation of all must be consummated.

Love one another!

17. Verily I tell you, the world is against you and I am preparing you for this, so that you may know how to defend the cause of your faith, with the weapons of love and charity. I tell you that you will triumph even when your triumph is not known. Now your sacrifice will not be of blood, but you will know of calamity and contempt. But the Master will be there to defend and comfort you, because no disciple will be alone.

18. You symbolically carry the cross of suffering, which will always remind you of the one that I carried for your sins, and even if you will not reach martyrdom for my sake, if you will know how to have self-denial.

19. I will make that cross light for you, because as a divine Cyrenian I will help you to climb the mountain of your life until you arrive full of merits in the presence of your Lord.

20. Listen carefully to my word, for it is the food that feeds you; no longer complain of hunger or poverty, for I have come to sustain you and to give you strength.

21. Everyone who presents to me his scarce patrimony on earth, expecting a word of encouragement from Me, I comfort him by saying: be content with what you have now and do not seek temporal goods, aspire to eternal life. Do works that endure, build on unshakable foundations of faith and love, and you will have peace in the world, the rest I will give you in addition and none of my children will perish. Once again I repeat those words to you: "Birds do not sow or reap, they do not spin, and yet they do not lack sustenance and shelter."

22. Until today you have remained studying with me as kindergartners and disciples, but the day will come when you will leave this earth taking my word of love to other regions and with it you will kindle the fire of love in many hearts that call me and that today live quietly waiting for the hour of my return to get up to work, they will diligently help you in your work. Go forth as good sowers. Conquer for Me as many hearts as you can. Each one will be received as a seed of yours. The sinners that you have converted, the sick of the body or of the spirit that you have healed, will be merits that will bring you closer to Me.

23. Take my word as a seed of life, take care of it, and make it flourish in your spirit and in that of the one who receives it; watch over it and for those in whom it has been sown so that your work is just, what would it be of a seed if it were abandoned during the time of its germination or development?

24. To the hearts that you do not have close, prepare them with your prayer. Everything that is not within your reach entrust to the Spiritual World and those beings will complete your work and everything will be order, harmony and fulfillment.

Love one another!

25. All your acts and missions will be known by those present and by those who are to come, therefore take care that all your steps are illuminated by the light of my teaching.

26. The chosen spirits are scattered throughout the world and I have contemplated in them the fear of breaking my laws, their desire is to work so that the Earth is covered with obedient beings who honor me, glorify me and communicate spiritually with me and I will make them hear my voice incessantly instructing them, guiding them to remember the example of their Master.

27. Everything is perfectly arranged in the universe. Everywhere there are forerunners and prophets who fulfill their mission inspired by Me. Work spiritually and materially so that you live in harmony with the laws that govern you. In both works you will have the just payment; but do not receive charity or consolation in a material form, nor demand spiritual retribution in exchange for the work you do on earth.

28. Let your faith grow so that you may do works worthy of your spirit. Trust in yourselves and speak in my name, for it will not be your words but mine that I will make flow from your lips so that you may feel that I am with you.

29. You all have a present for Me and you offer it with humility; some a deep repentance for their faults, others, the joy of having carried out a good work. Some of you have the desire to lean on Me. Trust that you will come out ahead in any difficult undertaking. I am reading your heart, granting grace to some and receiving their tribute from others.

30. Pray and prepare your home to be a temple, and under that roof the sick will be healed and the suffering spirits will be quieted. You will not lack bread and a roof. I have sent you so that you may be consolation and charity among humanity and bring to it the peace that fulfillment gives; if, after having given what you have, you pick up ingratitude, overcome pain, take strength in Me, that I will give you patience and conformity.

31. Carry peace in your heart and you will act with serenity, you will be virtuous in your actions so that you know how to spread this grace around you. Fight the war, purify the environment, do the work of reconstruction in men and in peoples, and soon you will see the lights of a new day appear for humanity.

32. Then you will see men coming to Me, in search of love and charity, of reconciliation and peace, requesting the divine light so as not to err anymore, trusting and expecting life and strength from Me, recognizing Me as a Father.

33. Keep this teaching in which my revelations, prophecies and analyzes that I give you at this time are enclosed. Discover also its essence, which is breath for the spirit, take it gently because it is part of the Book of True Life, which I have opened in the sixth chapter. When you have studied my lessons deeply and are ready to put them into practice, you will make your life change, you will live simply, you will love all my manifestations, you will seek to be always in contact with me and you will lay the foundations for the formation of a new world that will be governed by my laws and in which I will be respected and obeyed.

34. When the world puts its burden of sorrows and misunderstandings on your heart, come to Me and I will give you strength and heal your wounds; feel like children before Me even though you have lived a lot and rest in the peace of my Spirit.

35. In the world in which you live, there is not a single heart that does not suffer. You are all traveling on the path of your Calvary, but you have not learned to receive trials with love and you do not accept your cup of bitterness. You have not imitated Jesus in his perfect passion. You are not alone in your trials, you have Me as a Cyrenian, to make your cross lighter.

36. Do not be intimidated by the storms of life, do not despair in pain, bear with patience your restitution and when you have climbed the mountain and are elevated on a spiritual cross, invisible to men, seek my presence to feel strong, I will be with you, to give you breath and your spirit will merge with mine in the supreme hour. I will receive you, I will comfort you and I will give you my peace.

37. Then you will see an unknown world opening up before your spirit, you will feel that you are entering a new life and when you contemplate from there this Earth, this scale where you now live, you will feel pity for the world that suffers, that is in anguish and lives without hope, because the light of this revelation that I have brought you in the Third Time has not yet reached it and your spirit will ask me for the mission of working spiritually for it, to lead its steps along the true path. You will gather all your powers to put them at the service of your younger brothers, of those who have not wanted to hear the voice of their Heavenly Father, who is love and justice. Then you will become emissaries of peace, and thus you will continue working in the Divine Work; you will know how great is the spiritual mission that corresponds to you, and on each new scale that you reach, you will feel closer to me. my will will be yours and yours will be mine. In this way I will lead you along the path that leads to Me.

38. Be tireless as you walk along the path marked by the Master. Sometimes your plant bleeds and your garments are torn in the thorns, but your hope sustains you. This is how the One from whom you sprouted looks at you, and to whom you will return.

39. Now I am your traveling companion, the one who heals your wounds, to make you feel my balm. In this way I cause to be reborn what is still asleep in your being and you awaken to the call of your conscience, because I am the resurrection and the life.

Love one another!

40. You were dead, but I raised you to the life of grace and made you contemplate the light of my Spirit.

41. As a teacher, I am very patient and tireless. My lesson is new in appearance and yet it is the same, because from generation to generation, since the beginning of time, I have only taught you to love one another and by that way you will be able to reach Me.

42. I made you for Me and I want you for Me. I have called you to teach you to live as spirits of light. Today you travel in this world, tomorrow you do not know if you will be separated from those who have been yours here. Always be prepared, so that you may come to the call of your brothers at any time. I'm going to give you some more time, because if I surprised you right now, what would you present to me? Have you spread my doctrine? Have you awakened those who sleep to eternal life? Do you feel ready to resist a trial?

43. These questions that I ask you are the ones that you should ask yourself daily, so that you may live alert and prepared and the Master may feel satisfied with his disciples.

44. I have to raise up the church of the Holy Spirit in the hearts of my disciples in this Third Time. There the Creator God will make his abode, the strong God, the God made man in the Second Time, the God of infinite wisdom. He lives in you, but if you want to feel him and hear the echo of his word, you will have to prepare.

45. Whoever practices the good, feels my presence inwardly, the same the one who is humble or the one who sees in each like a brother.

46. In your spirit there is the temple of the Holy Spirit. That enclosure is indestructible, there are no gales or hurricanes capable of tearing it down. It is invisible and intangible to the human gaze; its columns will be the desire to overcome oneself in the good; its dome, the grace that the Father pours on his children; the door, the love of the Divine Mother, because everyone who knocks on my door, will be touching the heart of the Heavenly Mother.

47. Behold, disciples, the truth that exists in the church of the Holy Spirit, so that you may not be one of those who are confused by false interpretations. The quarry temples were only a symbol and not a stone on stone will remain of them.

48. I want the flame of faith to always burn on your inner altar and for you to understand that with your works you are laying the foundations where the great sanctuary will one day rest. I have all humanity under test and in preparation within its various ideas, because I will give everyone a part in the construction of my temple.

Love one another!

49. All those who rise up encouraging this ideal will remain spiritually united, even when their bodies are very distant; their union will be strong, and they will recognize each other. These are my people, who will help to achieve salvation to all that they encounter in their path.

50. You and future generations will see some of this, but I will always keep in mind your merit of having been the first in the struggle for spiritual unification.

51. Your task is difficult and delicate, but never impossible. As long as you have the will, your mission will seem simple to you.

52. Fight and do not faint, fight with yourselves, you know well that as long as you live in matter, there will be inclination to sin, there will be temptations and passions will be stirred up like a storm.

53. The spirit struggles to achieve its elevation and its progress, while matter yields at every step to the attractions of the world; but spirit and matter could harmonize, taking both what legally corresponds to them, that is what my Doctrine teaches you.

54. How will you be able to practice my Law at every step? Listening to the voice of conscience that is the judge of your actions. I do not come to order you what you could not fulfill; I come to persuade you that the way to happiness is not a fantasy, but exists and the way to travel through it, is the one I am revealing to you.

55. You are free to choose the path, but it is my duty as a Father to show you the true one, the shortest one, the one that has always been illuminated by the light of the divine beacon that is my love for you, who are the disciples always thirsty to hear new words that come to affirm your knowledge and to vivify your faith.

56. With how much love do you approach Me, knowing that in my teaching you will find strength and counsel, which comes to dispel your sorrows. My Spirit rejoices to receive you, to give you the proofs of love, seeing that you trust in Me, as the son must trust in his Father.

57. Your life is full of manifestations of love, which you have not always been able to perceive. Moreover, in the days of greatest tribulation, a ray of hope comes to you that does not let you fall into despair or heartbreak. And it is that the Father accompanies the son and does not allow his spirit to be annihilated. It is in those days when I manifest my protection more clearly to you so that you learn to trust, so that when other tests of greater magnitude come to you, you will feel prepared and willing for these to be carried out in you and you will obtain the result that is indicated by My

Love one another!

58. On the path that has been marked out for you, there are no trials that are useless. They all have one purpose, which is to perfect your spirit. Great trials are always for great spirits. Therefore, when you see a whirlwind coming upon you that threatens to destroy your tranquility, do not be afraid, go to meet it and overcome it with the power that I have given you. Wait for the necessary time and in your struggle do not weaken, do not want to conjure him the moment he appears before you; remain praying and watching. I am not talking to you about the elements of Nature, but about those that serve as a crucible for the spirit and that when they are well used help him to climb, discovering new paths before him, make him know and awaken feelings that had remained asleep and that were necessary for him to help him evolve. "Know yourselves," I have told you. Penetrate into your own being and make use of all your faculties and powers, because today you need to know everything and embrace it with your spirit, so that you may leave your work on Earth completed.

59. Soon you will see a new war coming to this world in which your faith will be in danger. All will fight defending their belief, all will say that they possess the truth, and in that fight, the spirit of men will awaken and become sensitive to my influence and one and the other will be forced to study my Law and my revelations. The books will be scrutinized by the sects as they have never been before and everyone will question me, some as a Judge, others as a Teacher. That will be the time for which you must be prepared and make known my teachings.

60. All that I have announced to you will be fulfilled, and you will find an opportunity every day to work and to put my word into practice. I prepare you so that when these prophecies are fulfilled, you will not be surprised.

61. For truly I tell you, the time has come for you to fulfill to me, just as you have fulfilled to your family. Now is when you will truly know the purpose for which you have been created and you will fulfill the mission entrusted to your spirit.

62. My word and my Work will not be any burden for you, on the contrary, it will be to make your existence more bearable in a time of hardships and bitterness in which all men, like shipwrecked, will look for something to hold on to so as not to perish.

63. You have already discovered this boat and are about to enter it. Blessed are those who know how to remain confident and firm within it because they will not perish.

64. I want you to stop crying in your ways, despite the fact that trials are looming over you, for that I come to make you understand that it is essential not to break the Law.

65. To tell you what I have come to reveal to you at this time, I had to wait for many eras, but I ask you: What are the millennia for Me when time does not pass over my Spirit?

Love one another!

You did have to wait, but not in inactivity, but evolving and growing in light, in knowledge and experience.

66. Now you are in a position to feel and understand my teachings, however high they may be; not so in the First Time, when to symbolize the homeland of the spirit I had to give the people a land, and to teach them the law I had to leave it on a stone.

67. Now you are about to witness the destruction of the reign of materialism, into which thrones, crowns, power, pride and vanities will fall. All this has existed and will exist as long as men believe that there is no glory other than that which they find in the world, but when humanity lights the lamp of faith in the spiritual life, then the false finery will fall from its body, and the spirit will be clothed with the garments of those who love truth, goodness and purity.

68. Take advantage of the word of your Father, because the multitudes will come to protect themselves with you, in this people they will see the promises of the Lord fulfilled and they will be attracted by the essence of which this people is saturated.

69. I am enlightening your understanding, I am opening your heart to all good feelings and good inspirations and I am closing your lips to offense and blasphemy, but leaving it free to express my Doctrine, to console and bear witness to the truth.

70. There should be no judges among you, no fanatics, no hypocrites, because where these defects exist, there can be no spirituality.

71. My justice will be felt unceasingly on this people as long as they do not rise up vigorously to study my message and to bring it as good news to humanity, so I tell you that it is better for you to hasten your steps, and seek to correct your mistakes, so that the trials and the days of pain may be shortened for you.

72. Why are you surprised that beings who inhabited the earth thousands of years ago appear among you? What is time for the spirit? What is time in the spiritual world? Nothing.

73. It has been nearly two thousand years since I was with you and truly I tell you that this time has been an instant for Me.

74. Do you wonder that my Spirit or that of my messengers is manifested among you? It's just that you don't analyze your life and that's why you are surprised by everything and call what is completely natural supernatural.

75. You are surprised that a spirit manifests or communicates with you, without thinking that you also manifest and even communicate with other worlds, in other abodes.

Love one another!

76. Your body does not realize that your spirit, in the moments of praying, communicates with me, it does not know how to perceive the approach that through that gift you have with your Lord, and not only with my Spirit, but also with that of your spiritual brothers whom you remember in the moments of prayer.

77. Nor do you realize that in your rest, when matter sleeps, the spirit, according to its evolution and its spirituality, detaches from its body to appear in distant places, and even in spiritual abodes that your mind cannot even imagine.

78. Let no one be surprised by these revelations, understand that you are approaching the fullness of time.

79. It is necessary for you to understand that the times in which men and peoples sought my voice, my language and my messages through storms, hurricane winds and every manifestation of Nature, have passed and that you are already qualified so that you can communicate spiritually with me and you can receive my divine messages through the senses of your body.

80. I certainly tell you that the elements of Nature continue to give voices to humanity, they continue to touch men, putting them to the test, awakening them and purifying them; but it is because of your materialism, because you are sensitive only to what you perceive with the senses of the flesh; but when there is spirituality on Earth, when men have developed their spiritual faculties and are sensitive to what is beyond the material, then you will be able to see how Nature, with all its elements, will calm down, showing absolute harmony and will no longer intervene in what corresponds to your morality and your spirituality.

81. The material elements will cease to be messengers of the divine, because men will have penetrated into my teachings and will have reached spirit-to-Spirit communication.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 149

1. Here again is the Master who comes to deliver his teaching to you through your consciousness.
2. My love becomes a word of light among men, at this time when the world needs the freedom of the spirit to receive my lessons, which show it the way of salvation. But I do not come at this time as a man, I come in spirit on each one of you, calling all humanity to know the greatness of the spiritual teachings of the Third Time. It is my will to enlighten the spirit of the men of this age through the virtue of my disciples. Morality has fled from the hearts of men; few are those who are preserved within my Law and few are also those who know how to communicate with their Creator, due to the perversity and spiritual ignorance that exists among humanity.
3. Let no one wait for me or look for me in the form of a man as I came in the Second Half; nor look for me through the figures made by human hands.
4. It will not be the testimony of the Third Time that alone speaks to you of my love for humanity, it will be the deeds and words of the Three Times in which the Father has manifested himself to man.
5. I have called initiates those who are beginning to penetrate into the knowledge of my teachings. I have come to reveal to you the why of many events so that you can forge your thinking in reason and truth.
6. I come again to teach men, not to learn from them. In the Second Time they saw me conversing in the temple of wisdom with princes and doctors whom I surprised with words that a man cannot say or understand. This happened in Jesus' childhood.
7. When the moment of preaching arrived, I went to the Jordan in search of the Baptist, who when he looked at me instantly recognized me. The way in which John recognized me and the humility with which he adored his Master, are an example of spirituality, clairvoyance and elevation.
8. Today I have returned to you and I have had to talk to you a lot to overcome the materialism, the doubt and the coldness of your heart.
9. Here I am, disciples, teaching you to know the gifts of your spirit, to know ecstasy, because in ecstasy you hear the voice of conscience, the impenetrable becomes transparent and the darkness is illuminated.
10. This state of elevation cannot be the privilege of only some beings, it is a gift that is latent in every spirit, but it has always been pleasant for me to serve, since ancient times,

Love one another!

those who have known how to make use of that grace. In order for the ecstasy to be perfect, you must first go through the vigil, like the righteous of the first times.

11. Before starting to preach the good news, Jesus taught you these lessons in the Second Time, retiring to the desert for forty days to gather himself in solitude, meditate and take comfort in the Most High.

12. Truly, I tell you, in those hours of intimate communion, Jesus, the man, contemplated the symbol of sacrifice and his soul trembled. The sky opened and there he contemplated the end that awaited him, he saw the blackened mountain and on top of it a cross where he was nestled; his ears heard the mockery of a people and the phrases that addressed him: "If you are the Son of God, come down from the cross and be saved". He hurried the cup of bitterness because he had to show you all the love in that test. It was his mission to show you the way and to overcome you with the divine weapons of love, forgiveness and humility. Those weapons are mightier than any sword and have more strength than the raging waves of the sea. They have made love feel to those who had never felt it.

13. After a while, humanity fell defeated by my teaching of truth, love and consolation.

14. I am not here to ask you to imitate me in all the path of sacrifice and blood that I traveled in the Second Half. Some of you will fulfill a part, others you will imitate the Master in some example, because there is only one Christ.

15. Get ready to imitate me, because you still don't know which part you have to imitate. But if you come to feel, as Jesus did, that the words of the Gentiles and unbelievers wound you like lashes on the naked flesh, rise in ecstasy to the Father as the Master taught you on the cross, and strength will be fully upon your spirit, who will return strengthened to his matter. And when you open your eyes, you will contemplate like Jesus in the desert, who after ecstasy, while the golden sun calcined the rocks and the sand, fresh drops of dew brought by the breeze caressed his forehead and mitigated his sorrow.

16. Jesus, the righteous among the righteous, in whom the Divine Spirit was hidden, before making known the Kingdom of love, thus prepared himself to give you one more example of humility and perfection; and you, who are the disciples in the Third Time, have heard that my Word has said to you: "Come to Me and be the good sowers of my word," because the world has lost its spiritual path.

17. I have reminded you of the teachings of the Second Time so that you may join them to my new lessons and with them enlighten humanity, O peasants of the Third Time!

18. Feel my presence that illuminates your spirit and prepares you to understand my message of peace.

Love one another!

19. Forget your sufferings so that you may receive my word and its essence may remain in your heart.

20. I have sent you once again to Earth so that you may continue your mission, so that you may recognize that your spirit has to travel a scale of perfection and that according to your merits, in this way you will reach greater elevation. You will have only one Teacher, only one light will guide you and always point out the path of your evolution. You can all climb if you fulfill your mission. It has been a long time since you started the journey, and there is little that you have raised so far; I have come to give you encouragement by making you glimpse from this world in which you live today, the spiritual life of other worlds.

21. If you get to penetrate the life of all beings, you can see it sown with many benefits and proofs of love. In Me you will find the best friend, the inseparable companion and the divine doctor. At this time when I pour out my loving protection on all my children, you will partake of all these gifts, because you were formed in my likeness.

22. You have forgotten for a long time about yourselves, about the ties that bind you to Me, about your nature similar to mine and that is why you have descended and lost your way. The spiritual path is infinite and I come to show it to you from its beginning. If you are not inside it, come and I will help you to tour it, to make up for lost time.

23. That the world does not enslave you, dedicate a part of your time to the preparation and development of your spirit.

24. Many of your brothers are in great distress, they are close to you and you have not noticed. You do not yet know how to penetrate the hearts, but I am pleased to see you practicing my teaching and it is more pleasant for me to contemplate those who pour out their spirit loving and comforting, than those who dedicate themselves only to the study of my word and forget their duties to their brothers.

25. Work so that you have peace, fight intensely in this time so that you leave an example of work, obedience and faith.

26. I come to you to make myself recognized as the one God, the Father of all beings, to tell you that I want to make each one of you my disciple and heir. From my teaching, which is like a stout tree, I will give you a seed so that you may cultivate it and take it to different places, so that humanity may feed on its fruits.

27. Any misinterpretation that has been made of my word or my works, I will correct it because I want to unify your knowledge so that you all love me in the same way. Watch over the world and let your spirit bring light and peace to humanity, and let the world be illuminated with the diaphanous light that radiates from my Spirit. Light is progress, love is redemption and peace is hope. Love is from the heart, peace is from the spirit and both are a reflection of eternity.

28. I contemplate that before the sweet word of Jesus, some of my children feel jaded. It is because their senses are not in my word, they are with their thoughts occupied in material concerns, and that is why, when they finish listening to me, they have an empty heart; but the Teacher insists on approaching his children to make their heart beat with his divine teaching.

29. Humanity that you awaken your faculties to know human science and lull them to sleep by studying the divine essence! You are fatigued, on the paths strewn with thorns, looking for the goal of your human knowledge! But I, from among the lost, will bring out my servants and make their hearts vibrate with love for their brothers.

30. If men are not concerned about their spiritual advancement, I veil over all spirits. If they do not listen to the voice of their conscience, which is my own voice, they will not come to have communication with my Divinity.

31. This humanity, because of its materialism, is still idolatrous. Aaron, Aaron, you forged the idol before Israel, but in truth, the false gods will fall down. Where is Solomon's temple? Where is the Tabernacle? If I made the symbols that were lawful disappear, how can I not fight until the fanatical cults are exterminated? Solomon built a material temple to worship me, and not a stone upon stone was left of it.

32. The ministers of these times dressed themselves regally to officiate symbolically at the sacrifice of Jesus, and although they take my name and my representation, I discover their troubled mind, their heart whipped by the gales of intrigues and passions; there is no one who, as a prophet, announces that I am among the men of this time. They will have great bitterness, because there is no spiritual preparation among them. Where is the fulfillment of those who have sworn before Jesus, to follow in His footsteps? Where are the imitators of my apostles? Is there anyone who resembles John, who was one of the first, or Paul, who was one of the second?

33. This is why the Teacher comes to you again to resume his lesson. I already see the new Pharisees and scribes throwing themselves full of hatred against me, then it will be when I ask: Where are my disciples? And when the proud, the false, the rich who fear losing their power, those threatened by my truth mock me and persecute me again, hurricane winds will blow, but it will not be I who fall under the weight of the cross, but those who asked for the sacrifice for the one who gave them life.

34. It is not the human voice that you are listening to at this moment, it is the heavenly voice that announces the events that are to be, so that you who have heard my prophecies,

Love one another!

will be prepared and will not be disturbed when you see that even the forces of Nature themselves feel imbalance, because I am the universal force and justice, and in justice I will manifest myself.

35. I have come to set aside the vices of the world so that men, getting rid of sinful customs and ideas, may be inspired and speak of the spirit, then you will see me symbolized in the sweet silhouette of Jesus, indicating to you the path that leads to the true goal of the spirit, where I wait for you.

36. You are guardians of the Third Testament. Guard with great zeal that legacy to future generations. But show my Works with the perfection that she has, because if you come to Me without having fulfilled your mission, you will have to reincarnate again and then your struggle will be harder.

37. You imitate Moses in this time, in this desert of human life. Truly I say to you, Be once more on the mountain, for there my voice will sound: Understand Me. The mountain of this time is your elevation, where you will receive my command, and you will hear my voice in your conscience. From there you will be able to look at the Promised Land that is in the perfection of the spirit.

38. The divine Law never passes, human laws do change according to the spiritual evolution of men.

39. "You shall love God with all your heart and with all your spirit," is the first precept of the divine Law, which has not changed and will not change; its essence, its meaning, its doctrine, are eternal. But you have also heard that it was said to you, "You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy." But this was not a precept of the divine law, but one of many human laws that were so convenient at that time.

40. I came among you through Jesus and said to you, "Love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who insult you and persecute you, so that you may be recognized as children of your Father who is in heaven." This is spiritual law, therefore eternal, it will not undergo any change. It is only the human that changes, evolves and transforms.

41. What can you do to find out which signs, revelations, prophecies and laws have already been applied, and which are still in force? Which revelations are eternal and which prophecies have not been fulfilled? Truly I tell you, only clean prayer and a fruitful life can give you enough spirituality to find the divine essence that I have given you in the three times.

42. When the scribes and the Pharisees observed the acts of Jesus and found that they differed from their own, they said that the Doctrine he preached was contrary to the Law of Moses. It is that they were confusing the Law with traditions, but I proved to them that I had not come to transgress the Law that the Father had revealed to Moses, but to fulfill it with words and deeds.

Love one another!

43. Certainly I passed over many of the traditions of that people, because the time had already come for them to disappear, to give beginning to a new time, with higher teachings.

44. If He had told you everything in the first revelations, there would have been no need for the Master, the Messiah, to have had to teach you new lessons, nor for the Holy Spirit to have come at this time to show you the greatness of the spiritual life. Therefore I tell you, do not cling to what was revealed to you in the earliest times, as if it had been the last word of my Doctrine. I came again among men and for a long time I have communicated through their understanding and I can still tell you that my last word is not said.

45. Always seek in my book of wisdom, the last word, the new page that reveals to you the meaning, the content of the above, so that you may truly be my disciples.

46. Today you live far away from those who suffer more than you, but when spirituality is the one that illuminates your life, then you will seek to live close to those from whom you distance yourself today, because you believe them lost, or because they inspire disgust in you.

47. You will become bearers of the word of light, redemption and hope and you will reach out to those who have been forgotten by their fellow men.

48. You shall speak harshly to no one, for that is not how he redeems himself. You will learn that the sinner is not reviled to punish his fault.

49. I tell you that if the beasts are spoken to with love, they humiliate their head.

50. If the one to whom you are speaking has some merits, tell him; if you find in him some virtue among many defects, do not talk to him about the defects but about the virtue to stimulate him and impel him to good.

51. Let it be love that guides you, so that you may become true messengers of the Divine Comforter. Because you, who have not rolled into an abyss, are always blaming, you are judging lightly, you condemn without the slightest mercy your fellow beings and that is not my Doctrine.

52. If, before judging, you would make a study of yourselves and your defects, I assure you that your judgment would be more pious. You consider those who are in prisons to be evil, and you consider those who are in hospitals to be wretched. You turn away from them, not realizing that they are worthy to enter the Kingdom of my love; you do not want to think that they too have the right to receive the rays of the sun, which was made to give life and warmth to all creatures, without exception.

53. These beings imprisoned in places of atonement, many are mirrors in which humanity does not want to look, because it knows that the image that that mirror returns to them, will often be that of the accusation.

54. But I say to you: Blessed are those of my laborers who know how to feel in their hearts the sorrow of those who live deprived of freedom or health, and visit them and comfort them, because one day they will meet again, either in this or in another life, and then you do not know if they have more health, greater freedom and light than those who took the message of love to a prison or a hospital, and then they will reciprocate with their gratitude, extending a hand to those who once knew how to extend it to them.

55. That instant in which you made my word reach their heart, that moment in which you passed your hand over their forehead and made them think of Me and feel Me, will never be erased from their spirit, as neither your face nor your brotherly voice will be erased from their mind, so they will recognize you wherever they find you.

56. Here, listening to my word, you forget for a moment the sorrows that afflict all men, and you put aside from your mind the ideas of destruction, of war and of death that threaten humanity.

57. Are you afraid of pain? Cast away sin, and sorrow will be able to do nothing against you. You will feel another pain, but it will no longer be selfish pain; it will not be yours, but you will begin to suffer out of love for others.

58. The spirit, when he rises, feels for his fellow men and the closer he comes to Me, and the more he loves Me, the greater is his love for his brothers.

59. I am teaching you to walk along the path that frees you from the anguish and suffering caused by human hatred and ambitions, teachings that for a moment you judge impracticable, but you will soon embrace it with faith; convinced that it is the only way of salvation.

60. You have not yet understood the meaning of my word, nor do you realize your mission. That is why there are those who, feeling spiritual delight when listening to me, prefer to move away for fear of making commitments with their Teacher and with their brothers. And there are others who say to me: "Lord, it is not possible that we can fulfill your teachings and your orders, because we are small and we are materialized; but do not deprive us of listening to your word. She's so beautiful! which, though impracticable, fills our hearts with joy and peace."

Love one another!

61. You little kids don't know what you're saying! You call my teaching impracticable, judging it impossible to realize, and do not take into account that you are listening to it through an impure human being, a sinner like all of you, to whom it was not impossible to transmit God's message to men.

62. What's more impossible than this?

63. Love your Father, have charity for your fellow human beings, turn away from everything that is harmful to your human life or to your spirit. This teaches you my doctrine. Where do you look at the difficulties and impossibilities?

64. No, beloved people, it is not impossible to fulfill my word, it is not she who is difficult, but your amendment, regeneration and spirituality, because you lack noble feelings and high aspirations. But, as I know that all your doubts, ignorances and indecisions will have to disappear, I will continue to teach you, because for Me there are no impossibilities. I can turn stones into bread of eternal life and I can make crystal clear water flow from rocks.

65. Get to the bottom of my word and you will no longer have to search for the truth. In the essence of this message you will find the flow of light that your spirit needs to possess.

66. Analyze my word so that you can feed on its essence; so that you can find my presence and feel my divine caress. When analyzing, try to go beyond the form of the word, and try to interpret everything that you find symbolic or allegorical, looking for simplification and spirituality in your analyzes, observations and studies; always thinking that tomorrow you will have to share this message to your brothers, to whom you will give it already analyzed, so that they understand it sooner.

67. Set aside every symbol and every material image in time, but preserve the meaning of them.

68. Understand how little value forms have, if you compare them with the eternal essence of the spiritual. Also try to penetrate little by little into this wisdom, so that the practice of my lessons does not seem impossible to you.

69. Gather yourselves, beloved disciples, for the time of your struggle has come and it will be short for each of you, if you take into account the brevity of your life on Earth.

70. Hurry up, you have a lot to do. Do not think that you lack something to be able to be my disciples in this Work.

Love one another!

71. In the Second Time I also chose my apostles; they were not wise, they were not luminous in human wisdom; they were simple fishermen of the sea, I made them sowers and fishermen of the spirit.

72. I also want you to become spiritual fishermen, so that you may carry my message of love to all hearts lost in the wide sea of passions and materialism in which humanity lives, and from there, from that sea, you may reach out and save everyone who is called by you in my name.

73. Then my message of hope will reach the heart of the fratricide, the murderer, the proud, the profane, the insensitive to the pain and misery of others, and in everyone my word will be fulfilled.

74. For now, and while you are preparing, pray for the nations and the peoples, pray for everyone, because humanity is treading on thistles and thorns, the same ones that it put before for others to tread on. It is the people who have prepared their abyss and then they will have to cry out for mercy, which they never felt for such a one.

75. But it is necessary to save, forgive and redeem, because in every man there dwells a spirit that will come to Me.

76. You are the first fruits of a people that will be the spiritual beacon of humanity. A new Israel that, once freed from its captivity, will rise up in pursuit of the highest ideal that exists in the spirit, and that is to come to dwell in the bosom of God, your Lord.

77. You are still far from being able to illuminate the path of your brothers with your example; but my voice, resonating in your conscience, encourages you to continue, not to faint, to persevere in the struggle, because only in this way will this people write its history in the heart of humanity.

78. The trials that you see daily present themselves in your life are the anvil where your spirit is being tempered, where your virtue will be strengthened and your faith will be strengthened.

79. Without proof, there will be no merit, without merit, there can be no reward.

80. Meditate on the trials that Israel went through in the First Time, consider its bitterness, its tribulations and needs and then you will understand why it was granted to reach the Promised Land, where for many centuries that people knew peace, healthy joy and communion with their Lord.

81. The happiness of that people on earth that was granted to them as a reward for their faith and perseverance was not eternal, because nothing is eternal in the world; but I tell you, in truth, that the new promised Land, the one that is the ideal of elevation of your spirit, that yes will be eternal, that yes will shelter you forever and will make you feel and know the spiritual life in all its fullness and elevation.

Love one another!

82. I bless each of these houses where you gather to pray and receive the bread of my word, just as I bless your homes; truly I tell you, it is no more any of these enclosures than one of your homes.

83. If you enter into recollection and respect here because you know that the place is destined to unite you in prayer to form the spiritual temple, I also tell you that your home is a second temple; because if the spirit forms his sanctuary in prayer, in the divine word, in meditation and in the practice of the Law, man finds a second cult in the home, where he receives affection, warmth, examples, teachings and advice. But do not confuse the home with the material house; it may disappear and be left out in the open, and yet your home will not have been destroyed as long as there is love, respect, obedience and all those virtues that the human family should treasure among you.

84. Nor can these enclosures constitute the true temple, since if you carry it in your spirit, you will be able to find the same here as in your home, in the city as in the countryside, under a tree, on the mountain, on the seashore or in the desert.

85. The temple of the spirit is everywhere, so it will only require your preparation for you to find it.

86. For now, continue to gather in these precincts; while you have need of it, do it, that my love, my charity and my complacencies will be poured out in your meetings, where I will allow my presence to be felt; where I will make the spirits reborn to the light and the sick feel the miracle of their healing by listening to my word.

87. My Arcanum is always ready to pour into you what you ask for, what you need, however, not everything must be done by your Father, you are living in a time in which the love of the Master must find an echo in the hearts of the disciples, so that the miracle is realized.

88. Be tireless in reviewing my word; she, like an invisible chisel, will take care of polishing the roughnesses of your character until she leaves you prepared to deal with the most delicate problems of your brothers. In them you will find penalties, atonements and restitution, the causes of which can be very diverse. Some will not have a very difficult origin to understand, on the other hand, there will be others that only with intuition, with revelation and with clairvoyance you will be able to discover, to free your brothers from a heavy burden. These gifts will only do these wonders when the one who puts them into practice has been inspired by charity towards his fellow men.

1. You come in search of the Consoling Spirit, because you have found no relief in your tribulations. You have gone to the doors of doctors and lawyers, to the hearts of the beings who love you, and you have not managed to regain peace, and you have convinced yourself that the balm or the light that you have been looking for, you can only find it at the source from which all good comes. You are all looking for the true path, you need spiritual sustenance, the word of encouragement and hope that comes to revive you, and as long as you achieve what you have been looking for, you make me aware of your concerns, your fear of divine judgment and the desire to find peace with your conscience.
2. You are in my presence, even though you feel far from Me. You are not alone in your pain, I accompany you, and if you call yourselves misunderstood, I tell you that I, the Father, know everything that happens inside you and that He will give you the solution you are looking for, the peace you need and the help so that you reach your elevation.
3. When you first came to hear my word, you tasted it and found it pure in its essence; you recognized that I was sending it to you, you have only doubted because of the way of communicating with man; but if you study it, you will recognize that I have not been mistaken, and that man, because he is my son, is qualified to serve as my instrument to carry out my designs in the service of his brothers.
4. I am calling men, women and children, to make them my disciples and while some believe, others doubt and distrust, that is because they have been deceived so much that today I speak to humanity taking as interpreters of my teachings the understandings of rude, simple and humble men, my manifestation seems strange to you. Recognize that my word is invariable in its truth, and that what I told you in the First Time, I ratified in the Second and confirmed in the Third.
5. All of you who hear my word in this way, have been prepared to feel and understand this manifestation of my Spirit, and you were only waiting for the moment when I called you, to witness these manifestations. I have not surprised anyone, since before I came to incarnate I told you that you would be present at these acts and that you belong to the number of beings chosen to bring the good news to the world.
6. The children of this time make me see their random path, they tell me that the environment in which they breathe is not the most conducive to spirituality and they ask me for light for their parents and teachers; in them, since childhood, a struggle has been initiated between spirit and matter, in which sometimes good and reason prevail, and sometimes the flesh overcomes.

Love one another!

7. Do not tell me that you are weak, if you carry the light of my Spirit, if I have endowed you with virtue and energy so that you can fulfill your duties; strive and use your power.

8. I have descended to all my children in search of their spirit, because it belongs to me, but not all of them want to follow me, most of them ask me for more time and tell me that for now they cannot come with Me, and I have given each spirit the necessary time for its fulfillment.

9. It is true that you have suffered a lot in this time and that you long to live a better life and the Father tells you: work out your peace and whether in this world or in the spiritual valley, you will find rest. This land that you inhabit is a place of atonement, of struggle, of perfection.

10. If you want to remember the life of Jesus in the Second Time, you will find it strewn with suffering, devoid of comforts and joys. He is the example, the model that is before your spirit, so that you may imitate him. But everyone who comes to Me will find relief, because I am the inexhaustible spring that pours out in torrents, from there take to water your plots. The lands are prepared for men to hasten to cultivate them; the fields are waiting for them before they become covered with weeds or noxious weeds, go and cultivate them, and when you see that the wheat has ripened, reap it together with the grass and later separate one from the other; that is why I am always telling you: watch and pray, because if you neglect, the weed will make greater progress than your seed, and its fruit will be the one that abounds on the day you harvest, make your fields golden so that you make your wheat penetrate into my granaries and the harvest will be abundant.

11. Humanity is hungry for my word, for my truth; men claim and long for the light to reach their understanding, they cry out for justice and hope for consolation. This is a decisive time; in truth I tell you that many ideas, theories and even dogmas that were held as truths for centuries, will fall to the ground and will be abandoned as false; fanaticism and idolatry will be combated and exterminated by those who were most involved and attached to them; the teachings of God will be understood, its light, its content and essence will be understood and felt.

12. Men of science, after a time of trials in which they will suffer very great confusions, when in their spirit the light is made and they listen to the voice of their conscience, they will discover what they had never dreamed of.

13. Again I say to you: watch, because in the time of the struggles of creeds and doctrines, of religions and sciences, many men will believe that knowing that they have been given books, will be the weapon with which they can defeat my new disciples, knowing that you do not carry books. When Jesus preached to the multitudes, He did not speak to them about teachings learned in books; however, he gave a chair of wisdom, proof of this he gave from his childhood, presenting himself in the bosom of the doctors of the law, to confuse them and make them mute with his questions and leave them amazed with his answers. The knowledge of Jesus came from the Divine Spirit, who revealed everything to him.

14. If any one of you cleansed his understanding, stripped his heart of evil feelings and low passions, and lifted up his spirit to the Father to give himself to Him in love and service to his fellow men, he would become a clean fountain that the Master would fill with his inspiration; he would be that man, like a clean glass on my table, which I would fill with the wine of life, so that in him those who perish might quench their thirst.; the one who prepares himself in this way will convince whoever speaks to him, he will console with his word, he will silence the vain, he will perform amazing works, of those that the world calls miracles and that are nothing more than natural manifestations of the love and faith of a high spirit.

15. When they ask you: Why, being such a great God, has he used an insignificant human being to manifest his wisdom? You will answer: God's love for His children has no limits, that is why he has used them to perform this miracle.

16. Being powerful, eternal, infinite and at the same time the Father of all created things, I can use and use all my creatures for my divine purposes. In my Father's love, I do not come to notice your littleness, your sin, I seek you for your humility. If you consider your human form too small for God to take care of you, who gave you that form, but Me? And when I became a man, was I not like you?

17. The echo of the voice that reaches your ears is that of the matter that interprets me as a spokesman in the moments of my manifestation; the word that reaches your mind and your heart is human, but the essence of that word is divine and therefore enlightens and comforts the spirit.

18. If I had come in human form to repeat my lesson of the Second Time, I would have stopped your spirit, and humanity would not have recognized me; but I, the Master of all perfection, take you step by step, always to the top of the mountain, teaching you new lessons each time.

19. To human eyes God is invisible and even his own spirit because it has no form or limits, that is why many when looking at you elevated in prayer, listening to me, doubt it because they do not know that the divine and the spiritual, apparently invisible to human eyes, is felt by the spirit and even by the heart.

Love one another!

20. He who truly believes in Me knows my voice wherever I speak to him. I am like a shepherd who is followed by his sheep and whom they always recognize by his voice. That is why in this time when I find myself speaking to you by human understanding, you have recognized the voice of your Lord. You have not stopped to judge the shortcomings of the spokesman, nor have you taken into account the mistakes that his rudeness makes him commit, you have understood that it is I who speaks to you. When you hear my voice, you will instantly recognize it to say: It is He.

21. It has always been the humble and the poor who discover my presence, because their understandings are not occupied with human theories that lead them away from clear discernment.

22. In the Second Time it also happened that when the coming of the Messiah had been announced, when He arrived, those who felt Him were the simple of heart, those of humble spirit and pure understanding.

23. The theologians had the book of the prophets in their hands and daily repeated the words that announced the signs, the time and the way of the coming of the Messiah, however, they saw me and did not recognize me, they listened to me and denied that I was the promised Savior; they saw my works and the only thing they knew how to do was to be scandalized, when in truth, all of them had been prophesied.

24. When the day came when the mobs, whipped by those who felt uneasy with the presence of Jesus, wounded and whipped him; and they saw him bleed like a mere mortal under the effect of the scourges; later, agonize and die like any human; the Pharisees, the princes and the priests exclaimed with satisfaction: behold, he is named the son of God, whom he believed himself king and pretended to be the Messiah.

25. It was for them, more than for others, that Jesus asked his Father to forgive those who, knowing the scriptures, were denying him, and before the crowds they were showing him as an impostor. They were the ones who, claiming to be the doctors of the law, in reality, when judging Jesus, did not know what they were doing, while there, among the mobs, there were hearts shattered by pain, before the injustice they were witnessing and faces flooded with tears, before the sacrifice of the Righteous. They were the men and women with a simple heart and a humble and high spirit, who knew who it was who had been in the world with men and understood what they lost when the Master left.

26. People: Also at this time the form of communication under which you have had my word will be misjudged, and also the doctrine and the revelations that I have made to you, will be denied by those who claim to know the form in which my return should be. They will not analyze my word, they will not seek its essence, nor will they take into account the wonders and signs that I have given you of my coming and of my truth, but they will take as a reason to deny me, the imperfect works that they find in this people, their profanations and disobediences. Then they will rise up saying: Is the one who told you that when the year 1950 came, he would stop communicating with you, the spirit of Christ? Can you say today that this demonstration will end and tomorrow proclaim the opposite? Because from now on I tell you that many will maintain that I will continue to communicate in the same way, when the year 1950 has passed. O beloved people, do you want to be the cause that tomorrow the world will mock you like this and deny what I have told you?

27. See how I am preparing you so that when the time of my departure approaches, you will not let darkness penetrate into your hearts, but I tell you that those who have truly felt and understood my word will turn away from the paths of confusion, to seek me in solitude, from spirit to Spirit. They will hear in their hearts the unforgettable and well-known voice of their teacher, who says to them: "Blessed are you who weep when contemplating the desecration of my Work, because you know that this has been the cause that many do not know it and that others mock it and deny it".

28. Pray and watch, disciples, so that you may continue to recognize my voice among all the deceptions that the world provides you and thus you will be led with love and care to the end of the path, where the bosom of the Father opens like a prison of infinite magnitude to keep forever those whom he raised with love and sent so that their merits on earth would make them worthy of the perfect abode.

29. When I tell you that it is Christ who speaks to you, there is no shortage of people who judge these who transmit my word as blasphemers; but this way of judging and analyzing is not strange, since their insensitivity to the spiritual prevents them from feeling me through the essence of my Doctrine.

30. Once, in front of the Pharisees, I said, The Father and I are one, and they also called me a blasphemer and turned to the scriptures, trying to prove that everything I said was false.

31. Today I tell you that whoever does not open the eyes of his spirit, will not be able to look at the divine light; because no one has been so tested as Jesus was.

32. The men questioned me, they tied ties to me, they sought to confuse me with their biased questions, they rebuked me to test my prudence, and not finding a way to lose me despite their efforts, they accused me, slandered me and judged me, to see how the one who called himself son of God behaved in that case; but they were not satisfied with all that; they also wanted to see if my body was bleeding and if it was formed of flesh and bone, and when Jesus stumbled and bled on the way, they tuned their ear hoping to hear my words. Complaints.

Love one another!

33. When I said that the Father and I were one: the spirit spoke; but when the body bled, it was the human part that issued the complaint, because it was living flesh.

34. The world asked me to show him my truth and the truth I showed him; but seeing, he did not look. My word and my works would have been enough to prove the divine power of those who had made them; however, that power was not attributed to them, but my death as a man was not the end of those tests. I went in spirit before my disciples, and there was even one among them who put me to the test and who did not believe in the resurrection of his Lord, until he was convinced by sinking his fingers into the wound in his side.

35. Then, when the seed of the word of Jesus spread from region to region and from nation to nation, unbelievers, skeptics, materialists, arose at every step, to continue subjecting my doctrine, my words and my works to their reasoning. But men have not concretized themselves to judge my truth only through my works and my Doctrine, but they have given themselves to searching my human nature, my formation, my birth, my childhood and how many steps I took on Earth. But neither did Mary escape that scrutiny, the holy and pure woman chosen by God to give the world the fruit of life. She also knew about the ridicule, judgments and trials of men; it was not enough for them that from ancient times the prophet Isaiah had announced her as virginal and pure. And even this is the time when men, through religions and sects, discuss and deliberate on It.

36. I tell you, as long as humanity does not shed its materialism, when judging the truth, it will not be able to look it head on.

37. I forgive some and others, but I advise you not to continue taking my words to confuse one another, to hurt you or to put you to death, because your judgment will have to be great.

38. If you deepen your arguments and come to hate one another because of your differences, when will you unite in the truth that is one?

39. Do not be afraid of Me, be afraid of yourselves, the master says to you: Did I judge from the cross those who sacrificed to me? Did Mary have reproaches or complaints in that infinitely painful hour? No, people.

40. I'm not judging you now either. Verily I tell you that each one forms his own judgment and his sentence is dictated; I want to free you from the pain, from the atonement, from the bitter cup, and for this I invite you to begin to love one another, because that is the path that will lead you to light, peace and truth.

Love one another!

41. If you still think that your sufferings are due to your first parents, you will be committing in your judgments a lack of understanding with your God.

42. In a divine parable, I inspired the first men to begin to have knowledge of their destiny, but the meaning of my revelations was misinterpreted. When it was spoken to you of the tree of life, of the knowledge of Good and Evil, from which man ate, it was only meant to imply that, when man came to have sufficient knowledge to distinguish between the just and the unjust and began to be responsible for his actions, from then on he began to reap the fruit of his deeds.

43. There have been many men who have accepted that all the tears of this world have been caused by a sin of the first settlers and in their clumsiness to analyze the parable, they have come to say that Christ came to wash with his blood every stain. If such a statement had been true, why, despite the fact that that sacrifice has already been consummated, do men still sin and also suffer?

44. Jesus came to earth to teach men the way of perfection, a way that he taught with his life, with his deeds and with his words.

45. You know that God said to men, "Grow and multiply and fill the earth." That was the primitive law that was given to you, O people; later, the Father will not ask men only to multiply and that the species continue to grow, but that their feelings be ever higher and that their spirit undertake a frank development and development. But if the first law was the propagation of the human race, how do you conceive that the same Father applied a penalty to you for obeying and fulfilling his command? Is it possible, people, that there is such a contradiction in your God?

46. Look at what a material interpretation men gave to a parable in which they only talk about the awakening of the spirit in man; therefore, analyze my teaching and do not say more that you are paying the debt that the first settlers contracted due to their disobedience to your Father. Have a higher idea of divine justice.

47. I have told you that every last stain will be blotted out from the heart of man, but I also tell you that everyone must wash away his own stains. Remember that I said to you, "With the rod that you measure, you will be measured" and "What is sown is reaped."

48. This is the time when you can understand me when I say to you: "Grow and multiply", that this must also be done spiritually and that you must fill the Universe with your good works and with high thoughts.

Love one another!

49. I welcome everyone who wants to get closer to Me, everyone who is looking for perfection.

50. Rest from your earthly toils, my children, penetrate into your interior, where the temple is, and meditate on my word.

51. I have destined you to spread the good on earth, which is true spirituality.

52. Do you feel incapable and small? Do you consider yourselves impure in order to carry out a mission of this nature on your spirit? For you do not know my wisdom and my mercy. It is that you do not observe with purity the examples that I give you at every step through Nature.

53. Do you not see how the rays, illuminating everything, reach the most infected pond, volatilizing it, elevating it to the spaces, purifying it and finally turning it into a cloud that will have to pass over the fields, fertilizing them?

54. Sometimes you say to me: "Master, how have you set your eyes on the humanity of this time, when there are no longer patriarchs, nor righteous, nor men who can be your apostles, if You see that we live in a world of mire and sin?" To which I reply that my power makes lilies sprout from the very mud from which no one could imagine that a flower of such wonderful purity would arise.

55. Let the sun of my word penetrate into your being, so that it may purify and elevate you, and soon you will rise up, fertilizing the hearts of your brothers.

56. Let in the midst of this life of sin and corruption that humanity lives, the purity of your works and the purity of your prayers arise, and truly I tell you that your spirit will then have nothing to envy of lilies.

57. I will speak in this way for a short time, a time that you will take advantage of as the plants of the fields take advantage of the favorable season to grow, bloom and bear fruit.

58. Truly, truly, I tell you, there is more love in repentant sinners than in those who have always considered themselves good. Thus, I will continue to speak and sinners will continue to repent of their faults and increase the number of converts.

59. The sinner's heart is more sensitive to the touch of love of my word, and there are many men who have sinned because they have lacked love in their life. When they have listened to my Father's voice, calling them, healing their wounds, understanding them as no one on Earth has understood them, they have soon felt the divine touch in the most sensitive fibers and have experienced the perseverance of their master before them.

Love one another!

60. This is how many men go around the world who are looking for a phrase or a redemptive light, a consolation for their grief. They are looking for someone who will excuse them, who will not point out their faults to them, who will tell them about a better life, but they do not find him in the world and then they close in on themselves, they become hermetic and they entrust their secrets to no one again.

61. Those hearts are only opened by the key of love, the one that I possess, and that I precisely come to entrust to anyone who opens his heart and tells me: Master, I want to follow you.

62. From the depths of the crowd's heart this question arises: Are You the Messiah? I only say to you: Listen to my word, penetrate into its meaning and seek its essence.

63. I speak the truth, I teach the way, I reveal the reincarnation that is the law so that the spirit is perfected and reaches the goal of its destiny. Do you doubt it? Verily I say to you, the truth in nothing is altered by your doubts; it remains the same.

64. I tell you never deny just because you don't understand. Think that if only what your poor mind understands were true, there would be nothing.

65. There are those who say to me: Master, if You know everything, if even before the creatures are, You know them, did you know that at that time Judas was going to betray you? Ah, rude understandings that you come even in these times to ask such questions. I know everything, that's why I chose him, because I knew that this man could not act otherwise, and it was essential that I use each of the imperfections of my disciples to deliver a lesson.

66. The one who betrayed his Master is a symbol, an open book that exists in every human consciousness, so that you can understand its meaning and listen to its teachings.

67. Know that in every man there dwells a "Judas". Yes, disciples, because in your case the matter is the "Judas" of the spirit, the matter is the one that opposes the light of spirituality from shining, the one that stalks the spirit to make him fall into materialism, into low passions.

68. But not because it is your matter that plunges you into the abyss, you are going to condemn it, no, because you need it for your advancement and you will overcome it with your spirituality, as I defeated Judas with love.

69. I see that you doubt the power of love, that you doubt the strength of faith; that you doubt the communication of my Spirit through human understanding; that you doubt even your gifts or potencies that you have not yet developed. What can you do with so much doubt? What wonders can you feel? No.

Love one another!

70. You are so obstinate in your skepticism and you are so strong in your doubt, that you do not allow the spiritual light to reach with its flashes to the bottom of your understanding. But when you become spiritualized, when you come to live life according to my teachings and according to my will, you will see arise from your being the powers that you denied and the gifts that you never thought you possessed.

71. Then, when you are spiritual and have purity and gentleness in your heart, you will see how all the elements of Nature will be kind and obedient to you, because your spirituality made you come into harmony with them.

72. When you have spirituality, you will never say again: "Father, give me sustenance, give me intelligence, give me material wealth." Much less will you fall into the error of saying to me, "Father, if you grant me what I ask of you, I will give you of what I have, whatever you ask of me."

73. Do you not believe, disciples, that this way of asking is tantamount to tempting your Father? Do you think that I can give you more and better, when you give to me? And what would become of you if, when you tell me to ask you for what you have, what I want, in exchange for granting you what you request, I withheld from you what you love most in the world? Would you resist any test?

74. No, disciples, it is high time that you let your conscience guide all your actions and thoughts.

75. Let your faith speak and heaven will answer you.

76. The Divine Spirit was found full of love, despite the fact that there was only Him.

77. Nothing had been created, there was nothing around the Divine Being and yet he loved and felt like a Father.

78. Who did he love? Whose father did he feel like? Of all beings and of all creatures that were to spring from him and whose strength was latent in his Spirit. In that spirit were all the sciences, all the elements, all the natures, all the principles. He was eternity and time. In It were the past, the present and the future, even before the worlds and beings came to life.

79. That divine inspiration became reality under the infinite force of divine love, and life began.

80. The universe was filled with beings, and the love, power and wisdom of the Father was manifested in everyone.

Love one another!

81. The bosom of the Lord was like an inexhaustible spring of life from that moment when He arranged for atoms to unite to form bodies and integrate beings.

82. First there was the spiritual life; first there were the spirits and then the material nature.

83. Since it was arranged that many spiritual creatures would have to take corporeal form to inhabit material worlds, everything was previously prepared, so that the children of the Lord would find everything arranged.

84. He sowed blessings on the path that his children would have to travel; he flooded the Universe with life and filled the path of man with beauties, in which he deposited a divine flash; consciousness and the spirit, thus forming love, intelligence, strength, will and conscience, but he enveloped everything that exists in his strength and pointed out his destiny.

85. The Father remained there, as the beginning of all that exists, and after offering himself to the Universe the path of evolution and perfection, he remained waiting for the return of all his children, so that in Him they would also find their end, which would be the perfection of the spirit and eternity.

86. That path traced to each element, to each creature and to each species, was the Law that the Creator wrote indelibly in his children.

87. Since then everything vibrates for the purpose for which it was created; since then everything walks towards perfection, constantly revolving around a mantle, a principle and a law.

88. The Father, in the likeness of the sower, took the elements of life that were in him, as if they were earth and there he deposited the seed of life that comes from his love, to wait for the day to gather a fruit as perfect as the seed and as the inspiration was.

89. The men of science of these times are overwhelmed to discover that their world has more time to live than the first scientists supposed yesterday, and when they believe that the Earth is a star in decay, close to going out, I tell them that it has lived so little yet, that it still has a long way to go to the extent of being able to shelter the generations of grace and spirituality.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 151

1. You have drunk from many sources, in the hope of seeing your thirst for love filled and at this time you are thirstier than ever. What did you do with the water of life that I have given you since that time?
2. I had said to the woman of Samaria, Whoever drinks of this water that I give, he will never thirst again. I tell you today: if humanity had drunk of that living water, it would not carry so much misery in itself.
3. Humanity did not persevere in my teaching and preferred to take my name to create religions according to their interpretation and convenience. I abolished traditions and taught him the Doctrine of love, and today you come to Me, to present to Me vain rites and ceremonies that in no way benefit the spirit. If there is no spirituality in your works, there can be no truth and what has no truth does not reach your Father.
4. When that Samaritan woman felt that the light of my eyes penetrated to the bottom of her heart, she said to me: "Lord, you Jews say that Jerusalem is the place where we must worship our God". Then I said to her, "Woman, truly I tell you, the time is coming when neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem will you worship the Father as you do now. The time is coming when the Father will be worshipped in spirit and in truth, for God is Spirit.
5. This is my doctrine of all time. Behold, having the truth before your eyes, you have not wanted to see. How can you live it if you don't know it?
6. That is why you have come thirsty before my presence; but when you have heard this word, your heart has felt the freshness of the water of life and you no longer wanted to move away from the source.
7. You have said to me: Lord, you have announced to us that this word that you give us today through these spokespersons, will have its limit, what should we do so that thirst does not surprise us again? The Master says to you: I have come to teach you to pray, to reveal to you the gifts that you possess and that you were unaware of, through which you will be able to practice my Law and imitate me. The one who has spirituality in his life, that one cannot feel thirst, fatigue, hunger, or misery. I also tell you: I will be closer to you after 1950, because of your spirituality.
8. So you ask me: How is spirituality achieved? And I tell you: you will reach it by praying from spirit to Spirit, trying to be just in all your acts, practicing charity with your brothers. When one lives in this way, the spirit is liberated and guides the steps of man, illuminated by the light of conscience; he ceases to feel alone on Earth because he understands that the presence of the Lord and that of the spiritual world accompany him. With each step he takes through life, he discovers a new light and obtains for himself a new knowledge. He ceases to feel like an outcast or miserable, recreating himself with the wonders created by his Father, which he now discovers by the gift of inspiration and revelation.

9. I also tell you at this time, that whoever drinks of the water that I give, which is my word, will never thirst again. As I also say to you, do not look for a certain place to pray, since in everyone you will be able to find me.

10. I have warned you of everything that can cause discouragement in your life so that you will not be discouraged for a moment in your journey. I have announced to you that the time will come when all religions will try to search this Doctrine and that by taking an interest in it they will judge it through your actions, words and testimonies.

11. You already know that you are going to be discussed and fought, that so many arguments will be used against the faith that you embrace, that many will timidly hide, others will become demoralized and the most, getting confused, will turn away from the right path.

12. Do not forget that I have already announced all this to you, but I must also remind you that those who persevere, despite all the obstacles and pray in silence without their faith and hope wavering, they will be like the little seed of the parable, the one that was saved from the hurricane, and that at the appointed time began to germinate, grow and then multiply to cover the lands, because he knew how to wait for the winds to subside in order to live and reproduce.

13. Would you not like to be the little seed of this parable, so that tomorrow you may have the glory of being called by your Father the children of faith as I called Noah? Do not be afraid, that the hurricane will not rise only against you. Just as you see that the peoples and the powers of the earth are arming themselves for the struggle, so also the different religions are preparing to give battle.

14. It is necessary that for an instant the heavens be closed to all, and that they only be opened again until a single cry rises from the Earth, recognizing that the Father of all beings is one.

15. I want you to understand from now on what will be the mission that you are going to carry out in the midst of that contest, a mission that not only includes the spiritual, but also corresponds to the material.

16. The Father's justice has touched this nation with his scepter, to give it power against war, injustice and falsehood. Its inhabitants have been anointed in their hearts and spirits,

Love one another!

so that war may be turned away from them. They have been prepared and laid low so that they may have patience, that they may not be frightened by sufferings, when desolation breaks out in the world and the lamentations of the inhabitants of the nations may be heard. Prayer will then rise from this people, the worship of their Father will be purified, the works of charity that they do in their path will multiply, because that will be the announced time in which all the lands will be propitious to receive this seed of love.

17. Anticipate the struggle with your preparation, develop your gifts, give shine to your weapons; do not shy away from trials because they give mettle and strength to your spirit.

18. Go cleansing your heart so that you will arrive at that struggle clean and prepared, then you will have nothing to fear. The spiritual forces and the elements of Nature will be on the side of all those who rise up as soldiers of my cause of love, peace and justice.

19. In this age I come to seek the hearts of humanity to teach them the way.

20. You, who still have traditions, remember my presence among you in the Second Time: you remember the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, you remember with love that time and you meditate on the meaning of some of those passages, and I say to you: I do not make my entry today into the blessed city, but into the hearts of all my children of good will. If you want to receive me as a guest, get ready and I will be with you. I have always loved you in the same way; my Spirit is unchangeable. Those of you who love me and long to follow me, contemplate before you the ladder that leads to Me. My way is known to all, your spirit knows that in order to reach Me, it is necessary to comply with all the precepts of the Law.

21. I want you to be clean in spirit. I am ready to overflow into everyone who prepares.

22. The righteous spirits who dwell with Me, contemplating my Work of the Third Time, lament the misunderstanding of the human heart. There are still those who doubt and put conditions to fulfill, but I will continue in my struggle, for love of you, calling hearts like the foolish pilgrim, in search of love and charity.

23. The way is one of sacrifice, but it leads to the summit of the mountain; come with Me and let us walk together; listen to the Word that speaks to you at this time, it is full of simplicity, but He will touch the sensitive fibers of the hearts of those who have died to the life of grace, and He will raise them up.

24. In the Second Time, twelve disciples were with Me at the Last supper; now I invite all humanity to take the bread of the spirit. I also offer you the peace of my Kingdom, because it is in Me to be able to offer you these graces. Whoever wants to follow me is welcome, but whoever is called by the world and wants to serve him, when looking for my way, will have to recover with great effort and pain, the time he has lost.

Love one another!

25. Serve Me and you will be at peace with your conscience. I will give you in addition what is necessary for your sustenance; while you are busy fulfilling your spiritual mission, my angels will watch over your assets.

26. I have seen how you are preparing, and truly I tell you, I will give you my body to eat and my blood to drink.

27. The spirit is willing to study the lessons that I gave you in the Second Time and whose explanation I am going to give you now.

28. This is the table where the bread of life and the wine of grace are found. The disciples surround me and in their hearts they ask themselves: Why, if the Father is with us, does he reveal sadness in his word? But among those who ask this, there are others whose spirit senses that the Master is going to say something serious to them; they are those who remember when the Lord dipped his bread in wine, to offer it to the one who was to deliver it.

29. When Jesus celebrated that Passover with his disciples, according to the tradition of that people, he said to them: I have come to reveal something new to you: Take this wine and eat of this bread, which represent my blood and my body, and do this in memory of me.

30. After the Master's departure, the disciples commemorated the sacrifice of their Lord by drinking the wine and eating the bread that symbolized the one who gave everything for the love of humanity.

31. As the centuries passed, the peoples divided into religions, gave different interpretation to my word.

32. Today I come to tell you how I felt at that hour, at that dinner, where every word and every act of Jesus was a lesson from a book of profound wisdom and infinite love. If I took the bread and the wine, it was to make you understand that they are similar to love, which is the sustenance and life of the spirit, and if I said to you, "Do this in memory of me," the Master meant that you love your brothers with a love similar to that of Jesus, giving yourself as a true sustenance to humanity.

33. Jesus not only gave you his word; his teachings and works were not just a parable or figurative sense; if his disciples, because they were doctrinaire, he represented his body and blood with bread and wine, the next day before a people, he gave his body and shed all his blood, to give to eat the bread of eternal life, that of perfect love, to all humanity.

Love one another!

34. Every rite that you make of these teachings will be sterile, if in your life you do not put my teachings and examples into practice; this is the difficult thing for you, but in this is where the merit exists.

35. Jesus taught you charity, meekness, love; he came to teach you to forgive your enemies from the heart; to tell you that you should flee from lies and love the truth; he showed you that both the evil and the good that you received you would always repay with good. He taught you to respect each one of your fellow men, and revealed to you the way to find health of body and spirit; to honor with your life the name of your parents, so that at the same time you can be honored by your children.

36. Here are some of the commandments to which everyone who really wants to be a Christian must conform.

37. In order for that teaching to ignite faith in hearts, I accompanied it with miracles so that it could be loved by them, and in order for these miracles to be more palpable, I performed them on the bodies of the sick, healed the blind, the deaf, the mute, the paralyzed, the possessed, the lepers and even raised the dead.

38. How many miracles of love did Christ perform among men! Their names were collected by history for the example of future generations.

39. Today I come to give you my word again, its essence is the same as the one I gave you in the Second Time. I come to speak to you with the same love; I come to show you once again the way to reach the Father; I come to teach you with the greatest selflessness.

40. Today I do not come to represent my body and my blood with bread and wine, nor do I come as a man to shed my blood and to give you my body on a cross; this is another time. Now I come in spirit, and it is to your spirit that I speak of his spiritual mission, because he is already qualified to understand the past teachings and also the new revelations. I am preparing my temple in your heart.

41. As a man I had a form, as God I have none; behold, there is no body in Me other than my truth, and no wine other than that of my love.

42. My Spirit, which is everywhere, is felt when you are ready. Know how to seek me and I will open before your spiritual gaze the veil of many mysteries; I will incline your heart to goodness; I will point out to you the path that you should follow.

43. How can you continue to think in blood and body, if it is the Holy Spirit who descends among you, if I come only to enlighten your spirit with my word, to sustain you and to shake your matter?

Love one another!

44. The voice of your spirit called me at this time, your elevation, your thirst for light, made me come closer to you.

45. Soon the disciples of Spiritualism will spread this teaching among humanity, as of the Doctrine that will inspire men to strive for the elevation of their spirit.

46. You will not form any more sects, only thought will unite you; your conscience will warn you when you are getting out of the way.

47. I have given you only one Law since the beginning of time, it marks a path full of clarity that is the evolution of your spirit.

48. At this time I will also be betrayed, sold and betrayed; the way, you do not yet know, but open your eyes and prepare yourselves so that you will not be the authors of such works.

49. What will become of the one who heard my call, whom I called a disciple, and then the world and his conscience will call him a traitor?

50. Watch and forgive one another, for my forgiveness is covering the whole universe.

51. On this day your heart has been beating strongly, it is that I have been in it.

52. Now that you are listening to my word, turn your thoughts away from earthly ambitions and rise up so that your spirit may be recreated and enjoy my presence. Keep the proper preparation, because the moment is solemn; the Father speaks to his children, and if the Father does it with so much love, why should the children not listen to him with all the respect of which they are capable?

53. Spokesmen: more than with your lips, make my Doctrine known with your spirit.

54. Golden pens: write my word, more than with your pen, with your love.

55. I want this message to awaken men from their slumber; I want humanity to be moved and shaken when it hears my teachings on your lips, or when it reads them in your writings.

56. My people will rise up giving the good news and spreading my message of this time. You will give proof of my truth, not only with your words, but by adjusting your life to the fulfillment of this Doctrine, in all your works. You will affirm that the reincarnation of the spirit is one of the great truths that humanity must know and believe. There are those who intuitively sense, accept and believe in it, as something that could not be missing in my loving justice towards men; but there will also be many who call you blasphemers and liars; do not be afraid, the same thing happened to my apostles when they preached the resurrection of the dead taught by Jesus; the priests and magistrates put them in prison for preaching such teachings. Later, the world accepted that revelation, even though I can assure you that it did not come to understand the full importance of that teaching, since it was necessary that I should come at this time to teach you that the resurrection of the flesh can only refer to the reincarnation of the spirit, since this is the principle and the reason for life, which in truth is eternal.

Love one another!

57. For what purpose should the dead bodies be resurrected, when they were only the temporary garments of the spirit?

58. The flesh descends to the earth to be confused with it, there it is purified, transformed and arises back to life incessantly; meanwhile, the spirit continues to rise, continues to move towards perfection and when it returns to Earth, it is for him a resurrection to human life and it is also for his new envelope a resurrection to the contact of the spirit. But the material does not have an eternal nature and instead the spiritual does, so I tell you once again that it is your spirit that I seek, that I teach and that I want to take with Me.

59. At that time I said to Nicodemus, who had sought me out in good faith to speak with Me: That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the spirit is spirit. Do not be surprised if I tell you that it is necessary to be born again. Who understood those words? I wanted to tell you with them that a human life is not enough to understand a single one of my lessons and that in order for you to understand the book that this life contains, many existences are necessary for you. Hence the flesh has to serve only as a staff to the spirit in its transit through the Earth.

60. The spirit receives from matter the impressions it collects in life; the greater its sensitivity and preparation becomes, the greater the harvest for the spirit. The body is only the instrument, the performer, the staff and the crucible.

61. Life in this world is a constant lesson and a picture of the eternal life of the spirit. I'm talking about its harmony, its beauty, its perfection.

62. Here is one more of my lessons, people, but so that you may understand it better, analyze it with your spirit rather than with your mind.

63. You have prepared your heart to await my arrival, I am in it your guest.

64. The veil of mystery and silence has been broken, from here you can look at the lights of the Kingdom and listen to the voice of your Father. Your spirit has been washed in the purifying waters of pain. Who is the one who has not cried? Who has not known bitterness?

Love one another!

65. You yearn ardently for peace and in your prayer you say to me: Lord, may the wars in the world cease and the peace of your Kingdom come to us.

66. You are beginning to feel the mission that I gave your spirit from the beginning, you are that people that I have chosen to speak to and entrust to him the mission of bringing peace and the light of truth to the peoples of the Earth. You are also part of that ungrateful people who did not want to recognize me in Christ and other men recognized me better than those who said they were waiting for me.

67. You have cried a lot because of your materialism and your ingratitude, so now you watch over peace, and you pray that men will love each other. In your silence you wonder how it was possible that you had not discovered your Lord in Jesus, how it was possible that you took him to the sacrifice and had the strength and courage to see him die; how it was possible that you did not mourn him when even the sun hid his face to make men understand his blindness. Do not be surprised that you have been capable of those mistakes, here you have me in another form and it is very possible that there will be those who will deny me again.

68. There is no peace on earth, not even in those days that you devote to remembering the passion of your Lord, and I ask you: What have you done of the reincarnations that I have entrusted to you? What about the life of your fellow human beings? You have only let the times pass and you have given your life and your ideals in the wrong way; you have wanted to be lords, but in reality you have been slaves of the world and of sin; you dream of immortality and you do not walk towards the eternal, but to death. I, who am the resurrection and the life, have raised you up again and again so that you may live the true life.

69. Truly I tell you, this fratricidal and selfish world, I will subject it to judgment, and I will acrisolate it until I see that love and light spring from it and these who today lead their peoples to the abyss, these who now sow and propagate all vices; these who have created their kingdom of injustices, will be to whom I will give as restitution to fight temptations, destroy perversity and cut down the tree of evil by the roots. You, the people, who did not know Moses, who sacrificed Jesus, persecuted Elijah and put to death the prophets, the apostles and the disciples, will also enter into this judgment.

70. I propose peace to the world, but the arrogance of the nations magnified with their false power and their false splendor, rejects every call of conscience, to let themselves be carried away only by their ambitions and hatreds.

Love one another!

71. Man does not yet incline to the side of good, justice and reason; men still rise up judging the cause of their fellow men; they still believe that they can do justice. Don't you think that instead of judges, they should be called murderers and executioners?

72. The men of power have forgotten that there is one master of all lives and they take the life of their fellow men as if it belonged to them; the multitudes cry out for bread, justice, home, clothing. I will do justice, not men, nor their doctrines.

73. Man has always wanted to see me as a Judge, he has never been able to raise a throne for me as his King, or an altar as to his God; he has only been able to make a tribunal, because I tell you that from that Divine Tribunal, I am judging each of your works.

74. In their arrogance, men have wanted to subdue Nature itself and its elements without realizing that they will become judges to punish human pride and recklessness.

75. What the prophets spoke will be fulfilled at this time; my new word will come before philosophers and theologians, many will mock at it and others will be scandalized, but when that happens, their astonished eyes will contemplate the fulfillment of the prophecies that I have now announced to you.

76. I have only come to teach you to love the good, and if I have come to this, it is because I know that in the world you have revered evil, whose strength has sprung from your imperfections.

77. I long to speak to you in a different way, not correcting mistakes, nor claiming faults, but giving you a chair of high wisdom and profound revelations, but this will be when you find yourselves outside that body that binds you and that world that imprisons you. People, who are listening to my voice, do not stop your steps in this desert, remember that in that First Time you gave the world of all ages an example of faith, perseverance and strength crossing that desert bristling with trials, obstacles and enemies, until you reached the ideal you were pursuing: the land of promise.

78. Imitate that example, imitate yourselves, because you are part of that people. At every step I encouraged the faith of my children and in the end I rewarded their fidelity. Truly I tell you, I have prepared a new manna for your spirit and that again the rock of the desert will flow with water in the hour of trial.

79. With songs and praises to the Lord, the crowd made their journey less painful; at this time prayer and good deeds will make you not feel the roughness of the road, you are already crossing the last desert, have courage and faith, conquer the summit with your works of love.

Love one another!

80. Beyond this world there is a valley to which you will all penetrate in spirit, who does not have a loved one there? Who would not like to contemplate him again, someone whom he remembers as a father, as a mother, as a brother, as a son, as a husband or wife, or as a friend?

81. Today your memories, thoughts and prayers, are voices that those beings hear in their abode, tomorrow spirituality will unite you making you all inhabit one world, fulfilling the precept that tells you: "Love one another".

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 152

1. It is a day of remembrance in which the different religions gather the crowds hungry for the word of God. See how each of them commemorates the passion of Jesus in a different way.
2. A day of remembrance in which the human heart, separated for a moment from material pleasures, senses that its destiny does not end in this world, but, like Jesus, it will have to cross the street of bitterness in this life, to rise to the right hand of the Lord.
3. How few there are who, without rites or representations, know how to revive in their hearts the passion of the Master! You, spiritualists who listen to me through the human understanding, do not expect me to come to relive that drama in the form of a materialization, I will only grant you that through my word you remember the works and teachings that I gave you in those hours. Again the disciples are with Me and I have said to them: Watch and pray, be alert to the lurks of temptation, see that the flesh is weak.
4. If at that time I told you that I was going to give you a new commandment when I said to you, "Love one another," today I tell you that this commandment is still the first and the last.
5. I said to my disciples in the Second Time, "Very soon you will not see me, because I am going to the Father, but soon I will be among you again, because I will send you the Comforter, the Spirit of Truth." And here I am, disciples of the Third Time, fulfilling my word and my promise.
6. When the hour was approaching and the supper was over, Jesus had made the last recommendations to his disciples. He went to the Garden of Olives, where he used to pray, and speaking to the Father, he said, "Lord, if it is possible, take this cup away from Me, but first, Your will be done." Then the one of my disciples who was to betray me came, accompanied by the mob that was going to seize me. When they asked, "Who is Jesus, the Nazarene?" Judas went up to his Master and kissed him. In the hearts of those men there was fear and confusion as they contemplated the serenity of Jesus and they asked again: "Who is Jesus?" Then, coming forward to them, I said to them, "Here I am, I am." That's where my passion started.
7. They brought me before popes, judges and governors; they questioned me, tried me and accused me of violating the law of Moses and of wanting to form a kingdom that would destroy Caesar's.
8. How many hearts that days before had admired and blessed my works, forgetting them, became ungrateful and joined those who blasphemed against Me, but it was necessary that this sacrifice be very great so that it would never be erased from the heart of humanity.

Love one another!

9. The world, and in it you have seen me blasphemed, mocked, and humiliated, as far as no man could have been; but I hastened patiently the cup that you gave me to drink. Step by step I fulfilled my destiny of love between men, giving everything to my children.

10. Blessed are those who, despite seeing their God bloodied and panting, believed in Him.

11. But something even greater awaited me; to die nailed to a tree between two thieves; but it was written and so it must be fulfilled, so that I would be recognized as the true Messiah.

12. When from the top of the cross I directed my last glances at the crowd, I contemplated Mary, and I said referring to John: "Woman, behold your son" and to John: "Son, behold your Mother".

13. John was the only one at that time who could understand the meaning of that phrase, because the mobs were so blind that when I said to them, "I thirst," they believed that it was thirst for the body and they brought gall and vinegar to me, when it was thirst for love that my Spirit experienced.

14. The two evildoers were also dying together with Me and while one blasphemed and sank into the abyss, the other was illuminated with the light of faith, and despite seeing his God nestled on the ignominious tree and about to expire, he believed in his Divinity and said: "When you are in the Kingdom of Heaven, remember me", to which I replied moved by so much faith: "Truly I tell you, today you will be with Me in Paradise".

15. No one knows the storms that were stirring in that hour inside the heart of Jesus; the elements unleashed were only a weak reflection of what was happening in that man's solitude and the pain of the Divine Spirit was so great and so real that the flesh, feeling weak for a moment, exclaimed: "My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?"

16. If I taught men to live, I also came to teach them to die by forgiving and blessing, even the very ones who reviled and martyred me by saying to the Father, "Forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."

17. And when the spirit was leaving this dwelling, I said, "Father, into your hands I commend my spirit." The perfect lesson had concluded, as God and as man had spoken.

18. But here you have me a people, as I promised you. I do not come in matter, that is, in flesh, but in light, and I tell you: The time when, in order to sow my seed, it had to be watered with blood, has passed, but in exchange for it, how much you will have to purify and prepare yourselves.

Love one another!

19. Inspired by the light of the Holy Spirit, you will go step by step sowing this Doctrine, making the deaf hear it, making the blind contemplate it. You will suffer like the Master ridicule, slander and humiliation; you will be mocked by your own, but you will not falter; for at once you will remember that the son of the Most High, being all power and wisdom, did not shy away from the trials of men, in order to prove his truth to them.

20. This is why I say to you every moment: take the spiritual and moral strength for your struggle at my word, because whoever is strong in spirit will also have to be strong in matter. And I can also tell you that sometimes you will even come to sacrifice, as I taught you through Jesus in the Second Time.

21. Watch and pray, people, not only for material dangers, but also for the lurking that your eyes cannot distinguish, those that come from invisible beings.

22. The great legions of troubled spirits, taking advantage of the ignorance of humanity, its insensitivity and its lack of spiritual sight, make war on it, and men have not prepared their weapons of love to defend themselves from its attacks, so before that fight, they appear as defenseless beings.

23. It was necessary that my Spiritual Doctrine should come to you, to teach you how you should prepare to be victorious in that contest.

24. From that invisible world that pulsates and vibrates in your own world, influences start that touch men, whether in their mind, in their feelings or in their will, turning them into submissive servants, slaves, instruments, victims. Spiritual manifestations arise everywhere and yet the world still does not want to notice what surrounds its spirit.

25. It is necessary to engage in battle, to destroy the darkness, so that when the light is made in men, all of them will rise united in true communion and with prayer they will triumph in the struggle they undertake against the forces that have dominated them for so long.

26. Men and peoples have succumbed under the power of these influences without humanity noticing it. Rare and unknown diseases, which are produced by them, have brought men down and confused scientists.

27. How much discord, how much confusion and pain man has accumulated over himself. The lack of prayer, morality and spirituality have attracted impure and troubled beings, and what can be expected of those who have left without light and without preparation?

Love one another!

28. There are those whom you have deceived and oppressed, whom you have confused and humiliated. Only confusion and darkness can send you, only vengeance can exercise and only claims is what they come to do to you.

29. Now call me a sorcerer and a sorcerer because I am speaking to you about these revelations when it is not I who have made them, but it is you. I only come to save some and others from darkness, pain and death, because I am the light that shines before men and before the legions of troubled spirits. Who will recognize me first?

30. In the Second time, having freed a possessed man, those who looked at that said that Jesus had a covenant with the spirit of evil; but the spirit that tormented that man spoke to me, saying, I know you who you are, the Holy One of God.

31. However, there were also those who marveled at these works, saying, With what authority and power does he command unclean beings and do they obey him? They didn't know that this gift is in everyone, that you all carry these weapons. Later, my disciples repeated the works of their Master, thereby demonstrating that Christ came to teach men, that he came not only to show his power, but to reveal to humanity the gifts and the power that all possess.

32. Pray, the Master tells you, prayer gives luster and shine to the weapons of love, with which you must conquer peace for humanity; it awakens the faculties, the spirit is sensitized, the gaze becomes penetrating and the heart sensitive.

33. People: I have taught you how to get rid of and defend yourselves from invisible stalks, how to cure yourselves of strange diseases and how to get rid of bad influences. More truly I tell you that only prayer and virtue can serve you, as I have already revealed to you, to get ahead of these trials. If you invent other practices to replace them, you will be victims of such influences, and instead of making light on your path, you will increase the darkness. Then the world will rightly call you: sorcerers, sorcerers, when I have given you a precious gift to make light and peace in all needy spirits.

34. When will you be able to turn all that world of darkness, suffering and turmoil into a world of peace? When will you know how to attract the light of the high spiritual abodes upon you so that you may penetrate in harmony with all your brothers, into the abode that I have destined for you?

35. Because of the teaching that I have given you in my word, real miracles have been performed among you. Spirits awaken to a new day, hearts beat full of hope. Those who could not see the truth, because their ignorance was like a blindfold covering their spiritual eyes, now that they see, they are amazed. The sick of the body are healed by receiving in their being, in their heart, the essence of my word.

Love one another!

36. Then, a thanksgiving arises from the most intimate, from the purest of this people, for the works that I do in them and they tell me: "Thank you, Lord, because you have made us worthy that these miracles be performed in us".

37. When these men and women have risen up strengthened by my word of love, consolation and wisdom, they have gone to meet their brothers and have done wonders on their way, many times without realizing it.

38. With their faith they are saving hearts; with their testimony, they are dispersing the darkness and awakening those who were lethargic; with their intuition, they are solving life's problems and with their strength they know how to resist trials. His hands are learning to anoint the sick, his mind is finding a way to analyze my word and he delights in it; his prayer is helping them to develop their gifts that were numb and thus, walking step by step, they are achieving that their Lord sows wonders on their way.

39. The precincts where my word has manifested itself have multiplied, each one of them being like a school of true knowledge, where the multitudes that form my disciples congregate, who arrive eager to learn the new lesson.

40. If each of these congregations were to bear witness to all the benefits they have received from my charity, they would not have finished bearing witness to these wonders. And if you had to put together in a book all that I have said through all my spokesmen, from the first of my words to the last of them, it would be a work that you could not carry out.

41. But I will make available to all humanity, through my people, a book in which the essence of my word and the testimony of the works that I have done among you are contained. Do not be afraid to undertake this undertaking, because I will inspire you so that the indispensable teachings are established in this book.

42. Do you believe, peradventure, that what my apostles of the Second Time wrote, was all that I said on Earth? I tell you the truth, no. Look at what John, my disciple, tells you: "There are so many works that Jesus did, that if each one of them were written, I think that there would not be enough books in the world that should be written for it".

43. Look, disciples, how I inspired them too, at the moment of writing, and let them remember what it was essential that it remain as a testimony for future generations.

44. In this Age I have come to you by raising my word once more from the dead to the life of grace. I call you that, because in your being you carry a spirit that has not known how to feed on the bread of life and therefore has not understood that he belongs to eternity.

Love one another!

45. I came to see the fruition of the word that I gave to the world in the Second Time, and I find that evil has continued to flourish and bear its bitter fruit among humanity. I am looking for the trace that my sacrifice should have left in the heart of man, and the blood I find is the one that has been shed by men in their fratricidal wars, sinful blood in some, innocent in others, but that always speaks to me of hatred, of low passions, of spiritual darkness, of death.

46. This is the world you are going to face, O people; but do not be afraid, because the spirit of this humanity has evolved a lot and if you know how to give advice with words that come from your heart as I have taught you, you will see their eyes open to the light and embrace you in their arms with love and charity.

47. These times must be of preparation and meditation, people, because if you do not take advantage of them now, you are going to sigh for them.

48. You must perform many works so that you will be prepared to rise up to preach my Work; you must reach the complete regeneration of your entire life so that, when the one who hears the Doctrine that you are going to preach, comes to your home, or follows your steps to search you, he will only find purity and truth in your works.

49. If you long to show the world the greatness of the Doctrine that I have taught you in this time. Think that first you must become like clean mirrors that can reflect light. Do not always rely on the eloquence of your language or the greater or lesser ease of your word. Truly I tell you, the most beautiful words will never have the force of conviction that a good deed has, no matter how simple it may be.

50. Beloved people, this is the third day on which I come to raise my word from the dead. This is the Third Time in which I appear to the world in a spiritual way, to tell it: this is the same Christ that you saw expire on the cross, who now comes to speak to you because He lives and will live and will be forever.

51. On the other hand, I see that men, despite the fact that in their religions they claim to be telling the truth, lead a dead heart to faith, love and light. They believe that by praying in their temples and attending their rites, their salvation is assured, but I tell you that it is necessary for the world to know that salvation will only be achieved through the realization of works of love and charity.

52. The precincts are only the school, the religions must not only concretize to explain the Law, but to make humanity understand that life is the way where it must apply what in the divine Law I have learned, putting into practice my Doctrine of love.

53. The one who only listens to the lesson, the one who has been content to attend the lecture, to the teaching and already believes that he has fulfilled his duty, is in a grave error, because if he learned the lesson that was revealed to him and did not put it into practice, nor did he comply with his Teacher, nor with his brothers, nor even with himself, he was just a disciple who, having believed he understood the teaching, forgot the most important thing about it, that is to put into practice love, forgiveness, charity, patience, faith and everything that is good it contains and advises a divine lesson.

54. Beloved people, learn to be the last, so that you may be the first before Me. I love you humble of heart, simple and virtuous. Do not let yourselves be seduced by the false glories of the Earth, which only serve to divert the spirit from the true path, or to park it, making it waste precious time for its spiritual advancement. Always look for the place where you can be most useful, always preferring the one that makes you appear as more remarkable.

55. Do not be vain, nor frivolous, do not love the first places, as the Pharisees did, in order to achieve lordship before the people and that they would honor them.

56. The truly high spirit is not stained by such miseries, because he is repulsed by ostentation, flattery and flattery. Whoever fulfills the Law of God by applying it to spiritual and human life, it is enough for him and he still has plenty with the peace that he receives from his Lord after each of his works.

57. To seek the best places, the looks and the compliments, is to love oneself before everything else, and that is to be very far from the fulfillment of God's Law.

58. Did I not say to you, you will love God before all creation? That is the meaning of the first precept. Did I not say to you, Will you love your fellow men as brothers? That's the second thing you should do. See then how your self-love must be the last and never the first.

59. That is why I called those Pharisees a hypocrite, who claiming to be the most zealous in the service of God, always sought to be the first in the synagogue, they enjoyed receiving the homage of the people, always trying to cover their body with very good finery to hide under them all their iniquity.

60. I don't want to call you hypocrites. If you do not feel clean, at least be discreet; but do not boast of cleanliness, because it would be very sad if someone who was already believing in your wisdom and virtue, discovers the truth and sees that your testimony was false.

61. May sincerity and truth always be in your actions.

62. May humility always be in your life, the Master asks you.

Love one another!

63. Then you will see how true virtue will dwell in your heart, you will notice it when your right hand has done a good deed and the sinister one has not even noticed it.

64. Tell the world that it is not necessary for Christ to come to be born and to die before each generation so that you can be saved, that my word of the Second Time is still alive, touching all spirits and calling the hearts of each generation.

65. I am giving you my new message so that he will make it easier for you to understand all the previous revelation.

66. I have returned among men to accompany them in their present trials. The Master says to you: do not be anxious when you know the signs of my new manifestation, but rejoice, because I have allowed you to feel these teachings.

67. Just as in the Second Time, after the sacrifice, I presented myself in spirit to Magdalene and she, surprised and at the same time full of joy, exclaimed: Lord, praised and glorified be you forever! Now I have appeared before you, when you thought that the Master was absent or indifferent to your hardships, and after your surprise you have blessed me. You have received my light in your spirit and after receiving so much grace, you have remembered your brothers and have interceded for them saying: I am blessed to hear your word, while others ignore these teachings and the Master tells you: I have manifested my Spirit in all nations, in different ways, those who have prepared recognize that they are living a time of grace and justice and have felt my presence.

68. Just as I forgave Magdalene, I forgive all of you, but I want you, like her, to become worthy of Me.

69. How many examples worthy to be imitated, you can collect from your brothers of other times! His work is like an open book. And don't you want to leave your example written? I will take your works that I find worthy, to present them to your descendants. You will not gather, today that you live in matter, glory or veneration. Be humble and let others value your works.

70. In the great journey that awaits you, I will be your Cyrene.

71. My Doctrine will cause great revolutions in the world, there will be great transformations in customs and ideas and even in Nature there will be changes; all this will signal the entrance of a new era for humanity and the spirits that I will shortly send to Earth, will speak of all these prophecies to help the restoration and elevation of this world, they will explain my word and analyze the facts.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 153

1. Again the Master appears among you to give you his teaching of the Third Time.
2. Truly I tell you that your faith in my communication through human understanding will sustain you in the trials of your life because my word will accompany you everywhere. Do not be like some of those who were with you listening to me, those who, tired of hearing me, left without having come to know the inheritance they carried with them.
3. The moment will come when you will all have to answer for what I entrust to you.
4. You present, with your perseverance, are manifesting your will and determination to follow in my footsteps; I contemplate how the love that existed in your heart towards my Divinity, increases with your elevation and practice of charity.
5. I am the Father's love that speaks to your spirit, filling it with peace. My word purifies you, because it reaches to the innermost depths of your being. She is salvation because she leads you away from evil ways, to offer you the way of truth and through her, when you are listening to me, you reach ecstasy, all forming one heart and one will.
6. I am speaking to all humanity, making the call for regeneration to the sinner, to the one who is inveterate in vices, because I also have reserved for them a place among the ranks of my soldiers.
7. My word, eternal and universal, by humanizing itself through the speaker is limited, but never loses its essence of perfection. My word does not hurt or punish; why believe that I punish, when it is man who sows his way with thorns, and then passes over them?
8. Recognize that everything that exists lives within a Law and that whoever turns away from the right path by disobeying the commands that govern you, is instantly judged by the Law, so that he recognizes his error.
9. Observe for a few moments the Universe that surrounds you and you will admire the harmony, the obedience and precision with which all kingdoms and all beings fulfill their destiny. Do you think that my Work would be perfect if everything created did not obey a single Law? You who are my masterpiece, are endowed with free will, will, intelligence and all the powers that make up the spirit, so that through the merits achieved with the development of your virtues, you will come to conquer spiritual perfection, in which state you will experience peace, bliss and find the full light that I have prepared for you to reach the Promised Land.

Love one another!

10. The way that leads to the right hand of the Father is so narrow and straight that He himself became man in Christ in order to trace to the human spirit the path of perfection, with the traces of his sacrifice and of the blood shed for Him.

11. That path, which is the law of love, will not be erased by human ideas, because for every spirit the moment of his redemption comes and he finds it only in God.

12. Today you are listening and tomorrow, when I no longer manifest myself in the same way, you will follow me along the paths of the world, imitating me. If you come to have a moment of weakness, my word will surprise you on the way and by remembering my teaching of love, you will find salvation, continuing your mission of loving your brothers and sisters.

13. At this time, I have come to you intangibly and invisibly and you have only perceived me with your spiritual sensitivity. I have tried your faith in this way; I have granted you many manifestations by which you have affirmed your belief. Your spiritual eyes have been opened and your senses are awakening to understand me and then testify.

14. If your lips have not spoken of my truth, if your heart still doubts, the spirit loves me and believes, he is eager to reach Me and in his prayer he asks me for light to convince matter, strength and patience to bend it. There is still no unification between spirit and matter and many times you have been overcome by the whims of it, putting your faculties and will at its service, but that is why I have come today to feed it, to make it strong and to give it back its inheritance.

15. I have always sought the spirit and told him about eternal life, which is his purpose. He belongs to me and that's why I claim him. I have put him on the path of evolution and restitution, because it has been my will that he rise by merits and that with them he be perfected. The wrapper has a short time to live, once its mission is fulfilled it gives me its tribute, and the spirit follows its route without stopping.

16. Today is the time of greatest restitution for the spirit. My judgment has been opened and the works of each one have been put in a balance; if that judgment is great and painful for the spirits, next to them is the Father who is Father before Judge and who loves you. You are also enveloped by the love of Mary, your intercessor.

17. My children are waiting for me in the midst of the chaos in which they live today; knowing that I am coming, they are afraid because they have violated my Law, and when I approached them and asked if they recognized me, they answered me like this: "Lord, I forgot your commands, I descended into materiality and I was confused, but today that your voice is calling me, I am going to amend myself and guide me with your light".

Love one another!

18. And when I came to you, who form the chosen people, to ask you to receive me into your bosom, the holy spirit answered quickly: come to model and perfect our being with your teaching. And while the spirit knows his destiny and accepts it, matter interposes and the struggle begins between you, in which you will make the necessary merits for your salvation.

19. A long time ago I announced to you the events that you have watched take place. I said to you: Watch and pray because the day is coming when war and other calamities will be unleashed, and your unbelieving heart was saying to me: Father, will it be possible for you to allow war between us, if you have manifested your love, gentleness and forgiveness? When I announced these events to you, it was so that you would prepare yourselves and pray for all humanity, so that you would enter into a life of recollection and contrition, and in the bosom of your home you would make peace and practice my Doctrine. All this I asked of you so that the pain would be mitigated, I did not mean by this to tell you that in this way you would avoid what was written, but I granted you to be intermediaries between the world and my Spirit.

20. And everything that had been predicted appeared in the year of 1939. Strong nations overpowering the weak; stronger ones uniting to fall on the former, and the war advancing, destroying everything in its path and sowing pain. The prayer of some of my disciples was this: "Lord, we hope that this word will not be fulfilled." Others waited for the facts to believe. And my word has been fulfilled and today you ask me if all danger will have disappeared and I tell you that this peace that you see today is apparent, that what has happened is only the beginning of the pains that will afflict the world.

21. You are still fragile, my disciples, because having my word, you still doubt. My Father's spirit awaits the resurgence of humanity. Each one of you must be a teacher of this teaching in the bosom of his home, so that when the day of trial comes, you will be prepared and you will be strong. Look close to you at the reluctant hearts that have made you cry and in your suffering you have said to me: Why are you testing me in the bosom of mine because of your Doctrine? But I tell you, that brother of yours who has not understood your ideal, will be converted by your patience and charity and will later be your best friend and confidant.

22. Those who are to hear my last words are already approaching; in a short time they will penetrate into the essence of my Doctrine. Give them the best place, heal them and do not stop them on their path of evolution. When you see that their gifts are developing in haste, let them advance, and their arm will help you to hold the cross, and you will all take steps forward.

Love one another!

23. O beloved Israel, on whom I have poured out my word time after time, you have not yet understood how much I love you! Many times you have been moved by hearing my word and by receiving my wonders you have promised me that you would follow me to the end. Bless you. Trust in your Father who is always watching over you. You do not inhabit a world of perfect peace, but in it you will be able to glimpse the Kingdom promised to your spirit. My love is with you. Seek Me as a Father and not as a Judge. You don't want to meet before my court. Prepare your spirit, so that when you come before Me, there will be peace and satisfaction in you and joy in my Spirit.

24. At all times I have manifested myself as a Father. In the beginning of the world I spoke spiritually to men, they saw me coming down many times to advise or correct them. I spoke to Adam, and he listened to me with humility. I went before Abel and how much grace I found in that creature; but I also drew near to Cain, because I love everyone, the righteous and sinners. I sent great spirits who carried my light, to teach and reveal the Law and the divine commandments, but how few knew how to awaken their spirit and listen to the voice of their conscience. Some, when they sinned, knew how to repent, but others recoiled before the severe and inflexible law of Jehovah. But my Law was in everyone, and although my light illuminated them, I saw that there were more who sinned, that evil had grown and had caused much harm to the spirit; then I allowed a great purification to take place. Only Noah and his family survived and they were the seed, the beginning of a new world. I made a covenant with the righteous man and the iris of peace appeared, as a sign of a covenant.

25. Soon the descendants of those fell back into temptation; the hearts that had received an inheritance of love, became insensitive and hard, it was necessary for their redemption, a palpable example. Christ then became man and dwelt among you. He ate of your bread, lived and suffered the rigors of your life. He did wonders to make himself recognized, he showed you the way, you lived close to Him and contemplated his passage through the world and when he had reached the end of his mission, how few were prepared to contemplate his ascension, to understand his sacrifice and march without hesitation along the path traced with his blood of love and forgiveness.

26. Today I come for the second time as a Teacher; my gaze is looking for those who will follow me, those who will prepare to speak to the world of my coming as a Consoling Spirit; but with pain I contemplate the tender and innocent hearts that have become hard; the crying has been so great, that it has dried up the fountains of the eyes of men, there is no love for Me, nor pity of one for another, and my Spirit of Father suffers for humanity. My gaze stops at each heart and I only receive the pain that you have collected through this time.

Love one another!

27. The Master says to you: You have not been able to take advantage of the gifts that I have granted you, but the time will come when you will understand this teaching better and feel very close to Me and you will thank me.

28. Pray, watch and intercede for the world and when the time of struggle comes, arise and spread my light, pour out strength and comfort, put away diseases, do wonders, so that when you reach the end of your journey you will come to Me full of merits and present yourselves in peace before my tribunal.

29. But how long will this people realize the spiritual mission they have before the other peoples of the earth?

30. I have told you not to want to be more than anyone, nor pretend to be before anyone; however, your destiny is great and even the very nation that lends you its shelter has to fulfill its rightful part in this Work.

31. I have come to teach you so that you may give the good news to your brothers so that when the moment comes, you may take my message to the other nations; but I see you still sleeping, without you foreseeing the great scope of your mission.

32. Do you want it to be pain, misery, illness, hunger, that wake you up from your lethargy?

33. The chalice that you drink is very bitter and the chains that you drag are very heavy. You are still the captive people of Pharaoh. The more you yearn for your freedom, the greater are the jobs imposed on you and the greater is your tribute. How far will your bitterness go?

34. It is necessary that those who are awake, shake the others out of their lethargy, those who are still asleep, and tell them that the Lord, as at that time, is waiting for them on the mountain, to make them hear his Father's voice and teach them the way that leads to freedom and peace; but both of you must understand my word very well, because if not, you will ask yourselves: Who is Pharaoh? What is the slavery I am being told about? On what mountain is the Lord going to speak to us? Where will the path that He is going to point us will lead us?

35. But it is necessary that you learn to analyze the figurative sense in which I am speaking to you, so that later you can explain it to your brothers without falling into confusion.

36. The environment in which you live, which at this time envelops you, is the Pharaoh of this era; it is saturated with selfishness, hatred, greed and all the sins of humanity.

Love one another!

37. The chains are your needs that force you to submit to the reigning selfishness, injustice and even perversity.

38. The mountain where I am waiting for you is in the conscience of each one of you, which I want to be heard in your heart, because my Law is written in it.

39. The way is the route that will lead you to conquer the desired peace and that freedom that you long for, which is the fulfillment of that same Law.

40. Do you now feel the significance of your mission? Pray, people, that your nation will awaken to my call. Watch, so that when the crowds are looking for you, you will be able to go out to meet them, stimulating them with your example.

41. Analyze my teachings, disciples, come and listen to my word because these times will not return. Today you can still hear me through the understanding of the spokespersons, but this time will pass and a new phase will present my Work to you.

42. Take pleasure in listening to my teaching and store it in your heart; make of your memory a chest that keeps the essence of my lessons as if it were a jewel of inestimable value.

43. Today that I have returned among you to the amazement of some, the unbelief of others and the faith of others more, you are waiting for the Master to tell you about the teachings he gave you in times past.

44. Hear me: God, from the beginning of human life, manifested Himself to man as Law and justice. The Divine Spirit materialized before the smallness and innocence of the first creatures, making them hear his humanized and understandable voice. The sensitivity of those beings awakened, until they knew how to interpret the Father through Nature; when they lived in obedience, they experienced the divine caress through everything around them; they also knew of the stumble and bitterness, which indicated that they had failed before their Lord. I made the light of conscience shine in them, which was to be in the day, the beacon, the judge and the consolation. Instinctively the first men knew that that invisible Father always commanded the good, and that this order constituted the law in which they should live. You called that inner light "The natural law".

45. Later, when man multiplied and in his multiplication forgot to comply with that law, ignoring the voice of his conscience and turning away from himself all fear, the Father, who had followed the son in his exile, sent him men endowed with a high spirit, because of their virtue and wisdom, to remind them of the way from which they had strayed.

46. Do you not remember the righteous Abel, whose blood I still claim? He died with his offering.

Love one another!

47. And to the fervent Noah, who, enduring the ridicule of the people, announced the will of his Lord until the last moment? They, by their actions, reminded you of my existence and my Law. Then I sent you an Abraham, an example of obedience and infinite faith in his Lord; a virtuous Isaac and a faithful Jacob, full of strength, to form the trunk of the tree from one of whose branches Moses, the one whom I sent to represent me and deliver my Law to men, was to sprout.

48. In Moses humanity contemplated a reflection of my majesty, saw in him justice, righteousness, unshakable strength, faith, obedience and charity. If you saw before the weaknesses of his people that he angrily broke the tablets of the Law, finishing receiving them from the Father, you also know that I restored them in his hands instantly, to make you understand that only one divine Law will govern you in all times: that of the invisible God.

49. When times had passed over humanity and it needed to know its Father more deeply, He, tireless in his work of love, sent his prophets into the world to announce to humanity that he would come to Earth to become a man, to make him feel his love and teach with his birth, his life and his death, what a perfect life is; but while some believed in my prophets, others doubted and put them to death, with whose sacrifice they prepared my way.

50. The word of my messengers shook the hearts of those who sinned, for they announced the arrival of Him who would expose falsehood with his truth. While the men were saying, "God counsels good, perfect works of love, forgiveness and justice, because he is perfect, but we humans cannot be", Jesus was born.

51. It was the same God who came into the world to give His Law and his teaching through a wrapper. Today you would like to know how the body of Jesus was formed, to which I say to you: You must be content to know that that body was begotten and conceived by the work of the infinite love that I have for you. From that moment Jesus began to hurry the cup of bitterness that he had to drink to the end, he went through all human vicissitudes, enduring trials, knowing about work, persecution, man's long days, thirst and loneliness, feeling the passage of time on his body and contemplating human life closely with its virtues and its miseries, until the moment came to get up to speak and do powerful works.

52. Then I let men come to listen to me, to look at me, to scrutinize me materially and spiritually. I let the man drill my body in search of the divine until he contemplated my bones, and my side opened to gush water. I let the world turn me into its prisoner, into its king of mockery, into a spoil, and thus lead me to the scaffold carrying the cross of ignominy on my back, where the thieves were waiting for me to die with Me.

Love one another!

53. This is how I wanted to die, on my cross, to teach you that I, your God, am not only the God of words, but also of works; but those who saw me die and contemplated my agony and heard my last words, said, How can the Son of God die? How is it that being the Messiah, we have seen him fall and heard him complain?

54. One more test the men were asking for and in my love I gave them to them. If I was born as a man from the womb of a holy woman, to pay tribute to human motherhood, I also went down to the bowels of the earth to pay tribute to her womb and conclude there my mission as a man. But the bowels of the earth could not keep that body that did not belong to them, but to the bosom of the Father from whence he had come and to him he turned.

55. Now I say to you: if, when you saw Christ dying on the cross, you doubted his divinity, you can tell me: What man, on the third day after he died, left his tomb without violating it and ascended with his own body to Heaven? No one. I did it because I am life, because neither in spirit nor in matter could I die.

56. The doubt was not only among the mobs; even among my disciples there was one who doubted that I could present Myself among them after I was dead; that was Tomas, who said that only by sinking his fingers into the wound in my side, he would believe that it was possible. I had not finished saying it when I made him hear my greeting: "My peace be with you", and he still had the strength to come closer and look at the bottom of my wound and touch it with his hand, to believe that the Master had really died and risen.

57. Blessed are those who believe without having seen before. Yes, my children, because true faith is also a gaze that contemplates what neither the mind nor the senses can discover. Only faith can reveal to man some of the mysteries of Creation.

58. And He who rose from the dead is coming at this time in a spirit full of glory to speak to you again.

59. Who of those who inhabit the Earth today, know that a new era has opened before humanity? Surely only those who have heard this word know that in 1866 a new time was born: that of the Holy Spirit.

60. Through the understanding of Roque Rojas, the spirit of Elias, the forerunner, spoke, who communicated in this way to prepare the way of the Lord.

61. Through that righteous man, I opened the book of my teachings, of my new revelations to humanity, inviting it to take one more step on the way.

62. I have come at this time on the cloud, that is, spiritually and invisibly to human eyes. That cloud is the symbol of the afterlife, from where he sent a ray of light that illuminates

Love one another!

these understandings by which I communicate. This has been my will and that is why it is a perfect work. I know man and I love him because he is my son, I can use him because I created him, because that's what I made him for; I can manifest myself in man because I formed him precisely to glorify myself in him.

63. Man is my one and only true image because he has life, intelligence, will and powers like his God.

64. Before manifesting myself at this time in this form I searched the hearts of men, I asked those who feed their spirit within different religions: Are you satisfied? To which they replied, We are hungry and thirsty for you.

65. They had searched a lot for the image and the face of their Father without finding it, they waited for that miracle and the miracle was not realized, they had not found a bread that really fed their spirit; but I had prepared this tree, this fountain and these lands to make the call to the multitudes hungry and thirsty for peace, eager for love and to feel loved, and when they have come to my presence, they have heard this word, which manifests itself in the same way in all the enclosures that exist and is, every time it vibrates, the sweet touch of the hand that awakens the sleeper and the friendly voice that advises.

66. After listening to me for some time, you have understood that you cannot be the worshipers who only live in contemplation, and you have said to me: Lord, by eating this fruit that you have given us, we have contracted with your Divinity the duty of cultivating its seed and spreading it.

67. When you feel that your Master is still carrying his cross of love on his back, you weep and come to tell him: Lord, let us carry your cross, let the gall and vinegar be drunk by us. And I tell you, just as you have asked, so it has been. Don't you see how heavy your mission has been in recent times? Don't you see how bitter this time has been and that what you have never suffered you are living now? Continue to show this conformity and pray.

68. I have chosen you humble, because if I spoke through the mouth of wise men, theologians and scientists, it would not be believed; instead, through the simple, I will surprise humanity. Who has brought such large crowds? You, one and the other, because you have known how to bear witness. Here are those who said to you, "How is it possible that Christ is in the world?" And those who exclaimed, It is not possible for the Master of all perfection to communicate through a man. Here are those who doubted your words and promises.

Love one another!

69. People: If Jesus with his blood watered the seed that the Father sowed in the First Time in the hearts of men, today my Divine Spirit pours the dew of his grace on those fields to make them fruitful.

70. The day of my departure is approaching. My stay among you at this time has been longer than that of the past times. Longer than I was with Israel in the wilderness, longer than Jesus lived among men. Who of those who have listened to me in this time has felt poisoned by this word? Who is the one who, because of her, has lost himself in vice or confusion? Truly I tell you, if she has not done you good because you have not given her room, she has not caused you any harm either.

71. Remember that I once told you: I did not create you to be like parasitic plants. I do not want you to be content with doing no one wrong; I want you to achieve your satisfaction by having done well. Anyone who does not do good while being able to do it has done more evil than the one who, not knowing how to do good works, decided to do evil, because it is the only thing he could give.

72. Thus has He spoken to you this day who, having died for the world, rose again to the glory of the Father to come to you in the spirit in this Third Time.

73. Behold, my resurrection on the third day, when Christ appears to his new disciples to tell them:

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 154

1. The light of my Spirit illuminates you in this dawn of grace.
2. My teaching and examples of the Second Time have not been understood by humanity, because instead of love for one another, I find division between peoples and strife between different doctrines, sects and religions. I came to give you an example of humility, from my cradle, until I atone among you, on a cross. My life, my examples and teachings and my sacrifice, have not been imitated by men.
3. That page of the book of God was a teaching for all time; in it I left everything that at that time I had to tell you, I could forget nothing. I announced to you that I would return among you, and here I am, fulfilling my promise. But I contemplate your troubled world, men trying to change the face of the planet with their beliefs and doctrines; but today I come full of love to tell you: If you have not understood the teachings of the Second Time, I am here to help you with my word to understand them.
4. Listen: One day Jesus approached the bank of the Jordan and there he found John the Baptist teaching his disciples, announcing to them the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven. The forerunner of the Second Time, contemplating the light of his gaze, the serenity of his face and the divine majesty that Jesus radiated, recognized the Messiah and bowed before Him. John, who was preparing his disciples and had heard about the Doctrine that Jesus had been teaching, had told them, "The Kingdom is coming to men," and when he found himself in front of the Redeemer, he instantly recognized him and exclaimed, "There, that is the One of whom I am not worthy to tie the straps of his sandals."
5. But since John was my prophet and my servant, his teachings were united to mine and his disciples were also mine.
6. On another occasion, finding Jesus in the vicinity of a village, he sent his disciples to look for food to feed themselves, and when they returned, they found John's disciples preaching; then, coming to the Master, they said to him: "Lord, Lord, we have found some men who preached a doctrine and do wonders. Is this within your law?" Jesus said to them, "Why are you being scandalized? Everyone who practices charity is within the law."
7. Today I say this to you, disciples of the Third Time, so that you may not judge outside my law those whom you meet on your way, sowing love, charity and light, whatever the name of the doctrine they practice.

Love one another!

8. At that time I was not recognized by everyone as the Divine Sower; for many I was just a Galilean who preached on Earth. Only those who found in the word of Jesus the voice of Divinity, recognized Him as a Son of the Most High.

9. The one who manifests himself among you today is the same one who spoke to you in the Second Time, but what men contemplated then is not the same now; that Teacher, with a serene forehead, with a gentle look and a sweet word, comes today in spirit and speaks to you through man.

10. Whoever wants to feel and contemplate me under this form of communication, let his mind and heart penetrate calmly.

11. Many of you have lost your peace of mind, but when contemplating the peace and trust of your brothers, you have taken refuge in them, in their faith and in their hope, desiring to reach the port of salvation. So you will help each other.

12. At this time I will form a people who will be zealous for my Law, loving truth and charity. That people will be like a mirror in which others will be able to see reflected the mistakes they have made. He will not be the judge of anyone, but his virtues, works and fulfillment will touch the spirit of all who cross his path, and will point out their mistakes to all who violate my Law.

13. When this people is strong and numerous, they will attract the attention of their fellow men to themselves, because the purity of their works and the sincerity of their worship will have to surprise humanity; then men will ask themselves: Who are these who, without having temples, know how to pray in such a way? Who has taught these multitudes to pray, worshiping their God, without them feeling the need to raise altars for their worship? Where did these travelers and missionaries come from who, like birds, do not sow, reap, or spin and yet subsist?

14. And I will tell you, this poor and humble people, but jealous of my Law and strong against the passions of the world, has not been prepared by any man. These multitudes who enjoy doing good, who are enlightened by inspiration and know how to bring the message of peace and the drop of balm to their hearts, have not been taught by teachers or ministers of any cult on Earth, because truly I tell you that, at this time there is not a single man in your world, who knows or who could teach the cult of God, under true spirituality. It is not in the splendor of rites or ceremonies, nor in wealth or earthly power that the truth lies, because it is humble, it seeks as a temple to clean, noble, sincere hearts, lovers of the pure. Where are those hearts?

15. A large part of this humanity is named Christian, without even knowing what the word Christ means, nor knowing its Doctrine.

Love one another!

16. What did you do of my word, of my examples, of my Doctrine that I gave you at that time?

17. Are you currently more evolved men than those of that era? Why don't you show it with the works of your spirit? Do you believe that this life is eternal or do you think that you should only evolve by human science?

18. I came to teach you the true fulfillment of the Law, so that you would turn this world into a great temple where the true God would be worshiped, where man's life would be a constant offering of love to his Father, whom he should love in each of his fellow men, thus paying tribute to his Creator and Teacher.

19. And now that I'm back to men, what do I find? Lies and selfishness have replaced truth and charity; pride and vanity, instead of meekness and humility; idolatry, fanaticism and ignorance, instead of light, elevation and spirituality; profit and desecration, where only zeal and righteousness should exist; hatred and the unleashed war between brothers have replaced fraternity, peace and love.

20. But I will come to my temple to drive out the merchants from there, as I did in the Second Time in the temple in Jerusalem, and I will say to them once again, "Do not make the house of prayer a market house." I will teach men so that each one knows how to officiate before the true altar, so that they will no longer be confused, nor will they be lost in ignorance, due to the misinterpretations they give to my Law.

21. The Master tells you: the minister is the spirit, the altar being the heart, prayer is the high thought, and the offering are the good works that you can present.

22. When you feel that charity and love for your brothers and sisters form your true life, how can the world not understand that the heart is not just an insensitive organ and that the spirit is more than matter? How can he not understand that inspiration is more valuable than the images that man has forged to represent the divine, and that the good deeds with which you bear witness to my Law are more meritorious than the most valuable earthly goods?

23. Verily I say to you, if you want to save your faith and thus prevent your spirit from sinking in this tempest, you must spiritually build your temple. Let my Kingdom descend into your heart, against its light no one can fight. Then you will see when the whirlwind passes, how the indestructible temple will rise invisible, but strong and great, whose foundations will be in your heart.

24. Behold how at this moment the world is illuminated with the diaphanous light that radiates from my Spirit. The light helps you in your progress and understanding and with it you achieve peace.

Love one another!

25. Light and love are born from the heart, peace is in the spirit as a reflection of eternity.
26. My word is sweet, but do not be weary of it, for I will find your hearts empty by taking pleasure only in material joys. That is why I come to you often, to make your heart beat with a different rhythm by getting in touch with the divine, because you always get lost from the path of your fulfillment.
27. Why have there been and are there men who, having come to know human science with the use of the faculties granted to them by the Creator, use it to combat and ignore divine science? Because their vanity does not allow them to penetrate with humility and respect into the arcanum of the Lord and they seek their goal and their throne in this world.
28. From among sinners I will select those who will serve me at this time; my power will vibrate in them and I will transform them with my grace.
29. Reconcile yourselves with your conscience so that you may be forgiven for it, because as long as you think you are in preparation and do not listen to the inner voice that points out your mistakes, there will be no communication with Me and idolatry will absolutely disappear.
30. At this time I speak to you as a Father and as a Judge, but do not be afraid, that even in the divine there is the love and tenderness of a Mother whom you call Mary.
31. My beloved children, feel love for Her. I listen to the prayer that springs from your spirit to exalt it, because you know that your lips are clumsy to do so, because you consider them impure and prefer to close them.
32. But I ask you: Is there anyone who has not received a caress from the Heavenly Mother? Truly I tell you that all of you, absolutely all of you, enjoy His love.
33. See those who were lost yesterday, now they are climbing the heights of the mountain; today you can be among the scum and soon, through my grace and your merits of patience and charity in this time of spiritual crucible, they will also make you rise above all misery; do not forget that pain is the creator of the spirit.
34. The spirit and the envelope, are forming a harmonious being, aware of their spiritual and human duties. You have witnessed the evolution of the doctrines and in your meditation you have come to understand who is the Creator of all the beauty of your world, because there is no fog in your mind anymore.
35. You live in peace because you seek to be in harmony with your God and peace is a treasure for the spirit in this world, it is experienced after having fulfilled all the duties to the Father.

Love one another!

36. Try to live always experiencing that satisfaction so that at the moment of your elevation from this valley to the other, your spirit does not take away any earthly concern, or pain for lack of fulfillment.

37. You cannot get tired of doing good, since you are doing it to yourself. Speak of my teaching with love and my word will blossom in hearts.

38. I am preparing you and filling you with wisdom because I have already told you that after 1950, you will no longer listen to my word by human understanding, and whoever does not take advantage of my lessons, will feel his heart empty and will wander like a dead man. Why do I eat dead? because spiritually and morally he will feel decayed and in his trials he will not find the strength to overcome himself and perceive my divine caress.

39. It is up to you to bring those brothers of yours back to life, turning them away from materialism and persuading them of the great grace that spirituality contains.

40. After 1950, I will continue to express myself by the inspiration of each of you. If you know how to prepare yourselves, I will do wonders. I only ask that your faith be at least the size of a mustard seed and you will see my word fulfilled.

41. Speak and give charity without fear of being censured, it is necessary that you reach out your hand to your fellow men, without distinction, because you do not know who are the ones who suffer the most inwardly. You will see many times how your brothers, when listening to you, will rejoice and give you palpable signs of gratitude.

42. Invite them tirelessly to the path of good and already on it many sorrows will depart from them.

43. The manna will descend on the New Jerusalem.

44. I will ensure that there is freedom of creed and speech among you and that there is justice, so that when men of other nationalities penetrate among you, on their return they will carry in their hearts a present of love and kindled an ideal of fraternity and justice.

45. After 1950, humanity hopes for true peace, but I tell you: it is necessary that the exterminating sickle continues to mow the weeds, until the fields are clean and the ear of wheat can shine.

46. You will see from this world, notable leaders who are obstacles to peace, and the nations that opposed divine justice, will disappear to make room for new peoples that will arise right there.

47. Pray, that you may deposit your seed of peace already; unite yourselves as one heart and one thought and you will feel my presence very close.

Love one another!

48. Fulfill the command that I have left you in two times: "Love one another."

49. Just as the Promised Land was divided to the people of Israel, so the whole Earth will be divided to mankind. This will happen when the weather is favorable, after debugging. As it is my will that I make this distribution, there will be justice and equity in it, so that all men can work together in the same work.

50. Today the peoples eat the crumbs from the table of kings and lords, while they enrich themselves by accumulating the bread of their servants and vassals; but the beggars of the poor being hard, these are not as bitter as the delicacies that the great eat.

51. One and the other are victims, that is why it is necessary that I come to set you free, to break your chains, but it is also necessary that the slavery and devastation caused by the plagues increase, because otherwise men would not want to follow the one who comes to save you. Do you remember the cup that Israel drank when in Egypt she groaned in slavery? It was necessary for Moses to arise in order to lead him to liberation. Do you also remember when the people were in captivity and humiliated in their own homeland, and how the other nations were when the Messiah appeared on earth to teach them the way of salvation?

52. Also in this time, it will be necessary that before liberation, people should know the narrowness, misery, oppression, injustice, hunger, thirst, so that at last they may rise up wishing to find another life that is better.

53. When this humanity divests itself of its materialism and begins to recognize how far it has lived from my Law, it will say from its heart: How foolish and clumsy we men have been in voluntarily surrendering to passions, and then being slaves to them. There is the mountain from which the Father has shown you his Law, go up the path that I have pointed out to you; the Land of Promise is with its doors eternally open waiting for the multitudes, to whom he is bringing peace and blessings.

54. When man has descended to the bottom of the abyss and tired of fighting and suffering, he no longer has the strength even to save himself, he will marvel at how an unknown force emerges from the bottom of his own weakness, from his despair and disappointment, which is the one that emanates from the spirit, which realizing that the time of his liberation has come, flapping his wings he will rise from the rubble of a world of vanities, of selfishness and of lies to say: there is Jesus the repudiated, He lives, in vain we wanted to kill him at every step and in vain. every day; he lives and comes to save us and give us all his love.

Love one another!

55. That will be the hour when man will recognize that in order to achieve true spiritual greatness as well as a high life on Earth, there is no other Law than that of God, no more Doctrine than that which I gave you in the word of Christ.

56. Analyze your conflicts, study the problems that afflict you, and then put into practice my commandments and my maxims, and you will see how in them humanity can find the solution of all the problems that afflict it; but since you do not feel able to put into practice the words and the examples that the Divine Master gave you, it will be necessary that the pain that is also a teacher, comes to you to persuade you, of many truths, to sensitize you and also to bend you.

57. You ask me: Perhaps your word does not have enough power to persuade us of our mistakes and save us, avoiding us having to go through the crucible of pain? And I tell you: My word has more strength than you could have imagined, but if the one who listened to me would be transformed instantly, without effort, just by the fact of having listened to it, what merit would that have on your part?

58. It is necessary that the one who listens to her, puts faith, will, effort and love. Then there will be a great merit, whose prize or reward will be that of not feeling pain, because he has taken my Law and my Doctrine as a weapon.

59. Multitudes who are listening to me: Do you not feel the presence of my Law upon your spirit? Do you not feel that your heart, when you hear my word, pulsates with a new life?

60. Pray that you will understand, and watch that you will put my teachings into practice, because in this bitter and difficult hour for humanity, you have great responsibilities.

61. If, despite the great vicissitudes that afflict you, you do not lose that atom of spirituality that you have managed to achieve, you will see real wonders and wonders being realized on your way, with which your Father will encourage you in the hard day.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 155

1. Many of the lessons that I am giving you at this time seem new to you because they remained forgotten by you, but this is the time when I will show them to you again. I have prepared for you a great countryside in which I invite you to come and sow the seed of eternity that is the one I am giving you.
2. I come to prepare my new disciples, who will come to attain, through their faith and charity, power over diseases of the body and spirit, power over the elements and also over the spiritual world.
3. Understand that these are no longer the times of ignorance; now you live in the times of understanding and the great practices of my teaching. Can you imagine how far you would have already come, if from the earliest times, you had practiced my lessons and obeying my commands? But for a long time you have slept and also for a long time you have given yourself to satisfying matter with pleasures and all this has parked you on the path of spiritual evolution. Therefore, now that I have come before you, with my new spiritual lesson, it seems strange to you and out of your way of thinking, feeling and living. But it is enough for you to meditate on one of my lectures so that you recognize the truth of my word, then you see that my Doctrine is not strange, but rather, what is strange is your way of living.
4. Come to my countryside, for here I will remind you of everything you had forgotten. I will erase everything that you should not keep as a spiritual seed and I will show you everything that you have not seen so far. In a single step, I will make you get out of the stagnation in which you were immersed to make you penetrate into a new life, into the one that you should have lived from the beginning.
5. Do you see how humble this word is that blooms on the lips of the spokesmen? For verily I tell you, she, in her simplicity and in her poverty of form, will lead men to the understanding of wisdom that through the sciences and with the help of theologies, they had not come to understand.
6. The good disciples, the persevering, the faithful, will be the great analyzers of this Doctrine. They too will be humble, but in spite of their simplicity they will amaze their brothers with the light of the word.
7. My people should not speak only with their lips, but they will preach my teachings with their works, teaching how my Law is fulfilled and respected, they will know how to give without selfishness, whatever they have received from their Lord, they will show their zeal, for the truth and purity of the treasure entrusted to them.

Love one another!

8. Teach your brothers, with pure and high good deeds. Think that from here you must purify your spirit, so that when he passes to another dwelling, he will be worthy to be in it and will not be disturbed, nor lost.

9. You have the necessary strength to move away from your path everything that obstructs your way, you already know that the weapon that conquers everything is love. Very great will be the joy of the one who emerges triumphant in that human struggle, and presents himself as the victorious soldier after having won that battle.

10. Remember that it is I, who has given you the weapons and that I have not limited myself to just that, but I have also taught you to fight to win the battles.

11. What then do you have to look for in other ways, when I am giving everything to you along the path of truth?

12. I have come to open the understanding of the clumsy so that they can be recreated with the interpretation of my word. I have come to open the eyes of the blind to the light of truth, so that they may be cleansed from their sins by feeling loved by their Lord.

13. Was it not prophesied to you from the earliest times, that the day would come when every eye would behold his Father? For the one who is clean will see me and that will be his reward and the one who has a stain on his heart will also see me and that will be his salvation. He who opens his eyes before my light, penetrates the mystery and knows why. He knows the beginning and the end. That one will have to walk firmly in the future.

14. Interpret my teaching justly, do not think that my Spirit can enjoy seeing your sufferings on earth, or that I am coming to deprive you of everything that is pleasing to you, in order to enjoy myself with it. I come to make you recognize and respect my laws, because they are worthy of your respect and your compliance and because obeying them will bring you happiness.

15. I taught you to give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's, but for today's men there is only Caesar and he has nothing to offer his Lord. And if you at least gave the world what was right, your penalties would be less; but the Caesar that you have put in front of your actions, has dictated absurd laws to you, has made you slaves and takes your life without giving you anything in compensation.

16. Study how different my Law is, which does not bind the body or the spirit; it only persuades you with love and guides you with gentleness; it gives you everything without interest and selfishness and rewards everything and compensates you along the way.

17. Understand, disciples, study my lessons so that you may know that I want to form with you a people in whom the Father places his trust, because they will be prepared to carry out great missions. A people who are not afraid at the first sound of alarm, a people who knows how to go to meet the one who calls himself their enemy and who knows how to forgive, love and instruct him.

18. So I want you to be prepared for the day of my departure. You all know that 1950 is the date appointed by my will, to stop communicating by the understanding of the spokesman and since my word is always fulfilled, that day I will close my communication, which marked for you the beginning of the Third Era.

19. You will not try to change that date, nor will you try by any means to retain the manifestation of my word in that form, nor that of the spiritual world. From now on I tell you, those who did this will no longer be illuminated by the light of the Master.

20. But why should you fall into such profanation, when I have announced to you and promised you, that after this time, you will communicate with Me from spirit to Spirit, even though you have not been pedestals?

21. I also tell you that those whom I have called and donated as prophets of this time have the mission of preventing the multitudes, of not letting them sleep. To them I will reveal great lessons to help you not to fall into temptation.

22. I am speaking to you very clearly, even using the figurative sense, because I know that this way you will be able to understand me better. In the Second time, when I spoke to the crowds, I often did it through parables so that they would understand me, but when I only addressed my disciples, I did it in simple language, but profound in its teaching.

23. Therefore, understand that when I speak by means of parables and use the figurative sense, it is so that the last, the clumsy of understanding or those who still have little evolved their spirit, reach to understand the full meaning of my teaching; when I make revelations to you without using the figurative sense, they are directed to those whose development and knowledge of spiritual lessons, allows them to understand better.

24. In vain will many men say that this Doctrine is new, or that it has no relation to the divine revelations that were made to you in times past. I assure you that what I have said to you at this time through the human understanding, has its roots and its foundations in what had already been prophesied to you in the First and Second Times.

25. But the confusion of which I speak to you will come because those who have interpreted those revelations, have imposed on humanity their analyzes and these have been partly correct and partly erroneous. It will also be because that spiritual light of my teachings was hidden from men and has sometimes been made known to them adulterated. Therefore, now that the time has come when my light has come to bring you out of the darkness of your ignorance, many men have denied that this can be the light of truth, since it does not agree, according to their criteria, with what I had taught you before.

Love one another!

26. I assure you that none of my words will be lost and that the men of this time will come to know what it was that I told you in the past times. Then the world will say when it knows Spiritualism: in fact, Jesus had already said everything.

27. Indeed: I have already said everything, even though of many of the revealed truths, I only manifested the beginning of them to you; I left them for you to begin to understand them, because at that time humanity was not yet qualified to understand everything that I have now come to show you in fullness.

28. One time Jesus was meeting a man who was understood in the Law and the Teacher, answering his questions, made a revelation to him. Then the man, amazed at what he had never imagined, said to Jesus, Lord, but how can this be? To which the Divine Master replied: If you cannot believe in the earthly things that I tell you, how will you come to believe in the heavenly lessons? But it is time for you to understand me, because the evolved spirit of man can receive that intense light of the Divinity that reveals, discovers and explains everything and which you call the light of the Holy Spirit, that is, the Spirit of Truth.

29. Do not be afraid, beloved people, that the teaching that I have brought to you at this time will be for you the bread of eternal life.

30. Also now I am only letting you glimpse the teachings that tomorrow you will fully understand, because now you would not understand them, nor would many of you believe them. By this I want to tell you that you have not yet reached the goal, the peak of spiritual knowledge, nor have my divine teachings reached their limit.

31. Be eternally my disciples, always be jealous of my word which you will never try to change. My Law and my Doctrine never contradict each other. In the divine everything is order, harmony and perfection, of which you can be convinced by the material nature that surrounds you.

32. In the Second Time no one could resist the divine force that emanated from the word of Jesus. Whoever listened to her was to the point convinced, subjugated and persuaded. The sinner is the same as the proud, the poor as the rich, the Pharisee and the scribe, the representative of God, as the representative of Caesar; all who believed him felt that their spirit trembled before the divine presence of the Son of God.

33. It is that the word of Jesus was only the explanation of his works, because the testimony of his existence was contained in the words of his Doctrine.

Love one another!

34. In the same way Jesus taught his disciples, making them see that in order for his word to be believed, it was necessary that he accompany it with the example of his good works.

35. Also the word of God, on the lips of those disciples, made those who heard it tremble, because light radiated from their eyes and from their words sprouted truths to which no denial could be opposed. They also taught by their examples, preached by their works and sealed them with their blood just like their Teacher, with their death they confirmed the truth of the word with which they spoke to the world. That is why they conquered the hearts of peoples and nations where they brought the seed of truth and love.

36. The multitudes, even though they were Gentiles and pagans, surrendered to the truth and purity of my Doctrine, practiced and preached also with purity and truth.

37. Everyone who has had the joy of receiving my word in its original purity in his heart has never strayed from the path; but woe to those who have received it mixed with human impurities! Those, when they have come to discover that imperfection, have turned their backs on it and have mocked what they previously had as absolute truth.

38. Look at those great peoples of the Earth, dominated by the egoism that is the denial of my Doctrine, look at them sunk in materialism, living only for the world and ignoring every spiritual call. I tell you, they also knew my teaching, but it was not enough that those who gave up my seed had testified to that truth with their lives and by the example of their works, as did those disciples of the Lord and also some others who later imitated them, giving up the truth of the Doctrine with their lives.

39. How is it possible, you sometimes ask yourselves, that this world, having been sown with the word of the Redeemer and watered with his blood and that of those who followed him, there are men and peoples who do not preserve something of that teaching?

40. To which I say to you that in these times there have been lacking apostles of the truth, who demonstrate by their works of love the errors of men and prove the truth contained in the divine teaching.

41. From the practice of my Doctrine, which teaches you only love, charity, respect, justice and peace, it turned to idolatrous worship, materialism, religious fanaticism, desecration, and humanity, sensing in all this a departure from the truth, sought its liberation.

42. Today, not only have many turned away from the fulfillment of my Doctrine, but they have attacked it and are trying to erase from the hearts of men every last remnant of it. They do not know that I am ready to surprise them by using that word that no one can resist, with that voice that made kings and lords tremble and that made thrones and empires fall. But it is necessary that every plant that has not been sown by Me be uprooted first, so that my divine seed may fall again into prepared lands.

Love one another!

43. Disciples: Go to the bottom of this whole lesson so that you may be one of those who watch and pray in times of trial.

44. Nothing disturbs your peace at this moment. Nothing alters the recollection with which you have achieved your elevation.

45. Whenever you receive the Master in this form, you will feel how the sorrows that sometimes fill your heart with fog dissipate.

46. Great is my charity, because your sufferings are also great, but do not say that times have changed and that they have brought you pain, because times do not change, it is men who are modified.

47. Your life has been transformed because of science, new laws, ideas and customs. If your spirit were always subject to spirituality, it would not suffer the contamination of the materialism that surrounds it, but it often lets itself be carried away by the influences of the world and at the culmination of materialism my divine light comes to you and asks you: What changes have you observed in the Nature that surrounds you? None, but go beyond the material forms and you will see the spiritual and mental evolution of humanity.

48. The darkness that surrounds you is dense, and the spirit needs freedom; that freedom comes to be given by my word, which will do the miracle of the spirit being reconciled with matter by understanding that both are united by a single Law. Then matter and spirit will work in accordance with consciousness, which will reveal to you who you are and where you are going.

49. Your works will be born according to your way of thinking and if the thought is enlightened by the inspiration of the spirit and he listens to the voice of conscience, your works will be perfect, since the spirit is perfect in terms of its origin.

50. I will always tell you: take from the satisfactions that your world can provide you, but take them under my Law, and you will be perfect.

51. You often hear the claim of conscience and it is because you have not harmonized matter and spirit, with the Law given by Me.

52. Many times you continue to sin because you believe that you have no forgiveness; ignorant belief, because my heart is an eternally open door for the repentant.

Love one another!

53. Does not the hope live within you that encourages you to wait for a better tomorrow? Do not let yourselves be invaded by melancholy and despair, think of my love that is always with you. Seek in Me the answer to your doubts, and soon you will feel enlightened by a new revelation, the light of faith and hope will be ignited deep within your spirit. Then you will be a stronghold of the weak.

54. Years of famine are approaching, but if you love each other as brothers, the miracle of the First Time will work again and the manna will descend on you.

55. I have come to untie the language of men at this time, so that they may recognize me by only one language: the spiritual, the language of love. Then the prophecy of Isaiah will be fulfilled when he said: the tongues will be unleashed because tongues of fire will come to unleash them.

56. Manifest my charity, speak of my Work, do not stop at the sacrifice. Make use of your weapons of love, charity, nobility and temperance and if you face the fight with faith and courage, you will soon obtain victory. But analyze my word, so that you do not feel that my Doctrine obliges you to comply, because I only invite you to listen to me and once you have understood me, let the one who does it out of love, out of conviction, out of his own will rise to fulfill; my duty as a Father is to always show the way of salvation to my children.

57. See, my beloved, how in this simple teaching you have the way to know and understand the charity of your Father. I also come to seek the simplicity and purity of your heart to manifest myself to you in fullness.

58. Now that it is the time of my communication, I am manifesting myself in all the spokespersons, giving orders and teachings through them. Who can dare to deny that I communicate through this or that? Who is the one who truly knows my essence? Love and respect one another, so that your work may have merit in heaven. It is also my will that my word be printed so that the generations to come may know it.

59. In order for you to be recognized by your brothers, you must ensure that your actions are always guided by love. Be sensitive to the pain of others, remove with the power that I have given you, the bad influences that disturb the health of your brothers and you will be known by them as men of spiritual power. Hear my parable.

PARABLE.

60. "An old man was walking along a road, advancing slowly and laboriously. Soon he was overtaken by two young men who were joyfully marching along the same path, who said to him, Good old man, Is your goal still very far away? To which the old man replied: The goal is distant, the road is still long and we must walk it slowly so as not to faint. I think, although I'm tired, to arrive with the last effort.

Love one another!

61. Those young people, after listening to him, quickly continued their journey, forgetting the words of the old man and ironically judging the optimism of that old walker who expected to reach the end of the road, when, according to them, he was about to fall.

62. The old man continued walking and those young men who had so soon moved away from him, were then surprised by thirst, hunger and fatigue, falling at last overcome by fatigue. They were sleeping soundly when they were overtaken by the old man, who gently woke them up and said to them: Young men, who in your youth have felt tired, do not take this path that is so long with a dizzying pace, let's go step by step and I assure you that we will arrive. But those who woke up, answered: Let us, we have exhausted the last effort and we cannot continue, you have a staff and you can continue, we do not have it.

63. The old man, misunderstood, beholding them thus, offered them a piece of bread with which he revived them, brought a little water to their lips and quenched their thirst. He helped them get up, accompanied them on the journey and ignited their faith until they finally reached the goal."

64. Analyze and study, beloved disciples, because you will have to be guides of humanity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 156

1. Welcome the disciples who come to the Master in pursuit of wisdom. Here I am, my children, once more among you, for I behold that you are the disciple eager for teaching. You consider that you are not yet ready to give my word to your brothers and sisters, and you come to hear the One who knows everything. Tomorrow you will be doctrinaires and you will be teachers.
2. You ask me for my grace so that you can understand my word and I grant it to you. More recognize that I am speaking to you at this time with absolute clarity.
3. Take my word and feed on it because I come to strengthen your spirit.
4. My lessons are always different, but they have the same essence, the same love. I always begin by speaking to you with love and conclude by overflowing in charity. Between these two virtues is enclosed my Law. From that source take the strength and the light, that is my will that I manifest to you, not as an order, because the Master, being infinite wisdom, asks you to understand and fulfill by your own will.
5. I have granted you free will and I only come to point out to you the path along which you must travel. And I will always tell you that this path is one of perfection; a path whose end is not in bodily death, but extends beyond this life, from which your spirit will subsist.
6. I have told you: that when you fulfill your mission in this world, I promise you happiness in the hereafter and you will no longer be stained with the mud and passions of matter.
7. You do not know how many stages you will still have to live on this planet. If I find it right for you to incarnate again, you will have to come in new matter, but bringing greater evolution in the spirit, which will not rebel against the divine will; and you will continue your work for the good of your brothers: You will continue to rise and perfect yourselves, full of trust and hope in my justice.
8. You will have to be strong to resist dangers and temptations and before your example and trials of strength, they will call you the enlightened and chosen of the Lord, because in your steps the spiritual world of light will help you, which will watch over you at all times; walking together and under my will, you will make my prophetic word be fulfilled.
9. Keep working, even if the fruit of your struggle is not seen by the eyes of your body, perhaps you will see it in spirit or through a new wrapper.

Love one another!

10. That will be the work of humanity of tomorrow, in which each one will work for the good of all and nations will fight for the peace of the world.

11. At this time the struggle of ideas and creeds will begin. It will be a time of controversies and discussions in which the intellectuals of this world will put your knowledge to the test.

12. The various interpretations that have been given to my word of the Second Time and of everything that I have said through my enlightened ones will be discussed. Then the veil of many mysteries will be lifted and the hypocrisy of many will be brought down by the truth of my Teaching.

13. My divine desire is that men through their doctrines come to understand each other, thus taking a step towards spiritual unification.

14. Prepare yourselves for this time, and then you will persuade the wise and knowledgeable with a humble and simple word, because your elevation will be enough for me to inspire you with my wisdom, which will flow inexhaustibly from your mouth. Follow the path laid out by your Lord.

15. I see that you are suffering because of the affliction that the world provides you and also because you have come following me on a path of humility and charity.

16. Do not weep for yourselves, for indeed your spirit is being purified. Weep for those who still live clinging to the pleasures of the world and remain captives of matter. Do not think that I enjoy your sorrows, because that would be as much as denying the virtue of your Father, which is that of love. Observe that I come to you, precisely to shorten your days of affliction and to make your pains lessen. I advise you to persevere in doing good, because it is better that you are suffering now for doing good, than if you dedicate yourselves to doing evil.

17. Over your sufferings I will make you feel my peace, that divine grace, which the powerful do not get to enjoy, despite all their flows.

18. I have taught you how to heal the sick in body and spirit; whoever fulfills with such virtue and comes to feel sick in turn, will feel at the head of his bed, the presence of the Doctor of doctors. Learn to feel my company as well as that of the spiritual world, so that you will never feel lonely; so that the orphan does not feel unprotected; so that the widow does not feel lonely or abandoned, so that the abandoned man or woman does not feel an emptiness in the spirit and that those who have not known love on Earth, feel in their hearts the love of their Heavenly Father.

Love one another!

19. Love your fellow human beings, serve them, dedicate to them even if it is only a part of your time, because in this way you will achieve that your spirit fulfills its mission. Then you will be able to imitate in your life the lessons of the Divine Master, who, forgetting his sufferings and his bitterness, dedicates himself only to bless and to pour out the consolation of his teaching at each of his steps.

20. People: now that you have me in this form, vibrate with joy as you hear my word.

21. Rejoice the poor, those who have never possessed anything, the sick, the outcasts, those who have hungered and thirsted for justice, the sad, the oppressed; fill your hearts with hope, for truly I tell you that hope will not be disappointed. Understand that the hour of justice has come and that all those who have patiently endured his restitution, those who have been able to meekly hurry his cup and have lovingly endured his trials, all of them will receive his reward.

22. Revelations, knowledge, bread, keys to work and balm, all this and more has been given to those who have known how to wait for the hour of my return.

23. Disciples, multiply yourselves so that my peace and my light may spread throughout the world. My message is not addressed to certain creatures exclusively, it is addressed to all my children. Blessed are those who receive it and all who wait for it.

24. You are infants before the teachings of the Father and that is why you do not yet live according to the perfection of the spiritual life. You have not yet reached the fullness of true life and in order to help you, it was necessary for your Lord to descend to help you, so that with his help you will be able to know everything that you do not know, what you have not understood and what you had forgotten.

25. Christ is and must be your model, that's why I came to become a man at that time. What was the manifestation that Jesus gave to humanity? His infinite love, his divine wisdom, his boundless mercy and his power.

26. I said to you, Imitate Me and you will come to do the same works that I do; if I came as a Teacher, you should have understood that it was not to teach you impossible lessons or that were beyond the reach of the understanding of men.

27. Understand then that, when you do works similar to those that Jesus taught you, you will have reached the fullness of life, of which I spoke to you earlier.

28. How many men, because of the knowledge they have achieved, believe they possess spiritual greatness and are for Me nothing more than children stationed on their path of evolution; because they must consider that it is not only the development of their mind by which they can achieve the elevation of their spirit, but it must be by the development of the whole of their being and there are many gifts in man that it is necessary to develop, in order to achieve fulfillment.

Love one another!

29. That is why I instituted, as one of my laws of love and justice, the reincarnation of the spirit, in order to grant him a more extensive path, which will provide him with all the necessary opportunities to achieve his perfection. Every existence is a brief lesson, because otherwise it would be very short a man's opportunity to encompass in it the fulfillment of all my Law; but it is necessary that you know the meaning of this life, so that you can take its essence from it and achieve its harmony, which is the basis of human perfection, so that you can move to a higher plane, until you reach the spiritual life, where I have saved for you so many lessons that I must teach you and so many revelations that I still have to make to you.

30. All beings here in the world have never marched on the same spiritual level; along with men of great elevation, others have coexisted in great delay. I must warn you that this time will not be the only time in which men of a very high spirit can arise.

31. In all times, even in the most remote of human history, you have had examples of men of high spirit. How could you explain to yourselves that from the earliest times there were already men of evolved spirit, if earlier they had not gone through successive reincarnations that helped them to rise?

32. It is that the spirit is not born at the same time as the person, nor does the principle of humanity coincide with that of the spirit. Verily I tell you, there is not a single spirit that has come into the world without first having existed in the hereafter. And who of you can measure or know the time that he lived in other dwellings before he came to dwell on earth?

33. In other worlds, the spirits of free will also enjoy and sin and go astray, or persevere in the good and thus manage to rise, just as you do on Earth; but at the appointed moment, those who are destined to come to this world, descend to it, some to fulfill a noble mission, others to atone for their restitution; but according to them they want to see this Earth, so it will be presented as a paradise for some or as a hell for others. That is why, when they understand the mercy of their Father, they only see a wonderful life sown with blessings and teachings for the spirit, a path that brings them closer to the Promised Land.

34. Some leave this world wishing to return, others do so with the fear of having to return, and it is that your being has not yet come to understand the harmony in which you should live with the Lord.

Love one another!

35. I have already revealed to you that my people are scattered throughout the Earth, that is, that the spiritualist seed is scattered throughout the roundness of the Earth.

36. Today you are disunited and even come to ignore each other, for real trifles; but when materialistic doctrines come to threaten to invade all of you, then it will be when all of you who think and feel with the spirit will come to identify yourselves. For when that time comes, I will give you a sign so that you can recognize yourselves, something that you can all come to see and hear in the same way. So when you bear witness to one another, you will marvel and say, It is the Lord who has visited us.

37. Understand that your spiritualist brothers are not only inhabiting this nation but are also in other towns, regions and nations. Know that you must prepare yourselves to achieve the greatest limpidity in your life so that you may bear true witness to everything that you have heard and received here. I am touching all the spirits, so that when the time comes, they will know how to give you a faithful and complete testimony of everything that they in turn have received, and so that they will be prepared to listen to you with love.

38. It will not be human forces that move this people on Earth when they unite, they will be spiritually one, without looking for a special city for it, nor will there be a spiritual government that governs the world.

39. A higher light will guide and inspire you among various ideologies, doctrines, tendencies, religions, creeds and sects, and then humanity, which until today has lived immersed in the most complete materialism, will be amazed to contemplate the appearance of this doctrinaire people.

40. My people in the past times, did not do works that brought them closer to perfect union with their Creator, rather they fell into desecration and disobedience; however, I did not exterminate him, because my justice of love wanted to preserve him and multiply him on earth, in order that he might purify himself of his past faults and already carry out with greater light in the spirit, the mission that from the earliest times has been entrusted to him, which is to carry to his brothers the divine message, to open a spiritual gap to other peoples and to teach by his works and examples, how the divine Law of the Father is respected and fulfilled.

41. Understand that if I have sent you into the world, it has been for the blessing of men. Pray and watch, so that you may become prepared in that hour, in which you will all be united in spirit, in thought and in deeds, even when materially you find yourselves distant from each other. Only with Spirituality will you be able to fight and overcome the dragon of materialism, which advances step by step devouring peoples and sowing pain and desolation.

42. In this Age I say to you: Blessed are you who have been predestined to receive me at this time and to hear my word. I have prepared you and my light has bathed your spirit, so you will be strong and even when great trials come upon you, you will not let yourselves be overcome. When you are already in the spiritual valley, you will know how great the privilege you have had has been and you will feel happy.

43. When you heard my word for the first time, you felt that it was I who was speaking to you and meditating on your works, you thought that you were not clean, that you should make yourselves worthy, and you started a new life and perfected yourselves every day; but how difficult it is for you to persevere in that purpose. You often arrive at the sacrifice, without My having asked it of you, and you get tired soon; I tell you that I am pleased that you take the path with patience, How do you want to perfect yourself in a short time, if the work that you are going to undertake is so great?

44. You love me and this is your basis; you present your faith to me and yet, when the trials come to you, you tell me: Master, I always find obstacles to fulfilling your laws; the unbelief of mine makes me weak, temptation interposes at every moment to make me fall and even I myself have broken my purpose. I tell you: in the midst of this struggle you have to work, those obstacles that you encounter are tests for your faith and with them, the spirit will be tried and tested. Trust in yourselves, understand that you carry my Spirit and have been prepared to participate in this great battle.

45. You are just taking the first steps and even when I have called some guides, others spokespersons, you all have to prepare to get to know your position and know how to perform it, but I do not ignore your merits, you have given my cause the first place in your heart and your greatest desire is to follow me. I, as Father, have guided you, I have led you and I have opened my heart, so that in it you may read my love and my charity.

46. My patience has no limits, I have granted you three eras and countless reincarnations so that you can achieve your spiritual elevation and even at this time I have come to speak to you, without contemplating disbelief and human materialism. You are in the Third Stage of spiritual manifestations and if you know how to take advantage of your gifts, you will contemplate the power of your spirit and you will know that I have always wanted to make you superior beings capable of carrying out great works. I have arranged everything so that you are governed by my Law of love and respect it. At the right hand of each farmer is a guardian angel and when those beings have communicated with you they have manifested their humility, their obedience, they have accompanied you on the journey and with you they have suffered the roughnesses of the road. Listen to them, because in their word full of light, you will find the explanation of my revelations. After the year of 1950, you will remember the example of those virtuous beings, who will not be alienated from you, but will continue to inspire your spirit and protect humanity.

Love one another!

47. Prepare yourselves, lest you attribute imperfection to my word. Know his essence; if the spokesman of whom I serve is not prepared, if his spirit is not attentive to my dictates, the word that sprouts from his lips, will not reflect my perfection. Then, penetrate into the true meaning of it and you will know what I wanted to express. Do not attribute the imperfections to Me, understand that I am your God who is Perfect.

48. Arise full of zeal and defend my cause, everything that you find outside the Law in the practices of the farmers, correct it with love and justice.

49. I receive from your seed that which contains truth and purity, and that which has not reached maturity, I leave in your hands so that you may continue to cultivate and correct it.

50. But come to Me, my children, I receive you. You are the tired wayfarer who has erred on different paths and now after great trials and disappointments, you seek my blessing and my support. You have come blessing me and thanking me for having found rest, and the Master says to you: I fill you with grace, and it is my will that you regain strength, that you be filled with courage, because after you are ecstatic hearing my teachings, you are going to prepare to face an approaching struggle for all men and particularly for the people of Israel. Recognize that you are part of that people, whose positions have been very great in all times. Among you are the prophets, the interpreters of my word, the wise.

51. You have been formed with perfection. Your spirit has been enlightened so that you may know the greatness of my creation, so that by studying its spiritual part, you may understand that you are similar to Me and knowing material Nature, you can use it, because it has been placed by Me as a humble servant before man. When will you get to know her and master her? When will you be so worthy that you can command an element to stop or change, for the benefit of your brothers? It is true that they obey laws dictated with justice and love, but you have power and I have told you that when you become spiritualized, you will be able to stop diseases, inclement weather, the rigor of calamities and sin in my name. You will be able to do everything if you have faith. The time will come when every spirit will be moved and every intelligence will awaken, and as you search for the source from which light and perfection come, you will find Me.

Love one another!

52. An era of regeneration is approaching. You, my disciples, will lay the foundations for the formation of a new world, you will work as the armies of good work, the angels who, out of love for you, strive to achieve the spiritual elevation of humanity.

53. Love is the most powerful force with which man will be able to achieve his regeneration.

54. In the Second Time, many doubted Me, they could not believe that the humble man, mixed among the crowds of needy, sick and sinners, was the Teacher, the Word of the Father. And when they saw my benefits and works of love and forgiveness, they said, Is he a sorcerer or a prophet? When the woman who had committed adultery stood before me, they wanted to test me and said to me, "Judge this woman who has sinned, she is perverse and does not deserve to be among us." Throw her away because she is not worthy to hear your teachings or share your bread. I said to them, You know the guilt of this woman, you all judge that she is a sinner, but he who is clean, free from all sin, let him throw the first stone. I touched those who accused her through their conscience and soon they knew that their faults were very great, greater than those of that woman; and ashamed they withdrew, and the one who had been accused and judged by that mob, asked my forgiveness, recognized her stain and her repentance was so great, that she felt purified and in her heart love was ignited; then I lifted her up and said to her, I forgive you, go and do not sin again.

55. So, when you feel tortured by the weight of a guilt and you are repentant, cleanse yourselves with prayer and with good works, come to Me, recover peace and do not sin again. But I also say to you, Why do you judge the faults of others without mercy and do not look within yourselves? I forgive you from before committing the fault, and how few repentant women I have met on the way, but I announce to you once again that sin will disappear.

56. The earth will be clean. Man will hear the voice of his conscience again. I invite you to dwell with Me and that is the only way to reach My Kingdom.

57. As long as you watch and pray, you will be saved from sorrows and temptations. The time I give you, take it to do works that will prove your faith as disciples. The world will come to you and be surprised to behold your peace and will say: How is it possible for this people to enjoy tranquility, while the nations have become a bonfire of hatred? And the Master will answer them, I find this people purified and worthy, but I have descended to all. Everyone who seeks me will find me and I will be so close to him that he will feel me in his own heart.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 157

1. People of Israel: You present your heart to me. I want you to love me as a Father; my Spirit is eager for your love. The world has forgotten me, and if it seeks me, it does so through imperfect cults, and since it has no proof of my presence, it loses its faith and becomes unbelieving. If someone told Him that I was speaking to the people of Israel, he would not believe it, he would ask me for proof and he would be like Thomas; and I have said to you, Blessed is he who believes without seeing.
2. The temple that I have prepared for Myself is in the very spirit of man, as I have always taught you.
3. Study my manifestations and think that I have come among you once again because you have not known how to come to Me; having the Law, my word and prophecies, you have not fulfilled your mission. If you had analyzed, you would be waiting for the events that will signal this new era.
4. I have come to give you my teaching as in the Second Time. Many will not know me, only those who are spiritualized will see this manifestation clearly. You who hear me feel charity for humanity that has not found my mark and prepare to teach, become teachers. With what joy will you watch your disciples grow in their faith and knowledge in my Doctrine.
5. Many hearts will come to Me. Those who have been filled with pride will come humble; others will come guided by their conscience, measuring their deeds and with great repentance. I am waiting for you to prepare you, so that your spirit may be like a clean force, and my word, like crystal clear water that quenches your thirst.
6. Elijah was sent to prepare those who were to receive this light. I surprised humanity sleeping in a deep sleep for everything that is spiritual, only a few were prepared to receive the message How much joy in those children to see my promise fulfilled! And how much love in my Spirit for all men! The years have passed and my word has flowed full of essence, to feed the hearts. Others will wake up late, when this manifestation has passed; but do not be sorry, because a time of greater grace will come for all, in which you will seek to communicate with Me without material intermediaries.
7. Men of science will be touched by Me. Many strange diseases will appear and they will not know how to cure them; they will be powerless to calm the pain. Only those who rise spiritually will have the healing power. There will be ministers who, full of longing to be spiritualized, will adhere to the people of Israel. Many who have been first will be last. Of many institutions and churches that have not been finished on the basis of love, not a stone will remain on a stone. I'm clearing the fields, and I don't want weeds to grow next to the wheat.

Love one another!

8. Visit homes, approach the sickbed, help those who suffer in prisons and places of atonement, console everyone, go in my name and practice your gifts.

9. Take the spiritual world as an example, imitate it in its patience and in its love for humanity, in its struggle for the well-being of all of you.

10. Those who have loved the world very much, but who have then listened to me, have recognized their mistakes and have felt that the desire to purify themselves is born in them, sustain an inner struggle and then ask me: Lord, Is it necessary to ignore the flesh and the world, to achieve that our spirit is liberated? To which I reply: merit does not consist in ignoring the flesh, but in coming to find harmony between the spirit and the body that serves as its envelope, but how to achieve that harmony if the spirit does not allow himself to be led by his conscience first?

11. Do you believe that I have made your body an enemy of your spirit? No, you answer me; but that is how they have always marched, like enemies. One and the other have always been in continuous war, because they feel the desire to free themselves and to achieve a degree of greater perfection.

12. Only my teachings, which are the explanation of the Law, will be able to lead you to concord, to the inner reconciliation of your being. Believe, that when you have won that battle, the whole way will be easy for you.

13. The flesh, and this is how you must understand it, is the ship, the spirit is the pilot, how is it fair that the ship is the one that drives the pilot as it seems to her?

14. It is from this lack of harmony in man that those great storms have arisen, from which, most of the time, the spirit has been defeated. But when the flesh, bent at last by persuasion and the confidence that the spirit is heading towards its great end, meekly takes up the mission that corresponds to it and no longer deprives its spirit of what belongs to it, the harmony between two natures of which the human creature is formed will have been achieved. You will reach this elevation when matter and spirit walk together on the path of spiritual evolution that shows them the love and wisdom of their Creator through their consciousness. Matter, with her obedience, with her docility and meekness to the dictates of her spirit, will come to crucify herself, on the cross of sacrifice and renunciation, to give her spirit the elevation and the joy of having reached her place in eternal life.

15. Free will is the highest expression, it is the most complete gift of the freedom that was granted to man on the path of life, in order that his perseverance in the good, achieved by the counsel of conscience and by the struggle in the fulfillment of trials, would make him reach the bosom of the Father. But free will has been replaced by debauchery, conscience is ignored and only the dictates of the world are heeded, and spirituality has been replaced by materialism.

Love one another!

16. In the face of so much confusion and so much deviation, my Doctrine will seem absurd to the men of this time, but I tell you that it is the right teaching to get men to get rid of the lethargy in which they find themselves.

17. Walkers: leave your staff and your saddlebag and rest from your long journey, sit around me, eat of my bread and converse with your Master. Let your spirit come to me in perfect communion.

18. You are the same people who in other times followed me in search of perfection for your spirit and now you ask me in surprise: Why have you returned among us? And I answer you, it is written that the spirit of my children is to live at the right hand of their Lord for all eternity, and in order for you to be able to come to Me, it is necessary that you learn and make merits imitating your Teacher.

19. I have sown my seed in you throughout the ages and how few there are who have loved me. I have manifested my power through messengers, chosen from a great number of spirits, from the righteous Abel who was an example of humility; Joseph, son of Jacob, in whom wisdom and holiness were poured out; John the Baptist, who only lived to testify about Me, without having taken anything from the world that harmed his body or his spirit; and like these, who were cleansed in spirit, so many others that you know and whose work grows and is increased with the passing of the years. But you have not had enough of so many trials and so many voices that you have allowed to get lost in infinity, because you have not wanted to see in my messengers a reflection of my Divinity.

20. You asked for the presence of your Lord, to feel him and to hear his voice speaking your own language and it was granted to you to achieve your salvation, and despite having had me so close and having spoken to my people, you have not come after Me, and you have forced me to return among you.

21. It is written in the book of your consciousness my lesson of the Second Time. I taught you to love and to receive Mary's caress and tenderness. I recreated myself feeling and loving the warmth of the mother's lap, also savoring the sustenance that her breast offered me. I knew how to enjoy with her and share the work and the hard days. I received the caress of the rays of the king star and I enjoyed contemplating the mountains, the fields, the sea and I poured out my blessings on everyone. I have prepared the harvests, the waters, and all that gives food to men.

Love one another!

22. I knew how to shake the friend's hand, I was recreated with the innocence of children, with the gallantry and nobility of the young men and with the purity of the heart of the maidens. I was filled with satisfaction as I contemplated the selflessness and sacrifice of mothers and the strength of men. For thirty-three years I lived in the world, so that man could feel the perfection and the examples of his Lord, whom they could contemplate closely and so that they would learn to imitate me at all times. Teach you the love of God, as well as the fulfillment of His laws; I told you how you should love your parents, your brothers and your children; I told you about the love between spouses; I showed you the clean path of work, respect and charity for one another; I invited you to live in perfect communion with the Father and in harmony also with Nature.

23. However, many were called and few were chosen; there were twelve in whom I poured out the flow of my wisdom. I made them responsible for the Second Testament, for my lessons given almost all in a figurative sense; for my parables that were countless, and all that was recorded in the consciousness of men, so that neither time nor vicissitudes could erase it.

24. I gave these creatures strength, so that nothing would hinder them in the struggle that awaited them, and they would know how to face the wise and place themselves above human science. I said to my disciples, "I leave you as shepherds of humanity, of that flock scattered today that will have to be gathered into a single fold." I also said to them, "Build the temple" and when I spoke to them like this, I was not referring to temples built of quarry, I was talking to them about the spirit, where it is appropriate to build the dwelling place for your Lord. Man cannot even represent My temple to him, because it is formed by the Universe with all its creatures and it is in it that the true altar, the offering and the light are found.

25. The heart of my disciples was ready, the vessel was clean inside and out and full of sweetness, faith and hope. This is how they rose up to communicate the good news to humanity. And when they spoke after my departure, they said to their brothers, You can all receive the Lord, in his word is contained the blood and the body of the Master.

26. That's how they talked and I led them step by step. They knew how to teach and verify with deeds all his words. Everywhere they went, they were inside the temple, whether they were in the desert, in the valley or in the various nations that their plant stepped on. His mouth was like a spring of crystal clear and life-giving waters that purified the peoples.

27. They had no crown, no scepter, no purple robe, as Jesus had none; they were humble. I said to them, "Be humble, be the last wherever you go. Give to your brothers all that you have received from Me, hide nothing and cause my seed to multiply and reach all hearts."

Love one another!

28. My disciples have always respected human life, they will never dare to take my place as judge. They knew how to leave me the cause, just or unjust that only I could solve. They did not ask men why they sinned and for everyone they had mercy and mercy.

29. Now, in the Third Time, when my people are nearing the end of my communication, I find myself preparing new disciples. Everything has been accomplished according to my will. I am building the indestructible temple in the spirit of my children.

30. Do not present me with any more symbols, nor do you represent me in a material form; just listen and obey my inspirations, that will be enough for you to achieve spirituality.

31. At this time you have heard my voice in the same way in which I made it heard to you in the First Time, in which I made the spirit of men tremble.

32. Now I have not come to give you my teaching through Jesus, my Incarnate Word; I have spoken to you through human creatures, because you have already climbed and can understand me and transmit my word.

33. The end of this manifestation is already approaching, in order to initiate it in a higher form, establishing spirit-to-Spirit communication with your Creator, which is used by the higher spirits who dwell near Me.

34. Do not be afraid of the day of my departure, for I will never be absent from you. In the Second time, after my ascension, I presented myself to my disciples, in the form of Jesus, to give them comfort. Today, you do not know how many days you will not feel me, but after them, you will look at me again and feel that I inspire you, and that new words flow into your mind. I only ask for unification, one body and one will, so that you may be worthy to go to the end. The twelve tribes of the chosen people will be present on that day; the twelve apostles will also accompany you; so that you may feel strengthened by their example, because I am going to leave you as well as them as sheep among hungry wolves; but I will be with you in your persecution, in prison, at all times when you need me.

35. I will protect my seed.

36. Work hard still, so that when I contemplate that love, purity and simplicity reign among my people, I will leave you as teachers of humanity. If they ask you for teaching, give it to them; if they make you silent, be humbly silent; sow always in your path, as I have taught you.

Love one another!

37. Love your brothers, so that you may lay the foundations of peace and harmony among them.

38. People: How long will you bear fruit? It has been a long time since I have been teaching you and the apostles that humanity needs so much to get up have not yet emerged.

39. The time that remains for you to still be able to hear me is short, and it is necessary that you learn my lessons, so that it will be easier for you to bear witness to them.

40. Think that from the examples that you give as well as from your works, after I have stopped speaking to you, it depends that many of the hearts that did not have the joy of listening to me in this manifestation, awaken to faith and convert to my Work.

41. I give you as an example of these words, the conversion of Saul, later called Paul, who completely gave his body and spirit to the service of his Lord.

42. Paul was not among the twelve apostles, he did not eat at my table or follow me along the roads to listen to my teachings; rather, he did not believe in Me or look kindly on those who followed me. In his heart there was the idea of exterminating the seed that I had entrusted to my disciples, which was already beginning to spread; but Paul was unaware that he was one of mine. He knew that the Messiah was coming, and he believed in it; but he could not imagine that the humble Jesus was the promised savior. His heart was filled with the pride of the world and therefore he had not felt the presence of his Lord.

43. Saul had risen up against his Redeemer. I persecuted my disciples as well as the people who came to them to hear my message from the lips of those apostles. And so I surprised him, dedicated to chasing mine, I touched him in the most sensitive of his heart and he instantly recognized me, because his spirit was waiting for me, that's why he heard my voice.

44. It was my will, that that public man should be converted in this way, so that the world would be witnessing at every step those amazing works that would serve as a stimulus to his faith and his understanding.

45. What is the point of quoting the life of that man for a fact, who since then devoted himself to loving his fellow men, inspired by love for his Teacher and his divine lessons?

46. Paul was one of the greatest apostles of my word, his testimony was always of love, of purity, of truth and of light. His former materialism was transformed into a very high spirituality, his hardness became infinite tenderness, and thus the persecutor of my apostles was changed into the most diligent sower of my word, into the tireless wayfarer who carried to different nations, to counties and villages, the divine message of his Lord, for whom he lived and to whom he offered his life.

Love one another!

47. Here you have, beloved people, a beautiful example of conversion and a demonstration that, even if you have not listened to me, men can become my great apostles.

48. Today I say to you, Where is my people? Where is he who was prudent in trials, strong in battles, and persevering in struggles? He is scattered throughout the world; but I will raise him up with my voice and gather him spiritually, so that he will go to the head of all peoples; but I tell you that now he will be formed by men of all races, who will come to understand what is the covenant that I am waiting for from all men.

49. This people will be strong and combative, but they will not have murderous weapons, nor war chariots, nor will they sing songs of extermination. His banner will be peace, his sword truth and his shield love.

50. No one will be able to find out where that people is and he will be everywhere, his enemies will try to destroy him, but they will not be able, because they will never find him materially reunited, because their union, their order and their harmony, will be spiritual.

51. If at that time a Moses set him free and led him along arid and lonely roads, passing through the midst of enemies who surrounded him and made him cross between them, until he put him at the gates of the Promised Land, now an invisible but manifest and present Elijah will call the people to the fight and show them paths of light to take him with firm and certain step to the threshold of the dwelling that I have reserved for your spirit.

52. The spiritual law that will serve as his norm and guide will be the same that I wrote on the stone and that was revealed to you on Mount Sinai. The spiritual bread that sustains him will be the one contained in the word that was given to you through Jesus; the light that will give him hope and strength to never deviate from the path of truth again, will be the inspiration that at this time is descending from infinity, to reveal to the spirits everything that was unknown to them.

53. Whoever shows progress in the gifts that I have granted him, as well as in his spiritual faculties, who is also an indefatigable seeker of the truth, or who loves spirituality, verily I tell you, he will be one of the soldiers of this people and will know how to listen to the voice of his Lord when he calls for the fight, as well as when he invites him to peace.

54. Does this look like just a beautiful dream?

Love one another!

55. When Moses sought Israel in Egypt and announced to him the blessings of the Land of promise, the people hesitated, because they had become accustomed to being tied to the yoke of servitude and the hardships of slavery, it seemed impossible that a land of freedom and well-being could exist for him; however, that people rose up and gradually approached that land that at first had seemed only a beautiful dream, until they managed to achieve the fruit of their perseverance and loyalty.

56. Do not imagine me wearing a crown and holding a scepter, no, better remember me humble and simple.

57. I want you to take from my word its essence, which is the food of every spirit. In her you will find the bread of life, the wine of spiritual joy, the fruit of true love.

58. It is necessary that while you are eating with Me at the table of love and spirituality, you learn to speak to me and learn to hear me, because this manifestation that you are witnessing now is temporary and it is essential that you learn to communicate spiritually with Me so that when you stop hearing my voice in this way, you will not feel abandoned, lonely or orphaned.

59. Rejoice in this time that you have my communication; but never put aside from your mind the day that is appointed by my will, that you may receive my word for the last time.

60. I tell you this because those who become too familiar with my communication, the day they can no longer hear me will be death for them and then they will be exposed to seek by already illicit means, a manifestation that in something fills the emptiness of their heart, but my light will not be there.

61. It is necessary that from now on you understand that if this communication did not have a term, you could never take a step forward, because you would have no interest in studying my word, nor in seeking spiritual communication; why do it if day after day you could listen to this word and receive this comfort every time you asked for it? But when the lesson has concluded and the message has been delivered, everything will change and then, if you want to feel close to me, you will have to meditate on everything that your memory will keep and if you want to feel strong, you will have to surrender to a true spiritual fulfillment, in which you become sowers of peace, light, balm and charity.

62. For your sake, the time that you listen to me through the human understanding must be brief, because you are so small and so fragile, that no sooner has a little time passed from being listening to me, when you already begin to become familiar with my presence in this form. You stop feeling that emotion that seized you the first few days, and you are experiencing less and less that joy, that joy of coming to listen to me, joy that took many nights to sleep, thinking that you were going to listen to me, longing for the day to come and the time to hear that voice again that at times it seemed impossible for you to hear.

63. "Is it true, you asked in your heart, that I can hear the voice of my Lord? Will I be worthy to witness the manifestation of my Creator, through that wonderful word?" O Master, what a great joy you have given to our spirit by making us hear your paternal voice, your word of Master, your Divine Word! "And you were not tired of listening to me, and you did not want to miss a single word, and you did not want to disobey one of my commands. But time went by and you got used to hearing me and as you were no longer trying to deepen, my word began to tire you, which you found monotonous, always the same, always the same, without realizing that it was you who did not arrive prepared as in the early days, when you approached full of union, respect, wonder, faith, love and humility.

64. I can tell you that there has not been a single heart that, having listened to me for some time, has not become familiar with my word and my manifestations; therefore I tell you once again that due to your smallness and human frailty you cannot remain in spirituality for long and it is better for your sake that I limit the time of my communication, because otherwise, you would all end up not feeling respect for something that has been a grace that your Master, in fulfillment of a promise of the Second Time, has now come to give you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 158

1. The divine light of my Spirit be among you.
2. Be welcome, beloved disciples, who come like gentle sheep to the call of the Good Shepherd, and if after meeting you inside the sheepfold, someone dares to jump the fence, I will leave the others in good care to go in search of the lost one, because it is not my will that a single one of my sheep be lost.
3. I am watching over you all, I am giving my peace and light to your understanding to your heart, so that you may continue on the right path, and if you ever come to abandon it, forgetting the One who has given everything to save you and with whom you lived and comforted yourselves with his warmth, truly I tell you: My charity will follow you everywhere and my voice through your conscience, will be making the incessant call to you. You can't go wrong. I have made clear to you the law that you must follow. You cannot deceive yourselves because you have a conscience that rightly judges each of your actions, that tells you what is lawful and what is not; know that if you disobey its advice, your actions will accuse you. Once again I say to you: Know yourselves so that you may know your brothers.
4. Prepare yourselves to be strong, for my new apostles will not be weak, nor will they fall by the wayside slowly. They will be the ones who have enough firmness to show that they can lead the multitudes with their example, their word and their thought, inspiring confidence.
5. You all have gifts to be true guides of hearts and spirits in the future, and even the disembodied beings who live in turmoil, you will be able to free them from their darkness by guiding them towards the light.
6. This mission is delicate and I make you understand it through every speaker.
7. If anyone deviates from the path due to lack of understanding in my Work, I will make a new call to make him see that whoever has made a pact with God cannot go back on his path of evolution. I speak to your spirit, for whom everything was darkness before he recognized me, but since the Father manifested himself on his way he was convinced of the charity and love of the Divine Spirit that in three times has limited itself, in three different but perfect phases, to make itself understandable to the spirit of man.
8. Some want to seek the truth in other ways, to them I say: If you have reason to search, do it, but search well. Others feel that they have no reason to turn away, because they understand that they are within the Father's family, without whose presence they could no longer live.

Love one another!

9. No one will be able to take care of you like I do, no one will lift you up with such love when you fall on the path. I am the only one who illuminates the path of life for you. Come to Me, O my beloved, as I come to you, with upliftment, love and purity; that all your acts carry spirituality and you will experience an ineffable bliss.

10. Years of trial will come and in the midst of it you will have to fulfill your mission. That mission will consist in helping your brothers who are suffering, forgetting about yourselves.

11. Do not be offended if your nation is judged by others as inferior, show that before my love and under my Law you are all equal; may your spirit be reflected with clarity in your works and from your understanding lessons and explanations will spring about the mistakes of men in their different ideologies.

12. I want you to meditate on all that I have told you, so that you may keep this teaching and through it be strong on your way.

13. I do not come to draw a different path for you at this time and I can tell you as in the Second Time in Solomon's temple: "I do not come to abolish the Law but to fulfill it," because I saw that the Doctors of the Law did not understand it and that is why they were misinterpreting my word.

14. I, the Word, incarnated in Jesus to teach humanity a Doctrine of love and justice, which started from the Law given by the Father to humanity in times past; and the teaching of spirituality that I am revealing to you at this time, is to teach you the fulfillment of the Doctrine of Christ, so that the spirit scales the peaks of knowledge and spiritual truth.

15. Humanity, spiritually, is divided into religions, sects, doctrines and ideologies and I will demonstrate the power of my word by uniting them. Although I have already told you that before this happens, the world will purify itself and the spirits will tremble like the forests at the blow of the hurricane. Watch, because you, although ignorant and humble, possess the light with which you will be able to free from darkness those who walk among them as if blind, showing them a clear sky and a better future.

16. Stop being the conservatives of fanatical traditions and rites. Practice my word with purity, because I have told you that she will be the spiritual link that will unify peoples and races, because my word of love is universal Law.

17. Out of love for you and so that you may understand how much I make you worthy of me, I communicate by your understanding, but the moment will come when this form of communication will no longer be necessary and then the force of your elevation will bring your spirit closer to the Father so that you may hear from Him His divine concert, the one that begins by saying to you: "Love one another".

Love one another!

18. Today I say to you: Come to me and you will find peace. I have prepared these enclosures so that they will be like trees that will give you shade and under them you will follow my word. In the Second Time you listened to me in the valleys, on the banks of the rivers and in the mountains; in the temple of Nature you were ecstatic and made communion with Me. Today you will also look for those places and there, far from the world that sins and denies me, you will feel the pure environment, saturated with essence, where everything speaks of Me and already free your spirit will come to unite with the Father in perfect communion.

19. Many spirits are looking for me in various religions, sects and philosophies and have asked me for the light to find the true path, the shortest one; and they do not know that I have come to manifest myself in this nation, in this form that you know. And I am leading you all to the light, because my love does not distinguish races or nations. You who hear me, prepare yourselves, transform yourselves, so that you may be my instruments in the work of love, of pacification and of upliftment of the spirit.

20. The prophetic word will come out through you, the word that heals and comforts. Do you want to serve humanity? The fundamental laws that I have given you are: Love for the one who created you and the love of one another. All virtues have as their principle the love of God and of one's fellow man.

21. You have all sprouted from Me, with equal gifts. I have not distinguished one from the other. Each spirit has the faculties and gifts to carve out its own elevation.

22. Be strong, accept your restitution and collaborate in the Work of the Third Time, so that you may be able to look at the establishment of my Kingdom in the spirit of men. Climb, so that you may come to dwell in worlds higher than this, where there is no suffering, until you have perfected yourselves and come to Me. If this dwelling offers you so many satisfactions and contains beauty and grace, think about the spiritual life that awaits you and from today approach it. I will grant you to contemplate from this valley, through mirages, that wonderful life full of peace, love and harmony.

23. I tell you once again, that in Me all mankind will be saved. That blood shed on Calvary is life for every spirit, but it is not the blood itself, since it fell into the dust of the earth, but the divine love that is represented in it. When I tell you about my blood, you already know what it is and what it means.

24. Many men have shed their blood in the service of their Lord and for the love of their brothers; but she has not represented divine love, only the spiritual, the human.

Love one another!

25. The blood of Jesus does represent divine love, because there is no stain on it, there was never a sin in the Master and he gave you every last drop of his blood, to make you understand that God is everything for his creatures, that he gives himself to them completely, without reservations, because he loves them infinitely.

26. If the dust of the earth drank that liquid that was life in the body of the Master, it was so that you would understand that my Doctrine would fertilize the life of men with the divine irrigation of his love, his wisdom and his justice.

27. The world, incredulous and skeptical of the words and examples of the Master, fights my teaching saying that Jesus shed his blood to save humanity from sin and that despite this, the world has not been saved; that it sins more every day despite being more evolved.

28. Where is the power of that blood of redemption? Men wonder, while those who should teach the true concepts of my Doctrine, do not know how to satisfy the questions of those hungry for light and thirsty for knowing the truth.

29. I tell you that at this time, the questions of those who do not know have more depth and greater meaning than the answers and explanations given to them by those who claim to know the truth; but I have come again to speak to you and here are my words for those who think that that blood reached the rescue of sinners before divine justice, of all those who were lost and condemned to torture. I tell you that if the Father who knows everything had believed that humanity would not take advantage of and understand all the teaching that Jesus gave them in his words and deeds, he would certainly never have sent him, because the Creator has never done anything useless, nothing that is not destined to bear its fruit; but if He sent him to be born, grow, suffer and die among men, it is because He knew that that radiant and fruitful life of the Master, would be marking with his works an indelible path, as an indelible imprint, so that all his children would find the path that would lead them to true love and that fulfilling his Doctrine would lead them to the mansion in which their Creator was waiting for them.

30. I also knew that that blood that spoke of purity, of infinite love, when spilled to the last drop, would teach humanity to fulfill with faith in its Creator the mission that would raise it to the Promised Land, where when presenting its fulfillment it can tell me: "Lord, everything is finished".

31. Now I can tell you that it was not the hour when my blood was shed on the cross that marked the hour of human redemption. My blood remained here, in the present world, alive, fresh, tracing with the bloody imprint of my passion, the path of your restitution that will lead you to conquer the abode that your Father has promised you.

Love one another!

32. I have told you: I am the source of life, come and wash yourselves of your stains so that you may walk free and saved towards your Father and Creator.

33. My source is of love, inexhaustible and infinite, that is what my shed blood tells you about at that time, she sealed my word, she initialed my Doctrine.

34. Also in the desert I gave my people a symbol: manna, even though I entrusted my Law to them.

35. At this time you have another manna, it is not the same one that materially fed the people. You also have my blood, even if it is not the blood that came from the wounds of Jesus.

36. I am in spirit and you in spirit are listening to me. You are sustained by my word, which is the bread of eternal life, and you purify yourselves by putting my teachings into practice. Now understand that in order to achieve your salvation, you must also do your part, which is love and charity towards your brothers and sisters.

37. I have given you my blood, know how to receive it. If the mere fact that I had given it to you was enough for you to achieve salvation, truly I tell you that no one would sin anymore, that the Earth would no longer be necessary for the atonement of sins, because then all men would already be dwelling in Glory.

38. I want you to make yourselves worthy of reaching the Lord, by your own merits, because being conscious beings, you deserve to enjoy the infinite grace, the ineffable joy of having reached the bosom of the Father, because you knew how to love him and you also loved his creatures, who are your brothers.

39. On my merits, base yours. They trace the way for you, they lead you to the highest of the spirit, there where there is light, peace, true life.

40. Behold the master, who comes to give light to your understanding with his divine lessons, because you are in the time of light.

41. You come with alacrity to my call by demonstrating conformity before my Law, because you have confirmed that by practicing it you dignify yourselves before your Lord. It is the Universal Law of love that humanity will know and live, it will change the face of the world, transforming troubled men into men of high morals.

42. I am making use of the sinners themselves, taking advantage of their willingness to regenerate to give examples to the world. Do not be surprised that I communicate through the sinner, since I have not come to see his sin, but his longing for salvation.

Love one another!

43. If you see that I find myself even in the smallest beings of Nature, how can I ignore you and turn away from you, just because you have imperfections, if that's when you need me the most?

44. I am life and I am in everyone, so nothing can die. Analyze, so that you will not be tied to the form; quiet your senses and find me in the essence.

45. From now on, while you are still incarnate, I want you to know the faculties of the spirit so that you may know how to love Me, that your worship may be worthy of Me, so you will feel me inside and outside of you.

46. There are many doctrines, religions and sects; they all tend to seek me, but I tell you: the way where everyone could find me is the one where they least seek me: that of love, which means truth, charity, elevation.

47. I use less and less of the figurative sense and the parable, because it is time for you to understand me through this humble and simple word. It is not yet the light of your faith that illuminates the way for you, even if it should be so; it is the explanation of my revelations and mysteries that makes you distinguish good from evil. But the light of faith will be kindled in you and will make you look clearly. Remember that I have told you that you will have to save many of your brothers. Do not be afraid of tomorrow, tomorrow is Me and in it you will also find me.

48. Who is better than you to understand and alleviate the sorrows of your brothers, if they are the same ones that you brought before Me and from which you are purifying yourselves? I will leave you prepared for the consolation of troubled hearts.

49. Look how I have helped you to understand and to carry out the delicate mission that you have received from eternity from your Father.

50. Do not be afraid, because if you believe in Me and trust in Me, you will come out ahead. Remember that man who came to Me in the Second Half, to tell me: "Lord, I believe in you, and I come to ask you to give health to my father, who is dying. I know that if you say so, he will heal." Then the Master, seeing so much faith in him, said to him, "Go, for when you arrive at your abode, your healthy father will come out to meet you." And so it was.

51. This is how I want your faith to be, and that when you contemplate the miracle, you return to the Father to thank him.

52. You know neither peace nor true love, and I want you to know my peace and to carry my love in your heart.

Love one another!

53. All of you who long for a better life, all of you who live tormented by the confusion that reigns in the world, unite in prayer, so that you may begin to attract my peace to the Earth. Try to put my Doctrine into practice, so that my word may make you feel how love begins to reach your hearts again. Go preparing yourselves for the coming of my Kingdom among you; be like emissaries and precursors of my peace.

54. Evil, which is the totality of all human sins, vices and ignorance, has long prevailed over men, but it is my will that now, they themselves destroy that power. For this I will help them, I will lend them my sword, so that with it they may overcome evil. That power will fall in pieces, its influence will be rejected from all hearts, its voices will be ignored and its indications will no longer be obeyed. The spirit will be emancipated and will be over sin, matter will finally bend and the passions will become contained.

55. Experience, persuasion, light and serenity, as fruits of the spiritual evolution of men, will be the fertile land where my seed descends.

56. I will reign then; but it will be in your heart. The peace of the peoples will be entrusted to you and I will inspire you from infinity. The differences of races will begin to disappear; the obstacles, hitherto considered insurmountable, will finally be overcome with reason; equity and good judgment will be in human works and every man will live in vigil so that the peace of the world is not disturbed.

57. Bitterness and pain will leave an indelible memory in the spirits and that pain, that memory, will be like a ghost that men will fear, as until today they have feared death.

58. But humanity wants even more tests and these will come. From these trials many hearts will be cleansed and many spirits will be free. The war of ideas, you have not suffered it yet, it is necessary that it arise and that it spread, so that the asleep wake up and those who are stationed, get out of their routine and advance along the path of restitution. My name and my word will be taken as weapons and men will be wounded with them; but I tell you, it will not be my name or my word that will wound or kill, but it will be the intentions with which men wield them.

59. In the end, you will all be overcome by my Doctrine, by my love, because from my word the light that the world needs will flow, to believe, to know and to be saved.

60. Prepare yourselves, because the responsibility of those who have received my word at this time is very great.

61. It seems strange to you everything that is happening among you at this time; men and women feel the awakening of their gifts that were asleep; they hear voices from beyond, contemplate spiritual visions, have prophetic dreams, shudder under the influence of unknown forces, they feel that their previously clumsy mind, becomes clear and they can analyze the deep lessons of the past.; the poor of the word are recreated with the light of inspiration, the possessed are freed from their burden and discover that they have the gift of communication with the spiritual world, the voice of the Lord is heard from the most prepared, others achieve wonders with the sick to whom they give health by divine mercy.

Love one another!

62. Before all these wonders there has been joy among all these multitudes who thought they were abandoned by my charity and suddenly discovered that their spirit was full of gifts. It has long been announced to you by the mouth of a prophet that this age would come.

63. The time has come that Joel prophesied to you; but I must warn you, that those gifts that you have now seen arise from your being, were not given to you until now, they have been undergoing a transformation together with you since the beginning of your spirit and now, at this time, I sent you to Earth to reap the fruit of your evolution.

64. The spirit of Elijah came to open this era by touching with the ray of light that exists in him, the understanding of man, a door through which he would later come to pass my light made word, to give ample teaching to the multitudes and leave my word as a testament and way for a new time.

65. Elijah was the one who first made himself heard through the human spokesman, to announce to you the proximity of my spiritual presence among you and that he would remain as your Spiritual Shepherd, even after my communication had ceased. It is necessary that Elijah continue to lead you, because not everything that I have come to teach you will you be able to understand for yourselves.

66. Elijah will restore to its true meaning the teaching that I have given you from the earliest times; he will enlighten you so that you will find the true interpretation to my revelations; he will touch every spirit and every heart, to awaken them to the light of this new dawn; he will also purify you from all the stains and errors that you have mixed with the gifts that you have manifested, because you should not think that you have worked perfectly and that all your work has been attached to the truth.

67. I have marked the year 1950 for the completion of this form of communication by the human understanding, but this will not signal the completion of the development of the various gifts that you possess, on the contrary, then, in the absence of my word, your spirit will seek my light, my presence and my inspiration, will strive to achieve it, perfecting itself more every day.

68. Bear witness to me, with your gifts, applying them to the fulfillment of virtue, to spiritual growth, to achieving peace for your brothers. Watch out, because an instant of weakness, a step taken without meditation, a trial that makes you falter, may divert you from the right path, from the path of truth, to cause you to get lost in paths of apparent light that lead you away from your fulfillment.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 159

1. Crowds: your spirit is filled with joy because you have had the grace to see the dawn of the new time that was announced to you by the prophets and by the Lord your God. Be aware of everything that happens in the world, because it is not only to you that I am manifesting myself.
2. I have come to surprise men in their materialism, so that they realize the time they are living and recognize as divine signs, many of the events that they have seen with indifference, having attributed them to other causes.
3. In the past, there were times when the people of God knew how to interpret spiritually everything that was happening around them, because they were the people who lived within the Law, who loved me, and who lived a simple and virtuous life; the fibers of their heart were still sensitive, as was their spirit. That people lived in continuous spiritual communication with their Lord. He listened to the humanized voice of his Creator, he knew how to receive messages from the spiritual world, from those beings whom he called angels; and in the rest of the night, in the peace of his heart, and through the gift of dreams, he received messages, warnings and prophecies, to which he gave credit and obedience.
4. God was not only in their mouths, he was also housed in their hearts; the Law was not just a writing for them, but it was lived by men; it was natural that their existence was full of wonders that now you no longer contemplate.
5. These are the examples worthy of imitation that that people left written with their lives, and that now must be the way and the seed for the generations that have succeeded them.
6. Understand that, if by their simplicity and elevation those men felt the spiritual close to them, it is natural that the materialism and the lack of faith of the men of this time, have removed those manifestations from themselves; but I tell you that enough of the poor, unfruitful and miserable life that this humanity lives; that is why I have sought you, calling the hearts of those who sleep, giving sight to the blind who do not succeed in contemplating the truth, and touching the hidden fibers of men to make them sensitive to my presence.
7. Do you think it is difficult for this scientific and materialistic world to feel inclined to spirituality again? I tell you that it is not difficult at all, because my power is infinite. Elevation, faith, light and goodness are for the spirit a more imperative need than it is for your body to eat, drink and sleep.

Love one another!

8. If the gifts, faculties and attributes of the spirit have been dormant for a long time, they will awaken to my call and make spirituality return among men with all its wonders, because now you are more able to understand them.

9. I must say to the men of this time and of the times to come, do not expect to contemplate the same signs or manifestations that the first ones saw, because you must understand that now you are living in a new era, that you have walked and evolved enough, to intuit, understand and feel in a completely different way. Therefore, do not ask for external manifestations that only come to impress your senses, to base your belief on them. I have reserved for you in infinite number, signs, manifestations and wonders, which you will see more with your spiritual gaze than with that of matter.

10. Study and analyze what history tells you; but understand that this is another time, that it is another era that you are living and that if there is a greater evolution in your spirit than in those days, the way in which I am presenting my lessons to you now is not the same, even if its meaning is the same because it is eternal.

11. On this day when you have waited with a prayer for your Master, I truly descend into your heart. Receive me there people, for I receive you in my Father's Spirit.

12. I find peace in your spirit and harmony in your senses. That peace is spread by your being and that inner preparation invites my Spirit to descend in its divine irradiation. Have all your powers ready so that you can analyze my teaching.

13. I am not speaking to you at this moment of the bodily senses but of those of the spirit that have been in it for a while, but that you have not understood them because you only accept the forms and reject the essence.

14. You are approaching the imperishable life and I tell you: You are still small, because the inclinations of your matter are out of harmony with your spirit. But I have left you the strength and courage to overcome the instincts with meditation and prayer.

15. My word delivered through the spokesman has become more and more clear, deep and perfect, making hardened hearts become simple and noble.

16. Who is the one who has not had an ordeal and who has not suffered in life? No one, because you all carry a cross in imitation of Christ. I contemplate you walking submissive and obedient, without rebelling against the natural laws or the elements, and seeing that you have not broken these laws, I told you: You are worthy of the Father and the Master, you have come to understand that it is not the sacrifice of matter with which you must pay homage to the Creator and you have understood the way to exalt him with the spirit, thus ceasing to be the pagans.

Love one another!

17. You are dwelling on Earth and you have to use the elements of Nature to live, but since they are all under one Law, take them within that same Law, so you will give to the spirit what belongs to it, and to your body what corresponds to it. I forbid you nothing because nothing would contradict my divine designs, but take it in moderation.

18. If you know the Law of the Father, you will have nothing to fear, because you will know how to take what corresponds to you within my Law.

19. Do what my word commands you, for I want to make of you a people of peace and progress, because you are the people I seek; you are Israel, in which Levi is found whom I have killed to serve me at this time.

20. In the First time the Father anointed Levi so that the servants of divine worship would sprout from him and be the interpreters of my inspiration and of my Law; therefore you see that among the novices I seek my servants, those who will go to other nations to fulfill my mandate. This will happen after 1950, because my Work will be universally recognized.

21. Today you are the disciple eager to know, because you recognize that you cannot yet consider yourself teachers and then you come to hear the word of the one who knows everything.

22. Prepare your spirit, heart and mind and you will become teachers who recreate with your disciples.

23. I receive your prayer in which you ask me to pour out grace on you, so that you can understand my word.

24. See that I do not always speak to you in parables, I do it with all clarity so that you can understand.

25. Feed and strengthen your spirit in my Doctrine so that it may evolve.

26. The Teacher's lesson always begins in the same way, because it contains the same love. It begins in love and ends in charity, two words within which all my teaching is enclosed. It is these high feelings that give strength to the spirit to reach the regions of light and truth.

27. See in what way I have been making you understand and fulfill my will; not as an order, because I, as infinite wisdom, know that if I inspire you and awaken you to love, the will to obey my Law will be born from yourselves, My love enlightens you and sets you free. My charity only points out to you the path of perfection along which you must walk. The path that I am talking about so much is the one that goes beyond the death of the body, because you must always be prepared for that moment of transition. Does not your intuition or your consciousness tell you that there is something that persists about matter and that something is spirit? I have always come to teach you that way and to prepare you to pass the crossroads, so that your spirit, when passing from the passing life of the world to the spiritual valley where eternal life is, will not be surprised, will not be troubled by the infinite.

28. You only have to fulfill your destiny here and I promise you, for the good fulfillment of your missions and duties, a blissful journey in the spiritual life. When this is the case, you will no longer be stained in the mud of the evil of this world. Your spirit will no longer be darkened by the low passions of matter.

29. Truly I tell you, in order for you to reach complete purity, your spirit will still have to purify itself a lot in this world and in the spiritual valley.

30. The more times it is necessary for you to have to return to this planet and the more you miss the opportunities that your Father grants you, the more you will delay your definitive entry into true life and the longer you will prolong your stay in the valley of tears.

31. Every spirit must demonstrate in every earthly existence the advancement and the fruits of its evolution, each time taking a firm step forward.

32. Keep in mind that the only good that results in self-benefit is the one that is done out of true love and charity for others, the one that, moreover, is done disinterestedly.

33. When a spirit becomes docile and submissive to the will of his Lord, it is because He trusts in Him, he does not rebel to leave a matter and return to the hereafter, because he does not fear judgment, nor does he resist returning to Earth where dangers and temptations await him, because he knows that from that crucible he will come out purer.

34. He who overcomes temptations from without and those of himself will be called by others, enlightened and chosen of the Lord. In addition, he will have a spiritual being or angel of light by his side, who will watch over him and together they will work until my will is fulfilled.

35. Therefore, do not be afraid that your eyes will not be able to contemplate the fulfillment of these prophecies in this life. I will grant your spirit not only to look but even to reap the fruit that he has sown in times past, whether near or far.

36. The time of controversy is coming in which men will show their intelligence and their eloquence, of which they will reach the point of boasting and vanity. My word of the Second Half will be discussed again, and the various interpretations that have been given to it will also be discussed. Verily I say to you, Out of that whirlwind light will arise and many veils will be blown away and hypocrisy will be brought down by the truth.

Love one another!

37. It is my divine desire that men come to the unification of ideas and spiritual worship, because I have something in store for them when this is.

38. Study, assimilate and live my teachings, so that you have nothing to fear from the wise, scientists and literate.

39. Pray that infinite wisdom will emanate from your mouth.

40. People: Are you afraid to come before me and find me as a Judge? Truly, I tell you, I am also perfect as a Judge, so you should not fear any injustice on my part.

41. It is enough that you remember the case of the adulterous woman, whom her judges had already sentenced; she was saved by the words of Christ, the same one who is speaking to you at this moment.

42. I cannot give you a greater sentence than the weight of your faults, for which reason I tell you that you should fear nothing from Me, but from yourselves.

43. Only I know the gravity, the magnitude and the importance of your faults; men are constantly carried away by appearances, and they fail to penetrate the hearts of their fellow men. I do penetrate into the hearts and I can tell you that men have come before Me, accusing themselves of serious faults and full of regret for having offended me and I have found them clean; on the contrary, others have come to tell me that they have never wronged anyone and I know that they are lying, because, although their hands have not been stained with their brother's blood, the blood of their victims has fallen on their spirit, whom they have ordered to take their lives; they are the ones who throw the stone and hide their hand. When in my word I have come to pronounce the words of: "coward", "false" or "traitor", their whole being has shuddered and many times they have been absent from the chair because they have felt on them a look that has been judging them.

44. Because human justice is imperfect, your prisons are full of victims and the gallows have been stained with the blood of innocents. How many criminals I see enjoying freedom and respect in the world and how many perverts you have erected monuments to venerate their memory!

45. If you could contemplate those beings when already inhabiting the spiritual valley the light has become in their spirit! Instead of senseless and useless tributes, you would send them a prayer to console them in their remorse.

Love one another!

46. I come to establish a Kingdom of peace among men, and, although this makes some laugh, I will continue until I prove to you the strength of love and justice, forces that you do not know because you have made very little use of them.

47. It will not be on rubble or on corpses where I will raise this Kingdom, it will be on fertile lands, fruitful by experience and fertilized with pain, there my seed will flourish, there you will see my justice shine.

48. It is up to this humanity to regenerate and purify its envelope, so that it leaves a good inheritance to those who will come later, who, as for the spirits who will have to come to incarnate for those times, I have already prepared and chosen them.

49. Understand your destiny, people, analyze this word so that you may come to know your mission; I do not want you to try to do more than what really corresponds to you, nor to do less than what I have entrusted to you, because then your work will not be firm.

50. Some of you in your heart say to me: Master, why do you sometimes, in your word, make us responsible for the peace of humanity? And I tell you that it will not be you who save the human race at this time, because it is a superhuman work, but if you are the beginning of a new way of living, the beginning of a spiritual humanity and this principle will have to influence the salvation and liberation of peoples and nations.

51. It is necessary that I once again tell you that this people that you are forming around my manifestation, is not a people that the Father distinguishes with his love over the other peoples of the Earth, if the Lord has set his gaze on it, it is because he has formed it with spirits that have been in the world whenever a new divine revelation has descended. They are spiritual children of that people of Israel: a people of prophets, messengers, seers and patriarchs.

52. Who better than they could receive me at this time, understand the new form of my manifestation and testify to the fulfillment of my promises?

53. I tell you this, that only I could reveal to you, because it was written that only the Lamb could open the Book of the Seven Seals; I let you know so that you understand the responsibility that you re-contract with the other peoples of the world, before whom you must be like a mirror reflecting my Law.

54. For this people there was only one God and they know that Christ was the Word through whom the Father spoke to men. Neither Moses, nor Abraham, nor Solomon, nor Elijah, none of the prophets was seen by him as Divinity; on the other hand, how many messengers of the Lord have been divinized in other peoples, forgetting or ignoring the true God with it!

Love one another!

55. When I speak of my "People of Israel", of the "People of the Lord", I am referring to those who have brought a spiritual mission to the earth, to those who made known my Law, to those who announced me, to those who were faithful to me, to those who proclaimed the existence of the living God, to those who perpetuated the seed of love and to those who knew how to recognize in the Son, the presence and the word of the Father. Those are the ones who make up the people of God, that is Israel, the strong, the faithful, the prudent Israel; that is my legion of soldiers faithful to the Law, faithful to the truth.

56. Those who persecuted my prophets, those who wounded the hearts of my messengers; those who turned their backs to the true God to bow down before idols; those who denied me and mocked me and asked for my blood and my life, those, although they were called Israelites by race, were not of the chosen people, they were not of the people of the prophets, of the legion of enlightened, of the faithful soldiers; because Israel is a spiritual name that was wrongly taken to dominate a race.

57. You must also know that everyone who aspires to be part of my people can achieve it with his love, his charity, with his zeal and his fidelity in the Law.

58. My people have no specific lands or cities in the world, my people have no race, but are in all races, among all humanity. This portion of men who listen to my word and receive the new revelations, are only a part of my people, another part is scattered throughout the Earth and another, the largest, dwells in the spiritual valley.

59. That is my people: the one who recognizes me and loves me, the one who obeys me and follows me.

60. Before the people, one hundred and forty-four thousand chosen ones march as guides, some are in matter and the others in spirit, behind them, great legions walk, the same of spirits as of men who try to conquer the light to be worthily called "children of the people of Israel".

61. The children of this people always gave proof of having power over the elements of Nature, their passage through the world left a trace of great wonders that amazed humanity at that time. Israel must continue to demonstrate this power to the world, because it speaks of the superiority of the spirit over matter.

62. When one of your brothers shows you the power of his occult sciences, do not be afraid, nor be amazed, for I have taught you greater wonders. Do not go to judge anyone badly either, because each people has sought the truth about the spiritual life, according to their ability and belief.

Love one another!

63. I speak to you of everything so that you may know everything and nothing may surprise you; I give you my teaching in great detail so that you will not fall into sciences that you call occult, into mysticism or into mute or useless contemplation.

64. Spirituality is clarity, it is simplicity, it is the cult of love and it is a struggle to achieve the perfection of the spirit.

65. When this people arises and spreads among humanity, doctrinating with word and deeds, it will be fought by religions, sects and sciences; some will find a part to attack, others concepts to fight; by then the people will already be strong, and faith and knowledge will be a ripe fruit in their heart.

66. Who of the children of this people will be the ones who will carry this seed to the ends of the earth? You do not know it, but I do reveal to you that you are the beginning of the sowing in this time.

67. John, the disciple, spoke a lot for you; his inspirations are a light for your path, they are an answer to your questions and a subject for your study. In his revelation he saw the spiritual struggle of this time, whose fratricidal wars are only a reflection of the Great Battle that is being fought in the spiritual space and in this world.

68. Man is blind to the truth of what is happening and he needs this revelation to know the reason for the struggle and the chaos that reigns in the world; he also needs to acquire spirituality to have weapons for his defense in the midst of combat.

69. Blessed are those who believe in my word and prepare themselves, because they will be saved, woe to those who listen indifferently to my warnings because they will be caught by the whirlwind in complete helplessness!

70. Sooner would the heavens and the earth pass away, than my word would not be fulfilled. You see, many centuries ago this time was announced to you and it has come, because I had prophesied it.

71. You must pray, multitudes, because prayer will clear the way of those who later arise as sowers. Know that at the instant of your communication with Me, my light descends from infinity like a dew of grace on those for whom you are praying.

72. Understand your mission so that each one of you may be a worthy child of Israel, the people of God.

73. I am preparing you to imitate those apostles who followed me in the Second Time and who knew by their example how to trace a path of meekness, obedience and humility. You will be messengers of this good news and at every step you will listen to the voice of your conscience, which will make you understand if you are leaving a good example along the way with your works. I have to show you the extensive sowings where my divine seed will fall, already my charity is preparing and disposing everything.

Love one another!

74. I have poured out the light of my Spirit on every spirit and every flesh, so that you may all feel me and contemplate me, so that the whole world may bear witness to my truth.

75. Man is awake, he has prepared himself and has developed his mind, but he has left dormant the gifts of the spirit that are essential for his perfection.

76. Man has taken the wrong path, because these wars that he has promoted are the fruits of his bad science that he has not wanted to purify in the light of his conscience. When the human mind evolves along with the senses illuminated by the divine light, you will see men discover and create wonders with their science, when they are inspired by love for their fellow men.

77. Only my voice can guide you in the midst of this confusion in which no one knows what is true anymore, nor can he distinguish good from evil, nor light from darkness.

78. To you who listen to me, I say: your inheritance in this time is the same as in previous times: to bring the light of my message to the nations.

79. Not only has my word come to prepare you, but also the trials that you have been encountering at every step have been part of my divine lesson; sometimes you have been able to understand and take advantage of the trials, others, you have remained insensitive and deaf to the voice of the Master.

80. A being that departs from your side to take it to dwell in the spiritual valley; something that robs you of on Earth; a disease that keeps you in bed purifying you with pain, are tests that wisely come into your life to help you fulfill your destiny, which is to love one another.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. The fruit of life, the fruit sweet and pleasing to the spirit, is the one that I come to give you in my word, Eat and feel that you are around the Lord's table. O prophets of the Third Time! Prepare yourselves so that you will see what only the appointed are given to behold. While many of those who form these multitudes do not feel my presence in their heart and spirit, you can give testimony of your sights, a testimony full of light and truth, both in content and in form: Verily I tell you that when one of you prepares, the spirit penetrates into the light of spiritual life, where he is saturated and inspired to be able to explain his vision to those who are waiting for his testimony.
2. When this people becomes spiritualized and learns to feel my presence, they will no longer need the seer to give them proof that my manifestation has been a truth. Then I will be able to say to them, "Blessed are those who have believed without seeing."
3. Delicate and serious is the responsibility of the seer, because in many cases, the faith of many weak hearts that seek proof to believe depends on his word.
4. Great must be the intuition that the seer develops to understand if what he sees in spirit is the fruit of a good preparation, or not; if what he has contemplated should be testified to his brothers, or if he should shut it up, but how few of those who have received this gift, have known how to cultivate it with the love, zeal and spirituality that it requires!
5. The gift of clairvoyance is one of the most delicate, so I tell you, that without spirituality the seer's gaze will never be able to penetrate into the spiritual region.
6. Spirituality means elevation of feelings, purity in life, faith, love for others, charity, humility before God and deep respect for the gifts received. When you manage to achieve any of these virtues, you begin to penetrate with your spiritual gaze into the mansion of love and perfection. Thus, when you reach spirituality, from the Earth you will be able to say that you live, even if only in the moments of your prayer, in the spiritual valley, and at the same time you will receive the light that reveals facts that belong to the future, since for the spirit, when it begins to rise, the future ceases to be a mystery.
7. Yes, disciples. Only in human life does man ignore what will happen in the future, what will come tomorrow; he does not know his destiny, he does not know the path he will have to travel and what his end will be.
8. Man could not resist the knowledge of all the trials that he will have to go through in his existence, and in my charity for him I have had that veil of mystery between his present and his future, thus preventing his mind from going astray contemplating or knowing everything that he will have to live and feel.

Love one another!

9. On the other hand, the spirit, a being clothed with strength and created for eternity, has in himself the faculty of knowing his future, the gift of knowing his destiny and the strength to understand and accept whatever trials await him, because he knows that at the end of the road, when it has been traveled within obedience to the Law, he will have to reach the Land of promise, paradise of the spirit, which is the state of evolution, purity and perfection, which he will have finally reached.

10. For your spirituality, take Me as an example, because that is why I became a man at that time. Each of my works remained as a lesson for men. But if my works were a teaching for humanity, you must imitate them, so that you may achieve your evolution and the development of the gifts of the spirit and of human faculties and come closer and closer to the example that with my life, my works and words I gave you.

11. Remember that I, as a man, always knew what my destiny was in the world, I knew the future and I testified to this from my childhood. Through Jesus I spoke to my disciples about everything that would happen in the last days of my stay on Earth, how my passion and my sacrifice would be. I revealed to humanity the spiritual future of men; I anticipated what would happen in the nations, from those of those times to those that would exist at the time that I indicate for my new manifestation, which you call "the new coming".

12. The spirituality of Jesus' body allowed him to know his destiny, because my Spirit revealed it to him, and that same spirituality gave him the strength to accept the Father's will with absolute love and humility.

13. You cannot attain the degree of spirituality of your Master in order to be able to know what your destiny has in store for you, what the future has in store for you, but through your elevation I will make you sense the proximity of some event.

14. That presentiment, that clairvoyance about the future, that knowledge about your destiny, you will only achieve it as your being, formed of body and spirit, rises along the path of spirituality, which I am telling you again, is faith, is purity, is love of life, is love and charity for your fellow men, is humility and love before your Lord.

15. To help you in the purification of your being, I am transmitting to you my thoughts that you receive converted into word through the understanding of my spokespersons, and that points you to a path of light. I bless the one who believes in this truth, as I also bless the one who doubts, because you are all my disciples, my dearly beloved children.

16. My lessons through this communication will leave a trail of spirituality among the multitudes, which will remind my disciples that I was with them in a new way, to fulfill my promise to them.

Love one another!

17. This is the new day that the larks have greeted with their trills, to announce to humanity the presence of the Third Time.

18. My new manifestation was announced that it would coincide with the time of the struggle between the elevation of the spirit and the materiality of the envelope, of the war between truth and falsehood, of the battle between good and evil between light and shadow.

19. Look at your brothers, those who call themselves powerful; they want to triumph by killing, they want to build their new kingdom on rubble, ruins and corpses.

20. I say to you that it is time to sow the seed of light and peace in the lands that you have fertilized with your love.

21. That is why I seek the hearts of men, to save them from their tribulation and to free them from their confusion, because I will triumph by giving you eternal life, so that in the end I can reign over the living.

22. My spiritual hosts are in full struggle for the salvation of their brothers on earth, and truly I tell you, they will not return defeated, but on the contrary they will arrive singing triumphant hymns.

23. I come to redeem you through thought, without the need for my Word to incarnate again to dwell among you. How strange is it that my Spirit communicates with yours through thought? How strange is it that the Shepherd is looking for his lost sheep?

24. Truly I tell you, since before you existed, I loved you, and knowing your destiny, I had already thought about your salvation. That is why it was my will to coexist humanely with men, because with my love I wanted to teach you the path of light that would lead you one day to dwell in eternity, in my paternal womb.

25. On Earth I manifested my divine power through Jesus: I resurrected Lazarus, I converted Muffins, I restored light to the blind of body and spirit, I flooded hearts with faith and hope, I opened a new path to the spirits stationed, and finally, I watered the earth with my blood and I gave you my body, as proof that I was among you out of love, to give everything to those I love very much.

26. Now, as at that time, I come to give myself in spirit to humanity, to save you by making you useful, because the seed that I have brought you to sow is the seed of usefulness that will make you stop being sterile in spirit and parasites of life.

27. Will it take you long to practice? Yes, my children, but what for you are years and centuries, for Me are moments. I use time to mature in minds, hearts and spirits the fruit of love.

Love one another!

28. This is the time when the divine light will shine in fullness on my followers, who will manifest the gifts of the spirit, demonstrating that they do not need earthly goods or material sciences to do charity and work wonders. They will heal in my name, they will heal the sick, they will turn water into balm and they will raise the dead from their bed. Your prayer will have the power to calm the winds, to appease the elements and to combat epidemics and bad influences.

29. The possessed will be freed from their obsessions, from their persecutors and oppressors, before the word, prayer and the power of my new disciples.

30. But truly I tell you, when I see my people prepared, I will make known to them the hour when they will rise up to the struggle of light against darkness. And if you are strangers, think with serenity that this is not the first time that man has repudiated my seed. From the earliest times, man has cut branches from the Tree, to plant them according to his will, not knowing afterwards what their origin was, and I want you to know that in essence that tree is Me, in my Work on which man should not exert any influence, but only receive its benefits and propagate its seed.

31. The struggle of good against evil exists not only in your world, you can also find it in the spiritual valley, there are great battles and their influence reaches you, translating into wars. Do not allow the spiritual world that has been protecting you to be replaced by beings of little light; watch over your steps and constantly invoke peace for this world in which you inhabit.

32. Pray and work. Be spiritualized, so that you can overcome in all trials. Remember the lessons given to you by that people called Israel who knew how to rise up to the call of their Lord. He was taken to the desert to learn a great lesson, he met the Law there, he learned to communicate with his Father, he let the spiritual gifts awaken; he learned to obey the divine dictates, to be inspired by the Law and to walk together, with harmony and fraternity.

33. That obedience freed him from dangers and stumbles; his union made him strong in the face of his adversaries; his order made his journey bearable and often happy; his perseverance and his faith led him to achieve victory and to see the fulfillment of the divine promise. When the men of this time review the history of that people, they marvel at so much faith of those men and are amazed at so many wonders that the Lord sowed on his way and when he heard that your chest sighs at that faith and spirituality, I tell you that it is in man that those wonders return. When I behold them prepared, I will manifest myself in them.

Love one another!

34. Now it is up to all of you who are already prepared and awake to announce the liberation of the world. Remember that Elijah, the promised one for this time, is preparing everything to rescue the nations of the earth, enslaved by materialism, from the dominion of Pharaoh, as Moses did in Egypt with the tribes of Israel at that time.

35. Tell your brothers and sisters that Elijah has already manifested himself through human understanding, that his presence has been in the spirit, and that he will continue to illuminate the way for all the peoples who will come from now on.

36. Your Pastor's mission is to restore all creatures to their true path, whether it is spiritual, moral or material, for which I tell you that blessed will be the nations that receive the call of their Lord, through Elijah, because they will be united by the Law of justice and love, which will bring them peace as a fruit of their understanding and their fraternity. Thus united, they will be taken to the field of struggle where they will fight against evil, materialism and lies. In this struggle, the men of this time will see the new miracles and will understand the spiritual meaning of life, the one that speaks to them of immortality and peace. They will stop killing each other, recognizing that what they must destroy is their ignorance, their egoism and the insane passions, from which their stumbles and miseries, both material and spiritual, have come.

37. Where does idolatry and religious fanaticism come from, but from ignorance of the laws governing the spirit? What is the cause of the wars that sow confusion among peoples, destroying their men, but excessive greed or irrepressible hatred?

38. Conclude by understanding that the final battle will not be of brothers against their own brothers, but of good against evil. I will put my sword in the right hand of man, so that he overcomes himself and reaches the gates of the Land of Promise; but do not expect that this Land will be a certain country that you receive as an inheritance, because this new Promised Land, you will find it within your spirit, in the midst of peace; you will contemplate the transformation of your world, previously uncertain, hostile and miserable, into a prodigal and welcoming land. You will live an existence where there is spirituality, justice and love, this will bring progress to men, as a result of having been fed on true knowledge. Human life will be more elevated and when my Spirit manifests itself among the prepared men of the future, a time of revelations will come in all orders and the wonders and wonders, which the past generations prophesied to you, will be fulfilled.

39. When the world reaches its new liberation and, guided by the light of Elijah, penetrates into that just and good life, you will have here on Earth a reflection of the spiritual life that awaits you beyond this life to eternally enjoy the peace and light of your Father, but if you ask yourself how will all the nations be united into one people, as were those tribes that integrated the people of Israel? I say to you: Do not be afraid, because once they are all taken to the desert, the trials will unite them, and when this is, a new manna will descend from heaven to each of the needy hearts.

40. Rejoice in my presence, beloved people, make a feast in your hearts, vibrate with joy, because at last you have seen this day of the Lord arrive. You feared that this day would come because you still thought like the ancients, you believed that your Father's heart was vindictive, that he held a grudge for the offenses received and that therefore he would bring the sickle, the whip and the cup of bitterness ready, to exercise a revenge on those who had offended him so much and so repeatedly; but great has been your surprise to see that in the Spirit of God there can be neither anger, nor anger, nor hatred, and that if the world sobs and laments as never, it is not because his Father has given him to eat that fruit, or to drink from that chalice, but because it is the harvest that humanity is gathering by his works.

41. Certainly, all the calamities that have been unleashed at this time were announced to you; but not because they were announced to you, think that your Lord brought them to you as a punishment; on the contrary, in all times I have warned you against evil, against temptations and I have helped you to lift up from your falls; moreover, I have put at your disposal all the means that are necessary for you so that you can be saved; but you must also recognize that you have always been deaf and unbelieving to my calls.

42. This very day I am saying to you: take my Work as if it were an ark and penetrate it so that you may be saved from the coming storms; but you will see how many will not want to believe my warning, and they will not prepare themselves; and when the test comes and the scourges, then they will begin to say that I have taken revenge on them and that I have punished them.

43. Hear my word, O people, and taste its sweetness; open your hearts and you will feel the visit of your Father. Confess yourselves spiritually before Me, and you will feel a peace that will make you wish never to lose it again.

44. How is it possible that you were waiting for me, if you were filled with violence and if my coming has caused you terror instead of infinite joy? I tell you again that you should not fear anything from Me, but from yourselves, all evils can come to you. Take care, then, of the restitution that you may incur because of your faults.

45. Jealous if I am, inexorable, but just, upright and pure. If you sprouted from Me clean, I think it is right that in the same way you should return. I have taught you that what is stained cannot reach Me, it must first be purified and that is what is happening in the world at this time.

Love one another!

46. In Jesus, the world looked to its humanized God, from him men received only lessons of love, teachings of infinite wisdom, proofs of perfect justice, but never a word of violence, an act or a demonstration of rancor; instead, look how He was offended and mocked, He had power and all power in his hand, which the whole world does not have, but it was necessary that the world know his Father in his true essence, justice and charity.

47. In Jesus, the world saw a Father who gives everything for his children, without asking for anything for him. A Father who forgives with infinite love the worst offenses, without ever exercising revenge, and a Father who, before taking the lives of the children who offend him, forgives them, tracing with his blood the path of their spiritual redemption.

48. How could it be possible that at this time when I manifest myself to men in spirit, I would come to erase from their hearts the concept they have of the loving and just Father, who they have formed of Me through their life on Earth?

49. You must prepare yourselves, for I bring justice for all. Prepare yourselves, because the majesty with which I present myself should not cause you fear in your heart, but should be a cause for joy and gladness.

50. Watch and pray, so that in the approaching battle, you can be by my side.

51. Behold how my light comes to tear the darkness of your world. Indeed, I come to fight men, but only to erase all the evil that is in their hearts. I will put the light and the strength of my love in those who faithfully follow me and then they will say: We are going to look for the dragon that stalks us, the beast that induces us to sin and offend the Lord. They will look for her in the seas, in the desert, in the mountains and in the jungles, in the invisible and they will not find her, because she lives in the hearts of men, he is the one who has begotten her and there she has grown, until she dominates the Earth.

52. When the reflections of my sword of light wound the heart of every man, the force that comes from evil will weaken to death, then you will say: "Lord, with the divine force of your charity I have defeated the dragon, the one that I believed lurked from the invisible, without even thinking that I had it inside the heart.

53. When wisdom shines in all men, who will dare to turn good into evil? Who will give the eternal for the temporary? No one, truly I tell you, for you will all be strong in the divine wisdom.

54. Sin proceeds from ignorance and weakness.

55. That is why I am inviting you to penetrate my divine chair, so that you may truly be children of light.

Love one another!

56. A new era has opened before humanity; while the world sleeps without realizing the light that is illuminating it, in the spiritual there is joy and celebration. On every spirit and on all flesh, my Spirit has been poured out at this time.

57. The new seed of Abraham is scattered and it is necessary to gather it to give it my new spiritual lesson. Wars, destruction, chaos and death have not been enough to make humanity understand that my justice has descended to call them to the path of my Law. The emissaries I have sent sleep, and in the world they are only after comforts, well-being and earthly possessions; the ideal of spiritual eternity they have hidden. The voice of conscience has spoken to them and their cry has been lost in the materialism of the human mind and heart. I have let all the pain, bitterness, hatred and impiety overflow, but at the same time I have reminded men of my Law of love and justice, making them recognize that at a time like this my coming was foretold.

58. A humble corner of the Earth was chosen by Me for my manifestation; humble men and women were chosen at this time to serve as a means for my communication and to have the joy of being the ones who heard my divine words for the first time in this Third Time. Patiently and by virtue of the essence of this word and of the wonders that I have done among my children, that first group became a multitude and later a people.

59. My word has struggled to separate these hearts from material complications, from selfishness and hypocrisy, also to distance them from vices and ignorance, that is the only cross that I have placed on their shoulders; but those are the first steps. I have said to this people, that the day will come when with your look, with your word or with your thought, you will carry out amazing works. When will these events be? When there is spirituality among you.

60. The unified thoughts of a multitude will be able to bring down evil influences and topple idols from their pedestals.

61. Today you still feel yourself trembling under the influence of war, before the fury of the elements and you are afraid of the judgment of men. It is that you still feel small and clumsy due to the lack of development of your gifts.

62. Blessed is the one who prepares because being inside this battle, he will be the strong soldier who in the end will be victorious. What do you think are the forces they will contain? You answer me with human reasoning, I tell you that it will be the forces of good and evil that will have to face each other in the decisive struggle. Which of these forces do you think will win? You say to me: Undoubtedly the force of good, Master. And indeed good will overcome evil in you, when you love one another.

Love one another!

63. I taught you at that time to overcome the temptations of the world and death, making love and truth triumphant. Now I want you to imitate me, to cast out the passions from your heart, so that there, within you, the peace of the Divine Spirit may be lodged and you invite me to have my sanctuary in you. But when you have overcome evil, you will be surprised to realize that the temptation you had formed with your passions, tendencies, weaknesses and sins and that when you overcame them, you put to death in you that dominant influence.

64. Do your merits to achieve peace, people, but do not ask me for that peace, without first having fought to deserve it. The times have passed, your spirit has grown and he will have to carve out as much as he longs and needs. His childhood, that age when the Father had to provide for his little ones with everything, has passed.

65. I am going to prove to humanity that its problems will not be solved by force and that as long as it makes use of destructive and murderous weapons, no matter how terrible and strong they may seem, they will not be able to make peace among men; on the contrary, they will bring as a consequence greater hatreds and desires for revenge. Only conscience, reason and feelings of charity can be the foundations on which the era of peace is based, but in order for that light to shine within men, it is necessary that they first drink to the last drop of the chalice of bitterness.

66. Do not be afraid, disciples, when you hear rumors of war, when you see hunger and misery arrive and the strangest epidemics appear.

67. In the depths of your heart you will have the certainty that when these trials arrive, humanity will be drinking the residues of the cup of bitterness; you will not remain inactive or indifferent in that hour, on the contrary, you will give yourselves to your mission bringing light to the mind of the confused and balm to the sick.

68. Watch and pray, people, so that the influences of that evil force in which human passions vibrate and troubled spirits are stirred, do not tarnish the light that I have brought to your understanding.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. I am the inseparable friend of the human heart. I have accompanied you on all paths through the ages. If you have sought me as a counselor, you have received sound and loving advice. If you have turned to Me for relief, you have had me as a doctor, strengthening your spirit. In the days of pleasure I have shared your joys and I have smiled when you have smiled full of innocence for the healthy joys that you find in your path. Invoke Me with respect when you find yourselves in the midst of vices, knowing that you do harm to your spirit and cause degeneration to humanity. Do not look for me in the shadow or in the materialism of a complicated or artificial life. Seek Me in the light and use your gifts for the benefit of yourselves and your brothers. I am transforming you so that you will return to the state of perfection that you possessed in the beginning. This lesson that I have repeated so much, I want you to record it in your spirit, because soon my word will no longer be heard through the spokespersons. I do not want those who have received my teaching to leave Me after this time. Be prepared for spirit-to-Spirit communication and learn to receive my commands and prophecies by intuition. Hear in the depths of your consciousness my voice that guides you.

2. The spirit, by his free will, is the owner of choosing the path, but I wanted him to use his reason, and his will, to demonstrate his love and recognition to Me. The law is engraved in the spirit, but the matter is fragile. I prepared spirit and matter so that they would form a single being capable of carrying out a great destiny that contains wisdom and perfection.

3. Since then, two paths were prepared for the struggle of the spirit, two representatives also, since the beginning of time: Abel and Cain. Abel is the first example of obedience and Cain the first who fed his heart with the evil and temptations of the world.

4. My light illuminates everything created and everyone who wants to be saved, who complies with the Law and bends his reluctance. I, as a Father, suffer for him who has fallen into temptation and has been confused, but you will all come to Me. The time of the awakening of the spirit has come and I have come to call humanity; I want you to arrive at the blessed city that has been promised to you since the beginning of time.

5. I come to show you my path, to invite you to take it for love; I do not force you, you are not my slaves, you all carry my light and you will be able to choose the path that pleases you. I have seen that the world has made you tired and that you are preparing to enter step by step into the Kingdom of Heaven. From the plane in which you are, pray for humanity and send it a ray of light with your thoughts. Whatever you do in my name, I will bless it.

6. Who revealed to man the mysteries of the flesh? The meat itself. Who revealed to him the mysteries of science? Mind. But I tell you that the existence of God can only be revealed by the spirit.

7. The beautiful parable of paradise, of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, was given by inspiration to the former. It was a beautiful message for men of all times and of all ages, but the true essence of that teaching was not understood by some and was falsified by others.

8. From this misunderstanding a struggle was born that divided those who have studied the divine revelations, and those who have delved into Nature and this is how the struggle arose between those who seek me with the spirit and those who expect everything in material form.

9. How foolish were those who maintained that science was abominable in the eyes of God, I have never declared myself an enemy of it, since I am the beginning and the end of all sciences. Those who with their science came to form their law, were the materialists; by worshiping their science they forgot God. The one who with his divine wisdom has done everything.

10. What was the true meaning of that parable that I delivered to the first? Its meaning was taught to him by the divine voice that for the first time made itself felt in man through his conscience, to prevent him from the trials that life would present to him. It was the paternal voice that said with all affection to the son: "Prepare yourselves, watch and pray so that you do not fall into temptation. Alert, awaken your senses and powers so that you can come out ahead of the test that I leave you within the struggle of spirit and matter, in which eternal values must triumph over the smallness of the perishable body. Look at everything around you, but walk carefully so that you will not stumble. That body that you possess and through which you perceive all these wonders and beauties of Creation, is a weak creature to which you must guide with the spirit, do not let her impose her desires and her material inclinations on you, teach her to take what she needs following my Law.

11. Who will be able to advise you in each of your steps? Consciousness, that divine light that I leave in you to be your beacon and your guide on the journey. And how can you be sensitive to that voice and to that call? Through prayer, which is the way to communicate with the Father. If you do so, your life on earth will be a perpetual Eden."

12. But I tell you that the inspiration I put in the man was not heeded and pain made its appearance in his life.

Love one another!

13. Many are now those who scoff at those inspirations that men had about the spiritual, but in this time that is of light, humanity will understand the teachings revealed in the past times; but to achieve it, they will still have to eat some fruits of the harvest of the tree of science and that it has cultivated.

14. Ah! if, from the first moment in which men had knowledge of good and evil, they had cultivated the tree of knowledge with true love, I tell you that the fruits they would have reaped would have been very different. Look how much good has been done to humanity by all those who, for noble purposes, have taken from these fruits.

15. How long men have needed to convince themselves of their mistakes and how much time must still elapse to restore the evil they have sown, but I will help you in everything you need to restore your spirit to its primitive and original purity.

16. I will receive your spirit when the last human generation has lived in this world as in a sanctuary, when it has made its existence a true paradise, achieved by the spirituality of its life.

17. I am addressing men of other times, but it is good that you go meditating on these teachings, so that you try to clear the way to those who come, and they to those who are going to happen, until the time arrives to which I have referred in this lesson.

18. My Spirit sends his light and illuminates the path where your spirit is to come to Me, the imprint of Jesus is imprinted on it. He who enters my path feels that he regains his lost inheritance, just as he who turns away from it feels disinherited.

19. It is time for judgment, but despite this it is not my intention that men submit to my Law out of fear of my justice, but that they surrender to my divine love.

20. You are the creation of my infinite charity and I will bring you to perfection. Centuries and eras will pass over your spirit and my chisel will not cease to polish it. No divine work can remain unfinished.

21. Man, making use of his free will, has twisted the route until he forgets from whom it has sprung, and has reached the point of seeming strange to his nature, virtue, love, goodness, peace, fraternity, and, as the most natural and licit, selfishness, vice and sin.

22. The new Sodom is in all the Earth and a new purification is needed; the good seed will be rescued and with it a new humanity will be formed. On fertile lands watered with tears of repentance, my seed will fall, which will germinate in the hearts of future generations, who will know how to offer their Lord a higher worship.

23. The Master asks you: Has your spirit prepared to begin spirit-to-Spirit communication when my word has ceased?

Love one another!

24. Your children will no longer listen to me through the understanding of these spokespersons, but you will prepare the path for them and they will know how to take a step further in spirituality.

25. The light that illuminates this time is that of the Sixth Seal. Here is the candlestick as a lamp of inexhaustible faith, illuminating everything, illuminating the living and the dead.

26. The man of science is inspired by this light, the philosopher and everyone who wants to penetrate the arcana takes from it.

27. What are the Seven Seals? What is the Sixth Seal? Could you answer with certainty this question that the Master asks you, and could you correctly answer it to the theologian and to humanity, if he asked you the same question?

28. Brief is the time in which you will remain as infants, and then you will become disciples and finally teachers who will carry the seed of my truth along the paths of humanity.

29. I am going to open my arcanum on this day, I am going to uncover a veil and reveal a secret to you, so that you may be strong among men, so that you may be teachers.

30. I hoped that you, deepening in your analysis, would come to discover the content of this mystery, but so far you have not yet revealed yourself by studying my Work.

31. In this you have not imitated the men of science who devote their lives to study. I am not telling you to be scientists, because the wisdom of my Doctrine is above all sciences, I am only telling you: imitate them in their perseverance. They cultivate the tree of knowledge, the fruits of which I have given to you by giving you the tree of spiritual life so that you may cultivate it and take its fruits from it to nourish your spirit.

32. Pray, that I may find you prepared and worthy, for my word will be written for the generations to come and you will have to bear witness to it with your works.

33. It is the Lamb who speaks to you, it is He who reveals these teachings to you and who deciphers these mysteries, because until now only He has been worthy to untie the seals. But the sacrifice of the slain Lamb makes you all worthy of this light and in due time this knowledge will reach all the ends of the earth.

34. I will also speak to you as Creator, because the Father is in the Son, just as the Son is in the Father and in the Holy Spirit.

35. Disciples: the three natures have sprung from Me: the divine, the spiritual and the material. As Maker and owner of everything created I can speak to you in a divine and at the same time understandable way. If material nature was born from Me, I can also materialize my voice and my word, to make myself understandable to man.

Love one another!

36. I am the perfect science, the principle of everything, the cause of all causes and the light that illuminates everything; I am above all created things, above all wisdoms.

37. So that God could name Himself Father, he made sprout from his womb spirits, creatures similar to Him in their divine attributes and turned them into human beings so that they had in their being the three natures. But first, the Father prepared for him his dwelling place: the Earth, with its bowels of rock and fire, air, water, metals, gases and light. And all this was like a kingdom, strong and unshakable, to serve as a foundation for the mansion of man: the mineral kingdom.

38. The creator wanted to adorn that dwelling and for this he made plants, trees, their flowers and their fruits sprout from the earth, so that man could find sustenance, shade, delight, inspiration, balm and joy in them, and it was like a new kingdom: the vegetable.

39. Man was not to be found alone, and the Father gave him the lower beings, the beasts, the birds and the fish, as friends and servants. All the beings that inhabit the bowels of the earth and the surface, those that cross the winds and those that inhabit the waters, so that the son would find in them, sustenance in some, friendship in others and help in others more, and when that family was created in such a way, it was a new kingdom on Earth: the animal kingdom.

40. The three kingdoms formed with their harmony a single world, and when everything was like a great feast in which life, light and grace animated the Lord, he sent man, the being who resembles his Creator and in which the Divinity is reflected, in whom God put a spark of his spirit: consciousness, so that in the course of his journey he would reach that being thus endowed, the perfection of the spirit.

41. Those three kingdoms that make up your world, were made in seven stages that some men have called days.

42. He was the Father forging with perfect patience everything necessary for the path and life of his children. Thus he created at one stage the sun and the stars, at another the Earth with its plants and its seas, at another the animals and finally man.

43. Everything was prepared, ordered and planned so that man would not find any imperfection, but would see wonders and perfections at every step and find everywhere the love of his Father and his presence in everything created.

44. And when all was ready, he said to the man, Behold your dwelling place, behold your passing kingdom. Cross the roads, drink from the fountains, taste and savor the fruits, know everything, arise as lord of the Earth, it is your kingdom. And the man, when he opened his eyes to light and life, felt joy at being caressed by the rays of the king star, he delighted in the freshness of the waters and in the taste of the fruits that were offered to his lips.

Love one another!

45. But you know that man by reason of his free will had weaknesses from his origin, by which he knew pain, toil, struggle, darkness, falls.

46. Everything was planned and arranged for the spirit to find the path of its evolution. Then the Father revealed his Law to him through consciousness, so that he would know the way of light and harmony with the Divinity and with Nature. And since then intuition revealed to man the existence of his own spirit, whose consciousness, which is my own light, taught him to distinguish good from evil and inwardly induced him to march on the right path. And then the Father prepared for the spirit of man the way and the sanctuary.

47. At the beginning of time the Lord allowed humanity to multiply and populate the Earth, and he manifested his existence, his presence and his justice, speaking to men through the elements, which sometimes prodigal and other hostile and inclement, corrected mistakes or rewarded good deeds.

48. But not only did the voice of the elements tell you about me, I also sent men into the world to advise virtue and keep the spirit of humanity awake, teaching it the existence of a divine Being whom it should serve and worship.

49. That was the First Time, the first spiritual kingdom, in which the Father reigned in the heart of man, who lived in grace in that dwelling created for his spirit.

50. But this dwelling place, which the Lord was beginning to build in the hearts of his children, was also to be formed in three ages or kingdoms.

51. The Second Time or second kingdom was founded by the Father when he incarnated in Jesus and dwelt among men and the Third Time with which this work of spiritual perfection closes, he begins it with his advent as Holy Spirit in this time that becomes the third kingdom.

52. In the first time the Divine Spirit was manifested as justice, in the second time it was love and to complete this work in the Third Time, it came to manifest itself as a light of wisdom and as revelation.

53. There are three kingdoms that form one, there are three times in which a work of spiritual perfection is consummated. Three ages that contained a mystery that on this day the Master has revealed to you. But know that these three kingdoms were formed in seven stages of which you have an image in the creation of material Nature; seven stages, of which the last is the perfect mansion of the spirit.

Love one another!

54. The first of these stages of spiritual evolution in the world is represented by Abel, the prime minister of the Father, who offered his holocaust to God. He is the symbol of sacrifice. Envy rose before him.

55. The second stage is represented by Noah. It is the symbol of faith; he built the ark by divine inspiration and led men to penetrate it so that they would achieve salvation. Before him rose the multitudes with doubt, mockery and paganism in their spirit. But Noah left his seed of faith.

56. The third stage represented by Jacob. He symbolizes strength, he is Israel, the strong. He saw spiritually the ladder through which you will all pass to sit at the right hand of the Creator. The angel of the Lord stood before him to test his strength and perseverance.

57. The fourth is symbolized by Moses. It represents the law. He presents the tables where it was written for humanity of all times. He was the one who, with his immense faith, rescued the people, to lead them on the way of salvation to the Promised Land. It is the symbol of the Law.

58. The fifth stage is represented by Jesus the Divine Word, the Slain Lamb, who has spoken to you in all times and will continue to speak to you. He is love, for which he became man in order to dwell in the abode of men, suffered their pain, showed humanity the path of sacrifice, love and charity, by which it must achieve redemption from all its sins; he came as a Teacher to teach to be born into humanity, to live in love, to reach the sacrifice, and to die loving, forgiving and blessing. He represents the fifth stage and his symbol is love.

59. The sixth stage is represented by Elijah. It is the symbol of the Holy Spirit. He is the one who rides on his chariot of fire carrying the light to all nations and to all worlds unknown to you, but known to Me, because I am the Father of all worlds and of all creatures. This is the stage that you are living, that of Elijah, it is his light that illuminates you. He represents the teachings that were hidden and that at this time are being revealed to man.

60. The seventh stage is represented by the same Father. He is the end, he is the culmination of evolution, in Him is the time of grace, the Seventh Seal.

61. Behold, the mystery of the seven seals has been deciphered, this is why I am telling you that this time is the sixth; because five of them have already passed, the sixth is the one that is untied and the seventh still remains closed, the contents of it have not yet arrived, there is no time for that stage to appear before you. When that stage is reached,

Love one another!

there will be grace, perfection and peace, but to reach it, how much man will have to cry to purify his spirit!

62. When the purification ceases, temptation will be withheld, wars between men will have ceased and there will be no disturbances or perversity; then the kingdom of peace and grace will come, humanity will achieve great spiritual progress and its communication with the spirit of the Father will be direct.

63. Just as I have revealed to you that man is similar to his Creator, now I tell you that this material kingdom, formed by Me with grace and perfection, is an open book that always tells you about the three kingdoms, the three times and the powers of the Father. Creation was also prepared so that the seven stages of its formation would be a figure of the seven seals, that great book of life, whose veil that covered its secret, I have come to uncover with the light of my word.

64. Let the light of the Sixth Seal shine upon you.

65. Only I will be able to say where the sixth stage ends and where the seventh begins. You are living in the sixth stage, in the time of Elijah, in the Third Time and despite being bathed in the light of my Spirit that flows from my word, you have not yet shed sin, nor have you reached perfection, communicating spirit to Spirit with my Divinity. But your children, the generations to come, will reach that limpidity and will be my disciples who will converse spiritually with their Master, they will be true prophets in the ways of the world. They will live in peace and harmony with all laws and will come to create the true abode of the spirit of man on Earth.

66. Truly I tell you, in order for these prophecies to be fulfilled, many suns will pass away, many waters will fall from the heavens, many years will pass away and will be forgotten by men, and many generations too, but at last that time will come when the Father will crown his Work on this planet.

67. Take this simple and clear teaching as the light of day, transparent as the waters, so that, in the silence of your bedchamber, in the recollection of the night, you analyze and meditate on what I have revealed to you and you can recreate yourself with its perfection.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 162

1. There is not a day when humanity does not shudder at a test or does not marvel at an event that it qualifies as extraordinary, and yet it has not come to realize the time in which it lives, nor the meaning of each of those tests. How clearly did the ancient prophets, Joel, Daniel, and the apostle John announce to you about what was going to happen in these times; but how indifferent have the men of this age been to the calls of their Lord. If they ever break their indifference and materialism, it is only to ask themselves: What is happening on Earth, that everything is anxiety, war, pain, desolation and death? But they do not watch, they do not pray, nor do they meditate on what has been revealed to them, because until now they have only been interested in the false satisfactions that the world provides them.
2. The more men see themselves surrounded, the more threatened they are by the calamities that they themselves have unleashed, instead of taking refuge in Me, invoking my charity and requesting my help, they believe that their own strength is enough, they let themselves be carried away by their low passions, making their hatreds and ambitions the weapons with which they want to fight and defend themselves; but when have you known that evil can be fought with evil?
3. I will let men continue in their arrogance and boast in their materialism, let them continue for a while longer in their lack of charity, so that they may see how far their passions will take them. In the meantime, I will make myself felt in the heart of everyone who is ready and who is waiting for me.
4. I have poured out my Spirit on every spirit and on all flesh, so that according to prophecy, men and women will prophesy. I speak to you through dreams and spiritual visions and I give signs to humanity by the elements of Nature, so that a strong, great people emerges from the crowd, as great as they have never known it. This people will destroy the evil that it encounters in its path and there will be no enemy that will not be defeated by it, nor will there be a wall that it cannot save. His men will penetrate everywhere, their voices will become heard by all humanity, his word will put an end to all false work and will succeed in making all men see the truth. Doctrines, religions, ideas and sciences that hide the truth will tremble before their step.
5. You, who are listening to this word, give thanks to the Lord, your Father, for having managed to see the fulfillment of my word given by my ancient prophets, those who had already prophesied my communication to you, when one of them announced to you: "that my Spirit would be poured out on all flesh".

Love one another!

6. Watch and be strong so that you become part of that people of brave soldiers that I will raise up shortly. Do not believe, as I have already told you on numerous occasions, that only you are part of that people, because not only those who have heard me in this form of communication, will be the ones graced with the knowledge of my Doctrine, remember that my seed is scattered throughout the world.

7. Those prophets of the past times did not receive any consecration or authorization on earth, they were not obliged to have submission to any authority and they were only concretized to obey the dictates of their Lord, who was the one who put his word on the lips of those chosen by Him.

8. Full of faith and courage, nothing stopped them in their mission to teach my Law to the people and to separate them from religious fanaticism, making them understand the indolence and errors of the priests.

9. If you meditate a little and study the scriptures, you will see how through all the prophets, there was only one essence that in his word they delivered to men. They gave humanity warnings, revelations and messages, without the errors of the materialized cult that the people professed in those times. Teaching to obey the Law and the word of God, they helped humanity to get in touch with their Heavenly Father.

10. People: Do you not find great similarity between those prophets and these spokesmen through whom I am speaking to you now? I also put the essence of my Law on the lips of the latter, my inspiration also comes to you through their words and from them the teaching that invites the multitudes to seek their Lord by the purest means arises vibrant; they speak without fear that among the multitudes who listen to them there are searchers or fanatics. They fulfill their mission by surrendering themselves to the service of their Father so that through him He speaks to humanity, and delivers these lessons that will open new paths of light to men.

11. People: Not only is there a great similarity between those prophets and these spokesmen, but there is also a perfect relationship between them. Those who foretold these and what they foretold long ago, these servants are now contemplating.

12. Do you not think that in those days all the people believed in what their prophets preached? No, many times they had to endure the mockery of their brothers, the threats of the priests and the persecution of the powerful. It was necessary that the prophecies that announced the righteousness of God over men should be fulfilled, so that everyone would believe in the truth that the servants of the Lord preached. Many times, what they announced when they no longer belonged to this world was fulfilled. Also at this time, these my children have suffered the mockery, the slander, the indifference of many of those who have listened to them, but my word will be known outside these enclosures, no matter if it is mocked and rejected; also what I have announced to you will be fulfilled and then men will begin to fix their attention on what they looked at with contempt or indifference before.

13. Just as that people once believed in what their prophets foretold, became saturated with faith in the invisible God, all power and justice, so this people who have now received this manifestation, will become saturated with an unshakable faith, strengthened by the communication they have received from their Lord. This faith is indispensable so that the testimony that comes from your lips is full of firmness, although I have already told you that if you do not know how to bear witness about Me, I will give it when the hour is arrived, because I could not fail in my promises.

14. How many times in the history of the people of God, men got in the way with their disobediences and despite their mistakes my word was fulfilled. The same will happen at this time. Not all will be obedient to my commands; while some rise up interpreting my orders justly, others wanting to reconcile the pure and true with the low and carnal, they will try to pass over my will, without understanding that the divine will, which is infinite power and justice, will be the one to judge all the impure acts of those who have profaned my word.

15. I speak to you this way, because I know that a confusion will come among you that I have been prophesying to you since these times; but I will save the book where my word has been written, so that later it may be taken to all the world and bear witness to what the Master told you in his new manifestation.

16. Listen to me through my new prophets, whom you call spokesmen, and interpret my word justly, so that later you may fulfill the commands that I have given you.

17. While men have wanted to see in Me a distant, remote God, I have set out to show them that I am closer to them than the lashes of their eyes.

18. They pray mechanically and if they do not see everything they asked for fulfilled immediately, they cry out in discouragement: "God has not heard us".

19. If they knew how to pray, if they united their minds with their hearts to his spirit, they would hear in their conscience the divine voice of the Lord and they would feel that His presence was very close to them, but how do they want to feel my presence if they ask me through materialized cults? How is it possible that they manage to sensitize their spirit, if they even worship their Lord in images made with their hands?

20. I want you to understand that you are very close to me, that you can easily communicate with Me, as well as feel me and receive my inspirations.

Love one another!

21. If you analyze the revelations and teachings that I have been giving you throughout the ages, you will only come to find a path that can lead you to the goal of spirituality. Notice that it is I who have taught you the perfect and effective means for you to reach Me; I do not see why you allow yourselves to be seduced by false teachings that only foment your fanaticism and increase your ignorance.
22. When the Law was given to the world, I said to you, "You shall have no gods other than Me."
23. In the Second Time, when a woman asked Jesus if Jerusalem was the place where he should worship God, the Master replied: The time is approaching when neither Jerusalem nor any other place will be the right place to worship God, because he will be worshiped in spirit and in truth, that is, from spirit to Spirit.
24. When my disciples asked me to teach them to pray, I gave them as a rule the prayer that you call the Our Father, making them understand that the prayer, the true one, the perfect one, will be the one that, like that of Jesus, is born spontaneously from the heart and rises until it reaches the Father. It should contain obedience, humility, confession, gratitude, faith, hope and adoration.
25. How many and how many lessons full of spirituality the Father has given you through these messages, and how much his Law and Doctrine have been deformed on Earth. That materialization, the continuous desecration and the falsehood of what I have given you pure, are the cause of the chaos that humanity is suffering, both spiritually and materially; those two forms of life that have always been united in man, because it would not be possible to affect one of them without the other not being affected.
26. Do you wonder that many people have abandoned me in these times and that other peoples have rejected my Doctrine? Are you indignant when you see that materialistic doctrines continue to advance among humanity? Let each one of you listen to the voice of your conscience and ask yourself if with your life you have given a true witness to the Doctrine contained in my word.
27. On the great faults and errors that have been committed in my Law, my justice will be; there will not be a single fault that will not be corrected by the perfect Teacher. You must not be confused, correct yourselves and do not judge. Understand that I never punish you, you punish yourselves.
28. I make light in the one who has sinned out of ignorance and I move towards repentance the one who has sinned knowingly, so that both of them, full of strength in my forgiveness, rise up to repair the fault committed, this is the only way to reach Me.

Love one another!

29. Think of all this, ministers who lead men along the different paths of religions. Pray and lead your people to spirituality. It is time for you to repent of your mistakes, so that you can begin a struggle against human materialism, which is death and darkness for the spirit; for this you must use my truth, use my word as a weapon and live in my teaching.

30. I have no preference for one or the other religion; it will not be Me, it is you who must be on my side, because if you do so you will have managed to unite all of you in spirit.

31. From kindergartens you have been becoming disciples, however, I see that you have parked and with this you do not help your brothers. Yes, people, you are stopping the progress of the new multitudes, because of your lack of advancement in my Doctrine. You have created a barrier that is making it very difficult for any of your brothers to take a step beyond where you have arrived.

32. Just as in this manifestation I will make known to you every last lesson that you can understand, so you will have to practice every last one of His teachings.

33. If you have not yet come to prepare, it is because despite being listening to me you have not been able to listen to me. If you have not understood my word, it is because you have not meditated on it. If you have not practiced true charity until now, it is because you have not been sensitized in my word of love, and if you have not received more than what you have achieved until today, it has been because your merits have been scarce.

34. Greater would be the multitudes who came to hear my word if they could contemplate in you, examples worthy of imitation; because your works would be a proof of respect, of faith, of obedience to my Work and of fulfillment to my Doctrine.

35. I have taught you to pray, so that through prayer, not only you may draw near to the Father, but also to your brothers in need, so that you may carry your message of peace to them; but when I ask you what your spirit felt when he prayed for the nations, for widows, for orphans, for those in need of bread, for the captives and for the sick, you only know how to tell me: Lord. You are the only one who knows how to pour out the benefits on those in need, we are so small and so ignorant, that we do not know how to feel the pain of our brothers or understand from a distance what happens to them. We only concretize to ask you to pour out the charity of your infinite love on them, but in the face of such great needs of the spirit, we must confess that we have not even reached kindergartens yet. Only you can tell us what our spirit did during his prayer.

36. At least at this moment you are sincere and confess your ignorance and your littleness, for which I bless you and make my Doctrine clearer so that it may be understood by the rudest of men.

Love one another!

37. People: You know that spiritual beings approach men, and that according to the nature of those beings, so will be the influence they exert on humanity. You must know that when you pray for someone like him, your spirit detaches from his matter, to get closer to the one for whom he is asking. Now come to the conclusion that according to your preparation and the degree of purity and spirituality that you have achieved in life, so will be the spiritual influence that you communicate to those for whom you are praying.

38. Do not be afraid if I tell you that you are constantly surrounded by invisible beings, many of whom are in need of your help; dedicate your thoughts, your words and your deeds of love to them, so that they may find the path of fulfillment and come to see the light.

39. The weapons that I give you are not the ones that tear life away, blind no one, shed no blood, cause no pain, leave no widows or orphans in their wake, or leave homes mired in desolation, since the weapons that I have left you are: love, charity, forgiveness, so that with their help you can fight to change bad influences into vibrations of light.

40. Always dedicate in your prayers a thought in favor of those who, without being seen by the eyes of the body, cry near you; but do not try to reach them, or to force them to manifest themselves if it is not through thought. Understand that the weapons that I have given you are weapons of love, of elevation, of peace.

41. To become teachers in this Doctrine, it is essential that you analyze my teaching, and I also tell you that there are spirits full of light and wisdom, which I have left as custodians. They are in infinite number and work tirelessly in the Work of the Father of all created things. Trust that you are not alone or abandoned to your own strength, but that you have those who watch over and work alongside you, with humility and without ostentation, so that you climb spiritually.

42. The Divine Law is enclosed in two commandments: To love God, who is your Father, and in Him, to love your brothers; that is what those beings have been doing, whom humanity calls guardian angels, protectors, spirits of light, superior beings.

43. Imitate them, help them in their mission, and thus a great spiritual harmony will be established, which is the one that must exist among all the children of my Divinity. From that harmony will spring peace, the supreme reward for the spirit in eternity.

44. I have told you that your material life is limited, and I remind you of this, so that each one can recognize if he has fulfilled the mission that the Father has assigned him. If you have forgotten it, I come to remind you of it, so that you may rise up to fulfill yourselves as good disciples.

Love one another!

45. Your stay on Earth is short; recognizing this, you ask me for more time and say to me: Lord, give me time to fulfill. I only tell you: the sun does not rise or set an instant before or after the one marked by the Creator. Everything is governed by an infallible law. Therefore, you will not dwell on Earth a second longer than marked in your destiny. This is why my word is sounding to you like the clock of eternity that advises you to make the most of time.

46. While for your spirit the bright day of eternity is approaching, for your matter the night is approaching. Understand this and do not say that you are fulfilling my Law just by listening to my word. Do not try to fulfill according to your way of thinking, but based on my divine teachings.

47. Think that after fulfilling your duties and missions in this life, when you are already in a spiritual state, I will grant you to descend on the understanding of this humanity, to inspire and enlighten it, thus helping it in its journey of evolution.

48. Delicate is your mission, to fulfill it you have to show yourselves humble, as Jesus taught you, with the meekness and charity with which He fulfilled His mission.

49. You have to put off the garment of superiority and greatness that only conceals vanity. You have to get rid of selfishness and go down to the ragged and lepers to console them in their sorrows. And so you will be my disciples, because you will be fulfilling the example that I gave you.

50. I have given you My charity and it is necessary that you manifest such gifts.

51. If when you pray, your mind is clean and has moved away from all the materialism that surrounds it, I will grant you what you are going to request for your brothers. Then you will see with admiration how consolation overflows on your lips for the one who suffers. Your work will be fruitful and blessed because you will be practicing my lesson of love.

52. Now I tell you that you must not only be humane to your fellow human beings, but also to the other kingdoms and species, because they are all creatures of the Lord; everything is the perfect work of the Father in which His wisdom is manifested.

53. In nature everything is life, evolution and transformation within itself.

54. I make you know who you are, so that by understanding it, you may be humane to every creature.

55. Get to know each other, get to know your faculties, your feelings. Do not confuse pure feelings with passions. Know the inclinations and instincts proper to matter so that the spirit always prevails over it. Do not deny your spirit the opportunities to love,

Love one another!

because it will not be able to vibrate with charity for your brothers, if there is selfishness. When you love, do it spiritually and may your love be for everyone. If you personify it, enclosing it only in certain beings, you will have fallen into egoism.

56. Spiritual love you can consider as universal love. Prepare your heart in the likeness of a fountain that receives the love of my grace like crystal clear water and that overflows into your brothers through your works.

57. The more you feel that love in yourself, the greater the health that you pour out on the wounds. It will be true balm that resurrects the fallen spirit and it will be perfume that embalms the life of those who mourn.

58. See how spiritual love does not nestle in the hearts of men. They love, but with a selfish love that destroys even their own life, because passion is like a worm that corrodes the best feelings. When passions stir in a man's heart, they come to destroy all the good that was in his spirit. Passion is the abyss that opens at the feet of man, and that by dragging him to the bottom, makes him lose light and peace.

59. See that my teaching is destroying ignorance, so that you, recognizing me as divine and unique wisdom, will destroy false gods, as Abraham did when he sought God beyond what his eyes contemplated. That is why I made a covenant with him, that he might be the seed of the chosen people. He proved, when he was put to the test, that his God was a Creator and a living God.

60. You too will have to prove the truth of these revelations, with a clean practice and a cult free of superfluous and fanatical adorations.

61. Remember that the commandment was engraved on the tablets of Moses that says, "You shall not make for yourself an image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or on earth below, or in the waters under the earth."

62. Look at how long I have been freeing you from idolatry, so that you may come to look at me above everything created, above everything that moves and changes, so that there you may raise your spirit to the Kingdom of Heaven.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. People: I see your tears and I hear your sobs. I contemplate your labors and sufferings. I see the chains of poverty and deprivation that you carry, the disappointment that afflicts your heart, because you have convinced yourselves that there is no justice or charity in the world. Then you pray to me saying, "Lord, I am not worthy of your peace, if I do not deserve your benefits, give me strength to endure the sufferings and injustices of this life."
2. In those moments my presence makes itself felt, which tells you: Persevere in patience, remain vigilant, do not despair for a moment, because you do not know at what moment my peace may knock at your door. Lay your head on my breast and there cease to hear the rumor of war; forget your afflictions and think that, being with Me, you will not die. Come to Me, accompany your Father and Lord. In Me, you will find the brother, the husband, the friend, the father.
3. Strengthen your heart by listening to my word, so that when you have to go back to the fight, you do it with your body erect raising your face and you can smile with hope.
4. No longer hesitate at the moment of trial, do not say that I have not listened to you in the moment of pain, in the most difficult trance. As long as there is a breath of life in your being, as long as your body breathes, as long as your mind thinks and your spirit suffers, I will be with you, because I am the life that pulsates and vibrates throughout the Universe.
5. Know how to pray, not only in your hours of sorrow, but also in your moments of joy. To Me you offer only tears, sorrows and sorrows; but in your joys you forget me, when your heart is celebrating, then you close its doors to me.
6. I must speak to you and prepare you for your fight that will be great. I want there to be light inside and outside of you, that inside and outside your home you practice virtue, because that way, no one will be able to catch you sleeping.
7. I have announced to you that caravans of people from foreign countries will come to this land, seeking their peace for their heart and light for their spirit. They will find the disciples of this Doctrine whom they will question, ask them for testimony of what they have heard and test them to confirm the truth of this word.
8. Do you not think that by then your heart must be a true source of charity, goodness and light ready to overflow in aid of the needs of your brothers and sisters? Would it not please you if each of the homes of my people were a school where divine teaching was practiced?

Love one another!

9. In the Second Time, I took my teaching to many places in Judea and at every step I found a place on purpose to make my word heard. The Teacher was always vigilant and when he was put to the test he was never surprised. The valleys heard my voice, the mountains returned the echo of my words, the waves of the sea received the vibration of my messages and the solitude of the deserts lit up with my presence.

10. I want you to unite, that this town may be like an oasis in the desert of the world. I know that men will seek you, because they will get tired of destroying, of sinning, of killing. Before the words of light and before the high thoughts, the spirit asleep today will awaken and my Doctrine will arise on Earth as an ark of salvation. That time will be a time of trial for this people, because many hearts will be waiting for his testimony.

11. Why cower then or rebel now before the trials, if they are the chisel that is polishing your heart, so that tomorrow he can and will know how to be the interpreter of his Master?

12. I want to hear you say to me: "Thank you Master, your trials have tempered me and your light has encouraged me on the path, my sick are healing and I have managed to comfort the sad on my way".

13. I hope that others will tell me to prepare them to be my husbandmen, to entrust them with the farming tools to sow the seed of peace and love in the hearts of their brothers.

14. My charity is awaiting your request, to grant you the divine gift of being farmers in the spiritual countryside.

15. Now I come to comfort you in your afflictions. Sick people who throughout your life have carried the cross of pain, come to Me, I will heal you. I will teach you to fight against your illnesses and to know how to wait patiently and humbly for the moment of liberation from the pain that has been weighing you down. I will also show you all that you have achieved with pain in your restitution.

16. Come to Me, all of you who have brought a burden of sufferings. It is in vain that you seek balm and consolation among men, because charity has fled from the heart of humanity and you must know that without charity, wonders cannot be done. Science alone is not enough to save the world from its pains.

17. Men of science, full of vanity, have come to regard divine revelations as unworthy of their attention. They do not want to rise spiritually to God and when they fail to understand something of what surrounds them, they deny it so as not to have to confess their incapacity and ignorance. Many of them do not want to believe more than in what they come to verify.

Love one another!

18. What consolation can these men bring to the hearts of their fellow men, when they do not recognize the principle of love, which is what governs Creation and, moreover, ignore the spiritual meaning of life?

19. I already knew that these times of predominance of materialistic science, of egoism, of indifference towards the one who suffers and perishes, would come, and that is why I offered to send you the Comforter, and here you have the fulfillment of that promise. I have come in spirit to clarify all the mysteries for you, so that you may become the children of light, I come to bring you the divine consolation of this revelation and with its help you will be able to come out ahead of all the trials of life and rise to Me.

20. I have called you and when you came to my presence, bathed in tears, you told me that you are the most needy on Earth, showing me your misery, making me aware of your lack of knowledge and shortage of gifts to make your way through the vicissitudes of life. It is then that I have revealed to you that you are very far from being the outcasts or the poorest. I have tried you and you found yourselves crying when you felt disinherited, without having discovered that in your spirit you carry a treasure.

21. The sick man was crying because he did not have a doctor who was at his disposal to heal him, and he had not discovered that the healing balm was overflowing in his spirit.

22. He who wept for his ignorance, did not perceive that in the silence of his heart, the divine voice of his Master resounded, which made a call to the spiritual kingdom. The one who believed himself disinherited, had not discovered all the gifts with which the Father sent him to fulfill his mission on Earth. It was necessary that the truth make its way to you, making light in your heart, so that you would wake up from the deep lethargy and rise up full of faith, saying: "We are not alone, the Lord is with us; we are not outcasts, our being is full of the gifts of the Father; we will not perish under the weight of pain, because we carry in our hearts the ineffable consolation of the word of the Master, who gives us his light in each of our steps. We are not at the mercy of the will of men, our fate does not depend on them, but on the will of our Father, there will no longer be obstacles, stumbles, or crossroads that weaken us, making us desist from continuing on the true path; in pain we will find comfort, in darkness we will come to shine the light and in our struggle, we will feel that strength comes to us. Who saved us? Who has given us back health and life? It was the Master who, with his divine word, has returned us to the true path, giving us the consolation promised by Him, from the earliest times."

23. Love the truth, O disciples, understand it and live it. He who knows the truth, carries in himself the joy of seeing the light of God, knows peace and walks firmly along the paths of fulfillment.

Love one another!

24. This Work will be criticized and rejected by many, knowing that spiritual beings were manifested in it; but do not be afraid, because only the ignorant will be those who combat that part of my teachings.

25. How many times the apostles, the prophets and the messengers of the Lord spoke to the world under the influence of the spiritual world without humanity being aware of it, and how many times in your life each of you has acted and spoken under the will of spiritual beings, without you having noticed it! And this has always happened, now I have confirmed it to you.

26. Jesus, in the Second Time taught you that the human mind is a door through which the spiritual world can penetrate; he taught you to get rid of troubled beings who with their evil influences come to test men on their path of atonement for the faults they have committed, as well as taught you to prepare to such an extent that the Holy Spirit will speak through the mouth of man.

27. However, how much has been profited by these revelations and how they have been desecrated! It is for this cause that my Work in this time has been and will continue to be fought. But those who truly believe in it will continue to study and practice it so that tomorrow they will be able to explain my teachings and turn away from their error those who are confused and those who profane my Doctrine.

28. At this time, I wanted to expand and finish explaining all these revelations and for that purpose I sent Elijah, so that he would enlighten your understanding and prepare the way for you, so that you would not be confused with my arrival and with that of my spiritual hosts.

29. Elijah in spirit, knocked on the doors of the chosen one at this time, who without knowing, without knowing anything about this communication, was overwhelmed, subdued and defeated before the spiritual force that called his heart, to induce him to give himself to this service. That was the first seed, which was cultivated by the first believers that gave the first flowers and the first fruits.

30. The plant grew and became a shrub, its flowers were the communication of the beings of light who as emissaries, prophets, guardian angels and advisers reached the people; and the fruits were the communications of your Master through his divine ray, which has brought you the sweet taste of life.

31. How could you destroy the idea of death in yourselves without feeling the existence of the beings who were on Earth yesterday and who today invisibly inhabit another dwelling? How could you get rid of those who stalk you and cause evils, and how could you harmonize with those who are all light and all good? Only by feeling his presence, hearing his voice and following his advice, feeling his manifestations and seeing how his works become effective. It is necessary that the testimony of this people be spread throughout the world to convince men who, by saying that they believe in life, do not believe in the resurrection and in eternity. They are the dead who watch over their dead, because they are afraid to come to know.

Love one another!

32. People: take advantage of the days that still remain for you of this spiritual communication through the understanding of man; you know that this lesson will be brief, that the fruit of your experience will be the true testimony, clean and free of mystifications, that you will take to your brothers tomorrow.

33. I will not allow you to materialize the spiritual once the moment marked by my will has passed; but you must know that although the ray of the Lord and of spiritual beings are no longer possessing your brain, the inspiration of your Lord is eternal in everyone who rises in prayer; and the light of the spiritual world will illuminate from one world to another world, from one spirit to another spirit and will reach all my children.

34. Blessed are all those who truly take advantage of this time of teaching, because after the year of 1950, they will be the ones who will spread the seed of my Doctrine. You who have been part of the foliage of the stout tree, help men to find in it the fruit of life and truth.

35. People: if, when you speak, you did so feeling in your heart the truth of my lessons, you would see many of your words realized and if you manage to change all your words into works, you would be doing real wonders; but if the spirit is not the one who speaks through matter, if it is not the one who manifests himself, he will not be able to give peace or health.

36. The spirit will be able to make his voice heard if you are prepared; the son of the Father who dwells in you has very great powers granted to him by his Creator, to help those who are in need. That is why I am teaching you not to let those who complain to you die, not to let the voice of the One who calls you be lost in the desert. To give of what you receive is the law that your Father has taught you. Have I loved you? Then you can give love to your brothers. Give yourselves that brotherly love of one another.

37. Not only does man live on material things, he must also be supported by spiritual riches. I speak in this way to these multitudes who humbly listen to me, and my Doctrine is transforming them little by little. But when will you bring this light to all the peoples of the earth? When will you get all men purified in my truth?

38. Everything has been defiled by man, not only his spirit; the waters are polluted, the air is polluted and saturated with diseases and death and I ask you: With what doctrines and at what time do you plan to purify yourselves? When will you come to cleanse your spirit and matter, if you only want to wash your body? What would you achieve with it? Fool yourselves. First cleanse the heart and the mind, which is where all evil thoughts and evil deeds come from. The incarnate being needs spiritual bread, to come to feel even for a few moments what he is: spirit.

Love one another!

39. Look for another bread besides the one necessary for each day, look for another dwelling besides that of your home. That bread is that of my word, and that abode is in infinity.

40. While I am speaking, your heart also communicates to me many of its desires, its hopes. I am going to answer some of my children, those who on their way have experienced the presence of spiritual beings that you usually call dark, or troubled.

41. Why are you asking me to take these beings away from the places where they usually manifest themselves? They need to know that they are living after their apparent death, to comply with the law of restitution and gain experience. They fulfill, even if involuntarily, their mission of giving to unbelieving and materialized men the faithful testimony that the spirit survives matter.

42. That is why I will withdraw them until the time appointed by Me arrives, now they have a mission to perform, therefore do not ask me to take them away from you, they must wait for their term. Why do you want everything in life to be done according to what you desire and not as it suits others? I warn you that, if you are generous, if you have charity with those beings, they will not bother you.

43. At this moment, elevate your thinking ask and you will receive. Ask for what you think is right for you and for your brothers. In these moments in which you ask and in which you have the faith that I am the one who is present, keep silence, so that you may penetrate into communion with Me. I listen to the spirits, I reach the hearts, I speak to you from Spirit to spirit. I take away from your heart all the pains, all the anxieties, sorrows and sorrows. There is not a single heart that I have not visited, there is not a single thought that I have not enlightened, there is not a single pain from which I have not delivered my children, to bring them with Me and form with all a crown of thorns.

44. This is how I want you to pray, this is how I want you to always come to receive me. You will not show your love with external manifestations, which only serve to be seen in them. Seek Me in silence, be alone with your Lord, and you will be able to have my presence in your heart and you will hear my voice that tells you: I come to give you my charity, because you are passengers in this world.

Love one another!

45. Elijah is gathering the chosen spirits, incarnate and disembodied so that together they may be strong, because the trials that are coming are great; but you will emerge illuminated by the light of my Holy Spirit, because I love you and I will not let you fall. Prepare yourselves so that you analyze my word and know how to separate the wheat from the weeds, watch and pray, so that you do not turn away from this path and pain will not surprise you.

46. Understand that I am not the one who brings the pain, because I am your Father who comes to adorn your spirit. It is you yourselves who are sowing pain on your path and when it surprises you, you say to me: Lord, why does pain weigh us down? But see that I only come to give you love, to bless you and to give you my teaching.

47. Hear my parable:

48. "On a road, a woman was walking, driving three small children, the oldest was 8 years old, another was 7 years old and the youngest was 4. She lavished on them the tenderness of a mother, feeding and clothing them with great affection. On one occasion, the eldest of those children said to the woman: It has been a long time that you have been working to feed and clothe us, I am the eldest of my brothers and I am willing to fulfill what you entrust to me to help you in the support of my brothers. So also my brother the medium, when he grows up he will work to help the youngest and when he grows up, he will work like us and we will all be united on the same path.

49. The woman said to him: you are still small and truly I tell you that you do not yet know the world, men with their evil will try to harm you and then you should return to me when you are full of pain and as I love you, I do not want you to get lost or go in search of pain. That little one, submissive and obedient, said to him: I will do whatever your will is, I will wait until the propitious time is and I can travel through the places that you designate me.

50. That woman said to him: Surely you have already learned the first lesson and for this reason I consider you as the eldest of your brothers, not only because of your age but because you are obedient and thoughtful.

51. The years passed and that child had become a boy, his brothers who had also grown up imitated the reflection of his older brother whose intelligence was getting bigger every day.

52. On a certain occasion, the woman said to the boy: Do you want to travel the ways of the world? I am going to give you a book whose contents you will study so that you will engrave its teaching in your mind and in your heart and truly I tell you, it will make you come out unscathed from all dangers and pain will not surprise you. Then he guided him; in union with his brothers, towards a hut where a venerable old man lived, to whom he said: Here are my children, whom you have waited for a long time, because before me, you knew them and I hope that you will receive them and give them according to your will.

Love one another!

53. The old man looked at them with great love and said to the woman: Your children are good, but they still need preparation so that they can walk on the roads, because they are still weak and the world could contaminate them with its perversity. Give me the book that you have in your hands so that I may reveal to you great teachings from it. Analyze these lessons and their truth will make you come out ahead in all dangers. Turning to the young man, he said to him: You will learn in this book and with love you will teach your brothers, so that the latter in turn may teach the last, all bearing witness to this teaching with your works of love.

54. The elder of the brothers, beholding the old man, whose face was so sweet and gentle, prostrated himself before Him and said: Let him kiss your hands and your forehead, the elder said to him: Do it, because you are worthy of my love and with him, you will achieve great works. Then the woman said to the young man, Get ready, because you are going to get away from my lap, but even though you are far away you will be with me; I hope that you will always remember your brothers and meditate that they should follow the example you give them, do not tread falsely, be like a clean and pure mirror, where they can contemplate themselves, so that following your example they will be freed from pain.

55. The young man replied, "Because I love you and the good old man, I will do my best to be a good example to my brothers." The propitious time arrived and the young man left for different places and in all he contemplated that the wickedness and bitterness were great and that the hearts were hardened by sin. For an instant he felt fear, but remembering the words of the old man he opened the book and on the first page he found the Law that should govern humanity so that through its fulfillment he would be strong; he found lessons of infinite love with which he could give the balm that would relieve the sick of their pain and encourage the sad, the light to restore sight to the blind, to enlighten the confused and wisdom to bring peace to the hearts of his brothers.

56. Great was the joy of that young man, who in the middle of the desert lifted up his spirit and said to the old man: Blessed are you, Lord, with your teachings you have enlightened me and being that you dwell in my heart and that you have inspired me the works that I must do according to your will. I am ready to face the struggle to deliver your Divine Message to the inhabitants of this world, to approach those who feel the sadness in their hearts, to those who thirst for your teaching.

Love one another!

57. That young man contemplated that those multitudes, in addition to the pain they felt in their hearts, were covered by an immense darkness, they were hungry for justice and charity.

58. Full of love he approached those multitudes and said to them: From a distant place I come to you in fulfillment of the command of an old man, to give the balm to your sufferings and to prepare your understanding. Listen to the message that I bring to you, open the doors of your heart and give shelter to the truth, because I love you, as I love the old man who sent me to you and I give you his charity.

59. Then those in need stretched out their hands and when they felt that present of love, the cry of repentance came out of their eyes and the words of the one sent were like crystal clear water that quenched their thirst. They felt peace and thanked the old man who had sent him that boy who taught them by his example the path of their redemption.

60. The young man said to them, "Keep what you have received in your heart and do not let time or the evil of the world take it away from you, because then your restitution would be twofold."

61. Those rejoicing crowds asked him where he came from and what his name was, to which the young man replied: I cannot tell you, just know that I am a messenger, have confidence in what you have received, because if you have faith, even your leprosy will disappear.

62. The people, feeling healthy and strong, sang a song of love that they had not known before and, led by the boy, offered the old man their faith, their devotion, their love.

63. When the young man returned to the old man's side to deliver the fulfillment of his mission, he contemplated that the One who had sent him to deliver his message of love to his fellow men, pressed him against his heart and addressing the woman who had taken Him to Him said: "Behold the son who has been able to fulfill the mission I entrusted to him, may his example serve as a guide to his brothers, so that when the time comes they rise to preach my truth in the heart of humanity."

64. Beloved people: once again I have given you my lesson of love so that you can analyze it and it may be the light that guides you on the path of your life, so that when you manage to fulfill your mission, you will approach your reward and it will show you, like Moses, the lights of the Promised Land.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 164

1. I have tried you a lot in this time, so that you can acquire the light and the strength necessary to the spirit to achieve its perfection. There is no trial that has no solution, no pain that does not leave a ray of light in the spirit. That is where you can realize your resignation and where you can appreciate your weaknesses; because it is necessary that you show faith and witness to my Doctrine, not only with your words, but with your deeds, which will serve as an example to your brothers.

2. I prepare you so that after receiving the lesson, you will have the opportunity to put it into practice and do not forget it. I am polishing you on the path of your life, so that when the time comes when you no longer have my word through the spokespersons, you can continue to communicate with Me from spirit to Spirit. Wherever you go, you will be accompanied by Me and in your word will be my Word, in your thought my inspiration, and in your spirit will be mine. You are my new disciples and I will not abandon you, just as I did not abandon those who followed me in the Second Time. They too were tested and in the supreme moment of the test, I observed them and judged their faith.

3. Remember this passage: the Master was sailing accompanied by his disciples in a calm sea; Jesus was speaking and those were listening to him, after the lesson was over, the Master closed his eyes and gave himself up to rest. They commented on my word helping each other in their analysis. Until that moment, all was peace around that group; then, the signs of a great storm appeared. The storm broke and the rough sea stirred, the waves curled and the boat became a toy of the waves. The disciples feared for their lives, gave orders to each other, folded the candles, while some prayed. They did not dare to wake Jesus, but as the danger grew, they called to Him with loud voices; but He was asleep and they were not taken care of. They called to him a second and third time, saying, "Master, wake up, see that we are capsizing." Jesus opened his eyes and said to them, "You men of little faith who have not believed in Me! And stretching out his hand, he commanded the waters to calm down. Peace reigned again and the sea was calm. The disciples, embarrassed by their lack of faith and amazed by the miracle that they had seen performed before their eyes, promised themselves not to doubt again and after that test, their faith was greater.

4. At this time you are sailing on the same sea, you are struggling with a storm of confusion, sin and selfishness. The boat is my Work, that Teacher, it is the same one that you are listening to, the disciples, it is you who are now with Me. The waves that are whipping your boat today are also big and seeing that the storm increases, you think that I am sleeping and when you call me with loud voices, you make yourselves wait for Me to repeat those same words to you and to tell you that you have not taken advantage of my lessons.

5. Let us continue sailing in the boat, look that the moment is already approaching when I stretch out my hand over the waters to tell them: Be quiet, let there be calm. Today I am preparing you, because soon you will no longer hear me and I want to leave you strengthened. I have not yet given you my last lesson, but when that hour comes, do not be afraid of trials, do not go to cower in the face of danger, remember and analyze my teaching and with it you will be strong and you will know how to fulfill.

6. Now the Master asks you: Where are your dead and why do you mourn the disappearance of the beings you love? Truly I tell you, no one has died before Me, for I have given eternal life to all. All live, those you thought lost, are with Me. Where you think you see death, there is life; where you see the end, there is the beginning. Where you believe that everything is a mystery and an unfathomable arcane, there is light, with the clarity of endless dawn. Where you think there is nothing, there is the whole and where you perceive silence, there is the concert.

7. Your spirit has not fully awakened to its evolution, but the tests that I will present to you at this time in many ways will put you in front of reality, and this world that you love so much now, that you admire so much, because it has given pleasure to your life, you will look at it small, because you will have already climbed and you will have placed yourself on a higher, more spiritual plane, and so you will continue until you reach fullness.

8. Blessed are those who take from the world only what is necessary for the advancement of their spirit and matter, because in that way separation from this world will not seem difficult to you, you will not feel that your spirit suffers when it has to leave its envelope.

9. I want you to be able to detach yourselves with true submission, from the body that is temporarily your sheath, your dress, and that you do the same with everything that you have achieved in the world that you inhabit today. I want you to know that for the spirit there is no distance, absence or death, and that when you leave this world, you understand that you are going to a better life, in which you will continue to love the same Father, being governed by the same Law and encouraging the same ideal of elevation; that from there you will contemplate life better, you will perform your mission in a better way and that you will know how to distinguish the abyss from the summit.

10. How much man fears death, how much he cowers when the supreme hour is coming. The spirit fears the infinite, that supreme and unknown valley, and why do you fear? Because you have not prepared yourselves, I have given you the spiritual teaching, you know from the beginning your destiny. The divine and the human law have always been coupled, teaching you to live, so that you arrive conscious and prepared at that hour.

11. When you were about to forget my Teaching, a messenger of mine, either a prophet or Myself, appeared before you to restore the light to you; therefore now I have come before you in silence, without boasting, full of mystery according to some, a clear example for others, in a confused way for those who have not come to understand me, but full of majesty for those who have felt my presence.

12. Pray, people, and may the peace of my Spirit, united to that prayer, be felt and poured out throughout the world. When you all find yourselves in the spiritual valley, you will contemplate that your practices were not useless, there you will know how close all beings are and how easy the communication from spirit to Spirit is. This that science has not been able to sense, you will practice it within my all-encompassing teaching, and of which I am now giving you these lessons through the human understanding.

13. In this dawn of grace, the radiance of Christ is manifested to receive you on behalf of the whole world.

14. Concentrate and listen to my word. I have come to you in essence, because you have not come to Me, but in truth I tell you: it is necessary for man to reach his complete spiritual evolution so that he may rise and be able to reach Me. At all times man has manifested opposition to my commands on the pretext of the reluctance of his matter that interrupts the progress of his spirit. But I have come full of kindness to teach you how to put my teaching into practice, so that you may see that it is not impossible to execute.

15. See that you are stationed while the world needs you; that it is necessary for you to prepare and unite so that you may find strength in your works. It is necessary for you to understand that this word not only fills you with material fortitude, but also with spiritual confidence. In her is the grace of the Father.

16. You will achieve spiritual salvation through the effort you have to perfect yourself, in sowing love and charity on the path of your life.

17. Strive to achieve spirituality by being good men, with firmness in your character, because this Work is above all human science, above everything that man possesses and what he will be able to know in this world. The materialization that humanity has reached does not allow it to glimpse the wonderful life of spirituality. I am not judging you at this moment, I just want you to understand me, analyzing my word.

18. The world is not listening because the voice of these matters for which I communicate have little reach, it is then the voice of conscience that is my wisdom that speaks to humanity surprising many, who locked in their egoism, are deaf to the call of that voice, attentive only to flattery and earthly worship, recreating themselves in its greatness and in its power.

Love one another!

19. These men, when they know that I have come to converse with you and that I have revealed to you that in order to reach Me it is necessary that you practice love and charity, will awaken from their deep lethargy and, preparing themselves, will come to Me, humbly to serve Me. By means of these examples I will speak to humanity, I will move its principles, languages and races will merge, because men will find the secret of fraternity that they had not found in their books and scrolls.

20. I love you all, I give you all my guiding word, so that I may guide you along the true path, and you may become convinced that you are practicing my perfect Law.

21. Today you live more for the world than for Me. You must be equitable by giving to your matter what it needs for its sustenance and to your spirit what he requires for his salvation.

22. Everyone works for the aggrandizement of his human work, each mind is the source of different ideas, but not all the works of men serve you to achieve greater evolution, because it is necessary that they be in accordance with the perfect Law of love.

23. Man, with his science, violates the natural laws and directs the forces that I have left for your benefit, along the path of destruction. That is why there are many disturbances in your life, because you unleash the murderous war and the emissaries of peace feel failed and without faith.

24. But I am preparing new envoys to bring my peace to every heart in need of it; and those are you. Share in this peace to humanity through your prayers. Also with works make peace among your brothers and thus, conquering heart by heart, the day will come when the world will penetrate the kingdom of peace, not that peace that men create based on their power and their threats, but in spiritual peace, in the peace that you will achieve by loving one another.

25. After 1950, the time of spirituality will begin. I will communicate for everyone who prepares and so you will feel that my Spirit never departs from yours.

26. My word will be engraved in your spirit and you will see it fulfilled. When you remember her, you will feel comfort in your heart, and in the spirit, strength and light.

27. My Law cannot be a heavy cross on your shoulders, on the contrary, it is rest and delight for the spirit.

28. Do not be afraid of your unbelieving brothers, because they are serving me like this; they also have marked the moment in which they must come before my presence, and when that is, they will rise to serve me, but before, it is necessary that you serve me so that you give an example of my Doctrine. The time you spend here serving me, I will make it up to you in eternal life.

Love one another!

29. I want to give my love to humanity through you. See that while your nation is safe, others are sinking into the abyss. Turn your eyes and your thoughts to the East and there you will find hunger, pain and despair. But for this it is necessary that your prayer enclose charity and love for your fellow man, then the love of your spirit, for which there are no distances, will reach your brothers, enveloping them in your caress.

30. How many are there who dream of dying, in the hope that this moment will be that of their arrival before Me to worship Me eternally in Heaven, without knowing that the road is infinitely longer than they could have believed. To ascend one rung of the ladder that will lead you to Me, it is necessary to have known how to live human life. Ignorance is what causes many to confuse the essence of my lessons.

31. They fear to stain themselves in the world believing thereby to lose Heaven forever; and they are in error, because no one will lose Heaven, eternity is the divine opportunity that your Creator gives you so that everyone can reach Him.

32. Another error lies in wanting to keep oneself clean, not out of love for the Father, not out of wanting to please the one who has formed it, but solely out of the selfish interest of keeping oneself in a position to carve out a place for oneself, a comfortable and prosperous place in eternal life according to the image that men have formed of it.

33. There are some who are moved to perform good deeds fearing that death will surprise them, because they have no merits to make present before their Lord. Others turn away from evil only because of the fear of dying in sin and having to endure the torment of hell after this life.

34. How deformed and imperfect is that God in the way so many imagine him; how unjust, monstrous and cruel. Gathering together all the sins and crimes that men have committed, they cannot be compared with the perversity that the punishment of hell for all eternity means, to which, according to them, God condemns the children who sin. Have I not explained to you that the greatest attribute of God is love? Do you not believe, then, that an eternal torment would be the absolute denial of the divine attribute of eternal love?

35. Christ became man in order to manifest divine love to the world, but men are hard of heart and reluctant of understanding, they soon forget the lesson received and misinterpret it. I knew that humanity would come to confuse justice and love, with revenge and punishment, that is why I announced to you a time when I would spiritually return to the world to explain to humanity the lessons that I had not understood.

Love one another!

36. This is the time you are living in, and I have given you my teaching so that my justice and my divine wisdom may be revealed, as a perfect lesson of the sublime love of your God. Do you believe that I came because of the fear that men would come to destroy the works of their Lord or even life itself? No, I come only for the love of my children, whom I want to see full of light and peace.

37. Is it right that you too should come to Me solely for love? But not for love of yourselves, but by loving the Father and your brothers. Do you think that the one who flees from sin only for fear of torment is inspired by divine love, or the one who does good deeds thinking only of the prize that he can achieve by conquering a place in eternity? He who thinks like this, neither knows Me, nor comes for love of Me, works only for love of himself.

38. It is time for the blindfold of ignorance that has covered the eyes of men for so long to fall forever, so that they can contemplate life in its fullness. If some want men to continue believing in the punishment of hell, so that this belief may serve as a brake to guide their steps on earth, I tell you that the truth has more power over the spirit than deception.

39. Hear my word with recollection, O disciples, and meditate deeply on it.

40. Humanity: if all that you have dedicated to fomenting bloody wars, you had dedicated it to carrying out humanitarian works, your existence would be full of the blessings of the Father, but man has been using the riches he has accumulated, to sow destruction, pain and death. This cannot be the true life, the one that those who are brothers and sons of God must lead. This way of living is not in accordance with the Law that I wrote on your conscience.

41. To make you understand the error in which you live, volcanoes will spring up; fire will rise from the earth to exterminate the weeds. The winds will be unleashed, the earth will tremble and the waters will sweep away counties and nations.

42. In this way the elements will manifest their resentment towards man; they have broken with him, because man has been destroying one after another the bonds of friendship and fraternity that linked him with the Nature that surrounds him.

43. The Master makes these revelations to you, because I see that while men of science are undiscovering themselves to tear Nature's secrets and discover new elements and new forces to destroy and kill, they neglect the true science, that which teaches to preserve, to love and to build. The men of this time have not realized, that they have been neglecting their true work, that they have abandoned their mission.

44. Millions of sick people populate the Earth; millions of children walk around the world abandoned to their own strength, without a fixed path; multitudes of elderly people without knowing the comfort of a staff to help them fulfill their destiny; widows and helpless women who ignore the delights of the warmth of a true home. You have trampled on the most worthy thing in human life because you have desecrated marriage, which is an institution of divine origin. It is an attack on human life that should be sacred; the houses of my children are destroyed, which they must respect because they are the shrines and temples in which I am venerated, no matter how humble they may be. However, men claim to have religion, to which I could ask them: What is the religion that they teach you to perform the works that you have been doing?

45. On the great day the Father will speak to all men and His voice will be of righteousness.

46. This disaster comes from the materialization into which humanity has fallen. If you have relegated the spirit to the last term and put the passions of matter and the ideas of death before him, it is natural that you would have come to obtain the result that you are looking at today. If the flesh is selfish, what other fruit could you have expected from it, if not wars and the most complete moral degeneration?

47. Only the Doctrine of spirituality will succeed in making the voice of conscience heard by man and the spirit achieve freedom from sin.

48. The new war that will be unleashed will not be one of material ambitions, it will be a struggle between spirit and matter, and when the spirit has triumphed, it will give as a sign of the restoration of world peace, the empire of love for one another. Do you not believe that on the foundations of true peace you will be able to build a world of spiritual and material progress?

49. The constructive spiritual work is that which awaits future generations; when man lives consecrated to this noble and lofty work, he will feel that he has found harmony with his Lord, with his Creator, whom he has not ceased to build.

50. If by listening to these lessons you begin to renew the small world of your words, thoughts and deeds, you will thereby help the renewal of humanity.

51. The Universe is a great book of wisdom which I have opened before the eyes of man so that in it he may know the laws that govern Creation and learn to respect them. Studying in that book, he will achieve wisdom, he will seek the improvement, well-being and advancement of his life on Earth, and if there is enough knowledge of everything that is spiritual, he will achieve absolute triumph in this existence, which is a deep and great test, because he will become possessor of the truth and will be immortal.

Love one another!

52. The divine laws that govern the Universe, are those of wisdom, power and love, from them all the others follow with regard to the creation of everything that exists.

53. Universe: when man studies you with a clean heart and a mind full of longing to know more of my truth, inspired above all by the spirit, and not bound by selfish feelings or pride, from you he will receive the great lessons that he has not received so far, in you he will be able to find a similarity with my Kingdom.

54. My beloved children, in your mind I pour out my light so that you may study my words as letters from the book of my wisdom. Human thought is an infinite field that lends itself to reflection, meditate on my words.

55. Many have listened to me, for now not everyone will rise up with the same love to follow me. Also at that time I called great multitudes, more of them only twelve men followed me; of them only three were really close to the Master and it was John the only one who had the revelation of the great mysteries, because he opened the arcanum with the power of his great love. Love opens the doors of wisdom because it contains humility and meekness. Love is the true haven of peace in the eternity of the spirit. The one who practices it, does not need to ask anything because wisdom comes to him. He understands the imperfect, sinners, condemns no one and apologizes to everyone. He knows how to understand the weak and also the strong. Love did everything, man was created by it and it will be the power that will move everyone and will be able to unite. Love is the cause of your existence.

56. How many mysteries still exist for man. He is surrounded by invisible and impalpable beings, which should already be visible and palpable to him.

57. A life full of beauty and revelations pulsates over the existence of men and these in their blindness have not yet managed to look at it.

58. Do not forget my teachings because they will help you to be apostles of the truth; the true apostle of my Doctrine is the one who practices everything that God taught him through Jesus. I assure you that if I were to ask each one of you, to those who have listened to me so much: What are you doing, what have I given you to do or what do you want? Do you do what God commands you, or what you have ordered? You wouldn't know how to answer me.

59. This nation was chosen to fulfill my promise in this age, so that you would be the witnesses of the arrival and departure of my word. In the Second Time, it was not necessary for my manifestation to spread to the whole world so that it would know of my coming, it was enough to awaken a people so that they would rise up to testify and to spread the seed received. I must warn you, that the people whom I have taught with my lessons, should not be considered as the absolute owner of such an inheritance, nor the only one to whom a spiritual mission is entrusted in this Work. My message of all times has been addressed to all humanity and it has happened that the people who received the revelation were the ones who knew how to get the least benefit, because they failed to appreciate the gifts and graces that the Lord had poured into them.

60. Remember how in the Second Time the seed that Christ sowed in Judea flourished outside of it.

61. I do not want to tell you with this, that all these facts will have to be repeated in you, because I want my Doctrine to shine among this people, illuminating their path, but if you are going to give yourselves to the fulfillment of the blessed mission that I have entrusted to you, if you are going to consecrate yourselves as true disciples of the Divine Master, call the multitudes, explain what I spoke to those who listened to me, transmit my commands to them, illuminate the way for them to comply with my Law and my orders.

62. Do not forget that my word is sustenance and that humanity perishes because it is needed; my word is the footprint that marks the path of salvation, think that there are many who have been lost and who wander in confusion. Go to them and save them.

63. Look at those who come to hear my word. See how they weep with joy and form resolutions of amendment by repenting of their past faults. Look at how those who have come to my presence hungry for love, have returned home carrying peace in their hearts. They were outcasts when you brought them before me and saw that I made them spokesmen, guides and prophets, so that they would continue to spread my Work. My word not only comforted his spirit, but was also health to his matter.

64. You are a people to whom I have been speaking and teaching for centuries. I am referring to your spirit, whom I have illuminated many times with the light of my truth, helping him in his restitution, granting him a new envelope.

65. A book of love and wisdom I have bequeathed to you through the ages, so that in its pages you can find the light that marks the path that leads you to God. If you want to find in my revelations of this time a palpable proof of its truth, you can find it in the intimate relationship that exists between that word and that which I gave you in times past when I told you: "I am the way, the truth and the life, and no one comes to the Father unless he fulfills my Law".

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 165

1. Rest for a few moments, beloved people, leave your fatigue in Me. My charity has called you to come before the Master. I only ask you to cleanse your mind, so that the essence of my word may be received by your heart and my presence felt by your spirit. You have not understood many of the teachings that I have given you because of this lack of preparation and spirituality. For an indefinite time you come as infants, you should already be disciples if you had analyzed my word and put my Doctrine into practice.
2. Understand that if you want to dominate your passions and reject the attraction that the world exerts on you, in my word you can find the light and the strength to do so.
3. Whoever is content and tries to calm his conscience just by listening to me, will soon return to his lethargy and lives exposed to falling into temptation. That is why my word comes encouraging and lifting up those who fall by the wayside.
4. As the star that announced at that time the coming of the Messiah, so at this time the spirit of Elijah announced to you my arrival with his light. My charity has prepared this piece of earth for you so that you may receive the revelation of the Third Time. Today the world ignores these teachings, but in due time, the good news will reach all of humanity. By the gift of intuition, sensing the spiritual transcendence of this era, there are many who manage to see in the great events of this time, the confirmation and fulfillment of the prophecies of past times.
5. People: recognize how much grace you are enjoying, and there are still among these multitudes, those who doubt my communication and attribute to the spokesmen my word. What can they give you if they are as ignorant as you and you saw them coming out of your ranks? There are those who are, by their rudeness, matter and more matter, sinners like you, but when my light illuminates them, when my ray inspires them, they are transfigured by a miracle of my love and my power.
6. You are still the city that sleeps, whose inhabitants give themselves to their rest and do not listen if someone moans, if someone needs help, shelter, balm or bread. Now you forget humanity in order to think only of yourselves, and if you have forgotten men, who are visible to your eyes and whose afflictions you can feel, how much more will you have forgotten those who are in spirit and are dragging along a painful chain of bitterness! Know that your mission is to watch over, pray and intercede for all your brothers, both present and absent, distant or nearby, visible and invisible.
7. In this age I am putting you through a crucible so that when you come out of it, you can be the flavor of the world, the light that illuminates the darkness of the roads.

Love one another!

8. My voice full of majesty calls humanity to awaken it from its lethargy, so that you all become part of my beloved people.
9. I am entrusting to you the key that unlocks the door behind which are many of the revelations that you want to know. Take this key and learn to open the door of the Kingdom so that you may know everything that you thought was an unfathomable arcanum.
10. You have yet to understand many of the revelations that are destined to become part of your knowledge, and men have assumed that their knowledge belongs only to God. When someone comes to express his desire to interpret them or tries to penetrate them, he is instantly called a blasphemer or judged reckless.
11. What would the men of the first ages have said if they had been told that one day humanity would come to know everything that you know, both in terms of science and spiritual revelations? Anyone who had announced such events would have been called a blasphemer or denied the use of reason.
12. Even at this time it will happen that, when the spirit-to-Spirit communication, the establishment of peace on the entire surface of the Earth and the knowledge of the hereafter will be announced, the materialistic world will rise up denying with all energy the possibility of achieving such goals and will judge harshly those who dare to announce such events.
13. If humanity had studied and analyzed the words and the announcements given by the prophets of the past times, they would have found in them much of what you are now seeing realized, of what humanity is now living.
14. The conception that you have reached of the spiritual was foretold to you, as well as everything that your science has discovered.
15. Today I can assure you that in the future communication through thought will reach a great development and by that means many barriers that today separate peoples and worlds will disappear. If you learn to communicate in thought with your Father, if you succeed in achieving spirit-to-Spirit communication, what difficulty can you have in communicating with your visible and invisible brothers, present or absent, near or distant?
16. In my Doctrine you are learning this form of spiritual communication that I have come to teach you and in order for you to exercise yourself daily in it, I have advised you to keep silent, to close your lips and let your spirit speak.

Love one another!

17. I want you to be my good and humble disciples, those who do not seek appointments or honors within the congregation, but that your ideal is only to achieve perfection through virtue and follow my teachings so that your life may be an example. Of what use can degrees, titles, or names be to you, if you have no merit to possess them?

18. Do not do or keep anything that is false. The degrees I award I know when you have taken a firm step on the way. Always feel like children, even if you are already teachers at heart.

19. The love that I have for you is great, and this love, which you have already felt in your heart, comes to awaken you so that you may rise up to fulfill the Father's command.

20. Through humble men I give you my word, and it, like a fine chisel, polishes and shapes your spirit.

21. The ideal of purity that my Law has always inspired men, I want you to preserve, so that it may help you to sustain yourselves in the struggle, until you cement fraternity and spirituality in the world.

22. Each one of you understands me according to the degree of spiritual advancement in which he is, that is why I manifest myself in different ways so that everyone receives my light and knows how to analyze my teachings.

23. Do not stop on your path of spiritual evolution, keep in mind that in your advancement I manifest myself more and more and in each step you take, you receive me with greater greatness.

24. If those who transmit my word should faint in the struggle, I will know how to communicate with my people; for truly I say to you, I do not want you to lack this teaching. Recognize that by listening to me you have found the strength so that it is your faith that helps you overcome the obstacles that arise on the path of your life. I want to prepare you to let yourselves be witnesses of my manifestation and to serve as an example to your brothers by testifying with your works to the teaching that you have received.

25. Learn and practice, teach everything you do and say, confirm my Doctrine with your works. I do not want transgressors among my disciples. Think what would become of humanity and of you, if this Work, begun with so much love and patience, collapsed due to lack of morality, virtue and truth in your life.

26. Behold how ages of purification have passed over humanity and there is still no regeneration in it. See how there are men and peoples who have fought to cement peace, and it has not arrived, rather, the bloody wave continues to spread. It is because there is no love or sincerity in men. You have not known how to love one another, that is why I have come bringing my peace and my word, which teaches minds to unite and men to love each other.

Love one another!

27. For now, you who hear me in these humble enclosures, unite, love each other as farmers of the same countryside, have the same ideal and that ideal be the salvation of humanity.

28. Seek the essence of my Work, and cease from superfluous deliberations. Begin by cleansing yourselves of stains, and in this way you will not stain what is clear and pure; in this way you will encourage your brothers to correct their imperfections.

29. Love each other as Jesus taught you. Put aside selfishness, dispense with your personality.

30. You cannot leave this world without first having consummated your work of peace and love, that will be the testimony you give of Me and the way to settle an account that you have with Me.

31. I tell you all this through the humble, the last ones, those who, finding themselves forgotten by men on the path of life, heard the voice of the Master and rose up to fight to follow him; but this imprint that I am marking with my word is the same that I traced to you in the Second Time and the same that I bequeathed to you through Moses in the First Time.

32. Seek Me beyond the forms and although you may find me symbolized in everything created, seek me in spirit, let it be the eyes of your spirit that contemplate my presence.

33. Materialism is the one that does not let men see the path along which they walk. Sin, fanaticism, vanities, form the thick veil that prevents them from contemplating their Father. If it were not so, they would think about the transience of this life and the value of the spiritual life, they would sense that world of perfection that lies beyond death.

34. If men were humble of spirit and heart, they would have peace with them, because peace is in humility, not in false greatness, nor in vain splendor; but humanity is divided into classes and while some possess all the comforts, others succumb in misery, that is why there is no peace; but all those greatness will be destroyed under my justice and men will recognize themselves as brothers, children of the same Father.

35. It was the charity of your Lord who entrusted the golden wheat to you, so that by your work you may multiply it on the earth. It is the seed of a Work that I began long ago in the spirit of man, which will give him true peace.

Love one another!

36. Blessed are you who have listened to my word at this time, because in it you will find the right way; but you must not only listen to it, but analyze it, interpret it justly, so that when you teach it to your brothers, you will not sow confusion in their hearts.

37. Your spirit must wait for its matter to be purified and regenerated, so that it can rise to fulfill its mission. Then you will be spirit and matter, one being, a docile and obedient instrument, through which the gifts that the Father has granted you will be manifested. Do not imitate those who, without having understood or analyzed my Doctrine of spirituality, without having sufficient preparation and development, go down the roads calling themselves farmers, without realizing that the seed they cultivate is not precisely mine.

38. Remember that those twelve disciples of the Second Age needed time to pass, so that they could come to understand the teaching of their Master. Many were the lessons they received, many the tests to which they were subjected; at every step they were interrogated by Me and each of their weaknesses or imperfections were touched and corrected through my word, so that the purity, the truth penetrated into them and yet, they had to prepare to make my Doctrine known.

39. What should I not do with you, new disciples, who live in a much more materialistic time than that one was?

40. Understand now that I have been extensive in doctrinating you and understand why I test you at every step.

41. While I said to Andrew, Simon and John when they first saw me: "Follow me", and they followed me, to you during this time I had to speak a lot so that faith would finally make its way into your heart.

42. I want you to find in those apostles the example that will strengthen you in your journey and that you understand that when they took to the roads to preach with my word, peace and love had already penetrated into their hearts, impurity having fled from them.

43. There was not one who sowed seed other than mine, nor who performed an act with which his brothers could be mistaken. It is that they, in turn and in the likeness of the fruits, waited to ripen on the tree of life in order to be able to offer themselves with purity to the greed of hearts hungry to know the truth.

44. On the other hand, now you have risen up pretending to be teachers, when you have not yet been able to learn my first lesson; you want to go to save your brothers, when you are still in danger of falling and you are talking about cleanliness, purity, spirituality, when you have not yet made your vices disappear.

Love one another!

45. This is the reason why many of you return to Me, crying and complaining that you have been called impostors, because you could not heal a sick person, because you could not convince an unbeliever, or because you were caught carrying out practices improper to my Work. Then some devote themselves to studying my Doctrine and improving their lives so as not to fail again, while others continue in their impurity of sowing confusion, and others finally, discouraged by the stumbles suffered, turn away from the path, denying the truth of my Work.

46. I have wanted to take you step by step, teaching your spirit page by page my lessons of love, because there is no longer path than this of the evolution of the spirit. Verily I say to you, you cannot find on earth anything that is more sacred to you than one of your fellow men.

47. This Doctrine comes to give you the knowledge of what the spirit, conscience, feelings, faith is and what it should mean for you. When one of you comes to know these teachings, he feels that a deep respect and love emanates from his heart towards his brothers, because in each of them he can see something of the presence of God, he sees a son of the Supreme Being; in each of his fellow men and in the interior of each of men he contemplates the temple of the Lord.

48. Would the one who comes to understand and consider all this knowledge as true dare to desecrate that temple, or would he become capable of offending that brother?

49. That is the lesson that I want you to come to understand, because when this happens, you will be only one step away from starting to practice the supreme commandment that tells you: "Love one another".

50. How can you call yourselves spiritualists, until you know what a spirit is and what it means and is worth before God?

51. Meditate on all that I have told you, so that your mind, fused in one will with your spirit, may let it manifest itself and fulfill its mission. You will then see that each of your gifts is a light and a force before which the hardest necks and the hardest hearts will bend; and when they receive a proof of true spirituality they will exclaim with emotion: "These, if they practice the Doctrine of Jesus, these are preaching the truth".

52. Take this hour as that of your communion with the Father. Converse spiritually with Me, I listen to you, O people. Deposit in Me all the sorrows that you are gathering in the world; wash away the stains of your spirit with your tears. You will see how crying and prayer will make the burden on your heart feel lighter. Then I will pour out my grace on you, by which I will make you feel strong.

Love one another!

53. If you call yourselves Trinitarians because you have analyzed my teachings and bear witness to them with your works, light, strength and peace cannot be lacking in you.

54. I have placed in you the divine seal that makes you heirs of the wisdom that is kept in the book of my Divinity and whoever carries that light cannot fall.

55. The Father of all times is the one who is speaking to you now, the same one who with Moses revealed the Law to you, in Christ made you listen to the voice of the Word, and the one who now sends Elijah to you in spirit so that he may come to prepare men, because in this time they will learn to communicate with the Holy Spirit who is Myself. Whoever comes to communicate with Me will find that I am the Father himself and that He whom you call the Son is the Love Word of the Divinity. The Trinity of God does not mean diversity of spirits, but of attributes or potencies.

56. Law, love wisdom, these are the three phases with which I have shown myself to man so that he may become fully firm in his path of evolution and a complete knowledge of his Creator. These three phases are different from each other, but they all proceed from a single principle and as a whole are absolute perfection.

57. On several occasions I have said to you: Why do you insist on wanting to look at three divine beings where you can only find one? One voice has spoken to you at all times, one Divine Spirit has shown himself before you. That unique, eternal voice, which through various expressions has manifested my Law to you, is the one that you have engraved on your conscience, and you should keep its essence in your heart, but instead of loving me in spirit and in truth as my Doctrine has taught you, you love me through your materialism, because you cannot conceive of your Creator in any other way.

58. When I engraved my Law on a stone, who could doubt that those tablets were sacred if they contained the divine commandment? However, I removed those stones from man's sight, leaving them only the knowledge of my Law.

59. Christ was born and died in poverty, purity and perfection, and you would have wished him to remain eternally on Earth, therefore you wanted to perpetuate him in images made by the hand of man; you must understand that his human form disappeared to leave only the spirit of man, the purest essence of his word and his works, which were the perfect expression of divine love. Now that I have come to manifest in spirit and have communicated through the understandings prepared by Me, what is it that you can materialize from my third manifestation? Do you hope to deify objects, places or people? No, you should only preserve from this time of my spiritual communication, the infinite light that I have poured into you, the light of eternal wisdom. If in the Law of the First Time you seek love and wisdom, you will find them; if in the love of Jesus you seek law and wisdom; you would find them, and if in the wisdom that my Spirit has poured out in this Third Time on all creatures, you try to find the law and love, deep down you will be able to find them. See how all the divine virtues and potencies form a single essence and this is God.

Love one another!

60. Analyze the lesson that I have given you, in it the love that I have for humanity is manifested.

61. With my teaching I come to model your heart by serving humble men. The disciples of Spiritualism will preserve my Doctrine in all its purity, because it will be the one that consolidates peace and fraternity among humanity.

62. Religious symbols will disappear, because it is necessary that man does not limit me, so that his work may be worthy of the Father.

63. Listening to me without material representation, you have formed in yourselves a new character, your mind has been awakened and your morals have been strengthened.

64. I want for tomorrow, men and women of conviction, disciples who preach with examples, not prevaricators, because your fall would be very painful for lack of morality and truth, for lack of peace and courage.

65. See how humanity, which through the ages has passed through the crucible that purifies and the fiery trials that redeem, still fails to cement its peace. The bloody trail continues to drag on, because men have forgotten my word. There is no sincerity, no trust, no charity, no love.

66. And here I am, with my new message of unification and peace, with my humble word that after a great battle, I will perform the miracle of uniting the minds and hearts of men. And will there still be those who will ask why I have come?

67. Also at this time many were called and few were chosen, but I have no privileged ones. For it is man who exalts himself before his Lord and becomes worthy of his grace.

68. I have given everyone my teaching in the same way, I have taught everyone to walk this way and to inhabit the valley of tears. Understand me: not only you will have to live under this Law, but the whole world, but it will be my disciples scattered throughout the world, who will implement it with their morals and their example.

69. Fulfill from now on and do not let time pass over the spirit without taking advantage of it, because the moment of lamentations could come.

70. That is the reason why I am making use of the humble, of those who, finding themselves lost in the ways of life, heard the saving voice of the Lord and rose up ready to follow him. Those are you, the last ones, because you are serving me in the Third Time.

Love one another!

71. I send you my peace, but truly I tell you, as long as there are men who have everything they need and forget about those who are starving, there will be no peace on earth.

72. Peace is not in human greatness, nor in riches. It is in goodwill, in loving, in serving and respecting one another, oh, if the world understood these lessons, hatreds would disappear and love would sprout up in the human heart!

73. Only my love and my justice can now protect those who are hungry and thirsty for them. Only I know how to receive in my perfect justice those who threaten their own existence.

74. If they knew that the loneliness of the spirit is more tremendous than the loneliness of this world, they would wait with patience and fortitude until the last day of their existence.

75. I have given you my caress in this word, testify my truth with your works.

76. Love one another.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Love one another!

Teaching 166

1. A day of rejoicing for my people, a day of peace for those who have come to hear my word. When I gave this inheritance to the first, I told them to take care of it because it was like a small bush that would later become a leafy and corpulent tree; today the great multitudes come to hear my word testifying with it the fulfillment of my prophecy.
2. The tree gave branches and these were detached to be planted in other lands, but truly I tell you, some have been planted by my will and others by the will of men.
3. I told you a long time ago that the tree is known by its fruit, and soon, when these trees begin to bear fruit, you will see what kind of fruit each one bears, whether it is good or not. There have been bushes that began full of greenery and strength, which were promising of good fruits and good shade for the weary walkers, because the one who cared for them rose full of love and charity and became the salvation of the lost; he answered with words of light to the questions of men, gave light to the blind and comfort to the sick and; the wonders happened, the miracles flowed from his lips and from his works, the truths were received by inspiration and it is that the Father saw the hard work and zeal of those peasants. It was poured out in love and wisdom. The crowds, seeing the dedication of that disciple, confirming his charity and sincerity, followed him to the mountain, obeyed him and blindly believed; but when he saw that the mobs were following him, that the multitudes were obeying his voice as if it were a law, he felt vanity and greatness in his heart, and forgetting about the One who gave him everything without which he could have done nothing, putting humility aside, he began to flaunt his merits and his power over others; he felt perfect in the practice of my Doctrine, he proclaimed to be a true disciple and even a teacher.
4. I tell you that those who go about flaunting their gifts and do not sow humbly, their harvest will be vain.
5. I could ask many of those who rose up proclaiming charity: Where are your multitudes; where were those who were following you left? What did all those who received gifts do to spread this seed? And they will have to tell me that they have been left alone, because those who were found have gone astray again, those who were healed have fallen ill again, and those who were beginning to see the light have returned to their darkness; and the Master asks you: Why did this happen among my doctrinaires? Because they took the lessons received according to their understanding and will, because they got up ahead of time, that is, before they understood the Teacher's lesson well.
6. Those who waited for the hour to get up to fulfill studying, watching and praying, are those who remain firm, because their roots have deepened, and their branches have withstood storms, these rose in time, when vanity could no longer prey to their heart. But this is a day of peace and forgiveness, in which I want you all to meditate on my words so that when you return to your tree and to your lands, you will correct whatever imperfection you have done: it is still time to straighten the tree and save the sowing, but you have to multiply your effort.

Love one another!

7. Return to your countryside, and if you find yourself lonely and forgotten by those who followed you blindly, whom you did not know how to retain, cover the roots of the tree, cut off all the damaged fruit, prune its dry branches, give it irrigation and you will see the walkers coming after its shade and its fruits again.

8. Blessed are those who know how to rise from their own fall, blessed are those who rise to the light; then you will see that from their mouths will come the voice that speaks of my new coming, the one that men have waited for century after century, and that will make many dead tremble even in their graves.

9. Truly I tell you, that divine promise to return among you as a Spirit of Consolation, no one has erased, not time, not sin, not the ages that have passed over men; neither will the proof of my coming be erased, and at last men will bow down before my truth.

10. By listening to my word, you review your life in the light of conscience and when my lecture is over, you feel unloaded of your guilt, afflictions and regrets. Although you receive my word through rough understandings, it shakes your being, because in it you feel an eye that is watching you, an ear that listens to the slightest of your sighs, and a sensitivity capable of perceiving even the most hidden of your thoughts.

11. From the first day I spoke to humanity by this means, I opened a new spiritual era. The hearts that were present before my divine manifestation, felt overwhelmed with fear, respect, wonder and joy. That is why that small portion of my first disciples grew and increased, until they became the great congregations that now attend to listen to my teachings.

12. Among these crowds are those who, after having heard me year after year, have become familiar with this manifestation and no longer shudder as when they heard me in the first lessons received. However, most continue to listen with true joy to my word and their heart beats hurriedly when they come to hear my wise and loving Doctrine.

13. I have wanted to spiritually form the hearts that come to receive this word, to make each one a strong worker for the work assigned to him, aware of his mission and jealous of my Work; but some have remained faithful listening to me, learning and perfecting themselves, to become worthy to offer their brothers the fruits already ripe with their study and meditation, with patience, with effort and perseverance. Others have sought flattery, eager to sow, before the time has come, have departed before the appointed time and have taught what little they have learned.

Love one another!

14. That is why some have mystified the lessons received, modifying my teaching at their will due to lack of knowledge, thereby hindering the smooth running of those who rose up to preach my Doctrine until they were able to practice my teachings.

15. I tell you that, when the hour rings, the wheat of the good sowers will overcome the tares of the infidels and in the hour of struggle, the world will know how to distinguish those who brought my truth to it.

16. If you hear that some spiritualist flaunts his position and goes around the world shouting that he is one of the new disciples of Christ, you will be able to affirm that his mouth is uttering lies, because the true disciple of this Work is the one who does not flaunt, the one who silently works for the glory of his Master, truly loving all his brothers. My good servants, you will be able to recognize them by their humility.

17. In the end, what will become of those who did not practice my teachings, according to the dictates of my Law? They will be purified and will have a new mission to repair all their mistakes and wash all their stains, until they manage to turn the tares that they had been cultivating into wheat.

18. To the crowd that is currently listening to my word, I say: keep listening with anointing to my teaching, do not let it get lost from your mind without first meditating on it; do not pretend to get up to teach, when you are just a weak infant; you must wait to become a strong and prepared disciple, then it will be when you can see that every seed you sow will germinate, grow, blossom and bear fruit. And I will say to you, I have come to receive your present, the fruit of the seed that I have entrusted to you.

19. I have not yet come to judge you because if that were the case I would find you lacking in merits. I come before you as a Father, to forgive you and to offer you one more time, as a precious opportunity that you must take advantage of and of which you will answer me.

20. On this day of grace I tell you that I have made Mary's presence and love known and have made it felt to humanity, because in her the New Covenant will be made at this time. Mary, in her tenderness and humility, has also communicated with you.

21. The Father has poured out his pleasures on this people, but truly I tell you, from the presence of the Divine Mother you also have to answer me.

22. I claim yes, because I want you to have knowledge of everything that I have granted you, but at the bottom of this claim, is my caress.

Love one another!

23. The world ignores my Work and my manifestation of this time, because you have been afraid to proclaim these teachings before men, but the new generations will know them and will swell these ranks. Truly I tell you, the name of Jesus and that of Mary are united in the work of redemption, and since at this time men have not been able to form the covenant with their Lord, the name of the Mother will be the symbol of unification and fraternity among humanity.

24. The force of the elements will be the voice that awakens men who persist in living in darkness, and it will not be that I will come to judge them, it will be they who fall into justice by their own acts.

25. Men have formed their mission, which, being originally pure, they have stained with their sin and profaned with their sciences inspired many of them in selfishness, hatred and pride.

26. Hear: In the first time I made a covenant with Abraham and his generations; the children of that people forgot that covenant. I made a covenant with Moses, who brought Israel out of slavery, and with the passage of time, men again forgot about the covenant.

27. In the Second Time I came into the world, I sealed my covenant with men with my blood, and that covenant of love was valid enough to teach my children the way by which humanity of all times can redeem all their sins. Because I, in Jesus, overcame death, triumphed over darkness, turned pain into divine passion and opened the way of light to the spirits.

28. Today you have heard that I am coming to make a new covenant with you, because I do not find you united either in Me or in yourselves, and it is my will that in this Third Time, in the bosom of the Sixth Seal, you form the covenant of love and fraternity in Me.

29. You are all inside the Sixth Seal, which is a stage, a chapter of the Book of the Seven Seals, the content of which is the wisdom of God and the perfection of the spirits.

30. The new generations will come and know the work of the Third Time, in which you took the first steps. They will continue your work, and when at last the different races and peoples love each other as brothers, when men have destroyed their hatreds, the work of the Holy Spirit will have established itself in the heart of humanity.

31. From the First Time I taught you to consecrate myself on the seventh day. If for six days a man gave himself to the fulfillment of his human duties, it was right that at least one, he dedicated it to the service of his Lord. I did not ask him to consecrate me on the first day, but on the last so that on it he could rest from his labors and devote himself to meditation, giving his spirit the opportunity to approach his Father to converse with Him through prayer.

Love one another!

32. The day of rest was instituted so that man, forgetting even for a moment the hard earthly struggle, would let his conscience speak to him, remind him of the Law, and examine himself, repent of his faults and form noble purposes of repentance within his heart. The Sabbath was the day that was previously dedicated to rest, prayer, and the study of the Law, but the people, fulfilling the tradition, forgot the feelings towards humanity and the spiritual duties they had towards their fellow men. The times passed, humanity evolved spiritually and Christ came to teach you that even on the sabbath days you should practice charity and all good works.

33. Jesus wanted to tell you that a day was dedicated to meditation and physical rest, but you should have understood that for the fulfillment of the spirit's mission, no day and hour could be set.

34. Despite the Master having spoken to you very clearly, the men distanced themselves, each looking for the day that was the most propitious for them and so, while some continued to keep the Sabbath as a day dedicated to rest, others adopted Sunday to celebrate their services.

35. Today I come to speak to you once again and my teachings bring you new knowledge; you have lived many experiences and have evolved. The day that you dedicate to rest from earthly fatigue is of no importance today, but it is important that you know that every day you must walk along the path that I have laid out for you. Understand that there is no appointed hour for you to lift up your prayer, because every time is propitious for you to pray and practice my Doctrine on behalf of your brothers.

36. I want there to always be light, inspiration and love in your spirit. May the mind and heart be the mirror of the spirit and may its virtues be reflected in it, translated into brilliant ideas and noble thoughts and feelings. Then you will come to realize how perfect is the harmony that exists between the spirit and the body, between the spiritual and the human, between the laws and duties of the spirit and the laws and duties of the world; in the end, you will be able to see that all life, with its trials and lessons, has only one goal: the perfecting of the spirit, through which he will come to know rest and true happiness in the Kingdom of the Lord.

37. Sometimes you think and say that what is the use of this existence since it gives you nothing good and you get no benefit from it. When someone comes to think like this, it is because he is preventing the light from shining in his spirit. He believes that life is useless because he has not managed to get all his desires realized in it, because he would like to have obtained everything according to his thoughts. He thinks that he too is useless, and that is because he has not known the meaning of my word, because he has not analyzed it.

Love one another!

38. The spiritual part of man is lethargic, and that is why he has lived so many useless lives.

39. I could demand and compel you to fulfill my commands, but then your merits would not be real, your advancement would not be true. I let life, in which without realizing it you are forging lessons and trials for yourselves, give you the true, sometimes painful, teaching according to your deeds. And in the midst of the trial, my Spirit sends you the light, which comes to your spirit, sometimes sweetly, and sometimes as an inexorable judge, so that you may awaken and follow the voice of conscience, which is my own voice.

40. I ask you: Do you want to be useful and feel that your existence is also useful? Learn then from my word, the one that I gave you in times past, learn from this one that you are hearing today, because one and the other complement each other, but do not go to believe, that just by repeating my phrases and my maxims, you have already fulfilled my teachings, no, he who does not know how to love, will not know how to say the divine words and fulfill what they teach you.

41. Love is the principle and the reason for your existence, O humanity, how could you live without that gift? Believe me, there are many who carry death within them, and others who are sick just because they don't love anyone. The balm that has saved many has been love and the divine gift that resurrects to true life, that redeems and that elevates, is also love.

42. Therefore, little child, who have heard this teaching, the Master tells you: From this day on, begin to love; let all your works towards others be saturated with this feeling, and also let it influence the words and prayers that you dedicate to me.

43. Know that the word that does not carry love, has no life and no power. You ask me how you can begin to love and what you must do so that this feeling awakens in your heart, and I tell you: What you must begin with is knowing how to pray. Prayer will bring you closer to the Master and that Master is Me.

44. In prayer you will find comfort, inspiration and strength, it will give you the sweet satisfaction of being able to speak intimately with God, without witnesses or mediators; God and your spirit, gathered in that sweet moment of confidences, spiritual communication and blessings.

45. Prepare yourselves, disciples, for I want to manifest myself to you. You all present worries and concerns to me and I tell you: Why are you afraid? Have you not felt my gaze rest full of charity on you? Does not my presence make you strong? Do not want me to repeat my words of the Second Half and to tell you that you are men of little faith, that having me so close and telling me to know me, you have not trusted Me.

Love one another!

46. Whenever you raise your prayer and seek me, I will be with you, my word and the commands that I have given you in all times, will give you my lesson through your conscience, gather strength and preparation. Take this word of life everywhere to the hearts that need comfort and light, because I have appointed you sowers of the spiritual field.

47. If you have been filled with my pleasures and what you have received is an inexhaustible flow of teachings, you must share this knowledge with love. Go to the other needy, to those who have no affections, consideration or respect on earth. Seek the fatherless, the widows, the incurably sick, and lavish charity. Pour out this spiritual balm that springs from the depths of the spirit and attend more to his spirit than to his body.

48. I have formed the body of husbandmen with men and women, since not only man knows how to interpret my Law. The woman, endowed with beautiful and noble feelings, has always been a collaborator in my Work of redemption. At this time I also lay to rest in her the responsibility for the proper fulfillment of my mandates. I leave both of you watching united in this cause that I have entrusted to you.

49. My people: I am going to stay with you for a few moments through this understanding. You have prayed and at the moment of greatest elevation, the loving greeting of the Master who said to you: "Peace be with you" has been heard in the silence of your hearts. You have realized the scope that prayer has, and you have understood the immense power that it has when you raise it, both to remedy a spiritual need and to ask for the solution of a material affliction.

50. Remember that many times it has been enough for you to pronounce the word "Father", so that your whole being trembles and your heart feels invaded by the comfort that his love gives you. Know that when your heart calls me with tenderness, my Spirit also trembles with joy.

51. When you call me "Father", when that name springs from your being, your voice is heard in heaven and you snatch some secret from the arcanum.

52. Do not let it be only the lips that call me "Father", because many of you usually do this mechanically. I want that when you say "Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed be thy name", let that prayer sprout from the purest of your being, meditating on each of its phrases so that later you will be inspired and in perfect communion with Me.

53. I have taught you the powerful word, teacher, the one that truly brings the son closer to his Father. By pronouncing the word Father with unction and respect, with upliftment and love, with faith and hope, distances disappear, spaces shorten, because in that instant of spirit-to-Spirit communication, neither God is far from you, nor are you far from Him. Pray like this and in your heart you will receive with full hands the benefit of my love.

Love one another!

54. Then you will see me with your spiritual gaze, walking before you as the shepherd does with his sheep. You will see the divine light illuminating the path of your life and you will hear my voice that repeats every moment to encourage you on your way: "Be strong, do not stop, every step you take forward brings you closer to your Father".

55. This day, O disciples, I have spoken to you once again about love and prayer, so that you may come to understand the grace that it contains and its effectiveness, so that you may achieve the reward that my charity has promised you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 167

1. From many hearts this question rises up to God: Lord, will the pain that afflicts this world last forever? To which the Master replies: No, my dearly beloved children, your pain will disappear when you come to find true love.
2. Although there is a lot of talk about love on Earth, in reality it does not exist among you. There are those who fake it, others confuse it with a selfish feeling, and others with a low passion. Falsehood reigns in the human heart, lies prevail, love, friendship, charity are pretended. The weed has grown and spread everywhere and only the fire of pain will be able to exterminate it.
3. That fire will be lit by men with their wars of ideas, creeds, philosophies and sciences; it is the war that is approaching with great strides. There, in that fire that will be ignited by their own ambitions, passions and hatreds, they will find their purification. This is what they wanted, this is what they demanded.
4. How can it be possible for men to love each other as brothers, if they have not come to cleanse their hearts? A great trial is needed in the world so that they may come out of it clean, because pain purifies.
5. I also tell you: men must believe in men, have faith and trust in each other, because you must convince yourselves that on Earth everyone needs everyone.
6. Do not think that I am flattered when you say that you have faith in Me and I know that you doubt everyone, because what I expect from you is that you love me through the love that you lavish on your fellow men, forgiving those who offend you, imparting charity to the poorest, small or weak, loving your brothers without distinction and putting in all your works the greatest selflessness and truth.
7. Learn from Me that I have never doubted you, that I have faith in your salvation and trust that you will rise up to achieve true life.
8. Although there is much falsehood in the works of men on the outside, there is not one in whose interior there is not a part of truth. That part is the spark of the spiritual light that it carries in itself, it is my divine presence, a flash that internally illuminates it. I will make that light that is mine shine in every heart and that its reflection be manifested in each of your works.
9. I want you to live in the truth, and for this all evil must die. Those of you who are aware of the hour that is coming, watch and pray from today, announce this battle to your brothers as prophets, so that they may prepare and not despair in the moments of bitterness during the coming struggle.

Love one another!

10. Be convinced that all the lands will bear fruit when they are ready, my seed is ready to descend on them. Every human being will be a plant that blooms and bears fruits of love, thus fulfilling the destiny of everything created.

11. In the vegetable kingdom there are parasitic, useless plants; do not imitate their example.

12. Do you know why the Father expects from you only fruits of love? Because the seed of life that I put in every creature, the original Seed, was love.

13. If at times, as happens in plants, you have apparently dried up, if you have withered for moments or have felt the anguish of thirst, it is not because the water of my grace has lacked you. My fountain of love has eternally overflowed over every spirit and over every heart like a watering of life. But these human plants, endowed with spirit, possess free will and because of the misuse of that precious gift, they distance themselves from that divine grace, which is the only thing that can save and strengthen the spirit. How different are you from the plants of the earth that you always submit to their place, receive whatever comes from the charity of God!

14. You all think you have loved in your life, and I tell you: There have been those who have truly loved, while others confuse passions and selfishness with love.

15. The perfect lesson I gave you through Jesus. Analyze my passage through the world as a man from birth to death and you will have love explained in a living and perfect way.

16. I do not come to ask you to be equal to Jesus, because in Him there was something that you cannot achieve; to be perfect as a man; since whoever was in Him was the same God in a limited way, but I tell you that you must imitate him.

17. My eternal Law has always told you about that love. I told you in the early days, "You shall love God with all your heart and spirit," "you shall love your neighbor as yourself."

18. Later I gave you these inspirations: "Love your brothers and sisters as the Father has loved you", "love one another".

19. In this time I have revealed to you that you love God before everything created, that you love God in everything that exists and what exists in God; that you practice charity and more charity with your brothers so that you may see the Father in all his splendor, because charity is love.

Love one another!

20. Never as now has man been in a position to love himself through a spiritual cult, free of impurities. The pagan and Gentile times have become distant; idolatry, which has been present in all cults and in all times, has fatigued the spirits with its materialism and its false splendor.

21. The generations are coming that will make the spiritual cult of my Divinity arise in all parts of the Earth, and when that cult comes to establish a kingdom of peace and light among humanity, religious fanaticism will disappear from men, because passions and ignorance have no place in spirituality.

22. Not because you look down the road do you stop thinking that you will never reach the end; keep going, because an instant that you lose will be mourned later by your spirit. Who told you that the goal is in this world? Who has taught you that death is the end and that at that moment you will be able to reach my Kingdom?

23. Death is like a brief dream, after which, once the strength has been restored, the spirit will awaken under the caress of my light, as to a new day that begins for him.

24. Death is the key that opens the doors of the prison in which you find yourself when you are attached to matter and is, at the same time, the key that opens the doors of eternity to you.

25. This planet, turned by human imperfections into a valley of atonement, has been a captivity and exile for the spirit.

26. Truly I tell you, life on Earth is one more degree in the scale of life, why don't you understand it that way, so that you can take advantage of all its lessons? This is the reason why many have to return to it, again and again: because they did not understand or draw any use from their previous life.

27. In the men of tomorrow there will be so much spirituality and understanding of the evolution that their spirit must reach, that when they penetrate the agony and find themselves one step away from death, they and those who accompany them in that hour, that moment as the most beautiful of their entire existence, the one that should be like the culmination of a fruitful and profitable life and can say like their Teacher on the cross: "Everything is finished"...

28. I come to speak to you, in a fatherly tone and with simple language. Full of mysteries you were waiting for my new manifestation at this time, and great has been your surprise when contemplating the simplicity of my lessons and the humility in the way I speak to you.

Love one another!

29. Elijah arrived like a ray of light in the midst of a storm, followed by his invisible hosts, his great legions of spirits of light, who follow him as sheep follow the shepherd; he walks making way for the crowds, knocking down the brambles and thorns on the right and left to open a gap to those who come after him and uniting the spirits who recognize in his voice that of the Shepherd who at this time will lead them to Me.

30. Do you not remember that it was a sheep of Elijah's that bore witness to you of my presence and invited you to join the flock to follow in the Shepherd's footsteps?

31. Rise up, humanity, find the way, find the reason for life! Unite peoples with peoples, love each other all! How thin is the wall that divides one home from another, and yet how distant are its inhabitants from one another! And on the borders of your peoples, how many conditions for you to let the foreigner pass! And if you do this among humans, what have you done with those who are in the afterlife? Put between them and you, when not the veil of your forgetfulness, that of your ignorance which is like dense darkness.

32. When I look at the inhabitants of this world, I see that all peoples know my name, that millions of men pronounce my words and yet of this, truly I tell you, I do not see love from one to another.

33. Everything that I teach you at this time, and everything that happens in the world, is the explanation and fulfillment of the revelation that through my apostle John, I made to humanity, when dwelling my disciple on the Island of Patmos I took him in spirit to the heights, to the divine plane, to the unfathomable, to show him by means of symbols the beginning and the end, the Alpha and the Omega and he saw the events that were, those that were and those that would be.

34. He understood nothing for the moment, but my voice said to him, "Whatever you see and hear, write it down," and he wrote. John had disciples who were looking for him in his retirement crossing the sea in boats. Those men eagerly asked the one who was a disciple of Jesus, how the Teacher had been, what his word and his miracles were like, and John, imitating his Lord in love and wisdom, marveled at them with his word. But when old age came, and that body was already burdened by time, he still had the strength to bear witness to his Master and to say to his disciples, "Love one another." Those who were looking for him, seeing that the day of John's departure was approaching, and wanting to possess all the wisdom that that apostle treasured, asked him to reveal to them how much he had learned from his Teacher, and for every answer they always heard that phrase: "Love one another".

35. Those who asked with such eagerness and interest felt disappointed and thought that old age had erased the words of Christ from their memory.

Love one another!

36. I tell you, not a single one of my words had been erased from John; but from all my lessons that which condenses the whole Law flowed out as a single essence: the love of one another.

37. How could the lesson of the Master whom he loved so much be erased from that beloved disciple?

38. Do you know, disciples of this time, that when the year 1950, the last of my communication, arrived, I would also say to you for every lesson: "Love one another"? Everything in your path speaks to you of these lessons: the tree, spreading its foliage to give you shade; the flower undoing after you inhale its perfume and turning its sacrifice into your delight.

39. That is the way, that is why I have told you to love God in everything created and all creation in God, because in everything I am present and in everything I speak to you.

40. I look at all men who are sick, whether in body or spirit. Men in whose interior only the constant call of conscience is heard, seek me as a source of health, because I possess the balm that heals all ills. But in order that I may manifest my power among you, it is necessary that you present to me your heart clean of blemishes.

41. You desire that I pour out my power and my wonders on your path, and I am ready to grant it to you. The arcanum of your Father only awaits your preparation to overflow in health, strength and light.

42. Today my word cultivates you, she is seed and she is irrigation at the same time, and tomorrow, when the time is right, I will come to gather the harvest of love, the golden wheat of my fields.

43. Do you wonder why I am always correcting your faults and imperfections? It is that I come to cut the weeds and the nettles that have grown in your heart and have drowned your good feelings.

44. This time is of purification, not only human beings must wash their stains in the crystalline waters of my justice, also the spirits are subject to this purification.

45. When men are cleansed of all blemish, they will feel that the Earth is approaching Heaven. This approach will be spiritual and will fill you with peace, trust and recognition.

46. Disciples: If in your rest you take care to analyze my word, you will come to find in its essence a complete reason and an infinite justice. My word awakens men to a high life, to a happy existence; but if it was necessary for you that I speak to you in this way in order to awaken you, there have been some worlds for whom the materialization of the spiritual ones has not been necessary, in order to awaken them to the fulfillment of my Law.

Love one another!

47. The intuitive spiritualists, the inspired ones, the dreamers, those carry me in their hearts without having heard the word that you have been receiving, while they communicate spiritually with their Master.

48. You will meet them on your way and you will be surprised at their knowledge in my Work; they too, when they meet you, will rejoice to confirm their ideas and their works, to listen to your testimony and your explanations; but let them not come to find in your concepts, practices and worship, or in your life, something that denies the spirituality of my Doctrine, because then they will move away from your path, with disappointment in their heart. Watch and pray, disciples, that you may understand my lesson and apply it in your life with the same purity with which you have received it. Then the joy in your heart will be great, when you meet those whom I have called intuitive spiritualists, one and the other you will come to form a strong people in the world, that with their living and their love of neighbor, you will come to teach humanity the true worship of God, and you will also point out to them the path of goodwill to live in peace on Earth.

49. In the humility of your prayer you say to me: "Lord, if you are the Supreme Doer, and also our Father, do with us what you please. If it is in your will that pain be the one that polishes our heart, let what your will has arranged be done to us. If you want us to purify ourselves before you entrust us with a mission, let it be as you have ordered."

50. There are few who speak to me like this, but I use them to give you the example of what your meekness and submission to the commands of the Father should be. But I am giving you all my teaching so that you may become equally humble and obedient.

51. Sometimes my word will seem to you full of justice and will touch the sensibilities of those who listen to it, but you will always find it impregnated with a divine essence, of a great tenderness and infinite charity, which will make it always be listened to with delight and with interest.

52. If my word were to overwhelm you, you would not be able to analyze it and I want you to meditate on the divine lessons that I teach you, because the one who analyzes, is inspired, and the one who is inspired by divine love, that is already my disciple.

53. O spiritualist disciples, do not be afraid of the fulfillment of your mission because it is not difficult to fulfill. With wisdom I guide you along the way so that you will not stumble, so that no one will get lost; but not because I prepare the way for you, do you think that it is strewn with roses, no, in it you will find thorns and trials.

Love one another!

54. I tell you, whoever wants to follow me or whoever wants to meet me, must prefer the path of sacrifice and renunciations to that of insane pleasures and low passions, because on that path you will be able to find the joys that provide my strength and my encouragement, and on the second, stumble very painfully. My divine footprint, my footprint of love, you will always find it on the path of struggle, sacrifice, charity and humility.

55. Men are like children who do not meditate on the consequences of their actions and that is why they do not come to understand that a stumbling block that they encounter on their way, is only an obstacle that the Master put to stop their senseless career or to prevent them from making a bad determination.

56. I want you to behave like adults already, to meditate on your deeds, your actions, to think about your words. This is the way to apply prudence and justice to your life. In addition, you must reflect that life is an immense and constant test for the spirit.

57. On my way no one succumbs and although there are times when a man falls bent by the weight of the cross, a superior force lifts him up and gives encouragement, that strength comes from faith.

58. Blessed disciples: Truly I tell you, if the people would practice my teaching, the good news of my word would have already reached many hearts. By the example of the works of your life you would be giving the greatest of testimonies about the truth of my Doctrine.

59. Let no one believe that those present are destined to do everything; no, people, each generation is entrusted with the performance of a part of my Work.

60. Make your heart a vessel and let it overflow in the hearts of your brothers when the time comes; but do not form obstacles that slow down or impede the advancement of my Doctrine, because with great pain of matter or spirit, you would have to destroy them.

61. Make your brothers feel everything that is healthy and good in my Work; I tell you that whoever you make feel the divine effluvium that emanates from it, he will bless my word.

62. What I have done with you, I will grant you to do with your brothers, because if it was my word that worked the miracle, you carry that word in your heart and it is the same one that you must transmit to your brothers.

63. If I healed you of spirit and body, if I restored peace to you or caused faith to be born in your heart and brought you out of the abyss, you must do the same with all those in need; but I must warn you that for my word to work these miracles, it is essential that you first feel it in your heart, as your Father feels it when he gives it to you.

Love one another!

64. If you want to know the virtue and the power of my word, put it into practice and you will often marvel, but if you keep it in your heart only for your own pleasure, you will be like the rich miser, who does not know what he has, nor the value of what he possesses, because his treasure is a dead flow.

65. Learn to fish hearts in the storms of this life, to heal the sick and to lead spirits. Prepare yourselves spiritually and in this you will come to find a strength that will allow you to go through the trials with serenity and confidence. That spirituality will be reflected in your material life and will be sustenance, balm and torch that illuminates your path.

66. The bread on the table of your home will become scarce, without your body experiencing hunger, or even weakening in its energies. Days of pain and desolation will come, when epidemics will ravage the cities and there, where there was no doctor, nor were there medicines, my invisible balm will manifest itself, which will descend at the instant of the prayer of my children; but you must do merits before the days of desolation approach, so that then, instead of you dealing with your own pain, you will calm that of your brothers.

67. Light lamps of faith in the hearts of your brothers, teach them to pronounce my name with all respect, to venerate my Doctrine and to pray with the spirit. Remember that man does not live by bread alone, but also by every word that comes from the Lord.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 168

1. Watch and quench your thirst in my love, leave your tiredness, walkers. I bring you a present in my word, which is a teaching for you. If you come before Me naked of merits, I am pleased to entrust you with positions within my Work, so that you may feel yourselves children of the Lord and brothers of all men.
2. Your gifts, being innate attributes to the spirit, will manifest themselves in a way unknown to this humanity and no one will be able to tell you that you have stolen or usurped. Later, this people will be considered as the forerunner of the time of spirituality.
3. A legion of spiritual beings has been sent to your aid, so that one and the other can join you in this mission. These beings will give you courage, they will inspire you and they will lift you up when you stumble, and when your path is invaded by beings in darkness, they will indicate to you the way to make light, that it illuminates them and frees them from their confusion. The light of your guardians will illuminate you so that you can contemplate the path and discover the lurks.
4. Study and understand so that you can practice my teaching with purity and no one will confuse you with false lessons, which have been taken from the spiritual to create sciences, doctrines and philosophies. You will find yourselves among prepared men, you will be questioned and put to the test, and your spirits will not fail, because in your struggle you will feel accompanied by my charity; understand that you have to be jealous of this jewel that I have deposited in your spirit, which you will not mix with superfluous knowledge, nor will you exchange it for material rewards.
5. The time is approaching when every eye must be prepared to contemplate my presence, then you will rise up as my emissaries testifying to the way in which I come to communicate with you, to awaken every spirit from its lethargy. You will be the prophets who announce to the world the trials that are to come and the era that will precede those events.
6. Do you see this humanity selfishly occupied in the satisfactions that human life provides them without worrying about the future of their spirit? Truly I tell you that deep down they need love, and that the delicacy that has waited for them for so long on my table, will be the food of those who before saw it with indifference.
7. Persevere to the end, disciples, do not be sad if you come to Me despised by your brothers. I will compensate your faith and I will do you justice so that in the end, your face will light up with the smile of triumph. The light will be made, the darkness will dissipate and the restoration will begin, so that on foundations of peace and justice the temple will be erected in which humanity honors its Creator, with a life that is a cult of love, spirituality and respect for the laws that the Father dictated for his children.

Love one another!

8. The light of my Spirit is with you, you do not look at it with the eyes of matter, but you feel it shine in your understanding.

9. The Spirit of the Father is invisible, but He manifests himself in an infinity of ways. The whole Universe is just a material manifestation of Divinity. Everything created is a reflection of the truth.

10. I have surrounded the existence of the spirits, who are children of my Divinity, according to the abode in which they inhabit, in a series of ways in which I have put wisdom, beauty, essence and good sense, to give each of those abodes the most palpable proof of my existence and an idea of my power. I would like to point out to you that the essence of life consists in loving, in knowing, in possessing the truth.

11. I tell you that whoever does not love, does not manifest his love in the highest form and with absolute purity; he will lack true knowledge and very little will be what he possesses. On the other hand, the one who loves with all his spirit and with all the powers with which he has been endowed, will carry the light of wisdom in himself and will feel that he is really the owner of everything that surrounds him, because what the Father possesses is also the property of his children.

12. I am clarifying what I told you in the Second Time and that you did not understand, I am revealing to you in the clearest way, according to the current elevation of your spirit, what I did not tell you then.

13. On a certain occasion I spoke to the crowds who were listening to me: "I still have many things to tell you, but for now I will not tell them to you, because you would not understand them." Now that my voice is heard again in the world, I tell you: "This is the time when you will be able to understand what I said then." Listen and analyze.

14. The Father is the Creator, he is the source of all truth and all life; but in order to be recreated in his Work, he needed the existence of beings who had a spirit, who enjoyed with Him everything that sprang from his divine charity. That they also had full knowledge of his existence, that they knew how to receive the love of their Father and that they knew how to love him.

15. I have already explained to you what has been the cause that has separated humanity from the fulfillment of the Law of love to which I subjected it, despite the fact that man is illuminated by the light of his conscience. I have also told you that this deviation, which has caused so many human errors and sins, caused the Father to send his Word into the world, in order to give you the greatest proof of his infinite love by becoming man and to teach you the way that can lead you to deserve your salvation.

16. Now, many centuries away from those events, I tell you that, despite having shed my blood for all of humanity, only those who have taken the path that Jesus came to teach you have managed to achieve their salvation, while all those who have persisted in ignorance, in their fanaticism, in their mistakes or in sin, are still not safe.

17. I told you that if I became a man a thousand times and died on the cross a thousand times, as long as humanity does not rise up to follow me, it will not have achieved its salvation. It is not my cross that must save you, but yours; I carried mine on my back and on it I will atone as a man, and from that moment I was in the bosom of the Father. You must imitate me in meekness and in love, carrying your cross with true humility until you reach the end of your mission to also become with your Father.

18. The ideal of many is to come to know God, but that ideal has not been realized, because they have not known how to seek me where I truly dwell, in the spirit. To recognize me, it is necessary that they know each other before.

19. Today I come to help all my children. I will help some with their cross so that they can soon climb the mountain on whose top their Father is waiting for them. To others, I will open their pupils and give them clarity and clairvoyance so that they can contemplate me, and to others I will teach them to penetrate inside so that in the most sublime of their being they will find an inheritance that they previously did not dream of possessing. Then many of the ideals will come to be realized and harmony will shine in all those who are of good will. The divine light will be fully realized in the spirits that do not present resistance to the knowledge of the truth.

20. Do not be surprised that I have told you that it is your cross that must save you, because by this I meant to tell you that I deposited with my divine examples a Redeemer in each of your hearts, so that he might guide your steps and in the end redeem you.

21. Hear my voice in your consciousness and tell me if my word has not vibrated in it throughout your existence and if that irradiation does not make itself felt more in the moments when the test comes to you.

22. I would be lacking in justice and perfection if I brought you to my Kingdom stained, without your spirit arriving purified by your restitution. What merits would there be in you, if by my sacrifice alone you had obtained all the glory?

23. I tell you this, to make you meditate, to get out of your lethargy, to come to Me, who am constantly calling you.

Love one another!

24. Come, chosen people, and rest your weary temple, for now, as always, I offer you my love. Open your hearts and let Me heal the wound that has caused you to suffer for a long time, without your brothers having noticed it. Why are you afraid of the future, if you know that I am near you? I look inside you and I know that you are still weak in trials and you call Elijah and Me, the Master, with anguish, because you feel that you are perishing, and I tell you that I will not let you fall, that Elijah is a strong staff that sustains you, that I have indicated a just destiny to each of my children, and that trials will forge your spirit and bring it closer to Me.

25. I am beyond time and I give you this treasure so that you can take it for your spiritual elevation. I am your Teacher who teaches you at all times of your life. Man's destiny is not to suffer. I have not sent you to suffer, but to perfect you in order to come to Me. I have made my will known to you at all times, in the Third I am teaching you as I promised you.

26. You have come from different parts of the earth to hear my word, overcoming the obstacles that stood in your way; your love has been greater than the barriers that you have encountered in your path and you have come forward in your struggle. Today you thank me for what I have granted you and in my love you feel safe.

27. I have encouraged you because you have believed and persevered in my teaching. You have recognized that the world will not be able to give you peace and you turn away from it, to devote this time to the study of my word.

28. Feel my peace and the freshness of the tree. It is not this tree house that I am talking about, but my Spirit full of mercy and love for all my children. And how many times do you, thinking that there are many hungry and naked for this grace, weep and the pain overwhelms your heart. But I tell you, If you want my word to reach all your brothers, prepare yourselves and be messengers of good will. I tell you that all will be saved, that not a single spirit will be lost and that some in this world and others in different valleys will love me and recognize me.

29. The world by its disobedience, makes my Spirit sad. Even the people who have heard me will falter, and I do not want this time of complacency to be followed by another of pain.

30. If, after I have spoken to you, you seek for your leisure teachings in flowery language and despise my word because it is simple, it will be because you have not analyzed it, because you have not understood the lesson that teaches you everything you need to live within my laws and reveals to you the mysteries, in which man has not been able to penetrate.

Love one another!

31. You have felt the duty to pray and help not only your material brothers, but also those who already inhabit other regions and your love has reached them. You do not know how much consolation those forgotten beings have received, they have recognized in your love and intercession my laborers of this time.

32. I have not come to surprise the world with new teachings, everything that I teach you today, I had announced to you from the beginning of time. I have prepared you to receive my word, which I deliver to you through the spokespersons, and later from Spirit to spirit. Then you will know Me in truth, when communicated with Me you receive the essence of this fruit of life. And those who have judged this manifestation imperfect, will know that it has been the first step for the Father's communication with his children and will look at it just and perfect.

33. You thank Me and your Mother for the benefits she has lavished on you. She is your guide, the support of maidens, the cultivator of children's hearts and strength for men in their struggle.

34. Open your heart and let Me be in it. Come after my deeply marked footprint, so that you will never get lost from it. I want you too to leave a deep mark of your step. From any point where you are, you can see the top of the mountain, as the goal of your destination. Lift up your gaze so that you may behold it and not stray from the path.

35. I am giving you to eat in the desert, a bread that I promised you in times past. You have finally reached the tree you were looking for. I am the tree, who was waiting for you, to give you shade and to offer you my fruits. The eyes of your spirit have been opened, you are contemplating wonders and truths. Blessed are you who, when you eat this bread, think of those who have not yet tasted it. Pray for them, but do not grieve, for Elijah's hand will also take them, to carry them on his shoulders as if they were sheep. Behold my arms as a cradle, where your spirit will grow under my advice and also under the care of Mary, your heavenly Mother.

36. It is necessary that your heart be sensitive and that tenderness be nested in your spirit, so that you can fulfill the mission that I have assigned to you. See that this mission is not limited to bringing comfort to those who suffer on Earth, but that you will also have to penetrate through prayer into the invisible region, into the beyond, where there is also pain, misery and confusion, so that you may give to those who form crowds of needy and who expect so much from you, a little charity and love in their atonement. Feel them close when you pray for them, make their pain your own, love them without misgivings, without repugnance, who have not ceased to be my children because they are stained, nor have they ceased to be your brothers.

Love one another!

37. In this time you will see your gifts and faculties develop. The light of the Sixth Seal illuminates you, and the light of the seven, will illuminate the entire Earth at the end of your evolution.

38. From one revelation to another, I have always let some time pass. You cannot say that my revelation in this age came to surprise you, or that you are not qualified to understand it. See that now I am preparing and speaking to you through the human understanding, then you will have to seek your communication with my Spirit through yours; then it will be the time of my new and great wonders. Why am I talking to you like that? Because I want you to get used to the idea that this word will stop being heard and you will have to spiritualize yourself to be strong. These demonstrations through the spokespersons will cease and then there will be sadness in my people and those who doubted the spokesperson the most and hurt him the most will be the ones who cry the most.

39. You'll get to know me better later. Then you will understand that I came to put you at the beginning of a path, using a human medium to express my will to you, as one more step on the ladder of your spiritual perfection. I wanted Mary's voice to be heard also in this way, so that hearing her sweet word, she might continue to be the Marian people, the one who, without offering her the flowers of the orchards that you cultivate on Earth, knew how to gather in the valleys and in the gardens of the heart and of the spirit, the fragrant flowers that virtue cultivates, to dedicate them to her. There is no aroma better than the one that rises from the heart, because it will reach the heart of your Mother. Mary is a beacon of material light. Blessed is the one who never loses hope of anchoring, illuminated by that beacon of salvation.

40. Come, beloved disciples, to receive spiritual baptism. You felt dead in the spirit, but you have been resurrected.

41. I have told you a lot about the gifts of the spirit, because this is the time in which you have come and what future awaits you.

42. This knowledge has been illuminating your understanding, because even if your memory will not be able to retain all my words, your spirit does keep the essence of them, and when the time comes, they are recalled to the mind with the clarity with which they were heard. That is why you are responsible for everything I am giving you.

43. Sometimes you think you do not possess or remember anything of my teachings, making your heart feel weak to fight. But the Master asks you: What is the fruit of the seed that I have placed in you? All the works you do inspired by my teaching, the joy you feel for knowing that you are touched by my grace and the perseverance in the struggle of those who go down the roads shedding the light of truth.

Love one another!

44. I want you to rise up in this way, that my word may flourish and bear fruit in everyone.

45. I'm not the only one who expects this from you. On Earth there are those who await the resurgence of my emissaries and apostles, and also in the spiritual valley there are beings who anxiously await your fulfillment in my Law; because the spiritual world seeks affinity and harmony with the material world: Affection brings some closer, pain others, the light of conscience to many.

46. They are close and your faith will contribute to there being more light in those who need it and more joy in those who love you.

47. The true spiritualist will know how to elevate himself every day for the benefit of the Spiritual World.

48. My teaching is coming to make light in the understandings, but do not be amazed at the way in which I have come to you at this time; do not be confused or become familiar. When my divine light reaches the understanding of the man who serves as my spokesman, it is limited in vibrations that are translated into words of wisdom and love. How many steps of the ladder does my Spirit have to descend to reach you in this way! and I have yet to send you to my Spiritual World to give you an extensive explanation of my teachings.

49. Do not judge the speaker too severely, because every human is fallible and is far from perfection, but if you want to judge the meaning or essence of the word that his lips pour out, do it because there you will find my presence, my perfection.

50. The essence, flavor or substance of this word are the same as the word that Jesus gave you in the Second Time. The form may vary, depending on the preparation and inspiration of the speaker, but not the essence.

51. The mind of man is limited and can only rise to a certain degree, so far my Divinity has to descend for love of you to establish this communication between man and God.

52. This time had to come, because spiritual evolution does not stop, least of all the Teacher in his lessons; that is why I ask my servants for regeneration and limpidity, because if the brain of those for whom I speak to you were not clean, communication would be imperfect.

53. Reject every imperfection, so that you will not have doubts or confusion, because my disciples must see clearly what others see in the darkness.

54. My loving word is the key with which your heart is opened. I have sent your spirit to the earth, not to endure a punishment but to fulfill an atonement. But this atonement will not be painful if you take up the cross of love for your fellow men and with it climb the summit, where the love of your Father awaits you. If you were afraid of exile, or the punishment of eternal fire for your faults, you were in error; when you expected only to hasten the bitterness of restitution, I sent you into the world to grant that you would listen to my word and thus become fishermen of spirits. How different your spirits will return to the afterlife from how they came last time! They came contrite, fearful, empty of merit. Now you will be able to return smiling and your elevation will be able to take you to the light of my Kingdom. Who would dare to exchange this cross of love for the heavy burden of pain wrought by disobedience? To how many I have entrusted the office of guide to lift up the fruits that they did not reap in other lives! Could any of them say that this place conquered him with its merits? That mission is so delicate and high, that only my love could deliver it.

Love one another!

55. Take this time as if it were the last opportunity to reach Me, so that you may strive in the fulfillment of your mission. Work with selflessness, without expecting retribution in this world for your services to humanity, because it would be painful for your spirit after his journey to arrive in the presence of his Father and see that his work was sterile.

56. Make your works worthy of imitation; then you can justly be compared to a clean mirror, in which your brothers can contemplate themselves and correct their defects. Already in other lives your spirit consecrated his existence to the enjoyment of earthly pleasures. Now, devote part of your time to the fulfillment of your spiritual duties; this will raise your spirit without you having to abandon your human duties.

57. Who were you before this life, who are you in the present and who will you be in the future? These are the mysteries that only the Divine Judge should know. For now it should be enough for you to understand the true meaning of the law of reincarnation that I have revealed to you as a supreme truth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 169

1. My gaze penetrates into your heart. Let her be in you as wheat in a fertile land. If I were to judge you at this moment, I would tell you that your tools for cultivating the countryside are moldy from leisure; that the weapons are abandoned, that you have hidden the seed and the sources of life-giving water you have left them to dry.
2. But today I have only come to receive your cares. You cry and you suffer and you attribute all your pain to my justice, and you do not realize that you are responsible for your stumbles because instead of getting up with determination to the fight, you have laid down to sleep under the shade of the corpulent tree.
3. You are sorry that the Father speaks to you like this, but why are you ashamed? Have you lacked teaching? Have you not had the Master among you? It is only when you listen to my claims that you let your conscience tell you about the faults committed and it is when you remember that you have not achieved unification among yourselves as the Father has commanded you. Think that the great wars are yet to be unleashed and that if you do not sow my seed of love and charity, in order to achieve peace among your brothers, you would have an open door through which war, epidemics, hunger and death would penetrate.
4. I have told you that being able to judge you, I have not come as a judge among you. Why then do you take my place as Judge to judge the acts of your fellow men? Do you think you are perfect and infallible?
5. Do not err my Law, do not misinterpret my teachings, do not do your will.
6. If I treat you, humans, with such love and charity, truly I tell you: With that same caress I seek those who in the spiritual valley atone for their past faults. To these beings I send my light to free them from the confusion that is like darkness and from the remorse that is fire, and then to send them among men so that those who yesterday sowed pain in the hearts, now clothed in light, become benefactors and guardians of their own brothers.
7. The Law that guided you in the First Time and the blood that in the Second taught you the way of restitution, is the light that raises you all in this Third Time, in which my voice, through your conscience, turns men away from the path of confusion. I must tell you that I see all of humanity walking the path of confusion.
8. The wise, knowing these words, will be offended, and those who pretend to be clean in spirit will also protest. But I will prove to some, to others and to all, that today humanity is walking lost on a path where only uncertainty and anguish reign, which are the seed of confusion.

Love one another!

9. Is there serenity and peace in any people on earth or in any man? By chance have humans placed their trust in the triumph of good and justice over evil? Do the peoples of the Earth have a sure way to save themselves morally, spiritually and physically from the destruction that threatens humanity? No, people, men don't know where they're going, or what they want. Hatred, which comes from lack of spirituality and ignorance of the Law; the fear of one another, ambition, the desire to be superior to others, the freedom that has been given to low passions and the lack of truth in compliance with divine laws, have led humanity to a path of darkness where everything is a harbinger of evil and where there is no hope or faith, much less charity.

10. Many people are so familiar with the world of sins and sorrows in which you live that they think that this life is the most natural, that the Earth is destined to be a valley of tears and that it will never be able to shelter peace, harmony and spiritual progress.

11. Those men who think that way, are lethargic in the sleep of ignorance. It is wrong who believes that this world was destined by Me for the valley of tears and atonement. The Eden that I offered to men, can and must return, because everything that I have created is life and love. Therefore, it is wrong who says that the world was destined by God for the pain of men, when they should say that they were the ones who condemned it to a mission of justice, when it had been formed for the delight and recreation of the spirit made man.

12. None was destined for sin, although everything was planned to save man from his falls.

13. Man did not want to rise up by love, nor to become wise fulfillment of my Law and forgot that my justice, from which he has always tried to flee, is the one that protects him, because my justice comes from perfect love.

14. This land desecrated with sin, stained with crimes and tainted by greed and hatred, will have to regain its purity. Human life, which has been an incessant struggle between good and evil, will be the home of the children of God, a home of peace, fraternity, understanding and noble desires; but to achieve this ideal, it is necessary that men go through the trials that awaken them from their spiritual lethargy.

15. This time is conducive to meditation, even if you think otherwise, as you feel imprisoned in a humanity without charity, without love, without peace. And as you get closer to the culmination of the battle, your awakening will become greater, because the intuition of the spirit will tell you that after the trial peace will come and with it restoration.

Love one another!

16. How far from reality millions of beings are at this moment, who only live for their material present! How will they be able to open their eyes to reality? Just listening to the voice of conscience. That voice that to be heard requires concentration, meditation and prayer.

17. Do not be impatient, beloved people; do not want my words to be fulfilled within a few hours. Some of them will be realized soon and others over time.

18. For human beings, especially when they live painful hours, there are moments that seem like centuries, because they do not know how to put on hope, faith, patience and gentleness, but when they rise to Me to receive light, those virtues will give them strength to wait and to fight and will also sweeten the difficult hours.

19. You are living in difficult times, in which the advancement that you have achieved in the spirit is being tested. In the spirit, I have told you, because he is the only one who can sustain you in the fatiguing journey.

20. Do not rely only on your human strength, because matter is fragile; but if you must do it with the strength of the spirit, which is the one who prays before Me and is saturated with faith, then you can trust that you will come out ahead in the contest.

21. My love, like a mantle of protection, covers you in the hours of pain and justice that you live, and my charity makes you understand that the chalice that you drink is necessary.

22. I will take away that cup and change it for you into the wine of eternal life, as soon as you show me your merits.

23. You will have reached the preparation to make my teaching known as teachers, when you have been able to find yourselves. You will hear the voice of conscience and the mask that covers all evil will fall before you.

24. Seek the salvation of the spirit even at the cost of matter, for the more you lose for that cause, the more you will have later. The more you give, the more the gifts in your spirit will increase. Truly I tell you that when selfishness finds no place in your heart, you will have become teachers, and my love will receive you by saying to you: You are well received by your Father who comes to offer you the spiritual bread. Truly I tell you, I have called you everywhere, that the voice of the divine bell has been heard throughout the world; but there have been few who have come to the call.

25. Have you understood, people, that I have called you to give you to eat the bread of eternal life?

Love one another!

26. You will all have indicated your place in the spiritual banquet and the Master contemplates that there are empty places; they are those of those who have not accepted my invitation, they have left the delicacies that I had prepared for them; with pain I tell you that he who despises what Heaven offers him, later he will have to cry. These words have been heard by one of my servants, who is ordered to go along the roads, so that whoever he finds hungry he may bring him to Me, and I will seat him at my table, and those who did not even sense or expect such grace, will be the ones who occupy the empty places and enjoy more than those who are named my chosen ones.

27. I will continue to call men and also the beings who belong to the afterlife, so that the disembodied ones reunited with the incarnated ones, sit at my table, because they are all my children.

28. Disciples: When my word comes to you and you do not understand it, you put it in doubt and I say to you: when uncertainty torments you, retire to the solitude of the fields and there, in the middle of Nature, where you have only the countryside, the mountains and the firmament as witnesses, ask your Master again, deepen yourselves in his word and his sweet answer will come to you soon, then you will feel transported, inspired, full of an unknown spiritual joy. In this way you will cease to be men of little faith, knowing that every word of God contains truth, but that in order to discover it it is necessary to be able to penetrate it with recollection and purity, because it is a sanctuary.

29. Whenever you are ready and want to know something, your thirst for light will attract the divine light. How many times have I said to you: go to the mountain and tell me there your worries, your pains and needs!

30. Jesus, by his example, taught you these lessons in the Second Time; remember my example when I retired to the desert to pray before beginning my preaching; remember that in the last days of my stay among men, before entering the synagogue to pray, I sought the solitude of the Garden of Olives to converse with the Father. Nature is a temple of the Creator, where everything rises to Him to worship Him, there you will be able to receive directly and with all purity the irradiation of your Father.

31. There, far from selfishness and human materialism, you will feel wise inspirations coming to your heart that move you to practice the good on your path.

32. These manifestations that I am giving you through the human understanding will come to an end in the year 1950, that moment will inevitably come, but what does it matter that you do not listen to my word through the mouthpiece, if you have learned to rise to receive inspiration directly from the Master?

33. Arise, beloved children, and act in imitation of Jesus.

Love one another!

34. Just as you see that I am communicating through these understandings, so you will receive my inspiration; then you will speak in my name, of the teachings that I inspired you; so you will see that my teaching continues, that my revelation is eternally upon your spirit. Only the outer form in something will change.

35. When you are ready, you will walk along the paths clothed with humility, for truly I tell you, if there is a little vanity or pride in your heart, you will not do a good deed. Whoever wants to preach my doctrine will have to practice it with humility. I speak to you in this way so that you understand what you still have to do. You want to get up fully to deliver my teachings, but how can you teach, if in your actions and in your life, the Doctrine of Jesus is not manifested? Let the multitudes in your deeds see my Work; thus, the image of the Master will be reflected in the disciple.

36. I tell you that you will know how to feel when your spirit is already prepared to teach my Doctrine to your brothers, because it will be when you have found yourselves, then you will clearly hear the voice of conscience; until this is not in you, you will not be able to truly feel me.

37. There is no one who does not want to find happiness, and the more lasting it is, the better, because I come to teach you a path that leads to supreme and eternal happiness; however, I only show you the path and then I let you choose the one that pleases you the most.

38. I ask you: Why, if you long for happiness, don't you sow it and then reap it? How few there are who have felt impelled to give themselves to humanity!

39. I speak to you in a way that both your spirit and your soul understand me; but know that it is the spirit that I come to save even at the cost of his matter. Know that the more you give, the more you will have. When you reach that degree, you will be teachers, then your life will be an example, a mirror, where others will recognize their flaws and repair their mistakes.

40. To help you in your preparation, come and listen to my divine word.

41. Prepare your understanding and quiet your senses so that you can feel my voice in your heart.

42. My word is the path marked by my will from eternity, so that spirits do not wander wandering on Earth. Verily I tell you, it is necessary for man to know spirituality in order to achieve the evolution of his spirit.

43. This is the age of the light of the Holy Spirit, felt inwardly by the evolved spirits, by those who see beyond the forms.

Love one another!

44. Behold and appreciate the Universe in all its perfection and beauty; it was created so that the children of the Lord would be inspired by it and in it they would see an image of the Father. If you take Creation in this way, you will elevate your mind towards my Divinity.

45. May your mind never be inert, may it never stop, just as the evolution of the races through their generations does not stop, or human science that with the passage of time is always pointing a way forward.

46. Seek Me with the spirit, without stopping at routine traditions, or symbolic rites. Seek Me in your heart and in it you will find me, because the heart loves, suffers and feels.

47. If humanity, trying to surpass its knowledge in science, had not forgotten its heart, there would not be so much discord and so much egoism, and they would have already discovered the divine spark that you all carry for which you are all brothers in Me. Men would already be fulfilling Jesus' maxim of "loving one another", which would be enough for this world to have peace and light.

48. Now, the voice of conscience finds men deaf, who without stopping to hear it, rise up in murderous wars destroying nations, destroying elements of life and material forces, without contemplating that behind all this, they are sowing moral and spiritual destruction, which is even more serious.

49. I have to tell you about all this, men and women, so that in the work of moral and spiritual restoration, you fulfill your mission at this time. Do not just listen to my word, analyze it and put it into practice, because if you do not, it would be a vain seed.

50. Help the progress of your spirit and let it abandon its matter with all conformity and elevation, when the moment marked by my will arrives. Understand that no one will come to Me materialized, but in spirit. When that is the case, try to reach the high rungs of the ladder, where there is no longer pain or confusion.

51. You are imperfect in terms of your works not in terms of your origin or creation, but you will reach that perfection by your own merits.

52. You have indeed stood before the altar of wisdom, where your spirit has been overflowing with my grace.

53. Disciples: When you and I, no longer without spokespersons or mediators, communicate from Spirit to spirit and we find ourselves alone before the immensity, you will hear in the most intimate of your being, the divine voice that will arise from silence to speak with your spirit. Beyond that silence is the celestial concert, the notes of which you do not yet know how to hear, because your ear only knows how to perceive material sounds.

Love one another!

54. Listen with true unction to this message because the time will come when you will no longer listen to me in this way, but if you are prepared, later you will receive it in a more perfect way. This form of communication that you now enjoy, you may qualify it as external, but that other one that I promise you will be internal, and you will get to have it when you rise more. Then men will come closer to perfect communication, when already without mediators or witnesses they will rise to their Father and receive directly from Him what they request. Then the human spirit will begin to shine, which had never shone before, because being in communion with Me, I will reflect in him.

55. The communication of my light through human understanding has been to bring you the elementary lesson and lay the foundations for the great lesson that will come later. I have also come to make lighter for you the burden of the cross that each one of you carries in life, a cross that each one of you created for himself and in which he willingly crucified himself.

56. To many who have shown me their wounds and their cup of bitterness, I could say that no one has led them to Calvary, they themselves and of their own free will have been the ones who have sought it. I will also be able to tell them that if in the supreme hour of trial they know how to reach Me and know how to call Me, the nails, the thorns, the gall and the vinegar will disappear from them, so that a new and better life will arise.

57. Upon hearing this, some ask me: "Master, when speaking to you about this new life, do you mean that of the afterlife or the existence that we must lead on Earth?". To which I answer you, that if you rise to the light, to love, to truth and to goodness, you should not worry about the place you are going to occupy.

58. I said to you at that Second Time, "My Father's house has many dwellings." Do you know that every spirit is a dwelling of the Divinity? Wherever there is a conscience, the Lord will be there.

59. Today you will not be able to form an idea of what the world will be like when it fully practices my teaching, when humanity tears sin from its heart, I do know. I know that later times will come in which man and woman, from the child to the elderly, will be able to enjoy absolute peace and will experience the joy of living in full happiness here in this world, where so much has been wept and so much blood has been shed. Those men will not want to break harmony with their God for a single moment and will carry written in their spirit the essence of my Law, with its divine maxim of loving one another.

Love one another!

60. Therefore, you who are listening to me, understand how necessary it is that you prepare yourselves to bring the good news to your brothers, so that you will no longer delay the joy that their awakening will bring them. Think that many of those whom you awaken will do what you could not do, and in turn, those whom they awaken will do more than those who brought them the good news managed to do, and so on, until the time comes when the people will be great, numerous and on Earth the fulfillment of my word can be seen.

61. I have waited for you to reach spiritual maturity, to tell you: Take the seed and go sow.

62. In the Second Time I gave you an example of how you should wait for the right hour to fulfill the mission that brought you to Earth.

63. I waited for my body, that Jesus whom men contemplated, to reach its best age to fulfill through him the divine mission of teaching you love.

64. When that body, the heart and the mind had reached their full development, my Spirit spoke through his lips, my wisdom crossed his mind, my love settled in his heart and the harmony between that body and the divine light that illuminated it was so perfect that many times I said to the multitudes: "He who knows the son, knows the Father".

65. Christ took the truth from God to teach it to men, He did not come to take it from the world. Neither of the Greeks, Chaldeans, Essenes, or Phoenicians, from any came to take the light. They did not yet know the way to heaven and I came to teach what was not known on earth.

66. Jesus had devoted his childhood and youth to charity and prayer, while the time was coming to proclaim the Kingdom of Heaven, the Law of love and justice, the Doctrine of light and life.

67. Seek the essence of my word poured out at that time and tell me if it can come from some human doctrine or from some science known then.

68. I tell you that if I had truly taken wisdom from those men, I would have sought my disciples among them and not in the rude and ignorant men with whom I formed my apostolate.

69. You ask me what I can tell you about the doctrines and philosophies of those peoples and I tell you that they are inspirations of the spirit; but not the supreme truth that only I possess.

70. In this Third Time it has been my will to communicate through man, using his conscience and his understanding, but I have done it using the humble, the rude and simple seeking that his mind was virgin of sciences and theories. In order to teach you my lesson through these poor human lips and to surprise the multitudes formed by men of all conditions, do not believe that I first sent them to seek teachers from whom they would take the preparation and wisdom, on the contrary: I have removed them from all contamination and from all influence so that their understanding would be clear, clean and free to express before the people the divine inspiration. What could they have asked men about the deep and unknown message that my Spirit was going to reveal to humanity?

Love one another!

71. That is why I have been choosing rude and simple men to manifest my teaching through their understanding.

72. The doctrine that I poured into Jesus at that time was perfect in its substance and in its form; you will not be able to attribute any stain to it, because the one who inspired it and who transmitted it is perfect.

73. Now that I communicate through these creatures who live very far from perfection, you have to look more for the essence of the word than the outer form of it, since they are human creatures who cannot harmonize with the perfection of the one who is inspiring the Divine Message to them.

74. To all this I say to you that the people already doctinated, the people who have faith in my presence under this manifestation, have the duty to collaborate with their mental elevation, their prayer and their preparation with the spokesman who fulfills such a delicate spiritual mission.

75. Those who do not understand the responsibility of those who hold this office will not feel charity towards them; but those who are understanding will be like faithful Cyrenians, helping with their prayer to share the weight of the cross with their brothers.

76. When my communication has ceased and you understand all the love that I showed you by manifesting myself through these creatures, you will have to tell me: "Lord, if you descended to our misery, to our iniquity and littleness, what will we not have to do to reciprocate so much love?" And then you will begin to love and to consecrate your life to those who need love, light and charity.

77. Those who surrounded and followed me in the Second Time, those beloved disciples, gave their lives, overflowed their spirit and watered their blood, because they wanted to reciprocate with love to the one who had left his throne to come to live with them, and to give them the most precious treasure of the Spirit: The Truth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. When you think of the torments I suffered on the cross, you are horrified that human evil had reached those extremes of cruelty and I tell you, that pain and the chalice that I drank then, was not the greatest bitterness.
2. The greatest pain for Me was to see that, being among my children, they did not want to realize who I was, to be revealing the truth to them with words full of light, and to see that they rejected them and denied me, and to be pouring out my love in their hearts, while they mocked Me and blasphemies against me poured out from their lips.
3. The last sigh that I exhaled on the cross was the divine forgiveness that over so much misery and so much death, flowed from my heart, but my passion did not end when I exhaled that sigh; I had told you that I was life and my Spirit in eternity continued to receive the ingritudes of all men.
4. They argued about whether or not I was the promised Messiah; they analyzed my works to see if they were the confirmation of what the prophecies had announced and while some came to the conviction that I was the promised one, others, the materialists, those who only worshiped matter, those who had interpreted the prophecies according to their human ambitions and their conveniences, they continued to deny me.
5. How blind were those who, having heard my words of life and having seen my mighty works, could not come to understand that only God was capable of carrying them out.
6. Today you can say that the whole of humanity has recognized Christ as the Messiah that the Father had promised to humanity from the earliest times. However, men do not cease to deny me, to ignore me and to offer me in exchange for my love, the gall and vinegar of their ingratitude.
7. Today they no longer doubt Jesus, but many argue and still deny my Divinity. Some attribute great spiritual elevation to me; others affirm that I too am walking along the path of the evolution of the spirit, in order to reach the Father; but if that were the case, I would not have come to tell you: "I am the way, the truth and the life".
8. I know your thoughts, your philosophies. I know that for you, he only embodies a spirit who needs that test to achieve his elevation and perfection, and this prevents you from believing that the Divine Word became man. I know that you do not conceive that the Divine Being could come to feel pain and that is why humanity, seeing that Christ experienced it, denies that He could be the promised Divinity.

Love one another!

9. Ah my beloved children! if you could come to understand that the incarnation of the Word on Earth is the greatest expression of divine love; it was a longing for humility before you and a lesson in my desire to limit myself, to make me small, so that you would feel more yours and you closer to the Father.

10. But of that great sorrow how little do you know! You think only of the material, of the suffering flesh, of the anguish of the spirit; but you fail to understand that as long as there is no harmony between human creatures and their Heavenly Father, there will have to be pain among you, and what pain can you suffer that is not reflected in your Father?

11. Do not think that I am coming to defend myself from your judgments, or to ask you not to strip me of that divine essence that you are denying me. I have come in this age to tell man that it is his spirit who judges me.

12. It is enough that it is your little human reason that wants to read and penetrate the great Book of Life, which was written by the Divine Spirit for your spirit, because this will be the one that reaches immortality and not matter.

13. Behold, I come to give these lessons through clumsy and simple creatures in order that you may give them credit; for if I had delivered you through men of understanding and preparation, you would take these revelations as one more theory of the many that have appeared on Earth in these times.

14. Those who have been moved by my word at this time, are those who have risen up as busy laborers, fighting tirelessly inspired by my teachings. They do not open their lips to tell me: "Master, we are here with You", because they know that complying with my Law, wherever they are with Me and tomorrow they will be the spiritual guides and messengers before humanity.

15. In the world, people are already waiting for the arrival of the apostles of peace and light, of you who have been with the Divine Master, who are the ones who will bring the good news to hearts.

16. You are still being tested and in preparation by putting my lessons into practice, saturating yourselves with my love and imbuing yourselves with my Work.

17. These are the last years of my communication. After 1950, when I have lifted up my word, you will remember it and your heart will be filled with sadness, if you did not know how to take advantage of it, but in truth I tell you that I will not depart from you, only the way of communicating will change, and I can even tell you that I will be closer to you, because the time of true spirituality will come.

Love one another!

18. You will continue in spiritual communication with Me. Recognize how simple my Doctrine is, how understandable my Law is; the same one that Jesus, the Galilean, came to teach you.

19. I have not come to judge you yet, but to show you once again the way that leads to Me.

20. Now you are disciples, tomorrow you will be teachers and you will teach with words and deeds what I have revealed to you. Men and women will be teachers of high morals. Think that you will have to face the religions among which you will do great spiritual work, because faith has died out in many, because hope has disappeared and that is that men do not know each other, nor do they have charity of themselves. But in order for you to preach my truth and speak of love, you will have to purify yourselves.

21. In the Second Time I said to my disciples, If any of the members of your body is the cause of your sin, cut him off; that is, even at the cost of pain and sacrifice you must be cleansed. I say to you, cleanse your heart, do not let passions take root in it. Clean the glass inside and out.

22. Let your heart come to beat to the rhythm of my love and your brothers will have to recognize you by the whiteness of your spirit and the purity of your feelings. Put on calm, forgive and you will be forgiven. Live in peace with yourselves.

23. See how many of your brothers are waiting in the bosom of their idolatry for the coming of the Messiah. Look at how many, in their ignorance, believe that I will only come to unload my justice on the bad, save the good and destroy the world, without knowing that I am among men as a Father, as a Teacher, as a Brother or Friend, full of love and humility, extending my charity to save, bless and forgive everyone.

24. That is why you are developing your gifts under my teaching, to give proof of my new manifestation, either by taking away the pain of the one who suffers, already teaching the way of light to the lost or raising the dead to the voice of "Arise and walk".

25. You will destroy the concept of death and teach the way of true life.

26. When you speak of my Work, do it firmly; express at the moment of your inspiration what the heart feels. Get ready, because I want to speak through your lips to humanity. Live alert without moving away from my teaching, so that you will never be involved in the confusions of humanity.

27. The group that gathers to hear my word is still small, but I take it on behalf of all humanity and give it my teaching as I have been doing since through my daughter Damiana Oviedo I made my will known through her understanding. What I have given you in this way have been lessons of wisdom that you should keep like a precious jewel in your heart, because its essence is of love.

Love one another!

28. I bless you because you are tireless in receiving me. I want that as I have come to teach and guide you, you should guide and teach your brothers. I have given you the gift of healing pain with my balm, which is charity.

29. You are witnesses of the way in which I have come to communicate, tomorrow, when this word no longer sprouts from human lips and this grace has disappeared, you will remember with love this time and these manifestations. Then you will testify to what you heard and saw.

30. After 1950, people will ask you how the word of the Lord was manifested, and you will tell them that it was in a manifestation full of humility, with simple and understandable language for everyone.

31. You will be listened to with interest and the books that will remain from my lessons will be read with avidity.

32. Under different forms I have come to teach you throughout the ages, but it has always been the same Doctrine that I have taught you; it has first ignited faith, so that you may dignify yourselves before Me and finally so that you may achieve the reward of your merits in eternal life.

33. What will you be able to make present to me in your heart that I cannot contemplate?

34. I hear everything and I know everything. Watch and pray because the wolf lurks. Do not judge those who have fallen into temptation during the walk, but invite them again with love to resume the march to achieve advancement on the path of evolution.

35. In the Second Half, a woman whom temptation made to fall into sin, was judged in the middle of the street by the mobs. Jesus managed to pass by, those men accused the woman of adultery and tried to put her to death. Then, turning to the Teacher, they said to him to prove it: Sir, this woman has been caught in adultery and the law of Moses says that she must be stoned to death by the people. What do you say? To which Jesus, looking at them with pity, replied, "Whoever is clean from sin, let him throw the first stone."

36. The light of that word enlightened the spirits and feeling all imperfect and unworthy to judge a fellow, they retired ashamed leaving the square clean.

37. Then Jesus asked the woman, who was lying on the ground, "Woman, where are those who accuse you? They're gone. Get up, go away and don't sin again."

38. Verily I say unto you, it behoveth me alone to judge every cause.

Love one another!

39. I invite you to study my word, and if you want my peace, keep my precepts so that they may serve as a guide at all times.

40. People: make charity your flag; whoever wishes to work on my lands, let him adopt charity as the motto of his work and he will have a great mission to perform.

41. The lands where the pain has spread are very vast and there is very little seed of love and charity stored in the hearts of those who are going to get up to sow.

42. My Consoling Spirit is poured out among all those who are going to fulfill this great work of charity in the world; but that consolation has also been deposited among the spiritual world, in the beings who have been destined to pour out their light on all the paths of the Earth.

43. When I speak to you of my spiritual world, I am referring to those hosts of obedient beings as true servants, who only do what the will of their Lord commands them. These are the ones I have sent among you, to be the counselors, the guardians, the doctors and true brothers among all men. They do not come to cry because they carry peace in them; they do not come to ask questions, because the light of their evolution and their experience in the long days, has given them the right to be able to make light in the understanding of man. They are timely in their help, solicitous and humble, to any call or need.

44. I am the one who has commanded them to manifest themselves among you, so that they may give you their lesson, their testimony and their encouragement. They are walking ahead of you, so that you will find the path clean and lend you their help so that you will not faint.

45. Tomorrow, you too will be part of that army of light, which in the infinite world of spirits has been working only for the love of their brothers, knowing that with it they glorify and love their Father.

46. If you want to be like them, consecrate your existence to the good. Share your peace and your bread, receive the needy with love, go to visit the sick and the captive. Make light on the path of your brothers who are groping in search of the true path. Fill the infinite with noble thoughts, pray for the absent and prayer will bring you closer to them.

47. And when death stops the beating of your heart and the light in your pupils goes out, you will go to awaken to a wonderful world for its harmony, for its order and its justice. There you will begin to understand that God's charity is the one that can compensate you for all your works, trials and sufferings.

Love one another!

48. When a spirit arrives at that dwelling, he begins to feel invaded by an infinite peace, he instantly returns his memory to those who still live far from that beatitude, and in his eagerness, in his longing for those whom he loves, come to possess that divine gift, he joins the spiritual hosts who fight and work for salvation, for the well-being and peace of his brothers.

49. To prepare your heart and give strength to your spirit, my voice encourages you on this path of trials, which you have already proven that they give courage to your spirit. He who has strength will be able to impart it to whoever feels weak.

50. Soon you will contemplate the arrival of multitudes from other countries, who will come to this nation where the Master manifests himself.

51. The light of my wisdom will awaken men from their lethargy and you will see them evolve spiritually and mentally, that step will be beneficial for humanity.

52. The nations will fix their eyes on this part of the Earth and will come to know my Work and my word, which will have been imprinted, because by that time the brains of those of whom you have been spokesmen will have been closed for this communication.

53. The precincts that have gathered the great crowds will remain open after my departure, so that the disciples will continue to gather there to study my word; they will be the ones who, watching like guardians, await the arrival of the last ones that I announce today. If you are in your position, they will recognize the greatness of what I have revealed to you; if you are not faithful to this command, it will be misery and calamities that receive those who, in search of peace and light, try to approach you.

54. I also want to teach you to fulfill your duties to those who rule the world: If you want their decisions to be favorable and just for their peoples, you must help them with prayer.

55. If, instead of complying in this way, you abandon them and devote yourself only to criticizing their determinations, you will let their spirits decline in the struggle and they will be exposed to harmful influences.

56. Truly I tell you that from the earliest days of humanity, man had the intuition of carrying within himself a spiritual being, a being that, although it was invisible, manifested itself in the various works of his life.

57. Your Lord has revealed to you from time to time the existence of the spirit, its essence and its arcane, because even carrying it in you, the veil in which your materiality envelops you is so dense that you will not be able to contemplate what is more noble and pure in your being.

Love one another!

58. There are many truths that man has dared to deny, however, the belief in the existence of his spirit, has not been one of those that he has fought the most, because man has felt and has come to understand that to deny his spirit, would be as much as denying himself.

59. Human matter, when it has degenerated due to its passions, its vices and its materialism, has become a chain, a veil of darkness, a prison and an obstacle to the development of the spirit. Despite this, he has never lacked in his hours of trial, a flash of inner light that comes to his aid.

60. Verily I tell you that the highest and purest expression of the spirit is consciousness, that divine inner light that makes him be among all the creatures that surround him, the first, the highest, the greatest and the noblest.

61. "Master, you ask me in silence, why do we know so little about the spirit? Why do we know so little about ourselves?".

62. And the Master answers you: because you have devoted yourselves more to what the world offers you and have not consecrated yourselves to the study of the imperishable, which is your spirit. The same spirit, before the beauties, before the wonders and the delights that life provides him, renounces, even temporarily, the joys that his own development can provide him. However, I must tell you in truth, that is not why you are going to believe that matter is more powerful than spirit and that this is the cause that it has descended to materialize. No, the spirit is incomparably stronger and will never cease to be so, but if he has fallen, he has been voluntarily seduced by the attractions of a world that, even if fleetingly, offers him through the senses of the flesh a life fruitful in pleasures and temptations.

63. It is natural that his materiality prevents him from knowing himself and does not allow him to manifest his gifts through his human part. Because the material nature seems to be the most opposite to the spiritual nature; however, when the two come to harmonize in you, you will come to see that your material nature is like a limpid mirror that reflects in all its beauty the spiritual and even the divine.

64. Seek my presence in the works carried out by Me and at every step you will be able to find me; try to hear me, and you will hear me in the powerful voice that arises from everything created, because I find no difficulty in manifesting myself through the beings of Creation. The same thing I manifest in a star, in the fury of a storm, that in the sweet light of an aurora. I also make my voice heard in the melodious trill of a bird, which I express through the aroma of flowers. And every expression of mine, every phrase, every work speaks to all of you of love, of fulfillment to the laws of justice, of wisdom, of eternity in the spirit.

Love one another!

65. Why have you not managed to show yourself in all the spiritual fullness, in the great beauty of your spirit, having had power over the material? For having let yourselves be carried away by the passions of the world.

66. Therefore, do not run away from the study and practice of my Teaching, believing that by this means you will achieve greater spirituality; you must learn to deserve it with wisdom and you will have reached the principle of universal harmony in which you will know how to let your spirit manifest.

67. Interpret and comply with the Law and with this you will prepare yourself to come to dwell in the higher abodes of spirituality. As long as there are material worlds, it is necessary that the spiritual world continues to vibrate and shed its light on them.

68. Consider that if you have not been able to master a fragile envelope now, what mission can I entrust to your spirit when I am dwelling in a valley of greater spirituality?

69. Only I can give you these lessons, O humanity, what man could come to tell you what I have in store for you in my arcanum? Meditate and pray, O disciples, that my teaching may lead you to the reconciliation of the spirit with his spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 171

1. The fountain of grace comes to overflow over you, so that you may quench your thirst for peace and purify yourselves.
2. It is necessary that I come to teach you, because I still consider you weak. In this word is the strength that revives the spirit.
3. Do you not see how, when you listen to me, the sorrows are removed from your heart? It is that the voice of the Father soothes and comforts you.
4. You are children still on the long journey of the spirit, and that is why my charity sustains you and my counsels guide you. On the way there are thorns and on its sides there are precipices, but I teach you not to take false steps, not to let yourselves be overcome by temptation, because you are destined to teach your brothers by the example of your life; with this you will give the best testimony that you listened to the Master of teachers.
5. While I think of your spirit, I do not forget your body, a weak creature that needs charity, love and patience, so that it may find itself in harmony with the spirit and serve its God with an atom of perfection.
6. Do an examination of conscience at the end of each year, since as long as you live on Earth, you will also be under the laws of time. Turn your memory back to the past, go through everything, remember the day when for the first time you heard my word, that time when your spirit sensed that a new era was opening up before him and understood that the veil of many mysteries was being torn, to let him contemplate clearly the truth of this teaching. Because from that moment you understood the mistakes and mistakes that you had had in your life, awakening in you the immense desire to serve your Lord, loving and serving your brothers. You did not hesitate to swear that you would follow me from that moment, without thinking if there might come a moment of weakness or fainting that would make you falter.
7. And as you listened to me, my teaching was infiltrated into your being, and your conscience was the jealous judge that has curbed the instincts of matter.
8. Your conscience has never judged your evil deeds without first warning you, making you see what it is to comply with my laws and what it is to contravene them.
9. Thus, guided by conscience, I let you choose the path, and having decided to seek me and practice the good along this path, you have had a tireless and loving Teacher who corrects you with gentleness, who judges you with divine justice and who loves you as a most perfect Father.

Love one another!

10. Even so, you have not yet reached the degree of spirituality that you must have to spread my teaching.

11. When you make the sorrows, sorrows and also joys of your brothers your own, you will have taken a firm step on the way. As long as you judge those who are less guilty than you and consider yourselves superior to others, instead of being humble of heart, you will still be far from being my disciples. Did you not see me nailed to the cross, forgiving humanity? Why don't you imitate me? Because you always see with greater interest the satisfactions for the body, than those that concern the spirit.

12. I see that you do not yet fully understand my teaching, nor do you have a clear idea of the end that awaits you.

13. I don't want any of my children to get lost in the unfathomable abyss of darkness. I want you to continue climbing the rungs of the spiritual perfection ladder one by one.

14. Now, make an examination of your whole life and your actions in the light of your conscience, so that you will know if you have advanced or if you have remained stagnant. There are those who must put an end to their debauchery; I assure you that in the midst of the sacrifice that it means for the body to punish it in its passions, you will feel the desire to serve me and love your brothers. At that moment repentance will arise and crying will leave freshness and rest in the heart, and purity in the spirit.

15. I have not asked you and I will not ask you for an absolute consecration to my service, because the obligations you have contracted in the world also demand of you; but even within that fulfillment, I want you to manifest what you have learned from Me.

16. Watch over and pray for those who suffer from hunger, illness or misery, for I will watch over you. Analyze my word; analyzing it, you will be with Me in continuous communication.

17. Contemplate with the spirit the scale that rises before you to infinity, as a luminous path that invites your spirit to reach the bosom of the Father, a bosom of ineffable peace and joy.

18. I found you lost like shipwrecked people without a compass, like pilgrims lost in the desert; but I sent you my light that made you find a path full of hope, faith and consolation, that lifted up your spirit, flooding it with vigor and energies to continue in pursuit of the goal.

Love one another!

19. At the end of the Ladder, on the last rung, there is an abode to which you are all predestined, but which you must conquer with merit, with faith, with great love and charity, overcoming obstacles, dominating enemies, until finally reaching the New Promised Land, the Kingdom that is not of this world.

20. That ladder is a straight path, and there are no crossroads or labyrinths in it, with which I give you to understand that it is the fulfillment of my Law and in the analysis of my teachings, you will not find complications.

21. You are going to march firmly on that path, you are going to fight for your elevation. I will make you strong, if not with my power and my light, with what weapons will you fight and defend yourselves? With what will you overcome your temptations? If I did not cover you with my mantle of love, how could you get rid of your enemies? But truly I tell you, you will also have to earn my protection and the light of my sword with merit.

22. Your footprints will be imprinted on the spiritual path that opens up before you, but these footprints will speak of good deeds, of renunciations, of noble acts, of high love and of charity without limits.

23. Each one has his destiny mapped out with his spiritual mission and his human mission, both must harmonize and tend towards a single end and in truth I tell you that I will not only take into account your spiritual works, but also your material works, because in them I will find merits that help your spirit to reach Me.

24. You will not be alone in the walk; in front of you, some closer and others more distant, there are many beings who also advance step by step and who watch and pray for those who walk after them. His ideal is not to arrive alone, or to arrive first, but to prepare the path for his brothers so that one day, the joy of the first may be the joy of all.

25. How beautiful I contemplate that road! How my Spirit is recreated by watching the advancement of my children, their effort to rise and reach new degrees of perfection!

26. There are beings from all the worlds there, some in spirit and others incarnated, all carrying out various missions. In the infinity where you are building your abode, to delight tomorrow with the taste of honey that will give you the peace of the spirit.

27. Blessed is he who follows me in the way of truth.

28. Blessed is the one who loves and trusts me, the one who knows his mission and fulfills it.

29. When I tell you about the way, I do not point out any on earth, because it is not the world that you inhabit where my Kingdom is. It is the always ascending spiritual path. It is the evolution and progress that awaits your spirit. Therefore, wherever you are on Earth, you can be within the path of the spirit.

Love one another!

30. My children, if you have left the road, return to it; if you have stopped, go on.

31. The mission you are carrying, I have given it to you according to your ability and your strength, you just need to understand it and love it. Pray every day so that you may receive the light necessary for your work; then, remain prepared, attentive, so that you may hear the voices of those who call you, of those who ask you, and also so that you may be able to face the trials. Because every day of your existence is a page of the book that each of you is writing. Each day is marked with a test and each test has a meaning and a reason.

32. I want to make of you a healthy people of spirit and matter, because you are the chosen one, the witness of my manifestations in all times, and you have come at this stage to fulfill a delicate mission and to prepare the way of the new generations.

33. I have sown your path with proofs of love so that you will not doubt Me or yourselves. Those of you who have listened to me at this time, do not go to the grave taking away the secret of this communication that I have had with you, because your main mission is to speak on my behalf to humanity, to testify to my revelations.

34. Do not tell me that you lack preparation to do so, because I have spoken a lot to you and when you heard me, you purified yourselves. You can all take this message to the world. The men are waiting for him and are ready to receive him. Have you not realized the longing for spirituality and peace that humanity has? Are you not moved by their ignorance and their pain?

35. My Spirit pours out on all men, speaks to them through their conscience and says to them: Come to Me and rest. Take the faith that you need, no longer be blind on the way.

36. People: Do you know the work that I am developing in the world? "No, you tell me, we only see this humanity stirring, plunging into great abysses and enduring a great trial." Verily I say to you, I have allowed man to do justice to himself by his own hand and to acknowledge all his errors, so that he may return to Me purified. I have sent my light on every creature and have accompanied it in its days of tribulation.

37. My Spirit has been poured out on every spirit and my angels are scattered throughout the Universe, fulfilling my commands to order and return everything to its channel. And when everyone has fulfilled, ignorance will have disappeared, evil will not exist and only good will reign on Earth.

Love one another!

38. Ah, if you had understood me, if you knew my desire to perfect you, how much you would have already climbed and how close to Me you would be! If your will were mine, you would have already reached the top where I am waiting for you!

39. And what is my longing, people? Your unification and your peace.

40. Here you have me once again talking to you, touching your heart, waiting for your awakening.

41. Every good tree will be protected and its roots and branches will spread out to give shelter and sustenance to the walker. But the bad weed will be cut off by the roots and thrown into the unquenchable fire.

42. I speak to you in a figurative sense and in telling you about that tree, I am talking to you about the works of men.

43. To those whom I have entrusted, I say, Prepare your harvest. Fathers of families, teachers and rulers, lords and servants, great and small, I do not want you to present to me your uncultivated lands, even if it were a small seed, make it present to me clean and pure.

44. Come to Me, knock and it will be opened to you, but come joyful, satisfied with your work, so that you may feel great, like Me.

45. Truly I tell you, if there were a thousand understandings prepared, I would communicate by a thousand at the same time.

46. I am giving you my teaching, since for the first time I communicated through my daughter Damiana Oviedo, by whose understanding I made my will known to you. Since then, my wisdom flows through these spokespersons, wisdom that you should treasure in your heart like a precious jewel, because love exists in it.

47. I want you, just as I have taught and guided you, to teach your brothers.

48. You are the witnesses of all that I have said at this time, so that you may speak of these lessons to your brothers tomorrow, when my word is no longer with you. Then, remembering these manifestations, you will explain to those who ask you, how the Teacher communicated and how the spokesman worked. Because after the fiftieth, men will question you and be interested in your testimonies, they will look for the books where my word has been printed and there they will find my presence and my essence; and looking for imperfections they will not find them, because the imperfections of those for whom I communicated will not pass to those books.

Love one another!

49. These writings will kindle the light of true faith in hearts, they will show sinners the path of regeneration and they will make new disciples emerge, new soldiers, many of whom will demonstrate more faith and more love, than many of those who listened to me at this time.

50. Prepare yourselves, that your testimonies may be pure and true. I pour out my light on all men.

51. Blessed is the heart that is ready, for he will feel my presence.

52. Village. It is my will that in this Third Time every understanding, every heart and every spirit will attain this spiritual knowledge.

53. The book of wisdom is open, so that everyone may become my disciples.

54. Keep with great zeal the teaching that I am showing you.

55. You are my humble family to whom I have entrusted an inheritance, to whom I have come to reveal how much my will has been.

56. You do not know the heavenly abode and you continue to wander in the desert, but I have come to unite you in my love and do not forget that the love of your Father awaits you. I am preparing the way, so that you can get to rest from the hard day, but from now on I tell you that on that road there are more thorns than flowers; you who have known the ways of life and in them have acquired mettle and strength, you will no longer have to be surprised.

57. You are my disciples at this time, you are trying to understand my revelation and at the same time you are surprised at the advances of science. Rejoice that you have witnessed all these wonders, because not only have you known the fruits of human intelligence, but you have also achieved spiritual knowledge in a high degree of evolution.

58. How many men of science, thought to be wise, deny the spiritual life, while you understand what they have not known. It is up to you to make known at this time one more step towards the light.

59. I contemplate the desire of men who long to reach Me. I have told you: I have prepared the paths for everyone to experience the infinite joy of meeting me. Those of you who have taken a step towards regeneration, towards spirituality, feel your spirit overflowing with joy.

60. I want to get these crowds ready before my departure in 1950.

Love one another!

61. In the Second Time, I prepared twelve men and they spread my teaching throughout the world known at that time. Twelve men were enough to cement my Law of love, I told them that I would be among humanity again; behold, my word was fulfilled, when the Master came in spirit, followed by his spiritual hosts.

62. This is the time of the liberation of the spirit, the era of light and evolution. You will contemplate the seed that I have come to leave in the spirits, and that seed will be the testimony of my coming among men in this Third Time in which I have manifested myself since the year of 1866.

63. You who are listening to me are my disciples of this time, who came to Me without knowing which way you were on.

64. I want my new disciples to be the sowers of peace in this world.

65. You do not know how much your spirit reaches in its evolution, because of these moments that you steal from the world to dedicate them to Me. Verily, I reserve for you surprises for when you come to your Father.

66. The mission I have entrusted to you is delicate, but it is not a heavy cross of sacrifice. Nothing obliges you to comply with these teachings, since you are endowed with free will; but above that freedom that you have to think, to live and to act, there shines a light that is that of conscience, which advises you what you should do and teaches you to distinguish good from evil. That light is I, Who am inside and outside of you, who accompany you both in joy and in pain, both when you are on the right path and when you are running towards the abyss. Wherever I am because I am the divine heart that beats throughout the Universe.

67. I want no more restitution or pain for you, I want that, just as the stars beautify the firmament, the spirits of all my children come with their light, to illuminate my Kingdom and to fill the heart of your Father with joy.

68. Know how to prepare yourselves to receive the messenger of love who is Mary. The mother who comes down to comfort the heart of the son.

69. The most tender love of God for His creatures has no form, however, in the Second Time it took the form of a woman in Mary, the mother of Jesus.

70. Understand that Mary has always existed, since her essence, her love, her tenderness, have always been in the Divinity.

71. About Mary How many theories and confusions men have forged! About her motherhood, her conception and her purity How much they have blasphemed!

Love one another!

72. The day they truly understand that purity, they will say to themselves, "It would be better for us not to have been born." Tears of fire will burn their spirit, then Mary will wrap them in her grace, the divine Mother will protect them with her mantle and the Father will forgive them saying with infinite love: Watch and pray that I forgive you and in you I forgive and bless the world.

73. I do not come looking for the harvest in your hands, because I know that you present them to me empty. I have seen those who, instead of sowing faith in hearts, have torn from them the little they carried.

74. I have filled you with gifts, so that you can impart charity and it is not fair that before Me you should be needy imploring my help.

75. When your brothers have come to you to ask for help, have you listened to them and attended to them? Your conscience tells you that on many occasions you have remained deaf and indifferent, and that is not the Doctrine that I taught you in Jesus.

76. My gaze reads in your heart, my word judges you and you do not know how to tremble. While I judge you, I teach you, I love you and I forgive you. I forgive those who hear me and I forgive humanity.

77. Sometimes I contemplate you undecided, afraid to move forward, afraid of the stumbles of the road, afraid even of my light, because you think you are blinded by its reflection. So how do you want to be strong and reject the pain? Let the light of my Spirit fill your being and you will understand many revelations and your weakness will depart. Do not be confused if the same God judges you, loves you and also touches you; do not be surprised that the most severe judgment arises from the heart of the Father, at the same time as the sweetest intercession for his children; but do not defy the Father's justice by already carrying my light in your spirit, because when it makes itself felt inexorable in your life, it will come to seem to you that I have denied you my forgiveness, that I have stopped loving you, that I have crossed the limit of justice, to show myself cruel and unjust. In your obfuscation you could not understand that no one reaps a pain that he has not sown before.

78. If you understood my Doctrine, you would feel my love and then you would see my presence in your life, avoiding stumbles and falls, rising up with tenderness if your ingratitude or foolishness had made you fall; other times you would see me attenuating the overwhelming step of your faults in order to move your heart to deep reflections, because my love and my forgiveness are infinite.

79. So far, only the rude and simple-hearted men, those of medium knowledge, have come to know my Work. In all ages, these have been the first to come to Me to listen to

Love one another!

Me; but now the wise men, philosophers and men of science will also come. Some will do so in order to get to scrutinize the meaning of this Doctrine and others with the presentiment that they will find themselves facing a luminous reality. All of them will come to learn new teachings in my word, and that new wisdom that they will find in my revelations, will transform the way of thinking, being and feeling of all humanity.

80. How much you will marvel at the simple and perfect way I have chosen for my manifestation to be verified and how many clarifications and solutions you will find in my teachings.

81. I am going to entrust a new time to this humanity, made up of beings of different spiritual elevation, as well as of different mission on Earth.

82. An intense struggle awaits the man of tomorrow; a struggle that will not be for the ambition of material goods, nor will it be so selfish that it drags human lives in its wake, no, I am talking about a noble and high struggle through which peace and love will be restored in the world, I am talking about work, effort and sacrifice for the sake of your improvement, both moral and material, as well as your salvation and spiritual advancement.

83. On the foundations of true knowledge, love and justice, the people of tomorrow will build a world of peace and light. A new moral, spiritual, intellectual and scientific world will emerge from the rubble of the past with which the life of peoples will be completely transformed.

84. Here, where the good has been fought so much, where the sacred has been profaned so much, where everything that is just and lawful has been rejected so much, the Law of Love will come to be established. The current valley of tears will be transformed into a valley of peace, because the good will of man to persevere in the Law, will have its just compensation when recovering that supreme gift of the spirit that is peace.

85. When man's life develops in an atmosphere of peace, his science will be greater, his inspiration higher, as it has never been before.

86. How can men today be inspired in the midst of a vicious world, where so many thoughts of hatred, evil and materialism are vibrating, forming a kind of curtain, which prevents their spirit from contemplating the truth of the eternal?

87. Come to Me, O humanity, pray and tell me in spiritual language your longings and sufferings, that I will take you by the hand and lead you into my sanctuary where I will discover everything that can serve you to adorn, beautify and ennoble your existence.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 172

1. I have covered you with a garment of grace, so that it may be she who distinguishes you among the peoples and religions of the earth.
2. Only with the practice of my Doctrine will you be able to keep clean that garment, which is not material, but you wear it made of light in your spirit.
3. It is so delicate that even a bad look that reflects bad feelings for your fellow human beings is capable of imprinting a stain on it; you will be able to understand that if you commit greater faults, then it will not be stains, but shreds that you tear from your clothes.
4. All of you, by springing from my Spirit, were endowed with that garment that is spiritual purity. Who has managed to keep that grace intact until his return? Who has come out flawless through all the struggles and temptations? Very few, most are dressed in rags and many are naked of virtue.
5. Now I have come to cover you, to clothe you again, shedding my light on the spirits, like an immense mantle that I tear to shreds to adorn you. Know, O people, that it is precisely this light by which the world will recognize you.
6. I am delivering you from evil so that you will be worthy to possess my seed and sow it, how could I send you naked or ragged, stained or unclean to testify to my word?
7. Now that you have started a journey of regeneration, do not stop, do not go to sleep in the middle of the way because then you will slow down your spiritual advancement.
8. I want each step that you take within my Work, to be one more step that lifts you up in your walk and that you know that each work has a fruit to give you. Do not stop collecting it, do not settle for sowing and then neglecting the harvest.
9. If you truly yearn to become masters in spirituality, you have to be persevering, patient, studious and observant, because then you will have the opportunity to gather in your path the fruit of your works, with which you will accumulate experience that is light, that is knowledge of true life.
10. Those who teach my Work in the world will have to be true connoisseurs of the human being, both in what corresponds to the spirit and in what concerns the matter.
11. A piece of advice to be correct, a word to solve a problem, a judgment to be right, a teaching to be persuasive, will have to come from a spirit acrisolated in experience, strengthened in struggle and purified in the good.

12. How many there are in the world who dedicate themselves to spiritually guiding through the various religions and sects that exist, and who instead of guiding their brothers along the path of truth, make them lose themselves in darkness and throw them into the abysses of ignorance! Why? Because they do not know humanity, because they do not try to understand it; but how can they know humanity if they do not even know themselves?

13. I do not want this to happen to you, beloved disciples of the Third Time. Look how I have come to teach you to penetrate inside yourself first, to know yourself intimately, to know how to judge yourself. See how many trials, great and small, I am subjecting you to in order that you may put my teachings into practice and live my word in truth. When you are ready, when you have been polished by the fine chisel of my justice and my love, then I will send you to your brothers with my message of consolation, hope and peace.

14. Who will be able to resist the force of the truth that springs from your words? Who will not be captivated and moved by the understanding, indulgence and persuasion of your counsels? There will be faith in hearts, there will be conversion, there will be health and innumerable wonders. That is the fruit that I want you to reap, that is the harvest that I hope you will raise. Don't get confused. When in my teachings I speak to you about the fruit, there has been no shortage of those who interpret this word in a completely material form and seek the fruit of their works in the form of flattery, honors, attentions and even payment in coins. How far is this fruit from being to which I refer in my word! You have already known that I have spoken of the fruit of experience, purity, understanding, serenity and spirituality.

15. Those who still seek rewards on Earth through coins and flattery are short-lived spirits who do not want to contemplate the truth and who are still content with the payment that the world gives.

16. They will wake up from their dreams and realize their nakedness, when they thought they were decked out, and check their spiritual misery, when they thought they had an inexhaustible treasure and feel needy in spirit.

17. Disciples: Take care of your clothes, learn from Me so that tomorrow you will be able and know how to teach your fellow men. Strip your heart of every evil tendency, turning it into fertile ground, where my word will germinate and bear fruit for the joy of your brothers and for the glory of your spirit. I am always with you, but you are not always with Me. That is why I say to you when you come before the manifestation of my divine light through the speaker: be welcome, O multitudes eager for wisdom.

18. While you come to fulfill an appointment, I come to fulfill a promise and I bless you because you have not left me preaching alone in the desert.

19. I have not found you prepared, because many centuries ago humanity, instead of studying my Doctrine, gave itself up to external rites and cults that do not illuminate the path of the spirit; but I forgive you and I come to your aid to make you reach the knowledge that is still hidden in my word of the Second Time. Thus, when you have assimilated that lesson, I will give you my new message, which will fill you with joy for the essence and wisdom that he will bring you.

20. I want this humanity to stop being the infant in spiritual knowledge, to become the good disciple, who understands the responsibility he has before the Father in this era of judgment, restitution and spiritual elevation.

21. And voice, people, you will have to bear witness to my teaching with your works of love, so that other peoples may arise into the light, which is liberation, truth and life.

22. I have been making you enjoy this communication for a long time, but I find very few prepared, the most deviate from the mission to which they should devote all their strength, their love and their faith, since it will be the cross that raises them and brings them closer to Me.

23. If some have not understood my word, it is not because it lacks clarity, it is because they have not been able to prepare their understanding, they have not felt charity in their heart until now, they have not let the essence of my word penetrate their heart, to awaken it to true love.

24. Sometimes you complain that the number of adherents of my word is slowly increasing, but I tell you that you should complain about yourselves, because it is you who have the mission of making the multitudes that make up this people grow and multiply. But if faith is lacking in your heart, if your gifts lack development, if the light of spiritual knowledge is lacking in your understanding, how are you going to move it with your faith and with your love, if those virtues are not developed in the heart?

25. Whoever does not understand will not be able to make him understand; whoever does not feel, will not be able to make him feel. Know now why your lips trembled and hesitated when you needed to bear witness to my word.

26. The one who loves cannot hesitate, the one who believes, does not fear; the one who feels has many ways to prove his sincerity and his truth.

27. I tell you incessantly that you must prepare yourselves by analyzing my teachings, that you put my word into practice; because I want your steps on this path to be firm.
